WINCHESTER, MASSACHUSETTS, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1969

PRICE FIFTEEN CENTS

Winchester Star Purchased By Ernest And Jason Dade; Jason Dade New Publisher

Announcement is made today by Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Hakanson of the sale of The Winchester Star to the Dade family of Winchester.

Ernest B. Dade is the new president of the corporation. His son, Jason W. Dade, will become the paper's publisher, effective today.

The sale marks the first time the paper has left the hands of the family of its first owner, Theodore P. Wilson, who began publishing in 1880. He served as its editor and publisher from 1880 until 1919.

Upon the death of the senior Mr. Wilson in 1919, his son, T. Price, became editor and publisher, a position he held until his death in 1954.

Mr. Hakanson, who joined The Star in 1946, after service in World War II, has published the paper since 1954. He and his wife, Bonney, daughter of T. Price Wilson, have owned the paper since the death of Mrs. Hakanson's mother, Frances C. Wilson, in 1950.

With the advent of Mr. Hakanson as publisher, the editorship of the paper went outside the family. At that time, James H. Penalligan of 16 Maxwell Road, who had been employed as a reporter for the paper since 1924, became editor. In 1962, Paul Wilson Sullivan, who had served as assistant editor, under Mr. Penalligan became the editor.

David C. McLean became editor in 1963. In 1967, Mrs. Barbara L. Powers, who had been employed as assistant to the editor, became editor.

Upon Mrs. Powers' resignation last June, Mrs. Thomas E. Bishop of 27 Arthur Street became editor. In the past several years, the Star has been honored by a national newspaper contest editorial award and several awards from the New England Press Association.

Jason W. Dade, a Gordon College graduate, is a life long resident of Winchester and has served on the Water and Sewer Board and as a Town Meeting Member. He has been employed at the J. H. Winn Company for the past 12 years, most recently as its treasurer.

DR. JOHN C. GOING JR.

Dr. Going, who has had offices in Medford for the past several years, is on the staff at Malden Hospital, Somerville Hospital, Winchester Hospital and the Lawrence Memorial Hospital. He currently serves on the faculty at the B.U. School of Medicine, the Malden Hospital School of Nursing and is medical consultant in gynecology at Jackson College, Tufts University.

Dr. Going is a Fellow of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists. He is also a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons and is certified by the American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

Dr. Going served his residency at the Wayne State University Hospital in Detroit, Michigan, after having graduated from Tufts Medical with a Doctorate in Medicine and an A.B. in biology from Brown University in Providence, Rhode Island.

Dr. Going served in the 101st Air Borne Division of the U.S. Army. He resides with his wife, the former Adrienne Paquette, with their children at 19 Sheffield West.

He resides with his wife, Shirley, at 33 Sargent Road. They have two children, Susan, 12, and Stephen, 9.

Ernest B. Dade, a native of Wakefield, has lived in Winchester all his adult life and has served the Town in many capacities, presently as an assessor. He has been the chief operating officer at the J. H. Winn Company for many years.

He and his wife, Marian, and son, Douglas reside at 68 Hillcrest Parkway.

According to the Dades, when they learned the Star was for sale, they determined to keep control of the paper in Winchester for the benefit of the citizens of Winchester.

They are committed to the ideal of a newspaper as a public service whose fundamental purposes are to inform, to enlighten, to stimulate and to entertain.

The Dades welcome any suggestions for improvement of the paper so that it may continue to serve the best interests of the Town.

According to Mr. Jason W. Dade, publisher, there are no plans for changes in the current staff of the paper.

Mr. Hakanson will remain with the paper for a short time to assist in the transition of ownership.

Vocational School Report Details Costs, Progress

An interim report on the Northeast Metropolitan Regional Vocational School has been sent to the Winchester School Committee by J. Edward Sharkey of 220 Forest Street, the Winchester representative to the Regional Vocational School Committee.

The school, originally scheduled to open this past September at its Wakefield site, will begin operation in September, 1970.

According to Mr. Sharkey, "The opening date of the Regional School was tentatively set for September, 1969, when the construction contract was awarded in January, 1967. However, delays centering around the roofing work and other factors necessitated a postponement of the opening until January, 1970."

"Since then, a carpenters' strike affecting the entire building industry in this area resulted in the loss of some six weeks in the major progress of the Regional School project. Consequently, at the June 12, 1969, meeting of the District School Committee, after reports were submitted by the architect, it was unanimously voted by the Committee to further postpone the opening of the school until September, 1970."

Construction Costs

In December, 1965, the District purchased a sixty-acre tract of land from the Metropolitan District Commission for a sum of $50,000. In 1967, construction of the school was begun with a total capital outlay during the 1967 calendar year of $533,001.76, the report said.

For 1968, the capital outlay total was $1,709,689.03. Through August 31, 1969, the total capital outlay has been $1,590,288.53. Therefore, the total expended for construction costs, according to available figures at this point has been $3,332,979.32.

Frasca Construction Corporation, Lynn, is under contract to the District to build the school for a total cost of $5,267,830, Mr. Sharkey said.

Town Costs

The total capital outlay and operational expenses for the Town of Winchester's proportionate share of the Regional School project is $69,217.48. This breaks down as follows: 1965 — $893.55; 1966 — $2,874.90; 1967 — $2,203.

Fashion Boutique Opens Saturday On Thompson St.

Enrica's Fashions will open Saturday at 29 Thompson Street. The new addition to the Winchester business community is a fashion boutique featuring fashions in juniors, misses and women's sizes, including sportswear, evening wear, and dresses.

Owned and operated by Mrs. Gerard (Anne) Polcari of 112 Middlesex Street, the shop will offer personalized service, and an informal atmosphere.

Fashion lines carried by the shop will include Lawrence, Couture Knits, Mr. Mort, Jonathan Logan, Evan-Picone and Darlene.

There will be no showcases in the shop, and Mrs. Polcari has selected tables, including a long rosewood one with wrought iron legs, to display the merchandise. Decorations in the store will include original watercolors from Florence, Italy, and a mobile by Roger Vogtman.

The shop will be open Monday through Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., and on Thursday nights until 9 p.m. MasterCharge cards will be accepted.

During opening day, gifts of cosmetics will be distributed to customers.

After a recent visit to Italy, Mrs. Polcari decided to style the shop after the small, informal European stores.

Street Lights And Insurance Are Among Topics Discussed At Last Selectmen's Meeting

Five hearings were held at the Monday night meeting of the Board of Selectmen.

Among those given hearings at the meeting in the newly-renovated Selectmen's Office on the second floor of the Town Hall was Arthur Rand, architect for the Town Hall renovations.

Housing Committee Hears Talk By Joseph Courtney

The Public Housing Study Committee has met these past Tuesday evenings in an attempt to further its inquiry into Winchester's need for public housing and housing for the elderly.

Speaking before the Committee on September 23 was Joseph Courtney, a former Town Manager of Wilmington, 1954-1958, and former assistant Town Manager of Medford, 1951-1954. He has been active for many years in urban and municipal public housing programs.

Mr. Courtney recommended a schedule which the Committee might follow. The primary concern, he stated, was to persuade town officials and townspeople of the need for such housing and for a housing authority with a battery of "hard facts."

Following the establishment of such a need, assuming that there is one, the Committee should examine specific federal and state programs for the elderly, as well as those offered by private concerns, and then determine the working process of these programs and of a housing authority. The last of these preliminary stages is to specifically identify the market demands of the town and match these with the town's facilities.

The speaker also recommended that the Committee circulate a questionnaire through newspapers, churches and organizations, followed by letters to those individuals responding, in order to justify the need and to see how many are actually eligible and have a desire for housing for the elderly. The Committee is presently working on such a program.

Snob Zoning

When a discussion of "snob zoning" was initiated, Mr. Courtney noted that at this time the new law against snob zoning is not yet working in the suburbs, but that this housing program might allow non-profit institutions to locate where they wish at a reasonable cost. He also emphasized, however, that the approval and cooperation of town officials was quite necessary. Anything falling under the low and moderate income housing law must also essentially meet state approval.

While talking of federal and state aid programs, the speaker informed the Committee that the federal government is now primarily occupied with housing requirements in the ghettos and in renewal projects, rather than town-sponsored programs. However, rent subsidization by the federal government, which is determined by the number of subsidized units and by the percentage of town property devoted to low and moderate housing, is a possibility.

Report On High School Prepared For Citizens

At the open meeting of the joint committee of the Permanent Building Committee and the Secondary School Sub-Committee held on Thursday, September 25, a report of the case history and the subsequent recommendations for the proposed new high school was read before an audience of townspeople and various committee members.

This report is in the process of being mailed to all Town Meeting members and citizens of Winchester.

The Committee will move to the special Town Meeting of October 14 with the recommendation that the total project be rebid and with a request for an additional appropriation of $3,100,000.

Speaking at the meeting, Town Moderator Harrison Chadwick stated that he was "very much sold on what the Committee is asking." And earlier Frank Crimp, architect for the project, said of the Town that "we are in a reasonable, perhaps more optimistic, position" now than when the project was first bid in July.

At this time there were only two bids from general contractors, both of which were greatly in excess of the estimated cost. A factor for inflation had been included, however, the real value turned out to be greater than anticipated. This increase per month is approximately one per cent.

It is Mr. Crimp's opinion that if the Town was to rebid these plans without the additional appropriation of funds at a Town Meeting, that there would be no replies due to contractors lack of faith in the Town's backing of the project.

The architect feels that if the Committee's recommendations are accepted at the October Meeting and the plans are rebid immediately the more competitive nature of contracting in the fall will produce better results.

Correction

It was incorrectly reported in the caption of a page one photograph in last week's edition of the Star that Joe Lynch of 54 Beach Street is a member of the Woburn V.F.W. Post.

According to Edward F. Mele, commander of the Post, Mr. Lynch is not a member of that organization.

Firefighters- Town Settle

According to Edward Donnelly, executive secretary of the Board of Selectmen, the Firefighters Association, Local 1564 and the Town Collective Bargaining Committee Tuesday night reached an agreement in contract negotiations.

Details of the agreement will be released later today pending ratification of the contract by the total membership of the Firefighters Association. A meeting of the group was scheduled last night for the purpose of ratifying the contract.

Mr. Donnelly also stated yesterday that a public hearing on the one-day suspension of Fire Capt. Michael Connolly had been indefinitely postponed on the request of the Firefighters' Association lawyer, Dominic Caronna.

According to Mr. Donnelly, Attorney Caronna requested the delay because he had been unable to prepare the material for the case, due to the pressures of the collective bargaining between the Town and the firefighters.

The hearing had been scheduled for yesterday morning at 9:30 a.m. Capt. Connolly was suspended Monday, September 22 for one day by Fire Chief I. Francis Amico for failure to order the Chief's car to be cleaned during a work slowdown called by the Firefighters Association.

Frozen Seafood Store Will Open At 533 Main Street October 6

The first Menemsha Bites seafood specialty shop will open for business Monday, October 6th, at 533 Main Street. The new store is the first of other similar ones planned, and represents a new concept in seafood merchandising.

It is a store that will offer a wide choice of frozen, canned and bottled seafood specialties to the public as well as a line of accessories for the preparation and serving of all types of seafood products.

John T. Pratt, president of Menemsha Bites, explained that emphasis has been placed on frozen products rather than the traditional fresh fish market for two reasons. First, Mr. Pratt stated the arrangement his company has with Poole's of Menemsha allows him to purchase fine quality seafood that has been processed within hours of being caught. Poole's, a highly regarded seafood supplier to the restaurants and retail trade of Martha's Vineyard, has a situation which allows him to have better control over the boats that he buys from than is normally possible in the larger ports.

Secondly, Mr. Pratt said that concentration on frozen products would allow Menemsha Bites to offer its customers their favorites on a year-round basis rather than being limited by the seasons. This aspect should also make price fluctuations as supply and demand very less of a consideration, he said.

"Many people have expressed interest in our name, and wonder what it means and how we got it," Mr. Pratt said. The company name is taken from the harbor on Martha's Vineyard where Poole's is located and the indentation on the coastline there known as "Menemsha Bight."

"Menemsha (Men-em-sha) is a Gay Head Indian word meaning 'a half-way meeting place.' Mr. Pratt expressed interest in having the new store live up to its name!

In addition to products from the waters of the Vineyard the store will offer many unusual items such as Norwegian whale steaks, frogs legs and soft shell crabs.

The Winchester store will be managed by J. Christopher Cutler, formerly of Manchester, who has recently moved to Winchester in order to be near his place of employment.

Mr. Pratt has recently resigned his position as a marketing executive with Fanny Farmer Candy Shops, Inc. to devote full time to his new enterprise.

Winchester Residents Set Events For Vietnam Peace Action Day

A memorialization of the more than 38,000 Vietnam war dead and a special ecumenical service will highlight Winchester participation in a nation-wide Vietnam peace action.

Scheduled for Wednesday, October 15, the action is a one-day moratorium on regular activity combined with a variety of campus and community peace programs. The effort is an attempt to encourage the administration to set a firm date for complete American withdrawal from Vietnam, by demonstrating the extent of public sentiment favoring this move.

According to Mrs. Robert Danley of 2 Fenwick Road, who has been involved with the effort since its inception, the action, called Vietnam Peace Action Day in Massachusetts where the idea originated, quickly attracted national interest and generated widespread response.

Led by Sam Brown, former McCarthy national student coordinator, and David Hawk, former all-American athlete from Cornell, more than 400 student body presidents and campus newspaper editors have signed the call for the moratorium.

Support is coming from a growing number of legislators, including Senators Charles Goodell (R-New York), Edmund Muskie (D-Maine), Eugene McCarthy (D-Minnesota), George McGovern (D-South Dakota) and Mark Hatfield (R-Oregon).

Spokesmen for the ad-hoc Vietnam Peace Action Committee in Cambridge report "an amazing wave of support," and say that they are almost unable to keep up with the flood of requests for information coming from towns and cities across the state.

Reading of Names

According to the Reverend Charles L. Hoffman, the memorial reading of names here will take place on October 15 on the Town Common, and is expected to continue all day and throughout the evening. The reading has been unanimously endorsed by the Winchester Ecumenical Association, an organization of Roman Catholic and Protestant clergy, and a number of clergy and lay people will participate.

School Comm. Sets Agenda

A statement of position by the School Committee on the request for additional funds to complete the new high school is among the items on the agenda for consideration at a meeting of the Committee, Monday, October 6, at 7:30 p.m. in the McCall Junior High School Library.

Also on the agenda is a report by Superintendent of Schools Donald A. Klemmer on the distribution of the Winchester Trails pamphlet and the visit of the school principals to the Trail.

Plans for the evaluation of the Muraco School and a progress report on the rules and regulations revision will also be discussed.

The agenda also includes plans for the move to Marychiff Academy; information on storm warnings; an October 1 pupil count; building committee reports; a proposal from the Citizens' Advisory Committee for a change in status; and the distribution of I.Q.'s and median I.Q.'s for the learning disabilities program.

The Board discussed repairs needed in the newly-laid wall-to-wall carpeting in the Selectmen's Offices with Mr. Rand.

Mr. Rand also discussed with the Board the delay in delivery of some of the office furniture.

At its first hearing, the Board granted a request from the Winchester Country Club for a 1,000 gallon underground gasoline storage tank at the Club grounds.

Attorney William Speers appeared for the Country Club.

Replying to inquiries from the Board and from owners of homes near the Club, he outlined the plans for the storage area and the extent of use of the fuel.

In an executive session, the Board also heard a request from Police Officer Roger DeMinico for a leave of absence. A six month leave was granted.

Plans for replacement of street lights on seven of the Town's major streets were outlined by the Board and by Paul Winterhalter of the Boston Edison Company.

Mr. Winterhalter, speaking of the costs of the lighting program, told the Board that the costs for Winchester would be somewhat higher than in other towns because the Town has not progressed by putting in new lights over the years. For the most part, he said, these are new lights, not replacements, in the proposed program.

James Costello, Town controller, also appeared before the Board to discuss costs of the Town Employees insurance. A portion of the discussion was held in executive session.

Also appearing before the Board in a continuation of the hearing begun last week was the Lockeland Realty Trust Company. The Company, which has plans to develop an area in the vicinity of Thornberry and Squire Roads, sought to make some changes in the flow of a brook through the vicinity of the development.

Since this is conservation area, the changes in the brook come under the Hatch Act.

After presentation of further information and conditions from Town Engineer Howard Ambrose, the Board voted approval of the plans.

Winchester's 1969-1970 United Fund Campaign began this past Sunday, September 28.

James P. O'Halloran of 20 Mayflower Road, chairman of the community drive, has set $37,000 as the goal for the year.

Assisting Mr. O'Halloran are: William B. Budd of 34 Wedgemere Avenue, audit chairman; Ronald Gauld from the Winchester National Bank, local business chairman; Ross Farrar, 272 Highland Avenue, neighborhood chairman.

The Winchester Star

Established 1880 By Theodore P. Wilson, Sr.

Serving The Community For 88 Years

A Word From The Former Publisher

I am taking this space to say a few personal words about this week's sale of The Winchester Star.

First, I would like publicly to thank the Star's subscribers and advertisers for the many years of cooperation which they have given to me and the Wilson family before me and to ask them to give the same support to Jason W. Dade, the new publisher. The administration of a public service oriented private business is not always easy. Your continued cooperation will smooth the transition and serve you, as well as the paper.

It is a special satisfaction that we, as owners, could after some months' search, find buyers committed by birth, education and prior public service to the best interests of Winchester. This, too, we hope will be appreciated as the Dade family takes over the reins of this weekly newspaper.

Mrs. Hakanson and I cannot take this step without some sense of personal loss of the many long-time relationships which have evolved from our ownership of the Star. We will miss them.

Again, we thank our readers and the town, and assure them that the Star is in good hands and its long tradition of service will continue.

Sincerely,
Richard A. Hakanson
(Publisher since 1954)

Editorial Comments

The railroad is finally installing a much-needed chain link fence along Main Street from the corner of Swanton Street to the Animal Hospital. It will be a considerable improvement over the old wooden fence both in looks and in safety conditions.

By proclamation of Gov. Francis Sargent, October 5 through 11 will be Fire Prevention Week in Massachusetts. In the official proclamation, the Governor states, "This shameful waste of human and material resources demands immediate community action and the willing support of all citizens to reduce this scourge to an absolute minimum." The recent fire in Wilmington which cost the lives of six people is only one of many tragic reminders that everyone needs to be alert to possible fire hazards. Removal of these hazards now can prevent a tragedy later. We join with the Governor in urging everyone to support and participate in fire prevention measures and programs and to co-operate with the Fire Department in reducing fires, both this week and throughout the year.

As we go to press, the representatives of the Firefighters Association, Local 1564 have reached an agreement with the Town Collective Bargaining Committee; however, announcement of the details of the agreement are being withheld pending approval of the contract by the entire group of firefighters. We sincerely hope that the contract will be ratified. In any compromise, each side must give up something, and from reading the report of the fact finder, it seems that the firefighters have given up some of their most desired benefits — parity and longevity are examples. The Town is asked in the fact finder's report to make concessions, also, particularly in the matter of hours. We hope these compromises have been made, as yesterday marked the end of six months that the firefighters have worked without a contract. Should the dispute continue, it could become a real possibility that the two parties would be arguing the 1969 contract in 1970.

The Winchester Council for Community Action (WCCA) concludes another year of operation, its second, tonight with its annual meeting. We talked to a member of the group, which was formed by citizens interested in doing something about Winchester's problems, the other night. The member said that the trouble with the group is that all they do is talk. This is a charge that we leveled last month at CONCERN, the community action group to combat drug abuse. As with so many community action groups in scores of towns, these were formed in response to a real and very immediate problem. The initial impetus is enough to carry them through in talk and action for a year, maybe two, as in this case. By the end of the second year, however, even if the problems still exist, as they do here, action becomes mired in talk and the organization needs pepping up. We commend the WCCA-sponsored "Six Weeks Adventure," which brought disadvantaged students to the summer school, and we hope that the group will gather a second wind and come up with more good programs this year. We need them.

Several Winchester groups are completing plans this week for the Vietnam Peace Action Day planned for October 15. Anti-war demonstrations have tended in the past few years to become rather like wars themselves, and we hope that the programs planned here will remain peaceful. There is so much wrong with the Vietnam War—that-is-not-a-real-war, and we hope this national demonstration will have some effect.

Starred by the Star:

A New High School??

We're at it again, or is it "still". We couldn't build it on Turkey Hill. So we buried the river, filled swamps with fill. Despite the piles they'll have to drill.

A tunnel was dug so kids can pass. From academics to phys. ed. class. The football fields will soon have grass. All plans are drawn for steel and glass.

You voted a ten million dollar bill. But inflation makes it higher still. And three million more is a bitter pill. (Playfields and plans cost $125 mill.)

"Let's redesign it" some folks say. "It's too expensive, try this way." Costs are going up each day. For changes now you know you'll pay. (We literally can't afford delay.)

"Add on to what's already here?" Home-taking is required, we fear. At prices high, it's very clear. Cash spent on fields will disappear. (And must be paid in one tax year.)

We all must face inflation woe. Construction costs their affects show. But kids must cope with overflow. To double sessions they will go.

We can't stop now! We need this school. With or without a swimming pool! To change it now, we'd play the fool. It's rough, but let's not lose our cool.

Lois P. Carr

REMEMBER . . . Tunnel and playing fields are already there!

High School

In asking for the additional sum the Committee is raising the total cost of the project to $13,269,000. They have considered various alternatives, however, the only deductive alternative that they will be submitting is the deletion of the pool, a saving of approximately $650,000.

Because there would be no essential change in the architect's plans, this alternative could be added later, and in answer to the question of Selectman John Sullivan, it is possible that the state School Building Assistance Board might approve the project as so reduced for state aid. However, this would leave Winchester with still no indoor swimming facility and would undoubtedly cost more to build in the future.

A second alternative, the elimination of the field house and the reduction of the pool, would result in costly delay while the architectural plans were reworked. The approximate saving, therefore, considering the monthly inflation factor, would probably be only $400,000 or less.

The report informs that "assuming that the entire cost of the project will be borrowed, repayable over a 20-year period, based on approximate present interest rates and present assessed valuation in the Town, and after giving effect to the 40 per cent state aid which the Town will receive," the average tax rate impact for the $13,170,000 project would be $4.21. For the appropriation increase of $3,100,000 the average is $9.9.

The project minus the pool, $12,520,000, will have an average tax rate impact of $4.01 and the project with a redesigned field house, $12,770,000, is estimated as $4.09.

Expenses To Date

A total of $1,254,819 has already been spent in preliminary plans, site development, 80 per cent of the architect's fee and miscellaneous expenses. The report stresses that besides this already substantial sum which has been spent, the need for a new high school still remains, "indeed, the need has increased."

The report concludes that if in the case that the Town does not approve the requested increased appropriation, "we feel very strongly that this would be nothing less than irresponsible in the light of the need for the school and the amount spent to date." In the words of Sub-Committee member Andrew L. Nichols, "We're stuck with this project." Sub-Committee Chairman Arthur E. Dunbar, who feels that their recommendations would satisfy the "needs of the Town for the next 50 years," asked for the opinions and support of those present. However, audience participation was light.

National Merit Commendations Are Presented 15 WHS Students

Letters of Commendation honoring them for their high performance on the 1969 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (NMQST) have been awarded to 15 students at Winchester High School, Principal W. Howard Niblock has announced.

Those named commended students are Heather J. Barlow, Richard E. Bannink Jr., Stephen C. Bryant, Kristina A. Curtis, Peter A. Dow, Allen J. Eydin, Mark C. Frazier, Michael F. Kennedy, Leslie J. Linson, Lucinda Marvel, James A. Mullare, James A. Phillips, Richard K. Porter, Theresa A. Salerno, and Kathleen A. Test.

They are among 39,000 students in the United States who scored in the upper two percent of those who are expected to graduate from high school in 1970. The commended students rank just below the 15,000 semifinalists announced in September by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC).

Edward S. Smith, president of NMSC, said: "Although commended students advance no further in the Merit Scholarship competition, their outstanding record in a nationwide program deserves public recognition. Their significant academic attainment gives promise of continued success in college."

"The commended students should be encouraged to pursue their education since their intellectual talent represents an important and much-needed natural resource. Our nation will benefit from their continuing educational development."

The commended students' names are reported to other scholarship-granting agencies and to the colleges they named as their first and second choices when they took the NMQST in February 1969. The reports include home addresses, test scores, and anticipated college major and career intentions of the commended students. NMSC encourages these students to make every effort to continue their education.

shows a total additional estimated entitlement to Winchester of $29,012.60.

Since the Chapter 779 entitlement did not become available until 1968, after construction was begun on the Regional School, this additional aid is one year behind, so that the 1968 reimbursement was not forthcoming until 1969, Mr. Sharkey said.

Planning costs are not included in the Chapter 779 reimbursements. However, the costs to the participating communities include their share of the planning expenses, thereby eliminating the true value of the additional reimbursements.

Since Chapter 779 aid is based on a community's total educational costs, as these figures increase, so will the community's additional reimbursement under Chapter 779 be higher, he said.

Cherry sheet figures, which are made available to the individual cities and towns, are also merely estimates of receipts that a community may expect from the state as its share in revenue through reimbursements. The figure of $38,308.49 has been listed as Winchester's cherry sheet estimate of reimbursement under Chapter 779.

If this eventually becomes the actual reimbursement, then the State Department of Education's estimate back in February was off by $20,351.77. However, it should be remembered that the town's entitlement would have been paid in full, had the state collected sufficient revenue to cover it, Mr. Sharkey said.

Recapping these figures, and using the listed cherry sheet estimate, the Town of Winchester in the past four years has paid out a total of $69,217.48 for Regional School costs, but will receive from the state $38,308.49 for participating in the project. Therefore, most of Winchester's costs have been eliminated through the additional state aid, resulting in an expenditure of less than half of the town's listed assessments or $30,908.99 since it began making annual contributions in 1965.

The enrollment capacity of the Regional School is 1,200 students. Because enrollment eligibility policies have not yet been established by the District School Committee, it would be only a matter of conjecture at this point to attempt to estimate the number of pupils from each of the 12 participating communities to be enrolled in the school as of the opening date in September, 1970, the report concluded.

Residents who wish to share in the action reading scheduled to call Mrs. Danley at 729-8564, or Mrs. Johnston at 729-5661.

A Peace Unity Service, arranged by members of the Ecumenical Youth Council and other students, is planned for the evening of October 15. Scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. in the sanctuary of the First Congregational Church, the service will include appropriate music.

According to Mark Stoeckle, EYC president, the planning committee includes Karen Ingalls, Tim Wilhelm, Maria Hurley, Christie Allison, Leslie Baerwald, Harry Kahnhauser, Debbie Larson, Barbara Stanley, Marc Levinson, Pamela Paglia, Betsy Pattullo, Mary Ann Ellis and Mary Ann Villari.

Petitions, calling on the administration for complete withdrawal, will be circulated by adults and students. This effort is being coordinated by Emmons Ellis, of 14 Hillside Avenue, with the assistance of six precinct chairmen. Starting October 8, the signature gathering will culminate in an all-day campaign by volunteers on October 15. Residents wishing to sign or circulate petitions are urged to call Mr. Ellis at 729-2568.

man; Deane E. Estabrook, 2 Lincashire Way, special gifts chairman; Michael J. Hurley, 11 Lloyd Street, professional gifts chairman; Thomas Budewicz of the Winchester High School, school chairman; Mrs. James P. O'Halloran, clubs and organizations; and Mrs. J. Alan Spahr, 18 Mayflower Road, publicity chairman.

The Massachusetts Bay United Fund, which has as its slogan "Think Twice — You Give Only Once," was formed four years ago from three existing United Funds and now has 340 agencies and services working together.

There are 96 health services, such as medical hospitals, visiting nurse associations and the Medical Foundation.

There are 112 family and child-care services, such as the American Red Cross and the Salvation Army. The United Fund also assists 115 youth groups and recreational services, and 17 community planning and specialized services.

Housing

The Committee is free to make recommendations of land sites. A preference for high or low-rise housing has now become a comparison of land prices and the specifics of the site itself.

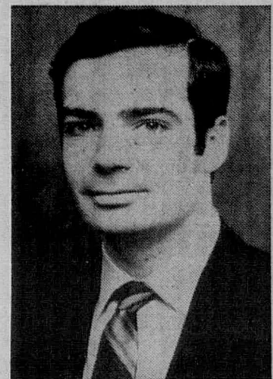

Mr. Courtney also suggested examining the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency, a relatively new aid source which may be more expedient than other such programs. Their funds are issued to private developers through municipal bonding.

Chairman Mrs. John F. Murphy Jr. emphasized that any proposals for public housing or for a housing authority must be in the 1970 Town Warrant, which is due in December.

The Public Housing Study Committee devoted its September 30 meeting to the working of drafts for the initial announcement of its aims and for the questionnaire to be circulated.

Robert J. Newton Gets Appointment At Chesterton

The A. W. Chesterton Company of Everett has announced the appointment to its Customer Relations Department of Robert J. Newton of 16 Russell Road.

ROBERT J. NEWTON

Chesterton, the oldest North American manufacturer of mechanical parking, distributes its products, which seal leaks in pumps and hydraulic equipment, in 59 free world nations.

Before joining the 85-year-old company, Mr. Newton owned and operated a parking lot business in Boston.

He will graduate in June, 1970, from the college of business administration of Suffolk University. He is a member of the Finance Club and the American Marketing Association at Suffolk.

Mr. Newton and his wife, the former Gail Barron of North Reading, now live in Winchester.

Engine 2 To Lead Parade In Boston

Winchester's old Engine 2, the 1935 Ahrens Fox pumper, will lead the Boston Fire Prevention Parade this Sunday, October 5.

This is the engine that was bought by public subscription and restored by John P. Cleary of 17 Webster Street. It has taken Mr. Cleary over a year and a half to restore this engine to an antique motorized fire truck.

The parade will start from the Government Center at 1 p.m., going through downtown Boston. The parade will end up on the Boston Common where the Boston Fire Department will put on several displays of fire fighting and rescue work.

It is planned to have over 100 pieces of equipment and bands in the line of march. Engine 2 will be on display along with the rest of the engines on the Common until 4 p.m. The engine will also be on display at the State Street Bank home office each day during Fire Prevention Week. Along with Engine 2 there will be several engines from the Boston Fire Department and other displays in the bank itself.

Fire Prevention Week is October 5 through 11.

BOOK REVIEW

by Elva L. Nelson
Winchester Public Library

MY CONNEMARA

by Paula Steichen

When in 1945, the family of Carl Sandburg decided to live on a farm and have a real dairy of goats, they bought a place in the North Carolina mountains. Each one had his or her own reason for buying it: Gramma Sandburg because of the winding driveway banked with one-hundred-foot pine trees and an ivy-colored wall; the daughter, Helga, because of the sloping fields and spreading oak limbs; and Carl Sandburg because of the distant dusky-blue hills.

His granddaughter, Paula Steichen, grew up on this farm, Connemara, and she probably has written the most tantalizing, dreamy, get-away-from-it-all book of the year. In Connemara, you had "the scent of wild blackberries, the nickering of a colt watching its mother being led away to plow, the feel of wet morning grass on bare feet, and the moving of a herd at milking time up the pasture lane . . ."

This was the world the author explored as a child with her brother, John Carl, and her grandfather, nicknamed Buppog. The famous poet was the only man of the household. The practical running of the farm was managed by Gramma Sandburg and Paula's mother, Helga. Carl Sandburg found his sanctuary in rooms at the top of the house, but his twelve thousand books were shelved throughout. One of his other daughters would try to organize them, poetry in one room, history in the other, etc., but he had his own ideas.

"He would pass the shelves and casually bring down a book, remarking, 'I just might need this book. I think I'll take it upstairs with me,' or, eyeing a title high on some shelf, he would decide, 'That book doesn't deserve to be with the others' and relegate it to a stack exiled to the Swedish House."

The family spent much time out-of-doors, all delighting in the antics of the goats. Paula writes, "Buppog often encouraged us to bring a kid to him on the front porch or front lawn where it would put on a show for the whole family. And we sometimes brought them into the living room after lunch, to play and explore the people and the furniture . . . The older does were just as curious and affectionate as the kids, if not so active. My grandmother would walk about the barn discussing matters with Helga, an entourage of does following the two women, chewing intently on the hems of Gramma's dresses . . ."

Even as a very small child, the author had a rapport with all the animals. She writes of it, "When the first spring plowing was to be done, the farm hands and Helga took me to the low pastures where the huge, winter-loose Percherons were grazing, wary of the work that might lie before them if they allowed a halter to be slipped over their heads. What gentleness they showed me as I pulled the leather around their snouts and held them still for the waiting men to lead away! It must have seemed amusing to the farmers for beasts weighing a ton apiece to obey a four-year-old child of some thirty or forty pounds . . . At six she had a horse she loved so much she wished never to forget him and so named him Remember."

The author was an independent child and liked her solitude, but she was much loved and provided great fun in the family life. Her grandfather got great pleasure out of her caprices and wrote, "Privately, and just between you and me and the pater-ghost, I believe Snick sometimes thinks she is a queen. The big lights were on in the Farm Office. Snick in a blue nightgown, wearing a white towel as a cape over her shoulders, suddenly spoke. With commanding vehemence and an authority she knew no one would dare to dispute, her voice rang out: 'Don't waste electricity.' . . . Those who waste electricity will hear from Snick."

The Sandburgs were optimistic, realistic, unassuming. The poet Carl Sandburg had written a poem which became famous. But as Buppog he would laugh with the family at the continued popularity of "Fog," and would recite it in a different version, "De fog come on itti bitti kitti footsies. He sit down on Chicago an — whamo — he gone." In 1908 Sandburg had written his wife, "All the big people are simple, as simple as the unexplored wilderness. They love the universal things that are free to everybody. Light and air and food and love and some work are enough . . ." It became a practiced philosophy. When the author writes of Connemara as seeming to speak of a faith in the cycles of nature, and in the infinite capabilities of the human mind and heart, is she thinking of those words as well?

Drugs

Editor of the Star:
To whom it may CONCERN.
Has your family been affected by drugs yet?
Our home has.
If so, what have you done about it?

We know what we did about it. Have you any knowledge of drugs on the Common in our center?

We did.
What did you do if you knew about them?
Did you do anything?
We did.

Have you seen your child under the influence of drugs?
We have!
Do you know the signs that are evident when a child is on drugs?

Thankfully — we did.
How did we know the signs?
We made it our business to know.

Have you? If you know your child has access to drugs, what have you done? Anything? Nothing?

For all of you who have yet to experience this very serious problem and for those of you that are facing this growing problem in Winchester, I beg of you to do something — anything to help educate all of us in town!

Do you know about CONCERN? Why not? Don't wait for drugs to come into your home! Educate yourself!

This is what CONCERN is all about! Get involved — help to keep drugs out of our homes — out of our town and out of our children!

A family saddened by drugs coming into our home — but helped by CONCERN!

Fire Department, VFW Praised For Service

Editor of the Star:
Following is a letter I received from the Multiple Sclerosis Service Organization of Massachusetts Inc.

"Thank you sincerely for contacting the Winchester Veterans of Foreign Wars who were responsible for building the ramp in Winchester for a Multiple Sclerosis victim.

"Your immediate response to this plea made it possible for this person to spend many enjoyable hours outdoors. One need only be handicapped to realize the blessing it is to be able to get outdoors.

"On behalf of the Multiple Sclerosis Service Organization of Massachusetts, which is pledged to provide services to all MS patients in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, please accept our warmest gratitude."

Firefighters-Town Problem Discussed

Editor of the Star:
A few years ago at Town Meeting I predicted that unless some immediate compromise was effected between the town and fire fighters concerning a wages and hours controversy morale would be seriously impaired and departmental efficiency lowered to an alarming degree. Any interested observer can now accept these basic truths for morale in this department is at an all-time low and the total efficiency of this organization seriously deteriorated. Witness, for example, the recent suspension of a high ranking officer—a situation brought about by a difference of opinion respecting the entire situation. When one considers the value of the man suspended—one of the most capable and most efficient of the fire fighting officers—one begins to wonder who is responsible for the sad state of present relations.

Let's examine this break down of negotiations from the point of view of those closely involved. For the past few years certain town officials have carried on a successful campaign against parity between the fire fighters and policemen. Recently this same group was instrumental in completing an "about face" maneuver when the town voted to establish equal pay for the chiefs of the respective departments. As a fire fighter how would you feel at the turn of this event?

Subsequently both the town and the fire fighters elected to submit the entire matter to an independent fact-finder of the American Arbitration Association. This study was conducted by a man of national stature who possessed a long record of solving labor disputes. What happened? The negotiating committee accepted a refusal to accept to accept two of the key recommendations: a reduction in hours and at a recent meeting a refusal to accept the provision relating to retroactive compensation (I have been informed that subsequent to this meeting the committee changed its position and agreed to retroactive compensation effective April 1).

Parity

The matter of wage parity between the fire and police departments stood as the key proposal advanced by the fire fighters. It represented the very heart of their negotiating demands. Yet when the fact-finder recommended against this proposal, the men accepted this recommendation as the losing part of an honest bargain. Imagine then their subsequent astonishment when they learned that the negotiating committee refused to accept other key recommendations of the independent fact-finder.

The speed and alacrity with which this committee accepted the recommendation concerning a disparity of wages and rejected recommendations favorable to the fire fighters has puzzled many of our voters. It does not puzzle me. It is my considered opinion that most of the department's difficulty with labor relations stems from the refusal of certain town officials to accept gracefully a fact of life: fire fighters have a right to unionize.

This problem must be resolved before we appear at the special Town Meeting. We have one primary duty at this meeting—to advance with all possible speed the construction of the new high school and to provide the type of educational program recommended by the School Committee.

If a compromise is not effected there is grave danger that a subordinate issue will explode and become the catalyst which will present serious consequences to a much more important town program.

Speaker System Is Dedicated At Church

A new speaker system was dedicated on Sunday at the Crawford Memorial United Methodist Church at Church and Dix Street.

The system was a gift to the church by Helen Kramer in memory of her late husband, Peter Kramer Jr.

PETER KRAMER JR.

The speaker system was designed and installed by Audiosonics of Arlington and, according to the pastor, Dr. J. Allen Broyles, especially for those who experience some difficulty in hearing.

Johnny Sisson To Appear At Vinson-Owen

On Thursday, October 9th at 3:15 p.m. the Parent's Association of the Vinson-Owen School is sponsoring a children's entertainer, Johnny Sisson.

Mr. Sisson is known throughout the Greater Boston area for his comedy-magic and hand-puppet performances which successfully evoke spontaneous audience participation.

The program will be held in the Vinson-Owen School Auditorium and runs about 45 minutes. Tickets may be purchased at the door and all children are welcome.

Performances At Coffeehouse This Weekend

The Garret Coffeehouse has established its second season with two open hoots, performances by John Snelling and Steve Green, and a film festival.

There have been large audiences, but the management would like to stress once again that the adults of Winchester are always welcome.

Everyone who has been to the Garret knows Stephen Bracciotti and David Duttig as individual performers. The two friends have recently gotten together and worked out their versions of several country and western and old rock songs, and will give their first scheduled performance this Friday, October 4.

Saturday evening will bring Bill Madison, Ken Girard and "Jingles" to the Garret. Madison is a Boston songwriter.

Admission is minimal and the coffeehouse is open from 7:30 to 11 p.m.

Babysitters Course Is Scheduled By Jaycee-ettes

All plans have been completed for this year's babysitters school sponsored by the Winchester Jaycee-ettes.

Anyone 13 years old or older or in the eighth grade, interested in preparing for babysitting, may attend the course. It will be given at the Winchester Public Library on Thursday evenings October 9, through November 13, 7:15 to 8:45 p.m.

The sitters will be instructed in many aspects of personal safety, including such information as knowing one's employer, where he will be and knowing the phone number where he can be reached. Child care, entertaining children and general etiquette will also be covered in the course.

Each class will consist of a lecture given by a community leader and followed by a question and answer period.

Anyone interested in the course may pre-register by calling Mrs. Benjamin Brunell, 729-3282.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Winterbottom of Colorado announce the birth of a second child, first daughter, Tona, on Saturday, September 13, in Denver. Grandparents are Mrs. Asa Winterbottom of Pennsylvania and Mr. and Mrs. Allan T. Buros of 14 Cabot Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Moda (Deanne Padula) of Stoneham announce the birth of twin sons, Wayne and Jeffrey, born on Monday, September 1. They have another son, John A., two and one-half years. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Valentino Moda of Everett and Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Padula of 42 Franklin Road.

Christian Service Society To Offer Fall Fashion Show

Cottons for all fall and winter occasions will be featured in a fashion show to be presented by the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Crawford Memorial United Methodist Church on Thursday, October 9, at 12:30 p.m. in Gifford Hall.

The traveling collections of fashions, "Cavalcade of Cottons," is a loan service made available by the National Cotton Council and McCall's Patterns.

The wardrobe, made by seamstresses in Memphis, Tennessee, includes casual clothes, tailored suits and coats, late-day dresses and children's wear. Accessories will be provided by Enrica's Fashions, Winchester's newest boutique shop. Several outfits from this new store will be included in the show for the non-sewers.

Plans for the program were announced by Mrs. Malven Oliver, W.S.C.S. president. The show will be commented by Mrs. Donald Eschner. Models will include Payson Sierer, Max Goodman, Leo Fahy and George Needham. Also modeling will be Miss Linda Eschner, Miss Jan Eschner, Miss Lee Ann Eschner, Miss Cathy Wynn, Miss Marty Kramer and Miss Lisa Osburn.

Mrs. Richard Kadesch is the technical advisor and Mrs. Royal Morse Jr. and Mrs. William Owens are in charge of dessert.

Dessert and coffee will be served prior to the program to which all interested women are invited. Tickets are available at the door. For reservations call Mrs. Eschner at 729-6578.

Parkhurst School Welcomes Mothers At Morning Coffee

Mothers new to the Parkhurst School will be welcomed to Parkhurst at a morning coffee at the home of Mrs. Allan Rodgers, 5 Myopia Hill Road, on Wednesday, October 8, at 10 a.m.

Members of the Parkhurst Parents' Association Board will be present to greet the guests.

Mrs. Michio Yatsuhasi, Social Chairman, and Mrs. Alan Leland, her assistant, are in charge of arrangements.

WCCA To Hold Annual Meeting

The Winchester Council for Community Action will hold its annual meeting tonight, October 2, at 8 p.m. in Metcalf Hall of the Winchester Unitarian Church.

The major items on the agenda are the formal adoption of the constitution, election of three members to the steering committee, presentation of a report on this past summer's program, and a discussion of future plans for the organization.

Six of the members of the steering committee are elected from the membership at large, three each year for two-year terms. The retiring members are Dr. Peter Neurath, chairman; Mrs. Lenore Frazier; and Dr. Robert Danley.

The continuing members are Otis Schaefer Jr., Dr. Joel Alpert, and Owen Cote. A nominating committee will submit for election the names of Mrs. Jean O'Brien, Lewis Linson, and Dr. Abraham Goldin. Other nominees may be offered from the floor.

The other members of the steering committee are the chairman of sub-committees, or activity groups, within the organization. It is the existence of these groups that makes the WCCA unique.

The purpose of the Council is to contribute in whatever manner possible to the improvement of Winchester's community relations. The many and varied needs for improvement can provide interests for different groupings to concentrate upon. Their chairmen and other members of the steering committee then coordinate and direct the various activities so that a maximum of positive results can be achieved.

Anyone interested in participating in organized efforts to benefit Winchester is urged to come to tonight's meeting. Actual membership in the WCCA will be the option of all who attend.

An example of the results of concerted action by the WCCA is the "Six Weeks Adventure" program of this past summer. This project, which enabled youngsters from the Roxbury area of Boston to come to summer school in Winchester, will be reported tonight by Mrs. Patricia Globus.

Wellesley Club Lecture Series Opens Thursday

The Winchester Wellesley Club will open its 22nd annual lecture series "Winchester Mornings" with Ruth Edinberg as the first speaker next Thursday, October 9, at the Church of the Epiphany.

A native New Englander, Miss Edinberg has a background in musical comedy, radio and summer stock. She is a graduate of Boston University and has studied at Emerson College, Actor's Workshop and the Charles Studio. She has played roles at Tufts Arena Theatre, the Loeb Drama Center and other companies.

Among the variety of roles she has portrayed are Katharine in "Taming of the Shrew" and Margaret in "Dial M for Murder." Miss Edinberg is also author-composer of several award winning musicals for children. Her latest adaptation of Samuel Clemens' "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" ran at the Charles Playhouse this past January and February.

Next Thursday Miss Edinberg will bring us her one-woman show entitled "A Taste of Theatre," where she combines her entertaining and writing talents to present a unique program, with the help of a well-stocked make-up box and a trunk full of costumes, she transforms herself from one character to another.

The proceeds from the lectures are divided between the Winchester Scholarship Fund and Wellesley College. Under the organization of Mrs. Paul Chase, a coffee hour preceding the lecture will begin at 9:45 a.m. (lecture at 10:15) to which all are welcome.

OCTOBER EIGHTH BECKONS

MOUNT HOLYOKE TOUR OF WINCHESTER HOMES

October in New England and I not there to see
The glamor of the goldenrod, the flame of maple tree?
October Eighth in Winchester and I not there to see
Six stunning homes with open doors, each one beckoning me?
One, a farmhouse on the hill, its fire burning bright,
Another made of handsome brick, a teenager's delight.
The third and fourth outstanding in elegance and grace,
The fifth for its creativity in adding family space.
In the sixth an architect has made his dream come true
And in this home October bursts forth for all to view.
October in New England, I must, I must be there,
The Mount Holyoke Tour of Homes is a benefit I share.

Adult Art Classes To Begin Soon

The Adult Art Classes sponsored by the Winchester Art Association begin their 18th year under the guidance of King Coffin of 119 Arlington Street on Monday, October 6, in the High School art classrooms.

Mr. Coffin, a member of the faculty of the Boston Museum School of Art, also director of the summer school, is noted for his ability to explain the fundamentals of drawing and painting in terms that enable the amateur to understand and make good use of that understanding.

Mr. Coffin said, "Winchester residents are uncommonly aware of the value of an understanding of art. For example, how many towns of this size support a scholarship for an art student? How many have an art association as active and well-supported as ours?"

He continued, "The interest helps those who have always wanted to 'try' painting to really start, and in the process learn more of what art is all about. Actual study helps everyone gain a real insight into what it takes to produce a picture. I suppose that basically I am teaching design."

Further information concerning the classes may be obtained by telephoning Mrs. Herman R. Sweet, Education Chairman, 395-6062, after 6 p.m.

Children's Mus'm
Now Reopens
Visitor Center

The Visitor Center at the Children's Museum reopened October 1st with innovations to old favorites as well as a provocative new exhibit, "Grandmother's Attic."

In the "Attic" children will see some of the familiar doll houses from the old building, and in addition, play games which were popular during grandmother's childhood days, try on clothes from her wardrobe and discover her treasures stored in trunks.

Visitor Center hours are weekdays, 1-5 p.m.; and weekends and Boston school holidays and vacations, 10 a.m.-5 p.m.

There is an admission charge. Children under three and members are admitted free. Organized groups within the MDC district may come free through a grant provided by the MDC.

Halloween
Candy Sale
Aids Fund

Mrs. Frank Manganaro of 10 Girard Road, has been appointed Winchester chairman for the Trick or Treat Candy Sale of the Massachusetts Kidney Foundation, according to an announcement by Mrs. Kalman Burnim, North Suburban chairman.

The Trick or Treat Candy Sale is a prime source of revenue for support of the research program sponsored by the Kidney Foundation. This year, in conjunction with the mayors of Massachusetts, the Foundation is seeking $200,000 to establish a state-wide treatment program with artificial kidney machines. Funds will also be used to train personnel to operate the life-saving equipment.

Medical authorities estimate that in Massachusetts, 200 people suffering from kidney failure have their lives in jeopardy because of the shortage of kidney machines and nurses to administer the artificial dialysis.

"The Trick or Treat Candy serves a double purpose," said Mrs. Manganaro. "Purchasers receive an attractive plastic puppet filled with more than 100 pieces of individually wrapped candy, plus 20 small bags for distribution to the youngsters who visit their homes on Halloween. In addition, they provide vital funds to save lives of children and adults who are victims of kidney disease."

Mrs. Manganaro is being aided in her candy solicitation efforts by Mrs. Robert Maggiori of 154 Ridge Street, who is serving as assistant chairman.

The colorful "pumpkin" and "witch" plastic puppets may be purchased by calling Mrs. Manganaro at 729-2645 or Mrs. Maggiori at 729-5553.

Car Inspection
October 15th

"Less than two weeks remain for drivers to comply with the Massachusetts law which requires that all motor vehicles be inspected and display the green sticker by midnight, October 15," Registrar of Motor Vehicles Richard E. McLaughlin said. He continued, "And the longer a driver waits, the longer the delay he may experience at inspection stations because of crowded conditions or shortage of parts or mechanics to do repair work."

The Registrar noted that vehicles without the green sticker and those which bear a rejection sticker will not be permitted to operate on the highways after October 15.

"With 3300 official inspection stations throughout the state, any driver may reach one within a short distance from home or work. These stations have been instructed to conduct a thorough inspection of all parts required by law. They will pay special attention to excessive smoke emissions and coverings on number plates which may affect the legibility or substantially diminish the reflective qualities of the plates," Mr. McLaughlin said.

Flying Scotsman
Will Include Stop
At South Station

Probably the world's most famous locomotive, The Flying Scotsman, will be at South Station in Boston for four days, October 8-11, in a unique British-American 2200-mile goodwill tour of 12 United States cities.

The 100-ton coal burner, first steam locomotive to achieve 100 miles per hour, will pull a sensational nine-car rolling exhibition of British wares from Boston across the country in a salute to British-American trade.

Legendary British train buff Alan Pegler; John Spencer Churchill, nephew of Sir Winston Churchill; and Scots Guards Pipe Major Bob Crabb, private piper to her majesty Queen Elizabeth II, will welcome Boston visitors aboard the train.

In addition to the locomotive, the train consists of four exhibition cars, two Edwardian royal Pullman coaches used by Prime Minister Churchill and General Eisenhower during World War II, and a glass-walled observation car, which has been converted into an Edwardian pub by Watney's, one of London's famous brewers.

Exhibitions will include a display by the Royal Shakespeare Company on behalf of the Bard; British General Post Office will exhibit valuable and rare special issue stamps and many British industrial products.

Tickets for admission to the famed train during its four day Hub visit may be obtained in advance at Filene's Men Store, Boston.

Fire Prevention
Week Observed
Internationally

Fire killed 1,000 people a month in this country last year, according to National Fire Protection estimates.

Nearly a third of these were children.

More than two billion dollars worth of property — including homes and churches, stores and factories — went up in smoke during 1966.

The tragedy of these statistics, Fire Chief I. Francis Amico points out, is that the greatest part of this waste of lives and property is avoidable. If the simple rules of fire safety were observed at home and on the job, the record could be far different.

Fire Prevention Week, which this year falls in the period October 5-11, re-emphasizes that fighting fires is everyone's job, during this week and throughout the year.

The local observance of Fire Prevention Week will be sponsored by the Winchester Fire Department, Chief Amico announces.

Proclaimed by the President of the United States and the Governor-General of Canada, the week is internationally sponsored by the National Fire Protection Association.

Miss Gretchen Bates, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frank D. Bates of 336 Main Street, is attending the Stoneleigh-Burnham School, Greenfield as a senior. The school is in its 101st year.

Concert
To Be Held
October 24

Plans for the concert presented by the "Two by Fours" and "Les Troubadours," scheduled for Friday, October 24, at 8:30 p.m. in the High School Auditorium, were discussed in the business portion of the fall meeting of the Junior Circle of the Florence Crittenton League.

Mrs. Richard Norris, conducting the business meeting, announced that tickets for the concert are available from the members, or by calling Mrs. Mortimer Buckley at 729-7895. They will also be on sale at McCormack's Apothecary.

Earlier that Tuesday evening, September 23, members had heard Mrs. Laurie Swett, a case worker at the Crittenton-Hastings House, speak at the home of Mrs. Thomas Craig. She informed them of the case histories of two girls who had been at the Home. Her approach gave insight into the problems and decisions with which unwed mothers have to cope.

Richard Hanson Does Graduate Work At R.P.I.

Richard E. Hanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Roland Hanson of 27 Prince Avenue, has returned to Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, New York, for further study.

Mr. Hanson was graduated from Winchester High School in 1963 and from R. P. I. in 1968 with a degree in mechanical engineering. He has been employed for the past year as an engineer with Bendix Corporation in Elmira, New York, and is taking an educational leave of absence. He will now study for a degree in electrical engineering.

Noonan Parents Meet Teachers At Fall Dinner

Attending the "Gourmet Dinner" held at the Noonan School on Wednesday, September 24, and sponsored by the Noonan School Parents Association were more than 150 parents.

Miss Paula Caffrey, principal of Noonan School, introduced the teaching staff following the dinner portion of the evening. Mrs. Robert Shinsky and her committee were in charge of the event. President of the Association, Mrs. Melvin Farnham, hopes that parents will attend the next meeting, to be held on Wednesday, October 22, at 8 p.m., when Dr. Leanne Rich, principal of Washington School, will speak in "Explanation of the new report cards."

Mystic Parents Hear Discussion Of Ethics Course

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ostrach were co-speakers at the first meeting of the Mystic School Mothers' Association on Wednesday evening, September 24.

After a brief business meeting conducted by the President, Mrs. Stephen Parkhurst, the program chairman, Mrs. Colin Wheeler, introduced this husband-and-wife team who had come to Winchester two years ago to introduce a Personal-Ethics Course which they had designed for the eighth and 11th grades.

Mr. Ostrach, who works with the 11th graders, led off with a description of his course. He explained that its content had been changed somewhat this year, and that its new title is "A Seminar in Human Relations." The reason for this departure was his feeling that the problems of drugs and sex, which indeed had promoted community interest in a course of this nature, are not the real issues; rather they are symbols of deeper problems, one, being a lack of communication and understanding between teenagers and adults, and another the fact that teenagers have little understanding of what a society is and how an individual functions in it.

He stressed that teenagers are as guilty as adults in the famed "communication gap," and make little effort to appreciate adult feelings or point of view.

He also pointed out that teenagers tend to draw generalities about life, not from their personal experiences, but from mass media. Matter of factly, they declare that society is totally corrupt, or that we live in a police state, when in their own personal lives they have no such evidence.

By a series of discussions, games, and other techniques, the aim of this year's course is to help teenagers learn more about the individual, the leaders, followers, the group, and how they interact. This understanding will then lead to such questions as "What is conformity? What is dissent? Is this different from rebellion?"

After Mr. Ostrach's talk, many questions were raised. A number of adults expressed surprise that the essence of personal ethics had been dropped. The speaker expressed the view that 11th grade is much too late to teach ethics, that, indeed it is not the school's job to teach values; and that sex and drug education should begin long before this grade level.

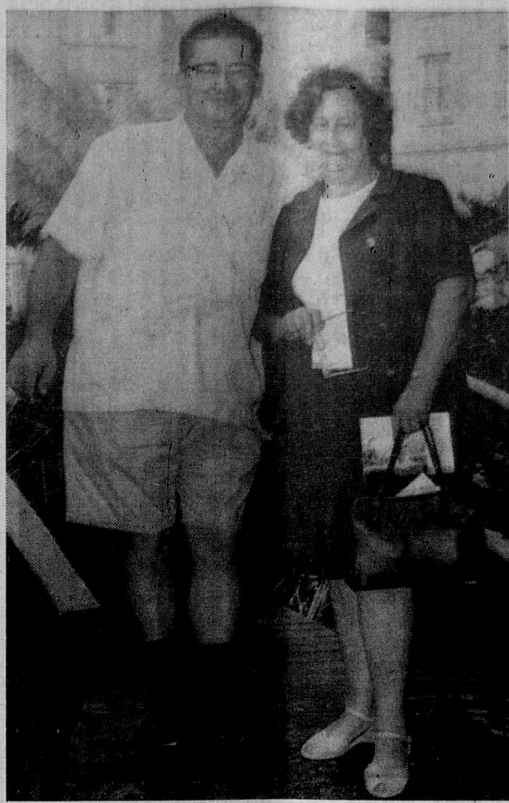

Junior High

Mrs. Ostrach then described the program for eighth graders. She stressed the fact that both the 11th and eighth grade programs are voluntary and eighth graders must have parental permission to participate in the program.

She explained that her original curriculum also had changed. Each group's needs are slightly different and revising the course and her approach is a constant thing, she said. She felt it would be a mistake to teach the identical material two years in succession.

Mrs. Ostrach also stressed that while the issues of drugs and sex are important, they are only parts of the total picture that a personal ethics course should cover. One of her basic struggles is to get the group to accept her. An adult, over 30, and a mother, she is in a sense in "the enemy camp."

She does, however, still teach and discuss the facts of drugs and sex in every section for she feels the need to be certain, regardless of the children's professed knowledge, that they have the basic facts clearly in mind and that no misconceptions continue to be accepted as truth.

Muraco Parents Hear Talk On Rome Program

On Wednesday, September 24th, the Muraco School Parents Association opened the year with its first general business meeting in the school auditorium.

Mrs. Richard Clinton, president, introduced the new board members. Following the business meeting, Mrs. Gerald Errico, program chairman, introduced Miss Constance Trickett, High School guidance counselor, who accompanied the Winchester students who spent the summer in Italy attending the Rome School, and Miss Joan Fiore, and Miss Deborah Ciroli who were participants in the program.

The evening was turned into a tour of Italy with Miss Fiore and Miss Ciroli guiding the audience through a summer at the Rome School. Slides and descriptions of places visited and project participation and a question and answer period concluded the program.

Refreshments served following the program by Mrs. Ralph Ranzo and Mrs. Edith Brock, social chairman.

The following people will serve on the board for the new school year. Mrs. Richard Clinton, president; Mrs. Angelo Amico, first vice president; Mrs. William Maggio, second vice president; Mrs. Joseph Cione, recording secretary; Mrs. John McKinley, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Carlton Luke, treasurer.

Queensmen Seek New Members

A membership meeting for the Queensmen Drum and Bugle Corps will be held on Sunday afternoon, October 5th at 2 p.m. at the Immaculate Conception Parish Hall on Sheridan Circle.

An invitation is extended to all boys and girls 12 years of age and up to attend this meeting if they are interested in becoming a member of the youth group. Anyone interested in joining does not have to be a member of the parish or a Catholic.

No experience is necessary and all equipment, drums, bugles, flags, rifles and uniforms, are supplied by the organization.

The boys have drum and bugle practice Friday evenings from 7 to 9 and Sunday afternoons from 2 to 4 at the Parish Hall. The girls' color guard and boys, practice marching and maneuvering on Tuesday evenings from 7 to 9 at the Woburn National Guard Armory. The summer months are taken up by practicing, traveling and competing against other units in and out of State.

The Immaculate Conception Drum and Bugle Corps was organized in 1948 and, over the years, has attained considerable prestige in the Greater Boston and New England Area. They have participated in many major parades and competitions in Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New York, New Jersey and Connecticut.

The Corps has been under the guidance and direction of Rev. Herbert K. A. Driscoll, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Parish. Managers and adult personnel include Bernard Boyle, Richard Carpinella, and Mr. and Mrs. Jake T. Horn, all of Winchester.

Staff and Key Begins Rehearsals

Robert W. Mathews of 26 Grove Street is expected to be the lead tenor in this year's Staff and Key production of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Patience."

Joining Mr. Mathews, newcomers to the singing group include Kirsten Beard, Betty Gould, Sue and Fred Hopf, Kathy Murphy, Charles Potts and Sus Williams, all residents of Winchester.

The Staff and Key Society, producers of an annual Gilbert and Sullivan opera, attract many singers and production people from many towns in the Greater Boston area. Rehearsals are held only two evenings a week, but the two hours spent are very rewarding in the amount of work which is accomplished under the direction of L. Hassler Einzig, recently retired head of the Music Department in the Arlington School System.

Mr. Einzig is nationally known for his accomplishments in the production of Gilbert and Sullivan works.

Each Monday and Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m. rehearsals are held at the First Baptist Church in Winchester. The performances will be held in the Winchester High School auditorium on the evenings of December 5th and 6th.

Try-outs for the 10 lead roles will commence in two weeks, but the chorus will be perfecting its words and music continually, with the first staging practices scheduled for the first week in October.

Although there are over 25 men and women already rehearsing, there is a need for more male voices, and the Society urges anyone who can carry a tune in a crowd to report to the lower floor of the First Baptist Church in Winchester next week at 7:30 p.m., any Monday or Wednesday, for participation in music and fun. For additional details, call Jim Stewart at 729-3598.

Thomas Morse Is Appointed To Advisory Board

Thomas A. Morse, coordinator of instructional aids and special programs of Winchester Public Schools has been re-appointed a member of the Program Advisory Committee for the "21 Inch Classroom" television series.

Members of this committee include people in particular curriculum areas, administrators, and representatives of the different geographical locations, of large and small, urban, suburban and rural schools.

Mr. Morse will serve from one to three years on the Program Advisory Committee. The next meeting of the group will be held on Tuesday, October 28 at which time new films will be previewed. Subcommittees will be set up to draw up new proposals with the help of the "21 Inch Classroom" staff. The Committee will also review proposals and choose them for production at its next meeting.

Assistant Director of the "21 Inch Classroom," Elizabeth Gude, in speaking of Mr. Morse's contributions to the Committee stated, "We hope to use your talents and advice in the consideration of instructional television programs for the Massachusetts School Systems and we greatly appreciate your help in the past."

Area Artists Eligible For Library Show

During October the Cary Memorial Library, Lexington, will sponsor a competition for artists who have never had a one man show at the Library. The judges will select the best of the entries for showing in the Library's Piper Gallery during November. The first prize will be a one man show in January, 1970.

Judges will be Harry Nasse, proprietor of the Ward-Nasse Gallery, Boston, and Russell Connor, assistant director of the Rose Art Museum, Brandeis University. Mr. Connor was formerly lecturer on "Museum Open House," a television program sponsored by the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. Both men have had long experience in the art field.

Artists who live or work in Winchester, Lexington, Bedford, Lincoln, Waltham, Arlington, Burlington, Belmont and Woburn are eligible and may submit one work—a painting of any kind.

Paintings will be accepted between October 19 and 25 at the Reference Desk. The Library is open from 1 to 5 p.m. on Sunday, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday.

Artists chosen for display will be notified by telephone on October 31. Other contestants may pick up their entries at the Library after November 1. For additional information please call the Cary Memorial Library and ask for the Reference Librarian.

Reception For New Members

St. Mary's Sodality will hold a reception for new members at its first meeting of the fall season on Tuesday, October 7, at 8 p.m.

All newly registered members, as well as those who wish to register that night, are welcome to attend the Mass and Benediction which will be offered by the spiritual director, the Rev. Stephen Koen.

The sodalists will adjourn to St. Mary's Hall afterwards, where they will enjoy a social hour under the chairmanship of Mrs. Walter Crotty. The Multitone Trio will provide the entertainment. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. George Ross and her committee.

Mrs. Timothy F. X. Sullivan, prefect of the sodality, will introduce the new officers: vice prefect, Mrs. Walter Crotty; secretary, Mrs. Arthur Duffy; and treasurer, Miss Mary Brown.

These officers welcome all to attend the Harvest Bridge and Whist planned for Friday evening, October 17. Ticket arrangements are under the chairmanship of Mrs. Arthur Duffy (729-5618).

"Week" Calls For Hiring Of Retarded

"National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week" will be observed October 5-11.

Though not physically handicapped in the precise definition, many mentally retarded in Massachusetts have been able to take jobs in the working world, maintaining excellent attendance and good working habits.

Most of these people attained their jobs from training in workshops sponsored and operated by the Massachusetts Association for Retarded Children through local units. In workshops, the mentally retarded are taught simple skills from which they learn good working habits to prepare them for jobs in the working community.

Countless success stories are the result of training in the various centers throughout the state where young people are trained in an industrially oriented workshop in various skills from which the individual's aptitude for actual jobs is learned. Self-esteem is a very important part of this program.

Youngsters who have had benefit of the workshops in the Boston area now are employed in local businesses. One young man who was trained for three years at a workshop is now employed as a messenger for the John Hancock Company in Boston; a girl from the Framingham area is employed by Holiday Inn as a maid. Another boy who had benefit of the same training is also employed at the same hotel as a busboy. In the Lowell area a young man was given a chance to work on the assembly line in a paper box company and was able to keep up with the other workers for a short period of time, he now works as a janitor in the same company. Four others trained in the same workshop were employed at St. John's Hospital, three of whom are still employed there.

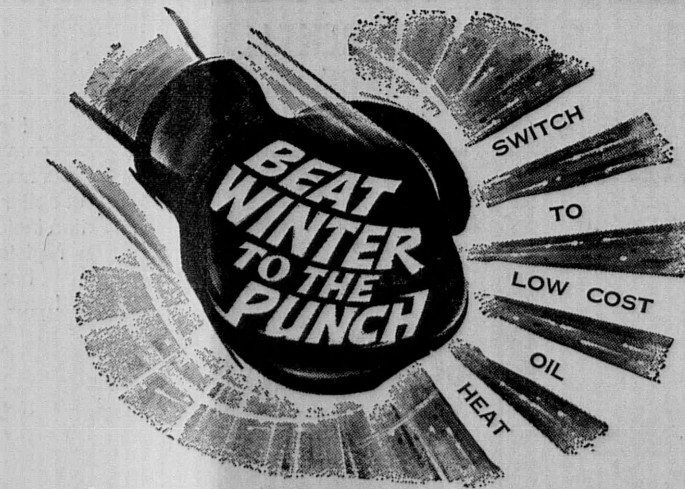

In some cases, the youngsters are trained completely in a workshop, and in others, they are partially trained and then the company prepares them in a specific job.

So many retardates, handicapped by emotional problems, have found a place in society through the cooperation of industries who have given them the chance. In return, the retarded have achieved excellent work records, being absent fewer work days for the most part than their co-workers and maintaining a high quality standard in their work.

"National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week" is designed to help employers realize the potential of the handicapped who have abilities which more than compensate for their disabilities.

Republicans Hold Meeting

Approximately 30 members of the Winchester Republican Town Committee held their September meeting last Thursday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. William D. Barone of School Street.

Mrs. Ernest Wright, vice-chairman of the Committee, led the meeting in the absence of Chairman Sherman Saltmarsh Jr. It was announced that over $500 was received at the recent fund-raising party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William McConnell.

After reports were read by Mrs. Helen Shasta and George Little, the meeting was turned over to Republican State Committeewoman Cynthia Barone who spoke about the Saltonstall campaign in Essex County. She mentioned the champagne party for Saltonstall at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Howland and discussed the 1970 U.S. Senatorial contest.

State Committeeman William Barnstead of Arlington gave a review of the past year's Republican State Committee activities with special emphasis on finance.

The next meeting will be held during the later part of October at which time a speaker will be on hand.

Britt-Pratt

Married in a mid-afternoon ceremony recently in St. Patrick's Church of Stoneham were Miss Kathleen Pratt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Pratt of 312 Cross Street, and William Edward Britt Jr., son of Mrs. Joseph Castellano of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and William Edward Britt of Wilmington.

Officiating at the service was the Rev. Burke. A reception was held at the Sons of Italy Hall in Winchester.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk peau de soie with traditional long pointed sleeves, an empire waist, an A-line skirt and a detachable train. Appliques of seed pearls and Alencon lace graced her gown. A flower tiara was nestled at the top of her bouffant fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of carnations, roses and ivy.

Maid of honor for her sister was Miss Elaine Pratt of Winchester. Her gown was of white lace overlaid by peach chiffon. Her headpiece was formed of matching peach shaded veiling caught by a rose. A basket of peach tinted daisies and baby's breath complemented her ensemble.

Miss Debra Pinato of Stoneham, cousin of the bride, and Miss Valerie Freda of Winchester served as bridesmaids. Styled as that of the maid of honor, their gowns were fashioned of peach chiffon over yellow silk.

Edward Pinato of Stoneham, cousin of the bride, was best man. Acting as ushers were Richard Austin of New Hampshire and Edward Canney of Stoneham.

Miss Carol Ann Pratt of Winchester, sister of the bride, was in charge of the guestbook.

Mrs. Pratt wore a gown of light peach with white accessories and a corsage of white gardenias. The mother of the bridegroom chose blue satin with blue accessories and a gardenia corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School, 1968. Her husband has recently completed two tours of duty with the U.S. Army in Vietnam.

The bride chose a traveling ensemble of yellow crepe with white accessories and a white daisy corsage for the couple's wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains, Pennsylvania. Mr. and Mrs. Britt are residing in Winchester.

Morrow-Kell

An afternoon garden wedding at the home of the bride's parents was performed recently for Miss Margaret Joyce Kell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas N. Kell of 70 Yale Street, and Peter Howard Morrow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Morrow of 11 Robinhood Road.

The Rev. Richard Diehl of the First Congregational Church and the Rev. Ralph B. Putney of the Church of the Epiphany presided jointly at the ceremony. A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride was escorted down the aisle by her father in a yellow silk crepe gown fashioned in a princess line with full silk organza sleeves. A small chapeau held a chapel-length veil of yellow silk organza in place and was edged in white embroidered daisies. She carried a basket of white daisies. The bride designed and made her ensemble.

Maid of honor was Miss Deborah Eriksen of High Street. Her floral chignon was fashioned as the bride's gown and she carried a basket of daisies and summer flowers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Laurel Schock of Pacific Palisades, California; Miss Denise Newhouse of Schenectady, New York; Miss Diana Martens of Charlestown, West Virginia; and Miss Sally Morrow of Winchester, sister of the bridegroom. They were dressed identically as the maid of honor.

Ray Connors of Pittsfield was best man. Attending as ushers were Wayne Kell and Arthur Kell, both of Winchester, both brothers of the bride; Thomas Morrow of Winchester, brother of the bridegroom; and Thomas Erskine of Winchester.

Mrs. Kell chose an aqua worsted silk with a lavender orchid for her hair. The mother of the bridegroom wore gold silk with a bronze orchid.

A graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1967, the bride is presently a junior at the University of Massachusetts in Amherst.

Her husband is also a graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1966, and is now a senior at the University of Massachusetts.

The couple are living in Amherst.

Cryan-Vercollone

In an 11 o'clock service on Monday morning, September 1, in St. Eulalia's Church Miss Teresa Roslyn Vercollone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Vercollone of 17A Ginn Road, and Peter John Cryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Cryan of Lowell, were married.

The Rev. Bill Williams of the Sacred Hearts' Church of Bradford, a friend of the couple, officiated at the ceremony. A reception was held at Great House, Castle Hill, Ipswich.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a fitted cage dress of silk organza appliqued with flowers of the same material. A chapel-length train fell behind and her veil of silk illusion was held in place by a crown of fresh baby's breath. Pink tea roses, bachelor buttons and baby's breath formed the bridal bouquet.

The maid of honor, Miss Susan Alice Vercollone of Winchester, sister of the bride, was gownned in deep blue satin-striped voile with long sleeves and an empire waist. She carried gold and rust chrysanthemums.

Attending as bridesmaid in similar attire to the maid of honor was Miss Lisa Marie Vercollone of Winchester, sister of the bride. Lieutenant Stephen E. Vercollone, U.S. Navy of Lincoln, cousin of the bride, acted as best man. Ushers were James J. Monroe Jr. of Lynn; and David L. Vercollone and Robert E. Vercollone, both of Winchester, both brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Vercollone chose a plum colored long sleeved dress trimmed with antique silver braid. The mother of the bridegroom wore a fitted dress of pink silk and worsted.

A graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1963, Mrs. Cryan received her degree from Simmons College, Boston in 1967 and was formerly employed by Ionics Incorporated of Watertown as a publicity assistant.

Mr. Cryan received his diploma from Lowell High School and was graduated from Boston College in 1965. He served two years with the Peace Corps in Chile and is presently a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army Infantry.

Following a wedding trip to Maine, the couple are residing in Fort McClellan, Anniston, Alabama.

A 31-state survey by a University of Denver Law College group found that drivers over age 65 were involved in only 4.8 per cent of all accidents even though they represented 7.4 per cent of all drivers, observes the Automobile Legal Association.

Ireland - Davis

Miss Grace Elizabeth Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald K. Davis of Plaistow, New Hampshire, became the bride of S. William Ireland of 2 Palmer Street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ireland of Ogunquit, Maine, at a 2 o'clock service on Saturday, September 13, at the First Baptist Church, Plaistow.

MRS. S. WILLIAM IRELAND

Presiding at the ceremony were the Rev. Everett L. Waters of the First Baptist Church and the Rev. Frederick M. Baker of the First Baptist Church of Lincoln, Rhode Island. A reception followed at the Bradford Country Club, Bradford.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in an original shirtwaist gown featuring an A-line skirt and a detachable train. Peau de soie lace composed the bishop sleeves and was appliqued on the bodice. A crystal tiara held a cathedral veil appliqued with matching lace in place. Her bouquet was a cascade of miniature carnations, poms and stephanotis with ivy streamers. She also had a white orchid corsage.

Miss Janice A. Davis of Plaistow served as maid of honor for her sister. She wore a melon-colored gown of chiffon over linen with a semi-empire waist and semi-A-line skirt. A Victorian collar, sheer sleeves and satin trimming, buttons and back bow completed the gown. Bows and flowers were nestled among the puff veil which formed her headpiece. She carried a cascade of aqua carnations, roses and shasta poms with ivy.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Betty Field of Bradford; Miss Elaine A. Lord of Dover, New Hampshire; Miss Peggy Harrigan of Plaistow; and Miss Susan Ireland of Ogunquit, sister of the bridegroom. Miss Holly Danforth of Plaistow acted as junior bridesmaid. They were attired as the maid of honor in gowns shaded in aqua and carried cascades of melon carnations, shasta poms and ivy.

Having the honor of best man for his brother was Russell Ireland Jr. of Burlington, Vermont. Ushers in the wedding party were John Holder of Portsmouth, New Hampshire; George B. Shaw of Wilmington; Robert A. Ireland of Denver, Colorado, brother of the bridegroom; Matthew Terry of Methuen; and as junior usher, Donald A. Davis of Plaistow, brother of the bride.

Flower girl, Miss Melissa Selfridge of Andover, was dressed as the maid of honor with a satin bow for her hair and a colonial nosegay of melon carnations with one rose to carry. In charge of the guest book was Miss Jane Golen of Lowell.

Mrs. Davis wore a dress and coat ensemble of blue brocade with a jeweled neckline and a white orchid corsage. The mother of the bridegroom chose a mint green jersey dress with a lace yoke and cap sleeves. Her corsage was of white tea roses.

The bride is a graduate of Andover Institute of Business and is presently an administrative secretary at Dynamics Research Corporation in Boston.

Awarded a bachelor of science degree from the University of Maine, Mr. Ireland is now working toward his master's degree at Northeastern University.

Following a wedding trip which included Las Vegas, San Francisco and Hawaii, the couple are residing in Winchester.

Mutrie-Hoffman

Miss Nancy Justina Hoffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Hoffman of 38 Pierrepont Road, and George J. Mutrie, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George J. Mutrie of Wellesley, were married at a nuptial Mass on Saturday, September 20, in St. Mary's Church.

MRS. GEORGE J. MUTRIE

Officiating at the ceremony was the Rev. Monsignor Edward F. Hartigan. A reception followed at the Winchester Country Club.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a floor-length gown of ivory silk satin, fashioned with a Victorian neckline, bishop sleeves and an A-line skirt terminating in a chapel-length train. Imported floral designed lace appliques trimmed the neckline and sleeves. She wore an ivory lace shoulder-length mantilla and carried a bouquet of stephanotis and white poms with diffenbachia foliage.

Miss Margaret Hoffman of Winchester was her sister's maid of honor. Gownned in floor-length satin serge in cyclamen with a wedding band neckline, an A-line swing back skirt and an elbow sleeve with flared cuff, she carried a bouquet of pale pink asters with diffenbachia foliage and a headpiece of matching flowers.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Thomas Burton and Mrs. Robert J. Reder, both of New York City; Mrs. Edward J. Carroll III of Cherry Hill, New Jersey; Miss Melanie D. Shriver of Baltimore, Maryland; and Miss Susan J. Wentzell, of Melrose, cousin of the bride. They were similarly attired in gowns of roseberry, carrying bouquets of rose pink asters. They also wore floral headpieces.

Attending his brother as best man was Paul Mutrie of Wellesley. Ushers were Kenneth O'Shea and Paul Arzen, both of New York City; Richard Kelley of Framingham; John Rugo of West Acton; and William Fitzgerald of Boston.

The mother of the bride wore an ensemble of pale green silk and wool, with matching accessories and carried a corsage of sonora roses.

The bride is a graduate of Georgetown University, Washington, D.C., attended graduate school at Boston University and is an instructor at Mt. Auburn Hospital School of Nursing.

Mr. Mutrie was graduated from St. Michael's College, attended Babson Institute and served for four years with the U.S. Navy as a lieutenant. He is a registered representative with Hornblower and Weeks, Hemphill, Noyes of Boston.

The couple are residing in Boston following a wedding trip to Bermuda.

BOWLINGVinson-Owen

The gutterbelles and team 7 are battling for first place. The Gutterbelles took over this week due to the strong bowling of Lee Arsenian and Ann Redmond, with good help from Nancy Brosnan. Lee had a high triple of 272, and Ann rolled a beautiful 99 game.

Hilda Coulter is still going strong. She has the high average of 91 and the high single of 101. Newcomer Jean Hoffman had a good morning. She improved her average nine pins.

Judy Johnson rolled a good 95 game to help the Dreamers take the high triple of 975 and the high single of 347.

Wee Sachems Down Burlington

The Winchester Pop Warner 115-pound team registered a 12-6 win Sunday at the expense of the Burlington 115-pounders.

Burlington won the toss and elected to receive, but after three plays were forced to punt to Winchester. After short gains by Rudy Fiore and Mike Heffernan, Andy Miga put the Wee Sachems in scoring position with a 30-yard run around left end. The team was unable to score and turned the ball over to Burlington on the latter's 25-yard line.

The strong Winchester defensive line, led by Mayer, Christensen, DeMars, Heffernan, Westwater, and Evans, forced Burlington to kick. The kick was partially blocked by Heffernan, and Winchester took over on the Burlington 38-yard line. Together, Heffernan and Devin registered a first down, aided by the sharp blocking of Evans, Hanes, and DeMars. Miga then pitched the ball to Fiore, who carried it 15 yards for Winchester's first score.

The remainder of the half was controlled by the Wee Sachems, who kept the ball in Burlington territory with the help of the booming punts of Andy Samoiloff. Late in the second quarter a Miga-to-Fiore pass found the mark, and Fiore raced 30 yards for the Sachems' second score.

Following the kick-off and a Burlington punt, Dean Devin brought Winchester fans to their feet with a 40-yard run to the Burlington five-yard line. The Burlington defense came alive and stopped Fiore for no gain as the first half came to an end.

Throughout the third quarter Winchester's defense held firm, allowing only one first down. Key tackles were made by Mayer, Phillips, Beard, and Westwater. Trailing by two touchdowns, Burlington took to the air, but were thwarted by the aggressiveness of Fiore, Devin, Farnam, and two interceptions by Phillips. With the Winchester second team in the game, Burlington parlayed two penalties and a long gain into a touchdown, but failed to convert the extra point into a score. With time running out, Christensen recovered Burlington's onside kick-off attempt.

Winchester was held for three downs by an aroused Burlington defense. With Samoiloff back to punt on fourth down, all seemed lost as a high pass from center sailed over his head. Samoiloff retrieved the ball and, behind the extra blocking of this teammates, raced 60 yards for a touchdown.

The score was called back by an official who detected a Winchester rule infraction, but Samoiloff had taken his team out of trouble. The Burlington offense took over on its own ten-yard line, and their last-gasp pass was intercepted by Phillips as the game came to a close. The Wee Sachems, with a 1-1 record, meet Reading next Sunday at Reading.

Duplicate Bridge Club

Wednesday evening, September 24th, saw nineteen teams competing for the Winchester Star bowl in the annual Team-of-Four Club Championship. Playing a powerful game all the way was the winning combination of Martha Joslin, Ed Sullivan, John Reardon and Alan Leland. As the only woman member of this strong team here is an extra three cheers for Martha, one of our most proficient young players.

Those who made average or better were:

Pop Warner 100's Defeat Burlington

The Winchester Pop Warner 100's shut out a strong Burlington team 6-0 at Burlington on Sunday.

Winchester struck early. After one exchange of punts, Jimmy Beaton rolled to a first down around left end. Dick Errico chewed out a sizeable gain up the middle. Then Chuck Hayford slanted off tackle, cut out behind a fine open-field block by Doug Marr, and raced 38 yards to pay dirt.

The game then settled down to a battle of fine defensive units. Chris Carzo filled a hole at right end, which was the only spot at which Burlington generated significant offense.

Winchester's offense, led by Peter Frongillo, gained far more yardage behind Steve Johnis, Don Allard, Lance Lauletta, Dave Marr, Dave Donohue, Fred Grabau, and Phil Stackpole, but was inconsistent from in close.

In previous games, the 100's shut out Everett 20-0, and lost a tough game to Stoneham 6-0. Next Sunday the B's lead off in a double header at Reading.

Bellino Leaves Quincy Giants

Joe Bellino, who won fame locally as an all-around athlete and gained fame nationally as a running back for Navy, has severed his connection with the Quincy Giants.

No reason was given for the move, but it is assumed that he plans to devote his time to other business interests.

Soccer Clinic Is Held At Leonard Field

The Winchester soccer program participated in a soccer clinic last Saturday at Leonard Field.

Sachems Defeat Concord

Sachems Hold Off Rally By Concord For 19-12 Win

by John F. Parrell

WORKING HARD for the Sachem victory at Concord was Mike Deshler, right. The Sachems travel to Stoneham this Saturday. Kickoff is at 1:30 p.m. (Joyce photo)

Coach Manny Marshall's football eleven built up a 19-0 lead over Concord-Carlisle after only five minutes of play in the second half Saturday at Concord, but was hard pressed to come out with an opening-game victory by 19-12.

The home team pushed over a pair of fourth-period tallies and were thwarted once by a good Sachem goal-line stand. Thus, the title defense opened with a hard-earned triumph which showed the coaches flashes of good play as well as many points which need improvement.

These should be ironed out before Saturday when the team travels to Stoneham to clash with the capable forward wall of its hosts. The Concord game was marked by many penalties against both teams, with Winchester losing a touchdown on one, and the home team set back on each of its first three offensive plays in the shadow of its own goal line.

As a matter of fact the officials proved to be the best ground gainers and marked off well over 150 yards for infractions. Concord resorted to four onside kicks and recovered two to set up its attack.

The first of these came on the opening kickoff, but Mark Keating was on the alert and promptly covered the bouncing pigskin at mid-field. After a line play was held for a one-yard advance, Co-Captain Mike Gilberti was trapped on a pass but threw the ball short of the receiver.

The next play was a completion to Bill Wolfe for a first down at the Concord 38. Courtney West carried on two consecutive plays for another first down at the 28. Gilberti slipped and fell for a four-yard loss before West broke loose around right end for an apparent touchdown, but the ball was returned and Winchester was assessed 15 yards for holding.

Dolan Scores

Gilberti punted and Concord Co-Captain Bob Driscoll called for a fair catch at his own 13. Then came the series of penalties, and the Carew crew was on its two-yard line. However, a pitchout from Phil Carrigan to Mark Zerby relieved the pressure and brought the ball to the 20, to be followed by a first down at the 25, and two plays later another first down at the 35. But the pitchout backfired on the next play as Bob Dolan intercepted the lateral and raced unopposed 36 yards for the first points of the season. He added the extra point by placement, and the Sachems led 7-0.

Bob Driscoll ran the kickoff from the 17 to the 40 before being grounded. Dolan stopped Carrigan for no gain, but the pitchout worked once again as Zerby reached the Winchester 41 for another first down. The next play netted eight yards, but Concord was detected holding and set back 15 yards. At this point the ball rolled loose and Chip Emery was on top of it at the Concord 43. Courtney West lugged the oval on the next four plays for a total of 15 yards, and then Mike Deshler lugged it for a first down at the 18.

Trade Fumbles

A Winchester fumble was gathered in by Lee Daniel, but on the ensuing play Mike Rhubarb pounced on the ball to regain possession for the Sachems. West carried twice, and once again holding was called to push the locals back 15 yards. Gilberti then hit Bill Wolfe for two consecutive pass completions to register the second touchdown. The point try failed and the count read Winchester 13, Concord 0.

The balance of the half saw little progress by either team, although Zerby was stopped twice on good tackles by Paul Stevens and Tim Styles.

The second half opened with Concord Co-Captain Driscoll running the ball out to the 30 before meeting John Procopio. A pass failed, but holding set Concord back to the 15. Zerby ran well to the 28 and was finally stopped by Deshler. Carrigan went for seven more before being brought down by Joe Campo.

Chip Emery broke up a pitchout for no gain, and then came a punt which went off the booter's foot and came to rest in Pete Wardwell's hands. The defensive guard, who seldom even touches the football, was off for a 40-yard scoring jaunt, and Ben Dolan polished off the only Concord threat with a good block. The extra point failed and Winchester's point-getting was over for the day.

Concord Starts Move

Driscoll ran back the kickoff to the 40 and was almost away. He then combined with Carrigan for a first down at the midfield marker. Stevens nailed Zerby for a five-yard loss, and a pass to Driscoll netted eight. Ron Fiorilli smashed the next play for no gain. Moments later a Concord punt was allowed to roll by two Winchester backs and finally came to rest about five feet from the goal line. Shades of last year's Woburn game!

The Sachems emerged from this situation as Mike Deshler caught Gilberti's heave at the 17 for a first down. The diminutive back made eight more, but another 15-yarder for holding forced a punt which was hurried and carried only to the 26, where Ben Dolan downed it.

Concord fumbled but was saved by a quick whistle, and on the next play the home team chalked up a first down at the Winchester 15. Mark Keating halted Driscoll for no gain, and the third quarter ended with the Sachems still in front by 19-0.

On the opening play of the final period Driscoll scored on a pitchout to make the score 19-7. The kickoff was another onside boot, which Co-meat covered for the home team at the Winchester 35. The ball was touched by at least four local players but was finally gathered in by the Concord sophomore.

A pass interference call gave the home team a first down at the 15. Zerby was stopped twice before a forward pass bounced off the hands of several Winchester players into the hands of Co-Captain Bob Driscoll for a first down at the three-yard line.

Defensive Work

Carrigan lost a couple and Noel Webb threw Driscoll for a three-yard setback. Ron Fiorilli stopped the next play and a fourth-down pass went incomplete. This was a rugged goal-line stand and the best defensive team effort of the afternoon. The Sachems ground out a first down at the 23, and Deshler caught a pass for another, but Concord finally took over on a punt and pushed for its second score.

Driscoll snagged two passes, with Joe Campo downing him on the second one at the Winchester nine. Then came the old familiar pitchout, this time to Driscoll, and the latter flipped to Co-Captain Mike Ambrose for the touchdown. The point after failed.

Strong Final Minute

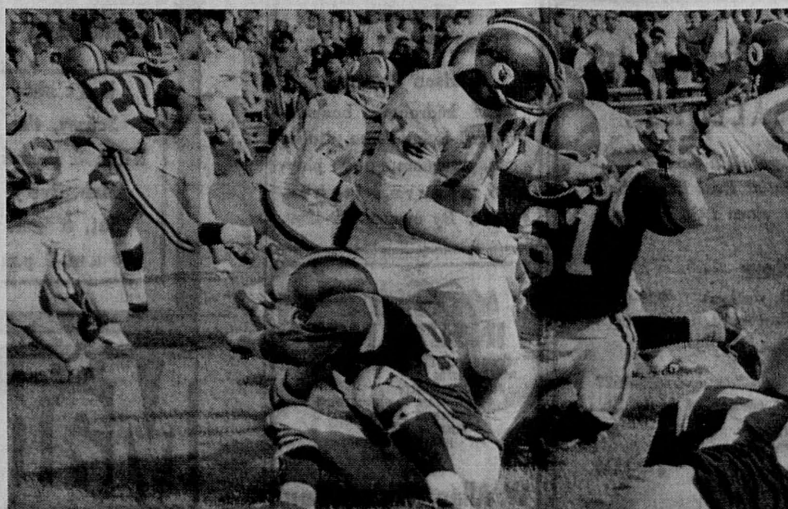

Another onside kick found the ball going directly into the waiting arms of Co-Captain Gilberti. He was buried by Concord jerseys, but the obvious penalty for piling on was not called. Mike then carried well on dashes to the Concord 35 and then the 14 before the final whistle sounded.

Both teams showed the results of an opening game with errors which must be corrected if they are to have successful seasons. The Winchester offense scored only once, and the victory came on two defensive team touchdowns. Concord's forward wall seldom bothered Gilberti on his passing, and the punting of both teams left something to be desired.

Coach Marshall and his staff were awaiting the game films and promise to take steps to correct the deficiencies before the Stoneham game this week.

The lineups:
WINCHESTER—e, James, Stevens, Campo, W. Wolfe, Dolan; t, Pirani, Lombardi, Styles, Emery, Devaney; g, Cannon, Rhubarb, Fiorilli, Keating, Wardwell; c, Tello, Webb; b, Adams, Gilberti, Horn, West, McHugh, M. Deshler, Procopio, Sampson, R. Wolfe.

CONCORD—e, Ambrose, Anderson, MacLeod; t, Gleason, Daniel, Windhol; g, Wheeler, Comeau, Wolfskil, House; c, Getz; b, Carrigan, Zerby, Driscoll, Byron, Hollenkamp, Hardy.

Game With Stoneham Will Test Sachem Strength

by John F. Parrell

The Winchester High gridders journey to Stoneham this Saturday afternoon for their second Middlesex League game of the 1969 season. Coach Bob Margarita's eleven fell before heavily favored Melrose last week by a score of 20-0. However, it was only a 6-0 ball game with less than a minute to go for the half when Rich Harris broke away for a touchdown gallop of over 60 yards to make the tally 14-0 at half-time.

This held until the fourth period, when Harris crossed the goal line once again on a four-play drive that netted 58 yards. By this time the Stoneham team was pretty well worn down by the superior depth of the Red Raiders, who figure once again to be the scoring champions of the league.

With the experience of having met and played respectable football against such a formidable foe, Stoneham will prove a hard nut for the Sachems to crack unless they are able to overcome the lapses and penalties which hurt them in the Concord conflict. Without making any excuses, it is only fair to point out that the Marshmallens played last week without regular halfback Tom Riley, who was absent due to a family wedding.

Riley's presence will give much more balance to the offense and should help the ground-gaining ability of the Sachems. The contest figures very close with Dave McDowell and Co-Captain Mike Gilberti matching pitching arms, while both defensive lines, although only spotted with veterans, should prove fairly equal in halting the opposing attack. A stalemate might well result unless the passers pick up some added help from their backfield mates.

Both teams came through their openers without serious injuries and will be eager to come through with a victory. This is a far better situation than prevailed last year when Winchester lost both Co-Captain Brian Bowen and Bill Wolfe before the Concord game was one minute old.

Co-Captain Dave Scott is beginning to get back into condition after his late-summer illness and is getting stronger with each passing day. The presence of this scrappy co-leader means a great deal to the team.

So, it is on to Stoneham to seek win No. 2 in the title defense. It doesn't figure to be easy, but if hard work can produce results, the coaches have given the team the proper diet for the past few days. There can be no letdown as a result of the Concord victory because Coach Margarita's eleven does not plan to lose two in a row to drop out of contention so early in the campaign.

Here is the league standing after the first round of play:

Harriers Split In Two Meets

The Sachem cross country runners, coached by Tom Hughes, opened their Middlesex League season by losing to Watertown 20-10 and then edging Belmont in a tight one 27-28.

Tim Fahey was the first runner to finish in the Watertown meet, but the next five places were taken by the home team to pile up the victory margin.

He had better help in the Belmont meet, and the close-up finishes by his teammates enabled Winchester to chalk up its first victory.

Bill Veeck To Speak At Banquet

Bill Veeck will be the speaker at a Father-Son Banquet at Crawford Memorial United Methodist Church tonight.

The Methodist men have invited men and their sons from each of the other churches to join them for this evening.

Monsignor Lyons will lead the opening invocation and Reverend Broyles, the bathory for the visiting teams in Cleveland in 1948, will introduce Bill Veeck.

The topic of the speech will be "Bill Veeck Speaks Out on Baseball."

Tickets for the banquet are no longer available, but fathers and their sons will be welcome to hear Bill Veeck speak at 7:30 p.m.

Art Association's Season Opener

President Raymond Watts of the Winchester Art Association has announced that the new season will be opened on Tuesday, October 7, with a slide presentation of the paintings of Vietnam artist Robert Decoste.

Mr. Decoste is a combat artist whose paintings are contained in the national archives in Washington. He is also a teacher at the Art Institute of Boston and a book illustrator.

All are cordially invited to attend this first meeting.

The Art Association welcomes new members. Interest in a love for art are the only membership requirements. The following program outlines the topics to be presented this season by some of our country's leading artists.

The 1969-1970 program

October 7, 1969 Robert Decoste, slide demonstration, combat artist

November 5, 1969 George DeGaulis, sculptural painting

January 6, 1970 Art film

February 4, 1970 Tom Squaras, drawing demonstration

March 3, 1970 Vivian Berman, intaglio printing

April 7, 1970 Book illustration

Pack 524

Has Meeting

The first meeting of Pack 524 heralded the arrival of new and old members and their parents.

While the parents met with Pack Master Bill McGinty and Committee Chairman Bob Paridy, the boys enjoyed individual and relay races. In a marshmallow race, Dana Berg proved to be the fastest eater and runner. Kevin Gosselin and Steven Perriello tied for second place, while Brooks Bonnell had to drop out of the finals after eating one marshmallow too many. Paul Fitzpatrick came closest to guessing the number of beans in a jar and won a small prize.

After the dens were formed, the meeting closed with the singing of "America The Beautiful."

The next pack meeting is October 3 at 7 p.m. at the Parkhurst School. If there are any interested boys between the ages of eight and 11, they are invited to attend this meeting. Parents are always welcome.

Two Factors Make Fire Safe Home

If you own a home or are planning to build or buy one, make fire safety a foremost thought, urges Fire Chief I. Francis Amico in a Fire Prevention Week Message.

The fire safe home, the Chief points out, has two important factors: good family habits about fire and its dangers, and good construction.

Good family habits include such things as care with matches and when smoking; good housekeeping, including the removal of rubbish; proper use of electrical fuses, appliances, and extension cords; and a constant awareness of the ways fires start and how to avoid them.

Good construction for a fire safe home, according to the National Protection Association, includes:

1. Built-in fire stops. These are barriers of wood or masonry between studs, joists, rafters or stringers that serve to prevent the spread of smoke and fire.

2. Solid doors for every room.

An ordinary wooden door can keep smoke and fire out of a room for as long as 30 minutes.

3. Good escape routes. Best exits lead directly outside, not through other rooms. Windows should be large enough and low enough to climb through and operate easily enough for the youngest member of the family.

4. Interior finish of materials with low flame-spread characteristics. Wallboards made of gypsum, cement, asbestos and similar materials are noncombustible and resist flame spread.

5. Fire-resistant roofing material, such as asphalt shingles, slate, asbestos or metal. Wood shingles never should be used as a roof covering.

6. Proper wiring. Qualified electricians follow the provisions of the National Electrical Code when installing wiring, which means a fire safe installation.

7. A good heating plant properly installed and located, regularly inspected and cleaned. A furnace should never be located under stairs or near an entrance where fire originating in the heater might block escape.

Registration Is Tonight For Adult Ed.

Tonight, Thursday, October 2, is registration for those interested in the Adult Education courses offered by Winchester Public Schools. The main office of the senior high school will be open for registrants from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Among the new courses of interest are interior decorating, cinematography, conversational Italian and a revised program in "Anatomy of a Suburb."

Interior decorating includes a look at the various aspects associated with home and its interior decoration, fitting color and decor to both modern and period design. Ways to transform rooms by covering old furniture, adding new curtains, bedspreads, lampshades or just throw pillows will be explored. This course will be given on Tuesday evenings.

All home-movie enthusiasts could be concerned with the course in Cinematography. Most use the eight or Super eight mm camera and will be instructed in the art of film making including camera exercises, directing, editing, scripting, and special effects. Each student will prepare a four-minute film during the course with aid from the instructor. Meetings are held Tuesday evenings.

Conversational Italian has been added to the course list for night school due to popular demand of residents of Winchester. The teacher has a background of study in Italy and will embellish the course with cultural and social aspects of the country as well as putting prime emphasis on the conversational knowledge of the language. Italian is offered both Monday and Tuesday nights.

"Anatomy of a Suburb" this year will focus on Winchester and its political, economic, religious, and social patterns. Town government, the school system, land use and development and the town's financial picture over the past 30 years will be explored. Guests will be members of the Board of Selectmen, the Finance Committee, Planning Board and School Committee. Monday evening classes are planned.

Classes begin on Monday and Tuesday October 6 and 7. Courses will have a small tuition fee. Brochures listing all courses are available in the public library.

Widows of World War II service men who died on active duty or as the result of service-connected disabilities are eligible for G.I. loans until July 25, 1970.

HISTORY AND PROGRESS

For seventy years the New England Memorial Hospital has served the Town of Stoneham and surrounding communities and built its reputation with an extra touch of HUMAN KINDNESS. It has grown from a 22-bed long-term recuperative facility to a modern, full-service, acute care community hospital, accommodating 300 adult patients and 25 bassinets.

The Langwood Hotel property, located on the shores of Spot Pond became the first "home" of the hospital, and in 1906, after a disastrous fire, the present location was used to build the structures which were used until the current building program to expand and modernize began.

Since World War II hospitals have been hard-pressed to keep up with changes in techniques and equipment, and for space in which to house an ever-increasing patient load.

To meet the demands of modern medical/scientific health care, the New England Memorial Hospital has begun a multi-million dollar expansion and modernization program. The first phase will cost over $5.5 million dollars. This is the section everyone is invited to view on October 5, 1969.

The expanded services, the progressive new facilities, will allow the hospital to offer patient care with a brighter, newer outlook—and, the Administration has pledged to continue its renown HUMAN KINDNESS service—on a personal basis. Services include a full range of surgery, internal medicine, maternity, physical and occupational therapy, X-ray, laboratory and pharmacy.

A HOSPITAL THAT'S EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

The Executive Committee of the Hospital Building Fund has set a goal of $1.1 million as the community's share of the project. This is the first organized campaign in the history of the hospital.

Participation is the key-note to any drive—and the aim is to achieve as nearly 100% participation as possible.

Let's support our hospital—the community's hospital!! When visited in your home or office by an official campaign worker, respond with your generous support.

The last statistical report reveals the following information regarding the hospital's patients: according to religion—57.4% Catholic, 33.2% Protestant, 5.0% Seventh-day Adventist (a majority of these are employees and their families), 2.4% Hebrew, 2.0% Other.

And, when it comes to COMMUNITY PARTICIPATION, the services are rendered to a patient census of 23.0% from Stoneham and 77.0% from all other communities surrounding Stoneham. Many civic-minded persons, in acknowledgement of the availability of these fine services, are eagerly supporting the campaign with their time and finances. Won't you join them?

YOUR CONTRIBUTIONS ARE TAX-EXEMPT

The United States government Tax Bureau says, "If you tax yourselves for hospital purposes, we shall lighten the tax burden you would otherwise have to bear." Contributions to not-for-profit organizations are completely tax exempt. The loss of revenue to the government is more than offset by service to the public, rendered and available, because of contributions from the public.

PLEDGING YOUR SUBSCRIPTION

Many subscriptions to the Fund are made on a pledge basis. They may be paid monthly, quarterly, or annually, over a 36-month period—at the option of the subscriber. This is a challenge and an opportunity to the residents of the hospital community. A meaningful response today can mean the difference between life and death tomorrow!

MEMORIAL OPPORTUNITIES

Memorials and Dedications provided for the healing arts are the most eloquent. The individual or group giver can help provide facilities and services for themselves and others, and build a long-time memorial to someone dear and respected.

Organizations or individuals may finance new equipment, facilities, rooms, furniture, operating room suites, and appropriate recognition will be made on a plaque.

Names Of War Dead To Be Read Here During Peace Day

Clergy, housewives, business and professional men, students and teachers will participate in Winchester's observance of the October 15 national Vietnam Peace Moratorium.

Governor Francis Sargent has announced his support of the one-day action and will participate in peace activities that day, both as governor and as a citizen. He joins a growing list of prominent state and national figures to endorse the moratorium, which includes State Senate President Maurice A. Donahue, Boston City Council Chairman Gerald O'Leary, Senators Charles Goodell, Mark Hatfield, Edmund Muskie, Eugene J. McCarthy and George McGovern.

State Commissioner of Education, Neil Sullivan, has urged that discussion of the Vietnam war be included in public school curriculum that day, and has deemed appropriate the symbolic display of support for the moratorium by students and teachers.

In Winchester, plans are set for a memorial reading of the names of 44,000 Vietnamese who died on the Common. Starting at 5 p.m. October 14, the marathon memorial will continue until 6:30 p.m. October 15. A schedule of those who wish to share in the actual reading is being prepared, and all residents are welcome to volunteer for this responsibility.

Peace Service

The First Congregational Church bell will toll to signal the start of a Peace Union Service at 7 p.m. in the church sanctuary. John D. Elder of Arlington, acting director of field education at the Harvard Divinity School, will speak. Mr. Elder was a peace candidate for the congressional nomination in this district last year. Planned for the service are high school students, the service will include a candlelight ceremony.

Petitions, asking President Nixon for complete troop withdrawal within six months, are already being circulated. Those wishing to collect signatures in their neighborhoods are asked to call Emmons Ellis at 729-2568. Petitions will be available at the Common and at the two train stations on October 15.

WHSR Schedules Panel Discussion On New School Tomorrow Night

WHSR-FM, Winchester High School's student radio station, will broadcast a program of questions and answers about the proposed new high school on Shore Road tomorrow evening at 7:30.

The program, moderated by WHSR news director, Marc Levinson, will have as guests Arthur Dunbar, chairman of the Secondary School Building Sub-committee; Dr. Richard Lawrence, School Committee member and member of the Secondary School Building Sub-committee; Dr. Donald A. Klemer, superintendent of schools; and a member of the high school student body.

Listeners will be invited to call the station at 729-8428 to ask questions of the panelists.

WHSR broadcasts at 91.9 megacycles on the FM band.

The station will also broadcast the Special Town Meeting to be held on Thursday, October 16, at 7:45 p.m.

According to News Director Levinson, during the Town Meeting intermission the station has preliminary plans to broadcast a special report on the Vietnam Peace Action Day set for October 15.

Fells Opens For Fall Tour

The autumn foliage of the Winchester Watershed will be on display for the public the weekend of October 18 and 19 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the invitation of the Water and Sewer Board.

Vehicles are asked to enter the town's restoration area from Hillcrest Parkway and follow marked roads to the exit point on South Border Road. Hikers and bicyclists are also invited, but no motorcyclists or horseback riders will be allowed.

Firefighters—Town Reach Agreement For 1969 Contract; 10% Salary Hike

The Fire Fighters Association, Local 1564, and the Town Collective Bargaining Committee last week reached an agreement for the 1969 contract after bargaining which began in early January.

A 10 per cent increase in the maximum annual salary for fire fighters under the new contract brings the salary figure to $8,250 for a 48 hour week. The figure is retroactive to April 1, 1969. Fire Fighters have been working without a contract since that date.

Also included in the agreement are a nine per cent increase above maximum in the salaries for linemen and 18 per cent increases above maximum for the Fire Alarm supervisor and mechanic.

Contract negotiations were begun between the two groups in January. Following several meetings, negotiations were broken off in March when it became apparent that an agreement could not be reached.

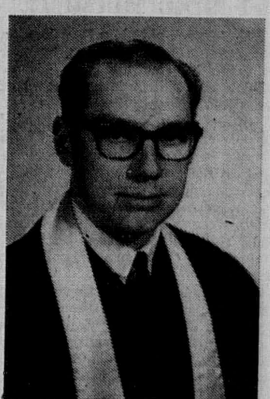

Both groups petitioned the American Arbitration Association to appoint a representative fact finder to hear the dispute. The Association appointed William J. Fallon of Boston who began hearings on the case in May. The fire fighters were represented by Attorney Dominic Caronna of Worcester and the Town by Attorney Mark Gallagher.

Major Issues

The major issues of dispute between the two groups were wage parity between the police and fire fighters and the number of work hours per week.

Rev. Rinehart Is New Minister At First Church

The Rev. John C. Rinehart has joined the staff of the First Congregational Church as a minister in the area of Christian Education and youth ministry. He assumed his position Monday.

REV. JOHN C. RINEHART

Born and raised in New Bremen, Ohio, Rev. Rinehart graduated from Heidelberg College, Tiffin, Ohio, in 1960 with a major in political science. His wife, the former Julie Volkmar of Westerville, Ohio, also graduated from Heidelberg that year.

Rev. Rinehart received his seminary education at United Theological Seminary of the Twin Cities, New Brighton, Minnesota, and upon graduation was awarded a scholarship in "Systematic Theology." Then, selecting the area of ethics and society, he continued his studies at the University of Chicago Divinity School.

LWV Celebrates 50th Anniversary With Fund Drive

Buoyed by a congratulatory letter from the Board of Selectmen, the League of Women Voters of Winchester this week begins its quest for capital funds from local citizens and businesses.

Nationwide, the League is celebrating its 50th anniversary by pledging itself to continue and expand its non-partisan work in research and in campaigning for solutions to the emerging problems of society through citizen decision and action. Through its Voters Service arm, the League will continue to provide a non-partisan platform for candidates for office to be seen and heard.

The League believes that its stated purpose — the promotion of informed and active participation of citizens in government — is vital for all citizens.

The 50th anniversary campaign is seeking $11 million in capital funds, of which nearly half is to come from the League's own membership, and the remaining from corporate gifts and community campaigns. Campaign chairman in Winchester is Mrs. Charles L. Morgan.

How would they plan a project themselves?

Mr. Ewing also discovered that the individual must be treated and analyzed differently from the group when working out a problem, both considerations being important as factors in planning.

The example given was that of a highway, physically perfect and of benefit to a large number of people, but condemned and obstructed by a community which it thoughtlessly may divide in two.

History

The next section of "The Human Side of Planning" is devoted to figures in history, "famous planners." They are drawn mostly from the military, including Arthur the Great, Charlemagne, Hannibal, Hitler and Douglas MacArthur. Attention to these histories shows that little thought was given to social goals in examining the project.

David Ewing Publishes Book On "Human Side of Planning"

"The Human Side of Planning" is David Ewing's, 195 Cambridge Street, latest literary offering in the field of organizational planning. And he feels that it is unique in this field because in considering various planning failures, he bypasses the usual technical explanations to stress the "people factor" in the human element.

Mr. Ewing, who has written a number of books on planning and has garnered practical experience as a planning consultant for businesses, wondered why planning ventures failed. After examining the technical points of such failures, he decided that the primary cause lay in an area which had not previously received a writer's attention.

The common denominator, he feels, is people. As wide-scope planning failures, organizational, personnel and marketing, become more and more evident, it becomes increasingly important to obtain the cooperation of the people. How do the people feel about a subject? What do they want?

School Comm. Rescheduled For Tuesday

Due to lack of a quorum, the Winchester School Committee was forced to postpone the agenda for October 6 until Tuesday, October 14.

Three of the six-member Committee, Chairman Mrs. Harriet Dietrich, Mrs. Mary Mears and Dr. Richard Lawrence, were present to carry out the only business allowed in such circumstances, a move to adjournment.

Scheduled on the agenda was the vote to approve or reject the preliminary architectural plans for the renovation of Marycliff Academy. Further work on these plans must be delayed until the School Committee has taken action on the drawings submitted.

Present at the meeting was Herbert Hamilton Jr. of Architect's Design Group, Inc. of Boston. Taking this opportunity to explain the open space concept being utilized in Marycliff to the audience which was present, Mr. Hamilton informed them that the drawings had been designed according to the educational specifications as prepared by Assistant Superintendents William F. Clark and Walter P. Gleason and within the physical characteristics of the Marycliff building.

After explaining the proposed arrangement of classrooms and facilities and the ways in which they will function, he noted, "The building happened to be exactly the right size."

By keeping the existing duct and piping work in the building, costs may be minimized in this area. Following the inspection by the State Department of Public Safety, it was found that a new ventilation system will be necessary only on the first floor. Present heating will suffice.

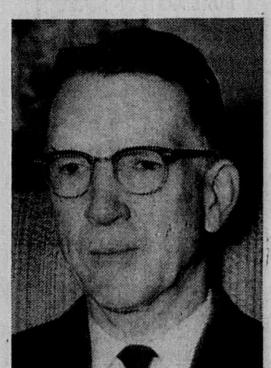

Mr. Hamilton reported that it will be necessary to replace most electrical fixtures, however, the power supplied here is adequate and very little new wiring will be required. A fixture to fit over the present lights has been located.

In a brief session of questions and answers with the audience, it was brought out that Marycliff is scheduled for occupation in less than 11 months. District guidelines for children attending Marycliff have not yet been drawn up by the School Committee.

The preliminary plans await the vote of the Committee at next Tuesday's meeting.

Mr. Chadwick Is President Of Moderators

State Representative Harrison Chadwick of 24 Everett Avenue, Winchester's Town Moderator for the past 14 years, was elected president of the Massachusetts Moderators Association at its annual meeting held in Auburn on October 3.

REP. HARRISON CHADWICK

The purpose of the Association is to help the moderators in the 312 towns of the Commonwealth solve mutual problems that are constantly arising in town meetings. The Association also assists the moderators in keeping abreast of new legislation and court decisions that affect the procedures of a town meeting.

In his remarks to the Association members, Rep. Chadwick stressed some of the ways a moderator can work with the boards and committees of a town to smooth out the processes of a town meeting.

Mr. Chadwick has been a director of the Moderators Association since 1957. Recently Mr. Chadwick joined other State Representatives in riding on the new MBTA cars which will be used between Harvard Square and Quincy.

Selectmen Discuss Use Of Common For Peace Day Event

The Board of Selectmen met Monday night with the Rev. Everett Waters, president of the Winchester Ecumenical Association; Police Chief Joseph J. Derro; and Albert A. MacDonnell, chairman of the Board of Park Commissioners, to discuss the use of the Common by a group of Winchester residents to read the names of the Vietnam war dead during the Vietnam Peace Action Day, October 15.

The group, sponsored by the Winchester Ecumenical Association, plans to read the names for a period of 24 hours from 5 p.m. on Tuesday, October 14, to 5 p.m. Wednesday.

Actual permit to use the Common must be issued by the Park Commissioners who will meet later this week to decide the question.

At Monday's meeting the Selectmen expressed concern that the group might be harassed by outsiders and that a more appropriate location than the Common in terms of giving police protection for the group might be found.

Since the initial idea to read the names of the war dead was presented to the Ecumenical Association by the Ecumenical Youth Committee, Chief Derro expressed concern with who might be reading the names during the nighttime hours. Rev. Waters assured him that adults would be present throughout the night.

Officers Present

Chief Derro told the Selectmen that he planned to have officers there at all times for the protection of the people reading the names. "I have no reason to believe the people won't conduct themselves well," he said.

In response to a question from Selectman John Sullivan regarding choice of the Common as a location for the demonstration, Rev. Waters said it was chosen because the Common is the "historical site of public meetings."

Selectman Sullivan then suggested that Manchester Field might be a better place in terms of protection for the people involved and in terms of parking facilities.

Concern was also expressed by the Selectmen that a meeting on the Common might cause undue disturbance for the residents of the area, whereas Manchester Field is removed from neighboring residences.

Chief Derro concurred that it would be easier for the police to offer protection and to assist with parking if the event were held at Manchester Field.

Rev. Waters told the Selectmen that Manchester Field had been discussed by the Ecumenical Association but that the Common had been selected because more people would see the demonstration.

Speaking for the Park Commissioners, Mr. MacDonnell told the Selectmen that a meeting with Rev. Waters had been planned by the Board to discuss issuance of a permit for the Common.

As reasons against using the Common for the demonstration, Mr. MacDonnell cited the possible financial harm to the Common, the need for curfews on public meetings, and the "rough characters" that hang around the Common "looking for a little upheaval."

Citizens Opposed

Mr. MacDonnell also stated that the Common is a small area and that he had received calls from several residents who are against use of the Common for this event.

Responding to a question from Rev. Waters, Mr. MacDonnell said that other public meetings had been held on the Common, for example the carol sings, however, those are "... a little different type of meeting."

Chief Derro, commenting on past problems with the Common, said that if the Common was to be used all night, he would request a stipulation that a member of the clergy be present at all times as this might prevent problems.

Selectman Sullivan recommended that the Ecumenical Association ask for Manchester Field instead of the Common. Selectman Chairman Paul Amico told Rev. Waters that lighting could be provided if the meeting were held on Manchester Field.

Chairman Amico further stated that because of the previous problems on the Common, the Board was afraid of anything that might cause it to become a shambles.

It was further suggested to Rev. Waters that he ask the Ecumenical Association its feelings on using the Common during the daylight hours and a church during the night. This was suggested by Selectman Ralph Swanson, who said he objected to having people on the Common all night.

In further business, the Selectmen held a hearing on issuance of a hackney operator's license for Paul Falzano. The Board told Mr. Falzano it was unable to grant the license until pending court action against him for operating a cab without a hackney license was resolved.

Town Meeting Members

The Board also discussed ways in which Town Meeting Members could become better informed about events in Town government so that they might be a more active and informed legislative body.

The Board also approved a letter to be sent to Mrs. Charles H. Miller, president of the Winchester League of Women Voters, offering congratulations on the League's 50th anniversary of service to the community.

Dr. Peter Neurath Studies Effects Of Radiation Doses

Possible long-term effects of radiation on man's heredity may be revealed by studies being performed in Boston for the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) with the aid of a computer.

Comparatively little is known about the cumulative effects of very small amounts of radiation on the body's chromosomes despite extensive use of radioactive material by industry, science and the military. Chromosomes are microscopic, threadlike, bodies in cells. They control an individual's heredity.

Dr. Peter W. Neurath of 10 Cabot Street, director of physics of the Department of Therapeutic Radiology at New England Medical Center Hospitals and assistant professor at Tufts Medical School, is using an IBM System/360 Model 30 to analyze chromosomes. His work is funded mainly by the AEC.

Chromosome Analysis

"You can detect a person's cumulative exposure to radiation by chromosome analysis," Dr. Neurath explains. "Radiation shows up as a few abnormal chromosomes, maybe one in 100 cells, maybe three in 100 cells, depending on the amount of exposure."

Everyone who works with radioactive material must wear a badge which contains material that changes measurably when exposed to radiation. But radiation does not always show itself on a badge, especially when it is directed at a particular segment of the body," he adds.

Low levels of radiation, however, will always show up in the chromosomes. That's why scientists are finding chromosome analysis an excellent way of monitoring persons who are periodically exposed to radiation.

"If we can develop an inexpensive method of detecting abnormal chromosomes, we may be able to monitor exposed populations while determining with greater accuracy how much radiation a person can safely absorb without genetic harm," Dr. Neurath says.

The advanced form of biomedical pattern recognition employed by Dr. Neurath uses photomicrographs and an optical scanning device linked to a computer to measure a chromosome, usually isolated from white blood cells.

Scans Contour

The scanner measures the contour of the chromosome including its length, mass and the ratio of its short arms to total length.

Obituaries

Guy A. Little

Guy A. Little of Woburn, a native of Winchester, died suddenly on Wednesday, October 1. He was 65.

Born in Winchester, he was the son of Arthur T. and Mary (Griffin) Little. He moved to Woburn over 60 years ago.

A graduate of the Woburn school system, Mr. Little at one time held the position of alderman of the Woburn City Council.

After many years of employment as foreman with the Monsanto Chemical Company, he had retired. He was a member of the North Congregational Church and the Mount Horeb Lodge, A.F. and A.M.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Viola E. (Dobbins) Little of Woburn; a son, Paul A. Little of Woburn; two daughters, Mrs. Donald E. (Marilyn) Norman of Fort Lauderdale, Florida, and Mrs. Thomas C. (Jean) Quinn of Woburn; three brothers, Robert H. Little of Wilmington, William S. Little of Arlington and Major Albert M. Little, U.S. Army of Raleigh, North Carolina; and a sister, Mrs. Daniel (Helen) Doherty of Woburn.

Funeral services were held at the Arthur P. Graham Funeral Home, Woburn on Saturday, October 4, with the Rev. Thomas Barker officiating. Burial was in Woodbrook Cemetery.

Ernest E. Leavitt

Ernest Eastman Leavitt of 37 Sargent Road, a mechanical engineer with a long history of professional credits and experience in this field and others, died on Sunday, October 5, at the Lawrence Memorial Hospital after a long illness. He was 69.

Born in Brighton, October 3, 1900, he was the son of Burton E. and Jessie M. (Davis) Leavitt, native to Richford, Vermont, and Glen Sutton, Vermont, respectively.

A graduate of Dorchester High School in 1917, he received his bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering, summa cum laude, from Tufts College in 1925. From 1927 to 1939 he was enrolled in the Harvard Graduate School of Engineering as a special student.

His military career began with service in the Massachusetts National Guard from 1918 to 1921. He saw active duty, 1941 to 1946, as a member of the staff at the Headquarters Army Ground Forces under General McNair and in the Pacific area under General MacArthur.

Mr. Leavitt progressed from the rank of second lieutenant to lieutenant colonel as a reserve officer in the U.S. Army from 1927 to 1960 and was presently a retired lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Army Reserves. Flags in Winchester were lowered to half-staff in his honor.

Beginning his career as a professional engineer as a draftsman and later chief draftsman for F. S. Payne Company, Cambridge, in 1917, he interrupted his work in 1921 to obtain his bachelor's degree, next gaining experience as a designer at Stone and Webster Engineering Corporation, Boston, from 1925 to 1927.

His service to Stone and Webster was broken for two years for work in engineering and chemical engineering with the Rockefeller Foundation in Peking, China. He returned to Stone and Webster for three years in 1929.

Mr. Leavitt became a member of the Tufts University faculty as an instructor in 1932, later becoming a professor and retiring from Tufts in 1964. Courses which he taught primarily were machine design, thermodynamics, power plants, air conditioning and refrigeration and industrial management.

Residing on the Tufts campus, Somerville area, from 1948 to 1957, he moved to 37 Sargent Road in 1957.

From 1932 on he was employed at various consulting and design work; rocket and balloon research for the U.S. Air Force; a one-time partner in the Phoenix Ventilating Company; a manufacturer of Margolis Cephalostat, as well as other occupations. He was presently a consulting engineer for Keyes Scientific Company, Cambridge, which he joined seven years ago.

His published works include "Elementary Internal Combustion Engines and Gas Turbines" with K. A. Astill in 1952 and a report to the U.S. Air Force Cambridge Research Center on "Inertia Forces in Large Rotating Structures."

Mr. Leavitt was a member of the Church of the Epiphany. Other affiliations included Tau Beta Pi; Sigma Xi; the American Society of Mechanical Engineers; the American Society of Electrical Engineers; the American Association of University Professors; the National Society of Professional Engineers; the Retired Officers' Association; and the Simon Robinson Lodge, A.F. and A.M. of Lexington. He was also issued a Professional Engineers License No. 1877 for the State of Massachusetts.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. June (Wright) Leavitt of Winchester; a son, Ernest E. Leavitt, Jr. of Tucson, Arizona; a daughter, Mrs. Edward (Judith) Dreano Jr. of Medford; a brother, Burton N. Leavitt of Quincy; a sister, Mrs. Helen Spellman of Southern Rhodesia; and five grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the Church of the Epiphany on Wednesday, October 8, at 2 p.m. Burial was in Woodbrook Cemetery.

The Norris Funeral Home, 1 Elmwood Avenue, was in charge of arrangements. In lieu of flowers memorial contributions may be made to the Church of the Epiphany Memorial Fund.

Mrs. Marietta V. Lincoln

Mrs. Marietta V. Lincoln of Fremont, California, a former resident of Winchester, died in California on Saturday, October 4, after a long illness. She was 67.

Born in Enfield, she was the widow of Robert Edward Lincoln. Mrs. Lincoln had been active in the real estate business in Winchester for 17 years.

She was a former member of the Winton Club and the Medford Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star.

She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Martha L. Butts and Mrs. Cynthia L. McElhinney, both of Fremont, California; and seven grandchildren.

Graveside services will be held on Friday, October 10 at 10 a.m. at the Quabbin Cemetery, Ware. The Norris Funeral Home, 1 Elmwood Avenue is in charge of arrangements.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Winchester Hospital.

William F. Shaw

William Frank Shaw of 12 Elm Street, died on Sunday, October 5 at the Lawrence Quigley Memorial Hospital after a long illness. He was 82.

Born in Woburn, July 18, 1887, he was the husband of the late Mrs. Nora A. (O'Loughlin) Shaw. At the time of his marriage he moved to Winchester where he spent the remainder of his life.

Mr. Shaw was a U.S. Navy veteran of World War I. Prior to his retirement, he was employed as a letter carrier for the Winchester Post Office for many years.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, October 7 with the Rev. Aaron of the Congregational Church, Medford, officiating. Burial was in the family plot at Oak Grove Cemetery.

The Allen Funeral Home, Inc. of Medford was in charge of arrangements.

James J. Doyle

James J. Doyle of 21 Grove Street, an insurance claims adjuster, died on Saturday, October 4, in the Winchester Hospital after a brief illness. He was 79.

Born in Charlestown, he was a resident of Winchester for 18 years. He was the owner of the James J. Doyle Insurance Adjustment Agency in Boston.

His memberships included the Medford Elks and the St. Mary's Holy Name Society.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mary V. (O'Connell) Doyle; two sons, Dr. John J. Doyle of Rye Beach, New Hampshire, and James J. Doyle Jr. of Lake Forest, Illinois; a daughter, Mrs. Helen Flynn of Winchester; a brother, George Doyle of Waterville, Maine; a sister, Mrs. John Sullivan of Sagamore Beach; nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

A requiem high Mass was held on Tuesday, October 7 at 10 a.m. in St. Mary's Church. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

Rotary News

Guest speaker of the Rotary Club this past week was Charles W. Craven Jr., of the New England Rehabilitation Center in Woburn.

Mr. Craven said the Center is the only Rehabilitation Center of its kind in Massachusetts. They have a rigid screening of patients before admission. The reason for this is that they are geared to rehabilitate people back to productivity as soon as possible. This means that these individuals must have a high morale, since it is proven that they can be processed at a faster rate.

The facilities in Woburn are such that it does not look like a hospital, but rather like a modern hotel where they try to get the patients to do as much for themselves as possible. Upon completion of the Center it is expected that up to 200 patients from all over the world will be handled at this facility.

After a short question and answer period President Hovanesian adjourned the meeting.

To Address Lincoln Parents

Dr. Norman Goldstein, chief psychologist at the Mystic Valley Children's Clinic, will be the guest speaker at the opening meeting of the Lincoln School Parents Association to be held on Wednesday evening, October 15th at 7:45 p.m. Coffee and introduction of this year's teaching staff by Miss Martha Cunningham, Lincoln principal, will precede the talk by Dr. Goldstein, who is a consultant to the Winchester schools on the elementary and secondary level.

All those interested in hearing Dr. Goldstein are invited to attend.

CONGRESSMAN TORBERT H. MACDONALD of this District will be a guest speaker at the annual Columbus Day Banquet to be held by the Men's and Women's Lodges, Order Sons of Italy in America, of Winchester, on October 13th. Currently serving his eighth consecutive term in the U.S. House of Representatives, the Congressman is chairman of the Subcommittee on Communications and Power.

CONCERN Holds Special Meeting

On September 30 at 7:45 p.m. a special meeting of CONCERN was held in the McCall Library.

This meeting was held to inform the new members and the interested people who have signed up to hold livingroom dialogues in their homes, of the purpose of CONCERN.

Dr. Donald McLean suggested that Dave Kline and Andy Marcon hold a mock livingroom dialogue to give the members and interested people a chance to see how these discussions are conducted.

Mr. Kline pointed out that the introduction should be kept brief because, at a trial run, the panel members found that the real discussion was held while they had coffee in the private home.

The question was raised as to what degree drugs are a problem in Winchester. The outcome was that we do have a problem. The general feeling was that to educate the parents would be a beginning to prevent drugs from spreading into more and more homes.

CONCERN meets every third Tuesday of each month. The public is invited to attend these meetings. There is much work to be done. CONCERN needs interested people to make an impact on the adults in our town.

Fire Safety Is Topic For Babysitters

Fire safety will be the topic at the first session of the Baby Sitters' School, sponsored by the Winchester Jaycees-ettes, begins tonight at the Winchester Public Library at 7:15 p.m. Captain Peter Galuffo will be the speaker.

Captain Galuffo, a graduate of Winchester High School, studied at Northeastern University. He has completed a term as president of the Massachusetts Institute of Fire Department Instructors and served on the Institute's Board of Directors.

Captain Galuffo is on the Executive Committee of the New England Fire Department Instructors' Association and is senior instructor at the Central Massachusetts Fire Training Academy at Framingham.

The students will be instructed in fire precautions, what to do in an emergency, and how and when to call the Fire Department. The students should be prepared to take notes.

Students who have not pre-registered may do so tonight at the door and everyone is urged to arrive early.

Damage, Injury Results After Pole Collision

On Sunday evening, October 5 an accident occurred in which a station wagon containing a driver and four passengers struck an Edison pole at the intersection of Pond Street and Brantwood Road, snapping the pole in half.

Douglas Rolli of 189 Washington Street told police that he was travelling north on Pond Street when another automobile approached him, moving on the wrong side of the solid yellow line. He said he swerved to avoid this vehicle and hit the pole. He estimated that he was moving at about 25 to 30 miles per hour.

With him in the car were two 16 and two 17-year-old boys. All were taken to Winchester Hospital for treatment of various injuries.

The vehicle was totally demolished when the pole crashed onto the hood. The automobile was towed from the scene.

Boy, 12, Receives Fractured Skull In Bike Accident

A 12-year-old boy received a fractured skull on Friday, October 3 when he was hit by a bicycle which was ridden into a crowd of children.

Officer John Frongillo responded to the call at 3 p.m. to find David Tubbs of 25 Westland Avenue lying on the ground. When his mother arrived, both were transported to Winchester Hospital where x-rays were taken. A fractured skull was revealed. He was later transferred to Children's Hospital in Boston.

The police were informed that the accident occurred when two 11-year-old boys, riding double on a monkey bicycle, travelled into a crowd of children. The Tubbs boy was hit and knocked to the ground.

Window Displays Held For Fire Prevention Week

In observance of Fire Prevention Week there will be a window display at Purdy Supreme on Mt. Vernon Street.

This display will consist of pictures of major fires which have occurred in Winchester. There will also be a display of Fire Department equipment.

Captain David N. Dalton was in charge of the display, assisted by the members of the Department as well as Miss Alta Merritt who did the designing and art work.

Stoneham Hospital Is Dedicated

Sunday, October 5, the New England Memorial Hospital of Stoneham celebrated its 70th anniversary of community service, and dedicated its new facilities with an open house program.

The program began with a band concert and the helicopter-lifting of two candy-stripers to the hospital grounds to dramatize the effectiveness of the new heliport (to be located on top of the new seven-story building).

Mrs. Deininger was honored for her 50 years of continuous service to the hospital. She began as a nursing student, then nursing instructor, and, for many years, head of the department of occupational therapy. Tours, refreshments and souvenirs were provided until 5:30 p.m.

Unitarian Women Schedule Meeting

The Women's Alliance of the Winchester Unitarian Society will hold its opening meeting at the Unitarian Church on Tuesday, October 14 at 9:15 a.m. The meeting is planned so that mothers of elementary school children can be home by lunchtime. Free baby-sitting will be provided for preschoolers.

The speaker will be Mrs. Joanne Bluestone, acting director of the Health Education Department of the Children's Medical Center. One of the important publications of Mrs. Bluestone's department is a best seller entitled "What To Do When There's Nothing To Do," which has already been translated for publication in 11 foreign countries.

The book is a lively anthology of simple play ideas which can be created from ordinary household items without elaborate shopping or preparation. In her introduction, Dr. Evelyn C. Pitcher, chairman of the Elliot-Pearson Department of Child Study, Tufts University, says, "The authors give parents help in how to arrange the environment so that a child can test his physical capacity and develop awareness of himself...The book is a good text on child development as well as a manual of helpful suggestions to parents on how they can enrich their child's play and their own daily home life."

Prior to the meeting there will be a coffee hour. Mrs. Donald Redpath is chairman, and the pourers will be Mrs. George Reed, wife of a former minister of the Winchester Unitarian Church, and Mrs. Jack Zorheid, wife of the present minister.

Queensmen Announce Plans To Disband

Recently at the third membership meeting of the Queensmen Drum and Bugle Corps, it was announced by the Reverend Herbert K. A. Driscoll, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church, and director of the Queensmen Drum and Bugle Corps, that due to the lack of new members it would be impossible to continue this youth activity and the Corps would have to go inactive for a time.

The Queensmen were organized in 1948 and, for the past 21 years, have appeared in many local parades and have always looked forward to appearing in the annual Memorial Day Parade in Winchester, as well as the Woburn Lions Halloween Parade and Armistice Day Parade.

Fr. Driscoll thanked all the boys and girls who have been in the Corps over the years and the members who have worked so hard during the past three weeks trying to recruit new members. He would also, at this time, like to thank the many local organizations, merchants, and people of Winchester and Woburn who have supported the Queensmen over the years.

It is hoped that sometime in the very near future interest will pick up and the Queensmen will be able to reorganize.

The girls who have been members of the Drum Corps Color Guard have been invited to transfer to the Queens Cadettes all-girl drill team.

A 31-state survey by a University of Denver Law College group found that drivers over age 65 were involved in only 4.8 per cent of all accidents even though they represented 7.4 per cent of all drivers, observes the Automobile Legal Association.

Disaster Action For Conference

Disaster Action Teams from Rhode Island and Massachusetts attended an all-day conference in Framingham Saturday, October 4. Attending from Winchester were Chairman Richard F. Norris and Captain Peter L. Galuffo.

Workshops were held on disaster action teams, communications, mass care and public relations. There was also a chairman's meeting with discussion of their many problems and some answers. Displays and exhibits, including mostly motor equipment, were part of the program.

Mr. Norris stated that due to this meeting, the Winchester chapter is considering joining the West Zone Disaster Group, composed of towns and cities in the area joined for mutual aid in cases of large disasters.

Kidney Foundat'n Sponsors Sale Of Halloween Candy

Mrs. Albert Maggiori of 154 Ridge Street, co-chairman of the Kidney Foundation candy sales in Winchester has reported that the candy sales are doing well.

Since this is the first time that the sale is being held in Winchester, the Kidney Foundation would like to have the merchants display the plastic puppets and the boxes, which contain 12 puppets in each, in their stores.

Anyone desiring to purchase even one package, please contact Mrs. Albert Maggiori or Mrs. Frank Mangano at 729-2645 or 729-5553.

Historical Group To Meet On Cape Cod

The Winchester Historical Society announces the fall meeting of the Bay State Historical League on Cape Cod, October 18th.

The Eastham Historical Society will be the host society sponsoring this meeting. Registration begins at 10 a.m. in the Visitors' Center of the Cape Cod National Seashore (about three miles from the Eastham-Orleans rotary on Route 6).

The meeting starts at 2 p.m. in the Visitor Center Auditorium with a welcome by Eastham president, Kenelm Collins and Leslie P. Arberger of the Seashore Park. Following the business meeting Park Ranger Historian, Linwood R. Snow, will speak.

All Winchester Historical members are invited to attend.

Vietnam Dialogue At Church Sunday

In observance of Laity Sunday, October 12, at the 11 a.m. service at the Second Congregational Church, Major E. R. Hunton and the Rev. Larry Keeter will enter into a dialogue sermon on the topic, "The Christian and Vietnam."

Major Hunton, who has served in Vietnam, is presently an ROTC instructor at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and resides in Winchester.

Rev. Keeter and Major Hunton will consider the moral issues arising out of the Vietnam conflict. Special attention will be focused on the meaning and significance of October 15, the Vietnam Peace Day, which includes the reading in Winchester of the American war dead in Vietnam.

The laity are in charge of the entire worship service.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. David Allen (Nora) of Bourne, formerly of Winchester, announce the birth of a first son, second child, David Morton Jr., on Tuesday, September 16. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. Allen of Winchester and Mr. and Mrs. James W. Dall of Green Harbor, formerly of Winchester.

Captain and Mrs. Arthur L. Collins of Fort Story, Virginia, announce the birth of their first child a daughter, Kathleen Elizabeth, born Saturday, October 4, in Virginia. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Collins of 106 Wendell Street, and Mrs. Geraldine Cox of Cambridge.

St. Mary's Mothers' Club Plans Meeting

St. Mary's Mothers Club will meet Wednesday, October 15 at 8 p.m. in the school hall.

The meeting will feature a "Wig Party" by Wig Designers of Boston. A wiglet will be given away.

Mrs. Allen Rogers is chairlady for this meeting. Members and friends are invited.

Editorials:

Now Or Never

One week from tonight Winchester will go back to Town Meeting once again on the question of its new high school. The question on the warrant is a simple one: will the Town agree to authorize an additional sum of $8,100,000 to construct the new high school according to the original plans on the Shore Road site?

The Town appropriated $10,070,000 in February, 1968 to pay for the new school in accordance with the estimates provided by Crimp, Brown, and Fisher, Inc., architects for the project. Since that time the school has not grown any additional wings or fancy extras; the simple fact is that construction costs have risen astronomically—currently the rate of increase is approximately one per cent per month.

Since the July bids, which were approximately $8 million over the architect's estimate, the Secondary School Building Sub-committee and its parent group, the Permanent Building Committee, have considered possible ways to trim the plans for the school. The most that could be cut, the committee discovered, was approximately $1 million and the resulting school would have a smaller academic wing; a physical education building on one floor without a field house; no pool; and a small gym which would only satisfy the state physical education requirements. The anticipated reduction of $1 million would fast disappear as the building would have to be redesigned, a process which would take several months, at a cost to the town of about $100,000 per month in increased construction costs. Consequently, to delay for redesign would, in the end, cost almost the whole savings and would result in a lesser school for the same amount.

To refuse to proceed with construction at this time would, we believe, be fiscal irresponsibility. To date, $727,654 has been spent on preliminary preparation for the Shore Road site. The river has been contained; filling and preliminary grading of the playing fields has been completed; and the tunnel under the railroad connecting the playing fields with the building site has been completed. In addition, some $293,625 is committed to complete the site development. Whether the school is built on the site or not, the Town will have to pay for the work done thus far.

To redesign the project at this date would result in a lesser school for more money. In the February, 1967 Town Meeting the Town talked about a school to cost somewhere in the vicinity of seven or eight million dollars. Almost three years have elapsed since that time. We have been back to Town Meeting, received the appropriation; been to Town Meeting on a motion to rescind the vote for the appropriation; gone out to bid, finally; and now we stand three years later with the same school, but carrying a price tag of $13 million. What will it cost if we delay any longer?

This subject of a new high school certainly is not a new one for Winchester. Since 1945 committees have been working to find a plan and a site which would suit the Town. Time and time again the Town has turned down plans. Turning down plans, however, does not make the need for the school disappear. Classes at the high school have been growing every year; double sessions are on the horizon; staggered sessions already exist. This year the high school enrollment figure reached that predicted for 1970. Double sessions will soon be a reality, not a possibility.

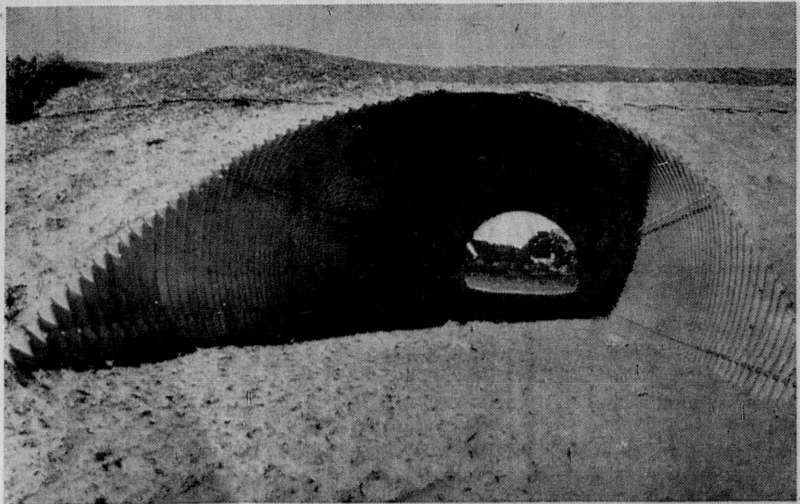

Naturally it is a shock to be asked to vote an additional $3 million for a high school that many considered to be too expensive with its original $10 million price tag. But it is important to get over this shock enough to see the future possibilities and not take steps now which will cost additional millions in the years to come. Too often in the past Winchester's activities have been summed up "penny wise and pound foolish."

A good education, particularly a good secondary school education, is not a luxury for anyone these days; it is a necessity. The students who leave our schools in the 1970's must be prepared for fierce competition whether they choose to further their education or to enter business immediately. Education is not what it was 20 or 30 years ago. There are more students with much more to learn. It is up to us to provide for them the kind of education that will prepare them to live in the closing decades of the 20th century.

It is time right now to get this school off the ground. Remember, every delay will cost you, the taxpayer, more in the end. Let's aim for bids to go out in November and for construction to begin in early 1970. We've waited too long already!

We've already buried the river and prepared the playing fields. (Ryerson photo)

We've spent a million on tunnel and site; shall we waste it? (Ryerson photo)

"At the first meeting of the Winchester Equal Suffrage Club in June of the year 1920, since the Federal Suffrage Amendment had been passed, it was voted to dissolve the Club and after the adoption of a new constitution to become the Winchester League of Women Voters." (From the Secretary's minutes.)

Right from the start, members of the League of Women Voters of Winchester were concerned with governmental problems of their day.

That first year, the Winchester League considered such diverse topics as the League of Nations; extending the school age to 16; state censorship of motion pictures; and building an underpass at the Winchester Station.

Today the League program covers 15 different governmental issues ranging from United States relations to China to public employment in Massachusetts to a study of a housing authority for Winchester.

Initially, in Winchester, issues were considered by having speakers of opposing points of view come to present their cases.

Later, a system of study groups was instituted, and ladies began the thorough research which still characterizes the League program.

In 1943, there was a major change in League policy. At a meeting in Winchester, the then president of the Massachusetts League of Women Voters spoke of "the new attitude of the League, that the members should participate in current affairs rather than remaining a society for self-improvement . . . the League must help others to be aware of problems."

Three Levels

Leagues study and act upon governmental issues in three levels of program: local, state, and national. The program is chosen by the membership at all three levels: local, by members of the local League; state, by Leagues within that state; and national, by Leagues throughout the country. Then, after a period of intensive research, study, and discussion, the membership decides whether there is substantial agreement, "consensus," on an issue. If so, a program of political action is formulated.

On national issues, the greatest attention in the Winchester League has been in the field of foreign affairs and, more recently, in equality of opportunity for education, employment, and housing. For at least 30 years, the local League has taken a strong position in favor of international cooperation, both economically and politically.

On statewide program items, the Winchester League has had particularly effective committees in the areas of social welfare (during the 50's) and civil service (during the 60's). In 1960, the Winchester League was one of the pioneers in citizen study of the possibilities for regional planning in Massachusetts.

Local League members have also worked vigorously in the successful efforts to curtail the powers of the Executive Council and in the present drive to reduce the size of the Massachusetts House of Representatives.

Locally, the League has had a continuing interest in recreation and in the Public Library. In 1944, for example, there was support for "a unified program of recreation at the Community Center, under a trained social leader," and for "an appropriation to be included in the Town Budget for this program." That same year, the League pushed for a trained children's librarian at the library.

Conservation

Since 1966, the League has favored preservation of open spaces in Winchester and has given strong support to the Conservation Commission, in its program of acquiring and preserving natural areas for the town.

The major interests of the Winchester League over the longest period of time have been in the structure of town government and in the public schools. Since 1950, one or both of these items has been on the League's current local agenda for study and action.

Many studies of various parts of town government have led them to the support of "measures to encourage short and long-range planning, and cooperation among, town boards and committees." Their position in favor of "measures to establish the Town Manager form of government" was arrived at after several years of study, and aims towards increased coordination and efficiency within the local government.

Perhaps the greatest political efforts of the local League in recent years have been on behalf of the school building program. On each new school proposal since Parkhurst (Andrews Hill) in 1948, they have researched and documented their cases, then acted as a citizens lobby to help secure passage of those building proposals which they believed were necessary.

Whereas on program issues, the League may work hard for passage or defeat of certain legislation, the Voters Service activities are always strictly objective.

In no case does the League ever endorse a candidate or political party.

Absentee Balloting

Such is the reputation of the League for strict nonpartisanship that the Winchester Hospital invited the League to handle absentee balloting for its patients so there would be no question of political pressure.

There have been skeptics, as witness the reaction several years ago of the then chairman of the Republican Town Committee, who said: "Humph, look who they are, they're all Democrats," and the then chairman of the Democratic Town Committee, who said, "Humph, look where they live, they're all Republicans." The League feels that this is proof that they are effectively nonpartisan.

As part of its Voters Service, in 1962, the League re-instituted the highly successful Candidates' Night which is now an annual town event prior to each local election, when all candidates for contested townwide office have an opportunity to present their qualifications and programs.

Questionnaires have been sent out annually since 1940 to all candidates for office. The replies have been published either by the League or by the Winchester Star, and given wide circulation.

League members are encouraged to join and work for the party or candidate during the time that they serve on the League Board.

Because League membership promotes active interest in government, it is no surprise that there are several League members now serving as Town Meeting Members and on Town Boards.

"Inside Winchester—A Citizens Handbook of Town Government, Services and Education" is a major publication of the League, revised and up-dated during the past year. It is the definitive work on the town and is widely used by citizens, students of local government, and local realtors.

Town Meeting Guide

This year the League published for the first time, "A Guide for Town Meeting Members," a 12-page booklet given to each Town Meeting Member as an aid in understanding the various requirements, procedures, and terminology of the representative town meeting.

Annually, the League publishes and the Winchester Star prints as a public service, a free directory of Town Meeting Members.

Now, in its 50th Anniversary year, the League purpose is stated, in language similar to that adopted in 1920, as: "The League of Women Voters, a nonpartisan organization, is dedicated to the principles of self-government established in the Constitution of the United States. The League works to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government."

With voting membership open to any woman citizen of voting age who subscribes to its purpose and policy, the League deals with a great variety of governmental issues ranging from human resources to water resources, from fiscal policy to educational policy.

It has been described by Dr. George Gallup as the "greatest civic heritage of all times." (Elizabeth Herberich)

BOOK REVIEW

by Enid G. Houlding
Winchester Public Library

ON POETRY: COLLECTED TALKS AND ESSAYS

by Robert Graves

This is a collection of essays and lectures written in impeccable prose and illuminated by the author's wit. He discusses not only the origin of the poetic profession from Anglo-Saxon times, but also its economics.

"When I was twelve or thirteen years old my father asked me: 'What are you going to be, my boy?' I answered: 'A poet.' His inevitable reaction was 'Splendid, but what will you do for your bread and butter?' Fresh from my history class on the French Revolution, I found myself answering improvisably: 'I shall eat cake.' 'Oatcake?' asked my father in a kindly voice . . . In most professions the size of a man's income is a fairly reliable criterion of worth . . . Among poets, however, the income test works in reverse: make a comfortable living by writing poems and you risk being treated with derision. The argument runs: 'Poetry does not pay, consequently what you sell is not poetry.' And I agree there seem to be few exceptions to this rule."

The first six lectures were given at Cambridge University in 1954 and cover the centuries between Chaucer and "the last of the modern idols: Dylan Thomas." Mr. Graves exposes the clay feet of some of those poets whose copious outflowings have been handed out to numberless classes of students. His quotations illustrate what he considers both the bad and the good in poetry.

For example:

"What makes 'The night before Larry was stretched,' a late 18th century Dublin street-ballad, a good poem is that the writer, whoever he may have been (and one Harefoot Bill is generally credited with it) also remains uncompromisingly himself, with all the faults and virtues of his villany, and he too feels a sincere grief:

"The night before Larry was stretched,
The boys they all paid him a visit;
A bit in their sacks too they fetched,
They sweated their duds till they riz it;
For Larry was always the lad,
When a friend was condemned to the squeezer,
Would fence all the togs that he had Just to help the poor boy to a sneezer,
And moisten his gob 'fore he died . . ."

There is no room to quote the next three verses of this poem, which is on page 109 of Mr. Graves' book, not the many other verses which points his text.

Sandwiched between his lectures to various colleges in America and the United Kingdom are four essays published in magazines. Among these is one on nursery rhymes, called "Mother Goose's lost goings," which throws quite a lot of rather scandalous light on some of the origins of this verse-form!

To those who are reluctant to try a book written about poetry, let it be said that this is no bland, prosy writing but a lively, amusing, debunking, sometimes even a little gossipy, book.

Peace Day Intent Good

Editor of the Star:

I am in sympathy with the basic intent of the statement to appear in the Star regarding the ending of the war in Viet Nam and signed by Winchester citizens, namely to lay against President Nixon the pressure of strong conviction being expressed by more and more Americans that the conflict must be terminated at the earliest possible moment. But I cannot pin my conviction on the matter to a formula for withdrawal as exact as this statement calls for—the evacuation of all troops by six months. Therefore, I felt that I could not add my signature.

Unhappily, the process of extraction from this tragic and morally indefensible conflict is more complex than the setting of an arbitrary date implies.

However, the intricacies of a process of withdrawal cannot be allowed to blunt the necessity for all who feel it strongly to express to the President their belief that the war has long since passed the point of justification, and that for all the risks involved, the overriding principle must be given top priority—to end as quickly as possible the day by day killing of men, women and children on both sides.

The positive results of the activities of Wednesday, October 15th remain to be seen. If to any degree they serve to rouse the conscience of a community and bring individuals to confessing their deep concern about the ending of the war, they will have served a useful purpose, and I shall be grateful to have had a small part in them.

Sincerely,
Rev. Oliver Powell

Bike Safety

Editor of the Star:

Last Friday a serious accident involving children on bicycles occurred in front of my home. Three days before, on Tuesday, I assisted at a safety exercise conducted by Safety Officer Roland Roy who set up and instructed two Girl Scout troops in safe riding and proper use of a bicycle. Most of the girls had never before been informed of the proper way to ride a bicycle on the town streets. Observation tells me that this is true of most of the children who ride the town streets. Why can't Winchester run a town-wide safety program for these children? They should be told of the laws, checked for safe habits, and infractions should be dealt with in such a way that children realize the dangers and responsibilities of riding their bicycles on the public streets.

Thank you,

Collective Bargaining

Editor of the Star:

We have an agreement between the Town and the Fire Fighters. This is a victory. It is not a victory for the Town. It is not a victory for the Fire Fighters. It is a victory for the collective bargaining process.

Someone who has not been actively involved in steering the Town's course in collective bargaining has observed in this column that "certain Town officials have not gracefully accepted the right of Fire Fighters to unionize." It is possible to place this interpretation on the events of the past six to eight months in the Town's relations with the Fire Fighters. However, as one who has been involved, I know that Town officials have not been motivated by anti-union feelings. Let's examine these same events and show how they can lead to a different interpretation.

The Town recognized Fire Fighters Local No. 1564 several years ago. The Town had successfully bargained two one-year contracts with the Fire Fighters prior to the opening, in November, 1968, of negotiations for a 1969-70 contract. These negotiations moved steadily along a path that defined wage parity between police and fire as the central issue. The Town felt that wage parity was becoming increasingly inappropriate in view of the changes that were taking place in the area of law enforcement. Consequently, the negotiations came to an impasse on this issue and, in effect, we could not settle the other issues until the parity question was settled.

Arrival at an impasse on a policy issue like wage parity does not brand the Town as anti-union any more than it brands the Fire Fighters as unreasonable. We knew there were good arguments on both sides. We realized that we were exploring new ground and were likely to set a precedent that would have an effect on settlements in other towns. It was appropriate that, as provided in the collective bargaining statutes, we call in a Fact Finder to help us find a reasoned answer to the issue of wage parity. We got an answer on September 3, 1969. The Fact Finder said that "the facts tend to justify a departure from wage parity."

We returned to the bargaining table September 16 to deal with all five of the Fact Finder's recommendations. As these were not binding on either party to the dispute, they were all still negotiable. The Town bargaining team had to evaluate each of the Fact Finder's recommendations as they affected the Town's interest just as thoroughly as each issue had been evaluated with respect to the Town's interest during the prior bargaining. Because of the Town's insistence that the findings were negotiable and subject to revision by mutual agreement, this meeting ended abruptly with the issue of future reduction in hours a major unresolved item. Fortunately this was only a temporary road block to bargaining progress. We returned to the bargaining table on September 30 and adjusted our differences.

There was no bad faith here. It was simply a situation where both sides vigorously exercised their rights in collective bargaining in an attempt to get the best possible agreement. This is as it should be. Give and take is the name of the game.

Now that we have this agreement, there will be those who say the Town sold out as well as those who say the Fire Fighters didn't get what they were entitled to. I think we have a "fair" agreement and hope that the Town Meeting will express its confidence in the bargaining teams and in the bargaining process by ratifying the agreement with a substantial majority vote on October 16.

Since the Authority instituted this program, about 103,000 senior citizens have registered and received their identification cards, bearing their photographs. This number represents about 33 percent of the 300,000 senior citizens eligible to participate in the program.

Surveys of other cities offering reduced-fare programs for senior citizens indicated that only about 25 percent took advantage of the program.

When the registration location is changed to Government Center Station, the hours for registering will be from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. except Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

Silver worth more than half a million dollars has been reclaimed by the Veterans Administration this past year from films, negatives and photographic developing solutions.

Dr. Neurath

Using a 35mm photograph of a cell magnified 400 times, the scanner can measure the film density of 614,000 different points on each frame in a few seconds. The scanner transfers the most interesting of these points—which are like the dots in a newspaper photo—into the computer by measuring the dot's lightness or darkness.

A report on the analyzed findings is then printed by the computer for review by the researcher.

Measuring each chromosome manually formerly was a laborious task for a laboratory technician who often spent as many as 2,000 hours analyzing the chromosomes of 50 patients.

Using a computer, it now takes considerably less time to analyze the chromosomes. The computer also provides less deviation in measurement, allowing a geneticist to be more precise in his analysis.

"We are now able to recognize individual chromosomes and find their arm tips and centromere (a mid-point used to determine a chromosome's length) in about 95 percent of the cases studied," Dr. Neurath notes.

Chromosome analysis is widely used to diagnose certain forms of infertility and as a basic test for congenital abnormalities.

Clinicians concerned with these problems are therefore becoming increasingly interested in this new pattern recognition technique.

plies of their planning failures and that this recurrent problem is due to not only military, but all other areas of planning. Mr. Ewing cites Hitler's invasion of England in 1944 as the "classic example of a planning failure." Most of this research work was done in the Winchester Public Library.

The author also interviewed contemporary federal executives and company planners, several from large area firms. Among those treated are Robert MacNamara, former Secretary of Defense, and as an example of a "great modern planner," James Webb, former head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The book concludes with mention of successful planning ventures and their originators.

Mr. Ewing's previously published books are "The Practice of Planning," "Long Range Planning for Management," "The first book ever written on planning," and "The Managerial Mind." These study the more technical aspects of planning and are more properly categorized as "trade books."

"The Human Side of Planning," published by the Macmillan Company, was originally the second half of "The Practice of Planning," but was severed from this first published book at the publishing company, Harper's, request.

A graduate of Harvard Law School, Mr. Ewing is presently one of the editors of the Harvard Business Review, and receives teaching assignments in the Harvard School of Business. He is married and has four children.

Selectmen

The letter states:

"The Board of Selectmen extends its congratulations to the Winchester League of Women Voters on the Fiftieth Anniversary of both the local League and the national association.

"The League deserves special tribute for its work in Voters' Service. Your candidates' night, candidates' questionnaires, and your furnishing registration and voter information are valuable public services to the community.

"We wish to express our gratitude to the League for its publications including: 'Directory of Town Meeting Members,' 'A Guide For Town Meeting Members,' and 'Inside Winchester.' A Citizens' Handbook of Town Government, Services and Education."

"The Board commends the League's emphasis on active participation of citizens in government, and recognizes that this is an active non-partisan group of concerned citizens working for good government."

"The Selectmen are especially aware of the value of an alert and informed citizenry and appreciate the work of the League."

Mr. Chadwick

Commenting on the ride between Harvard Square and Ashmont, Rep. Chadwick said, "I personally hope we can have this service throughout Greater Boston as soon as possible."

He said the new cars are clean, well-lit and air-conditioned.

Fire Prevention Week Exhibit

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK, October 5 through 11, is the subject of a window exhibit in the Purity Supreme window on Mt. Vernon Street. On exhibit are pieces of firefighting equipment and photographs of Winchester fires. Many of the photographs were taken by William Ryerson for the Star. (Ryerson photo)

The two groups met Tuesday, September 16 to discuss the report. Representatives of the Fire Fighters Association walked out of that meeting when the Town Collective Bargaining Committee refused to implement the machinery for the 1970 reduction in hours in the contract for 1969.

According to Selectmen's Executive Secretary Edward Donnelly, a member of the Town Bargaining Committee, his group had refused because the hours are tied to the salary agreements for the years 1970 through 1972 and the committee felt that an agreement about the reduction in hours could not be made without a concurrent agreement concerning salary.

Mr. Donnelly also stated that his group wished time to study a new contract proposed by the fire fighters during fact finding.

On September 19, the fire fighters called a work slowdown, refusing to do any work outside that connected with fighting fires. All equipment was maintained in operational order.

Meeting again on Tuesday, September 30, the two groups reached an agreement with regard to the reduction in hours. Hours will be reduced to 46 in the 1970-71 contract with a five per cent increase in the maximum salary to $8,663. In the 1971-72 contract, hours will be reduced to 42 with a six per cent increase in salary to $9,200.

It is anticipated that a two-year contract will be signed in 1970.

According to Mr. Donnelly, the Town Bargaining Committee decided on the more rapid reduction in hours because it would be less expensive to add men to the department than to retain the same number and pay overtime during a gradual reduction of hours.

The fire fighters ratified the contract on Wednesday, October 1.

Rev. Rinehart

In 1964, Rev. Rinehart was ordained in the Church of Zion, United Church of Christ, New Bremen, Ohio, and has served parishes in Sauk Village, Illinois, and Palatine, Illinois.

Rev. Rinehart comes to Winchester from the Parshall Congregational Church in Parshall, North Dakota, which is located near Fort Berthold Reservation, the home of the three affiliated tribes. While serving as minister in Parshall, he was extremely active in youth work and the Jaycees and was the recipient of the Parshall Jaycees Distinguished Service Award for community service. Also, at the state level he obtained first runner-up for the Jaycees award.

Rev. Rinehart was instrumental in organizing the Parshall Airport Authority and in developing the pending runway pavement.

The Rineharts have three sons, Peter age 4, Paul age 2, and Mark four months. They will make their home in the church parsonage at 2 Dix Street in the near future.

Businesses Plagued By Enterings

Incidents of breaking and entering were reported to the Winchester Police during the past week.

On Thursday, October 2, Officers Morgan and Lindsey responded to the burglar alarm of a Main Street business, entering the establishment as the alarm was going off.

The police found a 24-year-old man lying face down on the ground outside of the building. One window had been broken at the rear of the building and access had been gained through a skylight in the attic.

Having fallen from the roof in his attempt at escape, the man received a laceration over the left eye. He was placed under arrest at the scene and later charged with breaking and entering at Police Headquarters.

Another breaking and entering was reported at a Cross Street business on Saturday, October 4. Officer Frank A. Stechi was shown where chicken wire screening covering the back windows had been torn. These windows have been broken before.

Four lawn mower tires had been taken, but there was nothing missing from the desk which had been opened.

PIONEER

Thirty years ago it was a disgrace to wear glasses. Persons who wore them were called "four eyes" or worse. Heroes always had 20-20 vision. Men squinted to see. Even the villains wore only monocles. Ladies used a lorgnette. Then, gradually, eyeglasses became "acceptable".

Look around you. How many persons are wearing glasses?

Look around again. How many are wearing hearing aids?

Then consider this: there are probably as many hearing aids needed for complete hearing as eyeglasses for complete sight.

Pioneers may visit Sears Hearing Aid Department for a free hearing test.

UNICEF Issues Appeal

Small magicians have their special chemistry for Halloween night. The elements they use are the pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters inserted by generous adults into the familiar orange and black cartons as the costumed small fry "Trick or Treat for UNICEF."

Where does the magic happen? The first transformation takes place within the hearts of these American children. Instead of a night of mischief and destruction, the children have a worthwhile purpose on Halloween. Their aim is no longer how many ash cans can be overturned; not how many windows can be soaped or broken; not how many goodies they can collect for themselves; instead, their aim is how many coins they can gather to help less fortunate children around the world.

The most incredible transformation takes place at the United Nations Children's Fund where the coins are turned into real tools to help the millions of needy children in the developing countries.

* 10¢ can provide 50 glasses of milk.

* 25¢ can buy a basic education kit for a primary school child.

* $1 is transformed into a stethoscope for a mother and child health center in Brazil.

* $5 is converted into a professional reference book for a health worker in Thailand.

On October 31, proclaimed National UNICEF Day by the President of the United States in 1967, Americans across the country have the opportunity to set this magic into action. These ghosts and goblins can become the magicians bringing health and hope to the sick and needy children around the world through UNICEF. Every coin you can spare will make Halloween a magic time for children everywhere.

Dr. Levinson Receives Board Appointments

Dr. Harry Levinson of 10 Oxford Street has recently been elected to two boards, one an academic, the other a business board.

President of the Levinson Institute, he was made a member of the board of directors of Horne's International, Inc., a nationwide operator and franchisor of interstate restaurant-candy, gift shops and motor lodges.

He has also been placed in the position of a member of the Boston University college of business administration board of visitors for the 1969-1972 term. He is a Thomas Henry Carroll Ford Foundation Distinguished Visiting Professor at Harvard Business School.

The board, presided over by John M. Fox, chairman of the board of United Fruit Company, is composed of top executives drawn from such fields as accounting, banking, insurance, manufacturing, retailing and publishing. The 29 members offer information and assistance to maintain effective communication between the academic and business communities.

Wayne Thorburn Recently Elected Y.A.F. Director

Wayne J. Thorburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Thorburn of 399 Washington Street, was elected to the National Board of Directors of Young Americans for Freedom at the organization's 1969 National Convention held in St. Louis, Missouri recently.

Mr. Thorburn is a graduate student at the University of Maryland and resides in Silver Spring, Maryland. He is a graduate of Somerville High School and Tufts University and received a master of arts degree from Pennsylvania State University.

Young Americans for Freedom is the national conservative youth organization with approximately 51,000 members and 473 college, high school and community chapters across the nation. It has been in the forefront of student opposition to the Students for a Democratic Society and other New Left groups on campus.

Mr. Thorburn formerly served as National YAF College Director of Chapter Services and is now also the Maryland YAF State Chairman. He is an American Political Science Association Fellow in State and Local Government while completing work on a doctorate in political science at the University of Maryland.

Two Winchester residents have been appointed to the Faculty Committee at Wentworth Institute, Boston for the 1969-1970 academic year. Edward G. Barker of 389 Washington Street was named to the school's physical facilities planning committee. Glenn W. Okerson of 200 Swanton Street will serve on the ushering, seating and decorations committee.

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read this Sunday in all Christian Science churches. The public is welcome to attend.
"And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jesus' feet; and he healed them." This passage from Matthew is included in the sermon. One of the correlated passages from the denominational text-book, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, is as follows: "Sickness, sin, and death, being inharmonious, do not originate in God nor belong to His government. His law, rightly understood, destroys them."

Checklist Issued For Maintaining Electrical Safety

Are you a good user, or an abuser, of the electrical service in your home, asks Fire Chief I. Francis Amico. Almost one out of every six dwelling fires is caused by misused or defective electrical wiring and equipment according to National Fire Protection Association studies.

Check your answers to these questions to see whether there are uncorrected electrical hazards in your home:

1. Is the right size fuse (15 amps for lighting circuits) in each socket in the fuse box? Do you use a new fuse—never substitutes—after each blow?
2. Do you use extension cords within safe limits of their capacities? Safe limit for the most commonly used extension cord is 500 watts. If you must use an extension cord to feed one or more appliances drawing more power than this, make sure you use a heavy duty type.
3. Are extensions and appliance cords replaced immediately whenever insulation shows signs of fraying or cracking? Do you see that cords are never run under rugs or hooked over nails?
4. Are appliances checked periodically to be sure they are in good operating condition and taken out of service for repair or replacement at the first sign of trouble?
5. Is your TV antenna installed where it cannot fall across power lines, and is it equipped with a properly grounded lightning arrestor?

If there are any "no" answers on your list, take corrective measures immediately.

Churchmen To Participate In Interfaith Panel

Dr. Donald E. McLean, Superintendent of Schools Donald A. Klemmer, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen Paul F. Amico, and President of the Winchester Ecumenical Association Rev. Everett L. Waters will compose a panel which will be a feature of a two part program of ecumenical activities for Protestant and Catholic laymen to be held on Sunday evening, October 19, from 7:30 to 8:30 at the Church of the Epiphany.

The program is sponsored by the Winchester Ecumenical Association.

The format of the program is designed to stimulate small group discussions among the participants. Following coffee and dessert, groups of about ten will consider interfaith discussion groups as a means to help Christians to better understanding of one another's viewpoints.

The second half of the program seeks to encourage greater community action by exploring problems of mutual concern. Questions will be referred for comments by the panel.

Fire Fighters Are Undergoing Basic Training

Recently appointed Fire Fighters Edward A. MacKenzie and Michael J. Connelly are assigned to the Fire Training Academy, Massachusetts Bureau of Vocational Education at Stow from October 6 to November 14.

They will take a six weeks Fire Fighters Basic Training Course designed for new recruits in a permanent fire department.

Pre-cut letters for sign making. Five sizes to select from. Just glue to signs. May be painted colors as desired. At the Winchester Star.

Tree Talk

Feeding trees in autumn is one of the best ways to maintain or restore health in trees weakened by summer heat, insect attack, and disease.

According to Dr. Edward L. Chandler, plant physiologist at Bartlett Research Laboratories, shade trees should be fed at least every two years.

"The property owner cannot rely upon lawn fertilizers to do the job," Dr. Chandler said. "Trees require different nutrients—and must receive them below ground, at root level."

He said trees indicate their need for food in many ways: Premature leaf fall can be a sign the tree's root system is weak; runt-size buds indicate a lack of vigorous sap flow; and little twig growth can mean the tree is at starvation level, that it has stopped growing.

"Fall feeding, helps build up leaf tissue for the spring and restores normal growth. It also helps the tree to carry on its minimal—but vital—food-manufacturing process through the winter."

Dr. Chandler advises a liberal feeding with a liquid invigorator. The liquid should be placed in small holes, three feet apart and up to 18 inches deep. These holes should circle the tree, beginning three to four feet from the trunk of a mature tree and extending well beyond the branch spread.

World War II pensions and death benefit payments probably will reach their peak about the year 2000. The total cost is expected to be $6.5 billion a year at that time.

Program Offered School Children At Woburn YMCA

The North Suburban Y.M.C.A. Saturday Morning Elementary School Program got underway on Saturday, September 26.

The program which starts at 9:00 a.m. and ends at 11:45 a.m. includes physical activities such as games, races, instruction in various sports and participation in the YMCA's National Athletic Achievement Program. Also a part of the program is archery, riflery and arts and crafts.

Anthony "Tiny" Giglio, assistant program director at the North Suburban Y.M.C.A., directs the program. Assisting this year are David Argo and Thomas Smoot, first year students at Boston University School of Theology.

Bus transportation is provided at a nominal cost. The bus route is as follows: Pick up Winchester Town Hall Parking Lot 8:45 a.m. return at 12:35 p.m.

The Saturday morning program is open to all elementary school boys who are members of the YMCA. In addition to the Saturday morning program, there is also a gym class for the same age group on Mondays from 3:30 to 5:00 p.m. Additional information can be obtained by calling the North Suburban YMCA, 935-3270.

Hazards; Negligence Cause Fires

Every hour 63 American homes are destroyed or damaged by fire.

Every hour and a quarter one person—most frequently a child or elderly person—dies in a dwelling fire.

These figures, from National Fire Protection Association research, are the measure of our failure to heed fire hazards and to take corrective action.

The causes of most home fires are no mystery. A carelessly discarded cigarette is left to smolder in an overstuffed chair, a portable oil heater is refilled while still lighted, electrical circuits are overloaded and overfused, uncleaned rubbish becomes a breeding place for fire.

There is nothing mysterious about the causes of most fire deaths in homes. They occur when the simple rules of safety from fire are violated—smoking in bed, leaving children alone in the house, allowing children to play with matches.

A critical failure is being unprepared for fire emergencies in the home—no family planning of escape routes, no periodic family fire drill to make sure that both adults and children can act quickly and without panic.

Fire Prevention Week is a time to recognize that fighting fire is everyone's job, now and throughout the year. It is time also to correct hazards, to exercise care, to be prepared.

Your actions and attitude now can make you and your family safe from the tragic consequences of fire in the months ahead.

Local Students Begin Studies At Boston State

A quartet of Winchester residents recently began their college careers at Boston State College, Dr. John J. O'Neill, president, announced recently.

Enrolled as freshmen at the Commonwealth's largest state college are Joseph A. Colella, son of Mr. and Mrs. Generosa Colella of 27 Shepard Court; James P. Farley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. Farley of 8 Squanto Road; Miss Marianne P. Roberto, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Roberto of 32 Ginn Road; and Miss Marcy C. Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Stewart of 40 Eaton Street.

All are graduates of Winchester High School last June.

Mr. Farley was an active member of the gymnastics team at Winchester High School.

October 15 Is Vietnam Peace Action day.

On October 15 we shall observe a moratorium on regular economic and other ordinary activities and spend the day working for peace in Vietnam. If a satisfactory Presidential response is not given the second VIETNAM PEACE ACTION will be conducted on the two days of

The most important task facing the United States of America is ending the war in Vietnam. This war continues to have a corrupting influence on every aspect of American life. The United States entered Vietnam by Presidential decision: the United States can withdraw from Vietnam by Presidential decision. We call for a firm commitment from President Nixon to withdraw ALL American troops within six months.

November 13 and 14. This pattern will continue until there is a commitment for complete American withdrawal.

WHAT KIND OF A DAY WILL IT BE FOR YOU?

IN WINCHESTER

Starting OCTOBER 8 and climaxing OCTOBER 15, PETITIONS will be circulated asking President Nixon to withdraw all American troops.

A 24-hour MEMORIAL READING of the names of 44,000 Vietnam War dead begins at 5 p.m., OCTOBER 14, on THE COMMON, and concludes at 6:30 p.m. on OCTOBER 15. Endorsed by The Winchester Ecumenical Association, the reading will be done by members of the clergy and others who wish to share this responsibility.

An ecumenical PEACE UNITY SERVICE, planned by members of the Ecumenical Youth Council and other students, begins at 7 p.m., OCTOBER 15, in the sanctuary of THE FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

Dr. Rigby Is Speaker At Rotary

The guest speaker for the Thursday, September 25, meeting of the Winchester Rotary Club was Dr. Robert Rigby of Reading, whose offices are located in Stoneham. His topic was Ethiopia, where he practiced for a number of years.

He stated that the generation gap there is not in terms, as it is in the United States, of parent to child, but in terms of hundreds of years. It is quite a backward country, in which 102 different languages are spoken. They are still experiencing educational problems and their society is still almost 100 per cent agriculturally oriented.

Just the telephone book alone can give you an idea of how backward the country is, in that it is approximately two inches thick for the whole country of 23,000,000 people. It was an enlightening talk for those of us who have so many conveniences and modern appliances at our disposal to be brought back to the reality that the rest of the world is not quite as fortunate as we are.

The Rotary Club made a gallant attempt at a 100 percent membership meeting. Roscoe Wallace, who had been laid up with an illness for many months attended this meeting to help in his attempt to hit this figure. Actual attendance showed only eight

DISCUSSING THE ARRIVAL of a deposit collection of books in French, loaned by the French Library in Boston to the Winchester Public Library, are, left to right, Mrs. Ann Smith, Winchester reference librarian; Mlle. Marie-Christine de Germany, French Library in Boston librarian; Charles A. Fleischer, Winchester resident and trustee of the French Library in Boston; Mrs. Leila-Jane Roberts, Winchester head librarian; and Mrs. Robert G. Hill, Winchester resident and patron of the French Library in Boston. (Kelley photo)

Rotarians missing from the meeting and these Rotarians have a week to make up at another Rotary Club so it looks as though the efforts of Dan Gattineri, the chairman will bear fruit.

President Al Hovannesian adjourned the meeting, which began at 12:15, at 1:30.

Class Of 1949 Holds Reunion For 20th Year

The Winchester High School class of 1949 held its 20th Year Reunion on Saturday evening, September 27, at Dunfee's in Lexington. Over 70 classmates and nearly the same number of husbands and wives renewed long friendships over cocktails, followed by a dinner/dance.

At the head table were class officers Richard Carroll, C. Paul Rolli, Dorothea Kelley Holland and Fay Zamanakos Clough, accompanied by husband or wife. Ken Donaghey reunion committee chairman, Jim Quine, master of ceremonies, and the Rev. Father Richard Cleary were also at the head table with Mrs. Donaghey and Mrs. Quine.

Guests of Honor were Mr. and Mrs. Daniel P. Morse of Sanborn Place, who were invited to represent the High School Faculty of 1949. Mrs. Morse, the former Miss Livingston, was the High School librarian and has always been a special friend to many in the class of 1949. Mr. Morse, also a good friend of the class, is the father of Ruth Morse McConnell, a 1949 classmate who was unable to attend.

Paul Amico, present Chairman of our Board of Selectmen and member of the class of 1950, was present to extend greetings and best wishes for the Town of Winchester.

Having worked on organization and search for classmates since last February, the Reunion Committee was delighted by the turnout and reports that members of the Class of 1949 are now living in 23 different states and six foreign nations.

Classmates traveling furthest to attend the Reunion were Paul Dillingham from Rota, Spain, Sally Carlisle Kitko from Tampa, Florida, and David Coon from Nebraska. Classmates attending the reunion have made careers in a wide range of fields, including building and engineering trades, journalism, medicine and dentistry, education, cryoanalysis, home-making, law, theology and professional athletics.

That so many cheerful, productive people would and could gather from far and near to renew friendships speaks well for the town from which they all came.

Public Library Receives Loan Of French Books

The Winchester Public Library is experimenting with a deposit collection of books in French loaned on a quarterly basis by the French Library in Boston.

These books are available at the library and may be charged out for two weeks. A list of all the titles, available at the Circulation Desk in the Adult Library, indicates that modern novels chiefly comprise the first group of books. At the end of the list there is a blank provided for suggestions for further loans.

Winchester is the second community to try this service. The Wellesley library has found it very useful and popular. Charles M. Fleischer of 9A Cabot Street, retired librarian of the Haverhill Public Library and a trustee of the French Library in Boston made the preliminary suggestions.

Mrs. Robert G. Hill of Crescent Road, a native of France, has been most anxious to have modern French materials available at the library and has indicated that there are several French residents of Winchester, French students from various institutions in the area who would appreciate this type of reading, and other residents who are taking courses in French literature and need access to such materials locally.

Republican Club Women Presidents Hosted At Coffee

Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, president of the Winchester Women's Republican Club was a guest of the state's First Lady, Mrs. Francis W. Sargent, at a coffee on Tuesday morning, October 7 at the Dedham Polo and Country Club.

On that occasion, a "summit meeting" of Women's Republican Club president from the entire state, the responsibilities and potentials of political leadership was discussed.

Mrs. James W. Blackham Jr. of 33 Canterbury Road, who has been appointed recently by President Nixon to his task force on Women's Rights and Responsibilities, and who was re-elected Secretary of the National Federation of Republican Women at its biennial convention in Washington in September will bring interaction of state and national Federations into focus.

The meeting launched a week of workshops on all facets of political activity in which women are involved.

Recently returned from their annual two-week vacations are several Winchester policemen. Officers Jasper F. Asaro, Joseph M. Crowe Jr., Richard W. Fisher and Florindo Vozzella were released from duty from September 22 to October 5.

Aides Issued Certificates

The Massachusetts Red Cross Blood Program issued Blood Program Aide certificates to 19 participants in the Blood Program Aide Class held on Tuesday, September 16, at the Winchester Chapter House.

Mrs. Mary L. Connolly, R.N. was the instructor for the day and brought the latest techniques as well as the basic Blood Program training to those who attended. Whether as a refresher course or the first attendance at such a course, all received the necessary requirements to meet the Blood Program Aide standards.

The following Winchester residents were awarded Blood Program Aide certificates: Paula J. Wilfert, Yvonne Johnson, Marie Baratta, Barbara Minutoli, Myra B. Coon, Grace M. Mahoney, Anne M. Hanlon, Patricia Hall, Evelyn Piazza and Dorothy Field.

This program, vitally important to the Bloodmobile function, is one of many which are included in courses throughout the Massachusetts area conducted through the American National Red Cross by its local chapters.

Every service in the Red Cross program needs volunteers. The requirements are time and the desire to help the community through Red Cross. For information call the Winchester Chapter at 729-2300. Call today and find out what you can do as a Red Cross Volunteer.

Garden Club Plans Meeting

The new season of the Winchester Home and Garden Club begins for members on October 15.

The day will begin at 9:30 a.m. when Mrs. William W. Townner of 37 Wildwood Street will open her home for a bulb forcing workshop.

At 1 p.m. members will meet at the Crawford Methodist Church hall for the first garden club meeting. Following the refreshments the business meeting will begin at 1:30. After a short business meeting members will ride to Lexington Gardens where John Millikan will lecture on house plants. Members who do not wish to drive will be provided transportation and for those not sure of directions there will be maps available.

Mr. Millikan has operated the Lexington Gardens for 35 years. Starting from one order of 1,000 boxes of petunias, Mr. Millikan has built a highly successful garden supply center. Mrs. Ray Brown is the new president of the Club.

Nash-Croft

In a candlelight ceremony held recently in the First Congregational Church Miss Joanna Isabel Croft, daughter of George L. Croft of 10 Johnson Road and the late Mrs. Isabel Croft, and Wilbur David Nash Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur David Nash Sr. of South Hadley were married.

MRS. W. DAVID NASH JR.

Before an altar graced by a mixed bouquet of mums, carnations, and gladiolus, the Rev. Richard Diehl presided over the service. A garden reception was held at the home of the bride's father.

Escorted by her father, the bride appeared in a gown of white French crepe with a re-embroidered floral swiss lace inset, with lace on the long bishop sleeves and a soft cowl neck. Matching lace bordered her chapel-length train which was caught in the back with a crepe bow. A band of lace petals held her shoulder-length veil in place. Phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis and ivy cascaded to form the bridal bouquet.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Joan C. Croft of Peabody, sister-in-law of the bride. Line green sashette was fashioned into an empire-waisted, A-line gown with an inverted pleat in back and lace mandarin collar and sleeves. She wore a headpiece of fabric rosepetals and teardrop beads and carried a hand bouquet of tangerine and lemon daisies with velvet.

Bridesmaids were Miss Jeanne Aiken of Lexington; Miss Virginia Spaulding of Nashua, New Hampshire; and Miss Betty May Irwin of 21 Dunster Lane. Their gowns and headpieces were styled as that of the matron of honor and shaded in lemon yellow. Their hand bouquets featured daisies of yellow with ribbons of contrasting line green.

Peter G. Nash of South Hadley attended his brother as best man. Sharing the duties of ushers were Evan C. Croft of Peabody and George A. Croft of Winchester, both brothers of the bride; and Kevin Nolan of Attleboro.

The bride's schools include the Clarke School for the Deaf, Winchester High School and Chamberlayne Junior College.

Mr. Nash attended the Clarke School for the Deaf, South Hadley High School and Emory College, Boston.

Following a wedding trip through upper New York State, the couple are residing in Needham.

Miss DeLeo To Marry Mr. Gaito

Mr. and Mrs. George DeLeo of 12 Albamont Road announce the engagement of their daughter, Dolores Bernadette, to Joseph Thomas Gaito, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gaito of Ossining, New York.

MRS. DOLORES B. DELEO

Miss DeLeo is a graduate of Winchester High School and attended Chandler School for Women.

Her fiancé is a graduate of Ossining High School and is presently a senior at Husson College, Bangor, Maine.

A June wedding is planned.

Of Social Interest

Ferrera-Watkins

In an ecumenical service held in the Church of the Epiphany on Saturday, October 4, at noon, Miss Cynthia Anne Watkins of Peterborough and Chocoma, New Hampshire, formerly of Winchester, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Watkins of Peterborough, formerly of Winchester, became the bride of Kenneth Grant Ferrera, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Ferrera of 5 Longfellow Road.

MRS. KENNETH G. FERRERA

Presiding over the service were the Rev. Ralph Putney of the Church of the Epiphany and the Rev. Paul Fahey of St. Eulalia's Church. A reception followed at the Winchester Country Club.

The bride was escorted down the aisle by her father wearing a full-length white peau de soie gown with an applique of roses down the front and on the elbow length sleeves. A lace mantilla and a cascade bouquet of phalaenopsis, stephanotis and ivy completed her ensemble.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Nancy Ghirardini of Chelmsford, sister of the bride. She chose an empire-waisted, long-sleeved gown of crepe with a bodice of emerald green and a contrasting Nile green for the skirt. Her bouquet was composed of chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids, attired as the matron of honor, were Miss Tina Holbein of Fayetteville, New York; Miss Margaret Springstead of Oyster Bay, New York; and Miss Susan Rowe of Belmont.

Serving as best man was John A. Gallant Jr. of Arlington. Ushers in the wedding party were Alan Morich of Boston; Wayne Ghirardini of Chelmsford; and Donald Adzizian of Lexington.

Attending as flower girl was Miss Karin Watkins of Akron, Ohio, niece of the bride, and as ringbearer, Walter Ferrera of Winchester, nephew of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Watkins wore an aqua crepe dress and jacket ensemble. The mother of the bridegroom was present in a salmon silk worsted dress and coat combination.

A graduate of the Walnut Hill School, class of 1968, the bride attended the University of Pennsylvania and is presently at the University of Massachusetts in Boston.

The bridegroom's schools include Lexington High School, Cornell University and American International College from which he was graduated in 1969. He is employed as a wholesale grocer for James Ferrera and Sons, Canton.

Following a wedding trip to Chocoma, Mr. and Mrs. Ferrera will reside in Cambridge.

Miller-Stewart

At seven o'clock on the evening of Friday, October 3, Miss Cynthia Loving Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney M. Stewart Jr. of Winchester, became the bride of Christopher Gore Miller, son of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Wilburn B. Miller of Portland, Maine. The ceremony was held in the Meyer Chapel of the Winchester Unitarian Church, and was followed by a reception at the Charter House Hotel in Cambridge.

Presiding over the service was the Rev. Dr. Wilburn B. Miller of the First Parish Church in Portland. Dr. Miller is the father of the bridegroom.

Escorted by her father, the bride was gown in bouquet taffeta with a high scooped neck and elbow-length sleeves. The fitted bodice contrasted with the full floor-length skirt and detachable train. Her waist-length mantilla was accented by a Spanish comb. The bridal bouquet was composed of white roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Marcy Carol Stewart of Winchester, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and the bride's only attendant. She wore a gown of royal blue velvet with a matching satin inset panel, empire waist and long sleeves with lace cuffs. She carried a bouquet of light blue delphiniums, bachelor buttons and yellow pom poms, and wore a matching floral headpiece.

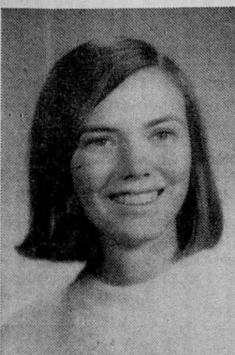

William Burnside Miller of Portland served as best man for his brother. Sharing the duties of ushers were Brent R. Jackson of Framingham and Kenneth E. Pauley of Watertown.

Mrs. Miller was graduated from the Massachusetts General Hospital School of Nursing. Mr. Miller is a Tufts graduate and is employed by the Massachusetts Audubon Society.

Following a wedding trip to Maine, the couple will reside in Monson.

Miss Kennedy, Mr. Eisenhardt Are Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. William J. L. Kennedy of 25 Lakeview Road announce the engagement of their daughter, Kathleen Marie, to Lieutenant (j.g.) Paul Eisenhardt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Conrad of Kenmore, New York, and the late Captain Willard Eisenhardt, USAF.

MISS KATHLEEN M. KENNEDY

Miss Kennedy attended Matignon High School in Cambridge. She received her bachelor of science degree in engineering, cum laude, from Brown University in June.

Lt. (j.g.) Eisenhardt, a graduate of the Nichols School of Buffalo, New York, was graduated from Brown University, where he was a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity. He received his master of business administration degree with distinction from the Harvard Business School. He was also named a Baker Scholar while at Harvard.

Lt. (j.g.) Eisenhardt is presently serving as an instructor at the U.S. Naval Post Graduate School in Monterey, California.

A December wedding is planned.

Chapin - Fitch

Miss Susan Anne Fitch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan A. Fitch of 186 Pond Street, became the bride of Samuel Dale Chapin Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Chapin of Longmeadow, in a two o'clock ceremony at the First Congregational Church on Saturday, October 4.

MRS. SAMUEL D. CHAPIN JR.

Dr. Oliver Powell officiated at the service which was followed by a reception at the Bear Hill Golf Club in Stoneham.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of ivory faille satin. Bands of beaded peau d'ange lace formed a mock bolero and mandarin collar on the empire bodice. Matching lace edged the hemline of the slim skimmer skirt and the full separate chapel-length train. Her full veil of imported silk illusion was held by an open circle of matching faille satin and beaded lace. Her cascade bouquet was composed of white roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Sandra J. Fitch of Winchester, attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a long gown of willow green crepe. A Peter Pan collar of Venice lace accented the tucked shirtwaist bodice. Matching lace formed a ruffled cuff on the long bishop sleeves. Shaded yellow and bronze chrysanthemums with a center cluster of yellow sweetheart roses and velvet ribbon streamers formed her bouquet.

Bridesmaids were Miss Dale D. Chapin of Longmeadow, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Heather D. Wilson of North Reading, cousin of the bride; Miss Martha C. Thomas of Longmeadow; and Miss Judith A. Mulhern of Auburn, Maine. Attired as the maid of honor in Pueblo gold crepe, they carried bouquets of the same shaded yellow and bronze chrysanthemums and velvet streamers.

The bridegroom's brother, Scott L. Chapin of Longmeadow was best man. Ushers were Sydney F. Birge Jr. and Harlan S. Atwood Jr., both of Longmeadow; Wayne E. Cotton of Meredith, New Hampshire; and Edwin E. Morse Jr. of Portland, Maine.

Mrs. Fitch wore a pale pink dress with matching jacket. The mother of the bridegroom chose a silk and worsted turquoise dress and jacket. Both had corsages of white cymbidium orchids.

The bride is a graduate of Westbrook Junior College, Portland, Maine. Mr. Chapin is a petty officer in the U.S. Coast Guard, stationed at Southwest Harbor, Maine.

Following a wedding trip to Florida, the couple will reside in Southwest Harbor.

On September 27 at the Plainfield Country Club in New Jersey, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bonnell Jr., of 88 Arlington Street were the guests of former residents, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Swanson in a mixed member-guest golf tournament. As a team they led the field, winning both low gross and low net to take the finals of the Tournament.

ENJOYING THEIR WEDDING TRIP at the Elbow Beach Surf Club in Paget, Bermuda, are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seales. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore P. Seales of Allen Road, and was married on September 20 to Barbara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Daley of Woburn. The couple will reside in Wilmington on their return from Bermuda.

Xavier Students Receive Letters Of Commendation

Rev. John R. Vigneau, S.J., headmaster of the Xavier School in Concord has announced that John P. Carr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Carr of 40 Pickering Street, and Paul J. DeMars, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. DeMars of 4 Foxcroft Road, both members of the class of 1970, have received Letters of Commendation honoring them for their performance in the 1969 National Merit Scholarship Program.

Four additional students had previously been named semi-finalists in the program. A total of 20 percent of the graduating class has achieved distinction in this national test which is administered to more than 95 percent of the nation's secondary school juniors. The commended students' names are reported to other scholarship-granting agencies and to the colleges they named as their first and second choices when they took the NMSQT in February 1969. The reports include home addresses, test scores, and anticipated college major and career intentions of the Commended students.

Various new techniques, approaches and media for teaching music to elementary school children were presented. In addition to the Orff-Kodaly Schulwerk method, demonstrated by Maureen Kenney, music specialist in the Town of Lincoln, electronic, creative compositional and bodily movement approaches were demonstrated.

Mrs. Thistlethwaite also coaches both Los Compañeros and Les Troubadours, Spanish and French singing groups from the high school, to prepare them for performances throughout the town. Tickets are available on a first-come, first-served basis at the Boodakian showrooms. All of the monies collected will be donated to the charity selected by the individual whose name is picked at random during the show.

Champagne, coffee and oriental pastry will be served at the conclusion of the evening.

BOWLING

Girls' League

Patty Cullen of the Mod Squad with a high three of 314 and a high single of 130 was top bowler of the week. Maureen DeCillis had a nice 93 single, followed closely by Karen Mac Isaacs with a 91.

Team standings after the first week of bowling:

	Won	Lost
The Mod Squad	8	0
The Avengers	8	0
F. Troop	8	0
The Invaders	0	8
Blue Angels	0	8
The Archies	0	8

SOI Women

After four weeks of bowling the team standings have hardly changed. The team that needs a cheerleader most is Aries. Perhaps someone like Lucille Qualter. She certainly has the energy. Imagine how quiet our league would be. Hurrah to Lucille and her string of 110.

Second Victory For Pop Warner 115-Pound Team

The Winchester Pop Warner 115-pound football team compiled its second victory Sunday in three starts by defeating Reading 24-14.

From the beginning it was evident that Winchester had come to play football. The Wee Sachems won the opening toss and proceeded to drive 40 yards in 12 plays to score a touchdown. Credit for the score must go to Rudy Fiore, Mike Heffernan, and Gary Beard, each of whom accounted for a third of the total yardage gained on the drive.

After scoring the extra point, Winchester kicked off to Reading. The Wee Sachem defense stopped Reading on three consecutive plays with tackles by Rudy Fiore, Jeff Christensen, and Karl Mayer.

On Reading's fourth-down punt, Mike Heffernan broke through the line to tackle the kicker in his end zone, scoring a two-point safety for Winchester.

Andy Miga returned the Reading kickoff to his 35. At this point Rudy Fiore took over and with fine blocks by Bruce Hanes and Frank Evans electrified the fans with runs of 10 and 30 yards, the latter giving Winchester its second touchdown. The extra point was missed, but Winchester led 18-0 with the first quarter coming to a close.

Reading Stalled

Reading's offense stalled as the Wee Sachem defense held again with key tackles by Mike Heffernan, Kevin Pierce and Karl Mayer. Rudy Fiore took the Reading fourth-down punt on his own 30-yard line, and behind sharp blocking by Dean Devlin, Dan West-farm, Andy DeMars and John Farnam, raced 60 yards for Winchester's third touchdown. Andy Miga drove into the line to score the point after touchdown, making the score 24-0.

After the kickoff Reading was unable to formulate an offensive drive and the ball was turned over to Winchester.

Two plays later a Miga to Fiore pass found its mark for a touchdown, but it was nullified by a Winchester penalty. However, on the next play Fiore ran for 30 yards and it looked as though the Sachems would score, but the Reading offense would not yield. An inspired Reading offense cashed in a 40-yard pass play and a 10-yard run for a score and a successful point-after-touchdown.

Reading's kickoff was returned by Miga to the Winchester 20, but on the next play the Wee Sachems fumbled and Reading took over on the Winchester 20. After two unsuccessful running plays a Reading pass was intercepted by Mike Phillips. Rudy Fiore and Dean Devlin each produced long runs as the first half came to an end with the score Winchester 24 and Reading 8.

The entire third quarter was played by the Winchester Wee Sachem second unit, led by Dave Brenton, Dana Cronan, and Ron Martignetti. Winchester spent most of the quarter on defense with key tackles by Mark O'Brien, Dick Ellis, Andy Samoiloff, and Steve Downing. However, Reading narrowed the scoring gap with a sustained drive from its own 12-yard line which culminated in a touchdown.

Following the score Reading tried an on-side kickoff in an attempt to regain possession of the ball. Its attempt was foiled by Christensen, who recovered the ball, and Winchester's lead was never again to be challenged.

The fourth quarter was played between the 30-yard lines, with neither team threatening the other's goal line.

The 115-pound Wee Sachem football team meets Tewksbury next Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at Winchester's Shore Road Field.

Pop Warners Down Reading

Winchester's Pop Warner 100's opened Sunday's double header at Reading with a 26-0 victory over the previously undefeated home team.

The B's defense yielded hardly any gains from scrimmage. Doug Marr, Don Allard, Lance Lauletta, Dave Donohue, Mike Collins, and Fred Grabeau stopped most of Reading's plays at or behind the line. Occasionally an unfortunate runner found a small hole where he was tackled by linemen Steve Johnis and Dickie Errico.

Winchester scored first on a magnificent effort by Jimmy Beaton. Jimmy broke over left tackle, swerved outside when he seemed trapped, and ran over and around white-shirted defenders for a 42-yard touchdown.

Chuckie Hayford scored from 35 yards out in the second period. He spurred through right tackle, cut to the inside and then scored as he outsped the secondary to the outside.

The third score was racked up by Kenny Errico, who is improving so fast that the first-unit backs are getting nervous. Kenny hit the B's bread and butter hole at left tackle, cut back to daylight and raced 28 yards to pay dirt.

For the final score, Hayford ran a crossing pattern from a double flanker. Peter Frongillo laid a bulge on him in full stride and—too late, Chuckie, racing against the grain, came over for a 38-yard strike.

Dickie Errico and Doug Marr ground out the tough guys up the middle and led the tailbacks with good blocking on wide plays. Les Bronwell and Chris Carzo chipped in with good gains. Clay Hough ran the second unit well, and threw a nice look-in pass to Phil Stackpole, who made a spectacular catch to set up the fourth touchdown.

This coming Sunday Tewksbury will come to Shore Road for a double-header, with the first game kicking off at 1 p.m.

New Season Opens For Badminton

The badminton season will open this evening at 7:30 p.m. in the Winchester High School gymnasium with an invitation from the Badminton Club to all who are interested to attend, regardless of experience or advancing years.

As in the past, play will be held on Tuesday and Thursdays, from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. in the gymnasium. Four courts are available.

First-time visitors will be guests of the Club. An unusual ladder system insures a balanced distribution of court time and a good mixture of players. Sneakers must be worn, otherwise dress is optional and informal.

Philip W. Boesch Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip W. Boesch of 14 Mayflower Road, has been included on the dean's list for the fall semester at Brown University. A graduate of Winchester High School, Mr. Boesch is a junior majoring in political science.

Youth Soccer Begins Games

After four weeks of practice, instruction and scrimmages, the Winchester soccer program began inter-league play last Saturday at Leonard Field.

A full slate of competition was played, four Pee Wee games, and six Bantam games.

The Pee Wee games, which are played on a smaller-than-regulation field, are scheduled so that each of the eight teams plays one game each Saturday.

The results of the first week's competition were:

West Side Warriors 6—Midtown Mustangs 0

Goals: Alan Stillman (3), Norm Albert (3)

Washington Whips 1—North Stars 0

Goals: Whips, John Waite

Central Cougars 6—Wedgemere Wildcats 1

Goals: Cougars, Pat Fortin (6); Wildcats, John Driscoll

Eastside Eagles 2—Southern Sachems 1

Goals: Eagles, Sal Mistretta (2); Sachems, John Driscoll

The Bantam's games, played on regulation fields, are scheduled so that each of the three teams play two short games per week.

The results of the first week of competition were:

Lions 1—Marauders 1

Goals: Lions, Pat Corf; Marauders, Glen DelGreco

Lancers 4—Lions 0

Marauders 0—Lancers 0

This Saturday's schedule of Pee Wee games matches the following teams:

Eagles vs. Whips

St. Mary's Downs Weymouth In Soccer 7-0

St. Mary's soccer team, rebounding from last week's defeat, overpowered the Weymouth Immaculate Conception team 7-0 at Leonard Field.

Taking command early in the game, St. Mary's scored in less than one minute on a goal by Tom Waite. Then center forward Al Sampson went on a scoring binge and added four more goals before halftime. Sampson scored on an assortment of shots including a header.

Sampson was amply assisted by his fellow forwards Chip Whitman, Peter Martini, Tom Waite, Glen Del Grecco and Will Paglia.

St. Mary's, freely substituting reserves during the second half, notched two additional goals, the sixth goal coming from Elliott Miller, and the seventh by irrepressible Al Sampson, his fifth of the game.

Although not pressed during this match, the St. Mary's defense played well, with exceptional showings from Steve Blasi and Joe Bowen.

This Sunday St. Mary's travels to Dorchester to play the powerful St. Hugh-St. John team, CYO champions last year.

Pee Wee Football Ends Third Week

The Pee Wee's first game held at Shore Road Field last Saturday saw the Giants blasting the Patriots 28-0.

The Giants remain unbeaten and unscathed as their explosive backfield continues on its way. Billy Maggio scored three touchdowns, Chip Sarni one. The extra points were scored by Chip Sarni and Bradley Marks.

The second game saw the Lions upsetting the Bears by the score of 20 to 0. Quarterback Doug Meahl and his teammates were up for this game which saw the Lions of defense ending their scoring famine.

Touchdowns were made by Allan Krussell on two long runs and Tom Desher.

John McCabe, who tackled one of the Bears in the end zone for a safety, played an excellent game on defense.

The final game saw the Jets beating the Packers 8 to 0. The Jets, led by Billy McLean, Robert Blasi and Mike O'Leary, scored their first touchdown of the season on a fine run by Robert Blasi.

Prior to this score the Jets were leading 2 to 0 on a safety which saw Dave Carrigan and Daryl West tackling the Packer back in the end zone.

Owen Cote, for the Jets, broke up the final scoring bid of the Packers by knocking down a pass on his 30 yard line.

Games played September 27: The first game played found the Packers squeaking past the Lions by the score of 6 to 2. The opening kickoff was returned 60 yards for a touchdown by "Big" Cavaretta. The game seemed back and forth on the field with the Lions being stopped four times within the Packers 10 yard line.

In the fourth quarter, the Lions defense, led by Dana Doe, Tony Mulone, Ritchie Minutoli, Tom Desher and Tom Hanes, blocked a kick by the Packers for a safety. Outstanding on defense for the Packers were Mark Dobbins, Jamie Markham, Jack Bergin, Jim Restighini and Bob Coppins.

The second game saw the Giants routing the Jets by the score of 24 to 0. The Giants defense stopped the Jets passing attack of Daryl West to Arthur Johns. Billy Maggio scored three touchdowns on quarterback keepers to the Jets weak side. The hard running of Bradley Marks, Paul Lorenzetti and Kenny Harrington set up the other touchdowns scored by Bradley Marks. Outstanding for the Jets on defense were Joey Casey and Owen Cote.

The third game of the morning found the Patriots winning a hard fought game from the Bears by a score of 14 to 12. It was all Patriots as quarterback John Dellagrotte led his team down the field for two quick touchdowns scored by Richard Allison and Tim Powers who also rushed for the extra two points.

The fourth quarter found the Bears sputtering offense suddenly coming to life which produced their first touchdown on a pass play from George Parker to Forrest Abbott. The second score was made on a right end run by Jim Rigney. Both tries for the extra points were stopped by the Patriots fine defensive team led by Tim Powers, Andy Macinanti, Steve and Paul Alfano.

Outstanding for the Bears on defense were Sam Bellino, Dave Jeannatta, George Parker and Jim Rigney.

Opening Game

The opening games held on Saturday morning, September 20th resulted in the Giants steamrolling the Bears by a score of 30 to 0. The Giants backfield led by Billy Maggio ran wild. Two touchdowns were scored by Kenney Harrington. Single touchdowns were made by Billy and Bobby Maggio. The rush for the extra two points were made by Dipak Khandu, Bradley Marks and Paul Lorenzetti.

The Lions belted the Jets by a score of 8 to 0. The touchdown was scored on a fine run by Allan Krussell. The extra two points were scored by Doug Meahl.

The last game found the Packers topping the Patriots by a score of 8 to 0. The fourth quarter found both teams scoreless. A fumble recovery by Jackie Bergin was the turning point of the game. Quarterback Bill Bergin raced into the end zone for the games only touchdown. The extra two points were scored by "Big" Cavaretta on a handoff from his brother "Little" Cavaretta.

For the second week in a row the coaches have voted Billy Maggio as player of the week. Billy has now scored 42 points in three games.

The standings after the third week of play are:

Harriers Drop Pair Of Meets

The Winchester High hill and dalers dropped meets to Reading and Lexington in last week's action.

The Reading meet saw Tim Fahey leading the pack for the third consecutive time but Reading placed more boys among those who finished close up and won by 20-39.

Lexington came here on Friday and the race started out like another Fahey victory but when leading the pack with about a mile to go, the Sachem stalwart stumbled and fell. Before he could get back into full stride six Lexington runners passed him and finished the race with locked hands to create a six-way first place tie. The final tally read Lexington 15, Winchester 50.

Fortunately Fahey escaped serious injury and he is expected to be back in his accustomed leading role during the coming meets.

Released Time Scheduled For Secondary Schools

Secondary school students (junior and senior high schools) will be released from school at noon on Tuesday, October 14.

Teacher workshops will take place during this time.

The teachers will view and discuss the film, "High School" as it pertains to the new high school plan. Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Donald A. Klemer will lead off the session devoted to looking ahead to the new high school plant and what changes should be made in the present school organization and procedures in order to adapt to the new building.

Small discussion groups will be formed with teachers exchanging ideas on the subject.

WHSR-FM Begins Regular Programs

Winchester High School Radio (WHSR-FM, 91.9) is back on the air with programming Wednesday and Thursday from 3 to 6:30 p.m. and on weekday mornings from 6:45 to 9 a.m.

A request line is open for listeners. The number to call is 729-4477. The station covers Town Meetings and carries news, sports, and pop and classical music.

McCall Defense Starting Lineup

Hockey Team Sets Meeting At St. Mary's

There will be a meeting of all candidates for St. Mary's CYO senior hockey team, Tuesday evening, October 14, at 7:30 p.m. at St. Mary's School Hall, Washington Street.

The team is for boys of high school age, who will not have reached their 19th birthday prior to January 1, 1970.

Tryouts will be held Saturday night, October 18th, from 10:15 p.m. to 11:15 p.m. at McHugh Forum, Boston College, and will continue for five Saturday evenings.

The team is to be coached by John Falla and James McNamara, and both coaches advise that no boy will be allowed to try out who does not register in person at the meeting on October 14th.

GORDON SEWALL is an offensive tackle on the 1969 Bowdoin College varsity football team. A junior, he is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Edgar F. Sewall of 4 York Road. He is a graduate of Lawrence Academy.

Sachem Soccer Downs Wakefield

The Sachem soccer team lost to Watertown on Monday, September 29, 1-0 on a penalty kick in the second period.

The defense was tested for the first time this year, with Goalie Mike Stevenson and fullbacks Steve LaPointe and Robert Salvucci playing good games.

The offense, however, was unable to score even though they outshot the Watertown team. Playing back-to-back games, the team showed a better offense against Wakefield in their first away game on Tuesday.

Peter Dow scored in 40 seconds of the first period. The team still held this lead at the half, but Wakefield came back to score in the third period to tie the game.

Halfback John Puffer scored on a long shot which was deflected into the goal by a Wakefield fullback. In the fourth period, the Wakefield team came back with a strong attack, taking 18 shots, but the Sachem defense held.

Late in the fourth period Peter Dow broke away from the fullbacks and scored a perfect goal to clinch the 3 to 1 victory.

Sachems Defeat Stoneham In Season's Second Victory

by John F. Parrell

Starting slowly but gaining rapid momentum in the second period, the Winchester High football eleven built up an 18-0 lead at half time and went on to down a scrappy but outplayed group of Spartans from Stoneham by 32-6.

It was homecoming day for the boys of Coach Bob Margarita but they were never really in the ball game after the teams changed ends at the close of the first period.

The Winchester offense, which had sputtered and stalled on several occasions at Concord, was running in high gear this week and both the ground and air games were quite impressive. This combination was too much for the Stoneham crew to cope with although their aerial attack was at times flashy and their one scoring drive in the third period was steady. It was simply a case of a well coordinated attack proving superior to a willing but outguessed defense.

The early action saw the piskin in the hands of Winchester for nearly all of the first 12 minutes except for six plays in which the home team had it. This constant pressure seemed to wear down the opposing defense and left them out of position when Co-Captain Mike Gilbert really turned on the passing attack.

Ben Dolan took the opening kickoff and carried the ball from the 18 to the 26. Mike Deshler and Courtney West each made three, but a punting situation found Gilbert's boot being taken at the Stoneham 39 by Fred Tonsing. He then was immediately downed by Joe Campo.

First Down

On three successive plays, John Angelosanto lugged the ball for a first down at the 49 and an additional 15 yards on a penalty put the ball at the Sachem 36. Tonsing carried twice and was stopped for no gain by Dolan and an off-side set the home team back five more.

A long aerial bomb from Dave McDowell was intercepted by Mike Deshler at his own 12 and Stoneham never had the ball again until Winchester had racked up the first touchdown. The sustained drive carried through six successive first downs until Ben Dolan plunged over from the one foot line after two minutes and 26 seconds of the second period had elapsed.

Deshler and Dolan did the bulk of the carrying in this sustained offensive but a pass to Don Rotundi resulted in a first down on an interference call and another to Joe Campo provided one at the home team's 40. After scoring Dolan tried to annex the extra point from placement, but failed. He then booted a long kick off to the end zone and elected to run it out but he only reached the 11 yard stripe before he was hit down.

Tim Styles planted Tonsing for no gain but on the next play a face mask penalty gave Stoneham a first down at the 30. McDowell line after the air and a pass was completed to Kelly for a first down at the 42. Ron Fiorilli stopped John Angelosanto hard but the ensuing play brought a pass interference call for Stoneham's third successive first down.

Lighting Strikes

The next play found the ball eluding a Stoneham back's grasp and Chip Emery covered it for Winchester with five minutes to go. This checked the Stoneham advance and then the Sachems struck fast for two touchdowns before the end of the half. The first play found Mike Gilbert coolly passing to Joe Campo who readily turned on the speed to outdistance his sole pursuer and cover the nearly 50 yards to cross the goal line untouched. Another placement failed and the count was now 12-0.

Lenny DeSimone took the kickoff at the 13 and got to the 20 before meeting Rotundi. Dave McDowell found Peter Kelly for a first down at the 37 and moments later the latter dropped a well thrown ball as he started to run before he had full possession of the oval. At this point McDowell was throwing excellent passes and had good protection. He hurled for another first down, this time to Jim Farrell who made a spectacular completion, the first of several he made during the afternoon. Incidentally his father is a well known local gas station operator.

The next two passes on opposite sides of the gridiron found Noel Webb close to intercepting on both. The threat ended as a long McDowell pass dropped incomplete. Boris booted to Mike Deshler and after a long pass failed, Deshler raced to the Stoneham 43 by some excellent broken field work.

A long pass was gathered in by Bill Wolfe at the home team's four yard line. Then came a fumble near the goal line with Dave McDowell recovering for the Margarita forces.

After one play, Stoneham reciprocated by fumbling and Deshler had it for Winchester with 35 seconds left on the clock. Gilbert pitched a high one over the line and Bill Wolfe brought the half time tally to 18-0.

Fiery Quarterback

During the intermission, Stoneham alerted its strategy and used Lenny DeSimone to direct the second half attack. Whether due to an injury to the sharpshooting Dave McDowell, or to a change in plans, the move added considerable fire to the home team's offensive. Boris took the second half kickoff and galloped from the five to the 25 before being halted by Jim Ulwick.

McDowell was thrown hard by Pete Wardwell for an eight yard loss but then found his favorite target Jim Farrell at the 22. Then came a fumble but with it came a face mask penalty and Winchester had the ball at the Stoneham 41. Co-Captain Gilbert hit Bill Wolfe once more and the latter did some fancy stepping to the 24. Gilbert kept on the next play and went to the 12 with Wolfe throwing a fine block. Wolfe then grabbed a well thrown pass to run the tally to 24-0.

Mr. DeSimone took over the driver's seat at this point and with this peppery field general in charge Stoneham put on its best offensive thrust of the day. He kept the ball moving and by good play calling plus an occasional pass and dash on his own part, he led the Spartans to a well deserved score.

Alex Boris took the kickoff at the goal line and was out to the 16 before being hit by Pete Pirani. A pitchout netted a first down at the 28 and on two carries Peter Kelly had another at the 41. John Angelosanto carried on three plays for a first down at the Winchester 47 but Pete Wardwell almost broke up the march with a near miss on an interception.

Fred Tonsing lugged the ball to the 32 and the stakes were moved again. Then DeSimone carried to the 23 and made a first down on the next play at the 21. John Angelosanto made four and DeSimone ground out a first down at the nine on two carries.

Noel Webb stopped the next play cold and DeSimone was trapped and thrown at the 16 by Pete Wardwell. However, the scrappy quarterback threw a good pass to Jim Farrell and Stoneham was on the board 24-6. Angelosanto was stopped on the point try by the center of the Winchester line.

Stoneham Attempt

Stoneham tried an onside kick but the Sachems were alert and sophomore George Gennaris fell on it at the Sachem 45. Ben Dolan bulled through for a first down at the Stoneham 41 as the final period

Winchester Eleven Faces Cambridge Latin Saturday In Final Game Of Series

by John F. Parrell

Coach Manny Marshall will lead his charges to Russell Field, North Cambridge on Saturday to wind up their series which has been both interesting and attractive.

After this game and the traditional Turkey Day classic with Woburn the Sachems will play no more games outside the Middlesex League. Woburn and Watertown will be new members next year giving Winchester a full slate of nine league games.

Jack Noble of 32 Woodside Road is coach of the Cantabrigians and would like nothing better than to terminate the rivalry with a victory. His charges have split even in games to date losing to Matignon 14-7 and trouncing Newton South last week by 27-20.

The eleven boasts several veterans of last year's team which provided the titlists with stern opposition. George Assad will be remembered as the biggest player to face the Sachems and he now tips the beam at 274 pounds.

The attack is capably directed by Keith Barnett, who is an excellent passer, with Captain John Cavallaro as the power runner. The breakaway boy is Bob Johnson, a 140 pound will-of-the-wisp, who can really scamper once he gets loose.

These backs all were part of the offense which gave Winchester followers some anxious moments last year and one play that most will remember was the pass completed in the end zone with a Cambridge player and a Winchester defender with hands on the piskin and the touchdown was awarded to the visitors.

As this article is being written early in the week there is some doubt about the starters for the Sachems. Just how well the injuries to Co-Captain Dave Scott and Mark Keating, guards; John Riley, halfback; and reserve center John Tello, who were sidelined with injuries.

Most of these boys should be ready to play soon but the team must work hard to prepare for undefeated Cambridge Latin which bested usually strong Newton South by 27-20. Then comes Lexington which led Melrose and played the Red Raiders to a 6-6 half time score before trying to finally lose out 28-6.

Local coaches who scouted these teams brought back the reports that neither can be overlooked and that Coach Marshall's team must be ready to face sterner opposition with each passing week. The Stoneham game was encouraging but the development must continue if the eleven is to be successful in its Middlesex League title defense.

Improvement Shown

This game was a decided improvement over the spotty performance in the Concord opener. The Winchester team made far fewer mistakes and capitalized on the Stoneham errors. They played without Co-Captain Dave Scott, and Mark Keating, guards; Tom Riley, halfback; and reserve center John Tello, who were sidelined with injuries.

Local coaches who scouted these teams brought back the reports that neither can be overlooked and that Coach Marshall's team must be ready to face sterner opposition with each passing week. The summary:

Winchester—Ends: James, Stevens, DeLuca, Ulwick, Peterson, Rotundi, Campo, W. Wolfe, Dolan. Tackles: Gennaris, Pirani, Lombardi, Styles, Emery, Devaney. Guards: Gannon, Rhubart, Fiorilli, Wardwell.

Centers: Webb, Osgood, Callahan. Backs: Weller, Gilbert, Horn, West, McHugh, Deshler, Procopio, Sampson, R. Wolfe.

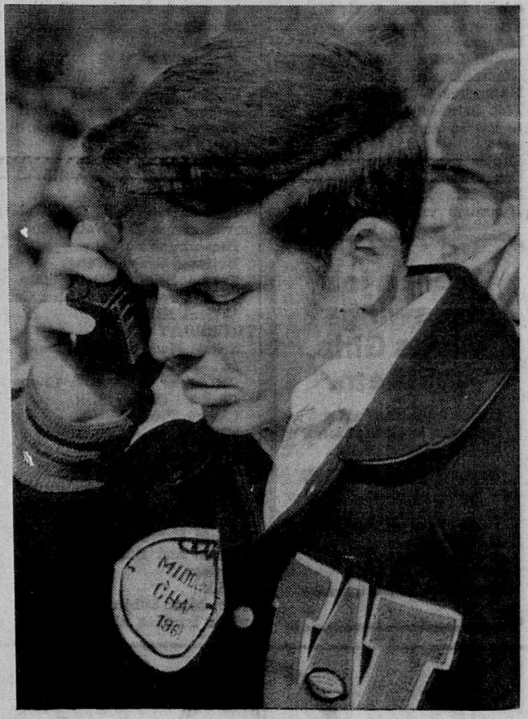

Stoneham—Ends: Farrell, Kilroy, Cody, Mayo. Tackles: Zuckular, R. Richmond, S. Richmond, Geary, Dearth. Guards: Guarino, Venneshi, Jones, Fitzpatrick, Sullivan.

Center: Sheridan. Backs: D. McDowell, Fiore, DeSimone, Daniels, J. Angelosanto, Boris, Tonsing, Stokes, Kelly.

Score by Periods
Winchester 0 18 6 8—32
Stoneham 0 0 6 0—6
Touchdowns: W. Wolfe (2), Dolan, Campo, Farrell. Points after: Campo (Pass).

THERE WAS A GOOD ENDING for this story as Bill Wolfe (88) broke away from his Stoneham opponent and raced down the field for a touchdown. (Kevin Haggerty photo)

Bloodmobile Recruits 178 Donors At St. Eulalia's Church October 1

A Red Cross Bloodmobile was here at St. Eulalia's Church hall last Wednesday, October 1, from 2 to 6:45 p.m.

There were 178 donors who registered. The group plan requires that 25 per cent of the parish families donate one pint of blood a year, thus insuring complete coverage for every member of the parish when the need arises. The response to this first Bloodmobile was very encouraging, and the ultimate goal is much closer as a result.

Some of the donors credited their blood to an individual or to a group other than St. Eulalia's. The following is a list of the donors who registered:

WHS Parents Plan Program On Careers

The name, "School-Career EX-PLO II," is given to an evening at the Winchester Senior High School during which teenagers can explore career and college possibilities.

On Wednesday, October 22 at 7:30 p.m., the Winchester High School administration and Parent Faculty Association Board will welcome parents and students from Winchester, Burlington, Reading, Stoneham, Wakefield, Wilmington, and Woburn, as was done last year.

Special guests are 52 representatives from four-year and junior colleges, business, professional and technical schools.

Career exhibits will include the following fields: aviation (aeronautics, pilot, stewardess, air traffic control); oceanography; four branches Armed Services; nursing; Peace Corps; apprenticeship (carpentry, plumbing, electricity, etc.); VISTA; social work (public welfare, hospital); business careers of various types; education (teaching, counseling, administration); and engineering.

Eugene A. Prior, director of the Guidance Department, Winchester High, was governed in his selection of these college and career choices by suggestions from the student body.

County Farmers Increase Income

For Middlesex County's farm population, 1968 proved to be a better year, by and large, than it was for farmers and ranchers in many parts of the country.

Although some local operators barely held their own in the year, others, especially those with well-equipped, commercial size set-ups, ended up on the plus side.

They were able to increase their livestock production and produce a greater volume of crops than before, despite the smaller amount of land under cultivation.

Much of this gain was offset, however, by the usual cost-price squeeze.

Details on the year's operations, for the local area and for the other sections of the country, are contained in the annual survey report released by the Standard Rate and Data Service.

It shows that Middlesex County farmers accounted for gross revenues of $28,301,000 in the past year.

The figure represents gross receipts—before taxes and before deductions for operating costs.

It includes the cash proceeds from marketings, Government payments and "income in kind" which is the value of products grown and consumed on the farm.

An estimated 54 percent of the income from the sale of farm goods came from crops and 46 percent from the marketing of livestock, poultry and dairy products.

While the average American farmer has been able to boost his output and get a slightly better price for his products, he has not succeeded in turning this gain, to any great degree, into added net income.

His operating costs—for labor, fuel, fertilizer, seed and other needs—have moved ahead just as rapidly.

As a result, he has failed to share properly in the progress made by other segments of the population. Only because there are fewer farmers than before to share in the income have per capita earnings gone up.

For the farm population of Middlesex County, the gross income of $28,301,000 was at the rate of $9,129 per farm resident. This compares with $5,103 per capita in the United States and with $6,739 in the New England States.

Despite the difficulties connected with farming and ranching, it continues to be the nation's largest single business with gross income in the past year of $50.7 billion. (Park Row News Service)

Noel Webb Combines Football And Music

by John F. Parrell

NOEL WEBB

The caption over the cartoon read "Life's Darkest Moment." The picture showed a teen age boy and his music teacher struggling over a violin lesson while his friends were playing football outside. The thought cloud over the boy's head revealed a blazing fire into which he was casting the violin. Such was the natural reaction in thousands of cases, but not in that of Noel Webb, who is currently holding down the center berth on the Sachem football eleven.

Through the years he has always managed to find room for both his athletics and his music and in each he has had outstanding success. He has not limited his sports program to football but has been active in both lacrosse and wrestling and has turned in outstanding performances.

Noel is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Theodore A. Webb of 107 Mount Vernon Street. His father is director of the district offices of the Unitarian Universalist Church in Boston and his mother is a well-known teacher of music.

In his early days in school, Noel began piano lessons and he still enjoys playing that instrument. At about the fifth grade level he started to study the violin and he has made rapid strides which have carried him to the top in this field of music.

He is currently the first violinist for the Greater Boston Youth Symphony Orchestra and he has held that position for the past four years. This 110 piece group traveled to Europe in August for the international music festival held in Switzerland. There were 12 orchestras from all over the world competing and the Boston group received many commendations and high honors.

Drawback

The only drawback to the trip in Noel's eyes was that he was unable to attend the pre-season football work of the Winchester team which was held at Camp Wyanoke in Wolfeboro, New Hampshire operated by Bradford Bentley, of Sheffield Road. However, he broached the subject to Coach Manny Marshall and the latter told him that the opportunity was too great to be ignored and urged him to go. With the coach's advice in mind, the musical footballer decided to get into the best possible shape before leaving and to try to keep his legs in shape by running while in Europe.

Lacrosse

With football and wrestling out of the way he puts on his lacrosse uniform. In this game, which is perhaps the most rugged of all schoolboy sports, he plays at defense, and is co-captain of the team. With his brother who is now a student at Hobart he was one of the local lacrosse pioneers.

Besides his regular college prep program at Winchester High and his sports, he must find time for his music practice and studies. Saturday is a busy day with early rising in order to arrive at Boston University for a 9 a.m. class which lasts until noon. Then comes a rush home to be dressed and ready for the 1:30 kickoff.

There are very few idle moments in his young life and by nightfall he should be pretty tired. But unlike the youngster in the cartoon, there is little thought of disposing of the violin.

He hopes to go to college at an institution which either has a major music program or is handy to some city where the type of training which he desires is available. However, he'll never drop his athletic interests. He is strictly a two-way player with music and athletics sharing his full interest.

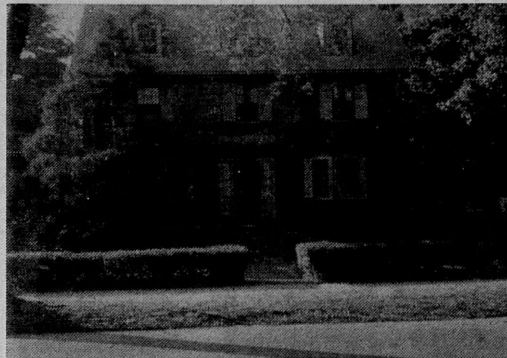

Keep an eye on him in the coming games and watch 52 in the thick of the action bringing down opposing carriers or breaking up pass plays. It's hard to visualize the violin. But go to a Youth Symphony concert and watch the first violinist. It's just as hard to picture him as a wrestler, football player or lacrosse stickman. However, they are one and the same Noel Webb and he'll give you a top flight performance whether in the concert hall or on the athletic field.

We carry the Bausch and Lomb reading glasses, magna bars and pocket magnifiers. At the Winchester Star.

Blood Donor

Age Limit Is Increased
Americans in good health can be blood donors until they reach age 66 instead of age 60 or 61 as in the past.
A joint announcement of this liberalization of medical standards for blood was made on June 26 by the American National Red Cross and by the American Association of Blood Banks in Chicago, Illinois.
The two organizations together collect and process 90 percent of the more than 6,500,000 pints of blood used annually for surgery and therapy in U.S. hospitals.
Dr. Tibor J. Greenwalt, medical director of the American National Red Cross Blood Program, emphasized that any healthy person can give a pint of blood without worry. He said, "We have many donors who have given 11, 12, and even 13 gallons of blood without incident. Most of these are eager and able to continue giving. The change will permit them to do so except in jurisdictions where it is contrary to local regulations."
Dr. Frank Coleman of Tampa, Florida, and president of the American Association of Blood Banks said, "This extension of the eligible age limit for blood donors is in recognition of two facts; first, that the need for blood is constantly increasing at a rate of about 12 percent annually; second, thanks to better medical care, better nutrition and other factors, Americans are living longer and also keeping their health and vigor longer than in the past."

Donors

Donors 66 years of age or over, under the new ARC and AAB policies, may continue to give blood if they obtain the written consent of their personal physician on the day of donation.
Donors must be in good health, have normal temperature, pulse and blood pressure, and meet the other requirements for blood donors. Individuals should check with their local Red Cross blood center or community or hospital blood bank relative to their eligibility to give blood.
State laws generally require blood donors to be 21 years old or to have parental consent to give between 18 and 21. A number of states, including California, Kansas, Washington, New York, Indiana, Oklahoma, Minnesota and Oregon, recently enacted legislation permitting those 18 to 21 to give without parental consent

SOI News

The October meeting was held Monday evening October 6 with Venerable Joe Paonessa starting the meeting at 8:45 p.m.

Bill Fiore, chairman of the Columbus Day Committee, gave a report of this Monday, October 13 event. Flag raising ceremonies will be held between 8:30 and 8:45 a.m., retiring to the Club Hall for a 9 a.m. Mass for all deceased members of the Men's and Women's Lodges.

The Mass will be given by the Grand Lodge Chaplain, Rt. Rev. Albert A. Jacobbe. This will be the first time that a Grand Lodge Chaplain has given Mass in a S.O.I. Hall. After Mass a breakfast will be served by the committee in the downstairs quarters.

The banquet in the evening will start with a cocktail and social hour at 6 p.m., followed by the catered meal at 7. The main speaker for the evening will be newly elected Grand Venerable Aldo Cairo. Friday night will be the last chance to purchase banquet tickets. Tickets may be obtained from stewards Bill Fiore, Venerable Joe Paonessa or Frank Dattilo.

Chairman Bob Fiore of the Program and Entertaining Committee has announced a Pot of Gold Dance which will be held on Friday evening, October 24. This dance is for members and their friends. There will be no charge for admission. Each person is asked to bring their own food for their group or table. There will be a surprise Pot of Gold Gift to the member who is present and has his name chosen.

Congratulations to Art Dunbar, who has been appointed by Grand Venerable Aldo Cairo as chairman of the S.O.I. Public Relations Commission for the State of Massachusetts.

The members were sorry to hear of the death of brother Gabriel J. Vespucci who died September 26 in Italy while on a world-wide business and pleasure trip with his wife Helen and his secretary, Venerable Joe Paonessa and a large group of officers and members went to his wake in Southbridge, to pay the respects for the Lodge.

A NEW MEMBER of the Northeastern University Alumni Association is Dr. Robert C. Crisafi of 33 Myopia Hill Road, a 1952 pharmacy graduate of Northeastern. Mr. Crisafi is also president and treasurer of Lyne Laboratories, Inc. of Winchester.

United Fund Is Underway This Week

The special gifts and professional and local business campaigns of the 1969-1970 United Fund went into high gear this week.

Deane Estabrook of 2 Lincolnshire Way, a controller with Adamation, Inc. in Newton, is chairman of special gifts. Mr. Estabrook is asking all persons who are willing to donate at this time to contact him personally at 729-2719.

Local business chairman Ronald Gauld, an assistant cashier at the Winchester National Bank, has his campaign under way. Anyone interested in helping is asked to call Mr. Gauld at 729-3200.

This year the professional division will be headed by Michael J. Hurley of 11 Lloyd Street, who is vice president of Robert Half Personnel Agency in Boston. He may be contacted at 729-8532.

The United Fund Torch-O-Meter will soon make its first upward move to reach the goal of $37,000. October 6th is set for the first bank night, at which time the money collected by the various committees will be counted and the total will appear in the Torch-O-Meter in the center of town.

Unitarian Players To Present "Kind Lady"

The Unitarian Players are working in Metcalf Hall of the church on the Fall production of "Kind Lady." Enthusiasm is the keynote as the 13 actors and actresses are guided by Jay Sibley, a long-time friend and director of the Unitarian Players.

"Kind Lady," by Edward Chodorov, was adapted from a story by Hugh Walpole. This psychological drama takes place in the living room of Mary Herries' house in Montague Square, London.

Mary, a kind lady, whose innocent trust leads her irrevocably into mysterious situations, is very well played by Elizabeth Hoxie. Betty Vallee, who has given many performances on little theatre stages, plays her faithful maid, Rose.

Bob Magnusen will play the role of the shrewd and heartless Henry Abbott. Al Smith and Eloise Kadesch, as Mr. and Mrs. Edwards, will support Henry in his relentless scheming.

The Edwards' furtive-fingered daughter, Aggie, is portrayed by Nicky Labedze. Another accomplice in crime is Ada, played by Nancy Van Slyke.

Also appearing are Dan Blanchard as Mr. Foster, Pam Sibley as Phyllis, John Keller as Peter, Nancy Dorsey as Lucy, Gene Polard as the doctor, and Cecil Prest as Gustav.

November 14 and 15 are the performance dates for "Kind Lady" in Metcalf Hall, Unitarian Church. Call Jay Wooley evenings at 729-2753 for tickets.

School Committee Favors Additional High School Funds

In its executive session meeting of Tuesday, October 14 the Winchester School Committee prepared a statement of support for the appropriation of additional funds for the new high school to be requested at the Special Town Meeting tonight. Chairman Harriet Dieterich will read this statement at the meeting.

The announcement is brief, encouraging no further delay in action and citing overcrowding and the threat of a slip in educational standards if the matter is not resolved.

Part of the regular open meeting was devoted to a discussion of the distribution of class size at the senior High School and the alternatives presenting themselves for relief of the resulting overcrowding. W. Howard Niblock, Principal of the High School and Vincent E. Larocco, Assistant Principal were present for comment.

Faced with new scheduling difficulties and the closing down of parochial schools, Marycliff and immediately perhaps, Austin Preparatory School, Mr. Niblock urged some action for relief of overcrowding. The three alternatives which he cited were staggered sessions, double sessions and a 10 period day.

This fall there was an increase in enrollment over last year at the High School of approximately 50 pupils. Superintendent of Schools Donald A. Klemmer's projections for 1970 show an increase of about 41 students over 1969, for 1971 an increase of 128 over this year and 200 in 1972. Mr. Larocco believes that the capacity of the High School was determined for 950 pupils.

Committeeman Richard K. Schroeder pointed out, however, that in general there has been a decline in enrollment over recent years.

Why?

Given in partial explanation of why such overcrowding exists in the face of such general decline, Mr. Larocco referred to the difficulties of preparing schedules in the spring and meeting changes in the fall, of team teaching and teacher's special schedules and of leveling and other special classes (34 courses at the High School are offered only once per week). All of these form the "many variables of high school scheduling" and lead to inflexibility of classroom manipulation.

When Mr. Schroeder mentioned that the recent addition of one period to the school day should bring some alleviation of this situation, Mr. Larocco responded that due to factors of vertical and horizontal scheduling and the time dimension involved, this did not hold true. The peak load on classroom space remains basically inflexible from periods two to seven. As the situation exists only one classroom is free for one period each day.

Dr. Klemmer also presented his recommendations. They are consideration of a 50 period week and utilization of temporary classrooms.

The Committee will meet with Mr. Niblock and Mr. Larocco in the future to discuss such scheduling problems.

In other business the plans for the evaluation of the educational methods being utilized at the Muraco School were discussed. Assistant Superintendent for Curriculum and Instruction Walter P. Gleason stated that this will involve the rating of team teaching by both teachers and pupils, as well as questions of education arising from this method.

Because of the loss of some federal grant funds, the Committee at present has allocated $1,000 for this project. Students from Boston University have been mentioned as possible sources to make this evaluation. These people would observe the school and work from the data provided by Winchester administrators.

Attorney General To Speak Today At High School

Massachusetts Attorney General Robert H. Quinn will speak at Winchester Senior High School today, Thursday, October 16.

Arrangements for his appearance have been made through Principal W. Howard Niblock and the talk will take place between 9:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. in the auditorium.

Following his talk, the Attorney General will answer questions from the floor. He will be accompanied by John P. Larkin, assistant Attorney General and chief of the Organized Crime Division, a resident of Winchester at 21 Ledyard Road.

Attorney General Quinn has been meeting with students and faculty of Greater Boston high schools this fall and states that, "Realizing the awareness of the Winchester student, I look forward to a most constructive morning."

Topics for the talk were suggested by the students who were polled in three senior modern problems classes.

He will spend some time discussing his work and then has been asked to consider some of the topics, including: legal implications of peace days in connection with expansion each month; legal rights of the high school student in and outside of school (i.e. academic freedom, legality of dress codes, smoking laws and rules); capital punishment; Mafia; snob zoning law; juvenile crime rates in the suburbs; the future of "pot;" and drinking and the teenager.

Special Town Meeting Tonight On High School Question

MEMBERS OF THE Secondary School Building Sub-committee including, left to right, Joseph Gibson; Andrew Nichols; Architect Frank Crimp; Permanent Building Committee Chairman Philip Tesorero; and Sub-committee Chairman Arthur Dunbar; recently presented a report on the proposed high school to a meeting of Precincts 4 and 5. Similar meetings were presented in the other precincts. Town Meeting votes on the question of the school tonight. (Ryerson photo)

Peace Day Activities Include All-Night Vigil

The nationwide observance of Vietnam Peace Day began in Winchester Tuesday night at 5 p.m. on the Common with the reading of the names of those who have died in the Vietnam conflict.

On the list were names of several Winchester residents including Corporal Richard W. Bond, son of Mrs. William J. Miller of 7 Governors Avenue, killed March 9, 1966, while on night patrol duty near DaNang; Corporal Francis J. Muraco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Muraco of 8 Irving Street, killed on November 23, 1967, while on patrol in the Province of Quang Tri; and Sergeant Ronald P. Zenga, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Zenga of 209 Cambridge Street, killed last January while flying in a combat mission out of the Nha Trang Air Base.

Standing between an American flag and a United Nations flag, the Rev. Everett Waters, president of the Winchester Ecumenical Association, opened the memorial reading with a prayer. In his remarks he stated, "In peace let us pray to God as we read the names of those who have made the supreme prayer."

Adults and students alike joined in the reading of the names. A crowd, varying in size throughout the evening, braved the chill night to stand by candlelight in the Common to listen to the reading. At 11 p.m. the group moved to the Church of the Epiphany to continue the reading throughout the night.

Early yesterday morning the group returned to the Common to continue the reading of the approximately 40,000 names.

Peace Service

The reading ended at about 7 p.m. last night, at which time a Peace Unity Service was held in the First Congregational Church.

Planned and conducted by high school students, the service included a candlelight ceremony.

Selectmen Vote Their Support Of New School

The Board of Selectmen at its Tuesday night meeting in the Town Hall unanimously voted to support the appropriation of an additional $3 million for construction of the proposed new high school on Shore Road.

The Board also noted a letter from Mother Agnes Sharry, provincial of the Religious of Christian Education, former owners of Marycliff Academy. Writing in response to an earlier letter from the Board, Mother Sharry said: "Your kind letter of October the third, on behalf of the Winchester Board of Selectmen, was sincerely appreciated and deeply touched us. Thank you for writing."

"We too regretted leaving Marycliff Academy. We are comforted, however, by the hope that the good that was accomplished at 'Marycliff' over a period of years will continue to live in those who were educated there and in those who had any contact with the Religious of Christian Education in Winchester. Very happy are we that it will be used for educational purposes."

"To you, Mr. Donnelly, and to each member of the Board of Selectmen we send every best and prayerful wish for the success of your undertakings for the Town of Winchester."

In an earlier letter to the Order, the Board, through its executive secretary, Edward Donnelly, had said:

Major Evans On Duty In Vietnam

Major Francis C. Evans of 247 Washington Street began a one-year tour of duty in Vietnam on September 2 as a general surgeon at the 27th Surgical Hospital in Chu Lai.

Treating both American servicemen and Vietnamese civilians, this hospital contains approximately 60 beds, is well-staffed and is designed for relatively short stays by patients. A surgical hospital in Vietnam ranges in size between the smaller clearing hospitals and the larger evacuation hospitals.

According to Major Evans' wife, Karen, the experience here involves for the greater part "disaster medicine," but it also provides an opportunity to work with diseases not found in the United States, such as malaria and tetanus.

A native of Staten Island, New York, and educated in the school system of that area, Major Evans did his undergraduate work at Princeton University. In 1963 he graduated from the Harvard Medical School and then went on for internship and two years of residency at Boston City Hospital under the Harvard Surgical Service.

In June, 1969 he completed three more years of residency in general surgery at Hartford Hospital, Hartford, Connecticut. Major Evans was enrolled in the Berry Plan which defers service in the U.S. Army for medical students until residency has been completed.

Following his service in Vietnam, he will serve one year in the United States.

Major Evans is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis C. Evans of Staten Island, New York. His wife, Karen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Fox of Lexington, was formerly a nurse. They have a daughter, Susan, 18 months.

Special Town Meeting Slated Tonight To Discuss High School, Fire Fighters

Additional monies to build the proposed new high school on Shore Road and a report on collective bargaining with the Fire Fighters will be the subjects for a Special Town Meeting tonight at 7:45 p.m. in the High School Auditorium.

The articles to be considered are:

(1) To see if the Town will raise and appropriate a sum of money in addition to the $10,070,000 appropriated on February 26, 1968, for constructing and originally equipping and furnishing a new senior high school including outdoor athletic facilities, at the so-called Shore Road Site; and to determine whether any amount which is appropriated shall be raised by borrowing, transfer or otherwise, and to take any other action in relation thereto.

(2) To see if the Town will hear and act on a report by the Selectmen concerning collective bargaining procedures and agreements, if any, with the fire fighters; raise and appropriate a sum of money for any revisions or adjustments of wages and salaries for fire fighters under collective bargaining agreements or otherwise; determine in what manner the money shall be raised and appropriated; authorize the Selectmen to file a petition with the General Court for any authority needed in connection therewith, and take any other action in relation thereto.

The Special Town Meeting was called by the Selectmen in September on the request of the Permanent Building Committee and its Secondary School Building Sub-Committee after the two groups spent the month of August discussing possible alternatives for the new high school.

Bids

Bids for the school went out in June and were returned on July 24 by two contractors, Grande and Sons, Inc., and Park Construction. On July 29 the Committees voted to reject the bids, which were approximately $3 million over the architect's estimate.

The amount appropriated by a Town Meeting in February, 1968, for the school was $10,070,000. This was to cover the entire cost of the building, site preparation, and architect's fees. To date, a little over $1 million of the appropriation has been spent on site preparation, land acquisition, and fees.

Allocated for construction of the building was approximately $7 million. Grande and Sons, Inc., low bidder on the project in July, had submitted a composite figure of $10,263,463. Park Construction, bidding on each wing separately, asked $7,200,000 for the academic wing and $3,850,000 for the physical education wing for a total of $11,050,000.

A technical error on the part of Grande and Sons, Inc., in the amount of $360,000 resulted in the withdrawal of the firm's bid on the academic wing.

The Committees were left with the option of accepting Grande's bid for the physical education wing alone and Park's bid for the academic wing; accepting both Park bids; or rejecting all bids. The Committees chose to reject all bids, including the filed sub-bids.

Meeting Called

During August, the Committees discussed alternatives to the plans for the school in the hopes of lowering the costs. They found no satisfactory alternatives, and in September asked the Board of Selectmen to call a Town Meeting to appropriate an additional $3,100,000.

If the appropriation is approved tonight, the Committees anticipate going out to bid again in early November. It was decided to ask the appropriation first, rather than going directly with the original plans (in which slight modifications have been made) in the hopes of attracting more bidders.

The Special Town Meeting tonight will also discuss the contract agreement made between the Town Collective Bargaining Committee and the Fire Fighters Association, Local 1564.

Contract negotiations for 1969 were settled this month between the two groups after a dispute which had continued since last January.

Dr. Zoerheide To Be Installed Minister Of Unitarian Church

The Reverend Jack Daniel Zoerheide will be installed as minister of the Winchester Unitarian Church at the 11 a.m. service on Sunday October 19th.

Opening sentences will be offered by Eugene Rochow, president of Metcalf Union. Robert Jones, director of Youth Programs, will give the reading.

The sermon will be given by the Reverend Virgil Murdock of Boston who is the executive director of the Benevolent Fraternity of Unitarian Churches. Following the sermon, Mrs. Edward Reynolds, chairman of the standing committee, will lead the congregation in the act of installation.

The charge to the minister will be given by the Reverend George J. Spencer of the Department of the Ministry of the Unitarian-Universalist Association and the charge to the congregation will be given by the former rector, Reverend Robert A. Storer.

The Reverend Theodore Webb, executive director of the Massachusetts Bay District of the Unitarian-Universalist Churches, and Monsignor Joseph W. Lyons, pastor of St. Eulalia's Church, will offer greetings to Dr. Zoerheide.

Dr. Zoerheide was born June 27, 1924 in Kent City, Michigan. He attended Western Michigan University until 1943, then served in the Navy as deck and communications officer in both the Atlantic and the Pacific. After leaving the service he enrolled at the Harvard Divinity School and graduated in 1950.

While at the Divinity School, Dr. Zoerheide served as student assistant minister at the Arlington Street Church in Boston. From 1951-1957 he was minister of the Second Parish in Hingham, and from 1957-1969 he was minister of the First Parish Church in Needham.

Dr. Zoerheide has been active both in denominational and community activities. At present he is working with the Unitarian-Universalist Committee on Aging, and he has been involved with many other U.U.A. committees as well.

Dr. Zoerheide has been president and secretary of the New England Unitarian-Universalist Ministers Association.

An active worker with young people, Dr. Zoerheide has been a scoutmaster, a settlement house youth leader and a leader at Camp Rowe in the Berkshires.

Social Justice

As an advocate of social justice, Dr. Zoerheide has devoted time to working for civil rights and liberties. He was founder and board member of the Needham Fair Housing and Civil Rights Committee, president and founding member of the Needham Civil Rights Foundation and Needham chairman for Civil Liberties Union Fund Raising.

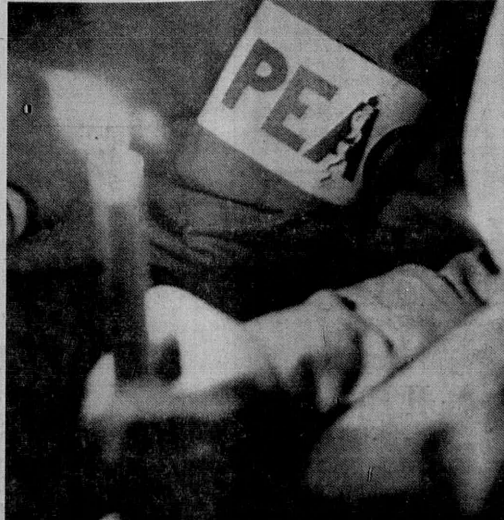

Dr. and Mrs. Zoerheide and family live at 33 Glen Green. Four of their five children are attending Winchester schools.

Keep Winchester Clean

NEWSY

Four Winchester music educators attended the Massachusetts Northeast District dinner meeting and music workshops held at the Holiday Inn in Waltham on October 8. Representing the junior high schools were Lillian Enright and Paul Davis. Representing the music specialists were David Kontoff and Eleanor A. Thistlethwaite of Winchester public schools.

Paul Re Is Certified For Park Post

A Winchester man is one of 30 who have been certified to fill one opening as park foreman in the Metropolitan District Commission. He is Paul Re of 61 Sylvester Avenue.

Harvest Dance

On Saturday evening, October 18, at 8:00 p.m., the Annual Harvest Dance will be held at the Immaculate Conception Parish Hall. Costumes are optional and prizes will be awarded to the three most outstanding. The public is cordially invited to come and dance to the music of Frank Ryan's Orchestra. Mrs. Peg Coughlin is the chair-lady for the evening.

Dialogue Sermon Argues Morality Of Vietnam War

A dialogue sermon was held on Sunday, October 12, at the Second Congregational Church between the Rev. Larry G. Keeter and Major E. R. Hunton, who served one year in Vietnam as an infantry company commander and is presently an ROTC instructor at M.I.T. The dialogue sermon, entitled "The Christian and Vietnam," focused on four moral concerns of the conflict which were formulated recently in Chicago by a group of prominent Protestant theologians. The dialogue ended on a positive note with a brief analysis of an opinion poll given to the congregation on the previous Sunday. From this two moral conclusions were drawn, Vietnamize the war (99 per cent answered yes) and create a timetable for gradual withdrawal (56 per cent responded no to withdrawal in six months).

Panel On Synod To Be Conducted At 11 A.M. Service

At the Second Congregational Church during the Sunday, October 19, 11 o'clock service, there will be a panel discussion of the Seventh Biennial General Synod of the United Church of Christ held last June at the Statler Hotel in Boston. The panel will consist of the following delegates to the Synod: Miss Theodora Burbank, First Congregational Church, Malden; Harry J. Elam, attorney-at-law, Roxbury; and Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hazelwood, First Congregational Church, Reading. They will answer questions about the Synod's resolutions and general direction which will be posed by the following lay members of the Second Congregational Church: Ralph Meigh, Mrs. Rony Snyder and Robert Watson Sr. After the worship service, there will be a coffee hour in the church vestry.

Jaycee-ettes Will Hold Flea Market

The Winchester Jaycee-ettes are organizing a flea market for area residents for Saturday, October 25 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Local townspeople are urged to get a head start on fall cleaning by selecting items from garage, cellar, attic, closets and cupboards to serve as "instant treasures" for the bargain hunter.

Manchester Field (in Winchester Center) will be the site for the festivities, where station wagons, car trunks, tables, shopping bags or what-have-you will be used to display wares. For further information and reservations, call 729-2904 by October 22nd.

Housing Comm. Has Questions For Elderly

The Public Housing Study Committee has formulated a brief questionnaire designed to study Winchester's needs for public housing for its elderly residents. Elsewhere in this issue of the Star, a copy of the questionnaire is printed. People who are eligible are asked to mail the coupon to the Housing Committee and also to submit their opinions on the project. To be eligible for elderly housing, a person must be 65 or over; individuals or couple are eligible; a person must be a United States citizen (except an alien who served in the armed forces of the United States or an alien eligible to receive Old Age Assistance); a person's income must not exceed $2500 for a single person; $3,000 for a couple; a person must be in need of good housing.

Dessert Bridge Is Planned

The autumn dessert bridge of the Guild of the Infant Saviour will be held on Tuesday, October 21st, 1 p.m. at the K. of C. Hall, Mt. Vernon Street. Mrs. Marion T. Johnson, president is chairman of the event. Committee members are Miss Laura Boyden, Miss Florence Boyden, Mrs. John Cosgro, Mrs. Francis McCarthy, Mrs. Joseph Donahue, Mrs. George McCarthy, Mrs. K. E. Doyle, Mrs. John McDonald, Mrs. John Duffy, Mrs. Albert McDougall, Mrs. Clarence Dunbury, Mrs. Joseph Mullen, Mrs. Andrew Guthrie, Mrs. C. Philip O'Rourke, Mrs. Stanley Seaver, Mrs. Henry Valcour.

Presidents' Club Hosts Speaker Leo Boodakian

The Eighth District Presidents' Club of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs held its fall meeting at the North Street Union Congregational Church, Medford Hillside on September 26. Mrs. Marshall W. Symmes presented Leo Boodakian of Koko Boodakian and Sons, Inc., who gave a most interesting talk on "Mosaics in Wool," with slides on the history and construction of oriental rugs. The next meeting will be held on January 15, 1970, in Wakefield.

Town Teams Plan Reunion

Back in the 1930's, a strong rivalry existed between the Woburn and Winchester Town Football teams. Now, with age mellowing the old rivalry, the members of the two teams have been meeting to plan a reunion dinner dance to be held at the Woburn Elks Home on Washington Street, Woburn. This is the second such reunion to be held by the groups. On Saturday, November 15, they will gather at the Elks Home at 6:30 p.m. for the reunion. A roast beef dinner will be served at 7:30. Tickets may be obtained from "Angie" Tofuri, 729-3481; Fire Chief I. Francis Amico; or Charlie Doherty, Winchester K. of C.

Simmons Club Opens Season

The Arlington-Winchester Simmons Club opened its season with a covered dish supper on Tuesday, October 7. Following the supper, a brief business meeting was held, at which time officers for the year were introduced. Mrs. Dorothy Glowacki presented slides of her recent trip to the Middle East. Mrs. Ruth Lieberman was chairman of the meeting, which was held at the Park Avenue Congregational Church in Arlington.

Area Y.M.C.A.

New officers and board members were elected at the 79th annual meeting of the North Suburban Y.M.C.A. held recently at the Atlantic Gelatin Company, Woburn. Robert E. Lentz of Woburn was elected chairman of the board of managers for the coming year. Serving with Mr. Lentz will be Baaron Pittenger of 36 Oneida Road, second vice chairman. A new member elected to serve on the board of managers is Robert C. Paridy of 5 Squanto Road.

Two Incidents Of Breaking And Entering Occur

Two incidents of breaking and entering have been reported to the Winchester Police during the past week.

On Wednesday, October 8, Officer Joseph N. Perritano responded to a 2:45 p.m. call at an Allen Road residence. The home had been vacant since Monday, and upon return the owners found that a cellar window had been forced and entrance gained.

The intruder or intruders then travelled up the stairs and kicked in a panel on a locked door. Bedrooms on the second floor had been ransacked. The only articles known to be missing at the time of the report were jewelry. A similar outbreak had occurred at this home about one month ago.

Another incident was recorded at the Diamond Antenna and Microwave Corporation on River Street. On Monday, October 13, Officer Paul Cogan was shown where the tower had been entered by climbing the fence surrounding it. Spray paint had been used to mark the tower wall and glass windows on the six dials on a power supply were broken. A two-way radio was the only item known to be missing at this time.

Instruments Are Listed In Exchange File

Notification of several available instruments has already been received by the newly established musical instrument exchange, according to Mrs. Mark Lombardi, chairman.

This activity is a new undertaking sponsored by the Community School Association of Winchester. Buyer or seller may contact Mrs. Lombardi at 729-3445 and for a minimal listing fee, she will enter requirements in the exchange file. This list will be constantly cross-checked, and the appropriate parties will be put in touch with each other.

Frederick Murray of the music department will appraise any instrument listed with the exchange. His appraisal will give both "bid" and "asked" prices, the actual selling price to be determined by the parties to the sale. A need for such a service has often been expressed in the past, and it is hoped that students and their parents will use the exchange as a means of disposing of unused instruments and providing new musical experiences for other youngsters.

Parish Players Are Rehearsing Giraudoux Play

The Parish Players are in full battle array as they rehearse for their fall production, "Tiger at the Gates," a costume play by Jean Giraudoux, set at the time of Helen's abduction to Troy. There are several Winchester residents in the large cast including John McClellan, Renee Miller, Jack Gulderson, Ann Carrigan, David Large, Larry Smith, Michael Koplow, Steve Brown, Don Spinney, Pauline LaBrie, Pamela Boerner, Paul Berberian, Gay Spinney, Emily Bloch and Robert Labedz. "Tiger at the Gates" promises to be one of the Parish Players' most exciting and ambitious undertakings; it should be an excellent introduction to the abilities of the Winchester little theatre for all newcomers, as well as a source of pride to the already enthusiastic regular audience.

Production dates are the sixth, seventh, and eighth of November. All ticket inquiries should be directed to Mrs. Michael Barrett (729-3078).

McCall Plans Open House October 21

On Tuesday evening, October 21, McCall Junior High will be open for parents to visit classrooms. At 7:30 p.m. in their child's home room, parents may pick up name tags from the room mother and start on a sequence of classes following the student's schedule. In each class, for approximately ten minutes, parents will become acquainted with teacher and course content. During scheduled study hours and after classes they will be served refreshments in the cafeteria. Room mothers will collect parents' association dues of one dollar from those families who wish to contribute.

BREAK OUT OF SILENCE

If you see but don't hear, you might as well be in a glass case, without any real communication with the people around you. In your glass case you could read, write notes, and even make yourself heard if you shouted, and if the people around you shouted.

Inconvenient. Yes. And unnecessary.

Sears can remove this glass case from the hard of hearing with a variety of hearing aids. So visit Sears Hearing Aid Department.

Republican Club Honors Members, Mrs. F. Aseltine

The Women's Republican Club of Winchester started the fall and winter season with a candlelight buffet supper. Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, president, opened the meeting honoring Mrs. Frederick W. Aseltine, affectionately known as Gracie, still an active member of the Club. A charter member she will celebrate her 90th birthday in December.

Mrs. James W. Blackham, representing Mrs. Gladys O'Donnell, president of the National Federation of Republican Women, presented Mrs. Aseltine with a gold Federation pin, and Mrs. McCreery presented her with a framed certificate making her an honorary life member of the club.

Donald Conn, Assistant District Attorney during the term of Attorney General Elliot Richardson, held the attention of his audience with the subject of Law and Order. Mr. Conn stressed that without a Witness Immunity Bill organized crime cannot be effectively fought.

Legitimate businessmen, victims of the Syndicates' ruthless threats against their families, are afraid to testify.

The Syndicate, or Costa Nostra is the largest owner of hotel-motels, restaurants and many other respectable businesses, their annual income being in the billions of dollars.

Mr. Conn stressed the need for in-service police training, upgrading of educational requirements and a better living wage for our law enforcement officers.

It is imperative that bright, aggressive young men and women are elected to all levels of government, he emphasized.

Mr. Conn was state prosecutor for over 200 criminal cases while assistant District Attorney, the most well-known being the Alfred diSalvo or Boston Strangler case; is a guest lecturer at Harvard; was selected in 1967 as one of Boston's outstanding young men, and in 1968 was one of the outstanding young men in the United States.

He concluded his talk with the need for more law enforcement legislation.

Guests of the Club were Harrison Chadwick, Town Moderator; Selectman and Mrs. Paul F. Amico; Selectman John J. Sullivan; Selectman and Mrs. Ralph Swanson; and Selectman and Mrs. Sherman W. Saltmarsh Jr.

Mr. Godsell To Speak At "Mornings"

The 22nd Winchester "Mornings" lecture series opened Thursday, October 9, at Hadley Hall of the Church of the Epiphany with Ruth Edinberg, an actress and entertainer as speaker.

The audience convened at 9:45 for a coffee hour and at 10:15, Miss Edinberg started her show entitled "A Taste of Theater."

Next Thursday, October 23, Geoffrey Godsell will speak on current international events. Mr. Godsell, a frequent lecturer in Winchester is an editorial writer for the "Christian Science Monitor." Born in England, Mr. Godsell has served in the Royal Navy and later worked as a news correspondent for the BBC covering the UN General Assembly, then in Paris and New York and later in the Middle East. In Cairo he joined the "Christian Science Monitor" as assistant overseas news editor and subsequently came to Boston.

In Miss Edinberg's one-woman show she recreated several characters from plays in which she actually had acted. Introducing her audience to the show, she first defined theater as a combination of costumes, lights, make-up, props and a setting. However, the basic ingredients are the live actor and audience. The more the audience can bring to the play by way of knowledge and understanding, the more enjoyment the audience will derive from the play.

Miss Edinberg proceeded to adorn herself in a period costume while describing the role she would play from a comedy of errors of the last century. After another on-stage change of costume Miss Edinberg described "Fiddler on the Roof," its period, its significance for today's audience, and the parts of the husband and wife which she then most adroitly enacted.

The high-light of her show came in Anatole Franz' "The Man Who Married the Dumb Wife" where she transformed herself into a 54 year old fat French maid. First came several layers of skirts, then well-padded undergarments, and finally on-stage make-up, complete with wrinkles and white hair (out of an aerosol can).

A cover-up job done with more make-up then transformed her in to Adele from "Guys and Dolls" from which she sang "A Person Can Develop a Cold" and "Take Back Your Mind."

The Winchester "Mornings" are sponsored by the Winchester Wellesley Club whose president is Mrs. George Vrotsos. Mrs. Kenneth Hudson is chairman of the "Mornings" and Mrs. Paul Chase organized the coffee hour. The proceeds are divided between the Winchester Scholarship Fund and Wellesley College.

Two Local Men Begin Studies At Dartmouth

Two students from Winchester were among the 800 members of the class of 1973 to enter Dartmouth College, Hanover, New Hampshire, this fall in the College's bicentennial year. They are Christopher R. Barlow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Barlow of 11 Arlington Street, and Leslie J. Fabuss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bela M. Fabuss of 21 Sawmill Brook Road.

Dartmouth College, ninth oldest in the nation, was founded on December 13, 1769, under the last educational charter granted in the American colonies in the name of King George III of England. It is the northernmost member of the Ivy League.

Both men are graduates of Winchester High School. Mr. Barlow was active with the school band, was a member of the National Honor Society and was on the football team. In addition, he was manager of the school radio station.

Mr. Fabuss was a member of the school yearbook staff, the debating team and the football and track teams. He was a member of the National Honor Society and received the Harvard Book Prize.

Mr. Nicoll Attends Workshop

Life insurance specialist Sidney L. Nicoll, representative of Mutual of New York in Winchester, attended MONY's advanced underwriting workshop held in Cambridge recently.

The two-day workshop examined the various fringe benefits available to employees of the different types of business entities, with the emphasis placed on the importance insurance plays in this respect.

The program, conducted by two MONY attorneys, also covered recent developments in changing tax laws.

Mr. Nicoll is associated with MONY's Boston-Goldman agency. Sales leaders from MONY's northeastern region attended the conference.

Kiwanis Club To Repeat Hearing Clinic

Last year the Winchester Kiwanis Club, in cooperation with the Winchester School Department, sponsored a Speech and Hearing Clinic for four and five-year old pre-schoolers and kindergarten children of Winchester.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Sally Fishman, speech therapist, and with the aid of the Winchester Visiting Nurse Association, more than 600 youngsters were tested for speech and hearing difficulties.

The Clinic will be conducted this year during the week of November 3-7, and conclude the following week. Schedules listing hours and school locations for testing will be presented in the Star during the next two weeks.

Mr. Sullivan Is Eligible For Guard Post

WCCA Supports New School

The new steering committee of the Winchester Council for Community Action held its first meeting on Sunday, October 5th. It unanimously adopted a resolution continuing its support of the effort to build a new high school for Winchester now, and urges members to inform their Town Meeting Members of their support.

The present members of the steering committee are Lewis Linson, chairman (729-8741); Mrs. Jean O'Brien, vice chairman; Joel Alpert, treasurer; Owen Cote; Mrs. Pat Globus; Abraham Goldin; Peter Neurath; and Otto Schaefer.

The WCCA, an organization of citizens concerned with the improvement of community relations both within the Winchester community itself and with respect to its relations with the greater Boston community, held its annual meeting at the Unitarian Church on Thursday, October 2nd.

The agenda included adoption of a new constitution, election of new members to the Steering Committee, and a report of the Six Weeks Adventure summer program. Anyone interested in more information is urged to contact any member of the Steering Committee and is invited to attend the human relations committee meeting.

The human relations committee of WCCA will hold its first meeting of the new year on Tuesday, October 21st, at 8 p.m. at the home of Peter Neurath at 10 Cabot Street, 729-3375. Everyone is urged to bring new ideas, plans and friends.

College Club Honors Members At Tea

New members of the Winchester College Club were honored at a tea yesterday, October 15, at the home of Mrs. John Gonsalves of 6 Mayflower Road.

Mrs. Nolan T. Jones, president, welcomed the guests of honor and introduced the chairmen of the daytime and evening study groups.

The daytime interest groups begin in September and end in May and are open to all College Club members. Any woman not a member may join an interest group on a space-available basis. Study programs are offered in art, headed by Mrs. Ronald King; antique study, headed by Mrs. John A. Griffin; duplicate bridge, headed by Mrs. Howard L. Irwin; conversational French, headed by Mrs. Isaiiah Ballard; history, co-chaired by Mrs. Herbert Lamar and Mrs. Henry R. Delaney; and contemporary literature, co-chaired by Mrs. Lewis Linson and Mrs. Robert O'Leary.

The evening interest groups offer informal study in relaxed, social gatherings. Non-members are welcome and the programs will run from late January through April. Evening programs offered are bridge, co-chaired by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lamar; gourmet supper, co-chaired by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Coe; play reading, headed by Mrs. Robert Magnusen; and travel, co-chaired by Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Eschner.

New members to the club are Mrs. Dennis Corcoran, Mrs. Harold Pyne, Mrs. George Dell, Miss Katharine Boutelle, Mrs. Alfred Wechsler, Mrs. Roy Darwin, Mrs. Robert Nau, Mrs. Stanley Calmercross, Mrs. Gerald Westlake, Mrs. Carl Boerner, Mrs. Bobby Bowen, Mrs. Robert Oppenheimer.

All women of Winchester who have completed two years or more in a college accredited by the American Association of University Women are invited to join the Club. For further information call Mrs. John Gonsalves, membership chairman, at 729-3358.

CONCERN Panel To Be Given At Vinson-Owen

The Vinson-Owen Parents Association will present a panel discussion on "The Drug Problem" at Vinson-Owen School on Wednesday, October 22, at 8 p.m.

Participating on the panel will be Dr. Donald McLean, chairman of CONCERN; Andrew Marcous, vice-chairman of CONCERN; Mrs. Alven E. Wallace, secretary of CONCERN; Officer Richard Beaton, Winchester juvenile officer; and John Puffer, senior class president at Winchester High School.

Refreshments will be served under the direction of Mrs. John F. Mitchell, president of the Vinson-Owen Parents Association.

Mr. Gullion To Address Women's Groups

Bruce S. Gullion, director of State Forests and Parks, Department of Natural Resources, will be the speaker at the joint meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Guild and the Friendship Guild at the First Congregational Church in Winchester on Tuesday evening, October 21.

Prior to the program, which will begin at 7:30 p.m., a dinner will be served. Mrs. Lowell Smith will introduce the speaker.

Mr. Gullion is widely known in the field of Conservation of Natural Resources. He has been an employee of the Department of Natural Resources for 18 years during which time he served in various capacities in the Division of State Forests and Parks.

In 1962, he was appointed assistant to the Commissioner and placed in charge of a regional resource planning project for Cape Cod, which involved a detailed study of the recreation, marine, and forest resources of Barnstable County.

More recently, he has directed a study of the wetland resources of the Neponset Valley in Canton, Norwood, Dedham and Milton and participated in an Area Redevelopment Administration study of recreation tourism in Northern Berkshire County.

In 1963, he was appointed as director of the Division of Conservation Services, which is a new unit in the Department of Natural Resources, designed to assist conservation districts and conservation commissions in the conduct of local resource programs and promote long-range resource planning efforts at the state level. This program was authorized by the 1963 session of the legislature, as the result of a reorganization of land-use functions recommended by Governor Peabody.

In 1966 he was appointed to his present position as director of the Division of Forests and Parks, which consists of the Bureau of Forest Fire Control, Bureau of Forest Development, Bureau of Insect Pest Control and Bureau of Recreation. He is responsible for the administrative supervision of all state forests and state parks, coastal beaches, skating rinks and swimming pools throughout the Commonwealth.

Married, and the father of two girls, Gullion graduated from the Melrose public schools in 1945, served in the U.S. Navy during World War II, and returned to the University of Massachusetts to obtain a bachelor of forestry degree in 1951. He is a resident of Chelmsford.

Baby Sitters' School Offered By Jaycee-ettes

The second session of the Baby Sitters' School sponsored by the Winchester Jaycee-ettes, will feature Miss Diane E. Shorey as its speaker, Miss Shorey, a newcomer to the course, is a staff nurse for the Winchester Visiting Nurses Association.

Miss Shorey is a graduate of the Mary Hitchcock School of Nursing and before coming to Winchester was staff nurse at the Mary Hitchcock Memorial Hospital in Hanover, New Hampshire.

Miss Shorey has been a Camp Nurse at Camp Onihar in Pennsylvania and an assistant head nurse in the premature nursery at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Long Island, New York.

The course takes place at the Winchester Public Library starting at 7:15 p.m. All participants are urged to arrive promptly and prepared to take notes.

Chief Derro Is Speaker At Kiwanis

On Wednesday, October 8th, the Winchester Kiwanis Club had as its guest, Police Chief Joseph J. Derro, who discussed "Drugs and Youth."

Chief Derro, after giving the basic facts of the problem, stressed that it was up to parents to know their own children and the people with whom their children associate.

Chief Derro's appearance was well timed due to the fact that the Kiwanis Club has recently formed a committee to investigate drug abuse as recommended by the Kiwanis International.

Editorials:

Think Twice

Tonight is the night when the Town Meeting Members will be asked to make a decision regarding the request for an additional appropriation of $3 million to construct the proposed new high school on Shore Road.

The Committees have worked long and hard to prepare the plans for the school; to acquire a site; and to receive the approval of the Town. They, too, are taxpayers here and have pondered long on the question of additional money and its impact on the tax rate.

But above all, the Committees have considered the children. The Town Meeting Members should consider them also. Overcrowded buildings are not conducive to good education and in the stiff competition of today's world, it is almost cruel to send our children out without arming them with a good education.

Almost every alternative proposed by townspeople in the past several weeks has been considered. Almost all, including that of building an addition to the present building, has been turned down by Town Meeting at an earlier session. We can't go back and we can't afford to stop at this point and wait. Construction costs are increasing and they will continue to do so.

We can't urge strongly enough for a "yes" vote on the appropriation at the Town Meeting. Think twice. Remember the children.

Peace

Vietnam Peace Day activities here yesterday brought to mind the Winchester sons memorialized in the list of Vietnam War dead read on the Common where they walked not so long ago on October days as sunny and clear as yesterday. There are at last three of our residents who have given their lives in the conflict since escalation of this country's involvement began in 1965. Countless others have been wounded.

Each week stories appear in the Star about residents currently serving in Vietnam. This week a story appears on page one concerning an Army major, a doctor whose wife lives in town. He is but one of many from Winchester serving there.

The activities here included the reading of the names of the casualties, a peace service conducted in the First Congregational Church, the circulation of a petition, and the opening of the churches for meditation. All of these must be considered in the scope of larger, nationwide activities as citizens throughout the country set aside October 15 to voice concern about the country's involvement in the war. The significance of the activities here was about as small, however, as the significance of the three Winchester men who have given their lives in a conflict that has killed nearly 40,000 American men.

Tuesday night one of the talk shows on a Boston radio station dealt with the question of the moratorium. One of the speakers, a political science professor at a Boston college, said that the moratorium represented a new form of democracy—almost a referendum without the ballot box. The residents who visited Winchester Common Tuesday night during the reading of the names seemed to bear this out. These people were not the long-haired hippies or the high school and college students. They were the adults of the community who are genuinely concerned over the situation in Vietnam.

Unlike the other war protests, this could not be dismissed as a demonstration by young people afraid to fight. These were adults who have recourse to the ballot box to place pressure on elected officials and who do not have to fear the draft board. President Nixon has commented that his course of action will not be changed by the Peace Day events. If his course can not be changed, it is to be hoped that he has a course, because as a politician, he must realize that a demonstration by the adult community has a great deal of bearing on his future political career. If it is going to be "Nixon in '72" on the campaign poster, his plan for Vietnam had best be made public soon and if it doesn't include withdrawal by 1972, he probably won't be around saying "I have a plan" in 1973.

Admittedly, we have mixed feelings about prompt withdrawal. While we definitely believe in the removal of American troop involvement in Vietnam, and we commend those organizing the Peace Day here for their commitment to their beliefs, we feel that a definite time limit of six months can not be placed on withdrawal. Extricating a country and several hundred thousand of its military personnel from this war may take more than six months, but it must be done.

Editorial Comments

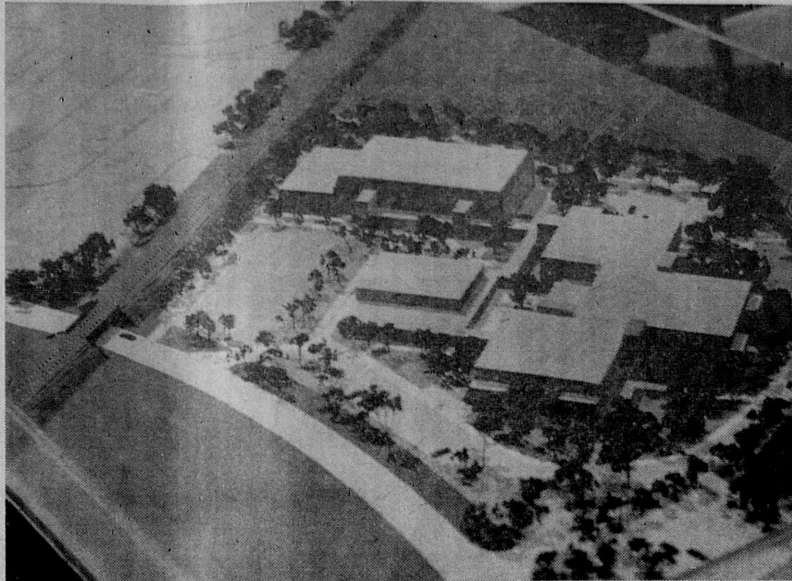

Public meetings and manners were on our mind the other night when we attended one of the precinct meetings held for discussion on the request for an additional $3 million to construct the proposed new high school on Shore Road. Every time something was said with which the audience disagreed, their muttering practically drowned out the speaker; speakers were not allowed to finish their statements before challengers started shouting their responses. This is not adult behavior. It shows lack of manners and lack of consideration for the committee members who took their own time to attend the precinct meetings and the WHSR-FM panel discussion.

Also apparent from the questions at the precinct meeting we attended was the attitude that all the Town's committees carry on their business in secret and that there is a conspiracy afoot to keep the townspeople uninformed. This is ridiculous. Many of the questions dealt with information which was discussed at open public meetings and which was also reported in the Star. It is impossible to count the number of meetings of the Permanent Building Committee and is Secondary School Building Sub-committee where we were the only ones in attendance besides the committee members. All meetings are posted in the lobby of the Town Hall by the Town Clerk's office. This is required by law. Go to the meetings. Don't sit home and say, "They're pulling something over my eyes!"

The League of Women Voters is currently celebrating its 50th anniversary, both locally and nationwide. Throughout its existence, the League has served a sound purpose in educating its members and the community at large in the problems of government. In its attitude that "the League must help others to be aware of problems," it assists in filling the communications gap which exists between citizens and those who run the government. We commend the League especially for its publication of the "Guide for Town Meeting Members;" the directory of Town Meeting Members; and "Inside Winchester—A Citizens Handbook of Town Government, Services, and Education." The League has indeed been "Fifty Years of a Great Idea."

With all the furor of the new high school, we forgot to mention last week that the week of October 5 through 11 was National Newspaper Week. Since it is our only week of the year to salute ourselves as well as our fellow newspapers, we don't want to miss the opportunity! Dr. Paul Manning White, dean of the School of Public Communications at Boston University, has called the newspaper the "gatekeeper" of society. One public figure, asked whether he would rather live in a hypothetical democracy in which there was no freedom of the press, or in a dictatorship which had freedom of the press, responded that he would choose the dictatorship. Without freedom of the press, democracy as we know it would cease to exist. We salute and support the continuation of a free and responsible press.

I BELIEVE IN GHOSTS

by Danton Walker

A book about ghosts seems to be appropriate for the Halloween season, but if you expect a cold chill this won't give it to you. There isn't a clanking chain, an icy hand or a long drawn out moan in the whole thing. Danton Walker has written about the uncanny experiences of many of his well known friends. Psychic phenomena are not necessarily more prevalent among celebrities, but they seem to be more newsworthy.

Before his death, Walker was a well known Broadway columnist. Once it became known that he was interested in the supernatural, he was the recipient of all kinds of confidences. The narrator of the tale in most cases would preface his account with a statement, the gist of which was, "I don't believe in ghosts, but..." Walker has been able to get permission from these people to use their experiences and has published them in this brief readable form. They are in no sense scientific, having no proof or control of any sort and are written strictly for their entertainment value.

It is a well-known fact among aficionados that ghosts are often moved to visit the scene of their demise, especially in cases of violent death. During one evening at dusk in Scotland, Burl Ives spotted a cloaked figure on the road in front of his car. It seemed to vanish suddenly over the parapet. He was told that it was an apparition often seen in the area and legend had it that it was St. Kevin. He had been seduced by a local maiden and, overcome with remorse, he had leaped to his death at that point in the roadway.

In another such case an unidentified actress checking into a hotel had been horrified to discover the body of a woman hanging in her closet. She screamed for the manager who investigated and found nothing. Reluctantly, however, he admitted that a woman recently committed suicide by hanging herself in that very closet.

Spirits, like humans, have differing personalities and traits of character. Beatrice Lillie tells of one who was fond of practical jokes and would, upon occasion, interfere with her stage wardrobe by stitching up the bottom of her skirts or hiding her jewelry or disarranging the wig she was scheduled to appear in—all this when the dressing room door was securely locked against intruders. A society member reported to Danton Walker her story of a very sadistic ghost. The home of a young couple she knew was burnt to the ground and no cause of the fire could be discovered. The shadowy figure of an elderly man with an evil countenance has been seen about the house, and footsteps were heard in the gravel walk when no one was about. It was the specter of a man long dead who had borne a fierce grudge against the former owners of the house. He had ignited the house, apparently unaware that he was revenging himself upon the wrong people.

A newspaperwoman had an experience with a friendlier spirit who sometimes appeared to her in seances. Once when her copy had been mislaid shortly before the deadline, she concentrated hard and asked for help from her familiar. Immediately she was impelled to walk to a pile of telephone books and look inside one of them. There was the missing article!

Danton Walker had his own experience with the supernatural, too. Two different houses he owned were haunted—a pretty good scare for one man, I think. No wonder he was able to listen so sympathetically to so many weird episodes.

Opposition To Money For School

Editor of the Star:

Additional $3,000,000 for new high school. Never! Say taxpayers.

As a Town Meeting Member, I have been swamped by the taxpayers of the Sixth Precinct to cancel the building of a campus type high school. Do anything to place or lay on the table this extra $3,000,000 added to the blank check for $10,000,000. Make do with what they, the schools, have. We must have been crazy to vote for such a sum. So it goes from all sides in all precincts.

All of these mutterings are filtering through to the Town Meeting Members who voted overwhelmingly for the blank check for 10 million the first time in the history of high and mighty Winchester which is ruled and governed by a minority of the voters, about 30%.

The impact of the high taxes is beginning to bring the taxpayers out of the hypnotic influence when the architects of the new high school mesmerized all but a few of us, Town Meeting Members, probably not more than twenty at the most, gave the go ahead for the said 10 million blank check. How stupid can the said members be. But that is all over the dam.

Now we have the opportunity to start over again and let us profit by the aforesaid stupidity. One of the most astute and erudite of the Town Meeting Members made a suggestion to save money and give the Town a sensible solution of the High School problem. This individual is a professor of engineering in one of the Universities in the Hub of the Universe. Here it is: Take Manchester Field and move it to the Shore Road—land which will provide all facilities for physical education.

Manchester Field will be used for the enlargement of the present high school to suit the fancy of the pupils and the superintendents of which there are many, maybe too many, to work out any design the architects may evolve.

The schools are for the pupils and not for the teachers who want a toilet and a canopy therein for every school room.

What an opportunity to do the correct thing which is to move Manchester Field entirely to the new playing fields made in preparation of building the forgotten campus type high school. We simply cannot afford to add $3 million to the $10 million already appropriated which would end up totaling $15 million. Taking away a swimming pool, this gadget, or anything one could do without will make a mess or makeshift.

Start clean with the view of building a new addition to the present high school which will answer the problems with which we are concerned and there is no question but what the architects will come up with a building satisfactory to the pupils, first of all, and the teachers and last of all, the sacrosanct School Committee.

Wherefore, let it be known that I shall obey the commands of my constituents and vote against any part of an additional $3 million to build a campus type high school for which we gave the $10 million blank check, something which never did happen before in this Yankee Town of Winchester where a minority of voters run the Town while the blue bloods sit on the sidelines and crab when it hits the gold, closely held to their respective bosoms and chests.

We of Precinct Six are out for blood and ought to win many members of the other precincts to our side for economy but not a cheap substitute.

By the way, did you know that the word Yankee came from the Indian's failure to pronounce Yengee, as Yankee? Interesting, eh what?

Memorial Asked For Lou Goddu

Editor of the Star:

Through the medium of this letter I wish to share a thought with the citizens of Winchester.

A short time ago while passing through your town, I heard some very sad news that Lou Goddu passed away this summer. I was shocked and distressed by the news. I am sure that this is a great loss not only for myself, as I was his friend, but also for the town of Winchester.

Throughout my 11 years of teaching and coaching at Winchester High School, all the coaches, teachers and athletes at the High School appreciated Lou Goddu's services and dedication as trainer for all the athletic teams. Lou donated every spare moment of his life to Winchester High School athletes; in fact he was not only a physiotherapist but also a father to all of us. Anytime we had a banquet, an assembly, he would always be on the sidelines. His only thanks was to help young people grow into mature and responsible adults through worth-while experiences. For those of us who have the privilege and challenge to stay behind in the mainstream of life and those of us who knew what Lou Goddu contributed to our youth—I urge you to pledge that his efforts were not in vain. I am therefore making an appeal to all the athletes who knew Lou and received his services that something tangible, some memorial award should be dedicated in his name. The contributions that Lou has made would be on the lips of all future athletes who pass through the gates of Winchester High School and thus build one tradition upon another.

I hope this appeal has some meaning and that something will be done. Lou would be grateful, I am sure. I would be willing to donate time, money, and services toward this effort even though my home is in Connecticut.

Very truly yours,
Isidore Battino

Supports High School Expenditure

Editor of the Star:

October 16 the Town Meeting will decide whether to go forward with the new high school or not. This decision comes over six years after the 1963 Annual Town Meeting at which the Permanent Building Committee and the Secondary School Subcommittee were created—the same meeting at which the Secondary School Building Committee which built Lynch was finally discharged after six years of effort. In fact there has been a continuous succession of building committees actively concerned with providing secondary school facilities since 1949 or before.

Our proposed high school will, if built, give us good secondary school facilities for decades to come—and this is the first of the secondary school building projects which have tormented the Town these past 20 years of which this can be said.

The October 16 decision is therefore one to be made with great care, not only because of the money but also because of the consequences to our schools and hence to our town. As one of those originally appointed to the Secondary School Subcommittee in 1963, I think the criteria set out by John E. Marshall, the distinguished educational consultant who surveyed our school building needs in 1964 for the Permanent Building Committee and the School Committee, are still basic to a sound decision on the question before the Town Meeting.

Dr. Marshall said that educational adequacy, economy and long-range soundness are the essential tests of a school building proposal. Dr. Marshall's adequacy, as applied to the senior high school, is primarily the degree to which the proposal permits improvement of the educational program.

"True economy," Dr. Marshall declared, "may relate to the adequacy with which the school serves education over the years; the ease for which it can be altered to meet new needs; and the ongoing costs of heating and lighting, operating and maintaining it for generations to come."

Long range soundness, Dr. Marshall advised, was a combination of adequate site and of building design to facilitate both later additions and internal rearrangements without undue disruption and later with reasonable economy.

The town accepted these criteria and, largely by them, elected to build a new school on a new site rather than to try to carry through any plan which would have utilized the present high school with various additions or Lynch with various additions or a combination of the high school and McCall with various additions. All of these would have produced an unsatisfactory educational answer to our housing needs; each would have involved building new junior high school facilities.

These standards and facts hold true today. We face a skyrocketing construction bill of huge proportions—but if we pay it we will have a good solution and one which will be good for generations to come. More delay or rejection of the project won't eliminate the need or its urgency, and probably won't save us money while they almost surely will cost us educational disadvantage. Nitpicking the plans and second-guessing the subcommittee won't change the facts that the new high school proposal is educationally adequate, economical when viewed as Dr. Marshall advised, and sound over the long range.

Sincerely yours,
Austin Broadhurst

LWV Sends Letter Supporting High School

Editor of the Star:

The following letter referring to the October 16 Town Meeting has been sent to members of the Town Meeting:

"The Winchester League of Women Voters asks you to vote the additional funds to build a new high school.

"In 1963 we began a two-year study of the question of high school space, and after considering a series of alternatives, reached a strong consensus in favor of a new school. At this later date, the need for a new high school building has become imperative.

"We commend the Permanent Building Committee and its subcommittee for the concise, factual report sent to the town. The competence and conscientiousness of these committees has been apparent at meetings that League members have attended as 'observers.' "It is our hope that Winchester will not deny an adequate, accredited high school education to its children because the price has gone up."

Sincerely yours,

Editor of the Star:

A major decision will be made tonight. Tomorrow may be too late for serious reflection. The people of Winchester, through their Town Meeting representatives, will take a step in the name of education, a step to the future. What kind of step will it be?

Destiny is more often the result of a deliberate choice of action rather than a passive acceptance of the status quo. At one time in history, a decision of the day in a town like Winchester had little bearing on the town and even less on the state. Tomorrow would come, and a day-by-day approach could be taken.

Not so today. Foresight and intelligent placement of values are the key to the future. The destiny of our boys and girls lies in good part in the hands of the voters tonight. Will the students of tomorrow have the opportunity to make a choice from among the best possible experiences as they plan for their future?

We, the teachers in the Winchester schools, ask that the voters think deeply about the decision that must be made. Teachers certainly wish to provide a sound and foresighted education. The answer, however, must come from the parents and voters of Winchester as they answer the question, "What is most important to the future of my son or daughter?"

Sincerely,
Milburn J. Dixon, President
Winchester Education Association

Compromise Suggested On New High School

Editor of the Star:

Tonight at our Special Town Meeting we will be voting on the appropriation of an "extra" sum of money for a new high school (Article 1).

We have heard from all of the proponents for the new school, now let's (the taxpayers) look at this a little more realistically.

The land for building in Winchester is getting scarce. Look around, how much bigger can our population grow? If there are any new apartment buildings, chances are they won't allow children, and I'm sure by now everyone's heard of the pill. These are a few reasons for a little foresight into this matter. The citizens of Winchester have heard the tune, "A new high school will be better for education in our town." A new glamorous building won't make your children any smarter. My philosophy is, if you want good education, you need good educators, and to get good educators you must pay them a decent salary. So, wouldn't it be better to pay higher salaries to attract better teachers for our children. Let's not wait till later and then hear the same old saying, "We can't afford it."

Now we'll look at what will happen if the money for the new school is voted in. Chances are there will be a referendum, the question will then go to the voters. If I recall, the last time this happened, the people voted in opposition to the town assembly (MEYCO). Every one can see you stand up at a Town Meeting, but behind that curtain...

We now have $10 million appropriated for a new building. Let's not lose the whole thing. Wouldn't a compromise be better? After all, a half a loaf is better than none. There is still plenty that can be done with our present high school, for much less money.

Tonight on the taxpayers' behalf I will vote against the "extra" $3 million for a new school. But any compromise for bettering our present site I will be in favor of.

WEA Endorses New School

Editor of the Star:

At a regular meeting held October 8, 1969, the Winchester Ecumenical Association voted to endorse the recommendation of the school building committee to rebuild the high school plans and to appropriate the additional funds needed to show the Town's support of the project. We trust the Town Meeting will vote positively on this recommendation so that the Committee can proceed with the building project.

Further delay in constructing the new building will only lead to higher costs, and a new building is needed because quality education requires adequate facilities. We hope the Town Meeting will recognize these factors and approve the Building Committee's recommendation.

Sincerely,
Winchester Ecumenical Association
Rev. Everett L. Waters
President
10 Lawrence Street

Thanks

Editor of the Star:

May I convey my sincere thanks through the media of your newspaper, to the Winchester Police, the Winchester Hospital, and to my friends and neighbors, for the immediate help and assistance rendered to my husband and myself when he was fatally stricken on Sunday, September 28th.

The action taken by the Board of Selectmen together with the Fire Department in lowering the Town Flag in my husband's honor is a memory that will always be cherished by me and my children.

Thank you sincerely,
Mrs. Harold W. Gaunt

Correction

In the League of Women Voters' 50th anniversary article which appeared in last week's (October 9) issue of the Star, a line was dropped from the story, causing it to read, "League members are encouraged to join and work for the party or candidate during the time that they serve on the League Board."

This should have read, "League members are encouraged to join and work for the party of their choice, but they may not be actively identified with party or candidate during the time that they serve on the League Board."

According to one member of the League, "There is nothing the League is more strict about than its non-partisanship and its absolute insistence that no one serving on the Board may actively support any political party or candidate. We're so fussy, that members resign from the Board even if their husbands become prominent in partisan politics."

Peace Day

John D. Elder of Arlington, acting director of field education at the Harvard Divinity School, was the speaker.

Mr. Elder was a peace candidate for the Congressional nomination in this district last year. Other Peace Day activities here included the circulation of a petition asking President Nixon for complete troop withdrawal within six months.

Also, letters were sent to all Winchester businessmen asking them to close their businesses for one hour yesterday to enable their employees to attend the ceremonies on the Common.

All churches in Winchester remained open yesterday for prayer and meditation. The Episcopal churchwomen sponsored a service of organ music by Carl Fudge from 1 to 2 p.m.

A report of the Peace Day activities will be presented tonight on WHSR-FM, the WHS radio station, during the intermission of the Town Meeting. WHSR-FM is at 91.9 megacycles on the FM band.

Joseph F. Bonasera, son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore J. Bonasera of 88 Sheridan Circle, a freshman at Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine, has joined Beta Theta Pi Fraternity at the College.

School Comm.

It was the feeling of Committee members Schroeder and Paul Del Rossi that this evaluation could be more carefully conducted, perhaps with funding from a presently unknown source. Mrs. Mary Mears of the Committee was opposed to bringing in "outsiders" to make this evaluation and would prefer to draw upon the knowledge of Winchester school administrators for the job.

Marycliff Move

Under matters on the Superintendent's report were plans for the moving of the administrative offices on Main Street to Marycliff. William F. Clark, Assistant Superintendent for Administrative Services, hopes that this will be completed by November 15. The amount budgeted for the move is $2,400, projected under "not otherwise categorized," bringing this account into the red by $328. The lease on the Main Street office has run out and this space is presently being rented on a month-to-month basis.

Action to be taken on the architect's drawings for Marycliff will probably be discussed at the next meeting of the School Committee, planned for Monday, October 27.

The Committee also voted to accept the Superintendent's recommendation to approve the proposal of the Citizens' Advisory Committee for reorganization. Professors Loring Thompson of Northeastern University, chairman of the C.A.C., and Stuart Groat of Boston University were present.

Under their proposal a Winchester Advisory Council on Education will be formed of 12 members drawn from both the academic and non-academic community in Winchester. This council will work with a consulting panel on education and with school administrators. They will have available to them a list of names of citizens, "a human resource file," who may be called upon to aid as advisors on curriculum matters. This would allow individuals to be consulted in their specific areas of knowledge and particular interest.

In other discussion the Committee desired to reaffirm their support of Superintendent Klemmer's statement citing absence from school on October 15 as "unexcused absence." Dr. Klemmer reported that eight of the 260 school teachers in the system had been given legal permission for leaves-of-absences on this day.

Speaking from the audience was Dr. Joel J. Alpert, who recognized the need for such administrative statements, but felt that it was "unfortunate" that a negative value was automatically placed upon the actions of students who stayed away from school on Moratorium Day.

Dr. Klemmer also announced that investigation into a storm warning answering service by the telephone company and private concerns was being conducted. He recommended that parents have an FM radio due to the fact that the administration intends to use the student radio station to broadcast such announcements.

The School Committee moved into executive session at the conclusion of items on its open agenda.

Att'y Gen'l

The Attorney General was elected last January. As the State's chief law officer, the Attorney General serves as legal counsel for the Commonwealth's constitutional officers and departments and as a lawyer for the people of Massachusetts.

Attorney General Quinn assumed the office of Attorney General after a career in the Massachusetts House of Representatives. He was elected Speaker of the House of Representatives in 1967, after having served as a representative since 1957.

A magna cum laude graduate of Boston College, he received his law degree from Harvard Law School in 1955.

During Attorney General Quinn's tenure in the House of Representatives, he was identified with a number of legislative matters, including the consolidating of tuberculosis hospitals in the state, the development of a Metropolitan Area Planning Council, and the establishment of a branch of the University of Massachusetts in Boston.

As Speaker of the House, he organized all legislative committees and appointed the chairman of each committee. He won the respect of his colleagues on both sides of the political aisle and earned the reputation of wielding the gavel in a manner which encouraged a fair exchange of views on vital issues.

A life-long resident of Dorchester, Attorney General Quinn is married to the former Claudia Pyne of Milford. They have three children: Andrea, Michael, and Elaine.

"The Board of Selectmen wish to convey to you its regrets that the Sisters of Christian Education are leaving Winchester. Marycliff Academy has been a credit to the community with its high educational standards.

"We are all very sorry that it became necessary for Marycliff Academy to discontinue. It is fitting that Marycliff will be used for educational purposes.

"The Board expresses its appreciation for the cooperation received by the members of your order concerned with the sale of this institution to the Town."

In other business, the Board discussed a request from St. Eulalia's Church for permission to hang signs for the church's Christmas bazaar. After discussion, the Board noted that it wished to discourage such sign hanging and denied the request. Jurors also were drawn. Included were John Van Dyke of 162 Forest Street, John McElwee of 3 Longfellow Road, Samuel Perkins II of 20 Ware Road, and Edith Nuttle of 12 Nathaniel Road.

The Board then moved into executive session for a meeting with the Personnel Board, Town Comptroller James Costello, and Town Moderator Harrison Chadwick.

Collective bargaining was the topic of the executive session.

After several months of discussion without reaching an agreement, the two groups had petitioned the American Arbitration Association to appoint a fact-finder. In May, the two sides began hearings before William J. Fallon of Boston, the appointed fact-finder.

Mr. Fallon returned his findings in early September, and after two meetings, the groups reached an agreement on the 1969 contract on September 30.

Included in the agreement are an annual salary of $8250 for a 48-hour week and provisions for reduction in the work week to 42 hours in 1972.

HOUSING FOR ELDERLY SURVEY WINCHESTER PUBLIC HOUSING STUDY COMMITTEE

The Winchester Public Housing Committee was established pursuant to Town Meeting action to study and consider public housing needs of the residents of Winchester with particular reference to public housing for elderly persons as defined by state law, and other matters related to public housing and housing authorities as the committee deemed advisable. The committee is required to file its report and recommendations at the next Town Meeting.

Essentially the committee will report on the question of need for public housing in Winchester, particularly for elderly persons. Your expression of opinion in this matter is earnestly solicited; the opinion of persons 62 years of age or over, is particularly important. Your opinion may be expressed by letter, or return of this advertisement with your views noted thereon.

GENERAL ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS FOR STATE AIDED ELDERLY HOUSING

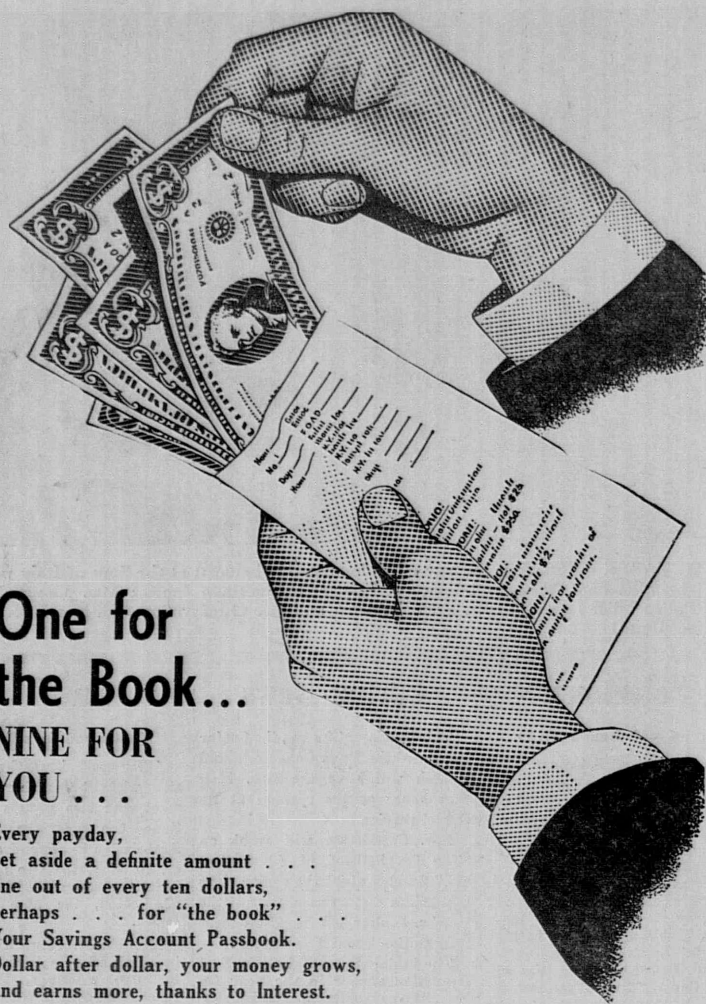

To be eligible for elderly housing a person must meet the following requirements:

1. A person must be 65 or over. Individuals or couples are eligible.
2. A person must be a United States citizen (except an alien who served in the armed forces of the United States or an alien eligible to receive Old Age Assistance.)
3. A person's income must not exceed $2500 for single person; $3000 for a couple.
4. A person must be in need of good housing.

If you are eligible and in need of this type of housing, or, if you have an opinion on this subject, please mail the coupon below, plus any comments to: Winchester Public Housing Study Committee, Town Hall, P.O. Box 341, Winchester, Mass.

Wyman Parents Informed About CONCERN Prog.

On a recent evening, in the Wyman School Auditorium, Dr. Donald McLean and three members of the Winchester High School Student Panel presented an information program on CONCERN to the Wyman Parents' Association.

The program, entitled "CONCERN — For Whom, For What, For Why?" was led by Dr. McLean who discussed what drugs are presently being used by teen-agers, their physical and emotional effects, as well as some reasons why teen-agers are using drugs.

Richard Beaton, Juvenile Officer for the Winchester Police Department, discussed the prevalence of drug usage by Winchester teen-agers, the relationship of drug use to runaways and crimes locally, and showed evidence of drug usage collected by the Police Department in various areas of town.

Mrs. William Bird then explained her reasons, as a parent for her active participation in the CONCERN program and recommended that all parents inform themselves concerning the effects, the signs and language of drug usage so that they may be alert for protection of and assistance to their own children.

The members of the Winchester High School Student Panel—Andrew Marcous, Student Council President; John Puffer, Senior Class President; and Justin O'Connor, Junior Class President—explained how the group was founded, their course of education on drug facts, and their method of passing this information on to fellow students.

The panel, joined by Mark Stoekle, president of the Ecumenical Youth Council, then opened the meeting to the many questions from the audience. In response to one such question, Dr. McLean explained that parents should become suspicious of drug usage by their children if the following changes are observed: (1) a switch to less desirable friends; (2) a substantial drop in academic achievement; (3) a poorer and more evasive relationship with parents; (4) a lack of motivation for physical or other extra-curricular activities; and (5) a lack of interest in personal appearance.

Mrs. James Barger, President of the Association, announced that Open House at both the Wyman Building and the Annex will be held on the evening of November 19th.

Mrs. Barger recommended that all parents make an appointment with the Principal of Muraco School to observe the educational plan of that school, in view of the fact that the Marycliff School, to which some Wyman children may be redistricted, will be operated on the same plan.

Mr. and Mrs. York Zetterberg of 37 Robinhood Road accepted the invitation of their daughter, Deborah, and Skidmore College, Saratoga Springs, New York, to attend Freshman Parents Day at the college on Saturday, October 11.

New Assistant Joins Family Service Center

The appointment of Miss Susan B. Jacobson of Brighton as social work assistant at the Northeast Family Service Center (Malden) of the Family Service Association of Greater Boston was announced recently by Miss Helen R. Taub, Director of the Center.

Miss Jacobson was graduated from the University of Wisconsin with a bachelor of arts degree in social work in June, 1969. During the summer of 1967, she worked as a nurse's aide at the Burke Rehabilitation Center in White Plains, New York.

The Northeast Center located at 29 Concord Street, Malden, helps many troubled families every year with marital problems, parent-child relationship difficulties, troubles with the elderly and their families, economic troubles and emotional and social adjustment problems, to name a few. The Center's main concern is to prevent family breakdown and to achieve positive family development.

Family Service Association of Greater Boston is a member of the United Community Services and shares in the Massachusetts Bay United Fund.

Foreign Footwear Seen As Threat By Mr. Macdonald

Congressman Torbert H. Macdonald (D-Mass.) recently chided the Nixon Administration for not taking positive action to stop the influx of foreign-made footwear.

In a statement submitted to the U.S. Senate Subcommittee on Small Business, which held hearings in Boston on the crisis in the footwear industry, Mr. Macdonald accused those who "simply hope and feel sympathetic" of being willing to trade "possible short-term gains for certain long-term losses."

"If we continue to ignore this situation," Macdonald stated, "we face the displacement of thousands more American workers and the reduction of domestic competition to a level where only the largest and most diversified companies can hope to survive."

Congressman Macdonald has petitioned the President in an effort to force executive action to remedy the unfair import advantage. The Congressman cited the loss of close to 4,000 jobs in the footwear manufacturing industry over the past year in Massachusetts alone as cause for "the gravest concern."

St. Mary's To Sponsor Tridium

A Renewal Tridium will be held in St. Mary's Church, Sunday through Tuesday, October 19 to 21 from 8:00 to 10:00 p.m. conducted by Father Frank McFarland.

FATHER FRANK MCFARLAND

Entitled "Three Days of Thinking Together," the Tridium will consist of a series of talks, instructions, panel discussions and question and answer sessions.

The purpose of the Tridium is to contribute to a clearer understanding of the Catholic faith, especially during these times of change and confusion. The talks and discussions will aim at helping Christians to discover their role in the Christian renewal of the 20th century and to carry that vocation from the church telescoping into the world.

St. Mary's Parish welcomes back Father Frank McFarland, who will conduct the program. The Renewal Tridium will be the first of a series of sessions for the adults of the parish. A lecture program, entitled "Thursday Think-In," has been planned for the coming year.
Such topics as the new morality, faith and doubt, religious education of the young, prayer and liturgy will be discussed.

All are cordially invited to attend the Renewal Tridium.

Children To Go To Heritage Day From St. Mary's

David Burns and Clare Hurley have been chosen by class members to represent St. Mary's School at the Massachusetts Heritage Day celebration which takes place this year at Tantasqua Regional High School and Old Sturbridge Village.

Children from all over the Commonwealth will follow the theme of the day, "Liberty Under Law," reporting back to their classes on the events of the day.

Friends Group Needs Workers

The executive board of the Friends of the Orchestras and Bands met recently to plan the organization's activities for the coming year.

All parents of members of the junior and senior high school bands or orchestras are automatically members of the Friends of the Orchestras and Bands. The parents meet at the High School with Mr.
Withington and Mr. Murray in the fall and again in the spring. The Friends offer moral and financial support to the programs of the young people in the music department.

One of the most important projects begins in the fall when the Friends staff the Chuck Wagon for all home football games. This year there are four home games: October 18, November 1, November 8, and November 27. Hotdogs, popcorn, coffee, cold drinks, ice cream, etc. are sold, and profits go toward new uniforms and instruments, and pay for the sweaters or jackets which are awarded as gifts to Seniors completing their third year in the band or orchestra. Also, the Friends assist with the band's annual spring exchange concerts.

The running of the concessions at the football games is a big project and many workers are needed to operate efficiently. At least ten people are needed to work at each game. Every band and orchestra parent is urged to help, and also welcome are volunteers from the townspeople. If you are willing to help, please call Mrs. Porter, 729-5463 or Mrs. Carpenter, 729-0680.

LAY INTERFAITH PROGRAM

On Sunday evening, October 19, at 7:00, there will be a program of interfaith discussions at the Church of the Epiphany. The first part of the meeting will consider interfaith discussion groups as a means to help Christians to a better understanding of one another's viewpoints. Following that, Dr. Donald E. McLean, Dr. Donald A. Klemer, Mr. Paul F. Amico, and Rev.
Everett L. Waters will appear on a panel responding to questions arising from group discussions of issues facing the community, and means of channeling group interest into community action. The program is sponsored by the Winchester Ecumenical Association. Attendance is open to all who are interested.

"Exploring" Directed To Young Men

The first organization meeting of the Minuteman Council, Boy Scouts of America, Exploring Committee was held recently under the direction of John H. Hosmer Jr. of Medford, chairman, at the Winchester Country Club.

Exploring, the new up-dated program for high school young adults, has been designed to serve the needs of young men of this age. Last spring the Minuteman Council Executive Board voted to add the Exploring Committee as a new part of its total organization in serving all boys. This meeting is the direct result of this action.

The Exploring Committee on both the Council and District levels will be divided into two areas of service to Explorer Posts: The first is Sales and Training to organize new units and to train leaders of Explorer Posts and the second is Service and Program.

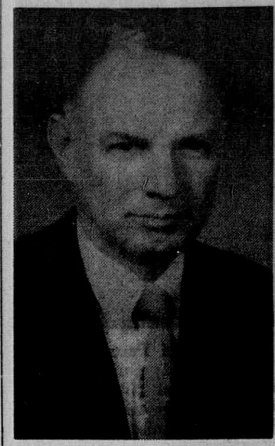

Both of these sub-committees will serve in all areas related to Explorer Posts, including the administration of the total program, the growth and service of Exploring and the effective support and promotion of this new and relevant teen-age program.

The first activity planned by this Exploring Committee under the direction of Mr. Hosmer will be the Explorer Conference on Thursday evening, October 23, at the American Mutual Insurance Company, Wakefield. Further plans will be presented as developed.

Other members serving on this Exploring Committee are: Robert Breviglieri of Medford, Homer O. Blair of Lexington, James F. Jefferson of Winchester, Robert Oelwang of Burlington, Howard Niblock of Winchester and Lt. Allan Cole of L. G. Hanson Field, Bedford. Serving as advisors to the Committee are: Adolf Andersen Jr., the field director, and Daniel P. Johnson, the Scout executive of the Minuteman Council.

Mr. Wells Named To Newly Created Office At Tufts

Tufts University has appointed Public Relations Director William H. Wells of 13 Madison Avenue, director of community relations to coordinate and direct the University's efforts to work with the Medford and Somerville communities in which it is located.

Duette Photographers

WILLIAM H. WELLS

Tufts' President Burton C. Hallowell said the appointment emphasizes the University's commitment to the two cities.

He said the move will give individuals and organizations in the communities a specific office to look to in seeking information and assistance and would provide coordination of the many community-oriented activities now underway.

Mr. Wells, who continues as Director of Public Relations, currently is matching the needs and desires of the communities against resources of the University.

"Our greatest resources are our students and faculty, and our task is to increase and enrich their contributions to the communities," Dr. Hallowell said. "By this new appointment we hope to focus the full resources of the University community on giving service to our host cities."

Mr. Wells graduated in 1942 from Tufts and in 1948 from Columbia School of Law. A Marine Corps veteran of World War II, he is a former Boston Globe and Boston Herald-Traveler reporter.

He was administrative officer and legal service officer for Action for Boston Community Development (ABCD) and from 1962-1965, after which he assumed directorship of Tufts' public relations office.

Mr. Wells, since 1965, has been a consultant and technical assistance specialist for the Office of Economic Opportunity Legal Service Program.

He and his wife, Patricia, live in Winchester with their six children.

Lynch Students Pick Officers With Voting Machines

A voting machine was used to conduct class elections by over 200 ninth graders from Lynch Junior High School on Thursday, October 9.

Set up in the Noonan School through the courtesy of Mrs. Elsie Nelson, Town Clerk and registrar of voters, the machine was used to elect President, Wendy Irving; Vice President, Kenneth Abbott; and Secretary-Treasurer, Michele Graffeo; of the ninth grade class.

Voter turnout exceeded national percentage figures at 79%, or 170 out of a possible 224. Voting was entirely voluntary as it is for an adult citizen. National election procedures were followed in order to familiarize the students with the method of casting a ballot. Tellers were students Ellen De Sanctis and Holly James and Keith Bonn was the warden who officiated at the election.

Under the sponsorship of the Social Studies teachers at Lynch and based on the suggestion of Principal Gardner Handy, the voting project began with primaries conducted at the school by paper ballot on October 1. The slate was narrowed down to two candidates for each office for voting machine use.

A referendum question was also included asking "Should students selected by officers be allowed to monitor behavior during period five lunch so that the flexible lunch arrangement can be retained. (i.e. No assigned seats). The returns on the question were Yes, 106; No, 22. This now gives the officers a reading on the feelings of the class in the event that they decide to appoint monitors.

Students were dismissed early from school to enable them to vote at the nearby elementary school and still be able to get their bus transportation. While watching at the polling place, Assistant Principal David Tenney, reported student distress with the delay of standing in line. It was agreed that perhaps the long interval was the result of some students (as in the case of many adult voters) who didn't make up their minds until they closed the curtains behind them. The majority of students, according to an election observer, appeared to understand the process and take less time to vote than most adults do.

Tickets Scarce For Policemen's Annual Concert

Available tickets for the Annual Concert of the Winchester Police Association to be held on Wednesday, November 5 in the Senior High School Memorial Auditorium are nearly depleted, according to Senior Identification Officer Joseph N. Perritano, chairman of the Concert and Entertainment Committee.

Others assisting him on this committee are Sergeant Robert A. Elliott, treasurer; and Officer Henry L. Cogan Jr., president.

Anyone desiring tickets should contact the Police Department or its staff members. Contributions are used to fund the annual social event and for the Winchester Police Relief Association.

Buddy Dog Humane Society Plans Auction

Fall foliage and rustic New England as exemplified by the grounds of Longfellow's Wayside Inn in Sudbury (Route 20) will form the backdrop for an old-fashioned country auction on Saturday, October 18th, 10 a.m. to dusk.

A snack and luncheon bar, a table of home-made baked goods and a variety of white elephant bargains will augment the auction, which benefits the Buddy Dog Humane Society, the non-profit organization dedicated to finding homes for orphan dogs.

Winchester residents serving on the committee include Mrs. Norman Weeks, Mrs. John Akeson, Mrs. George Connor, Mrs. John Clarke and Mrs. Fred Cardin.

Replacement Of Cables Being Done

The Winchester Fire Department is presently employed in replacing a 35-year-old cable running underground from the Town Hall to Westley Street, a distance of approximately one-half mile.

The present cable, which is broken and contains three pairs of wires, is being substituted with one of five pairs of wire. The work will take two to three weeks to complete.

Next year the Fire Department will continue another one-half mile up Washington Street, from Westley to Forest Streets.

Fire Alarm Superintendent John J. Regan, his assistant Charles Moran and other members of the Department are working on the project.

Lynch Tea Rescheduled For Tuesday

The parent-faculty tea at Lynch Junior High School, originally planned for October 14, is being given on Tuesday, October 21 at 3 p.m.

The Lynch Associates regret any inconvenience this change in dates may have caused, and cordially welcomes all parents on the new date.

Miss Elaine Shiang, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Si Ta Shiang of 45 Yale Street, received freshman honors at the opening convocation held recently at Wellesley College, Wellesley.

Reservations Are Available For Hospital Ball

Reservations for the Friends of the Winchester Ball to be held for one night only, on Saturday, October 18, at 9 p.m. in the Indoor Lawn Tennis Center, 41 East Street, are still available.

All persons are invited to attend. Table reservations may be made for couples as well as groups.

Mrs. Roland Robison and Mrs. James Maxwell are co-chairmen of this event.

Mrs. William Zettler is in charge of the floor arrangements and Dan Dorsey will help on her committee.

Reservations may still be made with Mrs. Malcolm Wilkinson, 729-6586, or Mrs. Donald Redpath, 729-6143.

Mr. Pearl Made Man Of Month At Acacia Mutual

Raymond E. Pearl of 9 Wellington Road has been selected Man of the Month at Acacia Mutual Life Insurance Company in Boston for his outstanding achievements in sales during the month of September and October, it was recently announced by Frank J. DeLeo, branch manager.

The honor is bestowed to the top salesman in the region on a national competitive basis. Mr. Pearl this year celebrated his 30th anniversary with Acacia Mutual Life of Washington, D.C. Throughout the years he has been one of the Company's leading agents.

Mr. Pearl resides with his wife, Dorothy, on Wellington Road.

Former Area Man, Herb Clement, Is "Zoo Man" Author

Herb Clement, of New York formerly of 353 Cambridge Street, is the author of a first book, "Zoo Man," a behind-the-scenes report of zoo life as seen by this animal keeper.

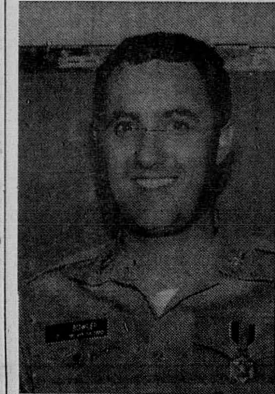

In his preface Mr. Clement writes, "But this is not a technical book. In it I scale no scientific heights, nor did I intend to. It is a simple recounting of my zoo experiences, interesting enough, I hope, to be read by both amateur and professional."

The variety of animals treated here span the collection found in any zoo. For Mr. Clement it is always a first-name relationship and one based almost entirely upon personalities.

Formerly a keeper at the Franklin Park Children's Zoo in Boston, he is presently at the Staten Island Zoo in New York. He joined the Children's Zoo in its second year, therefore, being present in its early stages. Mr. Clement remarks, "Luckily it was not a children's zoo featuring 'little furry friends.' (Otherwise I should still be stuck with guinea pigs!)"

Stating that 50 per cent of zoo work is really involved with people, he further comments, "Very little of what I have learned about animals has come from my human superiors. Instead, I have learned from teachers who cannot understand an incorrect answer, and who are scaled, furred or feathered." This book is his written statement of that knowledge.

"Zoo Man" is in its first printing and is published by Macmillan Company, Collier-Macmillan Ltd., London.

Barrington — Somerby

In the Wellesley College Chapel, Wellesley, Miss Gail Louise Somerby of New York City, daughter of Mrs. R. A. Somerby of 247 Washington Street, was married to Thomas Anthony Barrington of New York City, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Barrington of Enniskerry, County Wicklow, Ireland in a ceremony held on Saturday, October 11 at 1 p.m.

MRS. THOMAS J. BARRINGTON
Father Eugene Bondi presided over the service which was followed by a reception at the Wellesley College Club.

Given in marriage by her brother, Robert A. Somerby, the bride wore an ivory silk organza gown with accents of white Alencon lace.

Matron of honor was Mrs. William S. Hurley of New York City, who chose a full-length empire-waisted gown in moss green.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Stuart M. Peters of New York City and Miss Frances Ferguson of New Haven, Connecticut. They were attired as the matron of honor.

Having the honor of best man was Colm Barrington of Enniskerry. Attending as ushers were Liam Shortall and Bryan Gaynor, both of New York City, and Thomas Bieler of Knoxville, Tennessee.

Mrs. Barrington is a graduate of Wellesley College with its bachelor of arts degree, 1967 and is presently attending Columbia University where she is studying for a master of science degree in urban planning.

Mr. Barrington received his bachelor's and master of arts degrees from University College, Dublin, Ireland, and his master of science in urban planning, 1969 from Columbia University. He is employed as an urban planner.

Following their wedding trip, the couple are residing in New York City.

Kiley-Matierne

St. Clements Episcopal Church of Berkeley, California, was the setting for the recent marriage of Miss Gayle Cecile Matierne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Matierne of Lafayette, California, formerly of Winchester, and Richard Vincent Kiley Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard V. Kiley of 70 Fletcher Street.

MRS. RICHARD VINCENT KILEY JR.

A garden reception was held under the oak trees at the Lafayette home of the bride's parents.

The bride wore an ivory silk and French Chantilly rosepoint lace gown. A tiara of matching lace held an English net illusion veil, and she carried a bouquet of gladioli, stephanotis and roses.

Miss Stacey A. Matierne was the maid of honor for her sisters, and other attendants were Mrs. Paul F. Gleason of Winchester and Miss Prudence A. Ward of Cambridge.

Richard V. Kiley was the best man for his son. Ushers were Paul F. Gleason of Winchester and the bride's brother, Earl J. Matierne Jr.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Kiley are Boston University alumni.

After a wedding trip by automobile across the country, the couple are settled in an apartment in Cambridge.

Sachems Trounce Cantabs In Final Meeting By 52-8

by John F. Parrell

WITH THE GAME SEWED UP last Saturday, the Sachem regulars took to the sidelines and let the reserves complete the 52-8 victory. Here some of the regulars watch the closing minutes of play. (Bob Joyce photo)

The final meeting between the Sachems and Cambridge Latin resulted in an overwhelming victory for the local team with the final score reading 52-8. The addition of Woburn and Watertown to the Middlesex League next season will allow no scheduling of non-league opponents.

The result came as a surprise because only last week the Cantabs had played well while beating Newton South which usually fields top notch Class B teams.

Winchester started out in whirlwind fashion and played possession football for the first eight minutes during which they scored two quick touchdowns while limiting the home team to just a half dozen plays from scrimmage.

They maintained the same pace in the second quarter and even though the reserves began to appear in the third session the scoring continued. The last quarter saw mostly sophomores on the field and the final points were scored.

Latin tallied on a well directed drive in the second period. Coach Manny Marshall cleared his bench as 44 players appeared under Winchester colors with only the sick and injured not in action. The sidelined quintet were Rich Cantillon, John Tello, Tom Riley, Pete Hallissey and Tim Styles.

Cambridge Latin lost the services of highly capable John Campbell at center and their all around ace back Keith Barnett left after playing a fine game both on offense and defense. Captain John Cavallaro did some effective carrying and Kevin Clark was on the receiving end of several passes.

However, the other backs contributed little to the offense and the defense did not have much success in hurrying Sachem Co-Capt. Mike Gilberti's passes or in consistently stopping the Sachem ground game. However, the Cambridge boys never ceased trying and they were well received (by their loyal rooters) as they left the field.

Sparse Crowd

The game was played at Russell Field, North Cambridge before a very sparse, but enthusiastic crowd of less than 2,000. Coming on the heels of the overflow crowd at last week's game in Stoneham, it was quite a marked contrast. However, the field is in the extreme outskirts of the city and not too readily accessible and large cities like Somerville and Cambridge do not have the adult interest which is so intense in smaller and more compact communities.

Ben Dolan took the opening kickoff at his own 25 and bowled his way out to the 47 before hitting the ground. Mike Deshler made five and on the second play Joe Campo had a first down at the Latin 43. Gilberti fired a pass to Bill Wolfe for seven and Mike Deshler added another but Winchester had a break as a 15 yard penalty advanced the ball to the home team's 15. Dolan picked up nine on two carries and Deshler had a first down at the four.

The next play saw a Sachem fumble with the ball going over to the Cantabs as Campbell pounced on it. The first play saw Latin back to the one on an offside and then there was no advance on the next try. Bob Johnson made a quick kick which came on second down and caught the locals flat-footed and the ball rolled dead at the 43.

Hard running by Mike Deshler netted 27 yards and a first down at the 16. Three plays advanced the ball only three yards but Co-Captain Gilberti skirted right end to the goal to put Winchester ahead 6-0 and Ben Dolan booted the first of four placekicks to make it 7-0.

Captain Cavallaro took the kickoff at the 15 and was stopped cold by Paul Stevens at the 22. Three passes by Barnett failed with both Joe Campo and Phil Sampson narrowly missing interceptions. After the punt to the Winchester 40, Joe Campo broke away to the Cantab 32 and Gilberti hit sophomore end Dana Peterson for another first down at the nine. Campo then went called for pass interference and the Cantabs had a first down at the 20. Once again Barnett broke away for a good run and a first down at the seven before Phil Sampson and Pete Wardwell halted him. Paul Stevens hit him hard for a seven yard loss but the wily Cantab field general threw a well-executed aerial to Kevin Clark who snared it at the one foot line.

Hard Running

Dolan's kick was taken by the hard running, hip twisting Mr. Barnett at the five and he came back out to the 31. Offside play necessitated another kick and this time Barnett got a yard further before he was thrown hard by Bill Gannon and John Procopio. At this point Barnett's passing was off the target and a punt to the Winchester 30 was made by Bob Johnson.

The first play resulted in an eight yard loss and two incomplete passes forced a punt as the second period opened. Gilberti toed it well to the Latin 40.

Two incomplete passes and one rush which netted two were followed by an offside penalty and the home team was again in a kicking situation. Bob Johnson's boot was taken by Mike Deshler at his own 24. A pass to Bill Wolfe for seven and a loss of one by Campo were followed by a first down at the Cambridge 31 on a tackle breaking jaunt by Courtney West.

Ben Dolan lugged the ball twice and it was first down at the 20. Joe Campo made a nice completion of a pass from Gilberti at the five and on the third play Dolan plunged over and then added the extra point as the scoreboard showed Winchester in the lead 22-0.

At this point the Cambridge boys put together their only sustained attack of the afternoon. Johnson ran from his ten to the 26 with the kickoff and once again Bill Gannon was there to stop him. Captain John Cavallaro made four and then Barnett danced his way through the Winchester secondary for a first down at the 38. An eight yard gain was followed by a short loss as Noel Webb stopped Johnson in his tracks.

On the next play Winchester was tabbed as very dangerous. Gary Neal carried twice and netted only a loss of three yards as Gannon and Jim Grenier dropped him. At this point the final whistle ended the action.

The Sachems won an impressive victory but in doing so they did not play their best football. The coaches were pleased with the win but not elated as there were many errors of omission and commission not only on the part of the reserves but some by the regulars.

They plan to work the boys hard this week to iron out these points before the important game with Lexington at Manchester Field on Saturday afternoon. The boys from the historic town will be looking for any possible slips on the part of Winchester and they would like nothing better than to upset the Sachems in their Middlesex League title defense.

Deshler at the Winchester 45. Courtney West and Dolan carried and it was first down at the Latin 43.

On the second play Co-Captain Gilberti, aided by several good blocks, brought the ball to the eight yard mark. At this point the Sachems were given the ball at the one yard line as pass interference was called. Courtney West tallied and Lee Horn completed a pass for two more points and it was 44-8.

At this stage many of the more unfamiliar varsity players took the field and on the ensuing kickoff Clark was buried at the 25 as at least four of these eager boys were in on the play. Deshler intercepted a long Cantab bomb near midfield and on the first play John Procopio had a first down at the 39. Three plays netted only four yards but Larry Weller hurled a strike to Tom James for a first down and a penalty took the pick-six to the home team's 12.

John McHugh made a first down at the one but on the next play the ball rolled loose in the end zone and Bill Gannon came up with it for a touchdown which is an unusual experience for a sophomore guard to have. Don Rotundi coraled a pass for the final two points.

Reserves

By this time the reserves were rapidly being replaced by the sophomores and these boys gained valuable experience in the closing minutes. The home team was also playing many new boys and failed to gain much so punted deep into Winchester territory. Bob Wolfe ran well on two plays and it was first down at the 36. On one of these he was sprung loose as Bill Gannon was again in the right spot. Jim Sleeper intercepted a pass at the 45 to end the offensive threat.

Paul DeLuca and Jim Ulwick stopped the next play for a five yard loss. After the punt Bob Wolfe came up with some more hard running for a first down at the 27. A flurry of passes fell incomplete and a punt was brought back by Bob Johnson to the 35. This was just about the best gain made in the whole game by the scrappy little back who had been

WHS Plans "School-Career Explo" At High School Auditorium Oct. 22

Two computer terminals will add interest and advice at Winchester High's "School-Career Explo II" on Wednesday, October 22, at 7:30 p.m.

One is a career exploration bank, designed to match student and skills with job suggestions. The other is a college suggestion system. A student feeds the machine his choice of college size, geographical location, whether co-ed or not, private or public, and his major interest, and the outcome is a list of colleges matching the student's specifications.

Person-to-person advice for students will be plentiful as well. Last week's Star described the many career choices which will be exhibited and discussed by representatives. The following will send a member of their professional staff to confer with students interested in further academic work:

British Tatoo Is Sponsored By Residents

Several Winchester residents are sponsors of the colorful British Tatoo and Tattoo coming to Boston Garden from London on November 20 to give a benefit performance for the International Friendship League, which assists its program of introducing young Americans to young people throughout the world for life-long personal letter exchanges.

These Winchester sponsors are Dr. and Mrs. David Ashton, Miss Blanche E. Eaton, Mrs. James L. Jenks Jr., Mrs. John J. Mahoney and Mrs. Alexander R. George.

Tickets are available at the headquarters of the International Friendship League on Mt. Vernon Street, Boston.

The newly appointed Consul General of Her Majesty, Miss Leonora Storar, will represent Queen Elizabeth II at this gala occasion and will occupy the Royal box. The program, including the Royal Scots Greys which will feature the personal piper of the Queen, who appeared on TV recently in "The Queen's Story" with others of his regiment, will include the Gordon Highlanders in addition to 300 of her Majesty's troops.

Also coming is "Charles" the world famous dog, holder of the Dickin Medal, the Victoria Cross of dogdom, with others in the Royal Canine Corps.

MISS PAMELA A. MACCORMACK was nominated by her classmates as a candidate for '69 homecoming queen at Nassau College in Springfield, Maine. Miss MacCormack, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward MacCormack of 17 Ardley Place, was one of eight coeds who competed for the honor of reigning over the homecoming festivities on the weekend of October 9 through 12. Pamela is a senior in psychology. She is 21 years old. She and the other candidates took part in a judging ceremony on October 9.

EXCLUSIVE: Meredith Neck, New Hampshire: Gentleman's country farmhouse and barn, ideal for retirement or an excellent summer or weekend retreat, situated on 1½ acres of land with many pines and one with a large fieldstone fireplace, family-sized dining room, new kitchen in 1968 with dishwasher, washing machine and dryer. Nice three-car barn. Most of the rooms have a view of the water and the mountains beyond. Completely furnished and ready for occupancy at $38,900. Call today, we will be glad to show it to you.

Duplicate Bridge Club

The Sitting Challenge Bowl will be the prize on Wednesday, October 22nd, in the Married Couples Championship. This is always a pleasant occasion. Irene and Carl Sittlinger, donors of the bowl, are charter members of the Club and have contributed greatly over many years with their fine bridge playing, pleasant companionship and willing work.

Section A on Wednesday, October 8th, featured a close race North-South; four matched pairs reached the finish line almost simultaneously with Gay Schreiber and Guy Mingolelli the winners. Only a 1½ point spread in four places!

North-South
Gay Schreiber and Guy Mingolelli 91
Ellen Schofield and Ida Finlay 90½
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Salani 90
Polly Wheelock and Gerald Barrett 89½
Mr. and Mrs. William Duryea 85½

East-West
Elodie Flewelling and Clarence Woodward 100
Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sanderson 95½
Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith 94½
Stephen Haseltine and Carl Galante 82½

There was a surprising abundance of 60% games in Section B. Tom Barry and Don Howard produced one North-South to win, and there were four East-West with Charles Richardson and Steve Chiotellis the highest.

North-South

Tom Barry and Don Howard 647
Norman Houlding and Leo Gonsalves 598
Nancy Atkinson and Don Delgrego 578
Eleanor Mansfield and Enid Houlding 513

East-West
Charles Richardson and Stephen Chiotellis 666
Richard Tietch and Guy Bridga 639
Anthony Ferdinand and Edmund Joyce 633
Rose Hickey and Lillian Sheridan 611

Despite the current discussion of scientific bidding systems versus standard American and the infinite number of books available on specific techniques, so often the guess in play boils down to a pure guess. And before you shriek "Heresy," please listen to my tale. The other evening I was playing a seven no trump contract which depended on not losing a club trick with the cards arranged as follows:

North: A K J 7 2
South: 10 8 4 3

The problem of course is "Do you finesse for the Queen or play the Ace and King hoping the clubs break 2-2?"

Sometimes of course you can play the other suits and gain a count on the hand, but in this case with only two diamonds in each hand, this was impossible.

So I finally played the Ace and King, and the Queen did not drop. Down one on the hand.

The really interesting part came later in the same evening when a famous woman player had the identical problem in a seven no trump contract. Again she had to set up the club suit without losing a trick and the distribution was:

North: A K 10 6 4 3
South: 8 7 2

The original lead was the Queen of clubs which was of course taken by the Ace. On the second round of the suit the eight was led from South, the nine being played by West. Now do you finesse or play the King?

After considerable thought, South decided it was more likely West had led from Q J 9 than from Q 9, and she finessed the ten-spot, losing to East's Jack, going down one.

Editor's note: It's comforting to know the experts can guess wrong too.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Leland and guests Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Holmes were the winners in the final round of the team-of-four games held in the homes of members. In second spot was the team of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Atkinson and guests Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Keil.

Boston "Y" To House Craft Show

On Saturday, October 18 beginning at 9 a.m. the Aleene Craft Gallery will be presented at the Huntington Y.M.C.A., Boston.

This one man show consisting of seven one-hour shows will feature new designs and techniques on the latest in leisure time activities. Free tickets to this demonstration are available at The Creative Workshop, 39 Shore Road.

Mrs. Aleene Eckstein of Aleene's of California, a craft book publishing firm, will appear on WHDH-TV on Friday, October 17 at 9:30 a.m. She will give the public an idea of what is new in hobbies and crafts.

Junior Circle To Present Fall Concert

On Friday evening October 24th, the Winchester Junior Circle of the Florence Crittenton League is sponsoring a concert, "Autumn Leaves," by the male double quartet, "The Two by Fours." Les Troubadours, a Winchester High School singing group, will also perform during the program.

The "Two by Fours" are known for their novel musical arrangements and informal style of presentation. Each performance has a change of pace and moments of comedy. Their repertoire includes old favorites of the 20's, spirituals, ragtime, college harmonies, and modern rhythms.

The "Two by Fours" began entertaining New England audiences in 1953. They are professional and business men from the Greater Boston area, each having musical experience with school and college glee clubs, community choruses, choirs and amateur theatricals.

The concert will begin at 8:30 p.m. in the High School Auditorium. Cider and doughnuts will be on sale during intermission. Adult or student tickets may be purchased by telephoning Mrs. Mortimer Buckley at 729-7895 or by stopping at McCormack's Apothecary.

Community School Assn. Meeting

The October meeting of the Community School Association of Winchester was held last week at the home of its president, Mrs. Robert T. Grainger of 42 Highland Avenue.

Mrs. Nolan T. Jones of 22 Squire Road, coordinator for the Citizens for a New High School, spoke of the possible need for volunteers as poll watchers, neighborhood canvassers and monetary supporters in the event a referendum is called.

Mrs. Kilmer McCully of 15 Wildwood Street, vice president and education chairman of C.S.A. has been attending School Committee meetings for a number of months. She feels that it would be desirable for the education chairman or a member of her committee from each chapter to attend each School Committee meeting.

In many instances a revision of chapter by-laws will be necessary to create the education chairman role. In other instances, the vice president already serves as education chairman. Mrs. McCully sees this participation as a permanent broadening of the role of C.S.A. within the town, and is interested in promoting optimum communication between the School Committee and the parents of school children.

Play

The annual play sponsored by Community School Association will this year be held on Saturday, March 21. Produced by the Emerson College Players, this year's drama will be "The Undiscovered King," based on the King Arthur legend.

Kit Demonstration

Mrs. Grainger gave a demonstration of the contents of a "Maps and Globes" kit prepared last year by volunteers. The original materials were developed by curriculum writers at the Muraco School where they were field tested last year.

Kit preparation involves duplicating these materials to provide valuable learning tools for an entire class. The kits are then rotated on teacher request from one school to another. Two science kits will be ready for revision by November 1. Volunteers may contact Mrs. Carleton Luke at 729-1752.

Winchester Trails

Miss Debbie Harrison of 47 Yale Street is seeking volunteers to accompany teachers and elementary school students around Smith Pond this month. Pre-tour workshops can be scheduled, and sifter or transportation problems can be solved, according to Miss Harrison. She can be reached for further information at 729-2248.

Handbooks Completed

Mrs. William Fallon of 1 Chestnut Terrace, announced the completion of the standardized elementary school handbook which is being used by the Noonan, Parkhurst and Washington Schools this year. A printed version of this handbook will be available to the entire system next year, a move which will save much duplication of effort.

Mr. Bennink Serving On United Fund

Richard E. Bennink of 16 Yale Street, vice president and treasurer of the Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Company, Boston, is serving as chairman, west section, of the Advance Gifts Division of Massachusetts Bay United Fund, according to Charles F. Adams, chairman of Raytheon Company and UP campaign head. He has served in several previous campaigns in various positions.

RICHARD E. BENNINK

A graduate of Harvard College, he was also graduated from Stonier Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers.

Mr. Bennink is a member of the Boston Chamber of Commerce and the Downtown Club. Other civic activities include director and member of Executive Committee of Winchester Hospital, secretary-treasurer of fund for Preservation of Wildlife and Natural Areas, and vice president and trustee of Boy's and Girl's Camps, Inc.

He is a retired Commander, USNR, and served in the U.S. Navy from 1941-1946.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennink have a daughter and two sons.

Heart Fund Gifts Honor Residents

Deceased friends and relatives of residents of Winchester honored by memorial gifts to the Heart Fund during the past four months were announced recently by Dr. Harrison Black, president of the Greater Boston Chapter of the Massachusetts Heart Association.

Any sum may be given as a memorial through the Greater Boston Chapter of the Heart Association at 677 Beacon Street, Boston 02215.

Those honored by Heart Fund memorials were: Bessie Bellows, Vincent R. Caputo, Edgar W. Funk, Tancif Garabedian, Philomena Gri-ci, Mabel Harmon, George Kelley, James J. McDougal, George Morrow, Roberta S. Polleys, George Sturtevant, Harison Wagner, Walter Winship, Edna A. Wood.

Michael Saraco Is Named Vice-President, Health Officers

Michael Saraco, director of the Winchester Board of Health, was named vice-president of the Massachusetts Health Officers Association at its annual conference held recently in Lenox.

Mr. Saraco previously served as secretary of the Association for three years and had been active in other endeavors of the group.

One of the subjects discussed at the conference was "The Use and Abuse of Harmful Drugs." Included on the panel discussing the topic were Winchester Sergeant Inspector James J. Cogan and Juvenile Officer Richard Beaton. Dr. George A. Michaels, director of food and drugs of the State Department of Public Health, also served on the panel.

Sgt. Cogan and Officer Beaton spoke for two hours during the program. Their talk entailed some of their experiences in combating the situation; duties of the police officers with local organizations also working on the problem; and what health officers can do in their communities to assist in the work of organizations toward a containment of the use and abuse of harmful drugs. Mr. Saraco and his wife, Gladys, reside at 34 Farrow Street.

Packaging

All articles should be packed in boxes of wood, metal, solid fiberboard, or strong double faced corrugated fiberboard. All fiberboard boxes should be securely wrapped in heavy paper which materially strengthens the package. Each box should be well tied with strong cord. Sufficient cushioning material should be used to prevent any rattling or loosening of articles within the package. Unless tightly filled, boxes are likely to be crushed.

A slip showing list of contents and name and address of sender and addressee should be enclosed in the parcel. Custom declarations are required on parcels to many destinations and Forms 2966 and Form 2976A must be completed by the sender and attached to the package.

School Comm. Sets Agenda For Meeting

The School Committee will discuss a recommendation on the high school open campus plan at its meeting Monday, October 27 at 7:30 p.m. in the McCall Junior High School Library, according to an announcement from Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Donald A. Klemmer.

Also to be discussed at the meeting is a plan for substitute calling for principals. School Committee members who attended the Massachusetts School Committees Association conference last week will report on the conference at the Monday meeting.

A report will also be presented on an initial investigation of programmed budgeting following a recent visit to the Darien, Connecticut public schools.

tached to the parcel. Mailers should check with their local post office on parcels to be mailed to see if forms are required.

Prohibited Articles

In addition to the articles normally prohibited in the mails, matches of all kinds and lighter fluid may not be mailed to overseas military addresses. Cigarettes, other tobacco products, coffee, and various other items are prohibited in parcels addressed to some military post offices.

Kiwanis Club Sponsors Clinic To Diagnose Possible Defects

The Winchester Kiwanis Club has announced the following schedule for all four and five year old pre-school children in Winchester, who wish to partake in the free Speech and Hearing Diagnostic Clinic.

On the following days and at the prescribed schools, during the week of November 3 through November 7 there will be a screening of all four and five year old pre-school children for speech and hearing defects:

Monday, November 3, from 1:00-3:30 p.m., at the Wyman School

Tuesday, November 4, from 1:00-3:30 p.m., at the Muraco School

Wednesday, November 5, from 1:00-3:30 p.m., at the Parkhurst School

Thursday, November 6, from 1:00-3:30 p.m., at the Washington School

Friday, November 7, from 1:00-3:30 p.m., at the Mystic School

This will be the final notice given to parents: Bring the four or five year old, pre-school children to the designated school in the community area on the day assigned between 1:00-3:30 p.m.

Dr. Donald J. Senna, chairman of the free clinic states that last year over 600 children were tested. Many defects in speech and hearing were detected and screened for proper treatment.

Law Authorizes Non-Profit Clubs' Raffles, Bazaars

The Massachusetts Legislature recently passed a law authorizing certain organizations to conduct raffles and bazaars.

In an announcement made this week, Town Clerk Elsie M. Nelson has clarified the requirements for applying for a license to conduct a bazaar or raffle.

"We are asking the voters of Winchester to sign referendum petitions to put on an official ballot the question—whether or not the townspeople want to authorize three million dollars more for a new high school.

"Our people are meeting with good response; telephone calls asking us to call for signatures have been most unusual. It appears that the tremendous cost, thirteen million now and possibly more before the project can be completed, has made the taxpayers keenly alert.

"Particularly heavy response is coming from the lower income groups along with solid support from the older residents with limited income.

"Signers come from every section of town, from every political and economic area. Town Meeting Members who could not attend and some who have had a change of mind since talking to their neighbors are now helping to make this petition set some sort of record, in the prescribed time set by law.

"The attempt I made to get a motion to instruct the Building Committee to report on plans and cost estimates for an addition to the present High School was ruled out of order by the Moderator. To us this was a sincere and serious compromise solution to the educational needs and within the ability of the townspeople to pay.

"For some unexplained reason, pictures and projections of this building have not been shown to the public.

"We are asking—is it so grandiose, so modern and so out of esthetic touch with the town that we would be shocked?

"Is it of such new style of construction that in order to have any air circulation it has to be fully air conditioned?

CONCERN Hears Representative From RADAR

The Winchester Committee of CONCERN has been weighing the possibility of membership in the Regional Association of Drug Action Representatives (RADAR). In keeping with this consideration the Committee heard Nick Katsirubas of Wakefield, representative for RADAR, at its Tuesday, October 21 meeting.

Mr. Katsirubas' first topic was the emergency telephone service which is now in existence in Wakefield. This service allows callers to receive aid in confidence and to gain information. He estimated that approximately 30 calls were answered during a holiday or vacation and about 15 during regular periods.

Formerly answered by the school adjustment officer of the Wakefield school system, the phone is now installed in the Katsirubas' home and 24-hour service is provided. Many callers have been directed to the service by the police.

Having evolved into a referral service to proper agencies, this program has been instrumental in placing several addicts into half-way houses. A transportation service is also provided and RADAR will be conducting a course to train its members for the answering of such a telephone.

RADAR

Speaking on RADAR Mr. Katsirubas said that the Association was composed loosely of 35 member communities with 75 having expressed an interest. Its primary aim is to serve as a central resource agency.

Town Meeting Votes 174-14 In Favor Of New High School; Sets Fire Fighters Contract

By a vote of 174 to 14, the Special Town Meeting passed an article Thursday night asking an additional $3,100,000 to construct the proposed new high school on Shore Road.

The Town Meeting also amended the Town By-Laws to provide a means of implementing retroactive salary agreements reached in collective bargaining by vote of Special Town Meeting rather than by vote of the Annual Town Meeting in March.

Referendum Is Sought On High School Article

Petitions have been circulated this past week by a group of residents asking for a referendum on the vote of the Town Meeting in favor of the Article requesting an additional $3.1 million for construction of the proposed new high school on Shore Road.

The following is a statement presented to the Star yesterday morning by Mrs. Anthony Promski of 128 Washington Street, one of the instigators of the petition:

"We are asking the voters of Winchester to sign referendum petitions to put on an official ballot the question—whether or not the townspeople want to authorize three million dollars more for a new high school.

"Our people are meeting with good response; telephone calls asking us to call for signatures have been most unusual. It appears that the tremendous cost, thirteen million now and possibly more before the project can be completed, has made the taxpayers keenly alert.

considerable amount necessary posed this question—In the area of the swimming pool the foundation would be four feet thick and with walls three feet thick and eighteen feet high—to keep the underground water out?

"One speaker at the Town Meeting stated that in the educational specifications, which were more than met in the final plans, the English Department could accommodate 2600 pupils—twenty-four to a room. The foreign language area could support 1600 pupils and yet the whole structure is planned to house 1500?

"The administrative costs for this project have never been discussed—How many more teachers and administrators? Maintenance—A considerably larger building

Help Needed For New Family On Canal Street

An appeal appears in the classified column of today's Star for a ride to Binney Street, Cambridge, between 6 and 7 each morning and to return each evening between 5 and 6.

Behind the appeal, which has brought no answer in the other issues of the Star in which it appeared, is a new family in Winchester.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Southern of Charlestown, who have bought Joseph Tansey's home on Canal Street, and plan to move here this weekend, are visually handicapped.

Mr. Southern and his guide dog, a German Shepherd named "Natasha," travel to work at United Carr Fastner in Cambridge, across the street from the NASA Center, each day.

The Southern have three sons, but all are grown and living away from this area. They also have a three-and-a-half month old daughter.

Anyone who can possibly offer Mr. Southern and Natasha a ride is asked to call Mrs. Southern at 242-0678. The transportation is needed by November 3.

Enrollment Data For Town Schools Is Announced

The total enrollment of Winchester Public Schools as of October 1 was 5,434.

At the first School Committee meeting held in October, enrollments were announced by Superintendent Donald A. Klemmer. Enrollment figures are based on data obtained as of October 1 since students enroll late in September and often many changes are made throughout the first month.

The number of students in each building is: Lincoln, 270; Muraco, 475; Mystic, 465; Noonan, 257; Parkhurst, 359; Vinson-Owen, 337; Washington, 323; Wyman, 360; Wyman Annex, 138; Lynch, 678; McCall, 629; Senior High, 1143. Total for the elementary schools is 2,984. Total for the junior high schools is 1,307.

Superintendent Klemmer stated that transfer of students because of overcrowded conditions requires explanation of the totals at four schools. He elaborated that the Muraco School enrollment figure reflects the addition of 12 Lincoln School sixth graders. Thus, the Lincoln School district has 12 additional students. Similarly, the Vinson-Owen School figure of 337 students includes 24 Wyman School sixth graders. Those 24 students plus the 138 students at Wyman Annex must be added to the Wyman figure to show the school district enrollment.

An amendment to the By-Laws was sought in connection with the agreement reached this year with the Fire Fighters Association, Local 1564. Their 1969 contract calls for a salary increase to $8250, retroactive to April 1 of this year. Under prior By-Laws, the Town Meeting would have to wait until the annual session in March to vote on the appropriation of funds for the retroactive salaries.

At the Special Town Meeting Thursday, the article concerning fire fighters' salaries passed on a voice vote.

The meeting was opened at approximately 8 p.m. by Town Moderator Harrison Chadwick. The invocation was given by the Rev. Jack D. Zoerheide, the newly installed minister of the Winchester Unitarian Church.

In the absence of Mrs. Elsie M. Nelson, Town Clerk, who was away on Town business, Mrs. Margaret Connolly, assistant Town Clerk, was sworn in as her replacement.

In opening the meeting, Mr. Chadwick noted that the Town is planning for the future of its children, for 50, 60 or 70 graduation classes to come. He also added that inflation was the primary factor in bringing about the request for an additional $3,100,000.

Building Committee

Philip Tesorero, chairman of the Permanent Building Committee, spoke in favor of the article. In his opening remarks he said, "I think the Town is fortunate to have as dedicated a group as serve on these committees." He particularly cited the contributions of Arthur Dunbar, chairman of the Secondary School Building Sub-committee, and of Andrew Nichols, a member of that committee.

Pointing out that there was no question as to the need for the high school four years ago when he was appointed to the committee, he reminded the Town Meeting that the site was then the problem.

He added that he thought the other plans, including that of adding to the present high school, were discarded at the Special Town Meeting of February 1967 that voted the Shore Road site.

Stating that it seemed definite that the Town wanted the school in the downtown area, he added that the land was acquired, the architect selected and the preliminary plans drawn when the Town appropriated the original $10 million for the project in February 1968. Mr. Tesorero also noted that an attempt to rescind the February 1968 vote was made last November. That article was defeated by a vote of 175 to 4.

Mr. Tesorero then introduced Mr. Dunbar, who continued to speak in favor of the article.

In his remarks Mr. Dunbar described the procedure his committee had followed since going out on bid.

Opening his statements he said, "Tonight we again continue and hopefully complete our long-standing fight for a new high school."

In reviewing the bids which were received by the committee in July, he noted that the committees did not feel the two general bids (Park Construction and Grande and Sons Inc.) were a true reflection of competitive bidding. These bids were approximately $3 million over the architect's estimate.

Inflation

Mr. Dunbar added that the increases over the estimate were in three general areas. He stressed that the increase was due to inflation and that the project had not substantially changed from that considered by the Town Meeting in February, 1968.

Concluding his remarks, he stated that the committees now know which direction they are going and that although they recognize it is a large increase they wish to go forward.

Mr. Dunbar then introduced Mr. Nichols, who also spoke in favor of the proposal.

Presenting slides of the work done on site preparation (including the burying of the Aberjona and the tunnel under the railroad track, Mr. Nichols noted the $1,254,000 already spent or committed on the project.

He said the committee would send the project out to bid with the swimming pool listed as a deductive alternate. In this way, the new contractors will present two bids, one for the combined project, and one for the project without the pool.

Mr. Nichols also described the rate of inflation, using figures from one of the construction trade reports. It showed an 11 per cent per year increase in construction costs.

He also noted the increase in salaries received by the tradespeople this past summer. The increases average between 30 and 40 per cent over a three-year period. The years in which the increases will take place are the years in which the new high school will be constructed, so the contractors allowed estimates for the increases in their bids, he added.

Addition

Speaking briefly on adding to the present school, he noted that the building wouldn't be as good; that an addition can't be constructed while school is in session; and that it would make no provision for junior high school space needs.

Ecumenical Program Held For Dialogue And Action

On Sunday evening, October 19, 85 members from different churches in Winchester met at the Church of the Epiphany to join in an ecumenical program for dialogue and action.

Churches represented included the First Baptist Church, Winchester Unitarian Church, First and Second Congregational Churches, St. Eulalia's Church, Crawford Memorial Methodist, St. Mary's Church and Epiphany. The program, sponsored by the Winchester Ecumenical Association, was developed and conducted by a lay committee headed by Mrs. Stephen Barry of St. Eulalia's.

The first half of the program was a dialogue, based on the living room dialogues for interfaith discussion which have been active in Winchester for the past several years. Monsignor Joseph Lyons opened the meeting with a prayer for understanding and James Bourne of Epiphany conducted the initial readings.

Ten tables, under the leadership of former participants in living room dialogues, considered a set of topics pointing up the need for Christian unity. Questions resulting from the table discussions were presented to a panel consisting of Mrs. Ralph Jope of Epiphany, Linford Fitzpatrick of the First Congregational Church and Stephen Barry.

The action segment of the program was moderated by the Rev. Everett Waters of the First Baptist Church. This portion of the evening was initiated with brief remarks by the panel: Paul Amico, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, on the necessity for citizen participation in town government; by Dr. Donald McLean, on earlier successes of ecumenical action in establishing programs such as CONCERN; and by Dr. Donald Klemmer, superintendent of schools, on the needs of youth.

The individual tables then considered the following questions: "What do each of you see when you look at Winchester? What do you like? What things do you feel that we, as Christians, should be concerned about?" Areas which aroused interest during the discussions were: inadequate provision for housing for the elderly and the disadvantaged, the difficulties of communication with youth, the prevalence of drugs in town, and the failure to recognize the importance to Winchester of metropolitan problems.

Following the table discussion period, the panel dealt with the comments for a period of time which extended even after the benediction by the Rev. John Bishop of Epiphany.

As a result of this activity, two living room dialogue groups will begin to meet, one on Monday, October 27 and one on Thursday, October 30. Persons desiring further information should call Mrs. Barry at 729-6889. Sufficient additional interest was developed to indicate the need for a third living room dialogue group and for the development of a plan for community action.

Refreshments were served prior to the meeting. Servers and members of the lay committee included: Mr. and Mrs. Barry Lin Fitzpatrick; Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Torres of St. Mary's; and Mr. and Mrs. Nichols, Mr. Jope, and Mr. and Mrs. Bourne of Epiphany. Table discussion leaders included: Mr. Barry, Mrs. Jope, Mr. Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Torres, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hemmingsen of Epiphany, and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Millican of the First Congregational Church.

How The County Contributes To Federal Spending

What portion of Federal government spending, which now totals about $190 billion a year, is borne by Middlesex County taxpayers?

How much does it cost local residents, through income taxes and other taxes, to meet their share of the spending for national defense, education, interest on the national debt, space research and the gamut of other programs?

The $190 billion total is too vast to be meaningful to most people. It becomes somewhat more comprehensible, however, when it is shown that it amounts to $6,000 per second.

The calculation was made by William V. Roth Jr., a Delaware congressman, who has been concerned over the steadily-rising cost of government.

Middlesex County's share of this spending is estimated at $3.32 per day for every local resident. For the local population as a whole, it adds up to $4,431,000 per day. That is based upon the proportion of its revenue that the government receives from the local area.

The part of the expenditures attributed to each community was determined from a state-by-state study made by the Tax Foundation and from local income data.

The portion shouldered by Middlesex County residents, per capita, is greater than in many localities across the country where earnings, and therefore taxes paid, are lower.

The daily cost in the United States is $2.58 per capita and in the State of Massachusetts is $2.91.

Congressman Roth's concern over the nation's huge annual budget has led him to propose that a "modern Hoover-type commission" be set up to find out how the central government can operate more effectively, efficiently and creatively.

He called for "daring and imaginative" approaches in using the resources of government to mount attacks on the problems confronting the American people.

Just how the government spent the taxpayers' money in the past fiscal year is shown in the Tax Foundation study.

Out of every $1,000 in taxes paid by Middlesex County residents, for example, $440 went for national defense, $261 for health and welfare, $71 for interest on the national debt and $43 for commerce and transportation.

Veterans benefits amounted to $42, education to $39, agriculture, $30, and space technology, $23.

Drive in the travel lane and observe posted road signs, suggests Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies. Lane hopping can be a dangerous game with the tragic results. Road signs are posted to help save your life and ignoring them is quite literally taking your life into your own hands.

Thomas Morison Honored Guests

Thomas L. Morison of 60 North Lake Street, president of Bentley College, Waltham, past president of the Boston Chapter and past national president of the National Association of Accountants, will be one of the honored guests at the dinner-dance celebration on Saturday, October 25, at the Sheraton-Plaza Hotel, Boston.

This event commemorates the 50th anniversary of the founding of the National Association of Accountants and the chartering of the Boston Chapter.

Other honored guests will include: National President Grant U. Myers, Executive Director Rawn Brinkley, and Managing Director Robert H. Sommers, along with other past presidents, their wives and invited guests.

The National Association of Accountants was founded in 1919 in Buffalo, New York. Today it is the largest accounting organization in the world, with over 58,000 members from the United States and other countries affiliated with over 225 Chapters and accounting groups.

Obituaries

Mrs. Gertrude Vinson

Mrs. Gertrude (Cliff) Vinson of 195 High Street, whose name was given to the Vinson-Owen School in honor of herself and her family, died on Thursday, October 2. She was 89.

Born on July 22, 1880, she was the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Leander Cliff of Boston. She was educated in the Boston school system and was graduated from Radcliffe College in 1902, magna cum laude. Mrs. Vinson did post-graduate work at Simmons College.

In 1910 she married Atty. Thomas Melville Vinson and they settled into one of the town's oldest homes at 195 High Street. In these early years of the century she also served as secretary of the Massachusetts Suffrage Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Vinson were two of the early figure skaters in this country. She was a member of the Boston Skating Club and the Cambridge Skating Rink.

Their daughter, Mrs. Maribel (Vinson) Owen, was many times National Figure Skating champion, competing in the Olympics.

Mrs. Owen's daughters, Maribel Jr. and Laurence, were also nationally known figure skaters. In 1961 Maribel Jr. with her partner, Dudley Richards, won the National Pair Championships. That year Laurence won both the U.S. National Ladies' Championship and the North American Championship.

In February of 1961 Maribel (Vinson) Owen and her two daughters were killed in Belgium in the crash of the plane which was taking the U.S. Figure Skating Team to the World's Championship in Prague.

There are no immediate survivors.

Private services have been held.

Mrs. Evelyn M. O'Malley

Mrs. Evelyn M. (Rouse) O'Malley of Brockton, wife of Patrick J. O'Malley and a former resident of Winchester for 30 years, died suddenly in the Brockton Hospital on Wednesday, October 15. She was 64.

Born in Medford, January 20, 1905, she was the daughter of John and Catherine (White) Rouse, both natives of Somerville. After residing in Winchester for 30 years, Mrs. O'Malley moved to Brockton 10 years ago.

She was an employee of the Brockton Hospital in the housekeeping department until the time of her sudden death. A former member of the Immaculate Conception Church, Mrs. O'Malley was active in the Ladies Sodality.

Besides her husband, she leaves a son, Robert J. O'Malley of Nantuxet; four daughters, Mrs. Arthur (Kathleen) Stryke of Burlington, Mrs. Charles (Patricia) Fitzgerald of Stoneham, Mrs. Frances (Eileen) Langley of Brockton, and Mrs. Paul (Maryanne) Campbell of Rochester, New Hampshire; three brothers, Charles Rouse, Richard Rouse, and John Rouse, all of South Boston; a sister, Mrs. Joseph Welch of South Boston; and 17 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from the Lane Funeral Home, 760 Main Street on Saturday, October 18 at the Immaculate Conception Church at 9 a.m. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

Vandalism Reported At Marycliff

An incident of vandalism at Marycliff Academy was reported to the Winchester Police Department on Tuesday, October 14. Seventeen windows had been broken on the west side of the building.

Sergeant William T. Haggerty answered a telephone call from Nishan Bichajian of 28 Oneida Road telling of the damage. After questioning neighborhood children two boys were consulted concerning the incident.

A nine-year-old boy, Paul Romeo of 108 Wendell Street, was transported to Winchester Hospital after being hit by an automobile at Wendell and Cross Street on Friday, October 17.

John Hall of 6 Newton Street told police that he was travelling west on Cross Street at approximately 25 miles per hour when the boy suddenly ran out from in front of two trucks into the street and that he was unable to stop in time. Officers Lindsey and Morgan were in charge of the police ambulance.

Mrs. Frances R. Williams

Mrs. Frances (Ropes) Williams of 234 Highland Avenue, a resident of Winchester since 1906 and former Town Meeting Member, died at her home on Wednesday, October 15. She was 86.

Born in Salem in 1883, she was graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1904. She was the widow of Stillman P. Williams who died in 1925.

Mrs. Williams served as corresponding secretary for the Herb Society of America from its early years. She was currently honorary corresponding secretary. She was also curator of the Society's herbium for many years. In 1952 she was given the first Award of Merit by the Society.

Pursuing an active interest in plants, Mrs. Williams donated approximately 80 varieties of this to the Arnold Arboretum. For these achievements she was given a citation by the new Hosta Society of America last August.

Her memberships included the Appalachian Mountain Club, the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, the New York Botanical Garden, the Brooklyn Botanic Garden, the Essex Institute, the Peabody Museum and the Winchester Unitarian Society. She was also an honorary member of the Winchester Home and Garden Club.

For many years Mrs. Williams was a Town Meeting Member and from about 1915 to 1925 served on the School of Nursing Committee for the Winchester Hospital.

She leaves two sons, Stillman P. Williams of Lexington and Robert B. Williams of Winchester; two daughters, Miss Constance Williams of Boston and Mrs. Louisa W. Valley of Lexington; seven grandchildren, and a great grandson.

Memorial services for Mrs. Williams will be held at the Winchester Unitarian Church at 11 a.m. on Saturday, October 25.

Francis T. Colclough

Francis T. Colclough of 4 Madison Avenue, manager of Leaseway Corporation, Boston, died suddenly on Wednesday, October 15, in Walpole, South Carolina, while traveling to Florida on vacation. He was 55.

Born in Medford, he was active on the Medford High School football team. After attending Huntington Preparatory School and the Chestnut Hill School, Mr. Colclough was graduated from Tufts University in 1937.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mildred (Davis) Colclough of Winchester; two daughters, Mrs. Paula Davitt of Longmeadow and Mrs. Donna Hindley of West Springfield; and five grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from the Gaffey Memorial Funeral Home, Medford Square on Saturday, October 18, at 9 a.m. with a requiem high Mass in St. Mary's Church at 10 a.m.

Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery, Medford.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to the Intensive Care Unit, Winchester Hospital.

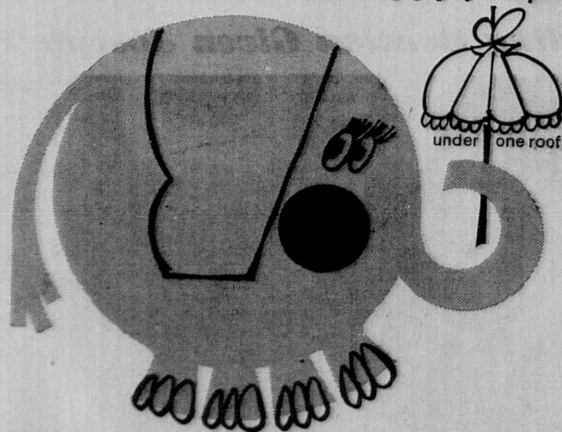

Mrs. Elizabeth Simonds

Mrs. Elizabeth (Roberts) Simonds of West Medford, a long-time resident of Winchester, died on Sunday, October 12 in the Emory Nursing Home, West Medford after a long illness. She was 96.

She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Meriel (Thomas) Bacon of Winchester; two grandsons, Richard Preston of Winchester and Thomas Preston of Portland, Maine; two granddaughters, Mrs. Patricia (Thomas) Raichel of Los Angeles, California, and Mrs. June (Preston) Pope of Winchester; and five great-grandchildren.

Private funeral services were held on Friday, October 17 at the Robert J. Costello Funeral Home, 177 Washington Street.

Mental Health Center Holds Open House

An invitation is extended to all Winchester residents to attend Open House at the Mystic Valley Mental Health Center on Sunday, October 26, from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m. at 186 Bedford Street, Lexington.

The new addition to the Children's Clinic, recently completed, will be open for visitors according to Mrs. H. Kimball Archibald, President of the Winchester Mental Health Association.

The professional staff of the Mystic Valley Children's Clinic and the staff and board members of the Mystic Valley Mental Health Association and its branch associations will welcome visitors. Guests will have an opportunity to tour the facility and learn about the services provided by the Clinic and the Association to the Mystic Valley Area which includes Arlington, Burlington, Lexington, Winchester and Woburn. Several films will be shown during the afternoon for anyone wishing to view them.

Purchase of the property which houses the Association and Clinic, and the recent expansion of the building were made possible by the community response to a Capital Building Fund Drive conducted in 1966. Because of this strong community support the Clinic has been able to expand its Children's services and now serves over twice the number of children who received treatment in 1966.

Services provided for children include diagnosis and treatment of emotional disorders of children, testing of mentally retarded pre-school children, and consultation to parents and others responsible for children's care.

In addition to administering the Children's Clinic, the MVMHA conducts a broad program of education, social action and volunteer services to patients. It co-sponsors the Mental Health Case Aide Program at Metropolitan State Hospital and provides a weekly social group meeting for present and former patients.

To learn more about these activities, all are invited to attend the Open House on October 26 or call the MVMHA, 862-7082.

Taking part in the Urban Semester at the University of Southern California, Los Angeles is Maureen Kivney of 371 Highland Avenue. A student at Wilson College, Chambersburg, Pennsylvania, Miss Kivney is enrolled at U.S.C. for this term only in order to participate in this program.

Giving Guidance

On Saturday, October 25, members of the junior class at Winchester High School who have registered will take the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test.

The P.S.A.T. is a test provided by the College Entrance Examination Board which is taken in two parts, one verbal and one math, with one hour devoted to each. The results of this test are used to give some indication of what a student's performance on the Scholastic Aptitude Test will be. The test also provides a practice session for subsequently taking the S.A.T.

The Scholastic Aptitude Test is the test given careful consideration in the admissions process of many institutions of higher education. It has two parts, verbal and math, but is a three-hour test. This is given in March, May or July to juniors, and November or December to seniors.

Seniors are presently registered and will take the S.A.T. on November 1.

The Guidance Office bulletin board carries notices of interest to students interested in either college or a career on graduation. Employment possibilities available on a part-time basis are posted. Requests for volunteers for various service programs will also appear on the bulletin board.

In addition, scholarship notices are posted on receipt and include such information as the details on the Massachusetts State Scholarship Program, which amounts to almost four million dollars this year.

Through the Guidance Department and the Parent-Faculty Association of the high school, a second School-Career Expo was held Wednesday, October 22. All parents and students were invited to use this opportunity to evaluate different careers and colleges. Those careers and colleges represented at the Expo were recommended by the students themselves at the request of the Guidance Department staff.

School Committee Members Attend Joint Conference

Mrs. Mary A. Mears represented the School Committee at the joint conference of the Massachusetts Association of School Committees and Massachusetts Association of School Superintendents held October 15-18 at Harwich.

As vice-chairman of the School Committee, Mrs. Mears attended the entire conference from October 15-18. Chairman Mrs. Harriet Dieterich and Richard Lawrence were present for the annual meeting held Friday evening, at which Mrs. Dieterich served as delegate. Superintendent of Schools Donald A. Klemer also attended the annual meeting of the combined associations.

As delegate of the School Committee, Mrs. Dieterich presented a motion to the annual meeting to the effect that the Association collect and disseminate to its member communities up-to-date reports of teacher salary schedules and other negotiation information as agreed upon. The motion passed, according to Mrs. Dieterich, who was unable to attend the entire conference because of the Special Town Meeting.

Among the speakers at the conference were Neil Sullivan, Commissioner of Education; Abraham Chayes, Harvard Law School; and John Gibson, a resident of Winchester who is director of the Lincoln Filene Center at Tufts University.

Sons Of Italy News

Friday night, October 24, will be the first social dance of the fall and winter season. The program and entertainment committee will ask for support with a good attendance at this "Pot of Gold Dance."

There will be no charge for admission, and all members and their friends are invited. There will be a surprise gift in the pot of gold for the member who has his name chosen and is present that evening. The committee suggests that each person or group bring his own food for his table or group.

If this dance proves a success the program committee plans to run at affair at least once a month. Music will be provided by Joe McNutt.

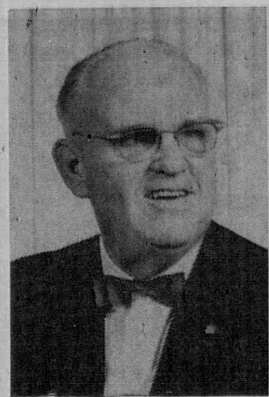

The annual Golf Banquet and Dance will be held Saturday, October 25. This banquet is for golf league members and their wives or escorts and special invited guests. The winners of this year's golf league will receive their trophies at this time.

At the monthly meeting of the Aberjona Civic Association the officers for the new year were elected by the board members. They are Carmen Frongillo, president; Ralph Cefali, vice president; Michael D. Saraco, treasurer; and Rocco W. DeSoto, recording secretary.

Congratulations to Michael D. Saraco, who was recently elected to the position of vice president of the Massachusetts Health Association.

It's good to see brothers Frank Cefali and Rony Gravalles up and on their feet again, as both of them have recently left the hospital. The Women's Lodge will run a Turkey Trot/Dance on Saturday evening, November 15. Additional information will follow in a later article.

Magnetic games, color forms, rub-ons, card games, 29c each. Paper dolls for children and adults. At the Winchester Star.

RAYMOND E. PEARL of 9 Wellington Road recently was named "man of the month" at Acacia Mutual Life Insurance Company, Boston, for his outstanding achievements in sales during September and October.

Jaycee-ettes Sponsoring Flea Market

Everyone is invited to a Flea Market at Manchester Field on Saturday, October 25 from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

There will be gifts galore including food items, furniture, wearing apparel, Christmas decorating items, what-nots and ingenious one-of-a-kind creations too numerous to mention. A snack bar is available.

An admission fee will be charged. Proceeds will be used by the Jaycee-ettes for financing civic projects such as the Baby-sitters' School, packages to Viet Nam, contributions to the Winchester Scholarship Foundation and many more. Your support in this endeavor will be appreciated.

Senior Forum

This Sunday, October 26, the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church will have the Rev. Henry Marguadt as the speaker for the chapel service.

The chaplain for the 9 a.m. service will be Bill Brink and Janet Peterson.

Father Marguadt will speak on "Faith—Fear or Freedom."

On Sunday, October 19, the sophomore class held its first discussion-dessert. It was planned by Cyndy Porter and Peter Whitman. That same night the senior class held its first discussion-dessert, planned by Rick Porter and Helen Bagdoyen.

Mrs. Edward Pattullo of 48 Fletcher Street is presently serving as secretary of the Executive Committee of the Harvard College Teas Association and Newcomers Club, headed by Mrs. Nathan M. Pusey, wife of the President of Harvard University.

Pres. Morison To Retire From Bentley Office

Bentley College President Thomas L. Morison of 60 North Lake Street has asked to be relieved of the duties of that office no later than June of 1971. G. Frank Smith, chairman of the Board of Trustees, announced recently.

THOMAS L. MORISON

President Morison, who made the request during a meeting of the Board of Trustees, has been head of the college since 1961.

"By June of 1971, I shall have completed ten years in office," President Morison said, "and it will be time for the college to have young, fresh and new leadership."

President Morison, who completed 25 years of service to the college in January of this year, will continue to serve in a senior administrative capacity after stepping down as president.

"While we accept with regret President Morison's decision to step down from his leadership of the college, we are deeply grateful for the able administration and guidance he has given to Bentley during this decade," Mr. Smith said. "During his tenure not only has the college's academic program taken giant strides, but we also have seen the dream of a new suburban campus become a reality."

Bentley, which was located in Boston for more than a half century, moved to a $15 million campus in Waltham a year ago. The 104-acre site includes 12 new buildings constructed simultaneously and allowing accommodations for up to 6,000 students in Day and Evening Divisions.

A graduate of Bentley College and a Certified Public Accountant, President Morison earned advanced degrees from Suffolk University. He is a past national president of the National Association of Accountants, the world's largest organization of professional accountants with 68,000 members.

The Bentley president, in addition to being a past president of the Algonquin Club of Boston, is the current chairman of the Health and Education Facilities Authority of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Before joining Bentley in 1944, he had extensive business experience in the Boston area. He has been active in numerous professional and civic organizations and has been the author of several publications.

Hospital Friends Hold Ball At Tennis Center

The Indoor Lawn Tennis Center was transformed last Saturday night from a sports arena to a ballroom with approximately 500 guests seated at gold covered tables which faced the dance area for the Friends of Winchester Hospital Ball.

Under a huge, sparkling chandelier, standing on a chrysanthemum outlined grass plot, color played on the sprays of water from a real fountain.

Gold pillars and palms made an archway from which came the strains of music from Tony Bruno's orchestra while dancers filled the floor.

The Friends of the Winchester Hospital Ball was successful thanks to support from the merchants in town, the patrons and patronesses and the couples who attended the affair. All of this makes possible additional equipment for the hospital.

In addition, the Friends of the Winchester Hospital are grateful to the committee which was headed by:

Mrs. R. Thompson Attends Scouting National Council

Among the 14 delegates and visitors from the Mistick Side Girl Scout Council which left on October 16 for the 38th convention of the Girl Scout National Council in Seattle, Washington, was Mrs. Ralph C. Thompson of 7 Perkins Road. The Council meeting was held from October 19 to 22.

The National Council is the coordinating head of the Girl Scout movement in the United States. Under the Constitution of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., the National Council: 1. Determines the general lines of policy of the Girl Scout movement and program considering and acting upon proposals directed toward the fostering and improvement of Girl Scouting, by receiving and acting upon reports of its Board of Directors, and by giving guidance to the Board upon general lines of direction of the movement and program; 2. Elects the officers, Board of Directors, and National Nominating Committee; 3. Amends the Constitution and By-laws; and 4. Establishes requirements for certificates of membership, council charters, and other credentials.

Every member of the National Council has a responsibility to the total Girl Scout movement in the United States and is expected to make reports to the Mistick Side Council.

VA Explains Insurance

The average World War II veteran, now 49.3 years of age, is fast approaching the higher premium hurdle of 50 if he still retains his G.I. term insurance, the Veterans Administration said recently.

The VA says that in most cases the higher insurance cash outlay at age 50 can be eased in a number of ways.

One way is a modified plan. If purchased at age 50, it will have a constant monthly premium of $15.90 for a $10,000 policy. However, when the insured reaches the age of 65, the face value of the policy is automatically reduced in half, but the premium remains unchanged.

The VA explains that many people find their insurance needs decline at or near the age of 65. However, the insured who wishes to continue the full $10,000 of his policy may do so without medical examination by paying an additional $4.15 per $1,000 at the age of 65. Thus, for the added $5,000 protection total monthly premiums would be $41.65.

Some 211,000 eligible veterans have taken advantage of this plan since it was made available in 1965.

Another popular plan is the ordinary life (663,000 policies) where at the age of 50 the monthly premium would be $31.20 for $10,000 worth of protection. But with the annual dividend paid by NSLI the cost of the premium would be reduced to about $24 a month, the VA points out.

And, to make it even more convenient to convert from term insurance, the VA reminds veterans that if it is not possible to change the full amount of the policy a portion may be converted now and the remainder continued as term insurance, with the privilege of full conversion later on.

Also available to NSLI term policy holders are 20- and 30- year endowment, and endowments that mature when the insured reaches the age of 60 or 65.

Weekly Wage Buys More In Middlesex

How is the average working man in Middlesex County making out these days? Is he better off than he was 10 or 20 years ago?

His income has been going up steadily, year by year, and from that standpoint, he is in better shape.

However, his living costs have also been moving upward. Rent, medical care, apparel, food, services and taxes are all considerably higher than they were in the "good old days."

Taking into consideration both the plus and the minus factors, where does he stand today?

According to data compiled by the National Industrial Conference Board, the Bureau of Labor Statistics and others, he is well ahead of the game. He is able to buy more goods and services, with the amount that he earns for a day's work, than he ever could.

The reason is that his pay scale has moved up faster than his living costs. Income per household in Middlesex County is no less than 61 percent higher, on average, than it was 10 years ago. By way of comparison, costs are only about 20 percent higher.

As a result, the average working man in the local area is now able to buy a pound of coffee, for example, after putting in about 13 minutes on the job. It would have taken nearly twice as long 10 years ago.

A pound of round steak, best grade, or two dozen eggs, Grade A large, can be bought with 20 minutes of working time, and an automobile tire, size 7.50 by 15, with approximately seven - and - one - half hours.

The tire, which retails for around $29, would have cost the Middlesex County worker only $24 or so in 1959. But it doesn't take as long to make $29 today as it did to make the $24 at that time.

The Tax Foundation, in a special analysis, has figured out how much time the typical American worker has to spend on the job to pay his various bills.

Out of an eight hour day, it finds, two hours and 34 minutes are needed to meet his tax obligations and about one hour for housing and household expenses.

Another 56 minutes are needed for food, tobacco and alcoholic beverages, 40 minutes for transportation, 25 for apparel, 21 for medical, 18 for recreation and one hour and 46 minutes for miscellaneous. (Park Row News Service)

Get Facts On Insurance

How much do you know about family life insurance protection?

Husbands may be quicker to respond to that question than wives. But it's an important question for wives, too.

Why? One reason, according to the Institute of Life Insurance, is an increasing sense of partnership between husbands and wives.

They may very well have different roles and responsibilities within the family, but when it comes to coping with family finances they're a team. They talk things over. In this day and age of taxes, rising costs and higher standards of living, it's necessary.

And, in many homes wives are co-breadwinners. These wives, of course, are even more involved in decisions about how the family's money is to be spent. These decisions—many of them important for the future—are easier to make when wives along with husbands, know about family life insurance programs—what protection the family has, why policies were bought and what these policies will do.

Here are questions both will want to be able to answer:

• Where are the family's policies kept?

• Where do you keep the separate record listing companies and identifying numbers of all policies?

• What is the name and address of the family's life insurance agent?

• Which members of the family own policies? Husband alone? Wife too? Perhaps, there's a policy covering the entire family?

• What family need is each policy to meet?

• Does group life insurance play a part in the family's protection plan?

• Does the family's group insurance continue at retirement time? Or if you leave the group?

• When are insurance premiums due?

• What would happen if a premium isn't paid when it falls due? How can you continue your protection if for some reason, you could not continue paying premiums?

• Who is named as beneficiary in each policy? Are there contingent or secondary beneficiaries?

• Do the policies specify how the insurance proceeds are to be paid to beneficiaries? Do you know the choices that are available?

• What would happen to the insurance in the event that the breadwinner became totally disabled? Many policies have disability provisions.

• Are there loans against any of the policies?

Kiwanic Club Installs Officers

The 19th annual installation of officers of the Winchester Kiwanic Club attracted an attendance of about 200 on Sunday evening, October 18 at the Montvale Plaza, Stoneham.

The evening's program included a reception from 6:30 p.m. until 7:45, dinner, an installation ceremony, speaking program and dancing.

Dr. Donald J. Senna, past president, was the master of ceremonies. He introduced Kiwanis Club officials, representatives and members of the head table. His introduction of the various speakers and program agenda was given at a pace in keeping with the semi-formal ceremony.

Past Lieutenant Governor Division 6 West, John Cersosimo of the Lynnfield-Wakefield Club, was the installing officer. He conducted the exercises for the installation of the new staff of officers headed by incoming President Edward J. Rogers.

Retiring President Santo J. Cannava turned the gavel of leadership over to the new president for the start of the 19th year of the local organization which was sponsored in 1951 by the Woburn Kiwanis Club.

Master of Ceremonies Dr. Senna, gave recognition to various out of town Kiwanians in attendance as well as representatives of other Winchester social and fraternal organizations.

Staff installed for 1969-70: Edward J. Rogers, president; John Mercurio Jr., first vice-president.

Dr. George Sarney, second vice-president.

Joseph Cioni, treasurer; Ronald Gauld, secretary.

Silent Auction Being Sponsored At Vinson-Owen

The Vinson-Owen Parents Association will sponsor a Silent Auction at the school from 9:30 to 11 a.m. on Wednesday, October 29, Mrs. Robert B. Stevens, Ways and Means Chairman, has announced.

All parents in the Vinson-Owen area are being asked to donate to the sale. Needed are such items as knitted goods, Christmas decorations, costume jewelry, used books, used sporting equipment and scout uniforms and baked goods. Contributors may bring their donations to the school after classes on Tuesday, October 28, or early Wednesday morning.

New Technique Helps Diagnose Heart Disease

Very often the cardiologist is unable to learn enough about a patient's condition solely from listening to the heart or by taking electrocardiograms or X-rays. Modern technology has provided a way for him to find out more.

Through a technique called cardiac catheterization cardiologists now have the opportunity to diagnose heart disease by studying the internal anatomy of the heart and its blood vessels and to see how various parts of the heart, such as the valves or the muscle, itself, are functioning.

By utilizing these basic principles, the physician can "map" the heart. The recording of unusually high pressures in certain chambers of the heart but not in others can give clues to blockages in the circulation through the heart. Leaky heart valves can be seen when radio-opaque dye in a heart chamber goes "the wrong way" following its injection. The physician can also detect unusual pathways through the heart (so-called cardiac shunts) poor contraction of the heart muscle or blocked arteries (as are seen in coronary heart disease).

Often the status of the heart muscle itself as a pump is in question. Is the muscle weak or strong? Cardiac catheterization gives the cardiologist the opportunity to assess the function of the heart by determining how much blood it can pump in a minute or how quickly the muscle can develop pressure during any beat. Finally, cardiac catheterization has permitted a study of chemistry of the heart since samples of blood leaving the heart muscle itself can be examined by placing a catheter in the appropriate vein of the heart.

The procedure of cardiac catheterization is not required in the vast majority of heart cases, but when certain diagnoses are in question or if surgery is contemplated cardiac catheterization is essential. Most surgical procedures and often proper planning of medical treatment can be based upon the detailed information that is obtained from the different aspects of the cardiac catheterization.

There's Money Here, But It's Mostly In Banks

Despite the tight money situation that prevails today, there is a plentiful supply of money on tap in Middlesex County.

A government survey shows that the volume of currency in circulation locally is at a high level. Most of it is in the vaults of banks and in the tills of merchants.

The seemingly contradictory situation of tight money and ample supply has been created, in large measure, by the Federal Reserve Board in its efforts to combat inflation. It limits the amount of credit a bank may extend by requiring the bank to keep a larger part of its funds in reserve.

The amount of money on deposit in Middlesex County banks as of the close of fiscal year 1968 reached $2,327,532,000, as compared with the total two years earlier of $2,378,931,000.

The deposits consisted chiefly of $612,258,000 in checking accounts maintained by individuals, partnerships and corporations, and $1,948,467,000 in savings accounts and other time deposits. Inter-bank and government accounts made up the remainder.

Added to this was the undetermined amount of money on hand locally in the form of cash kept in private safes and vaults and in people's pockets.

The findings are by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, which has just released data covering banks throughout the country. It is the first such survey since 1966.

The increase in deposits, 18.9 per cent, was more than the increase in the United States, 16.4 per cent, and the 15.5 per cent in the New England States.

The supply of money available for the credit needs of a community are considered a major factor in its economic well-being.

These funds, put into circulation by banks through loans to business concerns, to prospective homeowners, to automobile buyers and others, are vital to its maintenance and growth.

If the funds on deposit in Middlesex County banks were to be divided equally among the local population, they would figure out to $2,130 per resident.

Nationally, according to the FDIC report, the amount on deposit in all commercial and mutual savings banks came to more than $464 billion, a sharp rise over fiscal 1966, when the total was $398 billion. (Park Row News Service)

Dr. McLean To Address Baby Sitters' Sch'l

Dr. Donald E. McLean, chief of pediatrics at the Winchester Hospital, will be the featured speaker at this evening's Winchester Jayceettes Baby Sitters' School.

A graduate of Harvard Medical School, the doctor did his internship at The Children's Hospital in Boston, is a diplomate of the American Board of Pediatrics and has practiced in Winchester for 22 years.

According to Dr. McLean, "Baby-sitting is a highly responsible job and should not be undertaken lightly and without proper instructions." Dr. McLean feels that the parents should check to see that the young people caring for their children are responsible.

General first aid methods for common emergencies will be covered, and sitters will be invited to participate in a question and answer period.

Atlantic Gelatin Hosts Employees On "Family Day"

More than 2,000 people visited the Atlantic Gelatin Plant in Woburn on Saturday, October 18 during "Employee Family Day" celebrating the 50th anniversary of the opening of the plant.

The visitors, employees and retired employees and their families, came in a steady stream from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Nearly every visitor was greeted personally by Russell N. Monbleau, Operations Manager at the Hill Street facility, and members of the 50 anniversary committee.

For the older employees and the retirees one of the day's highlights was an opportunity to talk with Joseph H. Cohen, an M.I.T. graduate who started the business in October, 1919. Mr. Cohen, who has been retired for many years and is now a resident of Boston, was invited by Mr. Monbleau to be the guest of honor during the day-long celebration. Other invited guests were the Mayor and Councilmen of Woburn, the Selectmen of Stoneham and Winchester, and the Police and Fire Department Chiefs of all three towns.

The Woburn facility, a part of the Jell-O Division of General Foods Corporation, is the world's largest gelatin manufacturing plant. It produces more than 20 million pounds of gelatin annually for use in Jell-O brand desserts. The plant also produces gelatin for the meat, confectionary and baking industries; for the manufacture of photographic plates, film and paper, and for the pharmaceutical industry to make capsules and for use as binders for pills.

As the world's largest gelatin plant, the Woburn installation employs more than 450 people has an annual payroll of over $4 million.

spends more than $10 million for raw materials and services (much of it in the local area) produces enough gelatin to provide every man, woman and child in the City of Woburn with over 600 servings of Jell-O per day produces enough steam and power for a city of 35,000 people.

In touring the plant, the visitors observed three major operations. Along the tour route, scores of signs, diagrams, photos and charts described the various processes and the key functions of each area. Atlantic Gelatin employees were stationed at strategic locations along the tour routes to answer questions.

Winchester's Loss

Rendered a standing ovation at the Special Town Meeting last Thursday night was Town Meeting Member J. Joseph Tansey of 19 Canal Street who completes a long career in Winchester Town government with his move out of the state this month.

Formerly the dean of students at Wentworth Institute, Boston, Mr. Tansey retired in June 1968 from that post. A Winchester native and graduate of the High School, he received his degree from Norwich University and began his career at Wentworth in 1932. He was awarded an honorary doctor of education degree at Norwich in 1963.

Together with his long service in education, he served in the Air Corps during World War II rising to the rank of lieutenant colonel.

Despite his busy career in education, Mr. Tansey found much time to devote to Winchester. As a Town Meeting Member since 1933, Mr. Tansey has spoken on the Town Meeting floor on most of the issues confronting that body. His comments have added a great deal to the discussion of Town problems.

Elected to the Board of Selectmen in 1952, he served as co-chairman in 1954. He also ran for School Committee in 1942 and has served the Town in many other capacities.

Winchester will miss J. Joseph Tansey. Our very best wishes go with him as he leaves us.

Referendum Time

Referendum is the word in the air this week. The subject?—The new high school again, of course. Last week the Special Town Meeting authorized, by a vote of 174 to 14, an additional expenditure of $3,100,000 to build the school, as originally planned, on the Shore Road site.

According to Mrs. Anthony Pronski, a member of the group circulating the referendum petition, the petition will be presented to the Board of Selectmen today at 3 p.m. Filing of the petition stops action on the article until the Town-wide referendum votes yes or no on it. This will put the Building Committee several weeks behind in getting the project out on bid should the referendum vote yes on the article.

In our opinion, the subject has been tossed about enough by now. The votes on the last three articles dealing with the high school have been overwhelmingly in favor of it. In November 1968, the article asking that the Town Meeting vote of February 1968 be rescinded failed by a vote of 175 to 4. Last Thursday's meeting favored the additional appropriation by a vote of 174 to 14. The original vote for the $10 million was 155 to 24 in favor of the expenditure.

The votes are overwhelming. To us the votes indicate that the Town is in favor of the project. We hope this is true when the matter comes before the referendum. Simply rejecting the appropriation does not stop the entire project. This will not be a question of whether or not to build the school; rather it will be a question of whether or not to appropriate an additional $3,100,000 to build the school as originally planned. If the Town refuses to appropriate the additional $3 million it only forces the project back to the drawing boards for many more months, at a construction cost of approximately one per cent per month; it doesn't kill it completely. We will definitely receive much less school for much more money if we delay.

One of the many things we have heard the opponents of the school say is that there is much more space allotted in the actual plans than in the educational specifications. We would remind them of Arthur Dunbar's statement on the Town Meeting floor and in the precinct meetings preceding the Town Meeting. He said that the school is built for the future and that Winchester has had a bad habit all along of building for the present only. If the school is built now, at a price of $13 million, the Town will have prepared itself for the graduating class of the year 2000, rather than finding itself needing another school in 1980.

We've wasted enough time now. Let's build it!

Starred by the Star:

(This letter was distributed prior to the Special Town Meeting by a group of High School students. We urge its consideration before you cast a vote in the referendum.)

Dear Town Meeting Member:

We, the students of Winchester High, are present tonight as an expression of extreme concern over an issue very familiar to us. For three years now we have attempted to voice, through every channel open to us, our sincere hopes that the new high school will be built. We gratefully watched each step forward and anticipated the opening of the new school—first, by 1970, then by 1971. All along the way we've seen the delays and have suffered for each one. As students here, 185 days each year we are acutely aware of our desperate need not only to have the school built, but to have it built the best possible way; that is, the way it was originally planned. We thought we might this evening attempt to show you the situation as we see it.

We believe we are all in agreement that something must be done about the present situation here. We would like to explain our support of the original plans by pointing out what are, from our point of view, some of the obvious faults in the alternative plans. These are:

1. For those who wish to expand the present high school onto Manchester Field, we ask—By using the field for building and using Shore Road as our new field, what are the gym classes who use the field every day to do? Are the students (approximately 150 from McCall and W.H.S. each period) to walk to Shore Road and back for each class???

What of the nearly impossible task of redesigning this present structure when things like stairway location and classroom location is so extremely limited???

Where are we, the students, to go during the building process? Are we expected to study over the noise???

Finally, what of the junior highs now facing their capacities? Where will a new junior high be built to relieve overcrowding at that level???

2. For those who propose the removal of the swimming pool, field house, and one gym, we ask:

Without their track, will our indoor track team be forced to practice in the hallways of the new school. They run now in our hallways.

Our average gym class has 50 students—are we to be cramped once again during winter months into one half a gym where the size of the class limits us to only group games???

Will our basketball team have to practice evenings, as it does now, because 2 gymnastic teams and 2 other basketball teams also use the gym in the winter???

Will the wrestling team have to practice in the music room of the new high school also???

Will the community, as well as the students, go without any swimming facilities in winter for the Town's lack of them???

The important question on any of these issues is time. Any changes now will take months more to develop. The students, can not afford the time. As long as the following conditions exist, we see no possible justification for further delay:

Calculus classes are meeting in the boys physical education room.

The State Department of Public Safety prohibits our using one of the chemistry labs declaring it unsafe and too small.

Indoor track team practices running and jumping hurdles in our hallways.

Teachers are forced to carry materials from room to room for lack of their own classroom or desk.

Students' desks are juggled to make enough room to seat everyone.

Students are turned away from classes for lack of room.

Ours tonight is a sincere effort to allow the Town Meeting Members to see for themselves exactly where we stand. Ours is not a selfish plea, for it is unlikely any of us will profit from the new high school. Instead, ours is a plea for the younger children of the Community—tonight we ask—please don't delay any more—give them what was promised us three years ago.

Thank you.

Children Learn Wildlife In Smith Pond Walks

Capturing snails in kitchen strainers and studying duckweeds spooned into plastic lids, fourth grade boys and girls from Washington School took the first nature walk sponsored by the School Department and Winchester Trails during the regular school year on Tuesday, October 7.

The students learned about the Smith Pond conservation area with the guidance of nine members of the Winchester Trails Field Studies Committee. The 42 boys and girls, under the direction of the volunteer nature counsellors, saw changing leaves, berries and winter buds forming, learned about hibernation and what happens to pond life as it gets ready for fall.

Prepared for their nature walk by a classroom slide-tape and chart program, the boys and girls knew what to look for at the pond. The advance program was presented by Mrs. Philip Parsons and her In-School Slide Program committee of Trails members, Mrs. Lane McGovern, Mrs. Robert Grasty, and Mrs. Warburton Ver Planck.

Mark DesMeules, a WHS student, took photographs of birds, animals and plants seen on the trails and made tape recordings of the sounds of the area which accompany the slides. Mrs. Parsons also explained an Audubon Society chart showing the progression of pond growth.

Pond Search

This preparation gave the children a background which helped them answer questions and know where and what to search for when they arrived at the pond. Stations were marked at points on the trails at the pond. The counsellors have been trained to point out and explain particular formations noted at each station.

The students slogged in the mud at the edge of the pond in improvised "Baggie" boots supplied by the volunteers, all wet-foot-conscious mothers. The field trip became an adventure as the nature hunters searched through a thick growth of cat tail plants twice their height and disappeared from view just five feet from their counsellors.

Small groups of eight or ten students were accompanied by a counsellor to insure as much individual instruction as possible. Identifying leaves of trees, insect cocoons and bird songs heard occupied the avid and enthusiastic students of ecology for two hours. Each living discovery was replaced carefully as the counsellors encouraged students to practice conservation.

The nature walks are the culmination of more than a year of hard work by volunteers. At the request of Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Donald A. Klemmer, Mrs. Warburton K. Ver Planck began an investigation into the possibility of offering an organized program of nature walks as part of the science curriculum. Following her extensive research and consultation, the Winchester Trails organization was founded and a nature walks program planned.

Winchester Trails conducted a pilot program of nature walks during the Winchester-Lesley Summer School program. Following the success of the pilot venture, the School Department and Trails group pursued the possibility of using the walks as part of the regular school year curriculum. The Washington School fourth graders became the first group of Winchester school children to take such a walk.

Workshops

shops on facts about Smith Pond to train the volunteer guides. Nature walk counsellors now number over 30. The group has prepared a booklet on the pond including a detailed map and description of all flora, fauna and terrain as well as a complete history of the pond area.

With the cooperation of the nature counsellors the schools will be able to offer nature walks during the entire month of October. The group feels that the month of October will be the final one available for walks this year since the November chill makes extended outdoor activity impractical and causes seeds to disappear and the pond to freeze. Spring trips are planned.

Chairman of the Field Studies Program volunteers is Miss Deborah Harrison whose corps of mothers includes: Mrs. Thornton Stearns, Mrs. John Craig, Mrs. Dirk Van Gemenen, Mrs. Milton Trager, Mrs. William Welles, Mrs. Arthur Daniels, Mrs. Daniel Hritzay, Mrs. Robert Grasty, Mrs. Charles Morgan, Mrs. Alexander Aitken, Mrs. Stephen Parkhurst, Mrs. James Coggins, Mrs. Robert Center, Mrs. Stephen Moore, Mrs. Winfield Knopf, Mrs. Howard Frazier, Mrs. Robert Granger, Mrs. Herbert Arnold, Mrs. Ralph Seferian, Mrs. Albert Vanderbilt, Mrs. Robert Magnusen, Mrs. Parsons and Mrs. Ver Planck.

Superintendent Donald A. Klemmer and the elementary school principals went on the Smith Pond nature walk with the volunteer counsellors in late September. Taking the guided field trip acquainted them with the possibilities offered to their students by the group of volunteers. Winchester Trails nature walks have since been scheduled at other schools throughout the month of October.

BOOK REVIEW

by Ann M. Smith

Winchester Public Library

OPUS 100

by Isaac Asimov

Opus 100 is for just about everyone. It makes good reading at one sitting and would be equally effective as quick pick-up material. It is a book for science-fiction and Asimov fans and for the uninitiated, for literary critics, for young writers (and old), and for people who just like a good book. This is Isaac Asimov at his best and, if we can believe him, with his hair down.

To celebrate his first ninety-nine books, Asimov has compiled an anthology-literary autobiography which is as fascinating for its far-ranging contents as it is for what it tells us about the man, his career of three decades, and every topic that happened to occur to him in the process of putting the whole thing together.

The Asimov that emerges from these pages is ebullient, enthusiastic, maybe a little loud, and very much like some of my favorite people. He has theories and opinions to fit every situation, and his ability to see a pattern where some of us never have probably accounts for some of his success as a writer. Another factor in his success (never the author of a best seller, he nevertheless has apparently never produced a loser either) is undoubtedly his penchant for developing new projects, working them out in an instant and selling them to some unsuspecting (?) editor.

The book is divided into sections which reflect the breadth of his interests and provide a nearly chronological record of his writings. Under Astronomy, naturally, comes the science-fiction which launched his writing career. He discusses and quotes his fictional treatment of Jupiter to illustrate the evolution of Asimov, the writer, as well as his theories about science-fiction as a reflection of its own time and his views on the problems and processes of this type of writing. Robots contains a couple of the best stories in the book—good examples of sociological science-fiction where imagination is paired with a keen appreciation for human nature.

The sciences—physics, mathematics, biology, and chemistry—were the non-fiction topics that he first tackled. (Non-fiction now accounts for well over half of his total production.) The selections demonstrate his ability to write for different audiences and at different levels and to remain interesting. The trials and tribulations of the science writer who is on the one hand required to be accurate and up to date and is hounded on the other by the possible breakthrough that may make his book obsolete overnight serve as an interesting backdrop for this section.

The natural evolution of his subjects proceeds as he branches from science into science biography, from biographical detail into word histories and thence into history itself. Asimov is modest in his disclaimers that he is an expert in any subject and candid in his description of the homework that precedes the actual writing.

The Asimov image, finally, is of a compulsive writer who cannot resist the challenge of a subject, who is sensitive to criticism and failure, who almost always writes more than was contracted for and enjoys every minute at the electric typewriter—including the proofreading which gives him a chance to enjoy what the little man inside him has been producing. One cannot fail to come away with the feeling that Isaac Asimov is doing his thing and doing it well, and that it is well worth knowing him.

letters to the editor

Vietnam Vet

Editor of the Star:

After listening to arguments pro and con concerning the Moratorium Day and The Vietnam War, I believe that those of us who have had first hand experience in Vietnam should attempt to contribute our thoughts and convictions.

I, personally, have contributed 14 months of my life to the Republic of Vietnam as a former Naval officer. In so doing, I and my family of four suffered long separations while those who speak out most vehemently against the policies of our President were untouched by personal involvement. I say it was worth it.

Each of us views issues in different perspective due to a variety of educational, physiological, and environmental factors. This necessitates the existence of irrefutable facts upon which we must base our decision-making process. I hold the following to be self-evident:

1. Our President has stated that we shall withdraw our military forces from Vietnam as soon as possible.

2. Neither side can achieve total victory in guerrilla warfare. The technologically superior force can only defeat the guerrilla if and when he masses his forces as in the Tet offensive. The guerrilla force can only defeat the technologically superior force by mass attacks along a broad front. Until such time as the guerrilla force achieves firepower equivalent to its adversary it cannot mass and thus, in Vietnam, the United States and the guerrilla forces are stalemated for the foreseeable future.

3. As long as the United States continues to pursue its role as the guardian of democracy, it must fight side by side with all Democratic regimes be they black, yellow, white or any other color located anywhere in the world. A nation must set and pursue objectives. Isolationism is the other logical alternative and until such time as it becomes a national goal, we cannot be selective as to which Democratic governments we will protect.

In sum, it is my contention that we have elected a President by due Democratic process who sets national objectives. Until such time as this leader is removed from office by a majority of the electorate, we owe him our support and confidence. He has stated that he will withdraw our forces as soon as possible knowing that our technological superiority must be transferred to the run in order to preserve this democratic entity. This process requires time and has been going on since our earliest involvement in Vietnam. It took 10 years in Korea, a similar democratic entity. Those who love the freedoms provided under the democratic form of government must support the will of the majority if we are to survive as a democratic nation.

Very truly yours,
Richard A. Clarke

Objects To UNICEF Halloween Drive

Editor of the Star:

In your October 9 issue you listed several ways in which UNICEF spends its money. However, you missed a few of the more interesting ones.

For example, I think that the young "Trick or Treat for UNICEF"ers should be told about the $10 million loaned by UNICEF to the parent organization to finance the UN invasion of Katanga in 1961, a most humane affair. They might also be interested in hearing of UNICEF's $125,000 gift to Cuba in 1964. That was not for war, only to finance a fleet of trucks and jeeps. For peaceful purposes, no doubt.

UNICEF gifts and funds have a history of landing in the wrong hands. Like UNRRA before it and much of our foreign aid today, food and medical supplies for the needy are given, by UNICEF, to Communist governments who use these supplies as political weapons.

I hope everyone will join me in passing out only the conventional dimes and pennies, but what they do with larger sums is frightening.

Sincerely yours,
J. C. Mullen

Peace Service

Editor of the Star:

On Wednesday, October 15, I attended the Peace Unity Service at the Congregational Church here in Winchester which was sponsored by the Ecumenical Youth Council. I was deeply impressed by the service and the spirit which prevailed there. It was very simple, sincere, thoughtful and beautiful. It gives a great credit to our young people who organized and executed it.

LOU GODDU SCHOLARSHIP
Former High School athletes and friends of Lou Goddu have established a scholarship to be given in his name.

Lou's untiring efforts and his understanding heart have been an inspiration to all who knew him. Lou was our trainer from 1940 until he retired in 1967. He gave unstintingly of his time not only in our school training room and on the fields but also in his home.

Many owe Lou a great deal. I would like to invite all of our former athletes to make a donation to this worthy cause.

Offers Support For Referendum On High School

Editor of the Star:

Betrayed, double crossed.

The people made Socrates drink hemlock and his essay describing the paralysis and death is still a classic; Caesar was double crossed by his pals as we all know, all to show that a Democracy isn't worth the power to blow to Hell.

We have the greatest written document of all time in that a form of government, a Republic, was created based upon a separation of powers, executive, legislative, judicial, in order that no group would be able to gain power over these United States of America. Errors made by the Town Moderator at the Town Meeting of October 16, 1969 showed a prejudice unfair to those who were not in favor of adding $3,000,000 to the town debt in addition to the $10 million already appropriated for the campus type new High School.

As I have stated so many times, the human being constituted as he is, he is not able to govern himself as most of these human beings are afraid to stand up and be counted. Even though many of the constituents of Precinct Six as well as Town Meeting Members from other precincts advised this writer to kill the $3,000,000 extra needed to go ahead with the new High School, it was overwhelmingly voted with only some 17-18 Members voting against the Article.

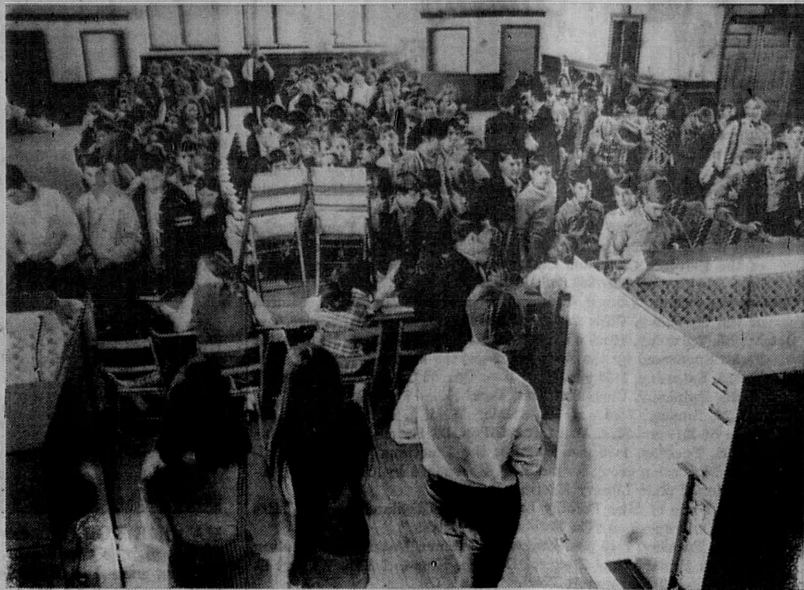

It is no wonder that I felt the same as those mentioned above, not that this writer would even attempt to place myself in their category of greatness, with their erudition and far sightedness. Betrayed, double crossed. Words cannot describe the letdown but there is hope and light ahead. The good Lord said "Let there be light and there was light."

I understand that the light will come in the form of a referendum which will draw those who did not dare to stand up and be counted and give them a chance to vote in secret for nullifying the vote in Town Meeting, a second chance to vote in the manner in which they, in good conscience, believe.

Junior High Votes For Officers

Town Meet.

Concluding his remarks, he said that if the Town chose to abandon everything now, it would spend considerable money and still need junior high school space.

Noting that he didn't see how an addition to the present high school, plus construction of junior high space, would cost any less, he added that it would be an educational and economic tragedy for Winchester if the request was turned down.

Paul Amico, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, said that the Selectmen were unanimously in favor of the article. He added that money can be made and lost but that the educational affect on a child cannot be recouped. "The town has had a bad habit of acting too late," he concluded.

"The Town can not be accused of having done anything in haste," Robert Grenzeback, chairman of the Finance Committee, said in presenting the approval of his committee for the article.

William G. Chapman Jr., chairman of the Planning Board, noted that his board was unanimously in favor of the article.

Following the comments from the Town boards, Mr. Chadwick opened the floor for discussion. First to be recognized was Arthur Hewis.

Gamble

Calling the project a "gamble," he said that it would cost $20 million, not $13 million, by the time it was finished. He also noted that the return money for the state on the project would go into the Town E and D account rather than into reducing the tax burden.

The Moderator then recognized Eugene Rotondi. Mr. Rotondi voiced concern that the school could be built for $10 million. He noted that office estimates of construction costs should be fairly close, not $3 million off.

Stating that construction costs were going down, he suggested waiting until next spring to go out on bid.

Also speaking in opposition to the article was Earle Littleton. Stating that "inflation doesn't suddenly seize you," he asked an explanation of the costs. Listing comparisons of the educational specifications and the actual plans, he said the administration received much more than they asked.

Mr. Littleton then presented figures on building an addition to the present high school.

Returning to speak after the intermission, however, Mr. Littleton approved the article.

In rebuttal to Mr. Littleton's comments, Mr. Nichols stated, "Magic solutions are too late and just will not go."

Replying to questions concerning whether the plans exceeded the educational specifications, Mr. Dunbar said that it was a school with room for expansion; a building for the future not only the present.

A motion was presented by Mrs. Anthony Pronski asking facts on an addition to the present school. Mr. Chadwick ruled the motion out of order.

Before taking the vote on the article, Mr. Chadwick announced to the meeting that this was the last Town Meeting for Joseph J. Tansey who would be moving out of the state. Mr. Tansey received a standing ovation from the audience.

Mr. Chadwick opened discussion on Article 2 by calling for a vote on the amendment to the Town By-Laws. The By-Law was passed after some discussion as to whether the Town Meeting had the right to act on the By-Laws unless it was specifically called for in the Warrant.

Article 2 was passed with little discussion by the meeting.

Among the purposes outlined by RADAR's representative were to serve for the dissemination of information, to provide a center for the exchange of ideas, to establish a half-way house, to assist other towns in forming drug action committees and "to in no way endorse a feeling of tokenism" in dealing with drug programs.

Those things which RADAR has done include assisting local groups in their formation of drug activities organizations, providing speakers for other communities, printing a periodic newsletter, forming a parents of addicts group, forming a legislative research group in the hope of influencing such drug legislation and providing confidential assistance.

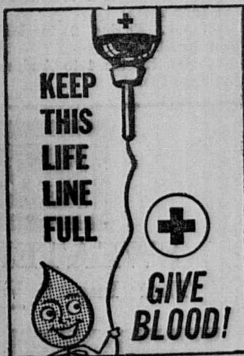

Perhaps the main goal of RADAR is the establishment of its own half-way house. What is needed primarily is a building with a staff of approximately 70 persons. After a year of legislative lobbying, however, Mr. Kasirubas remarked that the best that could be accomplished was a $50,000 study on the feasibility of using a particular building for this purpose.

Citing major contributions to the success of RADAR in Wakefield, he named the school, the Police Department, heavy publicity and drug assemblies.

The Committee for CONCERN will continue to examine the specific points involved with membership in RADAR before deciding on positive action. Money has already been appropriated for this purpose.

In other business discussed at the meeting, it was made known that CONCERN is planning to print a drug pamphlet to provide information and answer questions about drugs which will be widely distributed through the Town.

Most highways have maximum speed limits—often temporarily reduced by a slow-moving vehicle. Don't lose your patience, warns the Institute for Safer Living. The only safe speed is the speed of traffic flow. Always move with it! Be especially alert on throughways where driving is faster and smoother.

No member of the sponsoring organization is allowed to receive remuneration for time or effort expended in the promoting or organizing of raffles or bazaars.

Also, funds obtained by any raffle or bazaar are to be used exclusively for educational, charitable, religious, fraternal or civic purposes or for veterans' benefits.

Applications

Application forms for permits will be available in the office of the City or Town Clerk in the city or town where the raffle is to be drawn or the bazaar is to be conducted.

Mrs. Nelson has announced that forms for permits and copies of the Act are now available in the office of the Town Clerk. Also available is Form 38B "Raffle and/or Bazaar Tax Return" which must be completed and filed with the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Department of Corporations and Taxation, Bureau of Special Investigations, 100 Cambridge Street, Boston 02204.

Addressing

Addresses must be legible and complete, and should be prepared by typewriter or pen and ink. The APO and FPO numbers are the same as the Zip Code and must be shown on all mails.

A. SAM MAIL parcels paid at the surface rates, and not exceeding 5 pounds in weight, and not over 60 inches in length and girth combined, will be airfreighted on a space available basis from the port of dispatch shown in the address, to the overseas military post office.

B. PAL MAIL parcels, upon payment of a fee of $1 in addition to the regular surface rate of postage, a parcel not exceeding 30 pounds in weight, and 60 inches in length and girth combined, will be transported by air on a space available basis from the place of mailing to the overseas military post office.

Referendum

—How many more jobs and directors and what additional costs? Why so many confusing statements on the effect on the tax rate? The Building Committee continues to say about 99 cents for the addition. Doesn't this really add up to 13 million plus over seven million for interest?

"To us this is over one million dollars out of revenue each year for 20 years. That adds up to 150 to 200 dollars a year to the average taxpayer, without any improvements for Water, Sewer, Parks, Recreation, Police, Fire, Sanitation and Health services from now on.

"That's why the Referendum is going over so big. People want education but we also need all these other services, to live."

Mrs. Pronski noted that the group intends to present the petition to the Board of Selectmen this afternoon about 3 p.m. By law, petitions for a referendum must be presented to the Selectmen by the close of the working day within five working days of the Special Town Meeting.

The Selectmen must issue a call for a referendum within 10 days after the filing of the petition. The referendum then must be held within 14 days of the issuing of the call. All action on the Article is suspended when the petition is filed.

A referendum is a yes or no vote by the registered voters of the Town on an article in the warrant for a Town Meeting. Twenty per cent of the registered voters in the Town must vote in the referendum in order for its action to be binding.

The article on which the referendum will be held is:

(1) To see if the Town will raise and appropriate a sum of money in addition to the $10,070,000 appropriated on February 26, 1968, for constructing and originally equipping and furnishing a new senior high school including outdoor athletic facilities, at the so-called Shore Road Site; and to determine whether any amount which is appropriated shall be raised by borrowing, transfer or otherwise, and to take any other action in relation thereto.

The firm will perform the work in Winchester, and the specifications call for a theoretical design, study, development, fabrication and testing of three types of localizer antenna arrays adaptable to various airport sites.

Changes Recorded In Town Meeting Memberships

According to the records of Town Clerk Elsie M. Nelson there have been several changes during the year 1969 in the positions of Town Meeting members.

Precincts One and Three have experienced no changes.

In Precinct Two Thomas G. Callahan of 3 Summit Avenue has replaced John H. MacPartlin, who resigned on March 5; Philip J. Condy of 11 Herick Street has replaced Sherman W. Saltmarsh Jr., who became a selectman April 11; Margery T. Crockett of 137 Mt. Vernon Street for Lois P. Carr, who resigned on March 14; and Charles L. Morgan of 6 Crescent Road, who took School Committee Chairman Harriet H. Dieterich's place on April 30.

In Precinct Four John J. Collier Jr. of 63 High Street is acting in the position vacated by Robert P. Reid on July 14; Lucille H. Grassi of 4 Aristotle Drive has replaced Paul D. Garrity, who resigned on July 8; and George L. Saulnier of 35 Glen Green has replaced Albert S. Melilli. There are only 32 members at present in this precinct due to the fact that Henry T. Gerould, who resigned on October 14, has not yet been replaced.

In Precinct Five Barbara S. Hankins of 37 Cabot Street has filled the vacancy left by Gordon D. Peckham as of January 1. In Precinct Six Jennifer M. Flowers of 9 Winter Street has taken the place of George F. Burns Jr., who died on May 15.

There have also been changes among the Members-At-Large. Varktes K. Karaian of 6 Squire Road has become chairman of the Board of Health, replacing Warren J. Taylor. Harriet H. Dieterich of 6 Blackhorse Terrace is now chairman of the School Committee in place of Barbara M. Walsh and Richard J. Donovan of 550 South Border Road has taken Ernest A. Phillips Jr.'s position as chairman of the Water and Sewer Board.

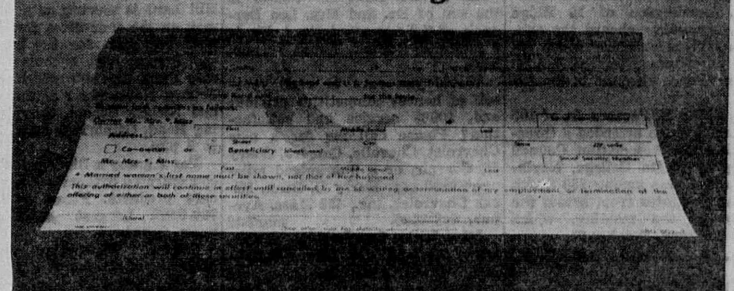

New members of the Finance Committee include Scott Cunningham of 21 Winthrop Street; Robert C. Ericson of 155 High Street; George S. Hebb Jr. of 14 Jefferson Road; John J. McInnis of 117 Mt. Vernon Street; and John J. Mitchell of 15 Windemere Road. Those who have recently left this office are William T. Bird, Bertram H. Dube, Ormond M. Hessler, Frederick LaTorella, and Rogers G. Welles.

Give your country a hand.
But don't lift a finger.

Except to fill out this Payroll Savings Card where you work.

After that, just sit back and be lazy. Each payday part of your pay will be automatically set aside for U.S. Savings Bonds.

And that can mean big money for you in the years to come. For a new home, for education, or for retirement.

It means big money for your country, too. The kind it takes to put men on the moon, build highways, and keep the nation strong.

And the government believes in safeguarding your investment in it. Bonds are guaranteed. And the U.S.

Treasury will replace them—free—if they are lost, stolen, or destroyed.

There's a bonus, too. Each Bond you buy entitles you to buy a Freedom Share of the same denomination. Freedom Shares pay a higher rate of interest than Bonds, and mature in just four and one-half years.

Now doesn't that sound like easy work?

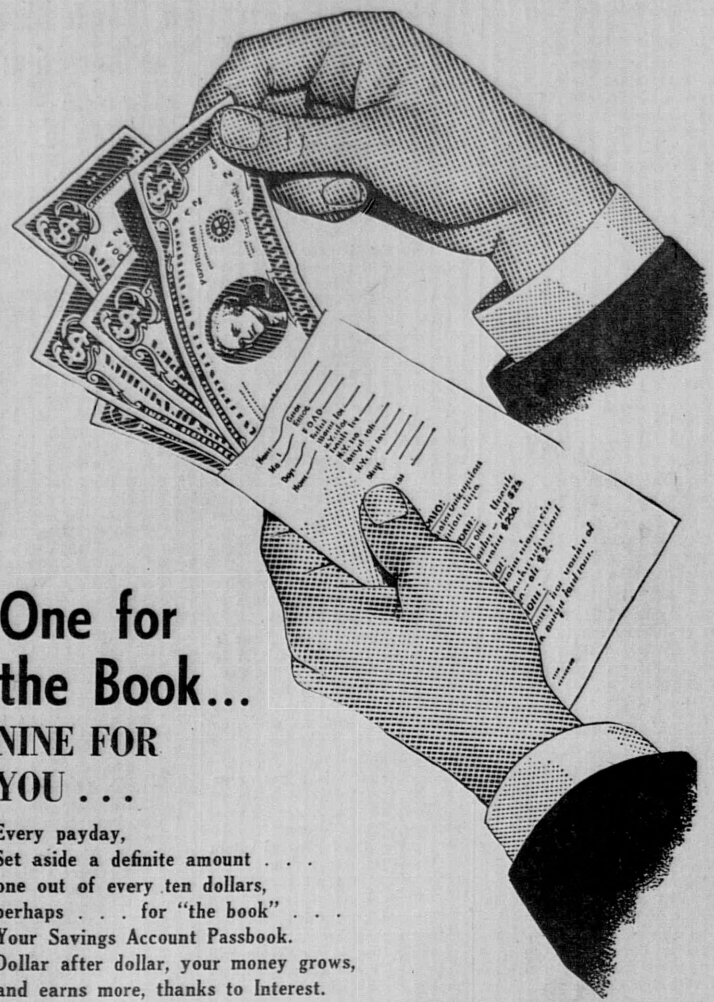

If they're lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace 'em.

Methodists To Observe Youth Week

Methodists will observe Youth Week October 26 through November 2.

The emphasis on human dignity relates to the problem of racism which is the "White Plight."

Be looking for poignant posters. Two youths will present an episode during the 11 a.m. worship service at the Crawford Memorial United Methodist Church. This year Youth Week is a Protestant and Catholic endeavor.

WHS Band Plans Concert

Winchester High School band members are making plans for an exchange band concert in Montreal, Canada in January, 1970.

According to Frederick J. Murray, director of the band, a concert will be given jointly by Winchester and the Montreal high school band. Students will stay in the homes of the Canadian band members.

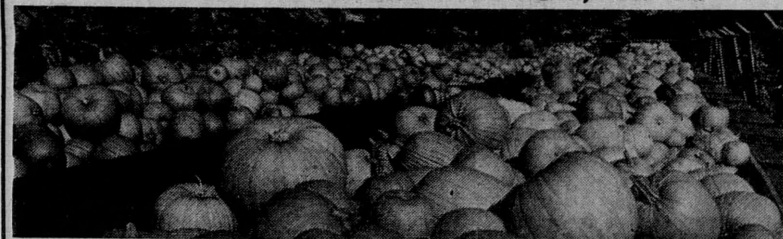

A return concert by the Montreal band will be given in Winchester. Funds to make the trip possible will be raised through the efforts of the band members and the Friends of the Band and Orchestra.

Sunday Service Featured

At the 11 o'clock worship service at the Second Congregational Church on Sunday, October 26 Father Paul Fahey of St. Eulalia's Church and the Rev. Larry Keeter of the Second Congregational Church will engage in a dialogue sermon on the topic, "The Unity We Seek."

The occasion for this ecumenical event is the celebration of Reformation Sunday in Protestant churches throughout the world. The format of the sermon involves an honest appraisal of what divides and what unites people as Protestants and Catholics.

John Lavine Addresses MSPCA

John Lavine, assisted by Paul Sylvester, of the American Humane Education Society, 180 Longwood Avenue, Boston, addressed the first fall meeting of the Winchester Auxiliary to the M.S.P.C.A., Monday, October 20, at the home of Mrs. Park Hoyt.

The American Humane Education Society is an established affiliate of the S.P.C.A. as well as Angell Memorial Hospital, and its objective is the total education of animal protection—from pet care instruction for children to law enforcement procedures for adults. This year the Society will present a program on pet care to the students of nearly 1,000 elementary schools with in the state.

The Society has also established the prerequisites necessary for men to become eligible for training at the newly established Eric H. Hanson Academy, whose graduates will be agents of the S.P.C.A. Massachusetts presently employs 65 men and maintains 45-50 vehicles for the law enforcement of protection to animals. They receive from 450 to 500 calls weekly. These men are State Police Academy graduates. The new training course is a 21-week program with six weeks at the State Police Academy, six weeks at Angell Memorial Hospital and nine weeks on the road with a trained agent. In the future the Society will offer two 21-week courses a year, open to all the United States. The classes are limited to six to eight men, and out of the 34 applicants this year only four met the rigid requirements.

Following the address by Mr. Lavine, tea was served by Mrs. Dean Carleton and Mrs. Clinton Charles. Pouring were Mrs. William Cronin and Mrs. Richard Chase.

Backs Nixon In Vietnam Policy

After attending the September Massachusetts Republican State Committee meeting, Cynthia L. Barone of 1 School Street, State Committeewoman for this district, reported on a resolution passed by the Committee.

Resolved: "The Republican State Committee stands firmly behind President Nixon in his efforts to end the war in Viet Nam. We believe that his pursuit of a just and lasting peace with honor deserves the support of every loyal American."

"We call on all Americans, regardless of party, to unite behind him in this effort."

It was the general feeling that the President, by virtue of his office, holds significant information which, because of reason of security, cannot be known by the ordinary citizen. Therefore he should and must make the final decisions as to what course is best for the country.

Mrs. Barone mentioned that Chairman Josiah Spaulding notified the State Committee members that after three years in office, he wished to be replaced. His resignation will be effective on or before January 1.

As funds are difficult to raise on off-election years, certain cuts in the paid working staff of the Committee have been made and Executive Director Richard Mastrangelo has resigned to join the staff of Governor Sargent.

Announcements were made of a December 2 dinner by Governor Sargent, a November 15 Regional Conference and a finance breakfast meeting.

Although the meeting hours had been set for 5 to 7:30 p.m., the discussions lasted until 9 p.m. It was voted unanimously that similar round-table discussion meetings be held monthly during the ensuing year.

Home, Garden Club Visits Lexington

The first fall meeting of the Winchester Home and Garden Club was opened by the new president, Mrs. Ray E. Brown. Because of a special program the business meeting was abbreviated.

Mrs. John Chipman reported on conservation and Mrs. Frank J. Robinson on garden club therapy.

Following the business meeting members drove to Lexington Gardens to tour the greenhouses and hear a talk by John Millican, owner. Mr. Millican expertly advised members on the proper care of many house plants including primroses, geraniums and African violets. Members benefited from Mr. Millican's knowledge by plying him with many questions about their plants.

BOWLING

Boys' League

The Lions won over the Bobcats 6 to 2. Rendell Tong, Rick Callahan, Andy Gangi and Joe Figucia bowled well for the Lions, with Ray Callahan high bowler for the Bobcats.

The Wildcats took 6 points from the Tigers despite Jack Finch's 310 triple. Robbie Abreu of the Wildcats looks like a triple-crown winner with his fine bowling, but the season is young yet, and we have some mighty fine prospects.

The Cheetahs rolled over the Leopards by 6 points. Eddie Airey, John Paoletti and John Etheridge paced the Cheetahs. Congratulations to Al Cordice, who won a cooler case filled with Pepsi in the Pepsi-Cola drawing. The Cougars lost 6 points to the Panthers. Robert Russo, Mark Pichler and Bobby Babin were top keepers for the Cougars. Rudy Fiore, Rick Renzo and John Rallo were high rollers for the Panthers.

The Mod Squad continued its winning ways by taking 6 points from the Blue Angels despite the gallant efforts of Debbie Mangano, Michele Manderville and Susan Bradley, all of whom bowled well for the Angels.

Ellen Geannaris and Lianne Bingle were in rare form for the Mod Squad. The Invaders with Patty and Rosemary Haggerty, Nancy Ranzo, Carol Louise and Cindy Rallo swept 6 points from the Archies. Penny Olivadoti and Karen Doyle were high for the Archies.

F. Troop dropped 6 points to the Avengers even though Ann DiZio hit her high three of the season and earned an M.B.A. arm patch. Carol McElhinney and Nancy MacMillan were tops for the Avengers.

Coffee League

Pence reigned at the bowling alleys as well as throughout the nation on October 15th. Peg McCarthy's 112, Rose Breen's 109, and Dot Donovan's 100 were the only sounds to break the deafening silence.

As you can see, the Gutterbelles, the Highlights, and the Lightfooters all have a 22 and 18 record which makes the total pins pretty important since that is what decides who goes first, second and third.

The Highlights, Captain Catherine Havican, Adele Metrick, Maria Dulichinos and Anita Vartanian, took six points from the Go-Getters this morning and jumped from fourth to second place.

Jo Simms stepped in her usual fine style and had the high single of 102.

WHS Field Hockey

Defeats Lexington

Two weeks ago the Girl's Field Hockey team, under the coaching of Jan Collins, opened its season. Led by co-captains Debbie Doyle and Eileen McKenna, the team met Woburn at home. Playing a skilled, aggressive game, they beat their rivals 2-1.

Next came Stoneham in their first away game. Winchester proved victorious in the last five minutes by a penalty bully won by Barbara Dalton. The final score was 2-1.

Last Friday the girls encountered an always strong Lexington team. The first half saw several back and forth from one end to the other end with only a few spurts of offense. The defense was superb, rarely allowing Lexington to get inside the WHS circle. The first half ended in a 0-0 tie.

Winchester knew what they had to do in the second half and did. Eileen, playing right inner, brought the ball down into the circle and fired across the goal where Merly Ober popped it in for the first score of the game. The second tally came minutes later giving Merly her second score on a determined rush in the circle. The final score was Winchester 2, Lexington 0.

J.V. lost 1-0 on a fine breakaway by the Lexington left inner.

St. Mary's

Soccer Downs

Weymouth 4-0

St. Mary's CYO soccer team evened up their season's record to two wins and two losses by virtue of their 4-0 victory over Immaculate Conception of Weymouth last Sunday.

The St. Mary's offense completely dominated the game with two goals scored in each half. The score might have mounted much higher if St. Mary's had cashed in on the many goal-producing situations.

The goal scorers for St. Mary's were: Will Paglia, Andrew Joslin, Peter Martini, Al Sampson.

Sampson's goal in this game brings his total for the season to seven.

St. Mary's will host league-leading and undefeated St. John's of Dorchester next Sunday at 2:00 p.m. on Shore Road Field.

Pop Warner

Downs East Lynn

The Winchester Pop Warner 100's displayed "true grit" as they overcame an eight point deficit to beat East Lynn 19-14 at Lynn on Sunday in a free wheeling offensive show.

Winchester opened with a crisp attack in its first series of downs. Pete Frongillo passed to Chuck Hayford for a 38 yard gain. Ken Errico drove over guard for 16 to put the ball on the three. From there Doug Marr bucked in.

The next two periods saw the home forces take the initiative. Their pro-type offense confused Winchester's defense, as quick look-in passes repeatedly yielded four to eight yards and several good runs turned a vulnerable right end. The result was a 14-6 lead for the Lynners as the third period neared an end.

Facing defeat, the B's fired back. Chuck Hayford took the kick-off following Lynn's second TD and raced to the right sideline. There he found his wall in position and in action. He turned up the alley and scored untouched after a 65 yard gallop, and topped this off by hustling around right end for the extra points.

The Winchester coaching staff finally awakened and adjusted the junior's defense to counter the threat of the split end and flanker. At the same time, Chris Carzo and Todd Cronan were inserted to add speed to the defensive charge. The improved coverage of receivers and the newly found pass rush halted Lynn's offense and Winchester returned to the attack.

Sharp passing by Frongillo set up a 26 yard dash around right end by Doug Marr, but this score was nullified by a motion penalty and the drive sputtered. However, Winchester was now on fire and not to be denied. In their next series, the B's covered the 60 yards between defeat and victory in two plays. Dick Errico and Cronin led Jimmy Beaton into open space around left end and Jimmy gobbled up 40 yards. The capper was a play action pass from the same set, and as the Lynn halfback reacted to the fake, Hayford flashed by him and Frongillo hit him dead center to ice the victory.

The 100's hope to sharpen their line play by this Sunday, when they lead off in a Shore Road Double header against Saugus.

Giants Finish

For Pee Wees

The first Pee Wee game last Saturday at Shore Road Field found the Packers stopping the Bears 14 to 8. In the first half the Bears went ahead 8 to 0 on a pass from George Parker to Danny Adams.

The extra two points were scored by Jim Rigney. The second half was all Packers as "Big" Cavarretta ran for two touchdowns. Jamie Markham rushed for the extra two points. The right side of the Packers line, Jim Restighini, Jackie Bergin and Peter Stackpole played an outstanding game.

The defensive stars of the game were Tom Collins of the Packers and Jim Sullivan of the Bears. In the big game of the day, the Giants edged the Lions 14 to 6. The first half was scoreless as both offenses were stopped by the defensive units of both teams. This was a very unusual first half as it featured a 35 minute first quarter due to the failure of an official's stopwatch.

A first and ten situation on the Giants 12 yard line by the Lions as the first quarter ended, became a first and ten situation on the 23 yard line at the other end of the field, much to the dismay of the Lions fans, not to mention the Lions coaches.

In the third quarter the Giants scored after a missed kick by the Lions punter. The touchdown was scored by Bradley Marks on an eight yard blast over left tackle on a handoff by quarterback Billy Maggio. Billy then scored the extra two points on a quarterback sneak.

Game time—11:30 a.m.

On the next set of plays after the kickoff, the ball was stolen from the Lions quarterback by Giants tackle, Jay Cogan, who ran 40 yards for the touchdown. In the fourth quarter the Lions scored on a three yard run by Allan Russell who just made it over the goal line by the top of his helmet. The rush for the extra two points failed.

The Giants are a "hard nose" football team both offensively and defensively and deserved the win. Outstanding for the Lions on defense was Dana Doe who brought the Giants backs down after short gains with his bone-crushing tackles. On the opposite side was Billy Maggio, who played his corner back position, making many individual tackles all over the field.

The last game saw the Jets jolt the Patriots 20 to 0. Billy McLean scored two touchdowns plus the extra two points for the Jets. Daryl West scored the other touchdown. The Jets defense led by Billy Casey and Owen Cote stopped the passing and running attack of Patriots cold as quarterback John Delagrotte and halfbacks Richard Allison and Tim Powers could not get their offense rolling.

The final standings are:

Wee Sachems

Down Scituate

The Sunday Pop Warner 115 pound football game was truly a contest between Winchester's running game and Scituate's air attack in which the outcome was not decided until the final second of the game.

The first period was marred by Winchester fumbles and penalties by both teams. Scituate was unable to run the ball against the Winchester defense and near the end of the first period struck through the air for their first touchdown and extra point.

On the first play of the second quarter Rudy Fiore raced 60 yards for a Winchester touchdown. The extra-point attempt failed and Scituate led 7-6.

Scituate dominated play in the second quarter but was unable to score due to the defensive efforts of Kevin Pierce, Karl Mayer, Mike Heffernan, and Jeff Christensen.

The tide of battle changed five times in the second half. It began when Fiore recovered a Scituate fumble. Dean Devlin hit off-tackle for 15 yards and Mike Heffernan followed with runs of five and six yards. This set the stage for Fiore to score from 12 yards out. The point after touchdown was also made by Rudy Fiore.

The Wee Sachems led 13-7. Winchester's prosperity was not long-lived, for after the kick-off Scituate scored on a pass play that covered 50 yards, but failed to score the point-after-touchdown. The score was tied at 13-13.

In the last play of the third quarter, Brendon Riley intercepted a Scituate pass and the Winchester offense went into high gear marching 60 yards in ten plays for a touchdown and extra point, both by Rudy Fiore. Mike Heffernan and Dean Devlin contributed substantial yardage in the touchdown drive behind sharp blocking from Andy DeMars, Steve Waite, Gary Beard, Dana Cronan, and Bruce Hanes.

Scituate received the kick-off and again took to the air passing their way to a touchdown minus the extra point. Winchester led at this point 21-20. Scituate's kick-off touched a Winchester player before being downed in the end-zone by Winchester thereby scoring a two-point safety for Scituate and Scituate led 22-21.

During subsequent play Rudy Fiore intercepted two Scituate passes. Winchester was unable to gain after the first interception, but following the second the Wee Sachems put together a sustained drive which culminated in a touchdown and extra point by Fiore.

Time ran out before Scituate could find Winchester's goal line and the Wee Sachems had won their fourth football game 27-21. The 115 pound Wee Sachems meet Wakefield next Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at Winchester's Shore Road Field.

Score Comparison Can Be True

One of the most common fallacies of sports followers is the old comparative scores system. By it there are often some horrendous things which are deduced. "If so and so beat so and so who tied whoosis then Lynnfield, who tied whoosis can beat Haverhill who lost to so and so, etc."

However, look at the accuracy of this one! Winchester beat Stoneham 32-6 and then toppled Cambridge Latin by 52-8. In other words, they outscored Stoneham by 26 and Latin by 44.

If comparative scores are for real, then the Stoneham club should have beaten Latin by 18 points. They didn't quite hit it on the nose but they did win by 20, the first triumph of the season for Bob Margarita's eleven.

Three Teams Undeclared In League Play

As the season approaches the half-way mark there remain three undeclared teams in the Middlesex League race. Barring almost impossible upsets no other teams have a chance to take the crown now worn by the Sachems.

Melrose is the actual leader as it has played and won four straight league contests. Both Winchester and Wakefield have come through unscathed in three league games and have also won an outside game.

Two losses, by any of the leaders means elimination and one loss reduces the chances of a title to a tie at best. Therefore, the Sachems plan to be at their peak for the Red Raiders when they meet Saturday afternoon at Melrose.

Regardless of the outcome this week, nothing definite can be decided until Wakefield is met by both teams later in the season. It looks like a real tussle right down to the final games.

Sachems Top Lexington 21-0; Minutemen Defeated On Mistakes

by John F. Parrell

When a football team defeats its next door neighbor and rival by three touchdowns it is usually considered to be a substantial triumph. However, Winchester's win over Lexington by that margin was much more a defeat for the Minutemen on their own mistakes than that they were overwhelmed by Coach Manny Marshall's boys.

The local eleven slipped back to its play in the opening game with Concord rather than showing the smooth operating offense and sturdy defense that was characteristic of their games against Stoneham and Cambridge Latin.

While looking for a descriptive adjective for their play of last week several of their most loyal followers produced "spotty," "lucky," and "only adequate." They pointed out that the team merely seemed to be going through the motions on the field with their minds on this week's collision with the Red Raiders of Melrose.

The first term, "spotty," was what seemed to strike this writer as most descriptive, and this is not to be applied to any one individual but to the Sachems in general. Certainly nobody could fault the work of Joe Campo who scored all three touchdowns and was in the thick of action all afternoon. He showed that he really belongs in the backfield by some of the best running and soundest defensive play seen at Manchester Field in some time.

There were others who flashed from time to time like little Mike Deshler who also played both ways and Ben Dolan whose kicks boomed deep whenever he was called upon to toe the ball. Ron Fiorilli recovered a blocked punt and Noel Webb made a clever interception but except for these things and the converting of Lexington's mistakes the term "spotty" applied.

At the same time the coaches and supporters of the Minutemen were flabbergasted at the style of football which their favorites displayed particularly during the first half. They played without Dan Busa, their regular quarterback, and it took time for Jack Flaherty a sophomore, to get things rolling smoothly. Numbered among their more flagrant errors were some telling passes which fell into Winchester hands and a punt which was blocked by one of their own backs.

The tackling also left something to be desired, particularly on the two Campo touchdowns which came on the punt return and a pass interception. Joe ran hard on both occasions and also had a couple of good blocks but the visitors felt that their gridirers should have been able to stop him.

Action opened with Winchester receiving the kickoff and after a series of plays Dana Peterson hauled down a Mike Gilberti pass for a first down at the Lexington 45. Courtney West then went for another first down at the 30 and the Sachems were rolling toward the visitors goal line.

Joe Campo snagged a pass at the 21 and Ben Dolan made it first down at the 19. Failing to gain on the ground a pass went through the hands of two Winchester receivers in the end zone and Lexington took over on downs.

The Minutemen sputtered on offense and Paul Mazerell was hit very hard on two plays by Ron Fiorilli and Noel Webb. A punt followed and Joe Campo took it at midfield and raced down the right sideline to cross the goal line and give Winchester a 6-0 lead after nearly seven minutes of the first period. Mike Deshler made it 8-0 as he kept going after being hit hard to rally the extra points.

Ed Medono brought the kickoff out from the eight to the 22, but once again the offense could not seem to get untracked. Tri-Captain gained seven but the ensuing pass was grabbed alertly by Noel Webb at his own 33.

At this point the Sachems staged their one sustained drive of the day to score. Ben Dolan powered through for a first down at midfield and on the next play Campo made another at the 30. A pass to Campo gave another first down at the 15 and after an offside penalty Campo took a pass in the end zone to bring the count to 21-0 where it remained for the balance of the game.

This was the last trace of offense which the Sachems showed as the Minutemen controlled the ball for the rest of the game except for a dozen plays which netted not a single first down.

Pitchout

The Lexington eleven made five consecutive first downs and reached the Sachem five before Mike Rhubarb halted Mazerell on a pitchout. Co-Captain Mike Gilberti punted out of danger to the 45. The Minuteman offense started as the fourth period opened and was successful largely because the Winchester defensive line was failing to rush the passer. They had been fortunate earlier in the game that the passes were not well thrown, but now the ball was being caught by the receivers.

Mixed with the passes were a few pitchouts and this combination of plays with a pass interference call brought them ever closer to the Sachem goal line. The entire series was set up by a pass interception by Ed Medono at the Lexington 16 and covered 79 yards as the clock ticked the fourth period away.

The game closed with neither team able to make too much headway and some of the reserves had a chance to get into action. If the Sachems had any illusions about their overall power on offense or the solidity of their defense these should be well dispelled by this "spotty" game. It is good that it is out of their system because such a performance against Melrose would probably result in the score being reversed.

Sachems And Raiders Battle For Top Rung In League Ladder

by John F. Parrell

The moment of truth is coming for the football forces of coaches Manny Marshall and Joe Hoague as they collide head on at Melrose Saturday afternoon. Both elevens are undefeated as they were last year at the same time and the Raiders hold one more Middlesex League victory since they have played only league rivals to date. The script reads exactly the same to this point and the Sachems hope that the similarity with 1968 continues through Saturday afternoon.

Last year they bested Melrose 14-8 in the most thrilling game of the season and took the lead for the Middlesex League title which they went on to win. If the parallel can hold and they can emerge victors it would certainly be Winchester's greatest moment since the halting of Melrose twelve months ago.

The winning of this game has been in the Sachem thoughts from the moment they put on their uniforms at Camp Wyanoke. The team is in good physical condition and barring some last minute injuries or illnesses every member of the varsity squad will be itching to get into the fray.

rest of the league and have openly selected them as "unanimous choice" to take the Middlesex championship. It is true that they have great speed and a veteran and capable line, but if one is realistic in appraising the situation, the Sachems are the champions and must be so regarded until something different has been proven. In the eyes of this writer, the Marshallmen are every bit as good as the Raiders and the game should be rated as a tossup. It could well be decided on the breaks and just how well the Winchester offense clicks. Against Stoneham and Cambridge Latin the attack worked like a devastating and well oiled machine which moved forward for every minute of the game. On the other hand, both the Concord and Lexington victories saw the offense tally only once while the defense scored twice.

The speed of the Melrose ball carriers poses a distinct threat and local defenders, particularly the ends, must keep the plays inside of them. The line play must be aggressive in order to contain the speedsters. The forward wall must do much better work in rushing the passer than they did in the Lexington game when the visitors, using an untried sophomore passer, completed far too many aeries. The youngster was unhurried throughout the game and with more experience and poise the result might have been different.

Co-Captain Mike Gilberti gives the Winchester team an edge in the passing department and if he can regain his pin point form of the Stoneham and Latin games, he could cause the Raiders some heartaches. Ben Dolan's kickoffs should keep the Melrose eleven fairly deep provided the kickoff team stops the receivers as soon as they get the ball.

The game is certain to attract an overflow crowd as the home fans of the Raiders want to see their favorites avenge last year's defeat. Then, too, they have read and heard much of the Sachem footballers and want to have a first hand look at them. With parking spaces also at a premium it would seem advisable to arrive early or at least soon after 1 p.m.

To reach the field, there are probably a dozen ways and each driver has his own favorite. From the point of view of traffic and also a picturesque ride is to go out Forest Street into Stoneham and turn right to the road which passes the MDC pool and continue along by Spot Pond to the small traffic circle. Turn left and go down to the intersection of the Lynn Fells Parkway. Turn left at the lights and it is only about a mile and a half to the field.

Blackfriars To Present Miller Play

The Blackfriars, the dramatic society of Austin Preparatory School, Reading, have started preparations for their presentation of Arthur Miller's "Incident at Vichy" to be held on Friday and Saturday December 12 and 13 at the school.

Playing the part of Von Berg will be August Niewenhaus of 4 Cutting Street.

Booters Split In Contests

Winchester High's soccer team, ably coached by Gene Bouley, is doing its best to retain the title it won last year.

They have played good soccer to remain in the thick of contention, but the league is showing much more balance this season and victories do not come quite so regularly to the leading teams as they have in the past.

The team split even in two games last week topping Concord 5-3 and dropping a heart-breaker to Belmont 4-3. Both games saw a great deal more scoring by all teams than is usually the case. Many games are won by scoring a single goal and 2-1 and 2-0 counts are apt to be frequent.

Concord, which finished close behind Winchester last year, came here and the Sachems were ready for them. After several minutes of fast action Peter Dow put in a rebound to put the home forces in front. Early in the second period Tim Buell tallied for the Patriots to even the count.

Two goals by Peter Tunncliffe, on which Jim Beck and Peter Dow were credited with assists, gave Winchester a solid lead. Penalty kicks were made by each team with Dow scoring for Winchester and the teams entered the final period with the score 4-2.

The final quarter saw much fast action as both clubs struggled to avoid defeat. Brian Hobbs brought the visitors to within a single goal, but Gary Fincke iced it for Winchester with only two minutes left to make the final score 5-3. At this point the Sachem coach put in four halfbacks and four fullbacks to defend the margin.

Goalie Mike Stephenson, Steve LaPointe and Bob Salvucci were singled out by the coach for outstanding defensive efforts in thwarting the Concord attack.

Belmont

The Belmont game was a repetition of the style of play which was shown in the victory. However, Belmont, which has lost only one game, finally emerged victorious by a single goal. Belmont snared the early lead as Mark Chrus tallied from a corner cross early in the first period. Winchester kept on attacking and narrowly missed scoring on several occasions as they worked the ball to the goal mouth but did not score.

The third period saw the Sachems forced to play most of the time on their own end of the field as Belmont pressed the attack. But early in the fourth stanza Peter Dow put in a penalty kick to draw Winchester even. Mark Grace set up Jim Beck to bring a 2-1 lead for the Sachems but moments later Bill Boyle was back to knot the count at two all.

Two penalty kicks stretched the Belmont lead to two and try as they might the Bouleymen never caught up again. Peter Dow brought the fans to their feet as he scored to whittle the margin to one but Belmont prevailed 4-3.

The Winchester team played fast, hustling soccer, particularly in the fourth period, and the coach felt that had they played that same style of ball earlier they might have come out on top.

The number of spectators at soccer games is on the increase but the sport, which is a world-wide favorite attracting many thousands more in foreign lands than even the highest professional football games has yet to take root in the United States. There is plenty of fast action and rugged contact.

IT TAKES FINESSE

Thet other evening I felt like a bush league player striking out in the majors. This was my hand on Board 15 in Section A:

♦ J 7 4
♥ 10 6
♣ K 9 4

The bidding opened with 1 heart from my partner North and a double from East. Let's see if you agree with my reasoning. My hand has 12 high-card points, and the king of clubs is more likely to be good on the right side of the double, so there's almost an opening bid opposite an opener, and with that good diamond suit maybe there's a game in no trump. It would be stretching, however, to say two no trump, so I temporize with 2 diamonds; West and North pass, East doubles, and everyone passes. Here is the hand:

North

♦ 9 8 3

♣ Q 10 7 5

East

♦ A 9 8 3

South

♣ K J 4

As I'm sure you've gathered by now, my partner's opening 1 heart from North was an excellent psychic bid, revealed to me (and everyone else) when he passed the second time. But that was too late for me

Red Cross Blood News

Everybody's business is giving blood. Why? Because giving blood is a sound investment. It assures that blood will be available for your family when it's needed. You can be a regular blood donor if you're between 18 and 65 years of age and in good health.

Massachusetts hospitals need 1000 pints of blood a day to assure an adequate supply. Call your Winchester Red Cross Chapter today, 729-2300, and make an appointment to give blood.

Burlington YWCA Workshop

Saturday and Sunday, November 1 and 2, the Burlington Y.W.C.A. is sponsoring a "Workshop on Racism."

Hubert Jones, director of the Roxbury Multi-Service Center, will be the keynote speaker on Saturday morning.

Dr. Leota Janke of Lexington will be the chairman of the panel on Saturday and Edward Washington from the Community Development Office in Cambridge will chair the panel discussions of Sunday.

For further information, call the Burlington Y.W.C.A. 272-3181 or look on the bulletin board of the Library.

The "3 B Tops Club" of the Y.W.C.A. will have a guest speaker from the Middlesex County Extension Service to give a talk on the subject of "Food and People." All members are requested to bring a friend to this meeting on October 23. "3 B Tops" meet every Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Y.W.C.A., 6 Spruce Hill Road, Burlington. New members are welcome.

YOUTH-MARC To Gather In Taunton

A state meeting of Youth Organized and United to Help Massachusetts Association for Retarded Children (YOUTH-MARC) and advisors for the units will be held on Sunday, October 26, at Paul A. Dever State School in Taunton, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

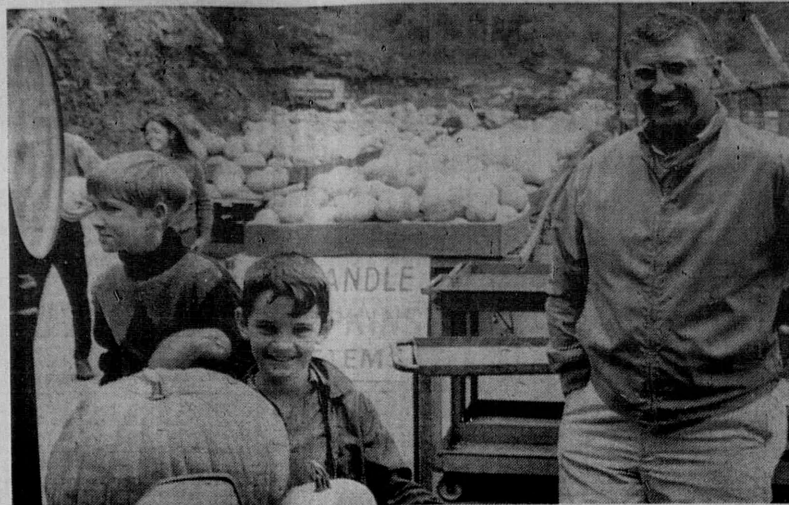

YOUTH-MARC, sponsored by Massachusetts Association for Retarded Children, is an organization of young people in the state who wish to serve the mentally retarded in their area in conjunction with the local units of MARC.

Dr. Anne Lewis, superintendent of Paul A. Dever State School, is guest speaker for the meeting which will consist of discussions, a luncheon and a physical education demonstration.

Reservations should be made with Linda McKinnon, 9 Carlena Terrace, Woburn, or by calling MARC at 891-7710 before October 24. There is a fee for registration and the luncheon.

Representatives and advisors will be coming from the 18 YOUTH-MARC units throughout the state.

Austin Prep Subject To Provincial

Because of periodic, but constant, reference to "Austin Prep" in matters relating to Catholic archdiocesan school problems, the Board of Trustees at Austin Preparatory School of Reading feel that the public should be made aware that Austin has the distinction of being a secondary Catholic school under the auspices of the Augustinian Fathers of St. Thomas of Villanova, and not the Archdiocese of Boston.

Therefore, while Austin is influenced and plagued by the problems of all private schools, we are subject only to our beloved Right Reverend Edward L. Daly, Provincial of the Augustinian Eastern Province.

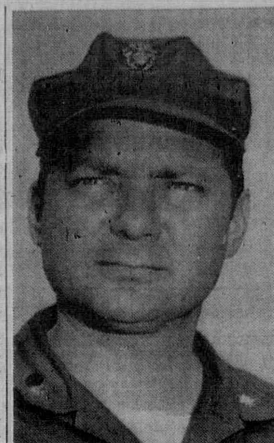

Austin has the distinction of being the first Catholic secondary school threatened with extinction, but with the competent leadership, cooperation, and understanding of our Provincial has conquered this problem.

Austin has the distinction of being the first Catholic secondary school to develop a combined religious and lay organizational plan geared to introduce sound business management and practices in its administration.

For the current school year Austin has an enrollment of 605 students and it is expected that by September, 1970, its full capacity of 800 students will be reached.

In addition to the usual high school curricula, Austin offers its students laboratories equipped to meet modern requirements of advanced chemistry, biology, electronics and also has one of the finest language laboratories in the country.

Austin has held its tuition to a level comparable to, or less than, other private schools in the area, while still providing modern facilities and progressive opportunities to its students.

Several Winchester residents are members of the freshman class at Suffolk University which has achieved a record enrollment of 709 new students.

In the college of liberal arts are Miss Jane A. Klorer of 37 Fletcher Street, Lawrence W. Rutherford of 30 Calumet Road and Paul J. Vinci of 6 Harrison Street. In the college of business administration is Miss MaryJane Lanni of 138 Forest Street.

Elks Halloween Costume Dance This Saturday

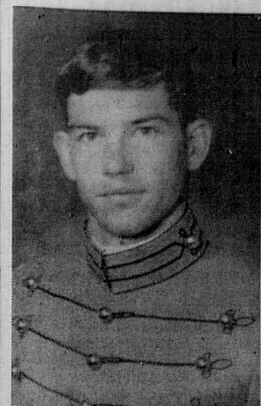

The Winchester Lodge of Elks will have a Halloween costume dance this Saturday, October 25, at the Club quarters, 375 Cambridge Street. It will run from 8 p.m. until midnight.

There will be a collation, a fine band for dancing and entertainment throughout the evening.

Tickets may be obtained by calling the Club quarters, 729-8901.

Cadet Soucek Is Appointed Cadet Captain

Cadet Paul D. Soucek, son of Mrs. Grace H. Soucek of 120 Forest Street, has been appointed a Cadet Captain at the U.S. Military Academy and will serve as a regimental operations officer until December.

CADET PAUL D. SOUCEK

As a regimental operations officer, Cadet Soucek is responsible to the Regimental Commander for operations and military training within his regiment of approximately 1,000 cadets. There are four regiments in the 3,800-man Corps of Cadets.

With the exception of the Brigade Commander, Regimental Commanders and the six-man Brigade Staff, the command positions in the Corps of Cadets are changed twice during the academic year.

A 1965 graduate of Winchester High School, Cadet Soucek played plebe hockey and was a member of the Fine Arts Forum.

He expects to graduate next June with a bachelor of science degree and a commission as second lieutenant in the regular Army.

Ralph and Eleanor Spellman of 10 Ridge Street have become distributors of Amway Products, line of home and personal care products, including cleaning specialties, and a line of cosmetics.

Speaker To Talk On Mentally Ill Children's Center

The Region III Chapter of the Association for Mentally Ill Children will feature as its guest speaker, Thursday, October 30 at 8:00 p.m., Dr. Bellenden Hutcheson, Assistant Commissioner for Children's Services of the State Department of Mental Health. The meeting will be held at the First Parish Church, Lexington.

Appearing with Dr. Hutcheson will be Mayer Spivak, Environmental Designer at the Laboratory of Community Psychiatry, Harvard University. They will present the plans for the first comprehensive mental health center for children's service to be built in Massachusetts.

This center will replace the Gaebler Children's Unit of the Metropolitan State Hospital in Waltham and will serve the Region III area. The area encompasses 27 towns and cities from Cambridge to Lowell and includes such towns as Lexington, Concord, Waltham, Winchester and their environs.

The new facility will provide comprehensive therapeutic mental health care for children from pre-school age to 16 and will include educational and recreational facilities as well.

Dr. Hutcheson sees one of the primary functions of the Region Three center to serve as a model for other regional comprehensive centers to be built throughout the State. The facility will have the desirable advantage of providing the continuity of care so necessary to the emotional security of these children from preschool to mid-adolescence. It will also serve as a haven to those children returning from out-of-state residential centers under Public Law 750.

The meeting will serve as a way of exchanging ideas between the directors of the center and the community which it will serve. It will provide a sounding board for the many valuable suggestions which parents, therapists and educators undoubtedly can present, with the definite possibility that these ideas where feasible will be incorporated into the facility now, while it is still in the planning state. Dr. Hutcheson and his associates are especially interested in this kind of participation.

Young Repubs Plan Party For Halloween

Between 50 and 100 people are expected to attend next week's "Season of the Witch" party sponsored by the Winchester Young Republican Club on Halloween night, Friday, October 31st, from 8:30 p.m. to 1:00 a.m.

Invitations have been distributed to all the Club's members, to members of the Arlington and Lexington YR Clubs, to the Winchester Republican Town Committee, to members of the Massachusetts YR State Executive Committee, and numerous other individuals.

In addition, the public is welcome, according to the Winchester YR Club President, Susan L. Nolan of 200 Swanton Street.

The party will be held at the home of club member Jennifer Flowers, 9 Winter Street, and numerous GOP personalities are expected to attend.

Entertainment for the evening will include a five-hour music tape, and presentation of prizes for outstanding costumes. Costumes are not required for admission, however.

Decor will be oriented about a Halloween theme, and the musical selections on the party tape were selected with an emphasis on progressive rock music of the mysterious and eerie variety.

Individuals of all ages and political persuasions are invited to drop in to meet Republican leaders, both young and old, from Winchester and nearby towns. "People in the late teens, 20's, and early 30's, of Republican leanings, are particularly welcome," according to Mrs. Nolan.

For further information on the party, and on Winchester YR activities in general, contact Susan Nolan at 729-0890 or Clara Hewis at 729-1711.

Green Mountain To Send Speaker To High School

Winchester High School students will be given the opportunity to discuss Green Mountain College, Poughkeepsie, Vermont, with the College's Assistant Director of Admissions, Karen Rohdin, when she visits the High School on Wednesday, October 29.

Students interested in discussing Green Mountain, two-year college for women, should contact their guidance counselor for further information concerning the visit.

Former Area Man Made Associate For Boys' Clubs

Paul D. Magee of Goshen, New York, formerly of Winchester, was recently appointed as a national associate of the Boys' Clubs of America by Albert L. Cole, board chairman of the national youth guidance organization.

Mr. Magee is presently general manager of the new Sears, Roebuck complex at Orange Plaza in Middletown, formerly serving as manager of the Sears, Roebuck Woburn branch store.

He was a member of the Board of Directors and Foundation Committee chairman for the Boys' Club in Woburn. He is a member of the Middletown Rotary Club, a director of the mid-Orange Chamber of Commerce and Industry, a former trustee and present member of the corporation of Lesley College, a member of Aleppo Temple Shrine of North America in Boston and a member of the official board of the United Methodist Church in Goshen.

Noted as one of the fastest growing youth guidance organizations in the country, the immediate goal is 1,000 Boys' Clubs for one million boys. There are presently approximately 500 such Clubs established.

JOHN TERZIAN of 1 Capri Terrace has been appointed vice president for Systems Engineering Operations at Viatron Computer Systems Corporation, Bedford. Formerly, he was manager of this operation.

Stamp Issued From Painting In Boston M.F.A.

"Old Models," a painting by William Harnett which hangs in the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, has been chosen as the ninth stamp in the American painting series. Postmaster General Wilton M. Blount announced.

First Day of Issue ceremonies for the six-cent stamp will take place at the Museum of Fine Arts on December 3. The stamp will be a vertical, ten-cent stamp measuring 1.05 by 1.30 inches.

Selection of the Boston painting coincides with the Centennial celebration of the Museum of Fine Arts, which begins on November 1 and continues through March of 1971. The actual 100th anniversary date is February 4, 1970.

Considered Mr. Harnett's masterpiece, "Old Models" has been in the collection of the Museum since 1939. It hangs in gallery P17 (19th Century American painting gallery).

Musical instruments, books and an old jug are set against a green cupboard door with rusty hinges in this large canvas painted in 1892. Painted with striking illusionism, these everyday objects delude the eye by their graceful arrangement and remarkable qualities of texture and light.

Born in Ireland about 1850 and raised in Philadelphia, William Harnett was trained as a silver engraver but switched to still-life painting in 1875 when a depression in his trade threw him out of work. A realist in the age of French modernism, Mr. Harnett was 50 years behind the taste of his time, but his paintings sold well enough to allow him a trip to Europe, where he studied the Dutch masters. He was soon forgotten after his death, but regained his popularity in the 1930's, when a new public enamored of surrealism and precisionism trompe-l'oeil images.

"Old Models," his last painting, was painted for the Columbian Exposition in Chicago, but the artist's death intervened and the picture was never shown. It was sold, along with the actual instruments and books it depicts, at the sale of Mr. Harnett's estate in 1893.

Peg Pettingell Establishes line Of Cosmetics

She's the product of one of the finest towns in the Bay State—Winchester—but Peg Pettingell of 85 Church Street resents paying high prices for cosmetics and she is sure other women do too.

That's the underlying reason why the blonde beauty has decided to be the first native to become a cosmetician. "It irritates me to go into a store and see a jar of facial cream marked $25. You can't tell me it costs that much to make," she said.

"I feel there's a need for a moderately priced uncomplicated line that does what it promises to do," she added.

That's why Mrs. Pettingell has just teamed with a company on a new treatment and cosmetic collection. Her background in beauty is unique.

"I have had the care of leading dermatologists for my own skin. And as a leader in civic, social, and community affairs for 25 years, I have learned quick sure-fire beauty tricks. When I met with the chemists for this company then I picked from countless formulas until the right ones evolved," she said.

"Beauty and fashion has been my bag for years. I love clothes and favor simple tailored clothes for daytime and very feminine ones for evening. I use to model hair styles and hats. And American women look better in American made products," she concluded. The line is named Peg Pettingell with distributor in tiny print at the bottom of each product. (Reader Adv.)

Historical Group To Exhibit Items During November

A collection of incalculable worth will go on public view this fall from October 31 through November 15 at the Massachusetts Historical Society, 1154 Boylston Street, Boston.

The very finest and historically significant manuscripts, books, prints and paintings, 150 treasures in all, from the Society's collection of millions of items will be displayed for the first time.

The exhibit will be open every day, including holidays, from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m., except on Wednesday, November 12, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The collections of the Massachusetts Historical Society are particularly significant because the Society was founded in 1791, long before similar institutions, and was thus early able to collect the materials that record the founding and early progress of the United States from pre-Revolutionary times down to the present.

Many of the Colonial items are unique and therefore, not to be found anywhere else. Many historians rate the Historical Society as without equal.

Of Social Interest

Symmes-Wessel

In a double-ring ceremony at the home of the bride's parents on Saturday, October 18 the marriage of Mrs. Mary-Alice Wessel of Hingham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Reid of Scituate, formerly of Hingham, New York, to Parker Symmes of Concord, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chandler W. Symmes of 230 Main Street was performed.

The service was officiated by the Rev. Dr. Robert A. Storer of the Winchester Unitarian Church with immediate members of the bride's and bridegroom's families in attendance. Miss Virginia Luce Symmes of Concord, daughter of the bridegroom, played the wedding procession on the organ. A family reception and supper followed.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a princess style dress of gold silk and worsted with a high round neckline, short cap sleeves and softly pleated A-line skirt. She carried gold cymbidium orchids against a crescent of rolandii ferns.

Mrs. Richard Drake Updike of Cherry Hill, New Jersey, attended her sister in a pale avocado silk and wool A-line dress with a high round neckline and short self-embroidered cap sleeves. Her bouquet was like that of the bride with pale green cymbidium orchids.

Chandler W. Symmes was best man for his son. Acting as page-ushers were the sons of the bride, William Lincoln Wessel and Robert Reid Wessel, both of Hingham, and the sons of the bridegroom, Frederick Russell Symmes and Chandler Whiting Symmes II, both of Concord.

Mrs. Wessel, the widow of Captain Robert LaVern Wessel, U.S. Air Force, was graduated from Hingham High School and Colby College. She is the granddaughter of Mr. George I. Allen of Castine, Maine, formerly of Peabody, and the late Mrs. Allen and of the late Rev. and Mrs. John Reid of Peabody and Amherst.

Mr. Symmes, husband of the late Jane (Delano) Russell of Newton, was graduated from Winchester High School and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Symmes and the late Mr. and Mrs. Chester W. Smith, all of Winchester. Mr. Symmes is a partner in the firm of Symmes, Maini and McKee, Inc. of Cambridge.

Following a wedding trip to Bermuda, the couple will reside in Concord.

Miss Rogers, Mr. Clifton To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Donald T. Rogers of Whittier, California, announce the engagement of their daughter, Donna Marian of Boston, to Richard Franklin Clifton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Clifton of 4 Summit Avenue.

Miss Rogers received her bachelor of arts degree in journalism from California State College in Long Beach and is presently employed as an assistant editor for the Christian Science Monitor.

Her fiancé attended Winchester High School and was graduated from the Citadel, South Carolina. He has served in the U.S. Air Force and is currently a sales representative for the Singer Corporation, Brookline.

A November 9 wedding is planned.

Edgar J. Hammond Jr. of 5 Chesterford Road was an honor graduate of the Sales Training of Boston Whole Man Program at fall graduation exercises held recently.

Buzzotta-Staniewicz

Miss Gail Sharon Staniewicz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander V. Staniewicz of 10 Tufts Road, and John A. Buzzotta, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Buzzotta of 84 Nelson Street, were married at a nuptial Mass on Saturday, September 27 in St. Mary's Church.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN A. BUZZOTTA

Officiating at the ceremony was the Rev. Bernard Hoy. The reception followed at the Woburn Country Club.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an organza gown fashioned in a princess line with an empire bodice and cap sleeve of applied lace. Similarly trimmed was her circular shoulder train. A Juliet cap of applied lace held her full-length veil. She carried a cascade of white orchids, stephanotis and English ivy.

Miss Diane Buzzotta of Winchester, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Gowned in an empire design of yellow chiffon over taffeta with a matching satin yellow bow and face veil as her headpiece, she carried a cascade of yellow and bronze shasta daisies with miniature chrysanthemums.

Bridesmaids were Miss Judith Errico, Miss Prudence Ward, Miss Eileen Sullivan, all of Winchester, Mrs. Barbara Kula of Woburn and Miss Susan Staniewicz of Belmont, cousin of the bride. They were gownned similarly to the maid of honor in shades of aqua chiffon over yellow taffeta with matching headpieces of aqua. Cascades of yellow shasta daisies and chrysanthemums composed their bouquets.

Serving as best man was James Mouradian of Winchester. Ushers were Paul Staniewicz, brother of the bride, John Stone, Anthony Buzzotta, uncle of the bridegroom, all of Winchester, and William Brusseau and Frederick Kula, both of Woburn.

The mother of the bride wore a pale pink coat and beaded dress ensemble and a matching pink beaded pill box with a circular face veil. A corsage of white cymbidium orchids completed her ensemble.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a powder blue beaded lace dress with powder blue feathers adorning her hair. A stole completed her ensemble with a corsage of white cymbidium orchids.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and attended Chamberlayne Junior College.

Mr. Buzzotta is also a graduate of Winchester High School and is serving with the U.S. Air Force.

Following a wedding trip to New York and Pennsylvania, the couple are residing in England.

UNICEF Sponsored By Local Churches

As October 31st draws near, a great deal of activity is underway here in Winchester, as well as in more than 13,000 other communities all over America. Since 1950, when one small group of children collected $17.00 "Trick or Treating for UNICEF," this custom has grown to gigantic proportions. In 1968, three and one-half million children turned over $3 million to the United Nations Children's Fund.

In Winchester, UNICEF Trick or Treaters will be out on October 31, under the sponsorship of the Churches of Winchester. Dressed in costumes from "store-bought" to "homemade," these ambassadors of good will are planning to visit homes in small, supervised groups. They will ask for pennies, nickels and dimes to give to the Children's Fund on Halloween, officially designated National UNICEF Day by Presidential Proclamation.

"The money collected will be used by UNICEF to assist programs for the world's needy children in 120 countries," said Mrs. Charles Haley, chairman of Winchester UNICEF. "The task is enormous, and our help is needed to bring life-saving food and medicine, and an opportunity for education to millions of children in the developing countries."

The UNICEF Trick or Treaters will be identified by their official collection box: a small orange and black carton. "Only children carrying this carton will be authorized to collect for UNICEF," the spokesman pointed out. Children or groups interested in participating in the program this year should first have the approval of their parents or advisor, and should then contact their church leaders.

The UNICEF Trick or Treat cartons will be distributed at Sunday School on October 26.

GOP Women To Hear Director Of U. S. Mint

Among Winchester members of the Massachusetts Federation of Republican Women who will attend the 1970 Campaign-Kickoff meeting on Wednesday, October 29, at the Coanessett Inn in Falmouth are Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, Mrs. Philip Woodward, Mrs. Joseph Zrodowski, Mrs. Victor Soucek, Mrs. Shepard Pond and others.

They will have the privilege of hearing the Hon. Mary Brooks, new director of the U. S. Bureau of the Mint. Preceded by a 10:30 a.m. business meeting and a noon social hour, the luncheon, during which Mrs. Brooks will speak, will take place at 12:30 p.m.

Women who have attended the joint conventions of the Republican National Committee and the National Federation of Republican Women during the 1960's will remember Mrs. Brooks' vital role as vice-chairman and assistant chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Since assuming her duties as director of the U. S. Mint on September 1 of this year, Mrs. Brooks has taken over one of the fastest-growing and technologically expanding government bureaus. Only the third woman to hold this post, she is responsible for the manufacture and distribution of adequate coinage for today's needs, as well as safeguarding the government's monetary metals and refining its gold and silver.

The daughter of former U. S. Senator John Thomas of Idaho, she served as her father's administrative assistant prior to his death in 1945. Her son is Idaho State Senator John Thomas Reavey. Her second husband was U. S. Senator C. Wayland Brooks, who what later a member of the Republican National Committee.

Her own political career began after his death in 1957. From 1964 until her present appointment, she served in the Idaho State Legislature as a Senator.

In private life, she has developed and managed one of the largest and most successful cattle ranches in southern Idaho, the Flat Top Livestock Company.

Members of the Massachusetts Federation of Republican Women and their guests from all over the state may attend this meeting.

Persons wishing to attend this luncheon should call Mrs. McCreery at 729-2063, or Mrs. Woodward at 729-0000.

Coach Marshall Addresses Rotary

Rotary Has 100 Per Cent Attendance

It was officially announced at last week's meeting that the Winchester Rotary Club was able to provide President Al Hovannesian with 100 per cent at the September 25 meeting. Mark Kirsten, who was on a trip to the Far East made up that week's meeting in Ceylon. As far as can be remembered, this is the first time in seven years that the Winchester Club has had a 100 per cent meeting. Congratulations go to Dan Gattineri for his hard work in bringing this about.

An announcement was made during the merchandise sold at the Rotary Barn on Elmwood Avenue to date totals $2400, the largest amount of merchandise ever to be sold at this time of year. Program chairman for the day,

W. Howard Niblock introduced ex-coach Henry Knowlton for the football team, who in turn introduced Manny Marshall the coach of the Winchester High School football team.

Mr. Marshall mentioned that the last time he had talked to the Rotary Club was as the president of the Winchester High School senior class. He went on to explain, by using visual aids, how the Winchester team is using an unbalanced line this year to give them 14 different formations. Many sources have been used to come up with these different offenses. After showing some of these basic running and passing plays, a movie of the Stoneham game was shown.

Meeting was adjourned by President Hovannesian at 1:45.

Rae Anderson Dean Emeritus, Named At Bentley

The election by the Bentley College Board of Trustees of Rae D. Anderson of 4 Ox Pasture as dean emeritus of the college has been announced by President Thomas L. Morison.

RAE D. ANDERSON

Dean Anderson, who is also a professor of accounting, was named dean emeritus after stepping down at his request, as senior vice president and dean of the college to return to teaching.

A member of the Bentley administration and faculty since 1940, Dean Anderson coordinated the construction activities of the college's new $15 million Waltham campus, which opened a year ago. He will continue in this capacity until the final details relating to the 104-acre site are completed.

Dean Anderson joined the Bentley faculty after successful careers as senior accountant with Charles F. Rittenhouse and Company, now part of Touche Ross and Company, and as auditor with John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company.

In addition to being a trustee and incorporator of Bentley, the new dean emeritus is also an alumnus of the college and holds bachelor's and master's degrees from Suffolk University. He distinguished himself in 1939 when he was awarded the Massachusetts Society of CPA's Gold Medal for the highest grade in that year's CPA examination. He also received the American Institute of CPA's Elijah Watt Sells Gold Medal for the highest grade in the United States.

Dean Anderson, who is a director of Waldo Brothers Company, is a member of many professional and educational groups and is the author of numerous books in the accounting field. He is married to the former Christina Gounaris of Waltham.

Leadership Conference Is Attended

Milburn J. Dixon, president of the Winchester Education Association and biology teacher at Winchester High School, attended a leadership conference sponsored by the Massachusetts Teachers' Association on October 3 and 4 at the Marriott Motor Hotel.

Also attending the workshops and seminars were Winchester teachers Richard W. Elliott and Walter H. Lewis. Topics included parliamentary procedure, National Education Association and M.T.A. services available to individual teachers and a complete review of the New Bedford teachers' strike of this fall.

The M.T.A. Board of Directors also explained to the participants the establishment of a Professional Rights Fund. "The Board of Directors approves the solicitation of monies by the executive secretary for emergency purposes with expenditures to be approved by the executive committee." The Board took action following the New Bedford strike which resulted in $55,000 in fines.

Music Students To Perform "Toy Symphony"

The Toy Symphony by Leopold Mozart will be played by the boys and girls present. Also on the program at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andre Termeulen of 20 Foxcroft Road, are solos by more than a dozen pianists and instrumentalists.

Directed by Mrs. Carl Thomas, "toy" parts will be played by the boys and girls present. Also on the program at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andre Termeulen of 20 Foxcroft Road, are solos by more than a dozen pianists and instrumentalists.

Now in its fifth year, the Club was formed to provide occasions for music students to play for each other and to hear others perform. Any student from seventh grade up taking private lessons is eligible to attend; though no one is obliged to perform, it is hoped that each will do so at some time during the year.

Further details may be obtained from the club secretary, Mrs. Joseph De Natale, 729-5131.

SEEM Affairs Are Discussed By Seven Towns

A joint meeting of parents and interested citizens of the seven communities of SEEM (Special Education of Education Mutual) was held at the Parker Junior High School in Reading on October 7th.

The meeting was opened by Marjorie M. Shaw, Director of SEEM. She spoke briefly on the SEEM program and thanked the parents for their understanding and co-operation during the implementation period of the program.

Mrs. Shaw introduced the speaker of the evening, William A. Philbrick Jr., Director, Bureau of Special Education, State Department of Education. His topic covered the entire framework of programs that are being developed to service the needs of handicapped children. The Bureau of Special Education covers the following areas: blind, deaf, aphasic, emotionally disturbed, physically handicapped, partially seeing, speaking or hearing handicapped, perceptually handicapped and multiple handicapped.

Last year there were 61,000 children who passed through their office, record-wise; this is five per cent of the population. The State paid $20,000,000 for their education. There are four areas of children who may be sent either to a public school program or a private school program for which the state will pay 100 per cent of the cost: blind, deaf, aphasic or severely emotionally disturbed children.

In other areas the state asks the community to operate the program and reimburses to the community 50 per cent of the cost. Last year there were about 14,000 retarded children in the public schools; 1,500 were in the trainable group, all the others were in the educable group. There are about 1,000 deaf children and about 700-800 blind children.

A bill is to be introduced in the legislature that states any group of towns that want to set up a group structure for a regionalization program for the benefit of handicapped children will be reimbursed by the state for 75 per cent to the communities involved. The average cost to educate a normal child is $550; the average for a handicapped is over $900.

Mr. Philbrick discussed present legislation and pending legislation which will continue to improve educational opportunity for our handicapped children.

Among the 71 Echols scholars enrolled at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville this fall is Anthony C. Wilson of 11 Clearwater Road. These students are chosen on the basis of outstanding college board scores and secondary school achievements and participate in more specialized academic schedules.

Miss Manoogian To Hold Recital On Fisk Organ

On Sunday, November 2, at 8:15 p.m., Miss Betsy Manoogian of 16 Johnson Road, will present a recital of organ music at the First Congregational Church in Winchester. She will be assisted in one of the selections by Bruce Bennett, organist of the First Church, who will play harpsichord.

Miss Manoogian is a graduate of Winchester High School class of 1966 and is in her senior year as an organ major at Oberlin Conservatory of Music, Oberlin, Ohio. She will present this program in her senior recital at Oberlin as part of the requirements for the bachelor of music degree. Miss Manoogian has been employed on a part-time basis by the Noack Organ Company of Andover as a voicer and tonal finisher and hopes to continue in this field after she graduates.

Miss Manoogian's program will consist of a Chorale Fantasia on "Nun freut euch lieben Christen g'mein" by Dietrich Buxtehude, Concerto No. 1 in C Major for two keyboard instruments by Antonio Soler, Prelude and Fugue in e minor by Johann Sebastian Bach, "Les Mains de l'abbé" from the Livre d'Orgue by Olivier Messiaen, and the Choral No. 2 in b minor by Cesar Franck.

The 3 manual, mechanical action organ is by C. B. Fiske, Incorporated of Gloucester and was installed in May, 1969. The harpsichord is by Carl Fudge of Winchester. There is no admission charge to the recital and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Woburn Man Is Area Chairman For Heart Fund

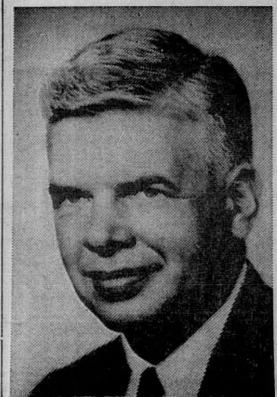

Dr. Robert A. Gonsalves of Woburn recently assumed the position of Regional Chairman for the 1970 Heart Fund drive. He will be responsible for bringing the campaign to the people of 15 communities, including Winchester.

Dr. Gonsalves approaches his new post with enthusiasm. "By focusing the drive on the individual communities, I feel we will be able to arouse the concern of the people, and thus be that much closer to overcoming cardiovascular disease," he said.

He has also been active in many community projects. He was the 1969 Community Chairman for the Heart Fund, a Ward Chairman for the 1969 Cancer Crusade and on the Executive Board of the Woburn Boosters. He is also a past president of the Woburn Young Democrats.

Robert Starrett To Be Chairman For Symposium

Robert H. Starrett of 50 Lake Street, will be chairman of a symposium on "Training and Developing the Labor Force of the 70's" at the 31st annual meeting and small business conference of the Smaller Business Association of New England (SBANE) on November 5 at the Statler Hilton Hotel, Boston.

ROBERT H. STARRETT

Mr. Starrett is president of Starrett Associates, Inc., a Lexington management consulting and executive recruiting firm. He formerly served as the scientific personnel officer at Argonne National Laboratories and was a personnel officer at Raytheon and Combustion Engineering.

The theme of the SBANE annual meeting and small business conference is "Managing in Changing Times." The program will include three daytime symposiums, more than 70 exhibits of New England business products and services and the annual banquet.

St. Mary's Officers Elected

One of the first activities of St. Mary's School is the election of class officers for the class of 1970. Recently the eighth-grade students conducted elections and have announced Vincent Palumbo as class president, Kathleen Gannon as vice president, Michele Duffy as secretary, and Edward Costello as treasurer.

This year the departmentalization program has been adopted throughout the school. To enrich and strengthen the reading courses, SRA Reading Labs are in every classroom. The school library has received additional books and filmstrips purchased by the Mothers' Club Fund supplemented by funds provided by the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

An art room and science lab have been set up in the school to encourage the use of these rooms and to increase student interest and achievement in these subjects.

School Committee Ratifies Open Campus Program; Dress Guidelines Reviewed

The Winchester School Committee approved the implementation of the open campus plan for grades 10 through 12 with the deletion of all smoking area references, subject to an undetermined trial period, at its Monday night meeting.

Under this plan such students can participate only upon the receipt of a signed permission slip from the pupil's parents. Students having a free period will be allowed to go to various areas of the school building (library, auditorium study, cafeteria, etc.), the town library and downtown areas.

Only seniors will be allowed to leave the school building during the lunch period at the outset of the program. This will permit an estimated 200 students to be free for each of the periods during the school day, or an average of 35 to 40 pupils at each of these locations. Superintendent of Schools Donald A. Klemmer stated that there would be no "inundation" of the downtown area at any time.

Students who violate the privileges of the open campus plan will be subject to restrictive action and will jeopardize the program for other students.

The campus plan for Winchester was proposed by the Education and Development Committee, which serves as an advisory group to the high school principal.

Reasons

The major reasons for recommending such a program are the crowded conditions which exist in the school building, particularly the auditorium study, and the growing national trend to give students the opportunity to use independent judgement.

In a review presented by Principal W. Howard Niblock, he also cited that it has been an historical approach of private boarding schools to use such a campus plan. This will also help to alleviate the time spent by administrative personnel on disciplinary and custodial problems.

It was noted frequently during the course of the discussion that this program was being implemented in the public school system of Falmouth, Lexington and Brookline.

Bernard Silva of the Guidance Department and chairman of the Evaluation and Development Committee, reported the results of a poll taken of 73 faculty members, of which 70 responded. Sixty-seven approved the campus plan.

Questioned earlier as to whether the program would involve financial expenditures, Mr. Silva commented that there had been no previous discussion of costs, however, there was no increase anticipated. Mrs. White, also of the committee, stated that Falmouth had experienced no substantial extra expense and that perhaps additional sales in the cafeteria might bring in revenue.

Andy Marcous, president of the High School Student Council, presented a petition with approximately 700 signatures from high school students who urged the adoption of the open campus plan. He also said that after contacting several members of the adult community, among them Juvenile Officer Richard Beaton, the Educational Council and others, that there had been "nothing but favorable responses."

Dr. Klemmer has consulted Town Counsel Leonard Mullen and feels that the School Committee will not be legally responsible for such students during the school day when they are not on school property.

Following the approval of the program by the School Committee, Principal Niblock, who had earlier stressed the dependence of the venture's success upon the cooperation of everyone involved, requested that no specific date be appointed for the actual start of the plan, but rather that it be implemented in the course of time as it is prepared.

As presented in his memorandum to the Committee, Dr. Klemmer hopes to have an evaluation of the plan on or before December 22, to include the opinions of parents, as yet an unpolled group, among others.

In conclusion Dr. Klemmer also hoped that the students would "repay the confidence of the School Committee and administrators" with proper use of the open campus plan.

Guidelines

In other business a statement on the dress standards, sometimes referred to as the "non-dress code," now in effect at the secondary level appeared on the agenda. This reads in part, "Any dress and appearance which is exhibitionistic and interferes with normal instructional activities, which is immodest in the extreme, or which jeopardizes the health and safety of the individual, must be considered unacceptable."

This statement replaces the code which now appears in the Rules and Regulations booklet. Commenting on the "liberality" of this code, Vincent E. Larocco, assistant principal of the High School, noted that the old code had been unenforceable except under such broad guidelines.

Responding to Committeeman Paul Del Rossi's request for uniform enforcement, Superintendent Klemmer said that these guidelines depended upon a "sort of agreement" among the three secondary school principals.

Later discussing the planned evaluation of Muraco School, the Committee approved the motion of Paul Del Rossi to have Dr. Klemmer and assistant superintendent of curriculum and instruction Dr. Walter P. Gleason appoint a sub-committee of the School Committee for the purpose of expanding such an evaluation, expressly to solicit bids from consulting persons or groups for this project.

Anthony Barbaro Saves Man's Life In Auto Accident In Bedford

Anthony C. Barbaro Jr. of 63 Irving Street has developed quite a habit lately—the habit of saving people's lives!

Tony, 33, a lineman in the Northern T and D Division of the Boston Edison Company, a few years ago stopped a young boy from choking by applying mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

His latest venture with the life-saving technique came recently in Bedford at 11:30 in the morning when he and the other members of a three-man crew came upon a two-car accident on Great Road.

Tony's attention was immediately drawn to a man pounding the chest of another man slumped over in the front seat of one of the cars in a vain attempt at external heart massage.

Stopping the truck, Tony rushed over to the car and helped to remove the man from the vehicle. As the two other men in the crew restrained the small crowd that gathered, Tony tilted back the man's head and, forcing open his rigid jaw, provided an air passage to his throat.

Color began returning to the man's face as Tony kept the air passage open and signs of life became noticeable in the man, an apparent heart attack victim.

A bystander had called for a police ambulance and Tony rode in the ambulance keeping the man's air passage open until they arrived at the hospital. The man survived and at last reports was recovering.

In a letter to Boston Edison, the Bedford Police Department commended Tony for his quick and efficient response in a very critical situation.

The letter acknowledged the training in mouth-to-mouth resuscitation that Boston Edison linemen receive and which Tony has applied in both successful life-saving efforts.

Tony is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony C. Barbaro of 12 Lebanon Street.

Kevin Rielly Is Killed In Beverly Car Accident

An accident on Route 128 near the Route 1A exit in Beverly proved fatal for Winchester resident T. Kevin Rielly, 24, of 28 Clark Street when the convertible in which he was a passenger reportedly hit an obstruction and overturned. The accident occurred at 3 a.m. Saturday, October 25.

According to the report of the Beverly Police Department, the automobile, owned by Miss Mary Jean Rielly, sister of the deceased, was operated by Peter Murphy, 18, of 47 Lake Street. Mr. Murphy escaped serious injury.

Responding at the scene were Beverly police and the Beverly Fire Department, assisted by State Police. Efforts were made to saw him free, but when this was accomplished he was pronounced dead at the scene by a doctor, as stated in the police report.

Born in Winchester, July 24, 1945, he was the son of Mrs. Raymond R. (Marion S. Connolly) Rielly of 28 Clark Street and the late Mr. Rielly, who passed away in 1959.

A resident of Winchester all of his life, Kevin attended Winchester schools.

For three years he had been employed by the Houghton Mifflin Company, Burlington, in their Heritage Department.

Mr. Rielly was a member of the Immaculate Conception Church.

Besides his mother and his sister, both of 28 Clark Street, he leaves two uncles, Michael J. Connolly and Coleman F. Connolly, both of Winchester.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, October 28 from the Lane Funeral Home, 760 Main Street, followed by a solemn high Mass in the Immaculate Conception Church at 9 a.m. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

Citizens Group Opens Campaign With Stickers

Members of the Citizens for the New High School are set for a campaign to ensure a "yes" vote on the upcoming referendum question requesting an additional $3,100,000 to construct the high school on Shore Road.

Bumper stickers, campaign buttons and arm bands are on sale now at the Winchester News Store, 7 Thompson Street.

Proceeds from the sale of the items such as this have long been used to raise funds for advertisements and mailings in other towns.

The colorful red and black campaign materials urge a "yes" vote on the referendum. Red and black are the school colors for Winchester High School.

Selectmen Meet Tonight To Set Date For Referendum On Proposed High School

The Board of Selectmen will meet tonight in special session in their Town Hall office at 7:30 p.m. to set the date for a referendum on the high school article included in the Special Town Meeting on October 16.

A petition requesting the referendum was presented to the Board last Thursday by Mrs. Anthony Pronski of 128 Washington Street. The petition contained 759 signatures. Approximately three per cent or 350 of the registered voters of the Town must sign a petition for a referendum to be called. The Town Clerk's office certified 421 of the signatures. Since this covered the number of signatures required by law, the additional ones were not verified.

The article on which the referendum is being called states:

To see if the Town will raise and appropriate $3,100,000 in addition to the $10,070,000 appropriated on February 26, 1968, for constructing and originally equipping and furnishing a new senior high school including outdoor athletic facilities, at the so-called Shore Road Site; and to determine whether any amount which is appropriated shall be raised by borrowing, transfer or otherwise, and to take any other action in relation thereto.

A special session of the Town Meeting on October 16 passed the article by a vote of 174 to 14.

Filing Date

Petitions for referenda must be presented within five days, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, of the date of the Town Meeting. The last date for filing the petition was 5 p.m., October 23 and it was filed at about 3 p.m. that day.

The Board of Selectmen must set the date within 14 days of their acceptance of the petition. Acceptance must come within 10 days of the filing of the petition. It is anticipated that the date set will be two weeks from today, November 13.

A majority vote on the referendum is necessary to overturn the action of the Town Meeting. Twenty per cent of the approximately 12,300 registered voters must vote for the action of the referendum to be binding.

The referendum is the climax of several months of discussion by the Permanent Building Committee, its Secondary School Building Sub-committee, and the town about the additional funds for construction of the school, as originally designed, on the Shore Road site.

Bids were sought for the project in June and July and were returned to the committees in late July. Only two general contractors, Park Construction and Grande and Sons, Inc., submitted bids on the project.

Town Meeting

A Special Town Meeting in February, 1968 had, by a vote of 155 to 24, authorized the expenditure of $10,070,000 for the new school. Of this, some $7 to $8 million was for actual construction of the building with the rest of the money to be spent on site preparation and architect's fees. To date some $1,254,000 has been expended or committed for site work and fees.

The general bids which were returned in July were $10,263,463, a combination bid for both wings from Grande and Sons, the low bidder, and bids of $7,200,000 for the academic wing and $3,850,000 for the physical education wing from Park.

A technical error by Grande and Sons in their bid figures for the academic wing caused them to withdraw their bid for that wing. The committees, since the bids were approximately $3 million over the amount voted by the Town Meeting, decided to reject all the bids, including the filed sub-bids.

After discussing the alternatives open to them, the committees decided early in September to request the Board of Selectmen to call a Special Town Meeting to ask for an additional $3 million for the school project before going out to bid again.

It was felt by the committees that November was a better time to ask for bids than June; that competition was likely to be greater; and that contractors would not bid if they knew that the Town had not approved the extra money since it was generally agreed that it was more than a $10 million construction job.

Surety Bank And Trust Company To Open Office Here Tomorrow

Ribbon-cutting ceremonies will be held tomorrow at 11 a.m. at the new office of the Surety Bank and Trust Company on Main Street. The office will open for business following the ceremony.

Daniel D. Moore, president of the bank whose main offices are in Wakefield, has announced that approval has been received from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, Washington, D.C., to establish a branch office in Winchester at 522-524 Main Street.

The opening of the Winchester Office marks the first new branch office for the $12,000,000 Wakefield-based bank since the opening of its Tewksbury Office in 1963.

The Surety Bank and Trust Company, Wakefield, was chartered by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in 1960 and opened for business on December 7, 1960.

The bank offered a number of new banking innovations and displayed considerable growth and opened its first branch office in Reading, the following year.

Mr. Moore stated that the public response to the opening of the new Winchester Office has been "remarkable." "It should be obvious to all concerned that good competition is in the public interest, and we are looking forward to doing business in Winchester," said Mr. Moore.

The Winchester Office will be under the supervision of Vice-President William J. McDonough.

Homefronters Ready For Christmas With Tag Day Set November 22

The annual Tag Day for the Winchester Homefronters will be held Saturday, November 22, it was announced by Mrs. John McDonald, chairman.

The announcement was made at a meeting of the group held recently at the home of Mrs. Jacob Babakian, 9 Penn Road, president.

The object of the Homefronters is to assist Winchester's servicemen and women, primarily by sending them all gift packages at Christmas.

Parents or friends of men or women from Winchester who have recently entered the service or whose names may not be on the Homefronters' list are asked to contact Mrs. Daniel Morse of 3 Sanborn Place, phone 729-1530. Names do not appear on the lists automatically and the cooperation of parents is urged to insure that a son or daughter may receive a box from the old home town at Christmas.

The lists are completely confidential and are never given out.

Mrs. Bradford Bentley reported that her committee is already at work purchasing and wrapping the various items in the Christmas boxes. Receiving these packages at Yuletide gives a "lift" to Winchester service people as proven by the very many grateful and enthusiastic thank-you letters received. These letters are on file and available to the public at the Library.

Being remembered by their home town is a true morale booster and the carefully selected contents of the boxes are welcome. Sp 4 Paul Ryan who entered the service last fall mailed a list of needed items to his family, but in his next letter right after Christmas he wrote, "Tear up that list, everything I asked for was in my box from the Homefronters."

The problem of finances was also discussed at the meeting. Two hundred and sixty-two boxes were mailed last year, and in spite of the Moratorium and fewer draft calls this Fall, just about the same number will be needed this year. Donations towards expenses will be gratefully received.

Anyone who is interested in helping this project is asked to send his contribution to Ralph Hatch, Treasurer, Winchester

Funeral services will be held today, October 30 at 2 p.m. in the First Congregational Church with the Rev. Kenneth R. Henley, D.D. of the First Congregational Church and the Rev. Richard W. Land of the Pilgrim Congregational Church, Lexington officiating. Burial will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to the Knights Templar Eye Foundation, 186 Tremont Street, Boston 02111. The Norris Funeral Home, 1 Elmwood Avenue is in charge of arrangements.

Miss Margaret C. Munroe

Mrs. Margaret C. Munroe of 248 Cross Street, a life-long resident of Winchester, died on Sunday, October 26 at her home after a six-months illness. She was 67.

Born in Winchester, October 14, 1902, she was the daughter of Alexander and Mary (Nelson) Munroe, native to Scotland and Woburn, respectively. She attended Winchester schools and was graduated from Winchester High School.

Miss Munroe was employed by the J. H. Winn Company, Winchester for 50 years.

Her memberships included the Immaculate Conception Church and the Ladies Sodality of that church and the Local No. 277 of J. H. Winn Company.

She leaves two nephews, Roderick J. Munroe of Winchester and David Munroe of Woburn, and a niece, Miss Janet Munroe of Winchester.

A funeral Mass was held in the Immaculate Conception Church at 9 a.m. on Wednesday, October 29. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Woburn. The Lane Funeral Home, 760 Main Street was in charge of arrangements.

Miss Anne A. Glendon

Miss Anne A. Glendon of 53 Lake Street, who resided in Winchester all of her life, died at her home on Wednesday, October 22 after a brief illness. She was 82.

Born in Winchester, August 29, 1887, she was the daughter of Richard P. and Johanna (Murphy) Glendon, natives of Ireland. She was educated in the Winchester school system and attended business school in Boston.

Miss Glendon was an investment counselor, formerly associated with A. G. Walsh and Son Investments, Boston for 50 years. She was later self-employed in this field for 10 years.

She was a member of the Immaculate Conception Ladies Sodality.

She leaves a brother, Daniel V. Glendon of Winchester; two sisters, Mrs. Alice L. Pike of Arlington and Miss Josephine M. Glendon of Burbank, California; and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held from the Lane Funeral Home, 760 Main Street on Saturday, October 25 with a funeral Mass in the Immaculate Conception Church at 9 a.m. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Woburn.

In lieu of flowers memorial contributions may be made to the Joslin Clinic, Boston.

Harold E. Eagan

Harold E. Eagan of 361 Main Street, a resident of Winchester for 30 years, died in Winchester on Tuesday, October 28, following an illness of one month. He was 77.

Born in St. Stephens, New Brunswick, Canada, June 17, 1892, he was the son of John and Sarah (Foley) Eagan.

Mr. Eagan was employed by the C. H. Symmes Company of Winchester for 25 years. He was also a World War I veteran, having served with the Canadian Army.

He was a member of St. Mary's Church.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Margaret G. (Shallow) Eagan of 361 Main Street, and several nieces and nephews.

Visiting hours will be held at the Lane Funeral Home, 760 Main Street, today, October 30, from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

The funeral will be held on Friday, October 31, from the funeral home at 8 a.m., followed by a funeral Mass in St. Mary's Church at 9 a.m. Burial will be in St. Patrick's Cemetery, Stoneham.

Francesco DiPerri

Francesco DiPerri of 720 R Washington Street died at his home on Tuesday, October 21 after a long illness. He was 75.

He was employed by the Jewish cemeteries, Washington Street and was a member of the Madonna Della Cava Society of Boston.

He leaves a brother and a sister, both in Italy.

Funeral services were held from the Domenico J. Russo Funeral Home, Medford on Friday, October 24 at 8:15 a.m. with a requiem high Mass in St. Clement's Church, Medford at 9. Burial was in Holy Cross Cemetery, Malden.

RECEIVING A CHARTERED PROPERTY CASUALTY UNDERWRITER designation is Robert K. Porter of 306 Highland Avenue. The conferment was made on Sunday, October 12, at the National Conferment ceremonies by Dr. Erwin S. Overman, C.P.C.U. and president of the American Institute for Property and Liability Underwriters, Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Mona C. Swonger

Mrs. Mona C. (Foulk) Swonger, formerly of 19 Perkins Road, widow of Clair W. Swonger, died on Thursday, October 23 after a long illness.

She leaves two sons, Claron W. Swonger of Elma, New York, and Alvin K. Swonger of Enfield, New Hampshire; and a daughter, Mrs. Guenter Vilbig of Norfolk.

A memorial service was held in Ripley Chapel, First Congregational Church at 2 p.m. on Monday, October 27. Flowers are gratefully declined.

Middlesex County Family Incomes Moving Higher

A new survey of family incomes shows that marked changes have been taking place in Middlesex County with respect to the distribution of these earnings.

The figures indicate that incomes have been rising across the board, carrying many local families into higher brackets in the last few years.

A considerable number of them, who were in the $5,000 to $8,000 group, have moved up to the $8,000 to $10,000 category. Their former position has been taken, in turn, by families who had been earning less than $5,000.

The upward shift has been noted at all points on the income scale. As a result, the proportion of local families in the middle and upper brackets is greater than ever, leaving fewer at the lower end.

The findings are contained in a copyrighted report prepared by Sales Management, a marketing publication. It lists, for every section of the country, the proportion of its population in each income division.

In Middlesex County it shows, 85.7 per cent of the local house-

Underwriter's Award Conferred On Robert Porter

Robert K. Porter of 306 Highland Avenue was one of 516 persons awarded the professional designation, Chartered Property Casualty Underwriter, by the American Institute for Property and Liability Underwriters Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania, recently at the national conferment ceremonies in Atlantic City, New Jersey.

The conferment coincided with holds had disposable cash incomes in the past year, after payment of their personal taxes, of $5,000 or more.

This is a relatively high ratio. It compares with 67.9 per cent in the United States and 78.3 per cent in the State of Massachusetts.

In any community, the extent to which the overall income is spread among the population as a whole shows whether there is a good balance in the area or whether it is unbalanced, with a small number of families with very large incomes compensating for many others with low incomes.

The breakdown for Middlesex County lists 26.7 per cent of the households with net incomes of $5,000 to $8,000 after taxes.

In the $8,000 to $10,000 bracket are 19.5 per cent and in the $10,000 to $15,000 group, 8.4 per cent. The remainder have incomes of more than $15,000 or less than $3,000.

Although incomes have been rising, the gain has not been translated into just that much additional purchasing power. As in other parts of the country, inflation has taken its toll.

Nationally, reports the Department of Commerce, real purchasing power has risen only four per cent in the past year, although the median income of families has increased by 8.3 per cent.

Geoffrey Godsell Lectures At Winchester Mornings

The second lecture of the 1969 series of Winchester Mornings was held on Thursday, October 23, at the Church of the Epiphany. The speaker was Geoffrey Godsell, British-born news editor of the Christian Science Monitor, who spoke on the topic "The Inescapable Triangle."

Although, as Mr. Godsell said, the title might lead one to think of a daytime soap opera, it does in fact refer to the triangular balance between the three giants of world power: the United States, Russia, and China. At this stage of the world's development, peace depends upon a balance of power among the three.

It is a competitive world, and a country embarks on the path of war only when the balance is tilted enough so that the particular country is sure of time that it can win. Peace therefore requires balance, he said.

Mr. Godsell went on to delineate the frontiers of power of the three major nations, showing that while both China and Russia are thought of in terms of land masses, the U.S. is primarily a sea and air power. Such a nation must be concerned not only with its own coastlines, but with the waters that wash them, and in fact with the coastlines on the opposite side of these waters. It is this philosophy that Mr. Godsell feels explains this country's involvement in Vietnam, and gives legitimacy to our concerns there.

Going on to discuss the degree to which the United States is withdrawing all the pressures of far-away involvement with the Chinese and Russian land masses, the speaker expressed his conviction that despite all the doomday predictions commonly heard, American foreign policy since World War II has been amazingly successful. He urged that we cannot withdraw from concern over the frontiers of power; that in fact there is nobody behind whom the U.S. can withdraw.

The U.S. is the world's single greatest hope, and its role is an example, not a policeman, to people everywhere who want self-fulfillment under conditions of maximum liberty. While the U.S. has serious problems concerning race relations and the cities, for example, at least the central authorities are dedicated to facing up to these problems. Progress is being made; and it should not be overlooked by those who would sell America short, he said.

Mr. Godsell stated that his feelings basically are those of optimism and confidence in regard to the world situation. Despite the disappointments and discouragements, he believes President Nixon's policy on Vietnam to be absolutely right. This is a "tough area" where a stabilizing colonial power left at the end of World War II and there is now nothing of substance left to maintain the country against imperialism; it is in essence up for grabs by the three great powers, and the U.S. cannot allow one of the other two to gain sole control.

Wellesley Club

The Winchester Mornings are sponsored by the Winchester Wellesley Club and this year are under the direction of Mrs. Kenneth D. Hudson, ways and means chairman. The final lecture will be given on Thursday, November 6, at 10:15 a.m., preceded by coffee at 9:45. The speaker will be Charles G. Hilgenhurst, administrator and urban designer for the Boston Redevelopment Authority, who will discuss Boston's proposal to the federal government for a 1976 bicentennial exposition.

Mr. Hilgenhurst was born in New Jersey, took a mechanical engineering degree at Cornell University, and in 1959 received the master of arts degree from Princeton University Graduate School of Architecture. In the course of his employment with Architects Collaborative in Cambridge, he has been designer on projects at the University of Baghdad, Phillips Andover Academy, and the Lexington High School.

At the BRA, he supervises a staff of 80 architects, planners, and urban designers who are responsible for all buildings under the city's redevelopment program. Included are such projects as the Government Center, the waterfront development, and the South End.

S.O.I. News

The annual golf banquet and dance was held Saturday evening, October 25. The evening started off with a catered meal, followed by dessert and the formal part of the program.

Golf Committee Chairman Frank Costa acted as master of ceremonies for this affair. He introduced those seated at the head table, Venerable and Mrs. Joseph Paonessa; Sports Committee Chairman and Mrs. Frank A. Dattilo; and Mrs. Cynthia Esposito and her son, Michael, of the Wilmington High football team.

The golf league had a very successful season this year, with about 45 members in the league. During the evening jackets and trophies were awarded. The Hole-in-One trophy was awarded to Vincent Acquaviva. A special award was given to Charles Alvi, who was most helpful during this golf season.

Winners of the Team Championship were: Class A—First place, Chick Vespucci and Denis Benardi; Second place, Beany Perry and Chris Feudo.

Class B—First place, Tom Tracy and Joe Costa; second place, Charles Merengo and Herman Capillo.

Winners of the Club Championship were: Class A—Robert Murphy (gross) and Jaul Capone Jr. (net); Class B—Don Kenton (gross) and Charles Merengo (net).

Winners of the League Championship were: Class A—Robert Murphy (1st gross) and Ray Gagnon (2nd gross); Tom Cerulli (1st net) and Al Fiorelli (2nd net); Class B—Rico DeSimone (1st gross) and Bud Nurenberger (2nd gross); Stefan Costa (1st net) and Arthur Palcologos (2nd net).

The high point of the evening was the giving of the Esposito Memorial Sportsmanship Award to Carl Bertolucci, who received a standing ovation.

Dancing completed the evening.

Lincoln Parents Hear Talk By Dr. Goldstein

At an evening meeting on Wednesday, October 15, members of the Lincoln School Parents Association met to hear Dr. Norman Goldstein, chief psychologist at the Mystic Valley Children's Clinic and consultant to the Winchester Public Schools.

Dr. Goldstein discussed the many factors affecting the child's school adjustment and the role of the school as a referral agency when children are sent to the Mystic Valley Clinic. Among the school symptoms which may be present when a child is referred to the clinic are learning difficulties, behavior problems and poor peer relations.

The clinic, in turn, said Dr. Goldstein, may then provide help in terms of consultations, evaluation of the child and therapy where needed. In addition, the clinic is offering in-service training for school personnel.

A question and answer period followed Dr. Goldstein's talk.

Country Club Displays Paintings By Mr. Sweetman

Currently on display at the Winchester Country Club are two large oil paintings of the Club grounds by West Medford artist Arch W. Sweetman.

The paintings are views of the fairways and greens of the 15th and 16th holes. Fall foliage enhances both paintings.

Mr. Sweetman is internationally known. His works are included in many collections in this country

Editorials:

Goblin Time

Ghost and goblin time is upon us again and tomorrow night, despite the cold weather predicted, the small witches, gypsies, cowboys, ballerinas and ghosts will come knocking on the door, promising to go away if treated and to play a trick if no treats are forthcoming.

Sprinkled among the usual trick or treaters looking for candy will be some carrying bright orange boxes and asking for money. The money will go to UNICEF, the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund. It is a welcome change from the "enough candy to make you sick," as described by one small boy at a Winchester church last Sunday.

The back of the box indicates that five pennies will protect four children from tuberculosis and will provide 30 vitamin tablets for children. In these days of sky-rocketing prices, those are bargain prices and much better, we think, than candy that either "makes you sick," or is thrown away next July.

Instead of stocking up on candy for tomorrow night, how about converting the money to nickels and pennies for UNICEF contributions?

Editorial Comments

Some time ago in this column, we stressed the rules for submitting "Letters to the Editor." Since that time we have found that more of the letters come in typed, double-spaced, and consequently are usable. The problem still plagues us, however, of letters that come in after the Monday, 5 p.m. deadline. Many of these letters are timely and well written. We would like to publish them, however, because of production requirements, we must strictly hold to the 5 p.m. deadline. Also, names may be withheld on request, if serious repercussions would be caused the writer should his name be printed. The letter, however, must be signed for our records. We are not able to print those with signatures "anonymous."

Starred by the Star:

(To provide facts and answers for registered voters and all citizens prior to the referendum, the Citizens for the New High School have provided the following ten basic questions and answers.)

THE QUESTIONS

1. Do we need a new high school building?
2. Can we afford a new high school building?
3. How much have we already spent?
4. Why have costs increased so much?
5. Do the high school students really need air conditioning?
6. What is the purpose of having a swimming pool?
7. By appropriating an additional $3,100,000 to the original $10,070,000 don't we tip off the contractors how much to bid?
8. Who are our Building Committee members?
9. How about adding to the present high school?
10. Are we in danger of losing accreditation?

THE ANSWERS

1. Q. Do we need a new high school building?
A. On four occasions in the last three years your elected town meeting representatives have recognized the need and voted overwhelmingly for a new high school building (February 1967, February 1968, November 1968, October 1969).
All registered voters in the Town may not be aware that right now there are 1,143 high school students in a building which was designed for only 900. By 1972 (even if there are no more closings of private schools in our area) there will be 150 additional young people enrolled in our senior high school.
The present building was built as a junior high school in 1932 and added on to in 1954. A question arises whether we build a school to prepare for the present and future or whether we continue to educate in a building built without foresight for young people of the 1930's? The present building has a library which seats only 50 students. Our high school wrestlers practice in a classroom. The school newspaper is put together in the music room. Student-teacher conferences are scheduled for stairwell landings, the auditorium balcony, etc. Math classes are meeting in the boys' physical education room. One chemistry lab was closed to use for lecture purposes as chairs amongst the lab facilities made the whole lab unsafe. A thorough inspection by the Fire Marshall could close the building any time!
2. Q. Can we afford a new high school?
A. Just a year ago the opponents of the new high school building proposed that the Town of Winchester not accept $4,000,000 in state aid in order that the funds might be used to build schools in the deprived areas of the City of Boston. The elected Town Meeting rejected this proposal which would have added over a dollar to our tax rate for the next 20 years. In 1965 the new high school building was to cost $5,120,000. What looks expensive today will be a bargain tomorrow. Local property values are directly affected by the reputation of our schools. The increase on which the Town Meeting voted "yes" by 174 to 14 is less than a dollar on the tax rate. And the town's 15-man finance committee, our watchdog over Winchester's dollars, recommended and voted unanimously in favor of the new high school. In their judgement the town can afford this new senior high school building.
3. Q. How much have we already spent?
A. $727,654 for playing fields and the tunnel under the railroad tracks. In addition $424,000 is owed to the architect for plans designed for the Shore Road site (whether or not they are used). With other miscellaneous expenses the total so far is $1,254,819.21.
4. Q. Why have costs increased so much?
A. Inflation in building costs has been considerably greater than the general inflation that has hit our country. Building-trade workers now have contracts giving them wage increases and fringe-benefits of more than 40% in the next three years. Carpenters who earned only $5.95 per hour without fringe benefits last year will receive with fringe benefits $8.81 in 1972. Thus not only is the cost of carpentry raised for us but also the cement work of which 50% is carpentry work for the necessary forms. And now there are severe shortages of skilled workers in the Boston area.

5. Q. Do the high school students really need air conditioning?

A. Because of site limitations and location and because of the large size of the building, the building itself must be compact, with many interior classrooms. Air conditioning is necessary for these spaces. The building must be closed to shut out railroad noise. Summer school will be held in this building, and eventually there will be full year-round use. Air conditioning adds less than $250,000 to the cost of the school.

6. Q. What is the purpose of the swimming pool?

A. The pool has been planned for year round recreational use by the whole town as well as for physical education by students. Other towns with pools in their high schools have found that community use is even heavier than school use.

7. Q. By appropriating an additional $3,100,000 to the original $10,070,000, don't we tip off the contractors how much to bid?

A. Not really. All we do is say that we realistically want the job to be done. We are soliciting serious competition for the contract. Whoever wants to get the job will still have to be the low bidder.

8. Q. Who are our Building Committee members?

A. Two committees are involved—the Town's Permanent Building Committee and its Secondary School Subcommittee. Of the permanent members, two are contractors heading their own firms; one is a registered professional engineer engaged in civil engineering with a large Boston firm; another is in charge of planning and building facilities for one of Massachusetts' largest employers; the fifth is a lawyer whose clients include a major manufacturer of contractors' supplies. On the subcommittee there are a financial officer, an industrial engineer, a lawyer, a registered professional engineer, and the executive officer of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Center for Space Research.

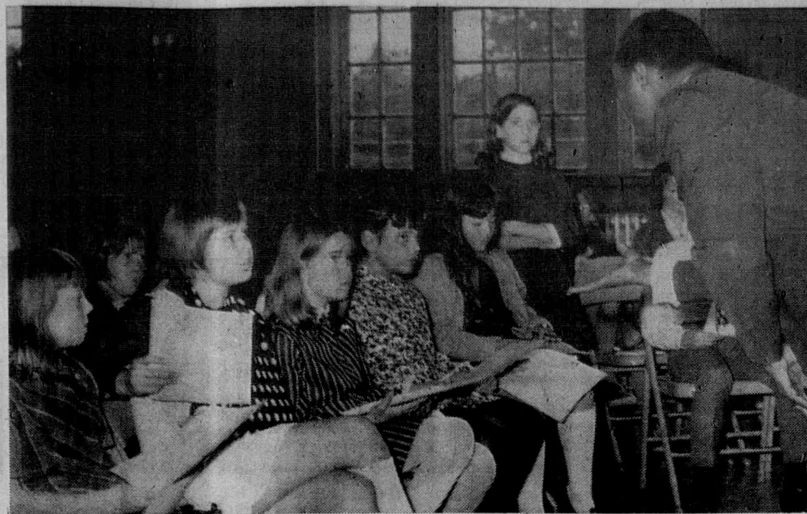

9. Q. How about adding to the present high school?

A. This possibility has been carefully and repeatedly investigated. It has been found to offer no saving in cost. The present building has very narrow corridors and stairways; the walls between rooms are load-bearing. Even if an addition—with all its difficulties—were accomplished, the end result would be unsatisfactory. Land around the school would have to be increased by the taking of homes. The new playing fields are too far away from the school to use in a regular gym period. We would still need junior high school space. It is also unlikely that an addition would get state aid. And where would our high school youngsters go to school while all the proposed remodeling is being done?

10. Q. Are we in danger of losing our accreditation?

A. The New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools (to which Winchester High School belongs) has the full authority to accredit, to dis-accredit, or place schools on probation. Recently a number of high schools have been placed on probation because of inadequate building space. A member of the Association Executive Committee which oversees accreditation has indicated that Winchester's accreditation would be in serious danger if the town failed to complete the new senior high school building project.

New Teachers Work With Students In Winchester Elementary Schools

In this age of the harried commuting organization man who is earning a living in the city to keep up the payments on the home for his family in the suburbs, many middle class suburban families lose touch with father. He leaves the house weary, returns weary and often after the children are in bed.

Of necessity, mother makes decisions and acts alone with her children much of the time. It has been said that a little boy, in particular, suffers since neither home nor school provides enough time with a strong male figure to help him gain his identity as a man.

While psychologists ponder the problems of the trend toward a matriarchal society, educators are making moves to help fill the void. It is thought that good male teachers in the elementary grades may be able to provide the added male image and influence needed by today's youngsters.

W. Kyselka, assistant professor of education at University of Hawaii, writes in "Childhood Education," "We know the deleterious effect on human personality when male influence is lacking in the life of the young child. Literature, case histories, and psychological theory have pointed out clearly the destructive effects of weak male influence, while other studies show what an integrating effect a strong male can have in the reconstruction of a personality.—We see a strong male as one who is not afraid of his feelings; one who appreciates the feelings of tenderness he finds within himself; one who is sensitive to those around him; and one who is not afraid to express affection toward children."

Six Teachers

Winchester Public Schools employed six new male teachers in the elementary schools this fall. Three of these elementary school men illustrate the different areas in which young children will meet their first male teachers.

Herman Greene teaches music. Stephen Hood instructs in physical education and Kevin Marden works in a regular classroom situation. All serve in different capacities with youngsters.

Mr. Greene, an elementary music specialist, teaches students at Noonan, Parkhurst and Vinson-Owen Schools. In addition to his regular teaching assignments, Mr. Greene has provided his students in grades four, five and six with the chance to sing in a special chorus.

Parkhurst and Noonan students meet after school with Mr. Greene from 3:15 to 4:15 p.m. once a week. Vinson-Owen students (because of bus problems) sing with Mr. Greene on their lunch hour. Each school has had 45 to 50 boys and girls at each meeting.

With their sights set on a Christmas Concert, the groups sing three-part, two-part and unison selections of classical, semi-classical and popular music. Mr. Greene expressed his optimism about finding a few special talents for possible solo work within the choruses.

To add to the solidarity of the groups, Mr. Greene has seen to it that each chorus elects a president and secretary. Their appreciation of and respect for Mr. Greene is obvious.

Mr. Greene has a bachelor's degree from Florida A and M University and a master's degree in music education from the Boston Conservatory of Music. He has also had training in the Orff-Kodaly method of music instruction and he taught music for five years in Templeton. His deep voice bolsters his ability to take on the high notes of a youthful boy soprano as he trains his groups.

His ambitions for the choruses extends to a spring concert and in the future, possible combined concerts with the three schools joined in one large choral group.

Broken Homes

Not only business and recreational pursuits take father away from the home. According to L. Triplett, director of curriculum in Greeley, Colorado, writing in "The Instructor," "All male teachers indicated concern over the growing number of broken or fatherless homes. Among teachers of both sexes, there seems to be an unspoken belief that more men in the elementary schools could counterbalance this social problem.—There is no stigma attached to a pediatrician just because he works with young children. Neither should there be any stigma attached to men in elementary schools."

A second new representative of the male element in the Winchester elementary teaching staff this year is Stephen Hood, a graduate of Ithaca College with a master's degree. The elementary physical education specialist works with students at Lincoln, Muroco and Lynch Junior High schools.

Extending his work into the lower elementary grades, he provides gym instruction beyond that which the classroom teacher can offer. Mr. Hood works with youngsters in grade one at Lincoln School, teaching them teamwork, motor control, and how to follow directions in the process of developing overall physical fitness through games, sports and dancing.

Mr. Hood joins in the games circling the gym holding hands with tiny boys and girls whose faces, squeals and exuberant antics show the delight they feel in their instructor and the activity.

Mr. Hood has acquired a deep understanding of children of this age level through his experiences working with youngsters in a home for children and through his specialized training in the teaching of perceptual motor skills. He also taught physical education to elementary youngsters for four years in New York State prior to coming to Winchester.

Mr. Hood also coaches football at Lynch Junior High School.

Classroom Teacher

Rounding out the picture of the new male teacher is Kevin Marden, a regular classroom teacher in grade five at Lincoln School. Mr. Marden has his bachelor's degree from Boston State College and has begun his first year of teaching in Winchester.

In order to provide the male influence for more youngsters, Mr. Marden works in a teaching team. He teaches science to both fifth grades and one sixth grade.

At this level Mr. Marden provides the needed acquaintance with male teachers that will help in the adjustment of elementary students to the junior and senior high school where male teachers are in greater number.

Through his high school and college years as a Boys' Club coach of elementary school age children, Mr. Marden developed an interest in working with these children.

These men represent only part of the entire group of male teachers employed by the school system, all of whom exert a strong influence upon students in educating them for life. Winchester children work with men and women with all types of personalities as they receive instruction from elementary school through secondary school preparing them to work with all types of people in their future careers.

BOOK REVIEW

THE WHOLE WORLD IS WATCHING

by Mark Gerzon

"This book," writes Mark Gerzon, Harvard '70, "is an attempt to describe part of the generation of young people who were born after the Second World War. I want to explain some of the reasons why many of them feel significantly different from the adult society of which they are expected to become a part."

It is an alienated generation he describes, both excitingly and revealingly. "This generation," he calls it and refers to it as those young people who perceive new social circumstances and who recognize new challenges. "Out of this group come most of the peace marchers, Civil Rights workers, Peace Corpsmen, the new rebel student leaders, the New Left, Vista workers, writers for the underground press, voluntary drop-outs, draftcard burners, campus activists, and the hippies."

It is still a minority, but the author contends that it contains the most articulate, energetic, educated members of this generation.

Today's youth is characterized by being uninvolved in many of the things that were of great importance for their parents. The young face a different cultural and economic situation and their psychological and political interests might well have been considered unthinkable in 1960.

The author notes that, "All too often in superficial analyses of the behavior of young people today, political attitudes or sexual activities, the use of drugs, or distinctive clothing have been examined as if each could be understood without knowing the over-all pattern of which it is a part. . . . Authors of such analyses, as well as their adult readers, have often failed to understand the complex experience of the postwar college generation. . . . By leaving the pattern as intact as possible, I hope to show that there is a logic to alienation, just as there is logic to conformity."

The young person who attends college and who is from a rather affluent background (on which the author focuses) is uncertain of his identity and what he wants to be identified with. So much mass communication, mass education has provided a tremendous knowledge about other cultures and life-styles. The student knows that the socially accepted image of the TV commercials is not the only image. So the author says that for young people, disregard for clothing, not only among hippies but also on many campuses, is a refusal to be measured by current social standards, by the money they have, or by the money they are unwilling to spend chasing the socially ideal personality.

Mass society and conformity is rejected by young people. The emphasis today of the young person is on the human, the individual. Young people object to being packaged and marketable according to the standards of mass society. "What young people stress," the author contends, "is that individual identity should find its strength primarily within the context of the individual, not in the context of mass society and its standards."

The young man of today is turning away from science, business and industry to psychology, sociology and political science. His attitude may be a response to a pressing challenge—the need for peace nationally and internationally.

The young person today is making new social customs which may become traditional. Where sex and marriage are concerned, the postwar generation has come to the conclusion that if the divorce rate is not to continue to rise, deep premarital relationships will have to become acceptable. This generation's solution is to know each other as adults, and then get married.

Another additive to the generation gap is the use of drugs. "What is frightening is how poorly these adults read the signs of their own culture. Rather than being a passing breeze (or smoke fume), marijuana is an element of youth culture that has taken root in the coil of this generation's psychological alienation." Elsewhere the author writes, "Drugs now provide simulated rites de passage. . . . Most college students go to these drugs with the desire to be tested, not coddled, by the experience."

If all this seems strange to the older generation, it is maybe as Margaret Mead has said, "The young people who were born after the war are natives to modern times, while the older people are like immigrants." But Mrs. Gerzon has written a thoughtful, exciting book which should diminish the generation gap.

Referendum To Keep "Faith"

Editor of the Star:

We are again in the throes of a referendum. The ease with which the townspeople flocked to sign reminds me of the strange phenomenon of Winchester Officialdom, the "Awesome Unanimity." This phrase I coined years ago because of the complete lack of discussion and difference among those who are the establishment. Of course, the members of the various boards, except for the Moderator, have changed in name but not in lack of thought. Yes, even the editor of the Star changes, but not the blind faith and allegiance. World War II was voted by Congress, but not unanimously!

Daylight Savings time in 47 states, not unanimous.

Even at home there is not the complete thought to food on the table—but to spend millions for school building, believe it or not, silence and actual distaste of discussion.

You have no idea of the nasty phrases that can be coined by our newly located neighbors, to us and at us; yet they came to live with us because of the good education we have provided for our young people.

At the recent indoctrination and poorly attended Building Committee meetings, members of the committee admitted that in most cases they could not answer questions involving the Town and questions of political life here, beyond ten years. One member couldn't remember happenings beyond '66, the time he was appointed to the committee.

Those of us in Winchester who, by vote and action, have made the Winchester School System, do research and find that in the first years, 1850-1855, the School Committee intended to make the educational system so good that even the "well-to-do" rich would want to come here.

The proof of a system is its products, not the monument.

Why should this lead me to the swimming pool? Simply because one million dollars in that area will not educate even one of our new-found liberal intellectuals.

But this cement and brick bathtub will force some of our good long-term neighbors and friends to find a solitary room away from us. We can not, and will not tell the good people of Winchester that true democratic town government can not be continued here.

Regardless of what editorials are written today or last year, the fact remains, executive secret sessions have been held, and are being held. No one has yet been able to explain why the general contractors failed to bid.

The committee has yet to show the people even an architect's sketch of this thirteen million dollar bargain.

Eighty-five per cent of our students go on to further education. Will our School Committee or administrators tell us what kind of plan they have for helping the fifteen per cent, actually 45 students per year, get into the new regional vocational high school?

Only signed letters will be considered for publication in the Star. On rare occasions however, and to avert what might be damaging personal repercussions, the Star will, on request withhold the submitted name.

DEADLINE: Monday, 8 p.m.

All letters must be typed and double spaced for consideration.

Will our School Committee or administrators tell us what this so-called campus-type education really is?

Or, will we have to accept the statement of our Superintendent at a church meeting when he said, "Colleges nowadays have a permissive living experience for co-educational students, without house-mothers and house rules so we should have campus-type living at the high school level to adjust them to that kind of life."

My answer to this philosophy is to quote from the first letter of Paul to Timothy, 6:20: "Avoid the Godless chatter and contradictions, for by professing it, some have missed the mark as regards the faith."

May we, in the process of the referendum, keep the faith and the morality.

Hope Seen For Peace

Editor of the Star:

Three years ago, in Winchester as elsewhere, it was difficult for a peace activist like me to get a dozen people together to discuss the war in Vietnam. Beyond that, it was quite unlikely that many of those concerned about the situation in Vietnam would involve themselves in frank peace action—particularly of a visible nature.

On October 15 past, about 1,000 Winchester residents visibly participated in the Vietnam Moratorium activities here. Of these, approximately 150 took vocal part in the 26 hours reading of the names of Vietnam war dead. Over 400 attended the Peace Unity Service, so beautifully done by the students. It was very gratifying to note the substantial number of adults attending with their children.

In addition, 2,339 residents signed petitions addressed to President Nixon calling for total troop withdrawal. These petitions have been forwarded to the White House.

It appears that Moratorium Day had an additional effect that is difficult to measure, in that much participation was not visible. Many people chose to do their bit privately and unobtrusively, perhaps by writing a letter or two to elected officials or calling a friend to tell them how they felt about Vietnam—and why.

The value of the Moratorium will be debated for some time to come, perhaps forever. It seems safe to say, however, that anyone who stood that day in the sparkling autumn sunshine and saw the peace symbol etched across that incredibly blue sky knows that at last, and at least, there is hope for peace.

Yours very truly,
Ann Danley

Ecumenical Group Expresses Thanks For Peace Activity

Editor of the Star:

At the meeting of October 22, members of the Winchester Ecumenical Association decided to express their thanks to the people of Winchester who participated in Peace Action Day on October 15. Over a thousand people were in-involved in the activities including more than 150 people who read names of American dead, and over 300 adults and young people who attended the Peace Unity Service at the First Congregational Church.

The manner in which people conducted themselves made the observance more impressive. The activities of the day proceeded without incident thanks in large part to both participants and Town officials. Everyone from the Board of Selectmen, the Park Commission, the Police Department and the Fire Department, helped to assure that this observance was in the best tradition of democratic expression.

Questions Town Government Form

Editor of the Star:

Thank goodness for the referendum! And I mean it, because it calls attention to some questions about this town's government that have been confusing me.

The first: what is the relationship between the Town Meeting and the people who elect him (or her)? Have they met? Have they discussed any issues? Has one told the other what he thinks is best for the town?

I guess not, and I think we ought to fix that up, or find another kind of government for Winchester.

Referenda cost the town money. And they are brought about by people who don't believe their representatives represent them.

Take last week's 174-14 vote on the new High School, for example. The 174 elected Town Meeting Members voted to go ahead with the construction, fourteen opposed. Most people would call that an overwhelming majority, but then 350 people in town sign a paper saying that's not what THEY want. Next, the Town will spend money for a vote to find out how many other people don't want this either.

Now I wonder if the Town Meeting had been unanimous in its vote on this issue (as were the Finance Committee, the Selectmen and Planning Board), would we still have to have a referendum? What I'm getting at here is can we let any 350 people bring us to the polls whenever they choose? Why don't the Town Meeting Members count noses on issues before-hand?

Then there's the big question in a referendum about what you're voting for.

If I vote against the unanimous decision of the Finance Committee, Selectmen, School Committee and Planning Board, plus 174 Town Meeting Members, I should ask myself what the result will be.

Am I voting in favor of:

- 1) a million dollar vacant lot?
- 2) another decision from the same people who voted to go ahead and build?
- 3) something tacked on to the old High School? (That would mean a new building somewhere for the younger kids. What's that going to be like?)
- 4) am I voting for the High School kids to go on double sessions? (They will.)
- 5) am I going to have to pay more for less at a later time? (Some say that costs are bound to go down, but they can't prove it. I read that one per cent a month is the way building costs are rising.)
- 6) am I voting for a stalling procedure, or what?

There is no choice when the only vote is 'no.' (and no choice is too much like Russia to suit me.)

There is a lot of thinking to do, and I believe we ought to start in on it. Otherwise some nutty obstructionist in the future could go out and get 350 signatures on something, and further demoralize the qualified and hard-working top people we democratically elect.

Please think about these issues and the future welfare of the entire town.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Lenore Frazier

Social Security Pays Off For Workers In This Area

Is Social Security proving to be a good investment for the average area worker and his family?

Could he do better with a private annuity to provide for himself and his wife in old age?

The answer seems to be "no." People in the insurance field concede that there is no policy on the market that can match Social Security on a cost basis.

As it stands now, the vast majority of local people protected under the program will draw benefits far in excess of what they have paid or will pay in taxes during their working years.

This is especially true for those who have already retired and for those who will be doing so within a few years. For them it is a real bargain. Most of them will be collecting several times the amount they paid in taxes. Future generations of workers will not fare that well, however.

According to the latest tabulation of the Social Security Administration, retired or disabled workers and their families in Middlesex County are getting pension checks at the rate of $165,748,000 a year.

How well does Social Security shape up from the viewpoint of a young man age 25, who will be working and paying taxes for the next forty years?

Under the present setup, he will contribute some $17,000 to the pension fund during that period if he earns $7,800 or more per year. His employer will provide a similar sum.

The $17,000 he put in will grow to a total of nearly $38,000 if interest at 4 per cent is added.

The return that he and his wife will get, if they live 14 years after reaching 65, which is the life expectancy at that age, will be approximately $55,000.

For the 9,000 or so young men in this county who are now 25, if they continue working until retirement and live the normal span of years thereafter, they will be paying a total of $342,000,000, including interest, into Social Security and be getting back $495,000,000, if married.

In addition, they will have the extra protection that is included against the hazards of life, such as disability pensions, benefits for dependents, hospital care and the like. (Park Row News Service)

Take Care Of Social Security Before Age 65

Medicare benefits are payable at 65 even if a person continues to work full time and is not collecting his social security benefits.

"People nearing 65, whether or not they plan to retire, should visit the Social Security Office at 625 Mt. Auburn Street, Cambridge, or call 491-0700," John E. Lonerger Jr., district manager, has said. It is important, he noted, to apply during the three months before turning 65 to be sure that Medicare protection will begin as soon as 65 is reached. Otherwise, coverage of some medical bills may be lost.

Mr. Lonerger explained that Medicare is divided into two parts. "One part is hospital insurance," he said. "This is paid from social security contribution made during the working lifetime." Virtually every employed person now reaching 65 is eligible for and has paid for hospital insurance protection. And if a worker is eligible, so is his wife at age 65.

This part of Medicare helps pay for care in a hospital and for certain kinds of care needed after leaving the hospital.

The Social Security representative is at the Woburn Public Library any Tuesday between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m.

State Begins New Bureau

Automobile accident chiselers—beware! There's now new teeth, and a new investigative agency, in the state's battle to keep fraudulent auto claims from further ballooning car insurance costs.

This means that doctors, lawyers, auto repairmen and the would-be motorist—insurance—cheat himself had better weigh the risks carefully before deciding on seeking illegal gains.

The new bureau is the Massachusetts Fraudulent Claims Bureau (FCB)—set up by the 1968 Legislature to reverse the spiral of fraudulent and grossly exaggerated claims.

State Insurance Commissioner C. Eugene Farnam, under the law, heads the three-member board to administer the FCB. Working with him are Registrar of Motor Vehicles Richard E. McLaughlin and Public Safety Commissioner Leo L. Laughlin.

The new legislation, the three-man group at the top, and the tough, experienced team of investigators named to the field force—all spell bad news to would-be insurance chiselers.

The field force consists of former police officers and detectives, insurance department career men, former professional adjusters with college backgrounds, college degree men and former insurance brokers or agents.

Suspect some funny business by a neighbor or acquaintance filing an automobile insurance claim? To get action is as simple as lifting the telephone and dialing 727-3341 in Boston (77 Maple Street, in Springfield)—and telling all to a recording device or directly to an investigator.

From that point, Thomas J. Kelleher Jr.—chief of the FCB and its 40-man complement—takes over. He assigns an investigator or team to check out the tip.

Total cost of the FCB—the first such anti-fraud bureau in the nation—will be borne by the insurance companies. The Legislature authorized an initial appropriation of $312,000, to launch the pioneer project.

Utilizing the latest in electronic equipment, the FCB is operating on the 18th floor of the new Leverett Saltonstall Building, the former State Office Building, on Cambridge Street, Boston. This is where the Department of Insurance is located.

Anyone with a hint of suspicion about an auto insurance claim can record his doubts privately on the electronic equipment at the FCB.

This may be done without the caller identifying himself and he need not be a party to any resultant action, Commissioner Farnam said.

Investigators then will check into the recorded complaints to determine whether a claim is fraudulent or exaggerated.

Interestingly enough, the information provided by the telephone tip is permanently recorded on a disc which cannot be erased. This recording unit then is retained as a permanent file of the complaint.

Commissioner Farnam predicted that the psychological impact of such a system of "tips" alone should serve to reduce the numbers and size of claims.

"Motorists with a little larceny in their hearts will be wise to discipline themselves to forego a few 'easybucks' to avoid almost certain detection and trouble," he said.

Commissioner Farnam said it is not unreasonable to speculate that the FCB activity—with public assistance—could cut the claim load as much as five per cent. This would amount to a savings of $15 million to the companies and this figure would be reflected in premium rates being reduced.

Singing Concert Is Reviewed

Friends of the Florence Crittenton League and followers of Winchester's Two-by-Fours were treated to an evening of fun and song. Under the able direction of Tom Worthen, the group, appearing in concert with Les Troubadours, wove from a combination of old and new songs, features and novelty numbers, a program as pleasant as it was relaxing.

Most concerts of this sort open with a "throw-away" tune to allow the audience time to settle quietly in their seats; the initial selection of the Two-by-Fours was "Autumn Leaves." Both the performers and the audience are deserving of credit, the former for the professional manner in which the song was presented, the latter for the quiet attentiveness with which it was received. Three spirituals followed the mood numbers: "Sister Mary," with tenor solo by Ed Crabtree, stood forth clearly as the best of this group.

Phil Cabot introduced next "Les Troubadours," a singing group drawn from the Winchester High School French Club. Their youthful enthusiasm and vigorous style elicited loud applause from an appreciative audience.

Returning to the stage the Two-by-Fours shifted from the straight production of music to a series of staged and novelty numbers. That old railroad man, conductor Herb Bixler, led the group through "Going Home Train" from "This Is the Army"—a real standout. "Today," "Tobacco" and "Saloon" also drew strong audience response.

In a surprise departure from the printed program, Tom Worthen announced that his daughter, Mrs. Sally McCutchen, and his niece, Dori Latta, would substitute for the Two-by-Four Splinters during the first half of the show. These two attractive young ladies sang and played a selection of folk songs, many of which were original arrangements. Their performance was of professional quality, and was received accordingly.

Following intermission the Two-by-Fours returned to sing two last sets. Between acts Les Troubadours and the Splinters appeared successively. The Splinters—Tom Ruggles and Palmer Worthen, tenors, and Jim Vail and Doc Lombardi, basses—drew terrific audience response with their rendition of such classics as "Take Me Out to the Ball Game" and "Eveline."

As individuals each Two-by-Four can sing solo in his own right. Indeed, at one point or another during the evening, each did, many more than once. But it is the blend of the nine voices, rather than their individual excellence, which is the hallmark of the group. And despite the poignant lament expressed in the "Old Whiff Song," age has not strained the quality of that blend. (Harry Downs)

The committees had hoped to go out to bid again in early November if the vote of the Town Meeting was not challenged.

At their regular meeting Monday night, the Selectmen discussed the referendum but were unable to set a date since the verification of the signatures had not been received from the Town Clerk's office.

The Board passed a motion requesting Town Counsel to prepare the necessary information for calling a referendum should the voter signatures on the petition be verified.

Responding to a question from Arthur Hewis, Board Chairman Paul Amico stated that the public would be notified if the Board set a special meeting this week to vote on the date for the referendum.

School Comm.

Dr. Richard Lawrance expressed the hope that at this time a more definite time table and scope for the evaluation would be determined.

In a last item of major concern the Committee heard and approved the Superintendent's request that he be authorized to initiate a substitute calling plan for the secondary schools utilizing a code-a-phone device. According to Committeeman Richard K. Schroeder's estimates, this will involve a cost of approximately $1,600 for the first year and $927 in recurring costs.

The Committee also moved to reject the bids received on June 9 for the mechanical calculators. This does not remove the sum allowed for this purpose from the budget, but awaits the recommendations of the chairman of the math department, John J. Waite Jr., and others for the expenditure.

Acting as pall bearers at the funeral were Gene Lane, Edward Hughes, Sean O'Donnell, Jocko Bond, Douglass Dorien and Andrew Connolly.

Baby Sitters Two Speakers

Tonight, October 30, there will be two speakers at the Winchester Baby Sitters' School.

Officer John W. McKinley of the Winchester Police Department will speak first on safety precautions to be taken by both the parents and the sitters before the parents leave home. Unusual occurrences such as prank phone calls, intruders and unexpected callers and methods for dealing with them will be discussed.

For the latter part of the evening, the speaker will be Mrs. Charles Johnson. Mrs. Johnson, chairman of the project, will talk to the sitters from a parent's point of view and will remind the group of the necessity for promptness, giving careful attention to parents' instructions and importance of seeking qualified advice on any difficult situation.

This card must be signed below by person named on front or his spouse. Loss or theft of this card must be reported immediately to issuing bank. By applying for, accepting, signing or using this credit card, the person named on the front agrees to the terms of the Master Charge card holder agreement furnished with this credit card.

Winchester National Bank

Authorized Signature

David Graham

We are the only bank in this area that puts a Polaroid® photograph of your face on back of your Master Charge.

In literally 60 seconds, you have instant identification. And protection. Should you ever lose your photo-backed Master Charge, it would be mighty hard for anyone else to use it.

Hardly surprising, is it, that the people who give you a Personal Banker should be the first to personalize Master Charge. After all, your Personal Banker, like your personalized Master Charge, makes your financial transactions more convenient. And safer.

So when we decided Master Charge was the very best credit card — because it's recognized by the greatest number of retailers and banks in the country — we went one step further. And made Master Charge as personal as your face. And as attractive.

All you have to do to get your photo-backed Master Charge is come into our bank and let us take your picture. In a minute.

You don't have to bank with us now or ever. But doesn't it make sense to do business with bankers who prove again and again they take all your financial needs personally?

Winchester Duplicate Bridge Club

An old-home-week atmosphere pervaded Section A on Wednesday, October 22, as couples gathered to compete for the Sittler Bowl in the Married Couples Championship. Irene Sittler herself, resplendent with an orchid corsage, was down from New Hampshire and brought Carl's greetings to the group.

The evening was pleasant, the cards exciting, and the winning pair Peggy and Phil Cade. Congratulations!

Couples above average were: Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Cade 82, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith 77, Mr. and Mrs. William Dwyer 77, Dr. and Mrs. Blair Hawley 75.

Robert Blackler 74, Mr. and Mrs. John Davis 71 1/2, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Root 70, Dr. and Mrs. Waldron Smith 69, Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Malkin 68, Mr. and Mrs. David Beaver 66.

On the other side of the hall ten-and-one-half tables settled down in Section B. Martha Joslin continued her winning ways North-South playing with John Reardon, who also directed the movement. East-West Richard Tietsch and Guy Bridga had a great game to win.

Dangers Exist For Children On Halloween

"Take it easy when driving on Halloween—children at play may not be seen," Registrar Richard E. McLaughlin said recently.

Mr. McLaughlin also asked parents to cooperate in protecting their youngsters as they revel in make-believe on All Saints Eve. "Don't let the make-believe horrors of Halloween become all too real," he said.

"Danger exists where there are piles of leaves—or parked cars. "Danger exists in dark costumes which cannot be seen—or in tiny masks which obscure children's vision.

"Danger exists on all city streets and roadways—or wherever children may be playing.

"Danger exists in dirty windshields—and dirty headlights.

"Danger exists in twilight hours—and in hours of darkness.

"Danger exists when young children are not supervised—or allowed to cross streets alone.

"Danger exists in unreasonable speeds—and on wet roads.

"Will these dangers harm you or a small child this Halloween?" Mr. McLaughlin asked.

Area Wheaton Group To Meet On Wednesday

The Winchester - Lexington Wheaton Group will meet at the home of Mrs. Earle M. Neyman, 103 Outlook Drive, Lexington on Wednesday, November 5, at 1 p.m.

Following dessert and coffee, the new Dean of Students at Wheaton, Miss Margaret MacLaren, will address the group. She will discuss life at Wheaton, the new morality, men on campus and changes in the administration and curriculum of the college. Miss MacLaren, a graduate of Swarthmore, was formerly the assistant Dean of Students at Swarthmore.

The mothers of the nine Winchester girls at Wheaton now are invited to attend this meeting. The students are Ruth Barlow, Martha Broadhurst, Ann-Marie Capodilupo, Candice Nelson, Margaret Sexton, Julia Shiang, Shelly Swanson, Barbara H. Van Valey and Susan Wilson.

The Chairman of the Wheaton Group, Mrs. Robert C. Meisel of 34 Leslie Road will conduct this meeting.

Handicapped Recognition Award Given

Edward A. Husson, an employee of Hylelectronics, Inc. of Wilmington, has been selected by the eight community Handicapped Recognition Committee for his outstanding achievements in adjusting to his handicap as it applies to his profession. Winchester is one of the eight communities from which the selection was made.

Confined to a wheelchair since 1956, the 27-year-old Husson has been working at Hylelectronics since last March and has been singled out by his production supervisor, Robert Eekberg, for his "tremendous attitude, performance and attendance record."

His wife, Margaret A., is also a paraplegic and works as a secretary with the Massachusetts Rehabilitation Center in Danvers. They met while attending Hospital School in Canton and were married in 1966.

Although making tremendous progress in his field as a microwave technician, Mr. Husson is striving for further growth with Hylelectronics and to this end enrolled in a three-year electronics course at Lawrence Vocational School this past September.

Because Mr. Husson has no use of his legs, he has been forced to adjust two of his family vehicles so they can be operated by hand controls. "They have garages that do it, but it's awfully expensive so I converted my wife's car and my own," he explains.

His talents do not stop there. Some of his fellow workers became involved in a bowling league comprised of companies in the Wilmington area and asked Bob if he wanted to try it. With his typical enthusiasm, he took up the challenge and has been bowling weekly with the team ever since.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Husson of Lawrence, he lived for several years in North Reading and recently moved to Methuen.

For his outstanding attitude and accomplishment, the Handicapped Recognition Committee honored him at a banquet held at St. Anthony's Club in Woburn on Tuesday, October 21.

Morgan Memorial Holds Knitting Contest For Men

Morgan Memorial needs 4,000 pairs of warm woolen socks for nursing home patients who have outlived relatives and friends.

The bed socks will be one of a dozen gifts in a giant-size Christmas stocking being sent to nearly 100 nursing homes.

This will be the 11th year the Morgan Memorial Auxiliary has sponsored this unique nursing home project.

Mrs. Byron E. Churchill of Waverly, announced that Morgan Memorial is sponsoring a knitting contest for men in Massachusetts in connection with this project.

Some Widows Eligible For V.A. Pensions

Veteran's widows are reminded that if they have limited incomes they may be eligible for a Veterans Administration pension.

Under current law, qualified widows whose husbands were war-time veterans who died of causes not related to their service are eligible if their income is no more than $2,000, if they have no children and no more than $3,200 if they do.

If a widow does not qualify for a pension because of a higher income or because she remarries, her children may still be eligible to receive pensions.

Pensions are based on need, the VA explains. Compensation is paid to the survivors of veterans who die of service-connected causes, and the income of the survivor has no bearing on eligibility or the amount paid.

Miss Clark To Present Recital

A Senior Organ Recital will be presented by Miss Gayle Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene S. Clark of 32 Everett Avenue, on the Casavant organ at St. Andrew's Church, Wellesley at 4 p.m.

Miss Clark, a 1966 graduate of Winchester High School, is a former student of Miss Yuko Hayashi of the New England Conservatory of Music, has worked with Arthur Polster and currently studies organ with Fenner Douglass and harpsichord with David Roe, both of the Oberlin Conservatory of Music, Oberlin, Ohio.

This recital is her final requirement for graduation. Miss Clark expects to complete her Oberlin studies in December, 1969.

Works by Guilain, Buxtehude, Caryl Brons and Bach will be performed. The public is cordially invited to attend.

To Hold Concert On November 17

The music staff of the Winchester public schools will sponsor a concert on Monday, November 17 in Wyman School auditorium.

The concert will feature faculty members in solo and ensemble selections and will include performances by students in the schools as well. The concert will begin at 8 p.m. and is open to the public. No admission will be charged.

Kiwanis Schedules Speech And Hearing Clinics

ANNUAL KIWANIS DIAGNOSTIC SPEECH and Hearing Clinics will be held in order to test all pre-school and kindergarten children during the week of November 3 through 7. Mrs. Sally Fishman, speech therapist for Winchester Public Schools, left, shows Angelique Dermatis the procedure, while Visiting Nurse Martha Heigham explains hearing test equipment to Gregory Sarmanian. Both children are kindergarten students at Wyman School. Clinics will be held at different schools. (Lois Carr photo.)

Clinic Planned By Kiwanis

Speech and Hearing Diagnostic Clinics for four and five year old pre-school and kindergarten children will be held during the week of November 3 through November 7.

There will be tests given to screen children for speech and hearing defects at the following schools:

Wyman School, Monday, November 3, 1 to 3:30 p.m.; Muraco School, Tuesday, November 4, 1 to 3:30 p.m.; Parkhurst School, Wednesday, November 5, 1 to 3:30 p.m.; Washington School, Thursday, November 6, 1 to 3:30 p.m.; Mystic School, Friday, November 7, 1 to 3:30 p.m.

Parents are instructed to bring the four or five year old pre-school children to the school nearest them.

The Speech and Hearing Diagnostic Clinics are sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Winchester and are provided free in cooperation with the Winchester Public Schools and the Winchester Visiting Nurse Association.

Ben Brunnell of 26 Grayson Road is serving this area as chairman for the state-wide petition drive for civil service reform now being conducted by the Massachusetts Jaycees.

Maureen Kivney
Has Undertaken
Urban Semester

Miss Maureen Kivney of 371 Highland Avenue, a Wilson College, Chambersburg, Pennsylvania, student, is among 37 undergraduate students who are enrolled in the University of Southern California's Urban Semester.

A senior, Miss Kivney is on leave for the first semester and will return to Wilson for completion of her work on a bachelor of arts degree. She has been a member of Wilson's sailing teams which earned national honors in intercollegiate competition, and last year earned a place on the dean's list for academic achievement.

Described by USC as "a revolutionary approach to our study of urban complexities," the Urban Semester combines a number of academic fields into an integrated program that forsakes the traditional classroom-lecture format of education. Its objective is to give students an understanding of the urban system and how sub-systems within the total fabric of the city interact with one another.

A similar Urban Semester program is now under consideration by the Central Pennsylvania Consortium involving Wilson, Dickinson, Gettysburg and Franklin and Marshall Colleges.

Stoneham Zoo Named For Past
Zoo Director

A ceremony marking the naming of the Middlesex Fells Zoo at Stoneham in memory of Walter D. Stone, former Metropolitan District Commission zoo director, will be held on Saturday, November 1 at 10 a.m.

Governor Francis W. Sargent has been invited to head a gathering of Federal, State and Stoneham officials, former associates, relatives and friends who will attend the event to be held at the entrance to the zoo at Pond Street, Stoneham, where a bronze plaque will be unveiled.

M.D.C. Commissioner Howard Whitmore Jr. said the facility has been designated the Walter D. Stone Memorial Zoo by the Massachusetts Legislature.

The memorial was provided under legislation filed by Senate President Maurice A. Donahue and Representative William G. Robinson of Melrose.

Mr. Stone, who died last year in an automobile accident, served as director and curator of the M.D.C. zoos from 1959 until his death, during which time the Middlesex Fells Zoo was reconstructed and modernized. He was former president of the American Association of Zoological Parks and Aquariums.

Dedication speakers will include Governor Francis W. Sargent, Senate President Maurice A. Donahue, Richard Kleber, Director of the Worcester Science Center, who will deliver the eulogy and Rev. Joseph Connolly, Saint Patrick's Church, Stoneham.

Also expected to attend the ceremony are officials of other zoos, veteran's organizations, classmates of the Stone children and the choir from Saint Patrick's Church, Stoneham.

The plaque will be unveiled by Mrs. Walter D. Stone and children—Brian, 16; Faith, 14; Daniel, 13; Martha, 12; William, 11; Robert, 10; David, 9; Lisa, 7 and Judith, 6.

Social Security Mother's Record Affects Benefits

If a mother worked long enough to receive a monthly benefit under social security, or have a lump sum death payment made on her record, her children may now be eligible for monthly benefits, according to John E. Loneragan, district manager in the Cambridge area.

This applies to children under age 18, full time students under age 22, and severely disabled children at any age. In the case of disabled children, the child's disability must have begun and existed continuously since before age 18.

The mother's work under social security could have been at any time since 1936 when social security began. It does not matter if her work was before or after she married. The children are considered dependent on their mother's record as well as on their father's social security record.

Students Interview Scuba Diver

Noonan Students Interview Diver

Noonan School third graders interviewed and photographed Randolph Lambert, a native Bermudian, who is a scuba diver. An interview and picture are to be used in the third grade's newspaper, the Noonan News.

In conjunction with a language arts lesson in the Weekly Reader on "Lost Treasure," Miss Dianne Celia, teacher, invited Mr. Lambert to bring the equipment and pictures of scenes under water. The children were told about fossils, fish and treasures that can be found under the sea. One student, Ricky Boland tried on the child sized scuba outfit Mr. Lambert brought.

Mr. Lambert is employed as a chemist at the Polaroid Corporation, and his picture was snapped by the third graders who were told they could bring their cameras to "cover the story" for the newspaper. The picture here was taken by third grade student Karen Ryerson, who has a well-known photographer father, William Ryerson.

Music Club Features Soloists

The largest audience in a five-year history was present to hear the Winchester Music Club's opening program on Sunday evening, October 26, which was held at the home of Deborah Termeulen, 20 Foxcroft Road.

Jean Reynolds, mistress of ceremonies, introduced more than a dozen soloists, including violinist Amy Radford, clarinetist Peter Reynolds and pianists Laurie Lee Downs, Thomas Stevens, Mary Kathryn Boyle, Irene Apostolou, Lisa Fitzgerald and Karen Mentzoni. Miss Reynolds also played the piano, Andrew Shannon the trumpet, and James Page and David Demsey played saxophone.

Under the direction of Doris Thomas, the audience took part in the performance of Leopold Mozart's "Toy Symphony." To acquaint the young musicians with opportunities in the area, procedures for auditioning for the Greater Boston Youth Symphony and the Arlington Symphony were explained.

Coordinating the program was teacher Marguerite Webb. Other teachers represented by soloists were Ruth Hayden, Doris Thomas, Edmund Mitchell Jr., John Willis Jr. and Fred Murray.

The next program planned for Sunday, December 7 is under the directorship of Ruth Hayden.

Weavers' Guild Sponsors Sale And Exhibit

The Weavers' Guild of Boston will open its annual exhibit, demonstration and sale of handwoven articles November 6 and 7 at 18 North Gateway, home of the Sales Chairman, Mrs. William L. Glowacki. Hours will be 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Thursday and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday.

All items offered for sale have been handwoven by Guild members and range from pinecones to rugs. There will be guest towels, table linens, neckties, Christmas decorations and many other items. Other Winchester women taking part include Mrs. Claude E. Shannon, secretary, and Mrs. George A. McFadden.

This organization is now in its 46th year, and has grown from about a dozen members to just over 400, and grows faster every year. Most of the members live in the Boston area. However, there are some in Canada, Europe, and New Zealand, as well as in 20 states, including Alaska.

In addition to regular monthly lecture meetings, the Guild sponsors workshops on such subjects as rug techniques, tapestry weaving, lace weaves, etc. Members may also work for "ratings," like those of the medieval craft guilds, and take tests to qualify them from apprentice to Master Craftsman.

After its two days in Winchester, the exhibit and sale moves on to 310 Farm Lane, Westwood, for the following Thursday and Friday, with hours the same as in Winchester.

College Club Literature Group Plans Meeting

The College Club Literature Group will hold its monthly meeting on November 7 at the home of Mrs. Jean Weyland, of 18 Madison Avenue.

The group will discuss Norman Mailer's "The Naked and the Dead," comparing Mailer as a novelist and political journalist.

Anyone interested in attending the meeting is welcome. For information, contact Mrs. Gail O'Leary, 729-1415.

United Fund Is Working Toward Goal

Winchester's United Fund chairman, James P. O'Halloran, reports that 20 per cent of the $37,000 goal has been collected to date.

Extra volunteers are now needed and anyone who is willing to work is asked to call Ross Farrar at 729-3924, or James P. O'Halloran at 729-5148.

Dollars invested in the United Fund can make a community a better place to live. Some of the services available to Winchester residents are the Winchester Hospital, Red Cross Chapter, Visiting Nurses Association, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, YMCA and the Salvation Army.

Garret May Host Great Pumpkin Halloween Night

Disguise yourself as a folk singer and come and play at the Garret Coffeehouse "open hoot" on Halloween night. The management of the coffeehouse hopes that many shy performers will abandon their friends with their talent. Besides hot spiced cider and the other usual refreshments there will be many "treats" for the occasion. Although it cannot be guaranteed that the Great Pumpkin will actually be able to make it, the management hopes that everyone else will.

On Saturday evening, the Garret welcomes back Paul Orsillo. Paul, a student at Winchester High School, not only performs frequently at the Garret, but is there every week-end in his capacity as the coffeehouse's co-manager.

The entire month of November is filled with performers from both Winchester and the Greater Boston area. Besides folk music, there is a possibility of one or two movies. Anyone interested in producing skits, reading their poetry or anything in this vein, is urged to call either Bob Ross or Paul Orsillo. The coming events of the Garret will be listed in the Star each week.

For those who are still unacquainted with the Garret, it is located in the Church of the Epiphany on Church Street. It is open every Friday and Saturday evening from 7:30 until 11:00 p.m.

Master Charge Now Includes Color Photograph

The Winchester National Bank is issuing a new type of Master Charge Card.

On the face of it, the new card looks exactly like the usual gold, orange, white and black Master Charge card with the bank's name and Master Charge logo and below that in embossed type, the card's expiration date, account number and cardholder's name.

But turn the card over and there's a new dimension to credit cards.

The back of the Master Charge Card is a highly tamper-resistant identification card that includes a full-color photograph of the cardholder, as well as his name, signature and special validating seal or signature.

This special ID card, including printed data is actually a picture made in the unique Polaroid's ID-2 Land identification System, and is produced within two minutes after the cardholder poses in front of the camera.

According to Mr. William D. Sullivan, president, the Winchester National Bank decided to adopt the photo card to protect the customer against fraudulent misuse of lost or stolen Master Charge Cards.

The Polaroid System was chosen because of the numerous advantages the instant ID card provides over any other type of photo document, according to Mr. Sullivan.

In the first place, the photo card will help overcome the reluctance of many people to carry a credit card for fear of losing it, since the only person who can use the card is the one whose photo appears on the back, Mr. Sullivan reported.

In addition, merchants now have a positive means of identifying the customer who offers the card for payment. Comparing the photo to the "live" face is much easier than trying to match signatures.

The Polaroid ID card is one of the most secure identification documents in use today, according to Mr. Sullivan.

To receive his portrait Master Charge Card, the customer comes into the bank and signs the special data card which contains his personal information. This card is then inserted in the back of the ID-2 camera.

Then the person poses in front, and in one exposure, the camera records the information from the card and the subject portrait onto a single sheet of Polaroid 3 1/4 x 4 1/4 Land film.

After the 60-second development, the operator peels the exposed Polaroid print, containing two complete ID cards, from its packet.

Since he sees the picture right away, the operator can take another immediately if the first one is unusable because the subject blinked or looked away from the camera. There is no expensive and annoying recall of the customer to be rephotographed at a later date.

After development, the ID print is laminated, trimmed to wallet size and heat sealed to the back of the Master Charge Card.

The entire process takes just two minutes—from posing in front of the camera to receiving the finished, full-color photo ID card.

The finished credit card—complete with embossed information and photo ID card—is mailed to the customer within a few days after he is photographed.

Garden Club Holds Season's First Meeting

The Winchester Garden Club held its first meeting of the season on Thursday, October 23 with dessert and coffee at the home of Mrs. Maurice S. Freeman, 11 Lorena Road.

Mrs. Philip Wadsworth, president, conducted the business meeting. Members thanked Mrs. Edward French and Mrs. Herman Pike for a delicious luncheon at their York Harbor homes last month after a tour of Strawberry Bank, Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

Mrs. Alexander Aiken, chairman of Anti-Litter and Civic Beautification, reported on "Anti-Litter Week," which was held the week of June 7th in conjunction with the Winchester Home and Garden Club, public schools, the Jaycees, the Highway, Public Health and Park Departments, the Board of Selectmen and other organizations.

Mrs. Aiken also reported that the patio at the Continuing Care Unit of Winchester Hospital was enjoyed by patients. Snapshots of the plantings and furniture which were made possible with the help of the Garden Clubs in town were also shown.

Miss Corinne Meade, Chairman of Conservation, urged members to attend the Fall Conservation Conference of the Club Federation to be held Thursday, November 6 at the Trinitarian Congregational Church, Cohasset Road, Wayland. It will present discussions of the many environmental issues of the day.

The program of the day included a tour of the Freeman's greenhouse.

Meeting Held By Christian Science Church
Relationship to community was the theme of a one-day conference on Saturday, October 25, at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, at which Mrs. Elizabeth C. Herberich of 17 Sheffield West, Assistant Committee for Winchester, gave a talk.

The conference was attended by Assistant Committees on Publication in Massachusetts, whose work is to represent the Church in relations with the press and government community agencies. Approximately 110 Assistant Committees attended. They work under the direction of Dr. J. Burroughs Stokes, Committee on Publication for Massachusetts, and Manager of Committees on Publication at the Mother Church.

Dr. Stokes presented a color slide program made by the Committee on Publication at several locations in the South End of Boston, where volunteers from the city and suburbs work with Low-Cost Housing Corporation to repair and remodel sub-standard dwellings.

Hoyt - Panosian

Miss Norma Jean Panosian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Panosian of 36 Kenwin Road, became the bride of Carlton D. Hoyt of Reading, son of Mrs. Dorothy Hoyt of West Palm Beach, Florida, and Willard D. Hoyt of Medford, in a 1 o'clock ceremony held recently at St. Mary's Church.

Officiating at the service in which the bride was given in marriage by her father was Father George Morgan. A reception followed at the Winchester Lodge of Elks.

Among the wedding party were the maid of honor Miss Barbara Ann Panosian of Winchester, sister of the bride, and bridesmaids Mrs. William (Patricia) Beal of Plainville, and Miss Ellen Donovan of Winchester.

Best man was Douglas Hoyt of Reading, brother of the bridegroom. Sharing the duties of ushers were William Beal of Plainville and David March of Stoneham.

Serving as guest book attendant was Miss Kathleen Murgia of Arlington.

A 1965 graduate of Winchester High School, the bride received her degree from Salem State College in 1969.

Also a Winchester High School graduate, class of 1963, Mr. Hoyt was graduated from Wentworth Institute in 1969. He is presently employed at the Lincoln Laboratory of M.I.T.

Following a wedding trip to Canada, the couple are residing in Reading.

VA May Assume Partial Veteran's Burial Expenses

Up to $250 for the burial expenses of an eligible deceased veteran will be paid by the Veterans Administration whether the interment is in a national cemetery or a private burial place.

The VA said recently that the allowance is payable in the case of wartime veterans, including those who have served after August 4, 1964, but he added that peacetime as well as wartime veterans are eligible for burial in any national cemetery that has available space. The only requirement is that their last period of active duty must have ended with an honorable discharge.

Administered by the Department of the Army, the benefits include grave site and actual interment in the national cemetery including opening, closing and marking the grave.

The Army also furnishes a headstone or grave marker for deceased veterans buried in unmarked private plots.

Information and assistance on filing for these Army-administered benefits will be furnished by any VA office.

Claims for the burial allowance may be filed with the VA within two years after the veteran's burial or cremation.

The claim may be filed by the undertaker, if he has not been paid, or by the party who paid the undertaker.

Mooney-Paine

Against a background of autumn chrysanthemums, Miss Carolyn Leslie Paine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Paine Sr. of 5 Brantwood Road, was married to Thomas J. Mooney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Mooney Sr. of 107 Sylvester Avenue, in a 4:30 p.m. ceremony held on Sunday, October 12 in the Immaculate Conception Church.

MRS. THOMAS J. MOONEY
The Rev. Herbert Driscoll presided over the service which was followed by a reception at the Woburn Country Club.

Escorted by her father, the bride appeared in a white crepe A-line gown with a satin bow in back and streamers to the floor. A satin Dior bow held her veil in place. She carried white chrysanthemums and white roses tied with a satin bow. Matron of honor, Mrs. Robert S. Paine Jr. of Winchester, sister-in-law of the bride, wore emerald green crepe with pink and green striped ribbon tied in an empire fashion. Her headpiece was a pink and green Dior bow.

Attired as the matron of honor were the bridesmaids Mrs. Richard Casalino, cousin of the bride, Mrs. Jane Lane and Miss Jane Abbott, all of Winchester, and Mrs. James O'Reilly of Chelmsford, sister of the bridegroom.

Having the honor of best man was Francis Mooney of Woburn, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Robert S. Paine, brother of the bride, John Lane and David Mullen, all of Winchester, and John Mooney of Burlington, brother of the bridegroom.

Miss Martha Kinton of Winchester acted as guest book attendant. Mrs. Paine wore a beige brocade coat and dress ensemble with emerald green accessories. The mother of the bridegroom chose a rose brocade ensemble with rose accessories.

A graduate of Winchester High School and Chamberlayne Junior College, Mrs. Mooney is now employed as a secretary at Jordan Marsh Company, Boston.

Mr. Mooney was graduated from Winchester High School and Newnan Preparatory Academy. He presently works for the Winchester Post Office.

After a wedding trip to Canada, the couple are making their home in Woburn.

Miss Fontneau To Marry Mr. Thompson

Dr. and Mrs. Nelson C. Fontneau of Tufts University, Medford, formerly of Winchester, announce the engagement of their daughter, Suzanne Jane, to William Arthur Thompson, H.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Thompson of 54 Water Street.

MISS SUSAN J. FONTNEAU

Miss Fontneau, a 1966 graduate of Winchester High School, is a senior at Jackson College and expects to receive her degree in June, 1970. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Nelson C. Fontneau, the late Mr. Fontneau and the late Dr. and Mrs. John R. Marshall.

Mr. Thompson, also a 1966 graduate of Winchester High School, is presently stationed at Newport Naval Hospital, Newport Rhode Island. He is the grandson of Mrs. Jesse C. Allen and the late Mr. Allen. Mrs. Hortense Thompson and Clarence Thompson.

A November 15 wedding is planned.

Parish Players' Fall Production Seen As Relevant

In view of the recent activities of October 15, Peace Action Day, it seems appropriate to point out the relevancy of Jean Giraudoux's "Tiger at the Gates," the fall production of the Parish Players.

This play contains elements of humor, crisis, irreverence, sophistication, bawdiness and subtlety. The cast chose to work on "Tiger at the Gates" not only because it was fun and challenging in its demands on them as actors and actresses, but also because the subject was relevant.

Beyond its humor, "Tiger at the Gates" is an anti-war play. It is Jean Giraudoux's condemnation of the absurdities which cause men to go to war. In this case, the rationale is Greece's loss of face resulting from Helen's abduction to Troy and the Trojans' need to defend their honor. That need to give the soldiers something to write about, give the women something to cry about.

The analogies to the present need not be drawn. November 6, 7, and 8 at Childley Hall, First Congregational Church may be the scene of an important and provocative, as well as entertaining effort in community theatre.

Telephone Mrs. Michael Barrett for ticket information (729-8078).

Miss Manoojian Engaged To Mr. Banks

Mr. and Mrs. Archie V. Manoojian of 16 Johnson Road announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth, to Roger Allen Banks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank O. Banks of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

MISS ELIZABETH MANOOJIAN

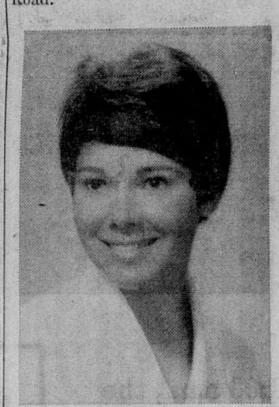

Miss Manoojian was graduated from Winchester High School with the class of 1966, attended Boston University and is in her senior year at the Oberlin College Conservatory of Music, Oberlin, Ohio, where she is a performance major in organ.

Her fiancé attended the University of Kansas and was graduated from Oklahoma City University with a bachelor of arts degree in piano. He is presently employed by the Reuter Organ Company, Lawrence, Kansas, as a voicer and tonal finisher.

A December wedding is planned.

Miss Richardson, Mr. Rigney To Wed

Dr. and Mrs. Edward C. Richardson Jr. of 29 Cranston Road announce the engagement of their daughter, Christine, to Lieutenant Raymond I. Rigney of 8 Stowell Road.

MISS CHRISTINE RICHARDSON

Miss Richardson is a member of the Winchester High School class of 1966 and was graduated from the Shepard Gill School of Nursing in 1968.

A graduate of Winchester High School in 1965, her fiancé received his degree from the University of Massachusetts in 1969 where he was a member of Phi Mu Delta fraternity. He is presently a procurement officer with the U.S. Air Force, stationed at Whitman Air Force Base, Missouri.

A wedding date has not yet been set.

Local Alumni Are Speakers At Wentworth

Two Winchester residents spoke at the annual Career Day program on Tuesday, October 28, at Wentworth Institute in Boston.

More than 50 alumni will return to the institute to relate experiences to the first year students for successful careers as industrial and engineering technicians.

Eric Benson of 59 Johnson Road will speak to first year Mechanical Power Engineering Technology students concerning Industrial Opportunities for Technicians. Mr. Benson is a 1957 MPE graduate and is Project Engineer for Polaroid Company in Cambridge.

Ernest Siegfried of 80 Woodside Road will speak to first year Production Engineering Technology students concerning opportunities for the PET graduate in Plant Management. Mr. Siegfried is a 1957 PET graduate and is Plant Superintendent for United Carr Fastener Company in Newton.

DISCUSSING CO-EDUCATIONAL CLASSES to be instituted at Beaver Country Day School, Chestnut Hill, beginning with the 1970-1971 school year, are Donald R. Nickerson, headmaster (left), and Miss Kathie-Lee Wilcox of Winchester, president of Junior School Government. Beaver Country Day School is the first private girls' secondary school in New England to change to a co-educational program without merging.

Fashion Revue Held By Crawford Memorial Church

A fashion review, "Cavalcade of Cottons" was sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Crawford Memorial United Methodist Church on Thursday, October 9.

The collection of all-occasion cottons featured new fabrics and patterns generally available in local department stores. The wardrobe was provided through a loan service offered by the National Cotton Council and McCall's Patterns.

Accessories for the outfits were furnished by Enrico's Fashions. Eleanor Collins and Linda Eschner modeled 11 fashions from this new shop.

The program was directed by Mrs. Richard Kadesch, with Mrs. Donald Eschner serving as commentator. A piano accompaniment was supplied by Mrs. Frank Herick. Mrs. Royal Morse Jr., Mrs. William Owens and Mrs. Donald Wilkins were in charge of dessert. Helping the models dress were Mrs. Richard Kramer and Mrs. William Leighton.

Dr. Klemer Was Speaker At Wellesley

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Donald A. Klemer and Stoneham Superintendent of Schools Dr. Michael Searpinto spoke at Wellesley College on Tuesday, October 28. Their audience was Wellesley students who are preparing to become teachers.

The two educators discussed current issues in education with the future teaching candidates and answered questions about their planned careers.

Secondary Schools Released Time November 4

Secondary School students in Winchester Public Schools will be released at noon on Tuesday, November 4 to permit teachers to attend meetings with the directors of each department.

The meetings will take place in the senior high school and will be concerned with preparation of curriculum and organization for secondary schools.

Also discussed will be the strategy for training of personnel during the summer.

Area Youth Join Boston Orchestras

The Greater Boston Youth Symphony Orchestras are now well along in their rehearsals for their 11th year of concerts. Winchester High School seniors Noel Webb and Craig Knopf are members of the Orchestra. Kathy Levinson, a ninth grader at Lynch Junior High, and Scott Knopf, a sophomore at Winchester High School, have joined the Junior Orchestra this year.

The senior orchestra, consisting of 112 high school students from three states and 75 communities is back at work in Boston University's concert hall every Saturday morning, with many stories to tell of their two weeks in Europe.

The Orchestra under the leadership of Professor Walter Eisenberg of Boston University Faculty played to standing ovations at the First International Festival of Youth Orchestras in St. Moritz, and the ancient Frau Munster Cathedral in Zurich. From this tour has come invitations for concerts in Israel, Czechoslovakia and other countries.

The Junior Orchestra with its 115 players from junior and senior high schools throughout the area is under the direction of Robert Corley, Director of Music in the Western Public Schools. In addition to playing concerts of their own in local communities, they will join with the senior orchestra for a joint program at Symphony Hall, April 19, 1970.

This year the Orchestras are expanding their activities: in the afternoon a chamber music program has been incorporated using the musicians of both organizations. Two chamber orchestras, numerous string quartets, brass and woodwind ensembles, and even a percussion ensemble rehearse from 1 to 3 p.m.

The Orchestra will hold an Open Rehearsal at Boston University's George Sherman Union on December 7. Also scheduled is a full day of activities for alumni of the orchestra on December 27. In addition to the Symphony Hall Concert on April 19, a schedule of community concerts is being completed for the 1970 season.

In August, the Orchestra will return to West Poland, Maine, for a concentrated workshop, combining sports and recreation with a full musical schedule.

For further information on the GBSO, contact the GBSO office, 855 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston or phone 353-3348.

Having completed a week of orientation, two Winchester students are now undertaking studies at St. Anselm's College, Manchester, New Hampshire. They are Miss Linda Anne Hurley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Hurley of 10 Hawthorne Road, nursing, and Charles Polcari Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Polcari of 4 Ginn Road, history.

High School Presents "Explo II"

THE NAVY was among several career opportunities presented at the recent School-Career Explo II held at the Winchester High School. (Kevin Haggerty photo)

High School Career Night Is Held

Hundreds of teenagers attended "School Career Explo II" at Winchester High on October 22. They came from Winchester and six nearby towns, through damp and cold weather to see 18 career exhibits and talk with representatives of 49 colleges.

The evening began in the auditorium with introductory remarks by Eugene Prior, high school guidance director; Vito Giarrizzo, president of the PFA Board; and Dr. Howard Niblock, principal of the High School.

Equipped with floor plans of the school and the exhibits, the students then scattered to discuss their educational hopes with college representatives and their plans with advocates of a number of possible careers, including the Peace Corps, nursing, education, the Armed Services and engineering.

A tireless computer rattled off suggestions for specific colleges based on each individual's educational goals, geographical prejudices, and interest in the opposite sex.

Members of the Student Council served as guides, directing the students, and many parents, to the various representatives and exhibits. As judged by the amount of literature distributed, most of the students seemed intent on getting the widest possible survey of their alternatives.

At the end of the evening, the participants were asked to fill out a questionnaire which will be used by the Guidance Department in planning next year's introduction to the world outside, Explo III.

Serving on the Luncheon Committee for the Lesley College Alumnae Association are Mrs. Arthur F. Sullivan, Miss Mary Cullen and Mrs. Arthur J. Connell. The event will be held on Saturday, at the Aquarium Restaurant, Boston followed by a tour of the New England Aquarium. Proceeds will benefit the Alumnae Scholarship Fund. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Lester Delaney, 965 Hammond Street, Chestnut Hill.

Dessert Bridge Is Held

On Thursday, November 6 in Chidley Hall, the First Congregational Church at 1 p.m., the Women's Association will sponsor a gourmet dessert bridge. This is a special event connected with the annual fair.

For reservations please call Mrs. Paul Atwood at 729-3775 or Mrs. William Donald at 729-4448.

Girls' Hockey Downs Belmont

Last week the WHS girls field hockey team played two games, a home game with Belmont on Tuesday and an away game with Lincoln-Sudbury on Friday.

Going into their fourth game undefeated, the Sachemettes played a fast-moving game against Belmont. Much of the play was dominated by long passes and a stubborn Winchester defense. Midway through the first half, play was temporarily halted, due to an injury to the Belmont goalie. During a WHS forward line rush in the circle, the ball lifted and hit her in the side of the face.

When play resumed, Eileen McKenna sparked the team by scoring twice, and the half ended, Winchester 2, Belmont 0. Early in the second half, Belmont's C. Ehinger scored a hard, clean shot past goalie Terry Monahan.

To assure a Winchester victory, Eileen McKenna, having a fantastic day, scored her third goal to make the score 3-1.

J.V. also won 2-0 on goals by Leslie Johnson and Sarah Bates.

Friday's game with Lincoln-Sudbury was a fine exhibition of skillful hockey. Both teams were evenly matched. Winchester's forwards found Lincoln-Sudbury's defense sharp and were unable to make shots in the circle.

It was a scoreless tie at the end of the first half. The second half proved the same. Good defense on both teams stopped the fine attacks from the forwards. Lincoln-Sudbury got its chance however late in the second half when the left inner had an open shot at the goal. The ball lifted, sailing completely over the goal.

The varsity were unable to score after that and the game finished in a 0-0 tie. J.V.'s were unsuccessful, too, tying 0-0.

Pop Warner 100's Defeat Wakefield

The Winchester Pop Warner 100's returned to league competition with an easy 38-0 victory over Wakefield on Sunday at Shore Road Field.

Winchester received the opening kick-off and Doug Marr returned to mid-field, then swept left end for 18 yards and a first down. Dick Errico backed for five, Pete Frongillo passed to a wide open Jimmy Beaton and Jimmy coasted in with only two minutes gone in the period.

Wakefield was unable to move, and punted. Chuckie Hayford took a first down hand off, cracked over right tackle, broke to the sideline and scored from 45 yards out.

Finding the locals line too tough, Wakefield took to the air, and in quick succession Doug Marr and then Lex Lauletta intercepted and carried over for two more TD's. Lauletta later hauled in a second interception.

The fifth TD was set up by a Frongillo to Hayford aerial to the four yard line. Doug Marr dived in from that point. Almost before the dust had settled, Hayford took a short punt on the dead run and blazed by the startled Redmen for the final score.

John Harrington was outstanding at defensive end, while Lane Lauletta led in tackles. Kirby Standard came back from the sick list to play a strong game at guard. Offensively, Pete Frongillo continued his excellent ball handling and passing. Pete's accuracy keeps enemy defenses very loose for several fast, hard running backs, led by the long-striding Hayford and the nimble Jimmy Beaton.

This coming Sunday will see Saugus visiting Shore Road Field in the last home double header of the season. The B Teams will lead off at 1 p.m.

Wee Sachems Lose To Wakefield

The Wee Sachem 115 pound football team had their four game winning streak ended by an aggressive and well drilled Wakefield team Sunday at Shore Road Field.

Wakefield took the opening kick-off and drove to the Winchester 20 yard line before being stopped. On the first play from scrimmage Winchester fumbled to Wakefield. Mike Heffernan got the ball back for Winchester with a pass interception.

The Wee Sachem offense went into action and with tough running by Rudy Fiore and a 10 yard pass from Andy Miga to Steve Waite marched 50 yards with Mike Heffernan diving in for the touchdown. The extra-point was missed and Winchester led 6-0.

Wakefield put together two long gains which placed them in Winchester's nine yard line with first down and goal to go. Jeff Christensen and Mike Heffernan, Winchester's two line backers, made the next four tackles to stop Wakefield on the five yard line.

Their efforts were of little avail for on the next offensive play Winchester fumbled to Wakefield and the opposition cashed in their windfall for a touchdown to tie the score 6-6.

Andy Miga returned the Wakefield kick-off 40 yards putting his team in excellent field position, but lightning struck again as Winchester fumbled to Wakefield for the third time. Mike Phillips ended a Wakefield drive with a pass interception, but once again Winchester gave the ball to Wakefield by means of a fumble.

An aggressive Winchester defense rose to the occasion and with tackles by Karl Mayer, Gary Beard, Dan Westwater, and Andy DeMars stopped Wakefield short of the goal line. The first half came to a close with the score deadlocked at 6-6.

Kickoff

Winchester received the second-half kick-off and moved the ball to the Wakefield 35 with runs by Rudy Fiore, Andy Miga, and Mike Heffernan. On fourth down Andy Samoiloff punted to the Wakefield four-yard-line.

An undaunted Wakefield team broke the next play off-tackle and raced 76 yards for a touchdown—the extra point was missed and Wakefield led 12-6.

After the kick-off Winchester's offense stalled and had to punt. The Wakefield offense was silenced by Brendon Riley who recovered a Wakefield fumble. The Wee Sachem stock again climbed as Fiore, Heffernan, and Miga, started on their own 20, drove steadily down field.

At the beginning of the fourth quarter Winchester's drive was still alive with first and ten on the Wakefield 21 yard-line. The "Big Three," Fiore, Heffernan, and Miga, hit for consistent gains until Heffernan catapulted into the end zone making the score 12-12.

Wakefield climaxed a nine play drive with a touchdown and an extra point leaving Winchester on the short end of a 19-12 score.

With the threat of time running out the Wee Sachems took to the air in an attempt to score quickly.

After three incomplete passes a fourth down Miga to Fiore pass was stopped for a short gain and Winchester's gamble had backfired with Wakefield taking over on the Winchester seven yard line. The elated Wakefield team scored on the next play and Winchester trailed 26-12 as game time expired.

The 115 pound Wee Sachems play Saugus next Sunday at 2:15 p.m. at Winchester's Shore Road Field.

Sachem Sophs Down Belmont For Fourth Win

The Winchester High sophomore football squad won its fourth straight game Thursday at Manchester Field, beating Belmont, 30-14.

Winchester got on the scoreboard on a 50 yard run by John Procopio. Bob Wolfe ran in for the two point conversion.

In the second period, Bob Wolfe was off on an end sweep and scored on a 40 yard run. John Procopio ran in for the two extra points. Kevin Riley caught a 10 yard pass from Tony Adams for a touchdown and Adams added the two point conversion.

Belmont got in the game on an eight yard pass play, but they failed to get the extra points and the Sachems had a halftime lead of 22-6.

Neither side scored in the third period but in the final quarter each team scored. Winchester's John Procopio ran 25 yards for a touchdown with the two point conversion failing. Belmont scored eight points on a long pass good for a 55 yard touchdown and Belmont's attempt for two extra points was good.

Gougars Lead In Pee Wee Soccer

As the Winchester Youth Soccer program enters the last few weeks of the season, the Central Gougars hold on to a slim lead in the hot Pee Wee division race.

The Gougars retained the lead by virtue of a 1-1 tie with the second place Washington Whips.

The Gougars scored first when a fine move by Pat Fortin took him in alone against the Whips goalie who had no chance to stop Pat's shot. The Whips tied the game with just minutes remaining on a long shot by John Waite which just caught the top of the net.

The Gougars and Whips are the only unbeaten teams in the division as the East Side Eagles were knocked from this category by the surging West Side Warriors 3-0. The Eagles held the edge in the first half but couldn't capitalize, even on a penalty shot.

The Warriors' dynamic duo of Normie Alpert and Allyn Stillman took charge in the second half with Allyn scoring twice and Normie once. This combined with the defensive work of Skip Sizemore, George Vago and Don Atwell was enough for the victory.

The Wedgemore Wildcats bounced back from last week's defeat to win a hard fought victory over the improving Northern Stars 4-3. The winners were paced by Frank Stiles and Jim Gebhard chipped in single tallies.

Stars goals were tallied by Matt McCroary, twice, and Frank Smedley.

Southern Sachems

The Southern Sachems evened their season's record at 2-2 by defeating the short-handed Midtown Mustangs 2-1.

The Mustangs, almost wiped out by illness and weekend trips, borrowed several players from other teams and fought gamely to upset the Sachems, but goals by John Driscoll and Mark Pistone sent their hopes crashing.

The division has several key games coming up this Saturday with six teams still in contention for the championship. The Warriors face the Whips for undisputed possession of second place while the Eagles try to climb back into a tie with the Gougars in a big match.

The Sachems and the Mustangs meet with the loser falling out of contention for first place while the winless Stars and Mustangs battle each other for their first taste of victory.

St. Mary's Soccer Loses Game To St. John's

St. Mary's C.Y.O. soccer team was bested again by league-leading St. John's of Dorchester 5-0 last Sunday at Leonard Field.

The St. Mary's game plan called for the use of an extra man in defense to stem the high scoring St. John's forward line. The first half was played according to this strategy with the St. Mary's defense of Ken Abbott, Pat Corf, Al Sampson, Elliott Miller, Ed Shiang, Glen DelGreco and Joe Bowen. This plan seemed to keep the St. John's offense at bay.

During the second half, the St. Mary's defense under constant pressure, lost its cohesion and St. John's cashed in four goals to win convincingly.

St. Mary's meets St. Raphael's of Medford next Sunday at Playstead Park in the final C.Y.O. game of the season.

Soccer Team Brings Record To 44-1

by John F. Parrell

The Sachem soccer team broke even in two games last week to bring its league record to 4-4-1. It opened with a stirring 4-3 victory over Stoneham, but was edged by Lexington's Minutemen 2-1 with the winning margin a pair of penalty kicks.

Winchester was keyed up for the Stoneham clash, as the early-season game with the Spartans turned out to be a 1-1 deadlock. The locals took control of the game at the outset and dominated the play throughout, although Stoneham was always a threat.

The first Winchester goal was tallied by Jim Beck on a nice breakaway as the first period was drawing to a close. A few minutes later Mark Grace headed a beautiful pass to Peter Dow who made the score 2-0.

The third period saw Mark Grace scoring himself, and the Sachems had a comfortable margin. Many of the Winchester reserves were inserted by Coach Bouley as the final period opened. Stoneham kept pressing the attack, and goalie Chris Pacetti was forced to make a spectacular save, only to have a long boot from a rebound get by him.

There was a heated discussion over possession of the ball, but the score stood, as the Spartans drew up to 3-2. The reserves, who had played well, were replaced by the varsity group, but the home team was keyed up and knotted the count on a breakaway just before regulation time ran out.

Two five-minute overtime periods were agreed upon to settle the issue, and Peter Dow put in a penalty kick to give the Sachems their fourth win of the campaign.

The highly efficient Lexington soccer forces, who have lost only one game all season, edged Winchester 2-1 last Friday. The home pitch of the Minutemen is mini-sized area just within minimum dimensions for a soccer field. As was the case last year the Bouleymen were forced to alter their style of play to a short passing game rather than their usual type of play.

Both teams scrapped hard for this one because, for the Sachems it meant almost certain elimination, and Lexington currently tied with Belmont for the top, could not

Adult Soccer For Winchester

During the last few weeks a senior soccer team (age 18 up) has been organized in Winchester. The nucleus of this team is supplied by Latin-American players who are employed by the Whitten Gelatin Company of Winchester.

In addition to this group are John Scott and Joe Bernardo, who are associated with the Winchester Youth Soccer program.

The first practice game was held last Sunday against a team from Haverhill. Other games are to be played against teams from Cambridge and the Minneapolis-Honeywell Company.

Any experienced soccer player interested in playing for the organized team should contact Herb Cabral at 729-5656 for details.

Interested soccer fans are invited to Leonard Field next Sunday at 2 p.m. to see the match with Cambridge.

Joe Bonasera Enters Action In Bowdoin Game

Joseph Bonasera, co-captain of last year's championship Sachem grid team, is able to play for the first time this season after a series of injuries which have kept him out of competition.

He entertained his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore J. Bonasera of 8 Sheridan Circle over the week end at the annual Bowdoin College parents' gathering. Joe expressed great interest in the Lou Goddu scholarship fund and felt sure that his teammates would be firmly behind it.

Playing in his first game he tallied two extra points as the Bowdoin frosh swamped North Yarmouth Academy by 38-12. During part of the game he appeared at tackle—quite a switch for an elusive and speedy running back.

Winchester Holds League Top By Handing Melrose 29-20 Loss

by John F. Parrell

Coach Manny Marshall's Sachem eleven played some convincingly good football Saturday afternoon at the Melrose High Athletic Field as they bested the Raiders by a score of 29-20. The game was jammed with action and was a complete team effort as the locals met the first real challenge of the season to their position atop the Middlesex League.

They repulsed it in true championship manner and gave Coach Marshall his third straight win over the forces of Melrose mentor Joe Hoague who has never scored a victory over the Marshall teams.

The 1969 Hoague-coached clan is a good, strong and fast football machine which is not quite so prolific in its scoring as its 1968 predecessor but still shows an average of 26 points per game. It has a line which is both big and aggressive and has been very stingy with opponents, scoring only 18 markers in four league games.

Big Game for Both

For the first time this year both Sachem co-captains, Mike Gilbert and Dave Scott were in the starting lineup. The latter has been bedeviled by sickness and injuries and his presence in the big game gave the rest of the team a decided lift.

The Sachems played a hard driving defensive game and on most plays the speedy Raiders were met not by one tackler but by two or three. The play was stopped by the left side of the line or the center of the line rather than by any one individual player.

Winchester survived a bad case of opening minute jitters, mistakes, and a Melrose touchdown to come roaring back and take the lead which they never relinquished. From the middle of the second period on, the Raiders faced the frustrating problem of knowing that defeat was inevitable unless they could score two touchdowns. They never quit, however, and rallied by playing good football in the last session but the Winchester team held their margin to the end.

Youth Hockey Plans Season

Applications for the Winchester Youth Hockey program are available at the following local merchants:

Winchester Sport Shop
McCormack's Apothecary
O'Neils Pharmacy

The season will commence on Sunday morning, November 23rd and continue to March 8, 1970.

Applicants must be a minimum of 8 years old and a maximum of 15 years old to be eligible and a resident of Winchester.

This program is taught in two sections as follows:

a. Fundamentals are taught for approximately four weeks. This includes skating drills. Boys are grouped by size, age and ability.

b. Supervised games are run for approximately 12 weeks. Officials will be supplied for all games and run in an official manner.

Coaches with hockey experience will be assigned to groups to conduct all drills and games.

Note: All applications must be in on or before Saturday, November 22, 1969. No applications will be accepted at the rink.

Applications will be accepted on a first come first served basis, with consideration given to those in the program last year.

For information call: Bill Cruwys, 729-1327.

WHSR Broadcast Of Reading Game

The High School Radio Station, WHSR-FM, 91.9 megacycles, will broadcast live the November 1 football game between Winchester and Reading.

Broadcasting will start at 1 p.m. Kick-off is at 1:30.

Jim Ulwick, the station sports director, has assembled a staff of knowledgeable sportscasters and commentators to keep the listeners informed on play-by-play action.

Station WHSR broadcasts on Wednesdays and Thursdays, from 3 to 6:30 p.m. Up-to-date news is provided by U.P.I. teletype relay through the courtesy of the Woburn Daily Times.

The station also covers all civic events including Town Meetings and student council discussions.

the ball took a couple of tricky bounces. Joe Campo reached for it and it bounced off him and rolled free. Dan Shay, the big Melrose right end, pounced on it and Winchester was in a deep hole after only two minutes of play.

The first play found Harris getting a couple of yards but then a pitchout to Skane was broken up by Mike Deshler for a loss of three. Dolan stopped Bird for a two yard advance and a fourth down aerial from Campbell to Harris was complete at the seven but it was short of a first down and Winchester had held.

Gilbert took the Sachems out of the hole with a 12 yard burst to the 19. Two plays gained only five and then a long pass to Campo was almost intercepted by Frank Marcoux who could not hold it. The punt which followed was off the side of the kicker's foot and Melrose had the ball at the Winchester 32.

Campbell ran into Fiorilli and lost three yards. Joe Bird made seven, and DePaolo added a couple before Bird was just short of a first down and the Sachems took the ball at their own 23. Courtney West made two and a long pass to Campo just missed. This brought up a punting situation and, just in last year's game, there was a poor pass which Gilbert retreated to get and then booted while running to get off the punt which DePaolo took on a fair catch at the Melrose 44.

Raiders Grab Lead

Skane picked up three, Harris five, and DePaolo made it first down at the Winchester 46. The first period ended at this point with the game still scoreless. DePaolo dug hard for seven yards and Barry Campbell made a first down before being grounded by Dolan. Bird picked up nine and was finally nailed by Pete Wardwell. Rich Harris made a first down by carrying to the 19. Skane picked up three and then on a pitchout Rich Harris covered the remaining 15 yards for the first score of the game. On the point try Campbell juggled the ball and Noel Webb was right there to break up the play as both players and the ball ended up on the ground.

It took Winchester exactly five plays after the kickoff to register its first touchdown as Mike Deshler tallied and Ben Dolan booted a perfect placement to give the Sachems the lead which they held for the rest of the game.

To tally Mike broke through the line, shook off three would be tacklers, dodged a couple of more and propelled himself over the goal.

With slightly over five minutes left, Tony DePaolo had his longest sprint of the day as he brought the kickoff out from the 20 to the 40. Milford Skane was his hard by Bill Wolfe for a loss of a yard. A pass dropped incomplete and Wolfe racked up DePaolo to force a punt. Joe Campo gathered in the boot at his own 41. Courtney West advanced eight and Campo made a first down at the home team's 46.

Ben Dolan moved the ball to the 40 and West made it first down at the 35. John Goldthwait broke through and threw Gilbert for a loss of three. On the next play Mike threw perfectly to Billy Wolfe and he caught all the way to the four being forced out of bounds. Two passes both to Campo accounted for the touchdown and the extra points and the Sachems led by 15-6.

Second Half

The second half opened with an inside kick which Chip Emery fell on at the 45. Two ground plays availed little and on the next play a pass to Wolfe was too low before a punt went out of bounds at attack failed and then Skane booted the Melrose 35. The Raider passing ed a high spiral which hit near the 15 and rolled just about to the goal before Joe Campo decided to pick it up and carry it out to the five yard line. West made three and a well executed pass from Gilbert to Dana Peterson was taken by the sophomore wingman at the 20 and run out to the 32. West made two and Dolan four before another pass to Deshler accounted for a first down at midfield. At this point two fourth down passes under almost certain punt conditions caught the home team off balance and broke the game open. The other went to Campo who snagged it at the 25 and went for a first down at the Melrose 18. Deshler was away to the 10 but a holding penalty moved the ball back to the 31. Another pass to Dana Peterson moved it back to the 20 and on the next two plays the teams swapped 15 yard penalties.

Joe Campo finally made a first down at the four, West made three in two tries and Co-Captain Gilbert skirted end to score with 1:33 of the period left. A pass for the extra points was intercepted by Ed Hughes and Winchester had a 21-6 lead. This long drive chewed up most of the third period and Melrose was unable to gain control of the ball.

Melrose Strikes Back

Captain John Sullivan brought the bounding kick to the 42. A pass to Harris failed but on the next play the same speedster went for a first down at the Sachem 45 before being nailed by Mike Deshler. The latter then combined with Pete Wardwell to haul down DePaolo who grabbed a pass at the ten. Three plays later DePaolo scored to bring the count to 21-12 as the fourth period opened. The Sachems broke up the try for extra points on a rush but were offside and penalized half the distance. DePaolo plunged over to make the score 21-14.

Within two minutes, John McHugh brought the kickoff from the 25 to the 30. Gilbert went to the right side for a first down at the Winchester 46. Deshler made three but Dave McNeil then stopped him for no gain. Once again Gilbert hit Peterson for a first down at the Melrose 37. Mike Deshler then provided another tally with almost a carbon of his previous touchdown run which overcame the identical distance. Courtney West added the two extra points on a line smash and Winchester was once again ahead by 15 points.

With slightly over six minutes left, Melrose pressed the attack. Tony DePaolo brought the kickoff out to the 42 and a pass from Barry Campbell to Rich Harris made a first down at the Sachem 29. But Bill Wolfe was on the spot and picked off a Melrose fumble to ease the pressure.

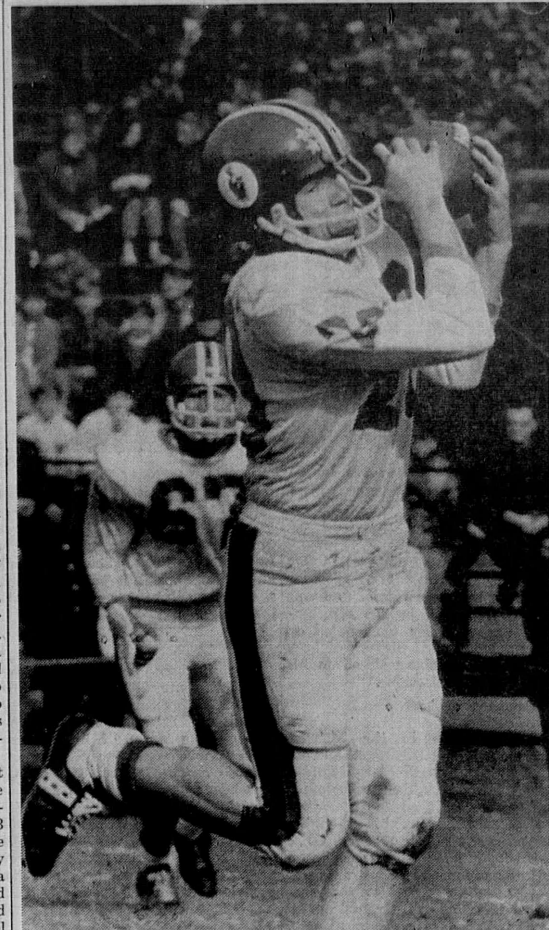

After several plays and a Sachem penalty, a pass to Campo fell incomplete and the Raiders took the ball. A completed pass brought the pigskin to the four yard line before the carrier was halted by Mike Deshler. Wolfe smeared Harris for a loss of five and then there was a fumble which rolled along and was touched by half a dozen players of both teams before Milford Skane regained possession at the 12. Campbell then passed to Tony DePaolo who made a good completion to score.

Noel Webb was in the right spot to halt the extra point try and Winchester led 29-20 with slightly over two minutes left on the scoreboard clock.

A Great Victory

Joe Campo took the kickoff out to the 46 and West made five, Tom

Riley two, and Gilbert was just short of the first down. A very long pass to Campo just missed at the five yard line and Melrose took over. The next play saw the passer's arm hit and the ball almost was intercepted by Pete Wardwell.

Webb stopped Harris after a five yard advance and a pass failed before Webb again banged into DePaolo who picked up a first down at the Winchester 44. Campbell was trapped and hit by Paul Stevens but the Sachems drew a 15 yard penalty.

The next play saw Stevens again smear Campbell and then a pass to Harris was stopped by Joe Campo as the final whistle sounded with the scoreboard reading Winchester 29-Melrose 20.

The game was fast and hard fought. Co-Captain Mike Gilbert received the praise from the usually non-committal Coach Joe Hoague who stated that he threaded the needle better than any schoolboy quarterback that he has seen this season.

Winchester won the game fairly and deserves its position at the top of the Middlesex League. They have three more league games ahead of them and must win all to be assured of the crown.

Lou Goddu Scholarship

Henry Knowlton, director of athletics at Winchester High School, has extended a plea to former WHS team captains to contact the seniors who were on their teams for contributions to the Lou Goddu Scholarship.

Lou was trainer at the High School from 1940 until retired in 1967. He died this past summer.

Donations for this fund may be sent to the Winchester Scholarship Foundation, c/o Charles Butler, Winchester Trust Company, Winchester.

Representing the class of 1935 as class agent at the 11th annual Alumnus Council at Randolph-Macon Women's College, Lynchburg, Virginia, on October 23 to 25 was Mrs. James H. Wright of 35 Central Street. "New Issues—Lasting Values" was the theme of the council.

Lions Are Pee Wee Champs

In the Pee Wee championship game held last Saturday at Shore Road Field, the Lions upset the favored Giants 8 to 6 in a closely fought game.

On the Lions' first play from scrimmage, Quarterback Doug Meahl threw a long pass to Halfback Allen Krussell, the play covering 40 yards to the Giants 15 yard line. Allen Krussell then scored the touchdown on an off tackle play from the 10 yard line.

Quarterback Meahl, on an option, ran around his left end for the two points. The game seasawed back and forth with both defenses limiting the offense to gains within the 20 yard lines.

In the third quarter the Giants made their move and Bradley Marks scored on an off tackle play for the six points. Billy Maggio tried for the two points on a Quarterback sneak but was stopped before he reached the goal line.

In the fourth quarter the Lions fumbled the ball on their 40 yard line and a Giant lineman picked the ball up and ran for a touchdown but the play was called back by the officials.

Both teams excelled on defense. Starring for the Giants were Jay Cogan, Bradley Marks, Bobby Maggio, Tom Russo, Billy Maggio and Tony Santo. For the Lions were Tom Hanes, Tony Mulone, John McCabe, Dana Doe, Tom Deshler and Phil Worthington. Phil had an excellent game making five unassisted tackles and was in the Giants backfield throughout the game.

Giants	0	0	6	0-6
Lions	8	0	0	0-8

The two other play-off games saw the Bears playing their best game of the season, as they romped over the Patriots 32 to 0. Scoring for the Bears were George Parker, intercepted pass, Jim Rigney, fullback buck, Danny Adams, pass from George Parker, 15 yard run and two point rush. Sam Belino, run.

The Jets edged the Packers 6 to 0 on a run by Billy McLean. This was a defensive battle with the Jets offense finally punching over the touchdown.

The coaches have voted the Lions' Allen Krussell as player of the week for his offensive game against the Giants. Allen caught three long passes plus his threat as a fast running back turned the tide for the Lions.

THE FANS were elated over Saturday's 29-20 win over the Melrose Red Raiders. This week the Sachems are at home against Reading. Game time is 1:30 p.m. (Joyce photo)

Saturday's Game Notes In Passing

By John Parrell

This game between the Sachems and the Raiders was billed as one of the top Class B games of the season, and it certainly lived up to its advance notices. Boston papers had complete coverage by their own top schoolboy experts. Prominent among the group was Bill Kipouras, the head of schoolboy activities for the Herald-Traveler and also the writer who covers the major tennis tournaments and some of the Red Sox baseball. He was at Manchester Field for last year's game and was greatly impressed by the Winchester team play. He took notes on certain individuals players of both teams, while looking ahead to his all-scholastic selections.

Perched high in the Melrose stands was John Killilea, the capable basketball coach of the Raider teams. He was taking a busman's holiday and enjoyed the action on the field. However, his thoughts must have strayed once or twice to the hoop game as the passers on both teams hurled the ball with authority, and several of the receivers looked like fine basketball prospects. Of course he has already a starting nucleus of six experienced players six feet tall or over, but who couldn't use another?

The Melrose fans along the sidelines and the police officers were very fair in their comments on the game and expressed the opinion that any Class B team would have trouble handling the Winchester gridders any time they played the style of ball that they flashed on Saturday. They kept urging the Raiders on by reminding them that Monday was coming, and anybody who knows the hard-bitten Coach Hoague's feelings after a defeat knows that the first practice after a defeat will be far from a pink tea party.

The Sachem athletic director, "Coach" Henry Knowlton, sat in the stands for this contest and renewed old friendships with upwards of a score of his former players who wore the Winchester colors over the years. The group was headed by Joe Bellino and included Tony Bucci, Dave Rotundi, Tony Mucera, and Joe Erriero. The others who were with their old coach certainly enjoyed the reunion and of course the victory made the occasion all the more a happy one.

Dan Shay, the big and talented Melrose right end who covered the early Winchester fumble, was out of last year's game with an ankle break. He has recovered nicely and played an outstanding game in a losing cause. This is one boy who takes his football seriously, as is shown by his presence last year on crutches at the Sachem-Wakefield game. He is a keen student of the game and is a fine college prospect, with hopes of getting to either Norwich or the Universities of Mass. or Connecticut.

The Melrose field was in superb condition, and the Winchester boys enjoyed playing on it. Co-Captain Dave Scott said that it was like being on a deep-pile broadloom rug. The bright green turf with the brilliant scarlet uniforms of Melrose, the Sachems in white, the stripe-shirted officials and the colorful bands and cheering groups made it truly a spectacular afternoon for color photo devotees, even though the sun was not too cooperative.

It was pleasant to read that the personable Bob Margarita's eleven emerged from the doldrums to beat Cambridge Latin and followed it up by besting Concord 20-0. Last Saturday morning Coach Jack Noble, who is a Winchester resident, saw his Cambridge Latin boys win a well-deserved victory over Belmont 21-8. Even at the darkest moments of their Sachem game they never quit, and it is nice to see such willing efforts rewarded.

Drive in the travel lane and observe posted road signs, suggests Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies. Lane hopping can be a dangerous game with the tragic results. Road signs are posted to help save your life and ignoring them is quite literally taking your life into your own hands.

Reading Next Obstacle For Sachem Gridders

by John F. Parrell

Fresh from their convincing win over the tough Red Raiders of Melrose, the Winchester High eleven will be hosts to Reading Saturday afternoon at Manchester Field. Kickoff time will be 1:30. Good psychology would call for ominous threats to their undefeated record being posed by the visitors but a realistic view is that unless the Sachems suffer a horrible letdown or allow the hard won Melrose game to make them over-confident they should be able to handle Reading.

However, in the light of last year's Reading game which was a veritable nightmare for the eventual Middlesex League champions it is by no means a certainty. With the Melrose scalp tucked under their belts the 1968 Sachems entered the Reading game as favorites. They barely emerged with the victory. In that game the team coached by John Hollingsworth outplayed Winchester in every phase except the score.

This is the sort of thing which Manny Marshall and his coaches are working hard to prevent. A review of the Melrose films shows that Winchester made far too many mistakes and ones which must be corrected before aspiring to any titles. The Reading coach is known for his ability to get a team up to a high key for an objective game and although he is thin on material he is far too clever to be overlooked.

Reading will no doubt have some fancy aerial maneuvers with Co-Captain Merullo well remembered for some sensational completions in last year's affair. The visitors will present an unusual lineup with the backs outweighing the line.

With speed up front they hope to get the jump on the more bulky Sachem front and thus allow their multi-faceted attack to swing into operation while the Winchester line is off balance.

Reading topped Lynn Classical last week in a real squeaker by 17-16. Although the Shoe City boys are not one of the top bracketed teams in Class A, the triumph by the Hollingsworth clan is significant.

Any time a team beats one of higher rank it must be regarded as a worthwhile effort and an indication that they are playing good football. With this in mind the Sachems must be ready for any eventuality.

Lions Take Top In Bantam Soccer

The Lions surged into first place in the Bantam division of the Winchester Youth Soccer program by sweeping both of their games this past week.

Only two weeks ago the Lions were in last place, but have since caught fire with three wins and a tie in their last four games since the return of Ken Abbott.

This week the Lancers defeated the Marauders 1-0 on Steve Blasi's goal. The Marauders then ran into the hot Lions who mauled them by a 4-0 count with goals by Chip Whitman, Jay James, Ed Shiang and Ken Abbott.

The battle for first place then took place with the Lions finally edging the Lancers 1-0 on Peter Martin's fourth goal of the season.

Question-Answer Sessions Held At High School

Winchester High School students have been invited to participate in question-answer sessions with members of the High School administration on a weekly basis.

These sessions with a press conference format were announced by Principal W. Howard Niblock. The first such meeting was held on Thursday, October 23 at 2:30 p.m. with Mr. Niblock answering questions.

Regular question and answer sessions will be scheduled each Friday at 1:30 p.m. beginning October 31. Assistant Principals Vincent La Rocca and Edward Burns will conduct some of the question-answer sessions throughout the year. The meetings are designed for students, but faculty members were advised that they may also attend.

Mr. Niblock feels that his students should have the opportunity to ask questions about such current issues as the new high school building, the proposed open campus plan and other subjects related to their education. It is his hope that these exchange sessions can become an important means of communication with his students.

Rotarians Visit The Far East With Mr. Kirsten

Mark Kirsten was the program chairman for the Winchester Rotary Club meeting of Thursday, October 23.

He presented slides which were taken on his recent trip through the Far East.

Some of the countries "revisited" were Hong Kong, Ceylon, Macao and others. The audience enjoyed the program.

Scout Troop 506 Climb Mountain In New Hampshire

Twenty-two boys and five adults of Boy Scout Troop 506 journeyed to New Hampshire on Columbus Day weekend for an overnight camping trip and mountain climb. The climb was up Mount Carraigan (4680 feet) just south of the Presidential range and with one of the most scenic vistas in New England.

On Friday night, October 10, the troop camped by the banks of the Saco River in Bartlett, New Hampshire, having arrived at about 10 p.m. Mid-morning Saturday, the four-hour climb began, and by 2 p.m. the entire troop had climbed the trail to Signal Ridge and the summit. From the fire tower the view was spectacular—the Pemigewasset wilderness, the Sandwich range, and the newborn clouds forming in the lee of Signal Ridge.

Boys making the climb were Bob Burns, Dave Burns, Charlie Craig, Charlie Dieterich, Mike Goodman, Joe Guarnaccia, Tom Kelly, Dave Kelly, Ed Kelly, Martin Kent, Bob Kerr, Thare MacDonald, Gordon McIntosh, Tom Moore, Donald O'Brien, John Parkhurst, Chase Rozelle, Andy Stockle, Dave Truener, Ricky Zappala, and Tom Zappala.

Adult climbers were Steve Moore, Jim Burns, Harry Kerr, Scoutmaster Dick Lawrence and Assistant Scoutmaster Tom Kelly.

The next troop outing is an overnight fishing trip to Jamestown, Rhode Island, planned for the weekend of November 1-2.

Emmanuel College Club Organizes At First Meeting

A champagne party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Edward S. Murphy of 16 Salisbury Street on Sunday, October 26 served as the initial meeting of the Emmanuel College Club of Winchester.

Thirty-seven Emmanuel College alumnae attended the meeting and met Mrs. John Guinee, president of the Alumnae Association, Mrs. John Fleming, executive secretary and Miss Ann O'Connor, vice president and Massachusetts chairman of Area Clubs.

A tentative schedule for the future activities of the group was discussed and an outline of the Emmanuel Alumnae Association functions was presented. Mrs. Robert H. Murphy, 29 Allen Road and Mrs. John J. Waite Jr., 7 Appalachian Road will serve as co-chairmen of the Winchester Club. Mrs. Carl Galante, 375 Highland Avenue and Mrs. Richard T. Powers, 5 Winthrop Street were named secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Serving on the planning committee with Mrs. Edward S. Murphy were Mrs. John J. Griffin, 31 Lincoln Street; Mrs. James F. McDonough, 71 Wildwood Street; Mrs. Robert H. Murphy, 29 Allen Road, and Mrs. John J. Waite Jr., 7 Appalachian Road.

Saint Mary's C.Y.O. To Hold Musical Revue

Over 100 members of Saint Mary's C.Y.O. and their friends have been in rehearsal during the past four weeks for "Two for the Money."

This theatrical venture, which is scheduled for November 9 and 10, is being presented at the Winchester High School Auditorium. Ticket sales thus far indicate a capacity house on both evenings. The entire production is being staged and directed by Ed Rooney. Former June Taylor dancer, Marianne Dennis is choreographer. Rev. Bernard Hoy, C.Y.O. Director at Saint Mary's is General Chairman.

Muraco School Harvest Dance

On Saturday evening, November 8, the Muraco School Parents Association will hold a Harvest Dance in the school auditorium.

A buffet style ham and bean supper will be served at 8:00 p.m. by Mrs. Giustino Baldacci, chairman for the evening, and her committee.

Dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. will follow the supper. Music will be furnished by the Dick Errico Quartet.

The public is cordially invited to attend. Tickets may be purchased by calling the following committee members, Mrs. Giustino Baldacci, 729-3968; Mrs. Harry McLeod, 729-5042, or Mrs. Harry Bellino, 729-0214.

Cub Scouts Hold Contest For Sail Planes

Sail planes filled the air at Parkhurst School auditorium as the Cubs of Pack 524 competed in a sail plane contest.

The meeting began with an inspection. Den 6 received the honor den banner for the month.

Den 4 presented the opening ceremony which portrayed the heritage of the United States, and led the Pack and guests in the singing of "America, The Beautiful."

The featured event, the sail plane contest, consisted of a "fly-off" by Dens, and another among the various Den winners. The Den Winners of the distance flights were:

Den 1 Kenneth Gosselin
Den 2 John Fairbanks
Den 3 Pat Paulini
Den 4 Michael Minutoli
Den 5 Gary Allen
Den 6 Thomas McGinty
Den 7 Steven Wilk
Webelos Jay Bourne

Jay Bourne and his craft out-distanced all others.

A second set of contests determined which plane could stay airborne longest. The Den winners were:

Den 1 Tom Murray
Den 2 Joe Dagnese
Den 3 Paul Selvitelli
Den 4 Richard Martin
Den 5 Richard Goldhammer
Den 6 Thomas McGinty
Den 7 Robert Horn
Webelos Michael Robinson

Richard Goldhammer won the time trials.

There followed three other categories which provided prizes for the longest plane, the most unique, and the shortest plane. Charles Larkin's plane, constructed of an entire edition of the Winchester Star, was easily the longest. John McGinty's Hojo Hopper was judged the most unique, while John Daniel's sub-inch plane made it past all other miniatures.

Webelos leader Jim Bourne presided over the induction ceremony for the new Webelos. Welcomed into the Webelos were: John McGinty, Jay Bourne, Fred Murray, Brooks Bonnell, Brian Quinn, Michael Robinson, Francis Mazzucotelli, Scott Matheson, Mark Nelson, George Kingsley, and Pat Porter.

The Pack Meeting concluded with a chorus of the "Grand Old Duke of York." The next meeting will be held on November 5 at 7 p.m.

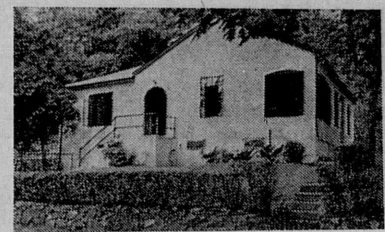

The U.S. Army flag, for higher echelons of command, and the Army field flag, for lower echelon organizations, are symbolic of the Army as a whole. The former is white with yellow fringe and the Department of the Army seal in the center in ultramarine blue; the latter is blue with the seal in white.

U. S. Army Processes Millions

The gigantic task of examining and processing millions of young men and women who enter the armed services of the United States every year is the responsibility of the United States Army Recruiting Command (USAREC).

In order to accomplish this mission, 74 Armed Forces Examining and Entrance Stations (AFES) are located in population centers across the country. During fiscal year 1969, 2,744,720 men and women were examined and inspected at these stations, a slight drop from the 2,940,803 total of the preceding year.

Serving the local area, the Boston AFES, one of 19 examining stations located in the 12-state U.S. Army First Recruiting District, processed 49,377 men and women during fiscal year 1969. This was an increase total over the last fiscal year.

The breakdown of the nationwide examinee figure shows 1,879,302 Army volunteers and Selective Service System registrants were processed; 375,690 for the Navy; 286,100 for the Air Force; and 203,628 for the Marine Corps.

Local examination figures indicate that 35,466 individuals were processed as Army volunteers and selective service registrants; 7,054 for the Navy; 3,595 for the Air Force; and 3,262 for the Marine Corps.

Backing up on a highway or major artery is no way to get where you are going, reminds Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies. By taking a little extra time to take the next exit and circle around you have a better chance of arriving at your destination.

According to Sgt. Richard Zowe, local U. S. Army recruiter, this move will allow thousands of former servicemen to bring their skills and experience back to the Regular Army without sacrificing one of their hard-won sergeant or specialist stripes. Under the former ruling, an E-6 had just three months to reenlist and hold his grade if he had less than four years total service. Those E-6's with more than four years had just 24 hours. Now both categories can have been out of service for up to 30 months and return without penalty. Sgt. Zowe, whose office is located at 49 High Street in Medford, has still more information for ex-soldiers who want to get back into Army green or who need an appli-

Recreation Program Is Announced For Fall, Winter

Fall and winter recreation programs will begin this month under the sponsorship of the Recreation Department, according to an announcement by Donald L. Spinney, recreation director.

The elementary school programs include basketball clinics beginning Saturday, November 15, from 10 a.m. to noon at the McCall Junior High School for boys in grades five and six. Follow-up programs will be held in individual schools at dates to be announced.

Boys and girls in grades five through nine may participate in a judo class to learn the basic fundamentals of the sport at the McCall Junior High School on Saturday, November 22, from 1 to 3 p.m.

Girls in grades four through six are participating in a baton twirling and fancy drill class on Tuesdays and Fridays from 2:45 to 4:30 p.m. at the Town Hall.

High School Scheduling Is Discussed

Members of the Winchester School Committee, High School Principal W. Howard Niblock and Assistant Principal Vincent E. LaRocco met on Monday evening for an informational exchange on the problem of overcrowding in the High School and scheduling for the 1970-1971 school year.

Mr. LaRocco began the discussion with data on the population growth at the High School. The first request for double sessions here, which was denied, was made in 1962. The slide in an eight-period-day schedule, which is presently in effect, was instituted during 1967-1968 to relieve some classroom space during periods one and eight.

Enrollment this fall at the High School increased by approximately 50 students over last year. The present total is 1,143. Projections for the future are 1,184 in 1970; 1,271 for 1971; 1,342 in 1972; and 1,411 for 1973. There was hope that the new high school would be completed by 1971.

Outlining the major factors which influence course scheduling at the High School, Mr. LaRocco listed the manipulation of the five-major-courses concept; classes arranged in terms of maximums, rather than ranges; safety, particularly in laboratories; the length of the teacher's and the student's day; and basic curriculum assumptions, including Advanced Placement courses, three-level courses and leveling itself.

A volleyball, tumbling and gymnastics class for girls in grades four through six will be held at a location and time to be announced at a later date.

Boys in grades five through nine may join a model airplane club which offers instruction in building model airplanes from free flight to radio-controlled at the McCall Junior High School. Dates and time will be announced at a later date.

The Pee Wee and Bantam soccer program is being held for boys in grades two through nine on Saturdays from 9 a.m. to noon at Leonard Field.

Woodworking

Boys in grades six through nine may participate in a Saturday morning woodworking and metal shop program at the Lynch and McCall Junior High Schools from 10 a.m. to noon beginning November 15.

A Saturday morning basketball league will meet in the Lynch Junior High School for boys in grades seven through nine. Registration will be held Saturday, November 15.

Homefronters Seek Addresses Of Service Men

Parents and friends of Winchester service men and women are asked to assist the Winchester Homefronters in their annual effort to see that all Winchester service men and women receive a Christmas package from their home town.

Wherever a service man or woman may be, the Homefronters would like to know. Despite the help of the Red Cross, notices in the Star and those who have already sent addresses, the list is not complete. The Homefronters do not want to overlook a single person. They do not receive a list from the draft board or any other agency. Their lists are confidential as is the Homefronters'.

Time is getting short for mailing with a sure Christmas delivery. Mr. and Mrs. Dan Morse of 3 Sanborn Place, 729-1530, are in charge of this list and are anxious to hear from parents and friends.

Library Displays High School Plans

ON DISPLAY in the Public Library lobby this week are drawings of the proposed new high school. Shown here are the perspectives of the academic wing. Also on display are floor plans for both wings. (Joyce photo)

Officer Peter Morgan Is Recipient Of Police Meritorious Service Award

A high speed chase through Winchester and Woburn and the apprehension of two men who had staged an armed robbery at the First National on Main Street brought to Officer Peter Morgan the Police Meritorious Service Award last night.

The 28-year-old officer, a resident of Richardson Street, was patrolling along Main Street the evening of May 16 when he observed a black Chevy Corvair leaving the First National parking lot at high speed. He followed the car and saw one of the persons in the car apparently removing a mask from his head.

At the same time, a call was coming into Police headquarters from the supermarket. During the hold-up, the gunman had ordered personnel to lie on the floor. They did not, however, notice that one clerk was in the office and she, while also on the floor, called the police.

Officer Morgan, who heard about the hold-up over the car radio, continued in pursuit. He was joined in the chase by several other officers.

The chase went over Skillings By-Pass to Spruce Street, up Swanton and Park to Highland Avenue, back down Forest and north on Washington Street.

Several times during the pursuit, car 23, driven by Officer Morgan, pulled alongside the hold-up car to try and force it over. Each time Officer Morgan had to pull back to avoid oncoming traffic.

At Erie Street in Woburn, the officer was able to force the fleeing car over where it crashed into a tree.

The passenger in the car immediately leaped out and ran off with Winchester officers in pursuit. Officer Morgan remained and apprehended the driver of the car, Robert Lanpher, 30, of Woburn. Later, the police located and arrested Leo Carey, 32, the passenger in the Lanpher car.

Police Concert

The award was presented to Officer Morgan at the annual concert sponsored by the Winchester Police Relief Association. Officer Morgan was presented a scroll and an inscribed plaque by Paul Amico, chairman of the Board of Selectmen. The officer's wife, Joanne, was the recipient of a bouquet.

Officer Joseph Perritano served as chairman of this year's concert. He was assisted by Officer Robert Elliott, treasurer, and co-chairman Henry Cogan Jr.

The entertainment included a comedy-novelty act by Bobbie Winters; songs by Muriel White; a variety act by Billy and Bobby Spina; and music by the Commanders. Bill McDonald served as master of ceremonies.

Officer Morgan, a graduate of St. Mary's School and the Winchester High School, attended Norwich University and served in the Marine Corps.

Appointed a special officer on April 29, 1963, he became a regular officer on June 22, 1964.

Previous recipients of the award include Officer Thomas

Parsons and Sgt. Mario Buzzotta, 1963; Sgt. James Cogan, 1964; Officer Alfred Poole (posthumously), 1965; Sgt. Daniel I. Reardon, 1966; and Officer Donald Jackson, 1968.

Opponents Of Additional Money For High School Answer Questions

Opponents of the expenditure of the additional $3,100,000 for the proposed new high school on Shore Road have issued answers to the questions proposed by the Citizens for the New High School in an article on the editorial page of the October 30 issue of the Star.

The following is the response from the opponents:

"Citizens for the New High School have issued a press release 'facts' to a selected group of questions. Proponents of the referendum have spoken at several group meetings with 'facts' to these same questions.

"The first 'fact' Citizens offered proved to be in error. Fact: The Referendum will be held November 13th, not as stated in the Woburn Times as November 10.

"1. Q. Do we need a new high school building?

"A. No — Using the superintendent's enrollment figures, 1143 students in the senior high school. As of the October 27th School Committee meeting the open campus plan was accepted, which means 200 students will be leaving the building per period; 1143 minus 200 leaves 943. That's what the building was designed for.

Copy Deadline

Due to the Tuesday holiday next week, all news copy for the November 13 issue of the Star must be submitted by 10 a.m. on Monday, November 10.

No copy will be accepted after 10 a.m. Classified advertising will be accepted until 10 a.m. on Wednesday. Other advertising must be submitted by 3 p.m. on Monday.

President Nixon Has Appointed Resident Here To Task Force

Governor Francis W. Sargent recently announced that Mrs. Genevieve H. Schiffmacher of 50 Lake Street, assistant commissioner of the Massachusetts Department of Labor and Industries, has been appointed by President Nixon to the task force on the Problem of the Physically Handicapped.

The Task Force will review what is being done now for the physically handicapped and will make recommendations on how to obtain maximum help for each individual. It will also make recommendations on how community awareness and action may be increased to help the handicapped.

Governor Sargent noted that he was pleased with Mrs. Schiffmacher's appointment, since the Massachusetts Department of Labor and Industries helped make Massachusetts the first state in the nation to regulate sheltered workshops, the rehabilitation and training centers for handicapped persons who are protected by the state against exploitation.

The Governor said he is drafting legislation for the next legislative session to further protect the handicapped. Governor Sargent said he expects the report of the Task Force to be of great help in establishing and refining programs for the handicapped in Massachusetts.

School Comm. Announce Agenda For Meeting

According to the School Department the agenda for the School Committee meeting to be held on Monday, November 10 at 7:30 p.m. in the McCall Junior High Library include the following:

A report to the Committee on the request of citizens to the Selectmen for the extension of Bates Road to Muraco School.

An expanded evaluation of the mathematics laboratory with specifics on electronic calculators and a recommendation of which type can be purchased.

The report of the Superintendent will include a summary of the information and courses of action relative to crowding at the high school and alternatives for resolving the space problem.

The Committee will be given its regular monthly report on budget balances.

Town Meeting Reminder

All petitions for the acceptance of streets for 1970 Town Meeting action must be presented at the Selectmen's Office prior to December 1, 1969.

Referendum Is Set For November 13 On New High School

At a special meeting held Thursday, October 30, the Board of Selectmen voted to hold a referendum on Thursday, November 13, on Article 1 of the Special Town Meeting held October 16.

The referendum will seek approval from the Town on an additional appropriation of $3,100,000 for construction of the proposed new high school on Shore Road. Article 1 was approved by a vote of 174 to 14 at the Special Town Meeting.

At the special meeting of the Selectmen, it was noted by the Board's executive secretary, Edward Donnelly, that Town Counsel Leonard Mullen had indicated that the 14 days in which the Board must set the date for the agenda was inclusive of Sundays and holidays.

Arthur Hewis, asking Mr. Donnelly to repeat the statement, said that the Board was setting a precedent by including Sundays and holidays in the 14 days. He noted that in previous referenda, the five days following the Town Meeting in which the referendum petition must be filed; the 10 days following filing of the petition in which the Selectmen must meet to set a date for the referendum; and the 14 days following their meeting in which the referendum must be held; were all considered to be exclusive of Sundays and holidays.

The petition requesting the referendum was filed Thursday, October 30, by Mrs. Anthony Pronski of 128 Washington Street. The petition contained 759 signatures.

Majority Vote

A majority vote on the referendum is necessary to overturn the action of the Town Meeting. Twenty per cent of the approximately 12,300 registered voters must vote for the action of the referendum to be binding.

The Town Clerk's office will be open for voter registration today from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and tomorrow until 10 p.m. Persons registering after tomorrow at 10 p.m. will not be eligible to vote in the referendum.

The article on which the referendum is being called states:

To see if the Town will raise and appropriate $3,100,000 in addition to the $10,070,000 appropriated on February 26, 1968, for constructing and originally equipping and furnishing a new senior high school including outdoor athletic facilities, at the so-called Shore Road Site; and to determine whether any amount which is appropriated shall be raised by borrowing, transfer or otherwise, and to take any other action in relation thereto.

Dr. Cotton Of NEACSS Discusses Accreditation

There were a number of inquiries and questions around town last week about high school "accreditation," what it is, how Winchester could lose it, and why.

In response a group of the Citizens for the New High School asked Dana M. Cotton of Cambridge, formerly of Winchester, executive secretary of the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, to clarify the matter for them last Monday. The possibility of Winchester losing accreditation had been raised a week ago in connection with the November 13th referendum on the new high school.

Before answering any questions Dr. Cotton recalled that he had moved to Winchester in 1936 to teach in the High School (now McCall) and when he first noticed crowded conditions he was assured "that there would soon be a new high school building."

"It's now 33 years later," Dr. Cotton noted, "and it's a shame that the Town still has inadequate Senior High School facilities."

Dr. Cotton pointed out that it was first important to realize that there is a single body, the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools (NEACSS), that judges and accredits all public and independent secondary schools as well as institutions of higher learning, at present a total of 893 in the six states in this region.

Sub-Facilities

The latter is important for Winchester voters to understand, he emphasized, because when there was a threat in 1968 to rescind the vote for the new high school, the Association had its executive secretary for public schools write the Winchester School Department that the present high school might be in serious danger of being placed on probation with regard to accreditation.

Henry Chester Baxter

Henry Chester Baxter of 30 Calumet Road and Falmouth, died on Monday, November 3, in Winchester Hospital after a brief illness. He was 83.

Born in Cambridge, October 11, 1886, he was the son of Smith D. and Agnes Anne (Dunwoodie) Baxter, native to Amherst, Nova Scotia, and Cambridge, respectively. He was educated in the Cambridge Latin School, Cambridge and at Harvard College, class of 1908. He was the husband of the late Florence Agalia (Selon) Baxter.

Mr. Baxter served with the U.S. Army Infantry during World War I from 1917 to 1918. He was retired at the time of his death.

A member of the Epiphany Episcopal Church, he was also a 32nd Degree Mason.

He leaves a daughter, Mrs. E. (Baxter) Rutherford of Winchester; a step-son, Dr. Sarel Everett Gleason of Washington, D.C.; two grandsons, Lawrence Wayne Rutherford of Winchester and Dr. Abbott Gleason of Providence, Rhode Island; and two granddaughters, Miss Agalia Anne Rutherford of Winchester and Mrs. Philip Van Rensselaer Tilney of Bloomington, Indiana.

Funeral services were held at the Church of the Epiphany on Wednesday, November 5 at 11 a.m. with the Rev. John J. Bishop and Rev. Ralph Putney officiating. Burial was in Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge.

The Norris Funeral Home, 1 Elm Street was in charge of arrangements. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to the Scholarship Fund of the Harvard College.

Library Film Program

Family Film Night at 7:30 p.m., November 7.

Bantu Girl. This film shows a typical family in the equatorial area of the African coast on a Saturday. A young girl helps her mother with household tasks, plays games with her friends and runs an errand on her first trip to the village market. In the village she visits with her pastor, who explains many similarities among children all over the world.

Sorcerer's Apprentice. Lisel Weil draws the story she imagines this popular symphonic classic might suggest. Using bright pastels, she sketches her way through the moods of the music—and the sorcerer, his eager apprentice, and a demonic broom come to life.

Statue of Liberty. A history teacher and his young son visit the Statue of Liberty and bring to life the meaning of one of the greatest monuments in the world.

Dr. Chalmers To Speak Sunday To Methodists

Dr. Allan Knight Chalmers, former president of the Legal Defense Society for the Advancement of Colored People, will be the preacher at the 11 a.m. service on Sunday, November 9, at the Crawford Memorial United Methodist Church. His sermon title will be, "Will Christianity Work?"

Emeritus professor of preaching and applied Christianity at Boston University School of Theology, he is a native of Cleveland, Ohio. He received an A.B. degree from Johns Hopkins following three years of study, then spent ten months overseas with the Foyers of the II French Army, followed by a brief time before the Armistice in the M.T.C. of the American Army.

After the war, he served in several teaching and ministry positions.

He received his D.D. degree from Syracuse in 1932, and the LL.D. degree from the American International College, Springfield, in the same year. He was given another D.D. at the University of Vermont in 1941.

Always very interested in peace, he was instrumental in organizing the New York Ministers' Covenant of Peace Group, and is also known for his leadership in the Scottsboro cases. He is chairman of the Committee of 100 composed of prominent educators, clergymen and people in the arts, who raise $500,000 a year to support the educational and defense work of the N.A.A.C.P.

Dr. Chalmers is on the board of trustees of Talladega College, Talladega, Alabama, and of Berea College, Berea, Kentucky. He is, or has been a member of the executive committees of various religious and social organizations, including the Council for Social Action of the Congregational Christian Churches, Federal Council of Churches, the Interracial Committee of the Y.M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A. the Religion and Labor Foundation, of which he was an incorporator, the Fellowship of Reconciliation, The War Resisters' League, the Yale Alumni Board, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, of which he was treasurer for 15 years, president of the N.A.A.C.P. Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc., the American Civil Liberties Union and was chairman of the Massachusetts Civil Liberties Union. He won the Alper Award for civil liberties in 1963.

He has been a speaker at over 250 colleges and boys' schools, and at more than 50 young people's conferences he has been chaplain.

A contributor to many papers and magazines, he has written nine books, and expects to complete another by the end of this fall.

One of the specialized jobs he did at Boston University was to conduct a seminar on Changing Social Attitudes, which is a case-study and project-method group using the Boston area as a laboratory. He is now teaching this seminar at St. Francis College in Biddeford, near his present home in Kennebunkport, Maine.

Miss Gayle Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene S. Clark of 32 Everett Avenue, a student in the Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio, Conservatory of Music, will present a senior recital in organ on Sunday, November 9. She is a member of Oberlin's 200-voice Musical Union and is active in the Women's Recreation Association.

Mrs. Elizabeth W. Ditmars

Mrs. Elizabeth W. (Teale) Ditmars of 89 Church Street, wife of Ralph G. Ditmars and a member of the Winchester community for 23 years, died suddenly on Tuesday, November 4, at home. She was 58.

Born in Provincetown, August 11, 1911, she was the daughter of Royal P. and Rose (Lyle) Teale. She was educated in the Medford schools, later moving to Winchester, where she had since resided.

Besides her husband, she leaves a daughter, Mrs. Diane H. Tobin of Provincetown.

Visiting hours at the Nickerson Funeral Home, Provincetown, will be held today, November 6, from 7 to 9 p.m. Funeral services will take place on Friday, November 7, at 10 a.m. in Provincetown.

The Lane Funeral Home, 760 Main Street, is in charge of arrangements.

COP Women Informed On Mint By Mrs. Brooks

The Massachusetts Federation of Republican Women held a fall meeting at the Coonamessett Inn in Falmouth.

Club President Mrs. Robert Amesbury opened the meeting by asking the committee chairman to give resumes of workshops held recently at Republican Headquarters in Boston.

A number of members of the Women's Republican Club of Winchester attended the workshops, which were on campaign activities, membership, legislation, program, finance and community involvement.

The Honorable Mary Brooks, director of the United States Mint, was the principal speaker of the day. Mrs. Brooks gave many interesting facts about the mint. Mrs. Brooks also told her audience that the United States mints coins for a number of foreign countries.

Attending the meeting from Winchester were Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, Mrs. Ernest Wright, Mrs. George Bramley, Mrs. Albert Thompson, Mrs. Shepard Pond, Mrs. Warren Carley, Mrs. Gerald Westlake and Mrs. Victor H. Soucek.

Mrs. Windsor Carpenter of 28 Lorena Road is ticket chairman for the Winchester area of the Boston Bradford Club's (Bradford Junior College Alumnae) benefit performance of "Goodbye, Mr. Chips" on Thursday, November 20. Deadline for ticket sales is Sunday, November 9. Please call Mrs. Carpenter at 729-0680.

How's Your Hearing? A Short Non-Scientific Test

1. Do you frequently ask people to repeat what they have just said?
2. Do others turn down the television set you have adjusted?
3. Do you keep the volume of the telephone turned up to maximum?
4. Do you speak loudly on the telephone?
5. Do you think these questions are none of our business?

SOLUTION:

Two or less yes answers: you have "convenient" hearing and hear only what you want to hear.

Three or more: You probably have a hearing loss. To find out how much visit Sears Hearing Aid Department for a free hearing test.

Mr. D'Errico To Address Garden Club

The Winchester Estates Garden Club will present "Banquet Bouquets and Holly Days," a demonstration-talk by Phillip D'Errico of Cummings Florists, on November 19 at 8 p.m. at Vinson-Owen School.

The basic fundamentals of floral design will be explained by Mr. D'Errico who will be assisted by two other designers from Cummings Florists, Frank DeMattia and Michael O'Brien. Mr. D'Errico will serve as commentator as Mr. O'Brien and Mr. DeMattia demonstrate, step-by-step, how to make various party favors, corsages, wreaths, and centerpieces. Emphasis will be on Thanksgiving and Christmas designs.

Mr. D'Errico has been in business in Woburn for five years. He has owned and operated D'Errico-McGlynn Flowers in Medford for the past 17 years.

In charge of arrangements for the evening is Mrs. Rolland Robinson, ways and means chairman. Assisting her are Mrs. William Owens, Mrs. Lewis Linson, Mrs. John Terzian, Mrs. Bruce McCullum, and Mrs. Robert Elmer.

Refreshments will be served. Tickets are available at the door.

REHEARSING FOR THEIR PRODUCTION OF "Kind Lady" are members of the Unitarian Players cast. The play, a psychological drama set in an English society, will be held in Metcalf Hall on Friday and Saturday, November 14 and 15. (R. E. Hillger photo)

Unitarian Church To Hold Two-Day Christmas Fair

Bargain hunting and Christmas shopping both may be tried at the Winchester Unitarian Church Christmas Fair to be held from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Wednesday, November 19, and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Thursday, November 20.

This old-fashioned Christmas Fair will feature old and new items. Book Chairman Mrs. Howard Abbott and Mrs. Thornton Stearns will have a whole roomful of used books. Remnants Chairman Mrs. Charles Koch will have two rooms of fabrics by the yard, remnants and trims.

The White Elephants collected by Mrs. P. Sprogis range from a bronze statue to a wicker wood basket. The Clothing Exchange, supervised by Mrs. Carlton Totman and Mrs. Donald Spinney, has clothes too good for rummage sales, and sample and surplus wedding and formal gowns from a noted bridal shop.

There are new gifts at the Handicraft Table, ranging from stockin' stuffers to original watercolor paintings. Chairman Mrs. June Pope has about 10 paintings of various subjects and sizes.

Children will have a room of their own where they can shop for good used toys, books and penny candy. Mrs. Andrew Nichols is chairman.

Children from approximately age 3 and up may view three color films at 4 p.m. Thursday. Mothers of the Winchester Unitarian Society Co-operative Nursery School will provide the films, take tickets and keep the peace. The films are "Paddle to the Sea," 1967 winner of the American Film Festival; "Dick Whittington and His Cat," 1966 Festival winner; and "The Lost Doll," a Czechoslovakian film. Tickets may be obtained by calling the film chairman, Mrs. Walther Weylman, 729-7899, or at the door.

Mrs. Robert Magnusen is chairman of the Fair and Mrs. James McIntosh, co-chairman. Others include Mrs. Theodore Robinson, treasurer; Mrs. Warren Taylor, assistant treasurer; Mrs. R. A. Carrigan, decorations; Mrs. Norton Demsey Jr. and Mrs. Ellis J. Green, candy; Mrs. James Joslin, floral decorations; Mrs. Robert Westwater, food; Mrs. John White, household; Miss Karen Magnusen, jewelry; Mrs. Robert Low, mittens; Mrs. Ronald King, plants; Mrs. Charles Aston, waitresses; Mrs. S. W. Funk, publicity; and Mrs. Percy Hill, Mrs. John Blanchard and Mrs. Wilbert E. Underwood, advisors.

Miss Denise Sheeran, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. Paul Sheeran of 30 Swan Road, is enrolled as a senior at Avila College, Kansas City, Missouri. A graduate of C.D.S. of the Sacred Heart High School, Newton, she is majoring in nursing.

Senior Class To Hold Bake Sale

The Senior Class of the Winchester High School is having a bake sale on Saturday, November 8, from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

This fall the Senior Class voted to have the prom inside the High School, making it necessary to raise funds.

MRS. PAUL E. GRAY of 5 Sheffield Road recently attended the Alumnae Association meeting at Wheaton College, Norton. She is a member of the Self-Study Committee. (C. Emmett Calvey photo)

Unitarians Will Present "Kind Lady"

The smell of paint and the sound of hammers permeate the air in Metcalf Hall as the Unitarian Players' production staff work together to prepare the stage for the November 14 and 15 presentation of "Kind Lady."

Under the direction of set designer Bob Sibley, Dick Wilcox and Dave Thoms are constructing stairs, doors and walls for the old London living room. Trudy Irving is the artist. She has the help of Lesley Wilcox, Ann Hilliard, Ellie Hoag and Gail McNeill. Lighting and sound effects are being created by Steve Funk, Ted Read, Craig Nicholson and Rich Hillger.

Wardrobe chairman Marge Labedz, with the aid of Shelby Saylor, is busy costuming this English society which peoples the psychological drama. At rehearsals Charlotte Hill, Joan Benson and Jennifer Sibley are alert to the need of just the right props for the players.

If a line is forgotten in rehearsal, the actors listen for the prompting of Penny Sibley and Betty Ann Pritchard. Ann Carrigan will be ready with her makeup kit on the week of production. Cecil Prest is designing the program which will be distributed by Dick Barnard and his ushers.

The cast is ably supported by production manager Gerry Patrick and Peg Magnusen, stage manager. Doris Bryant, Shirley Puffer, Edith Brown and Jean O'Brien are planning refreshments for the audience and cast. Marge Thoms, assisted by Cecil Prest and Nicky Labedz, is handling publicity.

For tickets call Joy Wooley evenings at 729-2753.

Last Lecture For Babysitters Slated Tonight

Tonight is the final Lecture of the Winchester Jaycee-ette's Baby Sitters' School. The featured speaker will be Mrs. Brain Meyer of 13 Stone Avenue. The topic is "The Control and Entertainment of Children."

Mrs. Myer, a graduate of Newark State College, was previously associated with Green Acres Nursery School and the Winchester Public Schools. She is now a teacher at the day nursery at Crawford Memorial United Methodist Church.

Activities and attitudes which will make child care a pleasant experience for sitters will be discussed. Included in tonight's session will be tips on handling children of various ages, dealing effectively with meal and bedtime routines and understanding and responding to their needs.

Next week there will be a final exam.

Drive in the travel lane and observe posted road signs, suggests Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies. Lane hopping can be a dangerous game with the tragic results. Road signs are posted to help save your life and ignoring them is quite literally taking your life into your own hands.

Be Fooled!

How many times do you pick up a paper or listen to a radio or TV commercial and hear a price on rugs... a price that is so fantastically low... you can't believe it?

It happens every day... and consequently someone gets taken in on another false lead. There were rugs at that price on sale, but by the time you got there, they were all sold out.

Or, you did get to see some of the merchandise on sale... but it wasn't what you really needed (so the salesman said) and you were guided over to the higher priced merchandise.

Or, if you were 80 years of age and wanted the rug to last you a lifetime, it was the one to buy!

Let us say it again for all to see and read: "We offer the best buys and will never forsake quality and service for a price!"

Editorials:

Vote Yes

One week from today the choice will be given to the Winchester voters either to approve an additional expenditure of $3,100,000 for the proposed high school on Shore Road, or to disapprove the money and force the whole project back to the drawing boards in the effort to produce a school under the $10 million voted for the school in February 1968.

Many, many figures have been tossed about by both the proponents and the opponents of the additional expenditure. The most important figure to remember, however, is that we have already spent or committed $1,254,000 to this project. Without the school that money is essentially wasted. We still will have a playing field, but one that is too far from the High School for the students to get there and back while still accomplishing the requisite amount of physical education in a class period. And, state aid will not be forthcoming on the money since the project, as approved by the School Building Assistance Bureau, would not have been completed.

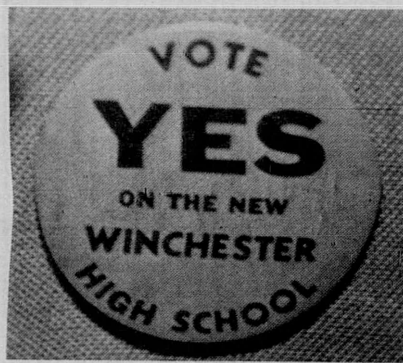

Opponents of the project have called the building too large. They especially seize on the open campus plan recently approved by the School Committee, which would allow students to choose whether or not to remain in the high school building during their study periods. The opponents look to this to remove 200 students from the building each period. This would, they say, then bring the operating enrollment of the high school down to 943, the capacity of the present high school. On the surface, this looks like an ideal solution. Unfortunately, it doesn't have the miraculous property of being able to make students disappear. The fact remains that each student must have parental permission to participate in the program, and, realistically, how many of you are going to want your students free to wander during the school day? Will the number who receive permission be nearer 100 or 200? Also, this is a temporary program which the School Committee has approved — a trial run to see if it may be implemented in the new school. This does not mean it will be permanently included in the high school program. And, if indeed, 200 students per period manage to have permission to leave the school, how many are actually going to use that permission when it is bad weather?

In an article in today's Star, the opponents of the additional money state that Winchester High "positively" will retain its accreditation. They go so far as to state that they "guarantee" it. On what grounds can they guarantee Winchester will retain its accreditation when the executive secretary of the accrediting association warns that unless construction is begun on the new school there is serious danger that the school will lose its accreditation?

The opponents, we grant, may have some real questions to ask about the school. This is not, however, a new project. These questions and objections have been raised for years. Let's not look to magic solutions. Neither the problem of providing a good education for our children in these days of rising costs, nor the children themselves are going to disappear.

When you enter the voting booth next Thursday, remember the children and vote yes.

Editorial Comments

Several times in the past, the Star has, through its editorials, condemned high speed car chases by the police on the theory that high speed can cause loss of life and property.

Last night's Meritorious Service Award to Police Officer Peter Morgan for a high speed chase, we believe, however, was well-earned. Reacting immediately to the situation, even before the police were called by the store, Officer Morgan initiated the chase which eventually stopped the gun men. For his quick reaction and his follow-up of the robbers without thought for his personal safety, Officer Morgan deserves the honor awarded him.

Veterans' Day will be observed here Tuesday with the usual parade and the placing of wreaths to honor those Winchester residents who have served in the Armed Forces. This year it is particularly necessary that we set this day apart to honor, without political overtones, all those men and women who have served this country in its Armed Forces despite their own feelings for or against the country's policy. Let's not allow our views of the war in Vietnam or of the necessity for peace blind us to the fact that these men and women deserve our thanks for defending this country, not only in wartime, but also in peacetime. They have won for us a country where it is still possible to dissent.

Scheduling

One partial solution to the scheduling-overcrowding problem in the fall of 1970 may be a 10-period day. Mr. LaRocco explained that the building would then be in use from 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. with regularly scheduled classes of 50 minutes each. The State minimum requirement is 200 minutes of classroom experience per pupil each day. A five-period day would clear this minimum with 250 minutes.

The major objective is to free classroom space. At present regularly conducted classes, counseling and other activities are meeting in various odd spaces in the building, the chemistry, physics and industrial arts laboratories are definitely unsafe and the physical education courses are also overcrowded to the point of both jeopardizing safety and being ineffective.

Increased classroom space and the subsequent lowering of individual classroom enrollment brings about the need for additional teaching staff. Mr. LaRocco also noted. To reduce the size of both the Advanced Placement classes, which have grown above the recommended standards, and of regular classes over 25 or 30, approximately seven additional teachers would be needed.

Double sessions would necessitate a personnel increase of 15 to 20 per cent, Mr. LaRocco said. In addition negotiations with the staff over working conditions would have to be conducted. Double sessions would also limit the use of the school building for the extra-curricular activities of students and by the community.

Portable Classrooms

Another proposal for scheduling in 1970 involves moving the three temporary classrooms from the Mystic School to the High School and the purchase of two additional portable classrooms, one of which would be utilized as a laboratory. According to Superintendent of Schools Donald A. Klemer the cost of this plan would be approximately $48,000 in 1971, lowering to about $23,000 in 1971.

Responding to a question from the audience as to whether the new Regional Vocational School might relieve some of the enrollment excess in Winchester, it was felt that there would be no substantial change here. Mr. Niblock cited past experiences in which students suited for vocational training did not wish to attend school outside the Winchester community.

Dr. Klemer also expressed concern about the possible additional closings of parochial secondary schools, such as Austin Preparatory Academy in Reading.

The School Committee, which lacked a quorum this Monday and therefore could not convene formally, will meet on Monday, November 10, at 7:30 p.m. in the McCall Junior library.

Questions

"4. Q. Why have costs increased so much?

"A. Because our architect took so long in the planning and the building is larger than originally planned.

"5. Q. Do the high school students really need air conditioning?

"A. Because of the way the building is designed if the air conditioning unit breaks down or becomes inefficient in any way the school would have to be closed. We would have a $13 million building which could not be used. It would be a health hazard and would be impossible to properly ventilate.

"Q. What is the purpose of the swimming pool?

"A. Knowing how to swim is not a requisite for College Boards. Why tax the citizens one cent more than is necessary.

"7. Q. By appropriating an additional $3,100,000 to the original $10,070,000, don't we tip off the contractors how much to bid?

"A. Yes, we are letting all contractors know that we will pay whatever it costs, after all only one valid bid was received who is to say that we will have competitive bidding the next time. Hope you don't run your households in this manner.

"8. Q. Who are our Building Committee members?

"A. With two lawyers on the committee, did they sign a contract with our architect binding the town for his fees, whether or not we build a high school?

"9. Q. How about adding to the present high school?

"A. In the light of the taxpayers ability to pay, the increased interest rates on long term loans, an addition would be the only sensible thing to do. Sorry our little lads can't jog down to the new playing fields. High School students jogged down to Ginn Field for years, there's no difference in the distance whatsoever. The students could still stay in the building while construction is going on. They don't evacuate a hospital while new wings are being built, if sick patients can stand it, it would seem well students could also. Construction won't last forever.

"10. Q. Are we in danger of losing our accreditation?

"A. Positively guarantee that Winchester will not lose its accreditation."

Dr. Cotton noted that several schools, Roslindale and Boston English High Schools among them, had recently been warned by being placed on probation because of their inadequate facilities. The Association was now ready, he said, to drop any such school if nothing is done after one or two years on warning.

"What would being dropped from accreditation mean for Winchester and its students?" Dr. Cotton was asked. "Every boy and girl in your senior High School has a transcript of his record, and up in the corner of that transcript it now says 'Accredited by NEACSS,' Dr. Cotton explained.

If Winchester were dropped by the Association, he continued, every graduate of the High School sending a copy of his transcript (without NEACSS accreditation) to an employer, trade school, nursing or clerical school, junior or four year college would suffer. "Of course, the outstanding student will probably still get the education he wants," but Dr. Cotton emphasized, "it's the average young person who will certainly be hurt."

The failure of the Town, he said, would be held against its young people. "Besides," Dr. Cotton asked, "what coach or teacher would want to join the Winchester staff then?" He further raised the question of what might happen to Winchester's membership in the new Regional Vocational High School if the town were put on probation, and he suggested that after the reserved placed Winchester's applicants to the vocational school might suffer in comparison with applicants from the towns with fully accredited schools.

Dr. Cotton concluded on a note of general warning. "We send a team to reevaluate every college and secondary school every ten years, whether it's Boston University or Brookline High School. Winchester comes up again in 1973, and if your new senior High School building isn't ready after our warning a year ago, I'd hate to think what might happen. I know I wouldn't want to be living in Winchester if you're dropped from the Association."

BOOK REVIEW

DONA FLOR AND HER TWO HUSBANDS

by Jorge Amado

Brazilian novelist Amado has written an enchanting book, but high honors also to the translator, Harriet de Onis. Dona Flor is described as "raunchy" by one reviewing source. That it is, but in such a Latin way and so well rendered into the American idiom that it is not the least bit offensive. Sex is fun in Bahia and one does not feel like a voyeur when reading about it. It is natural, exciting and completely taken for granted as much as is eating or gambling — and enough details are left to the range of the reader's experience, or at least imagination, to be very refreshing.

Flor is all a young girl should be—beautiful, curvaceous, demure and modest—when she falls madly in love with Vadinho—gambler, liar, womanizer and utterly irresistible rogue. And he is in love with Flor although he can never change his ways for her. They marry, to the consternation of her family and his friends (all of whom know him for what he is, but find his company the best possible). Naturally he makes Flor miserable—gambling and losing her money as well as everyone else's, staying away for sometimes days as well as nights, continually flirting and having affairs. But when he does show up, he more than makes up for his peccadilloes. Completely in his thrall, Don Flor opens a cooking school and supports her charming rake in the style to which he has always managed to be accustomed. Many students are more attracted to "The School of Savor and Art" by the possibility of seeing Vadinho than by the joy of cooking.

But Vadinho dies suddenly of a heart attack, leaving Dona Flor a young widow. She is disconsolate despite her friends' insistence that her death is her good fortune. Warmth, gaiety and love have left her. She almost loses her reason. However, within a year, Dr. Teodoro, pharmacist, has asked for her hand. She accepts his stability and bashful affection, but he is never Vadinho. His life is lived by clock and calendar, he is a model of normalcy and Dona Flor, though fond and grateful, grows bored, then finally frantic. And what happens? Vadinho comes back, her need of and longing for him break the bonds of non-being, but only she can see him.

Only Flor can see Vadinho in his impossibly immodest, but his close friends can feel his presence and hear his unspoken advice. What he does to the gambling world! Until, because they cannot lose, his friends leave the tables, since gambling is impossible with a sure thing and all the excitement is gone. Of Flor's relationship with her former husband, you must read for yourself.

There are fascinating details of Bahian dieties and rites, snatches of native songs, some very strange recipes. There is color and flavor on every page and some of the loveliest descriptions of nature imaginable. Any reader who likes the Latin-American (nonpolitical) scene is bound to be delightfully involved.

Urges "No" Vote On Referendum

Editor of the Star:
In the October 30, issue of the Winchester Star I noticed with concern that the Citizens for the New High School are under the impression that the referendum is being conducted in order to stop the building of a new high school.

This is not the matter of issue. The referendum is being conducted in order to facilitate the building of a High School for $10,070,000 not $13,170,000. In order to clarify the situation we are only voting, at this time, to affirm or deny the additional expense of $3,100,000. Do we need the additional space that the Committees tell us we need?

At the October 27 meeting of the School Committee an open campus plan was accepted. This plan in my opinion strengthens the need for the referendum. If 200 students vacate the building per period, and our total enrollment is 1143 that brings our operating number to 943. This plan is going to be in existence in our new High School, will we have a $13,170,000 High School one-third empty?

May I also suggest, at this time, the School Committee members never vote on an article of this importance the evening it has been presented. Table it till the members have had a chance to do some homework.

Why is it that the new High School is costing one third more per foot to build in Winchester than in other communities? It Should Not! Vote No on the Referendum.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Anthony Pronski
128 Washington Street

Incinerator

Editor of the Star:
With all the talk we hear nowadays about air pollution I am indeed grateful that we had the wisdom and foresight to invest a paltry million or so dollars in a big, beautiful, red-brick incinerator.

Otherwise we might still be using an unsightly, unsanitary, old-fashioned sty dump for the disposal of our waste material.

Yours very truly,
Clarence S. Borggaard

Teaching Staff Lists Problems In High School

Editor of the Star:

The writers of this letter enjoyed the advantages of boyhood in Winchester and education in the schools of the town some time ago. More recently we have spent more than twenty years as colleagues on the faculty of the high school. Over this period we have been Winchester citizens, and we are well acquainted with the tax burdens faced by our fellow townsmen. We urge, nevertheless, that the voters of Winchester support the appropriation of money for the new high school, so that the boys and girls of the town can enjoy the type of program that they should have.

We know from past experience the confusions of double sessions, with their forced curtailing of academic and athletic programs; and we are now feeling the terrible frustration that accompany our attempts to carry on in a plant that is far too small for the student body. At the present time Manchester Field is overcrowded with the gym classes of the regular school day. In the fall afternoons, teams are farmed out to Ginn, Shore Road, and Leonard Fields, and in the spring there is even more difficulty finding space for the practice and play of various groups. The crowding of our winter sports teams into the balconies, halls, and classrooms near the gymnasium creates an almost impossible situation.

Similar crowding takes place every day in our classroom areas, where teachers' headquarters are sometimes nothing more than a briefcase and chair in a corner of the corridor. Our program of English composition conferences suffers repeatedly because stations are not available where teachers may meet students. The efforts of the reading specialist are plagued by a steady flow of traffic to and from the book storage area. Labs are unable to accommodate the numbers of students in our science courses, and the setting up of lab demonstrations is extremely difficult. Library, lunch room, and study areas suffer in similar ways.

We earnestly hope that Winchester voters will provide the new school that our boys and girls need so desperately.

Sincerely,
Henry T. Knowlton

Reviews Issue Of High School

Editor of the Star:

A thorough review of the issue of authorizing an additional $3.1 million dollars for the new high school convinced me that the only meaningful decision for the Town was to authorize the expenditure. This review was based on reading all the published information on both sides of the question, discussions with High School students and teachers, attendance at presentations by the Building Committee, and feedback from voters in Precinct One. I sincerely believe that other Town Meeting Members did their homework on this issue.

Their vote reflected a decision that was based in the best interests of the town.

The majority of people who oppose the $3.1 million expenditures have indicated to me that their opposition is based on their inability to pay for this tax increase. As a taxpayer I sympathize with them; however, this does not alter the need for a new high school. Further delays will only cost us more in the long run. Property values will drop if our high school is forced into double sessions. If the people of Winchester sincerely desire a reduction in town services, it would seem appropriate to initiate cuts in other areas of the budget rather than education.

I urge every citizen who supports the new high school to vote yes on Thursday, November 13. The no votes will be out in force.

Respectfully,

Speaking Out

Editor of the Star:

The time has come to speak out in defense of our School Administration. Week after week discouraging meetings take place. Invoices of abuse are hurled not only at our fine chairman, Harriet Dieterich, but also at our conscientious administrators by their own School Committee!

In past years School Committee meetings I attended ran smoothly, impressing me that the School Committee served to aid and abet the Administration in carrying out new educational programs and building programs as the new High School. Now it seems that every meeting is more like an inquisition. One member even seemed to question the need of a new high school. Instead of "aiding and abetting," three particular members seem bent to destroy the very institution we elected them (one was appointed) to preserve. I am appalled at the discourtesies shown to our administrators and to Mrs. Dieterich. It was so bad that when one abusive member left the room for a drink of water several seated near to me breathed a sigh of relief and said they hoped he would not return.

The avalanche of demands by these members for more data to be researched on each careful presentation is debilitating for administrators to have to cope with week after week. The long, grueling hours spent in preparation are discounted. How can we move ahead? Since two of the Committee members work in the same company, it appears that one is boss, not acting like a free agent. The innovative educational ideas we voted him in for are not apparent. The ultra-conservative ideas and ineffective tactics of the other are fairly rigidly followed.

I was appalled at one member's disbelief of the carefully worked out population projection and statistics of crowding in the High School as though our administrators were making it all up! Again this made it seem like an inquisition.

I have been on boards where one disruptive member so dominated and succeeded in interjecting his negative views that absolutely no positive action took place. Only the most seasoned, skillful moderator could have handled him. The minute he was dropped from the board, positive progress started and a cohesive board could move ahead. The poor School Committee has not one but three negative members. Consider the poor chairman!

This abusive disruption is so discouraging that if allowed to continue a mass exodus of our fine administrators would not surprise me plus a loss of many fine teachers. Why put up with this?

It behooves all who do not believe this to come themselves to see our School Committee in session. (I have heard that executive sessions are truly shocking!) I am sure that like me, after a long absence of attending School Committee you will depart with deep feelings of despair for the future of our schools.

Sincerely,
Frances B. VerPlanck

Urges "Yes" Vote In Referendum

Editor of the Star:

So much has been said and written concerning the need for a new high school in Winchester that it seems unlikely that anyone in town could be unaware of this need. If anyone does not believe the present facility to be inadequate, I suggest a visit during school hours. Look into the laboratories, the shops, and the classrooms and, above all, watch the corridors during a change of periods. Ask yourself whether effective teaching and learning can proceed in such overcrowded and under-equipped facilities. Ask yourself also whether the children could be evacuated quickly and safely if an emergency should occur in this overcrowded building. I am sure that all who would visit the school would agree with the very pressing need for a new building.

All of us are seriously concerned with any action by the Town which threatens to increase our already heavy taxes. This may be more important to those of us in the low and middle-income brackets than to those in the highest brackets. I am concerned about our ever-increasing taxes and, because I am, I ardently support the extra appropriation for the new school. To refuse the additional funds would set the entire project back a year or more; it would not eliminate the need. We would find ourselves faced with the impossible task of trying to design a high school acceptable both to the townspeople whose children will go there and to the State, which will provide 40 per cent of the funds on a budget inadequate for either.

Finally, a year or more from now, we would witness the presentation at Town Meeting of plans for a barely adequate new high school at approximately the cost now facing us. Any cost that could have been saved by eliminating one feature or another will have been offset by the constantly increasing cost of labor and materials.

What will we have saved on our taxes? Nothing. What will we have gained? Nothing. What will we have lost? Quality education—in sciences, social studies, shops; in athletics, band, orchestra; in all areas for all students.

This referendum is of great importance to all of Winchester. Please vote yes.

Fewer Students May Be Expected In Campus Plan

Editor of the Star:

In the October 23rd issue of the Star, front page, our Superintendent presented the citizens of Winchester with the enrollment figures of our schools at the present time.

He states in his announcement—total enrollment for Senior High, 1,143 students; McCall, 629; Lynch, 678.

At the October 27 School Committee meeting, the open campus plan was accepted, which means 200 students can leave the school building per period.

As of November 17 this year, when this open campus plan will be implemented, 200 students leaving the building at any one period during the day will bring our operating enrollment down to 943, which the building was designed for.

By 1972, if all goes well, using these same figures, we will have a total enrollment of 1307 minus 200 (which will be permitted to roam) leaves us with 1107 students.

If we are operating with 1143 students presently, do we need a new high school for 36 less students?

Sincerely,
Mrs. Jennifer Flowers
9 Winter Street

Referendum Is Democratic

Editor of the Star:

I read with interest Mrs. Frazier's letter in last week's edition, and have some thoughts on the subject of town government. The fact that 350 people in Winchester can bring the whole town out to vote is an aspect of democratic government that I would not like to see abolished. It prevents rule by a "machine" or by the "establishment." If it came to be used too often it would lose its importance, but if people sincerely believe that a Town Meeting action does not have town wide support they should have recourse to referendum. I might well want that recourse myself sometime.

However, there are some interesting facets to how people vote as Town Meeting Members. I am very impressed with the effort made to inform Town Meeting Members of the many sides of an issue, and I'm also impressed with the effort these busy people take to read the material they get and to inform themselves. I don't feel they should take a poll of their constituency — if they vote contrary to the wishes in their precinct they need not be returned to Town Meeting the next time they run for office. Then, this is a reasonably well informed body that votes for what it feels is best for the town — and besides that, the vote is public for other Town Meeting Members and the spectators to observe.

The privacy of the voting booth is a different matter. Any number of factors can enter into your decision here. Are you sore at the School Department because your child is bused to Vinson-Owen, or because your child does or does not attend Muraco? Are you peeved at the faculty because your child didn't get to take a language in seventh grade—or wasn't put into one of the higher tracks? Do you think he'd be doing as well as Johnny if he had the best teachers the way Johnny does? In other words is your vote going to be a matter of conscience or petty issues?

Many people are also very worried about their tax bill but when it has been demonstrated by so many votes at Town Meeting that indeed Winchester does not require a new school, saying we can't afford it is like sticking our heads in the sand—the need simply will not disappear. If not now, later. So now is the time!

I hope when the citizens of Winchester go to the polls on Thursday, November 13, they will think of the needs of the town in general, of the children in particular, and give a boost to their own property values in the bargain. Please take the trouble to vote and vote yes.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Nolan T. Jones

Vets Day

Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 3719 of Winchester also have called on all community organizations to join with the VFW in "Operation Speak Out" which is a program designed to encourage the "silent majority" to show their support of the government on the Vietnam question the week of November 9-15, which includes November 11, Veterans' Day.

Speaking on behalf of Post No. 3719, Commander Connors said: "Vietnam Moratorium Day last October 15 has given the world and especially Hanoi a distorted view of the true feeling of the majority of the people in this country. It is the belief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars that the majority of the people in this country do support our men in Vietnam and the position of our government.

"It seems tragic that there are those in this country who support the position of Hanoi while American servicemen are daily being killed by troops of Communist North Vietnam and the Viet Cong. It is time that the silent majority let their will be known publicly. For this program to be effective and reflective of the community mind, it is my hope that all other civic, fraternal, patriotic, labor, religious and other organizations here will join with us and make this a true community effort."

Commander Connors also stated that Raymond A. Gallagher, V.F.W. commander-in-chief, is calling on all other national organizations to join with the VFW in this undertaking.

A freshman at Emmanuel College, Boston is Miss Mary Frances Weiffenbach, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George C. Weiffenbach of 17 Sheffield Road.

"Think-In" Series Is Planned At St. Mary's

On Thursday evening, November 13, the first "Thursday Think-In" lecture will be conducted in Saint Mary's Hall.

The think-in session will open at 7:45 p.m. with a dessert hour. At 8:15, a lecture will be given by Reverend Arnold Hogan, S. J., followed by a question and answer session. The evening will close promptly at 10 p.m.

Father Hogan's topic will be the new morality. The speaker is currently studying at Harvard University and is visiting professor at Saint John's Seminary in Brighton.

The Spiritual Development Commission of St. Mary's parish welcomes all the adults and young adults of Winchester to this think-in. The aim of this adult education program is to acquaint adults and young adults with the current changes and views within the Catholic Church.

Parish Players Present Show Tonight At Church

Tonight is opening night for the Parish Players' fall production "Tiger at the Gates."

After weeks of work on the part of the production staff and some late rehearsals on the part of the cast, the Giraudoux play is ready for its audience.

The colorful costumes and spacious set will provide Winchester residents with an evening's performance of the story of Helen, the Greeks, Paris, Hector, war and peace, with some unusual dimensions to these well-known historical figures and facts.

Performances will be tonight, November 6th, Friday, November 7th, and Saturday, November 8th at 8:30 p.m. in Chidley Hall, First Congregational Church. Tickets will be available at the door. For advance sales, call Mrs. Michael Barrett 729-8078.

Congregational Church Fair Coming Soon

On Wednesday evening and all day Thursday, November 12 and 13, the annual fair of the First Congregational Church of Winchester will be held.

Sponsored by the Women's Association under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles L. Moore the theme will be "A Fair For All Seasons." Decorations are being made by Mrs. Walworth Williams.

Luncheon on Thursday will be served from 11:30 a.m. until 1 p.m. The menu is either corn or fish chowder. An afternoon tea is planned by Mrs. Frederick Cardin and features a chamber music concert by Marion Haffner and her ensemble.

There will be a Silent Auction organized by Mrs. Shailer Avery and Mrs. Frederick Stockwell.

Besides these special events there will be an array of booths. Aprons, under the guidance of Mrs. Clarence Gay, will feature a make-your-own kit. Mrs. Benjamin Goodwin and Mrs. Clifford Hamel are in charge of the Bakery and Candy Table. The Gourmet Table is run by Mrs. Lawrence Beckley and Mrs. Robert Beattie.

The Gifts and Hobbies Table is organized by Mrs. Jenness Eugley. Mrs. Gilbert Hood will again have her collection of Christmas wrappings available. The Grandmother's Corner with its smoked dresses and stuffed toys is being handled by Mrs. Ragnar Brandt. Mrs. Charles Dreyer is in charge of the Knit Shop; Mrs. Willis Hooker, the Jewel Box.

There will be used books and records collected by Mrs. F. Milne Blanchard. And what fair would be complete without White Elephants? This department is run by Mrs. Clinton Charles and Mrs. George S. Hebb Jr.

Mrs. D. C. Large is running the Children's Fair. This venture is restricted to the young only. This year there will be a puppet show staged by Mrs. Richard Diehl. There is baby sitting for those too young to attend with Mrs. Wallace McDonald in charge.

Mrs. Joel Alpert and Mrs. Robert Schulz, both of Winchester and alumnae of Connecticut College, are helping with the arrangements for a "Hey, look us over" reception for high school students on Tuesday, November 11, sponsored by the Connecticut College Club of Boston.

Mr. Boodakian Attended Rug Sales Seminar

Michael Boodakian of Koko Boodakian and Sons, Inc., of Winchester was among 75 retail rug dealers in the Greater New England area who recently attended a two-day sales seminar in Dalton and Hedges, Georgia, where they inspected the manufacturing processes of the Barwick Mills.

Dalton is appropriately called "the carpet center of the world." It was here that dealers were advised on the latest uses of man-made fibers in the manufacturing of carpets today.

Co-ordinators for the trip were Masters and Merrill, Inc., Barwick's rug distributor for the Greater Boston and New England areas.

Contemporary Passion Play Is Presented

Tim Mayer's drama "Jesus A Passion Play for Cambridge," the 90-minute special that won tumultuous praise last summer on Channel 2, will be repeated by demand Friday, November 14, at 8:30 p.m.

The play was performed at the Agassiz Theatre, Cambridge, in July, where Channel 2 recorded it under conditions that were far from ideal for television. Aired on short notice with little advance publicity, "Jesus: A Passion Play for Cambridge" produced a veritable flood of mail and phone calls. Mayer's portrayal of Jesus and other Biblical characters in jeans, sweat shirts and arm bands, but the vast majority expressed enthusiastic approval. It is about time for everyone to modernize Christ, said one "Beautiful and valuable," declared another; while a third admitted "I tuned in expecting to be shocked...I found it most interesting and rewarding and above all done with reverence and restraint."

Combining the words of the Gospels as recorded in the King James Bible with the blues music of Charles Ivers, the play dramatizes moments of Christ's ministry and the last 10 days of his life. Andreas Tauber, who starred with Richard Burton in "Doctor Faustus," heads the Harvard Dramatic Club Summer Players.

"Jesus: A Passion Play for Cambridge" was produced and directed for television by Christopher Sarson of WGBH.

Art Group To Visit Currier Gallery

The Winchester College Club Art Study Group is planning a visit to the Currier Gallery of Art, Manchester, New Hampshire. The group will meet at the museum promptly at 10:30 a.m., November 14.

The special exhibition at this time is "Nineteenth and Twentieth Century Paintings" from the Smith College Museum of Art. The selection is primarily French. Some contemporary artists of other countries are included in the exhibit for comparison.

Paintings by Monet, Manet, Courbet, Renoir, Degas, Picasso, as well as Ryder, Hassam, Whistler and Kirchner are a few of the masters exhibited. Guests are always welcome on the art trips.

David S. Brooke, director of the Currier Art Gallery, has offered to give a talk to the Art Study Group on the current exhibition and a short tour of the Art Gallery.

"Sock It To Me!"

"SOCK IT TO ME DAY!" is Sunday, November 16. W.H.S. Band members will call on residents that day to sell them slipper socks. They sold Paul Amico, right, a pair of slipper socks in advance. Funds raised from sale of the socks will be used to transport the band to an exchange concert in Montreal, Canada. Selling the socks to the chairman of the Board of Selectmen is Jan Eschner. Band Members Sell Socks To Finance Exchange Trip

"Sock It to Me! Day" will be Sunday, November 16. Winchester High School Band members will sell slipper socks throughout the town to raise funds for their exchange concert trip to Montreal.

The fourth annual exchange concert will take place in Montreal West High School in March, 1970.

Winchester students will spend Thursday through Sunday in Canada living in the homes of host families. This year's plans include students attending classes on Friday with their Canadian fellow band members. According to Frederick J. Murray, band director, "The opportunity to observe a different school system further expands the scope of the educational facet of the trip."

The concert trip also offers a tour of points of historical interest and experience of rehearsing and performing in a concert under a different director.

A concert by the Montreal band in Winchester in April will complete the exchange. The Winchester High School Band has performed in exchange concerts with bands in New Jersey, Connecticut and Rhode Island in the past three years. This year's trip will afford the students their first opportunity to play in a foreign country.

In order to make the Montreal concert trip possible, band members and Friends of the Band and Orchestra are making plans for the town-wide fund-raising campaign, "Sock It to Me! Day."

Miss Querol To Marry Mr. Welch

Mr. and Mrs. Jose M. P. Querol of Lawrence announce the engagement of their daughter, Ramona Dolores, to Frank X. Welch, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Irving Welch of 22 Baldwin Street.

MISS RAMONA D. QUEROL

Miss Querol is a graduate of Lawrence High School and is presently employed by the George J. McCarthy Insurance Agency, Inc. of Lawrence.

Mr. Welch, a graduate of Winchester High School, now works for High Voltage, Burlington. An April 25 wedding is planned.

Chick-Fish

In a mid-afternoon ceremony at the Martha-Mary Chapel, Sudbury on Saturday, November 1 Miss Gloria Worthen Fish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lessey Fish of 27 Ginn Road, became the bride of David Stockwell Chick, son of Mrs. Edwin Everand Chick of 24 Yale Street and the late Mr. Chick.

MRS. DAVID S. CHICK

The service was performed by the Rev. Roy L. Minich, D.D., minister emeritus of the First Church in Malden, Congregational, against a background of chrysanthemums, ferns and greenery. A reception followed at Longfellow's Wayside Inn, Sudbury.

The bride was escorted down the aisle by her father wearing a white gown with a wide band of pearls and crystal beads encircling both the empire bodice and the three-quarter length sleeves. The gown also featured a high scoop neckline and an A-line skirt with a chapel-length train. A band of pearls and crystal beads held her short veil of white illusion tulle in place. She carried a long cascade of Stephanotis with two white cattleya orchids.

Mrs. Robert L. Fish of Concord, sister-in-law of the bride, acted as matron of honor. Her sleeveless gown was fashioned with a narrow band of bronze beads trimming the brown velvet bodice, a high neckline, empire waist and ivory floor-length skirt. A stand-up cascade of pompons matched her halo headpiece.

Bridesmaid Mrs. James J. Pates Jr. of Lexington, sister of the bridegroom, was attired as the matron of honor.

Having the honor of best man was James J. Pates Jr. of Lexington, brother-in-law of the bridegroom. Usher was Robert L. Fish of Concord, brother of the bride.

Serving as guest book attendant was Miss M. Elizabeth Cheney of Cambridge.

Mrs. Fish wore a turquoise silk faille dress and jacket ensemble. The bride is a graduate of Colby Junior College and is a member of the Longwood Cricket Club.

Graduated from the Belmont Hill School and Harvard College, Mr. Chick was a member of the Iroquois Club and the Varsity Club while at Harvard College.

Following a wedding trip to Sea Island, Georgia, the couple will reside in Concord.

Of Social Interest

Hogan - Lincoln

In a nuptial Mass held at Our Lady of Solace Church, Syracuse, New York, at 11 a.m. on Saturday, October 25, Miss Barbara Jean Lincoln of Boston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. Dana Lincoln of Syracuse, and John F. Hogan Jr. of 38 Salem Street and Chatham, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Hogan Sr. of 38 Salem Street, were married.

MRS. JOHN F. HOGAN JR.

The ceremony was celebrated by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Jeremiah W. McCarthy and Rev. Peter Creed. Following the service a luncheon was held at the Hotel Syracuse Country House with a reception later at the home of the bride's parents.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress of silk moire accented by ruffles at the neckline and wrists. A matching bow held her short veil. She carried white roses.

Mrs. Robert Hess of Takoma Park, Maryland, served as matron of honor for her sister. She chose a dark green velvet sheath with ruffles at the wrists and a matching bow for her hair. Her bouquet was composed of yellow roses.

Best man was Patrick G. Zipp of South Orange, New Jersey. Richard D. Sheridan Jr. of Cazenovia, New York, nephew of the bridegroom, served as usher. Also members of the wedding party were David Sheridan and Peter Sheridan, both nephews of the bridegroom and both of Cazenovia, who acted as altar boys.

The bride is a graduate of the Rochester Institute of Technology, Rochester, New York. She is presently employed as a buyer for Grover Cronin, Inc. of Waltham.

Mr. Hogan attended Boston University and is now vice-president of the Standard Companies of Boston.

Following a wedding trip to Canada and Vermont, Mr. and Mrs. Hogan will reside in Woburn and Chatham.

Baker-Tonello

Miss Gayle Ann Tonello, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Natale F. Tonello of 26 Stevens Street, and Sunapee, New Hampshire, and Dean Roger Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Baker of North Creek, New York, were married by the Rev. Bernard M. Hoy in St. Mary's Church. A reception was held at the Winchester Elks Home.

MR. AND MRS. DEAN R. BAKER

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire, A-line dress trimmed with silk appliques on the skirt, hemline, cuffs, and collar. Stephanotis held her silk illusion full-length veil. She carried lilies and Stephanotis.

Miss Mary Louise Tonello of Winchester was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Rosemary Cannon, West Roxbury; Miss Marion Cataldo, Revere; Miss Margaret Finnegan, West Roxbury; and Mrs. Judith O'Brien, Woburn. Miss Cynthia Binding of Winchester, was her aunt's flower girl. They wore gold satin faille, A-line dresses with leg-of-mutton sleeves and gold carnations in their hair.

George Baker of Scituate was his brother's best man. Ushers were Edward Tonello, brother of the bride, Winchester; Alan Trumbull, Fryeburg, Maine; Carl Meisner, Cape Elizabeth, Maine; Dr. Gary Cole and Richard Plutch, both of North Conway, New Hampshire.

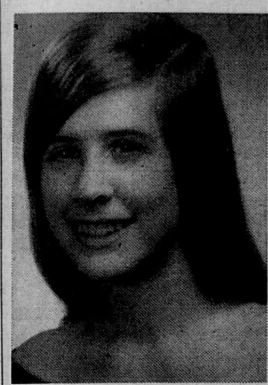

The mother of the bride wore an empire pink chiffon gown trimmed in silver. The mother of the bridegroom wore a sleeveless blue brocade gown.

The bride is a graduate of the Chamberlain School of Retailing. Mr. Baker is a graduate of Boston University. He was a member of the U.S. Army Ski Team, Garmish, Germany, and is now a buyer for Carroll Reed Ski Shops, North Conway.

After a trip to their vacation home in Nova Scotia, the couple will live in Fryeburg, Maine.

Miss Stewart To Wed Mr. Hoyt

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Stewart Jr. of 7 Winslow Road announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Ann, to Douglas B. Hoyt of Reading, son of Mrs. Dorothy F. Hoyt of West Palm Beach, Florida, and Willard D. Hoyt of Medford.

MISS PATRICIA A. STEWART

Miss Stewart is a graduate of Winchester High School and was awarded her degree in elementary education from Salem State College last June.

Mr. Hoyt is a graduate of Winchester High School and the Northeast Institute of Industrial Technology. Last March Mr. Hoyt returned from Vietnam where he served in the Army as a Radar Specialist with the 173rd Airborne Brigade for over 12 months.

A May wedding is planned.

Surprise Party Given Robinson's On Their Fortieth

A surprise party was held on Sunday, October 19 to celebrate the 40th wedding anniversary of Windover and Mary Robinson of 13 Nelson Street.

The gathering was held in the Social Hall of the Second Congregational Church. The collation was served from a buffet table decorated with a yellow and bronze centerpiece.

Almost 200 friends and relatives gathered to honor the couple. Those traveling the greatest distance were relatives from Prince Edward Island, Canada. The couple received many lovely gifts, including a money tree and a three layer wedding cake.

The occasion was planned and hosted by the Robinsons' daughters and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Clellan O. Bunn (Annette) of Winchester and Mr. and Mrs. Lennuel R. Cudmore, (Jane) of Woburn.

Miss Shepard, Mr. McManus Are Engaged

Attorney and Mrs. Richard C. Sheppard of 82 Salisbury Street and Brier Neck, Gloucester announce the engagement of their daughter, Joan Mary, to Henry E. McManus of Greenfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Salt of Wilmington, North Carolina, and the late Charles L. McManus.

MISS JOAN M. SHEPPARD

Miss Sheppard is a 1966 graduate of Winchester High School and will receive her bachelor of arts degree from the University of Massachusetts this coming January.

Golden Anniversary

WITH A CEREMONIOUS CUTTING OF THE CAKE Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gerardi of 17 Harvard Street celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary at a gathering of over 100 friends and relatives. (Ciro's Studio)

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gerardi of 17 Harvard Street celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, October 5 at a dinner party given by their children at Carroll's Colonial Restaurant in Medford.

The couple had been married in Sacred Heart Church, Boston on October 4, 1919.

Present among the guests, which included over 100 friends and relatives, were Mrs. Angelina Amari of Woburn and John Benenato of Somerville who had served as maid-of-honor and best man at their wedding in 1919.

Mr. Benenato again provided a toast to the honored couple. The sit-down dinner was followed by dancing.

Father Bernard M. Hoy of St. Mary's Church was also present to deliver grace and the Papal Blessing.

The celebration was planned by the Gerardi's children, William Gerardi of Melbourne, Florida; Mrs. Albert Matarazzo of Boston; and John Gerardi and Mrs. Frank DeAmato, both of Winchester.

The couple have lived in Winchester all of their married life. Mr. Gerardi is a member of the Christopher Columbus Society. He was formerly a patent-leather worker and retired several years ago as an employee of the Winchester Country Club.

Miss Dubinsky To Marry Mr. Pervil

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Dubinsky of St. Louis, Missouri, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sunny of 21 Eaton Street, to Alan Jeffrey Pervil of Boston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Pervil of Brooklyn, New York.

MISS SUNNY DUBINSKY

Having received her bachelor of science degree in secondary education from Boston University in 1968, Miss Dubinsky is presently working toward her master of education degree at that school. She is also teaching at Lynch Junior High School.

Her fiancé was awarded a bachelor of arts degree in 1963 from St. John's University and his bachelor of laws degree in 1967 from Portia Law School. He is now a practicing attorney in Boston.

A January 3, 1970 wedding is planned. The couple intend to reside in Winchester.

Home Decorating Show Presented At Boodakian's

Hints on the latest fashion trends were enjoyed by a capacity audience at a recent home decorating show held at the Koko Boodakian showroom at 1026 Main Street.

Presenting the program for Lees Carpets of Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, was Virginia Kramer, whose professional name is Anne Mason. Miss Mason is the director of Lees Carpets home decorator department, and has presented decorating programs in approximately 700 department, furniture and carpet specialty stores.

She has addressed more than 100,000 homemakers, talking with many of them in question-and-answer periods that follow each presentation. Miss Mason has counseled millions more in more than 250 radio and television appearances.

Proceeds of the program, which included champagne, coffee and oriental pastry, were donated to charity by Mrs. Grace Ann Bozian, Arlington Heights, who was selected as the winner of the drawing. Mrs. Bozian chose as her charity the Holy Trinity Armenian School located on Brattle Street in Boston.

Assisting Anne Mason with the home decorator program was Peter Marggraf and Dan Cogan, territorial managers for Lees Carpets.

Welfare Council Discusses Merger Of Regional Areas

Possibility of the merger of two regional planning areas of United Community Services of Metropolitan Boston, the North and North Central areas, will be explored by a committee of six prominent professional, labor and business leaders from the divisional committees of both areas at a meeting Monday November 10 in Lynn.

UCS, the voluntary health and welfare planning council for 65 Massachusetts Bay area communities, including 12 North area and 14 North Central area cities and towns, has completed a nearly two-year-long self study of its organization, structure, procedures and policies.

This month, at a special meeting in Boston, approval of the findings and recommendations of the self study will be sought from the more than 600 individual voting members of the corporation.

An integral part of the self study calls for reorganization of, and new emphasis on, regional planning as provided by the North Area Planning Division (NAPD), and the North Central Area Planning Division (NCAPD).

UCS also is the central budgeting, coordinating and research agency for the Massachusetts Bay United Fund, with central offices in Boston and regional offices in Lynn, Malden and Quincy.

From its Lynn office, the NAPD serves, in addition to Lynn, 11 other communities, including Bostford, Danvers, Lynnfield, Marblehead, Middleton, Nahant, Peabody, Salem, Saugus, Swampscott and Topsfield.

From its Malden office, the NCAPD serves, in addition to Malden, 13 other communities, including Burlington, Chelsea, Everett, Medford, Melrose, North Reading, Reading, Revere, Stoneham, Wakefield, Winchester, Winthrop and Woburn.

Hospital Honors Junior Volunteers

On Sunday, October 26, at the Winchester Hospital Continuing Care Unit, parents and friends honored the junior volunteers who have contributed over 8200 hours of service to the hospital during the past year by working on 11 different services.

Mrs. Phyllis Hollinshead, director of volunteer service, conducted the meeting, and Jack R. Hunter, assistant administrator of the hospital, presented the service awards.

Miss Betsy Lehand of Reading, was honored for contributing 300 hours to the hospital. Recognized for working over 200 hours as junior volunteers were Betsy Andrews, Gwen Best and Mary Elise Saulnier from Winchester, and Lindsay Crooker of Reading. Receiving awards for 150 hours were Jean Paolini and Rosemary Westra.

Recipients of pin attachments denoting 100 hours of cumulative service were Colleen Carafotes, Susan Casey, Margaret Conway, Maria Dixon, Janet Englund, Mary Goulet, Shirley Luongo, Barbara Schoellkopf, Linda Spencer, Mary Ann Villari and Sally Wood.

Junior volunteers eligible for the American Hospital Association's junior volunteer pin, denoting 50 hours of service within a year, were as follows: Robin Adamian, Deborah Carlson, Eileen Clegg, Susan Coronis, Janice Del Solio, Kim Ellis, Jennifer England, Ellen Fairbanks, Jeanne Fugere, Cherie Hanes, Mary Ann Iannelli, Marianne Leverone, Beth Mandeville, Cathi McHugh, Diane Michienzi, Peggy Odlin, Robin Richmond, Barbara Scholl, Joanne Stoeckel, Beth Wilmot and Maryrose Wilson.

Also honored on this occasion were the following volunteers who had already received their awards during the past year. They were:

150 hours: Mary Odlin.
100 hours: Roberta Dixon, Janet Gerard, Catherine Marrone, Margaret Millican, Mary Ellen Mulaney, Martha Nowell, Linda Rawding, Janet Scott, Marlene Vallas.

50 hours: Jill Anderson, Diane Della Svetura, Christine Favarat, Cindy Gould, Persis Gow, Martha Lewis, Isabelle McCabe, Marian Nowell, Elizabeth Regan, Wendy Roberts, Pamela Steward, Sue Tesar and Mary Anne Vaughan.

Miss Cherie Hanes, Betsy Lehand and Janet Scott assisted in serving refreshments to the girls and their parents after the presentation.

Invited guests were Mrs. Hiram L. Smith Jr., chairman of volunteer service for the Friends of the Winchester Hospital; Mrs. Robert Schulz, chairman of the Junior Messenger Service; Mrs. Gustav Kaufmann, chairman of the Winton Club Coffee Shop; and Mrs. John Caldwell, assistant chairman of the Coffee Shop.

Republican Hear Spaulding

"Politics is the people's business," said Republican Committee Chairman Josiah Spaulding at a recent Winchester Republican Town Committee meeting.

"What happens to the Republican Party in Massachusetts is not solely my affair, but the affair of all Republicans in the state," he added.

Mrs. Spaulding was the guest speaker at a meeting last Wednesday held at the home of Mrs. James Joslin on Dartmouth Street. The local committee chairman, Sherman Saltmarsh Jr., introduced Mr. Spaulding and turned the meeting over to him for his remarks and for a prolonged question and answer period.

Mr. Spaulding spent some time on the subject of finances, stating that a large percentage of Massachusetts citizens have never been asked for any political contribution. He outlined several projects to do with finance which are planned by the State Committee for the coming year. Frequently referring to himself as a "lame duck chairman" due to his coming retirement, Mr. Spaulding related many incidents of Republican involvement during the past few months.

Several members spoke about candidates and especially about the coming mayoralty contest in New York City. Some expressed concern relative to the Republican, Democrat and Independent race and its significance to the party.

Many members concluded that other round-table discussion-meetings similar to the one led by Chairman Spaulding would be of interest to not only members but guests as well. The next meeting will be in November.

Open House

The Noonan School Parents Association will hold open house, Wednesday, November 12 at 7:30 p.m. This is the night parents have the opportunity to visit their children's classrooms.

It is not the time to have a conference with the teachers. Conferences are being set up by the school for December 2, 3 and 4th for parents to discuss any problems concerning their children.

The ways and means committee will conduct a bake sale in the auditorium. Books will also be on display for the parents to view. Noonan children will have the opportunity to buy the books on November 13 during school hours. Flyers will be sent home with more information.

Parents are also reminded that this is the night to pay their dues.

Musical Revue

A theatrical production has been scheduled for Sunday and Monday evenings, November 9 and 10, at the Winchester High School Auditorium with members of the Saint Mary CYO and their friends making up the cast.

This theatrical endeavor, which is titled "Two For The Money", is a salute to showbusiness. Many unusual projection effects will also be used.

Ed Rooney, one of the East coast's best-known directors, is staging the entire production assisted by Marianne Dennis, a former June Taylor dancer as choreographer.

Among the talented cast members are Kelly Laughlin, Steve Mulloy, Stoney Jacobs, Annette Sullivan, Tim Wilhelm, Peter Wild, Patrice Duffy, Ben Dolan, Kathy Murphy, 'Chip' Emery, Dave Scott, Patty Belinowiz, Tom Lombardo, Alicia Paulson, Tommy James, Carol Anderson, Karen Trabucco, Phil Sampson, Lisa Grabau, Tony Adams, Bob Whitney and more than a hundred other people.

Tickets for "Two For The Money" may be purchased prior to each performance at the box-office. Rev. Bernard Hoy, general chairman, is reminding all that the curtain will rise promptly at 8:30 p.m.

Those Guttenbergs must be made of rubber — they keep bouncing back into first place! It seems they are the team to beat.

The Go-Getters put on a sterling performance and took eight points from the Dreamers. Betty Estlick and Marie LeMay deserve a round of applause for a good morning's work.

Leora Cummings had the high triple of 389 and the high single of 107. She was the chief reason her team, the Bowties, took the high team triple of 969 and the high team single of 333.

Boat Club

Annual Meeting Is Held

The annual meeting of the Winchester Boat Club was held at the Club on Friday, October 24, following a chowder supper served by a group headed by Dick Nelson, chairman of the entertainment committee.

The following were elected officers for 1970:

Commodore—Edward S. Shanley
Vice-Commodore—John R. Blake

Rear Commodore—E. B. Suncion
Secretary—Everett D. Littlefield
Treasurer—Walter Y. Josephson

The following directors were elected for 1970: Vincent T. Berger, George E. Dillon, Robert J. Halisey, Charles C. Hughes, Mark A. Lombardi, John J. McInnis, Richard T. Nelson, Andrew A. Smith Jr., Thomas Raphael, Ralph M. Swanson.

Stanley R. Gardiner, retiring after serving as treasurer for 17 years, was presented with a wall barometer and an inscribed plaque by the officers and directors as a small token of their appreciation of his many years of service to the Club.

The following trophies were awarded:

Shu-Shu-Gah—Robert A. McInnis
Commodore's Trophy — Peter Vernaglio
Geo. B. Field Trophy — Terry Cronbury
James A. Newman Trophy—Andy Smith
Wm. D. Hall Trophy—Tom R. Pichel

Fleet Captain Bill Wilde of the turnabout fleet reported that 72 turnabouts were in the water this summer, with many of them actively engaged in the racing program.

Bob Hallisey, the fleet captain of the Snipe Fleet, reported that there were 30 Snipes actively racing and that several of the Snipe sailors had made good showings at regattas at other clubs.

Both the swimming program and the sailing program trained many youngsters.

"Toys For Tots" Campaign Now Begun In Boston

The annual "Toys For Tots" campaign will receive a big boost as Greater Boston's leading newspapers, radio, press and television personalities gather today at the Boston Press Club in a salute to the 1969 "Toys For Tots" program.

This program conducted by the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve provides a new toy on Christmas morning to needy youngsters.

Lieutenant Colonel Howard N. Feist Jr., commanding officer of "Boston's Own" 1st Battalion, 25th Marines will make a presentation to the Press Club in appreciation for their assistance.

Begun in 1947 "Toys For Tots" is a community project headed by the Marine Corps Reserve. Last year 60,000 new toys were given to needy children. This program does not compete with any existing charitable organizations or other Christmas programs, but rather supports and augments the efforts of others. Our goals are all similar, namely the happiness of children on Christmas morning.

For further information call "Toys For Tots" 542-5100, Extension 458.

Wee Sachems Down Saugus

The 115 pound Winchester Pop Warner football team rounded out its home game schedule with a decisive win over an undermanned Saugus eleven.

Saugus received the kick-off and ran the ball back to the Winchester 30 yard-line before being stopped by Gary Beard. The Wee Sachems defense held for downs and took over for an offensive series before punting to Saugus.

Saugus, unable to move the ball, attempted to punt, but the kicker was tackled in his end-zone for a two-point Winchester safety.

Rudy Fiore returned the free kick to the Saugus 30 yard line and on the next play broke off-tackle to score Winchester's first touchdown. Mike Heffernan added the extra point and at the start of the second quarter Winchester led 9-0.

Winchester capitalized on long runs by Mike Heffernan and Andy Miga with Dean Devlin going the last five yards for a touchdown. The extra point was added by Andy Miga and Winchester led 16-0.

Following Winchester's kick-off, Saugus ran three plays for minus yardage and kicked. On the first play from scrimmage Rudy Fiore took a Miga pass and raced 40 yards for a touchdown followed by an extra point. The remainder of the half was uneventful until Andy Miga swung around his own left end and raced 50 yards for a touchdown which put Winchester in front by a 29-0 score.

At the start of the second half, the Wee Sachems second team took the field and played for the remainder of the game. Good runs were achieved by Mark Wilson and Brendon Riley, but the Winchester offense was unable to sustain a drive. They were hampered further by poor passes from center on punts. One such mishap resulted in a Saugus touchdown.

Jack Pantaleo, Bruce West, and Mark Wilson performed well in the Winchester defensive second half throughout the second half, but as the game reached a conclusion a penalty and a Saugus long pass summed to put the opposition on the scoreboard for the second time.

Bruce Hanes, Jim Corsaut, and Brendon Riley were the defensive spark plugs for Winchester during the second half enabling the Wee Sachems to gain their fifth victory in seven starts.

The 115 pounders will seek their sixth win next Sunday at Swampscott following the 100 pounders game scheduled for 1 p.m.

Pop Warner 100's Defeat Saugus

The Winchester Pop Warner 100's won their seventh game of the season by the narrowest of margins in a see-saw 26-25 victory over Saugus on Sunday.

The B's played a ragged game and did not appear physically or mentally up to the task, but just had too much talent to lose.

Saugus scored four times on long runs. The first one came near the end of the first quarter and put the juniors down 6-0. They got this back early in the second quarter on a broken play. Hemmed in at right tackle, Chuck Hayford wheeled to his left and outlegged the defenders on a 39 yard effort.

After the kickoff, Saugus put the B's in the air on first down. Steve Johns picked off the pass at the 29 and utilized the blocks of his quick reacting mates to speed over the goal. Les Bromwell ran over right tackle for the bonus.

Saugus rebounded on a 44 yard sweep early in the third quarter. Winchester mixed runs and Frongillo passes to bring the ball to the 11 yard line, and from there Doug Marr scored on a sweep to bring the score to 19-12. But Saugus shocked the locals with two more long TD runs and an extra point to lead 25-19 with only five minutes remaining.

Here the B's depth and versatility bailed them out. Their offense to this point had consisted of wide runs and passes. Now they turned to their fullbacks on straight power dives. Dick Errico raced from the 40 to the 26, Doug Marr bolted to the eight and Dickie blasted into the end zone. Hayford then followed Errico over guard for the crucial 26th point.

The 100's have games remaining on the next two Sundays at Swampscott and Wilmington. Winchester is the only Dual County League Team without a lighted field, and the players and coaches will be hard put to maintain the edge for these two tough opponents now that evening practices are impossible. It seems certain now that the B's will not be taking anyone lightly.

McCall Downs Reading 14-0

McCall Junior High School football team has developed into a formidable adversary under the direction of Coaches Dave Berman and Tom Kline.

Last Friday at Reading, the Spartans, controlled the battle almost entirely. Quarterback Peter Wakefield commanded his crew with a good mixture of passes, sweeps and line blocks. Paul Adams ran the ball in for a first quarter touchdown and Wayne Goodwin scored a two point conversion.

In the second quarter, Fred Labedz scored six points with a fine run on a sweep. The point after failed.

The defense made the difference in this game, breaking through with fiery determination, forcing Reading to hurry their plays and causing them to fumble or be thrown for heavy losses.

Dan Brennan intercepted two passes and nearly scored on the second one when he ran the ball back 35 yards before being brought down.

Jack Cleary just missed a tally when he broke through the line, twisting and spinning to the one yard marker before he was stopped.

McCall's record of three wins, one tie and one loss, the first game of the season, reflects the vast improvement and fierce determination and spirit created by the coaching.

The two remaining games, November 7 at Stoneham and the traditional game with Lynch Junior High to be played November 14 at Manchester Field promise to be the best of the season.

Field Hockey Ties Arlington

Tuesday, the girls' field hockey team, Sachemettes, challenged Arlington in their last away game.

The action was dominated by a good passing Arlington team in the first half. However, WHS wasn't without their skill. Goalies Sheila Murray and Terry Monahan stopped many hard shots by tough Arlington. Winchester just didn't have the needed punch to score.

Arlington's center forward made a tally late in the period to make it 1-0 Arlington. The second half changed considerably when WHS girls returned to their usual form. They kept plugging for an opening and Eileen McKenna came through in the clutch by popping in her 6th goal of the season.

The next few minutes looked as if they were going to be victorious but Arlington's defense held them. The final score was a 1-1 tie. J.V. won 2-0.

Friday, the team played Watertown, the only team to defeat Winchester last year. This year, spirited and determined tow in, Winchester proved their scoring ability.

Merily Obert, playing center forward, had a fantastic scoring binge. She scored twice in the first half and added two more in the second half. Eileen tallied another to make the final score 5-0. Winchester played a smart attacking game.

The defense was superb, preventing any sustained attacks by Watertown's forward line. Watertown didn't have a J.V. team so more, Karen Roche pushed a loose ball past the goalie to defeat the sophomores 1-0 in the closing minute.

Tanners Shocked By Class C Team

Lawrence High of Falmouth, which plays its football in Class C, surprised the Class B Woburn Tanners as it handed the neighboring eleven a stunning defeat 26-12. Coach Lenny Hill's boys are accustomed to much sterner opposition and the setback must be rated as a big upset.

The Cape Cod school has had fine track teams over the past two or three seasons, but its football eleven, although good in its own class group, was not figured strong enough to cope with Woburn's might.

However advance reports indicated that this was a good football team, and it certainly proved it Saturday by its fine play and decisive victory over the Tanners.

St. Mary's Soccer Is Defeated By St. Raphael's

In the final match of the season, St. Raphael's of Medford defeated St. Mary's CYO soccer team 4 to 0 at Playstead Park in Medford.

Notching this win, St. Raphael's has tied St. John's of Dorchester for first place, and a playoff will determine the championship.

St. Mary's playing a stout defense, was able to hold St. Raphael's to a lone goal during the first half. The Winchester boys were unfortunate in just missing a goal during this period, when a long ball booted by Ken Abbott went over the goalkeeper's head and fell just short of the goal by inches.

During the second half, St. Mary's fought desperately to contain the big St. Raphael's forward line, but was unsuccessful, as St. Raphael's added three more goals in this period.

Exceptional play was exhibited by hard-working forwards Tommy Waite and Chip Whitman, and the entire defensive unit, which limited the opposition to only ten shots for the entire game.

With this year's experience under its belt, St. Mary's team should be a strong contender for the league title in the competition next year.

Warriors Tie For Lead In Pee Wee Soccer

The West Side Warriors moved into a first place tie with the Central Cougars as a result of last Saturday's action at Leonard Field.

For the second straight week the Warriors knocked off a previously undefeated team as they downed the Washington Whips 3-1.

The Warriors jumped to an early lead on goals by Allyn Stillman and Norm Alpert. Plucky Nick Julian, playing with several stitches in his head, kept the Whips in the contest with a goal before the end of the first half. Norm Alpert put the game out of reach with an early second half goal for the Warriors.

Meanwhile, the determined East Side Eagles and front-running Central Cougars played to a scoreless tie. The Eagles had a territorial edge in play but were frustrated by the Cougar defense repeatedly.

The Southern Sachems stayed in contention with a 3-2 victory over the Wedgemere Wildcats in a bruising contest.

Sachem scorers were Mark Pistone on a rebound shot, Jack Driscoll on a penalty shot and Kevin Julian who tallied with just five seconds left in the half. David Neilson and Don Anino tallied on long shots for the Wildcats.

In a battle of winless teams, the Northern Stars pulled away in the second half for a 4-1 victory over the Mustangs.

The first half ended 1-1 on a Mustang goal by Dick Champoux matched by a Stars tally from Matt McCroary. McCroary, who has found the scoring touch in recent weeks, added two more goals in the second half to go with one by Frank Smedley.

As a result of an unfortunate injury to Mustang star goalie George Casey in the second half, the Mustang defense seemed to collapse as the Stars pulled away for the win.

Two Weeks Left

With two weeks left in the season the standings and schedule have brought about several interesting possibilities. Should the Sachems beat the Warriors and Cougars in their last two games, as many as five teams could end up tied for first place, causing endless headaches for program officials.

However, the balance of competition shows within the division has added spirit to the program.

This week finds the Southern Sachems attempting to trip up the Central Cougars in the game of the day. The Whips will attempt to bounce back against the Wildcats while the improved Northern Stars angle with the front running West Side Warriors and the Mustangs attempt to foil the East Side Eagles.

Standings

Central Cougars	W	L	T	Pts.
West Side Warriors	3	0	2	8
East Side Eagles	2	1	2	6
Washington Whips	2	1	2	6
Southern Sachems	3	2	0	6

Eastern All-Stars Pee Wee Champs

The All-Star Pee Wee game held last Saturday, November 1, saw the Eastern Division dominate the contest and win the game going away.

The first half was an even contest until the Western Division tried to kick on fourth down. The punter, John McCabe, was rushed by Bradley Marks and Bobby Maggio, who forced him to run with the ball, and as he tried to evade being tackled he was brought down on his own 5-yard line. The Eastern Division then took it in, with Ken Harrington scoring six points. Bradley Marks rushed for the extra two points.

In the third quarter the Eastern All Stars scored again after Bradley Marks again hurried the Western Division punter to kick a squibbler that went five yards. Billy Maggio on a quarterback sneak scored, and Bradley Marks again rushed for the two points.

The Western team tried to get back in the ball game with long bombs to Allen Krussell and Danny Adams from Quarterbacks Doug Meahl and George Parker, but the ball was thrown either too long or too short on several occasions, and the Eastern All-Star defenders broke up the other pass plays tried.

In the fourth quarter, the Eastern Division coaches sent in Joey Casey to quarterback their team. He then proceeded to take his team down the field, where he scored the final touchdown of the game on an option play around his left end.

The outstanding members of the Western Division All Stars on defense were Tom Collins, Jim Sullivan, Wesley Waters, Mark Dobbin, Dana Doe, Jackie Bergin and Allen Krussell.

The outstanding members of the Eastern Division All Stars were Bradley Marks, Bobby Maggio, Ken Harrington, Billy Maggio, Joey Casey, Anthony Macinanti, Tim Powers, Billy McLean and Tom Russo.

The coaches of the Pee Wees wish to express their appreciation for the officiating by Bob Gilberti and Tom Flaherty this season.

The scoring leaders for the five-game season played were:

Billy Maggio	44 points
Allen Krussell	36 points
Bradley Marks	34 points
Frank "Big" Cavarretta	20 points
Billy McLean	20 points
Tim Powers	14 points

Soccer Club Defeats MIT

The newly organized senior soccer club in Winchester defeated the "B" team from MIT in an exciting game last Sunday at Leonard Field.

MIT dominated the game throughout the first half running up a two-goal lead, as Winchester was troubled by loose play. It was a different story in the second half, as Winchester pulled together, and won on three booming goals by former Newswatch pro, John Scott. Also performing well were Benindio, Alvaray, Uriel and Hernandez.

The losing MIT team has arranged for a rematch in Cambridge next Sunday, in hopes of avenging this defeat.

The Whitten Gelatine Company of Cross Street has donated uniforms and equipment for this team, which appears to be on firm footing and which will possibly be entered in the Newswatch Area League competition in the spring.

In addition to the Guatemalan players who form the nucleus of the team, response from local players has been gratifying. There are more positions open, and any experienced players should contact Herb Cabral (729-5556) if they would like to join.

Belmont Looms Next Obstacle For Sachems

by John F. Parrell

Coach Bob Whaley brings his Belmont footballers to Manchester Field Saturday afternoon for the final home game of the Middlesex League season. The visitors rate just above the middle of the standings and have lost league games only to Melrose and Wakefield who are above them. Although strict form points the Sachems as probable winners, they must play a better overall game than that shown against Reading if the local team is to be sure of staying on top of the league.

The visitors are not known as a high powered scoring eleven having tallied only 47 points in five games but they are also solid on defense having yielded only 62 over the same stretch. Their forward wall is big and strong with weight well distributed among the seven players with an overall average of better than 185 pounds.

This group is led by Co-Captain Ralph Canina who is one of the finest tackles in the league. He moves his 210 pounds very well and is both fast and aggressive particularly on defense.

The other Co-captain is also part of the front line and Robert McDevitt, who plays at guard, pulls out of the line to do the punting. Frank Deltorto, the quarterback, is the passer and he will be remembered for some cool aerial work under heavy fire in a losing cause.

The Belmont team will be on the alert for any Sachem slip-ups and the home team can ill afford to allow them as many opportunities as they presented to Reading during the second half of last week's affair.

All the Winchester players came through in good physical shape and unless somebody picks up an injury in practice everybody will be able to take his turn. However, there are a few possible changes which may be made unless certain players can overcome the faults which contributed to the below par showing during the latter part of the game last week.

A good crowd is expected to be on hand to see the undefeated Middlesex League leaders as they struggle to maintain their position.

Pee Wee All-Stars Lose To Medford In Soccer Match

The Winchester Pee Wee soccer all-star team lost a hard-fought game to Medford last Saturday at Playstead Park, West Medford.

The score of 3 to 1 was no indication of the Winchester play, as two of the Medford goals were scored from free kicks awarded for rule infractions.

Winchester opened the scoring on a goal by Will Paglia, who took advantage of a loose ball in front of the Medford goal. This score held up into the second half until Medford pulled ahead with two goals, scored on a free kick and a penalty kick. Late in the game, Medford tallied their third goal.

The boys representing Winchester in the game were:

Norm Alpert, Jim Aylward, Mark Caputo, Gary Del Greco, Jack Driscoll, Pat Fortin, Kurt Illinger, Kevin Julian, Will Paglia, Mark Pistone, Skiff Sizemore, Allyn Stillman, Frank Smedley, George Vago, John Waite.

Lions Add To Lead In Bantam Soccer

The Lions practically clinched the title in the Bantam division of the Winchester Youth Soccer program by sweeping both of their games this past week.

The Lions stretched their unbeaten streak to six games and need only a victory over the Lancers this week to clinch the flag.

The Lions first defeated arch rivals Lancers 3-2 in what turned out to be a personal scoring duel with Chip Whitman getting the hat-trick for the Lions while Al Sampson countered with two for the Lancers.

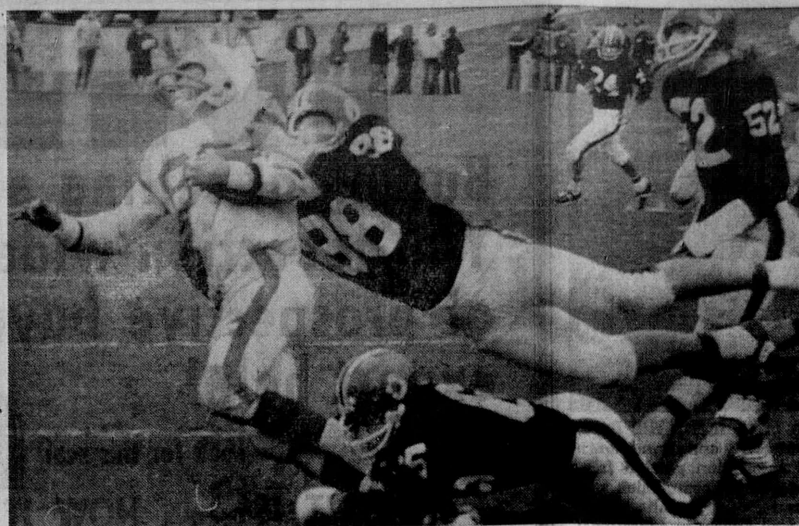

The Marauders then turned the tables on the Lancers by a 3-0 score with Glen Del Greco tallying all three for the victors. Will Paglia's fine goalkeeping protected the victory.

The Lions then moved to a commanding lead in the standings by edging the Marauders 1-0 on Peter Martin's goal. Turning in a fine effort for the Lions this week was Ed Shiang.

Sachems Rout Reading For 6th Straight Victory

by John F. Parrell

THERE WAS NOWHERE TO GO but down for this Reading player when he was tackled by Bill Wolfe (88) and Ron Fiorilli (65) while Noel Webb (52) looked on at Saturday's Reading-WHS game. (Joyce photo)

The Winchester High gridders "did their thing" Saturday afternoon at Manchester Field when they chalked up their sixth straight win at the expense of Reading. The final count read 26-6, but it was far from their best brand of football.

Reading under Coach John Hollingsworth, is usually a scrappy and talented team, but this year's edition lacks both size and experience. It has won only a single game and that by 17-16 against Lynn Classical, a Class A team but rated very near the bottom of the list. (Melrose cuffed Classical last week 60-20).

The Rockets gave their all and never quit right up to the end, but they played ragged football; and after building a half-time lead of 19-0 the Sachems started to play a similar game. As a matter of fact the second-half scoring was very even at six points for the Reading team, while Winchester scored only one more.

Coach Manny Marshall gave several of his seniors, who have been sidelined with injuries, starting or early assignments, and Co-Captain Dave Scott, Tom Riley, and center John Tello showed to good advantage. During the last period the reserves started to filter in, and the last half of the final period found many inexperienced boys playing for Winchester, including many sophomores.

With such groupings, play was erratic and was dotted with many penalties. The offense sputtered and there were missed handoffs and fumbles, but the defense played rather well to keep the visitors from tallying. Their closest approach was choked off on a pass interception in the end zone by Joe Campo.

Penalties

The game was characterized by flying official flags and many substantial penalties were marked off. Both teams were guilty of many infractions, but some of these might well have been termed of questionable nature. No coach wants the officials to close their eyes, but at the same time there is little need of over-officiating in a game which is neither close nor apt to change by official action.

The first half saw the home team, with Co-Captain Mike Gilbert passing very well, take an early lead and then tally twice in the second period to put the contest out of reach for Reading to all practical purposes. But once the second half opened the locals started their slippish football by fumbling twice in the first couple of minutes, and Reading scored its touchdown as a direct result. The Sachems later added three more fumbles to completely lose their momentum and give the visitors many more chances, which they failed to convert.

The defense, which had performed so superbly against the speedy and hard-running Melrose backs, melted completely on the Reading touchdown as Co-Captain Dave Merullo plunged 16 yards through the very heart of the Sachem line and right through the defensive backfield without so much as one hand to slow him. It was almost unbelievable to witness this feat against a line which enjoys hard contact and backs who usually back up the forward wall effectively.

On another occasion the same Mr. Merullo was allowed to roam into the end zone completely unguarded, but for the fact that the pass was not too well thrown the Reading team would have had another score. Then on one of the attempts for point after by Ben Dolan, the kick was smothered by the onrushing Reading front and as an observer put it, "If the first two defenders had missed there would have been a score."

The number of times that this has happened in the previous five games is few and far between.

Second Half

This was the story of the night-marish second half with the high-light a fine 87-yard runback of the Sachems by Bob Wolfe. He ran very well and was aided by a couple of good blocks, but from that point on the teams were trying to match each other's mistakes or the officials were marking off penalties.

At one point there were three fumbles in the running of four plays. There were a few bright

Tourney Bound Andover Stunned By Sachems 7-3

by John F. Parrell

In what certainly must be regarded as the most surprising of the schoolboy soccer season Coach Bouley's booters trounced Andover by a tally of 7-3. The losers have had ten wins against only one defeat and expected to make the Winchester team their 11 victim. They are playing in the State tournament this week.

As the season has gone, an Andover win was almost a foregone conclusion, since although Winchester has played good soccer, their strength has been more on their defensive play than on a high powered offense.

Tri-Captain Steve LaPointe, Robert Salvucci and goalie Mike Stephenson have kept the other teams to low scores, but the offense has not been too prolific in scoring although they have done well in controlling the ball.

Over the first half of the season, the Sachems used a basic 5-3-1 formation but were able to average only one goal per game. Before the first meeting with Woburn they shifted over to a 4-2-4 formation and since have been averaging three goals per game.

This placed special pressure on Tri-Captain John Puffer and half-back Bill Brink who play both on offense and defense and are the focal points of play by the new system.

Andover jumped into an immediate lead of 1-0 in the first minute of play but Winchester retaliated on a pretty play which came on a corner kick by Jim Beck which was headed into the net by Tri-Captain Peter Dow. Mark Grace and Dow pushed the lead to 3-1 but a corner kick by Andover saw the teams end the half with the locals in front by 3-2.

Sophomores Win Fifth Straight

Not to be outdone by the varsity, the sophomore gridders won their fifth straight game last week by beating Wakefield. They, too, are undefeated in action this season.

Neither team was able to mount a scoring offensive in the first quarter, but the Sachem sophs picked up two scores before the half came to an end. Bob Wolfe counted the first one on a sweep from 12 yards out and John Propolis tallied the other on a line plunge from the two yard stripe. Neither conversion attempt was successful.

The third quarter was also scoreless but both teams made a score in the final session. Tony Adams threw a perfect strike to Dick Powers to put Winchester on the board. Wakefield struck back as the kickoff was taken, ran back for a touchdown and then picked up the two point conversion.

The Winchester players: Backs: S. Desher, Porto, Tonello, Fucello, Evans, Garrity, Donovan, K. Riley, Adams, Procopio, R. Wolfe, Sullivan, Frongillo.

Linemen: Ferguson, Aubin, Powers, Strout, Carroll, Symmer, Bel-den, McCormack, Gennaris, Miller, Carr, Cincotta, Falzano, Carpinella, Callahan, Tranian, Hodgson, Lawton, Hallissey, Pirani, O'Leary, Lucey, Grenier, Vollmer, Grasty, Henry.

The score by periods:
Winchester '72 0 12 0 6-18
Wakefield '72 0 0 0 8-8

Booters Wallop Woburn 4-0

The Winchester soccer team ended a successful campaign Friday afternoon at Shore Road Field with a convincing 4-0 defeat of the soccer forces of Woburn. This brought the record to 7-1, and this was arrived at by playing some good soccer in the fast Middlesex League and by winning some exciting non-league matches.

Coach Bouley started the game with an all-senior lineup in order to give the boys who were playing as Sachems for the last time a well-deserved chance to play. The team started slowly and was able to tally only once in the early part of the contest on a goal by Tri-Captain John Puffer. Just before half-time Mark Grace netted the ball to give the home team a 2-0 lead.

Tri-Captain Peter Dow, the team's leading scorer, tallied twice in the second half to finish the year with 18 goals. The first of these was a beautiful shot across the goal mouth and into the upper right corner of the net. His other score and the last one of the game came a few minutes later.

Bob Whitney started in goal and played very well as he completely smothered all Tanner shots. The defensive play of the Sachems also aided him in his fine effort, which gave the Sachems their second shutout of the year.

With the growth in soccer interest locally it is expected that the new teams for younger boys will soon begin to contribute trained prospects for the varsity. There will be a good nucleus of returnees from this year's groups, and Coach Bouley is hoping for another good year in 1970.

David Harrison To Speak At High School

David E. Harrison, the chairman of the Massachusetts Democratic State Committee, will speak at a community forum, sponsored by the Winchester High School Student Council.

This will be held tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria, and all are invited to attend.

Lou Goddu Scholarship

Henry Knowlton, director of athletics at Winchester High School, has extended a plea to former WHS team captains to contact the seniors who were on their teams for contributions to the Lou Goddu Scholarship.

Lou was trainer at the High School from 1940 until retired in 1967. He died this past summer.

Donations for this fund may be sent to the Winchester Scholarship Foundation, c/o Charles Butler, Winchester Trust Company, Winchester.

Girl Scout Diary

On October 21, Junior Girl Scout Troop 486 visited the banding station at Manomet Bird Observatory, near Plymouth. The girls observed at first hand chickadees, crowned kinglet, downy woodpeckers, and purple finch.

Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Fiske, of the observatory staff, allowed the girls to release each bird as its weighing, measuring, and banding was completed. Mrs. Daniel Hritzay, Mrs. Donald Matthews, and Mrs. Stephen Moore supplied transportation.

Duplicate Bridge Club

On Wednesday, October 29th Section A played a complete eleven-table movement, each East-West pair meeting every North-South pair. It was a good close game in each direction; Ruth and Al Johnson were the North-South winners, and East-West, just to and Mrs. Championship title, Peggy and Phil Cade were first. (When Phil wins, he always modestly says "Just a fluke." However, it seems to me that enough flukes make a whale of a bridge player.)

At our table my partner North bid one spade, East passed, and sitting South I pondered what number of spades to say. Two spades doesn't do the hand justice; on the other hand, a jump to three spades promises more than is there. Oh, well, why not four spades? This means "I have a fine spade raise and think we have a good chance for game." (I can hear you saying, "If North has a heart fit and the Ace of clubs, you may be missing a chance for slam" and you're right of course. Two hearts is a better bid for South; it does, however, let the opposition in to find a possible diamond sacrifice.)

There is no problem in the play. East-West take their two club tricks immediately, but that's all, for with some judicious diamond ruffing, the King of diamonds shows up, letting North lead out trumps and play the good Queen of diamonds.

Lincoln Parents

On Tuesday afternoon, October 28th, classroom visits for parents were held at Lincoln School. A business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Robert C. Crockett, president of the Lincoln School Parents Association, followed the visits to the classrooms.

Mrs. Robert T. Grainger, president of Community School Association of Winchester, addressed the group and explained the role of CSAW and some of its activities and plans for the current year.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Paul Huckfeldt and her committee.

Organ Concert Will Feature Frank Renaut

Frank Renaut, internationally known organist, will appear in a special free concert, "An Evening at the Lowrey Organ," at 8 p.m. Tuesday evening, November 11. The concert will be held in the Wakefield High School auditorium through the courtesy of Melody Ranch of Wakefield and Lowell, sponsors of the presentation.

In 1968, adding to a career which began at the age of 14, he joined Fred Waring as the featured organist, and is now touring with the Waring show, playing the Lowrey theater console organ. At this local concert he will play several different models in the Lowrey line, later answering questions. Admission is free to the public.

The heart and blood vessel diseases are responsible for more industrial lost time than strikes and work stoppages.

BOUND FOR A 19-DAY TWO-OCEAN CRUISE to the Atlantic and Pacific coasts of South America, making ports of call in Colombia and Ecuador via the Panama Canal, are Captain and Mrs. J. Edward Sharkey, U.S.N.R. (Ret.), of 200 Forest Street. They are aboard the Grace Lines, "Santa Maria."

Muraco Parents Dinner-Dance

The theme is fall and the Muraco School Parents Association is cordially inviting all members and friends to come on Saturday, November 8 for an evening of dinner and dancing.

A ham and bean supper will be served in the school auditorium at 8 p.m. An evening of dancing to the music of the Dick Errio Quartet will follow.

Those who wish to purchase tickets may call Mrs. Giustino Baldacci, 729-3968; Mrs. Harry McLeod, 729-5042; or Mrs. Harry Bellino, 729-0214.

Burlington YWCA

The Burlington Y-Wives will meet Wednesday, November 12, at the Y.W.C.A., 6 Spruce Hill Road, at 8 p.m.

All interested persons from Winchester and surrounding towns are invited to come to the demonstration on papier mache, to be presented by Mrs. Sandra Whitney. Refreshments will be served.

Plans Are Growing For Vocational School

There is a man who moves through a dozen communities every day meeting people, answering questions and asking a few, filling and seeking speaking engagements before groups large or small, and who is attracting much attention. This is his purpose.

He may have the energy and determination of a political candidate, but he hasn't been living in the area long enough to vote. Yet he is looking for support, cooperation and understanding.

The man is Douglas J. Tilley, superintendent - director of the Northeast Metropolitan Regional Vocational School in Wakefield. He will be accepting students from 12 communities to attend this school which is slated to open next September.

Mr. Tilley has been criss-crossing Wakefield, Malden, Revere, Winthrop, Winchester, Saugus, Stoneham, Woburn, Reading, North Reading, Chelsea and Melrose to spread information among educators, municipal officials and the general public about the 1200-pupil co-educational facility. Tucked in the natural surroundings of 60 acres of pine trees, once part of MDC's Breakheart Reservation in Wakefield, the school is presently about 70 per cent complete.

One of the questions most frequently asked is the role which the local school departments will play in the regional concept.

Curriculum

"Ideally," Mr. Tilley explains, "middle school or junior high school industrial arts departments and vocational-technical school districts should form joint curriculum councils for purposes of developing a coordinated or 'spiral' approach to curriculum planning."

"The 'spiral curriculum' technique makes provisions for planned long-term learning, beginning with the introduction of broad general concepts and basic skills and building upon this foundation year after year," the regional director notes.

"The total program is designed in such a fashion that each carefully coordinated step includes utilization of all previously learned concepts and skills, as well as to allow a high degree of continuity in the overall instructional process, even though such instruction is conducted over a period of years and may be the joint effort of two or more schools."

"By-products of such curriculum planning in the areas of industrial arts and vocational courses include: an excellent opportunity to involve students in occupational exploratory programs at an early age, thus equipping them with the knowledge necessary to make more stable career decisions," Mr. Tilley points out. "It also provides the middle school student with knowledge, skills and understanding, which, should he decide not to follow a trade, craft or technical skill, may still be useful to him as a potential householder, hobbyist, or other life experiences."

Mr. Tilley has made available a capsule description of courses prepared by the educational consultants prior to his appointment as director, which he noted "generally" conform to concepts with which he has had experience in Delaware and Maryland.

Courses Offered

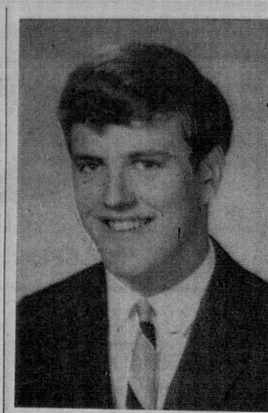

Some of the courses described in the educational specifications include:

Carpentry, house-mill: To provide training in house carpentry the school will build one complete home a year, starting in September with the foundation and ready for occupancy in June. Mill carpentry will train students to build kitchen cabinets, built-ins, etc., and will include outside work in local homes.

Cabinetmaking: Cabinetmaking one of the more highly skilled areas of the woodworking craft. Advanced methods and techniques and new equipment, tools and materials have widened the scope of this trade. Blueprint reading, layout and design, stock scheduling, planning and estimating are related phases covered in the training program.

Applied Design: This course is planned for students who have shown artistic ability and have creativity and imagination. It will afford opportunities to apply those abilities in many areas of design, such as commercial art and illustration; window display; advertising layout and display for newspapers and magazines; all types of photography; packaging; product design; and interior decoration.

Food Trades: This course prepares pupils to become chefs, bakers, cooks or dieticians in institutions, cafeterias, restaurants and similar commercial food establishments.

CHRISTOPHER BARLOW, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. Robert Barlow of 11 Arlington Street, has been notified by the dean of freshmen at Dartmouth College that he has qualified for advanced standing in recognition of exceptional preparation for his college career. Having earned four credits at entrance on the basis of his secondary school preparation, Dartmouth has awarded him three additional credits towards his degree, giving him the opportunity of accelerating his undergraduate studies by a full year. Mr. Barlow attended Winchester High School, graduating in 1969. While at the High School, he was elected to the National Honor Society, and was the news director of Radio Station WHSR-FM.

Breaks Are Reported School Committee Cites At Lynch Jr. High, Open Campus Delay Home, Businesses

An incident of breaking and entering was discovered at Lynch Junior High School involving the burning of an American flag and the destruction of costly equipment.

Vernon Phinney, a custodian at the school, was alerted to the break on Sunday morning, November 9 when he entered the building to find a fire extinguisher lying in a hall corridor.

With Officer Joseph N. Perriano and Inspector Angelo Amico, Mr. Phinney went through the building. In Room 111 a window 18 by 42 inches was found broken. There was blood in the area. According to police reports entrance may have been gained through this window.

A glass pane on the door of Room 110, a chemistry laboratory, had also been broken. Blood was also found here. In this room an American flag had been burned, glass beakers shattered, a fire extinguisher partially used and the telephone receiver pulled from the wall and thrown on the floor. Two triple beam balance scales were later found in the woods.

The intruder (s) also entered the storage room where, as Principal Gardner W. Handy estimated, for police, approximately $12,000 in equipment was stored. Most of the damage here was done with a hammer.

Among those things smashed were two new televisions, two television cameras, a large movie screen and various smaller equipment.

The glass on the door of Room 103 was also broken. Two cans of ditto fluid, which may have been used to burn the flag, had been found partially empty.

School personnel have been alerted to take notice of anyone with cut or bandaged hands.

Other Breaks

Several other breaking and entering were reported recently. At the Fashion Cleaners, 18 Swanton Street only money was known to be missing at the time that Officer Perriano filed his report on Sunday. Approximately $50 was taken when the person (s) gained entrance to the estab-

James Connell Is Appointed Winchester Star Advertising Head

James E. Connell Jr. of 4 Churchill Road has assumed the position of advertising manager for the Star.

JAMES E. CONNELL JR.

Mr. Connell replaces William Taylor, who has accepted a position with the Arlington Advocate. A resident of Winchester since 1955, Mr. Connell's most recent post was as assistant to the president of the Fitzgerald Fuel Company, Inc., in Winchester. He had been employed by the company since 1962.

Prior to that Mr. Connell had been employed by the Radio Shack Corporation and by the National Shawmut Bank, both in Boston.

A 1953 graduate of Tufts University, Mr. Connell received his bachelor of arts degree in government and economics.

Following graduation from Tufts, he served in the United States Army, Adjutant General Corps, in the United States and Europe, attaining the rank of corporal.

Mr. Connell and his wife, the former Noreen Johnson, have four children, Noreen, 7; Cara, 5; Kenan, 3; and Julie, 1. Mrs. Connell instructs dancing courses at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Mr. Connell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Connell, formerly of Highland Avenue, who now live in Hyannis.

A member of the Rotary Club, Mr. Connell is past president of the St. Mary's Church Couples Club; treasurer of the Dads' Club at the Washington School; and past chairman (1968) of the Winchester Cancer Fund Drive.

There will be a delay in the implementation of the open campus plan at the High School until Winchester can obtain a waiver from the State Board of Education lifting the regulation making the physical presence of students within the school building mandatory for a period of five-and-one-half hours per day.

This was announced by Superintendent of Schools Donald A. Klemmer to members of the School Committee. He informed them that this matter was on the agenda of the Board for next week, therefore making the start of the program in Winchester, which was scheduled for Monday, November 17, impossible.

Pleading conditions of overcrowding, as well as a growing trend among other school systems to allow students more responsibility, the Commissioner has been requested to give a clarification of the wording and meaning of the regulation and the extent to which its points may be relieved. Winchester High School students are presently in the building for a period of six hours each day.

With the second Moratorium approaching (planned for today, Friday and Saturday), Dr. Klemmer reiterated the October policy on absences. Students absent on either of these days will be required to present a note from the parents. Absence for reason of the Moratorium will be considered an unexcused absence.

The teaching staff has been asked to report on each day with discussions on the Vietnam War planned for social studies classes.

Bates Road

In other business Assistant Superintendent for Administrative Services William F. Clark reported on the Selectmen's recommendation on the Bates Road project at Muraco School.

The recommendation provides for the finishing of Bates Road with a turn-about, a sidewalk for the students and the enlarging of the present parking lot located at the end of the road. Total cost is estimated to be about $49,000. Presuming State aid of about $10,000, the sum to be appropriated at Town Meeting would be approximately $39,000. Construction would take place in the spring.

The Homefronters are asking the parents and friends of Winchester servicemen and women to call Mr. and Mrs. Dan Morse of 3 Sanborn Place, 729-1530, with addresses so that the Christmas boxes may be sent to the service people.

The Homefronters do not receive address lists from the draft board or any other agencies, as is the Homefronters' list.

Time is getting short for Christmas mailing, so call in the addresses.

At present, access to Muraco School is not considered to be easy, nor particularly safe. In case of fire, it has been doubted whether fire equipment could be moved in through Bates Road. A citizens' petition had been presented to the Board of Selectmen and the School Department last spring for the road's extension.

The Committee moved to adopt the Town Engineer's plan and have it placed on the warrant of the Annual Town Meeting.

Also on the agenda were personnel matters. The Committee voted to accept the resignation of Mrs. Helen M. Nordvall, a sixth-grade teacher at Wyman School Annex, and appoint Miss Karen N. Sadloski in her place. Miss Sadloski will begin teaching the first of December.

In further discussion of personnel matters, Dr. Klemmer presented his request to make appointments of a maintenance mechanic, two custodians and several extracurricular assignments and curriculum council positions.

Selectmen Hear Report On Proposal For Contracted Rubbish Removal

The Board of Selectmen at its regular Monday night meeting in the Town Hall heard a report from Joseph D'Orio on a rubbish removal system which his company operates for the cities of Medford and Lynnfield.

Mr. D'Orio, who appeared before the Board with Robert G. O'Brien, superintendent of streets, explained that his system involves compacting rubbish which is brought to a central location in the town. The compacted rubbish is then transported by Mr. D'Orio to one of the two landfill areas for which he has contracts. These are in Billerica and Amesbury.

In answer to questions from the Board, Mr. D'Orio stated that he employs the men who operate the system.

The Board also asked questions dealing with the possibility of the land-fill areas being closed to the company. Mr. D'Orio stated that he had contracts from the towns involved and that it was not likely that the state would close the areas.

Mr. D'Orio left with the Board for study a proposal for removal of Winchester's rubbish by his company. The Board also asked him to draw up a proposal for removal of the material which is left after incinerator burning.

It is anticipated that the incinerator will return to operation in the next two weeks, according to Mr. O'Brien.

In the first hearing before the Board, held in executive session, permission was granted Fire-fighter John McLeod to live in an adjacent community. Personal reasons were cited for Mr. McLeod's move.

Churchill Road

The Selectmen also heard from a group of residents of Churchill Road. The appearance was not scheduled on the Selectmen's agenda.

Residents of the road are seeking acceptance of the road as a public way. The approval has been sought for several years, however, there was some question last year regarding the County's status in the case. Also, the contractor had failed to comply with several of the Town's requirements.

According to a letter sent to the spokesman for the group by Edward Donnelly, executive secretary of the Selectmen, the contractor had complied with the terms as of September 8 this year.

Peace Group Plans Activities For Moratorium

As a continuation of the Vietnam Moratorium, a day-long program of films and discussion takes place here on Friday, November 14.

In addition, a bus-load of Winchester adults and students will participate in the November 15 march and rally in Washington, D.C.

A special feature will be a repeat performance of the Giraudoux play "Tiger at the Gates."

Scheduled to take place continuously from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., the November 14 "teach-in" will be held at the Crawford Memorial United Methodist Church. Sponsored by the Ecumenical Youth Council, the program is designed to be of particular interest to those who are still formulating their position on the Vietnam War.

It is expected those who view the films will be motivated to join informal groups to discuss Vietnam and the broader issues of foreign policy, militarization and the draft. Discussion leaders will be present all day.

Films being shown include "Land Without Joy," a documentary about the 1968 Tet Offensive, and "The Survivors," depicting war's victimization of civilians. Also being shown is the David Schoenbrun film entitled "Vietnam: How Did We Get In? How Do We Get Out?"

The Washington marchers are scheduled to depart from the Winchester Common at 11 p.m. Friday night, and return early Sunday morning. It is expected that many supporters will be on hand to see them off to Washington.

"Tiger at the Gates" will be performed at 7:30 p.m. on Sunday, November 16, in Chidley Hall of the First Congregational Church. The play is about war and peace in ancient Greece. Sponsored by the Winchester Moratorium Committee, the performance will benefit the national Vietnam Moratorium Committee. Seats are available at the door or by calling Mrs. Michael Barrett, 729-8078.

According to Winchester coordinator Mrs. Robert Danley of 2 Fenwick Road, Moratorium supporters are again being encouraged to write letters to President Nixon and other elected officials. Black armbands are again designated as the visible symbol of support for the effort.

Sgt. Saraco With Marines In Vietnam

Marine Sergeant Michael D. Saraco Jr., son of Health Department Director and Mrs. Michael D. Saraco of 34 Farrow Road, is presently serving as engineering platoon leader with the Force Logistic Support Group in DaNang, Vietnam.

SGT. MICHAEL D. SARACO JR.

Trained in mechanics, Sergeant Saraco is undergoing his second tour of duty in Vietnam. The Force Logistic Support Group carries out the basic mission of the Force Logistic Command by furnishing supply, service and maintenance support for units of the First Marine Division.

In addition to normal functions, men of the F.L.S.G.-A maintain their own perimeter guard and provide quick reaction forces, made up of personnel drawn from all occupational fields.

Born in Winchester, Sergeant Saraco attended Winchester schools. In January, 1964, he enlisted with the U.S. Marines for four years, re-enlisting for six years in 1968.

His training began at Parris Island, South Carolina, followed by Camp Lejeune, North Carolina, and Camp Pendleton, Barstow, California. He was then sent to Vietnam in April, 1965, until May of 1966.

Referendum Today On New High School; Polls Open 7 To 7

Voters go to the polls today to decide whether or not the Town will appropriate an additional $3,100,000 for construction of a new high school on Shore Road.

The referendum being held today seeks the voters' decision on Article 1 of the Special Town Meeting on October 16. That article, asking the additional money, was passed by the Town Meeting by a vote of 174 to 14.

A petition requesting the referendum was filed Thursday, October 23, by Mrs. Anthony Pronski of 123 Washington Street. The Selectmen met Thursday, October 30 to set the date for the referendum.

Mrs. Pronski and her committee had gathered 759 signatures on the petition. A minimum of three per cent of the voters is required to bring a Town Meeting article to referendum. There are approximately 12,300 voters registered in the Town.

A majority vote on the referendum is necessary to overturn the action of the Town Meeting. Twenty per cent of the registered voters must vote for the action of the referendum to be binding.

Polling Places

The polling places will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. today. Precinct I votes at the Washington School; Precinct II at the Town Hall; Precinct III at Mystic Valley School; Precinct IV at Vinson-Owen School; Precinct V at Wyman School and Precinct VI at Noonan School.

The referendum asks a yes or no vote on the following: "That in addition to sums heretofore appropriated, the sum of $3,100,000 is appropriated for constructing and originally equipping and furnishing a new Senior High School, including outdoor athletic facilities, at the so-called Shore Road site; that to raise this appropriation the Treasurer, with the approval of the Selectmen,

LWV Plans Meeting Tonight On Housing

The League of Women Voters is sponsoring a public meeting on low and moderate income housing tonight at 8 p.m. in Hadley Hall of the Church of the Epiphany.

Deputy Commissioner MacDonald Barr of the Massachusetts Department of Community Affairs will speak on the subject of sites for housing.

The program will include an explanation of House Bill H5581, the so-called snob zoning bill, which will become effective November 21; information as to exactly how the state is ready to assist a suburban community in its effort to increase the local supply of low and moderate income housing; consideration of the importance of and provisions for conservation in relation to housing; and information about zoning laws and assessment practices.

The League has asked members of various Town Boards to attend in order to provide an exchange of information about housing in the State and in Winchester.

is authorized to borrow $3,100,000 under Chapter 645 of the Acts of 1948 as amended; and the Permanent Building Committee is authorized to take all actions necessary on behalf of the Town to carry out the project."

The following news release was issued this week by the Citizens for the New High School:

"In a town-wide mailing this week the Citizens for the New High School pointed out again that over $5,200,000 hangs in the balance pending the final counting of votes in today's special referendum.

Final Exam Tonight For Babysitters

Tonight marks the end of the Winchester Jaycee-ette's Baby Sitters' School. There will be a final exam, and those who pass it and who have had good attendance will receive a certificate stating they have passed the requirements of the course. There are 28 enrolled in the course.

The Jaycee-ettes wish to thank Captain Peter Galuffo of the Winchester Fire Department; Miss Diane E. Shory from the Winchester Visiting Nurses Association; Dr. Donald McLean, pediatrician; Officer John McKinley of the Winchester Police Department; Mrs. Brian Meyers, nursery school teacher; and Mrs. Charles Johnson, chairman of the project, for their time and interest without which the course could not be given.

Each of the students will receive a manual containing outlines of each of the six lectures, to be used for future reference. This course is not associated with any baby sitting service and was not sponsored for that reason. The Jaycee-ettes are pleased with the response for this annual project and hope that it will be a help now and in the future.

Staff And Key Announces Leads In "Patience"

L. Hassler Einzig, director of the Staff and Key Society has announced the selection of the principal singers in the 1969 Gilbert and Sullivan opera "Patience," to be presented in the Winchester High School Auditorium on the evening of December 5th and 6th. Patience, Linda Milani Palkey of Somerville; Reginald Bunthorne, Warren A. Colson of Natick; Archibald Grosvenor, Marc Jablon of Boston University; Colonel Calverly, Pat Saavedra of Emerson College; Major Murgatroyd, Harry Downs of Winchester; Lieut. The Duke of Dunstable, Robert W. Mathews of Winchester; Lady Angela, Carol O'Shaughnessy of Lexington; Lady Sophr, Jean M. Shearer of Arlington; Lady Jane, Enid Houlding of Winchester; Lady Ella, Kristen Beard of Arlington.

The story of the opera is a satire on the aesthetic craze of the 1880's (history is repeating itself) for "fleshy poets" and "idyllic poets" as compared to the more manly types, herein represented by a group of Dragoon Guards.

Tickets are now available for the two reserved seat performances by phoning, in Winchester, Mrs. Constance Stewart, 729-3598 or Mrs. Charlotte Jason, 729-4847.

Mr. Hood Receives Doctorate

Stephen B. Hood of 57 Arlington Street was among the 1,560 students who received their undergraduate and graduate degrees this fall as the result of their final scholastic work during the 1969 Summer Sessions of the University of Wisconsin in Madison, it was announced recently by the University registrar's office.

Mr. Hood received his doctor of philosophy degree.

Mrs. Mary H. Keith-Lynch

Mrs. Mary H. (Flaherty) Keith-Lynch of 16 Winchester Place, a resident here for 65 years, died at the New England Memorial Hospital, Stoneham on Tuesday, November 11 after a brief illness. She was 81.

Born in Ireland, February 22, 1888, she was the daughter of Patrick and Mary (Donegan) Flaherty, natives of Ireland. She was the widow of Thomas Lynch and of Frederick Keith.

Mrs. Keith-Lynch occupied herself as a housewife and was a member of St. Mary's Church.

She leaves four sons, Thomas H. Lynch, Edward P. Lynch and Albert J. Lynch, all of Winchester, and Frederick Keith of Boston; a daughter, Mrs. Leroy (Keith) Taylor of South Portland, Maine; 14 grandchildren, and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held today, November 13 from the Lane Funeral Home, 760 Main Street, followed by a solemn high Mass in St. Mary's Church at 9 a.m. Burial will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

Sgt. Saraco

Upon return to the United States in 1966 Sergeant Saraco married the former Jill Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Johnson of 30 Prince Avenue. He then reported once more to Camp Lejeune and next to Portsmouth Naval Shipyard in New Hampshire.

In August, 1969, he returned for active duty in Vietnam and will remain there until July of 1970. He is scheduled to complete his service with the Marines in 1974.

His wife and their two-year-old son, Michael D. Saraco III, live at 30 Prince Avenue. Mrs. Saraco will join her husband in Hawaii this January for a brief vacation.

Obituaries

Mrs. Ida Goldberg

Mrs. Ida (Sonion) Goldberg of Newport, Rhode Island, formerly of Winchester, died recently in Rhode Island after a brief illness. She was 87.

Mrs. Goldberg had resided in Winchester approximately 12 years. She also lived in Providence, Rhode Island, and in Newport for about 50 years. Mrs. Goldberg was the widow of Harry Goldberg.

Memberships included the Woburn-Wakefield-Winchester Chapter of Hadassah, the Newport Chapter of Hadassah; the Temple Shalom of Newport; the Sisterhood of Touro Synagogue of Newport (National Shrine), and the Ladies Hebrew Union Aid of Newport.

She leaves a son, Edward Goldberg of Newport; three daughters, Mrs. Charles J. (Marion) Feinberg of Woburn, formerly of Winchester, Mrs. Gertrude Sloane of Brighton and Mrs. Lillian Bar of Newport; two brothers, Robert Sonion and John Sonion, both of Providence; eight grandchildren, and 12 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Friday, October 31. Burial was in Lincoln Park, Warwick, Rhode Island.

Lloyd M. Clark

Lloyd M. Clark of Clearwater, Florida, formerly of Winchester, died suddenly on Friday, November 7, at his home in Florida. He was 74.

Born in Roslindale, he came to Winchester at the age of five and was graduated from Winchester High School with the class of 1912. After attending Exeter Academy for a year, he entered Amherst College, graduating with the class of 1917.

Mr. Clark then enlisted in the U.S. Navy, serving as an ensign during World War I. He subsequently entered the advertising field and was a partner in the Clark-Hooper ratings until 1941, when he left the business field to become headmaster of the Kiskimetas School in Saltsburg, Pennsylvania. In 1957 he retired from the school to make his home in Clearwater.

Monty, as he was known to his friends, made annual visits to Winchester and the North, keeping in contact with a host of school and college associates.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Ella May (Wilson) Clark of Clearwater; a son, Roger Montgomery in New Jersey; and a cousin, Dr. Richard J. Clark of Myopia Road. The funeral and burial were held in Clearwater.

Mrs. Mary E. Riley

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth (Dolan) Riley of 1 Dunham Street, a resident of Winchester for many years, died following a long illness in the Winchester Hospital Continuing Care Unit on Friday, November 7. She was 60.

Born in Winchester, October 6, 1909, she was the daughter of Francis and Bridget (Gaffney) Dolan, natives of Ireland. She was the widow of Francis D. Riley, who died in 1965. Mrs. Riley was educated in the Winchester school system.

Prior to her retirement 20 years ago she was employed as an office clerk for the Dailey Brother Shoe Company of Boston.

Mrs. Riley had resided in Chelmsford between 1954 and 1964. She was a member of St. Mary's Church and the Sodality of that church.

She leaves a sister, Sister Mary Constance, R.G.S., of Peabody, New York; and four brothers, Thomas W. Dolan of Rockport, John J. Dolan of Winchester, Francis P. Dolan of Lynnfield, and Charles J. Dolan of Dallas, Texas.

Funeral services were held on Monday, November 10, at 9 a.m. from the Robert J. Costello Funeral Home, 177 Washington Street, followed by a solemn funeral Mass in St. Mary's Church at 10. The Rev. James Garrity was celebrant, with Rev. Bernard Hoy acting as deacon and Rev. Stephen Koen as sub-deacon.

Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

Card Of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks and deep appreciation to the Winchester teachers and students, the Knights of Columbus, the St. Pius X Assembly, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, and to our relatives, friends and neighbors who, by their words of consolation and acts of kindness, helped to lighten the burden of our recent sorrow.

For the number of floral tributes, spiritual bouquets and sympathy cards, we are grateful.

Ski Clinic Is Scheduled November 19

Novice, intermediate and advance skiers will not want to miss the pre-season ski clinic that will be held in Winchester High School auditorium on Wednesday evening, November 19.

This clinic is co-sponsored by the Boston Globe and Winchester Recreation Department.

Bob Dunn, owner-operator-instructor at Boston Hill in North Andover and a certified ski instructor for more than ten years, will conduct the clinic. His program will give a basic outline on equipment, clothing and technique.

Material covered in Dunn's lecture will also include: safety, etiquette on the slopes, care and maintenance of equipment and the importance of not trying to ski with all the wrong equipment.

The program will begin at 7:45 and everyone is invited (beginners, intermediates, children and adults). There will not be any advance registration or admission.

Each person will receive a specially prepared booklet on the right way to ski, compliments of the Boston Globe. A question and answer period will follow Bob Dunn's lecture.

United Fund Reaches 40% Of 1969 Goal

Winchester's 1969 United Fund drive has reached 40 per cent of its $37,000 goal.

If there are any citizens who still have not been solicited by a volunteer worker and do wish to contribute to this year's drive, they may do so by sending a check made out to "The United Fund," to James P. O'Halloran, 20 Mayflower Road.

One gift to the United Fund serves many local organizations as well. One of the leading local service groups that benefits from the United Fund is the Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross.

The blood program, assistance to servicemen, veterans and their families; first aid and swimming instructions; disaster service; hospital aid and youth assistance are only a few of the many services provided by the local Chapter.

When one thinks of the United Fund in terms of the many local agencies that benefit from its funds, it is a large reward for a small investment.

Giant Stores Begins Operations In Woburn

Giant Department Stores will soon open the doors of their 26th store. The new store is in the Woburn Plaza, Route 3 on the Woburn-Winchester line.

This 60,000 square foot store will serve the Woburn, Winchester, Lexington, Arlington and Burlington areas. Giant Stores carry a broad line of department store merchandise selected to appeal to families of average income and sold at discount prices.

The Woburn Giant management team consists of store manager Serge Fedoroff and his assistants Ben Becker, Gene Kelly and John Nicoletti.

Just 18 months ago Giant had only 12 discount stores open. They have, therefore, more than doubled their size during that period.

The formula for Giant's success has been: quality and variety plus discount prices and service plus clean, bright stores equals happy and satisfied shoppers. It is the satisfied shoppers who have enabled Giant to become the fastest growing discount department store chain in New England.

The opening of the Woburn Giant will change the count to four stores in Maine, 13 in Massachusetts, six in New Hampshire, two in Vermont and one in Connecticut. There are more on the drawing board for 1970 including expansion out of New England into New York state.

Christian Science Lecture Next Week In Boston

The difference between thinking controlled by material influences and thinking based on spiritual understanding will be discussed in a free public lecture at 7:45 p.m. Thursday, November 20, in the War Memorial Auditorium, Boston.

The lecture, entitled "Do We Think, or Just Think We think?" will be given by John H. Wyndham, C.S.B., of Los Angeles. He will tell how prayer as taught in Christian Science enabled him to survive brainwashing when he was a prisoner of war, held several months in solitary confinement.

A native of Holland, Mr. Wyndham received an engineering education in schools in Holland, England, and Australia. He has traveled extensively in Australia, Africa, and Greece, while making documentary films. He also served as director of public information for UNICEF's European activities, based in Paris.

Ten years ago, Mr. Wyndham became a Christian Science practitioner, and in 1964 was authorized to teach Christian Science. In June, 1968, he was appointed to the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ Scientist, in Boston, which is sponsoring his lecture at the War Memorial Auditorium.

Career Catalysts

Thomas Asquith of Weston, and Warren E. Jackson of 39 Wildwood Street have announced the formation of Career Catalysts at 588 Boston Post Road in Weston Center.

WARREN E. JACKSON

Both former vice presidents of Simplex Wire and Cable Company, they have combined nearly 50 years of professional experience to establish a personalized executive research and professional placement service.

Career Catalysts offers the individual a private evaluation of his career and careful guidance toward a new position with challenge and growth opportunity. Relying upon their own experience, they are particularly qualified to understand the client companies' needs for a given position.

Mr. Jackson holds degrees in both mechanical and electrical engineering from Tufts University where he formerly served on the faculty. He also has a master of engineering degree from Yale University.

Most recently he has been vice president and group general manager at Simplex Wire and Cable Company where he was responsible for the Advanced Projects Division, as well as an officer and director of several subsidiary companies for which he was also responsible.

Prior to Simplex, he was a vice president at Trans-Sonics, Inc., Burlington, chief engineer, Arthur C. Ruge Associates, Inc., Hudson, New Hampshire and a member of the professional staff of Arthur D. Little, Inc.

He is an elected member of the Tufts Alumni Council and serves as Group Commander, U.S. Naval Reserve in Salem with the rank of captain. Mr. Jackson is a registered professional engineer and a member of several professional and technical societies.

He has also been active in many community and yachting activities in the greater Boston area. He and his family reside at 39 Wildwood Street.

Mr. Asquith, a graduate of Mount Hermon School and Brown University, most recently served as vice president and secretary of Simplex Wire and Cable Company in Cambridge. Previously, he served as director of employment at Carrier Air Conditioning Company, Syracuse, New York, and as personnel manager, Cambridge Corporation of Lowell.

Mr. Asquith has been a director of the Cambridge Chamber of Commerce, vice chairman of the National Electrical Manufacturers Association Subcommittee on Industrial Relations, division chairman of the Massachusetts Bay United Fund and member of the Finance Committee of the Town of Weston.

Mr. and Mrs. Asquith and their family make their home in Weston.

Auxiliaries To Hear Mrs. Grey

Mrs. Hollis Grey will speak and give a demonstration on "The Art of Christmas Design" at the joint luncheon meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Middlesex East District Medical Society and the Women's Auxiliary to the Suffolk District Medical Society on November 20 at 11:30 a.m. at the Kernwood-in-Lynnfield.

Mrs. Grey was the originator of the House and Garden Group at the Women's City Club of Boston and is a past president of the Belmont Garden Club. She has served for 14 years on the board of the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts. She is a nationally accredited amateur flower show judge and has received the highest award for arrangement in the New England Flower Show.

Mrs. Robert Fahey of 175 Washington Street, President of the Auxiliary, will welcome members and their guests and conduct a brief business meeting.

Airman Sousa In Thailand

U.S. Air Force Airman First Class Charles J. Sousa Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Sousa of 33 Clark Street, is on duty with the 4258th Strategic Wing at U-Tapao Airfield, Thailand.

Airman Sousa, a Strategic Air Command jet engine mechanic supports B-52 Stratofortress bombers which daily attack Viet Cong targets and KC-135 Stratotankers which provide refueling to fighter, bomber and reconnaissance aircraft conducting the air war over Vietnam.

The airman was assigned at Loring Air Force Base, Maine, before arriving in Thailand. He is a 1968 graduate of Winchester High School.

Rotary Club Seeks Candidates For Scholarship

The Rotary Club of Winchester is seeking young people in this area to apply for an award to study abroad for a year under a grant from the Rotary Foundation of Rotary International, according to Albert S. Hovannesian, president of the club.

Those interested may secure application forms and information by writing to Lewis B. Snow of 6 Ardley Place, a member Rotarian who is in charge of the project for the club.

The Rotary Foundation's educational awards program has been in effect since 1947 and was created for the purpose of furthering international understanding.

Since 1947, more than 4,000 students, craftsmen and young business and professional men have received these awards, supported by voluntary contributions of Rotarians and other interested people throughout the world. To date, these study grants have totaled more than $9,000,000.

This year, according to President Hovannesian, the Foundation is providing $1,190,000 to 571 young men and women.

In the past, Rotary Foundation awards in this area have been given to: William Callahan of Winchester (son of Officer Callahan of the Winchester Police Department), who studied at Boston College and Harvard Graduate School in 1964, and as Rotary Fellow went to Venezuela in 1965, and is presently at the University of Toronto as an assistant professor of European History; and also to Stephen Nichols of Winchester who studied at Dartmouth College in 1958, and as a Rotary Fellow went to the University of Aix Marseille, and from there received his Doctorate at Yale University, and is presently a professor at Dartmouth College.

There are three types of educational awards offered by the Rotary Foundation: graduate fellowships, for students who have a bachelor's degree or equivalent; undergraduate scholarships, for students doing university-level work who have not yet attained a degree; and technical training awards, for young artisans or craftsmen with at least two years' experience in their chosen field.

In addition, grants are made to teams of six young business and professional men to spend two months abroad studying the financial, industrial, rural and cultural traditions of another country in a district sponsored program.

Each year, each of the nearly 300 districts of Rotary International is entitled to submit a candidate for whichever one of the three awards it wishes and may apply for a group study exchange grant.

The Rotary Club of Winchester is in Rotary district 703 which this year is seeking a candidate for any one of the three awards above.

Expenses covered by the award include tuition and fees, living expenses, round-trip transportation, intensive language training when necessary, and educational travel in the country.

Awardees are expected to act as ambassadors of goodwill for their country through informal contacts and through appearances to address Rotary Clubs and other civic and educational groups.

Deadline for application is March 15, 1970.

Rotary International is an organization of 13,874 clubs with a total membership of 657,000 Rotarians in 147 countries and geographical regions. The Rotary Foundation is a non-profit educational and charitable organization supported by voluntary contributions of Rotarians.

JAMES M. OLIVIER JR. of the Winchester Trust Company will participate in the Nichols College advisory council day at the college campus in Dudley tomorrow. The council day gives the students the opportunity to discuss with the panelists what business expects from college students today.

Al Fiorilli Is Elected President Of Little League

At the annual meeting of the Winchester Little League, Inc. Board of Directors, Al Fiorilli of 106 Skillings Road was unanimously elected as the 1970-71 president of the League.

Mr. Fiorilli has been a long-time supporter of Little League and the sporting activities of the young men of Winchester. His son Ron was a member of the Big League Twins team, but Al was seen often at many Little League games in all divisions.

In the return to a president and vice presidents set up, Duane M. Bolden of 50 Thornberry Road for Big League; James S. Beck of 2 Nassau Drive for Senior National League; James Mulcare of 4 Rangeley Ridge for Senior American League; Edward M. Burns of 49 Wedgemere Avenue for Major American League; Aldo M. Ungaretti of 25 Holton Street for Major National League; Thomas E. Wilber of 76 Woodside Road for Minor American League; and George Tello of 9 Cutting Street for Minor National League were elected to the posts of vice-presidents in their assigned divisions.

It was announced by retiring Commissioner James R. Stewart Jr. that due to the poorly supported Parents Association Fund Drive, the League treasury was in much lower circumstances than in 1968. However, large expenses in outfitting six new teams and sending the Big League All-Star team in their quest for a spot in that Division's World Series were also responsible for unusual drains on the budget.

As a result, fewer awards will be made this year, but the opportunities for more Winchester boys to play Little League ball will again be available in the Spring. Plans are under way to get the playing fields in better condition, and the new Ginn Field refreshment-storage house will assist in increasing the solvency of the League in 1970.

Forumites To Sponsor Supper

In order to earn money to defray the costs of the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church Spring Trip in April, their committee is sponsoring a "Chowder House" supper on Friday, November 21 from 5 to 8 p.m. in Chidley Hall. Three types of chowder, bread and salad will be served.

On Sunday, November 16 the worship service will be held at 9 a.m. in Ripley Chapel. John Rinehart will give the service with Richie Allen and Amy Robinson acting as chaplains.

Beginning on November 23 and continuing through December 14, Dr. Harrell F. Beck, professor of Old Testament at Boston University, will present a series on "The Faith in Perspective."

Miss Cathy Schultz and Chris Fernald, chairmen of the Spring Trip Committee, are also organizing a "Forum" table for the church fair to help with travel expenses.

On December 6 and 7 the Senior Forum will hold its annual International Weekend when Forumites open their homes to foreign students. Activities and casual conversation during this weekend are interesting and beneficial.

Money earned from the Workday-For-Christ held recently will be donated to benevolences. The Forum wishes to thank those who participated.

Giving Guidance

(Second in a series of articles prepared by the Guidance Department of Winchester High School)

It has been estimated that there are 30,000 different occupations in America. About 20,000 of these are open to the high school graduate.

Most high school graduates do not go on to four-year colleges, but increasingly they go on to further education. The young person beginning work these days can expect to change his job or even his entire field of work as many as four or five times in his working life. That is why it is important to aim for a broad education.

Often students cannot see the wisdom of taking courses in literature, history, mathematics or any of the other subjects in the liberal arts. Yet it is these subjects that make one aware of the larger world and help students to become flexible and adaptable in a changing world of job opportunities.

Employers are looking for young people who will take responsibility, who can get along with others, and who have skills useful to their businesses. Doing the school work and developing good work attitudes and habits is the best training for future employment.

The high school counselor is ready to help when a student is ready to think about his goal in line with his ability, motivation and finances. There are many avenues open—work, the armed forces, preparatory school, business school, technical school, junior and community college or the four-year college. Each student must decide for himself how he can best develop his potential and guidance staff members are ready to help him to discover this. Books, pamphlets, career guides, catalogs all have their places in helping the student to make his decision. Talking to people who are successful in the field the student would like to explore can also be helpful.

Community Consultants
With this in mind, the Guidance Department and Citizens' Advisory Council on Education have worked to develop a list of possible resource people from the community. Such "community consultants" would be invited to share their knowledge and skills with students. Residents who have a business, skill or even hobby that they are willing and able to share with Winchester Public School students will be asked to speak to a class and perhaps demonstrate such ability for the students. Forms for application for this program are carried in the November issue of "FOOTNOTES on Education" published by the School Committee monthly.

Each student must decide for himself just what type of school will develop his potential. Some students may find it wise to work for a year or complete military training obligations before entering further schooling.

Business schools in the Boston area are among the best in the country and costs can vary from $200 for a course in a community college to $1000 a year in a four-year business college. Clerical workers comprise the largest white collar occupational group with about 10 million people employed currently. Those who have studied typing, bookkeeping and other business courses will have the immediate advantage, but the long-range opportunities will go to those who also have a broad general education.

Technical institutes offer training in engineering technology, aeronautics, air conditioning, automotive, diesel and steam technologies, civil engineering, technology, electronics, instrument and watch making, mechanics and metallurgy, tool designing, draftsmanship, and computer technology. Courses average two years but can be one or three also.

For students who do not want to commit themselves to four years of schooling the junior college is another possibility. Such curricula are designed for transfer to a four-year school or for completion in two years in such areas as laboratory assistant, dental hygienist, secretary, retail buyer, interior decorator, building constructor, accountant, statistician.

Serving The Community For 89 Years

Editorials:

Unite For Peace

Tuesday, 51 years after the "War To End All Wars" ceased on the battlefields of France in 1918, Americans gathered to commemorate all those who have served and are serving in the Armed Forces of this country. Here in Winchester the ceremonies included a parade through the Center and the placing of wreaths at the War Memorial at the corner of Main Street and Mystic Valley Parkway and at the Honor Roll of service men and women in front of the Town Hall.

History has proven Woodrow Wilson to be a dreamer, but the kind of dream he had when he called World War I the "War To End All Wars" is the kind of dream we have to continue. The ceremonies Tuesday all over the country had a particular poignancy coming as they did just a few days before the November 13, 14, and 15 activities planned by the Moratorium committees. This year, perhaps inspired by President Nixon's call for support from the "silent majority," the largest number of participants turned out for the parade, according to John T. Horn of the V.F.W. who is in charge of the ceremony. And this, in spite of the fact that the weather was dismal.

With little doubt, there are few among us who really want the war in Vietnam to continue. President Nixon's administration, however, can't be held responsible for the mistakes of past administrations which have allowed escalation of the troops in Vietnam to such an extent that the U.S. wound up fighting the war for the South Vietnamese. Nixon's program to teach the South Vietnamese to fight their own war is what was supposed to be done when Kennedy sent in the first 16,000 men as "advisors."

Granted it will take time to withdraw the troops if the U.S. follows the policy of phased withdrawal which will enable the South Vietnamese to learn how to carry on their war, but if we turned our backs and withdrew tomorrow, how would we as a nation feel knowing both that we had admitted defeat and that we had knowingly opened the door for the Communists to repeat the massacres which accompanied the takeover of North Vietnam?

The Vietnam War has been called many things: unjust, evil, a disaster, and it is all those things. We want nothing more than to see peace come, but give this plan and this administration a chance. Monthly moratoriums are not going to make the peace come any faster, but they are going to give Hanoi enough hope that the U.S. is so divided at home that if the North hangs on long enough it will get its own way as we pick up and go home. As long as they see a divided front here, they will never agree to a negotiated settlement at the Paris peace talks. Why compromise when it looks like in a few more months you could have your own way?

The October 15 Moratorium had a great deal of support—from us, too—it was a very good indication of democracy in action. In a Communist country that sort of thing would not be allowed. Someone called it a "referendum without the ballot box." Referendums, however, are not held monthly until the right answer comes up. The point has been made, Nixon has answered it in a reasonable way; let's unite now for peace.

Editorial Comments

Leafing through some back issues of the Star, we found an editorial comment in the November 14, 1968 issue which said, "The idyllic fall could have gone on forever and ever. But anyone who read his Old Farmer's almanac knew it wouldn't. The storms this past week were forecast some 13 or 14 months ago by these rural prophets who must use a combination of animal husbandry, weather science and just plain witchery to get their prognostications." We don't know what the almanac predicted for this year, but evidently the dismal rainy spell has been following November tradition.

The League of Women Voters is sponsoring a meeting tonight on low and moderate income housing which should be interesting. The subject will be before the Town Meeting this spring as the Public Housing Committee returns its verdict on the need here for public housing, particularly housing for the elderly. MacDonald Barr of the State Department for Community Affairs will also speak on the so-called "snob zoning" bill which we decried when it was passed in August. The meeting is at 8 p.m. in Hadley Hall of the Church of the Epiphany. Do attend!

Three cheers for the news that the incinerator will soon return to operation! The months since it went on the blink last February have been long and tiresome, resulting in muddy shoes for those who make the trek to the dump, and in garbage covered streets and lawns during windy weather for those who have the misfortune to live nearby.

Residents from Churchill Road were in attendance at the Selectmen's meeting Monday night, and although their unscheduled visit did mean knocking the Police Department budget review off the agenda, they did bring attention to their plight. The group feels, perhaps justifiably, that they have received the "run-around" in their long attempts to have Churchill Road accepted as a public way. We hope the warrant for the Town Meeting will contain an article on their request.

"Little Red Rooster" Teaches Economics To First Graders At Washington School

What does the "Little Red Rooster" have to do with economics?

A typical children's story, it tells of a saddled rooster who loses his job when the farmer buys an alarm clock. The plight of the rooster is used to introduce to first graders the ideas of automation and replacement of workers by machines.

In the Senesh social studies program at Washington School in Winchester economic principles are conveyed through such stories, games, poems, plays and discussions.

As an introduction to their study of economics in "Families at Work," the first graders work on a map of their own neighborhood. They identify and place on it their homes, the school and other important buildings. Through the social studies, children are helped to develop an awareness of the social world they live in. They learn that every family has the same basic needs, food, clothing and shelter.

Their map has shown them the residential nature of their neighborhood in their discovery that no child walks past a store on his way to school. From this, they find that they must go to the Center (or market) to fulfill some of their basic needs. The map illustrates each child's progress from awareness of his own home and family to the neighborhood and to the many neighborhoods working together to make his community.

Sixth graders produced the wall-sized map of Winchester for the first graders in the Senesh program. As part of their social studies map skills unit, the older children drew the map (to scale) for the tiny students to use. Helping in the project were John Andrick, Michael Reeves, Rosemary Penta, Kathy Murphy, Leila Kakatsakis and Joyce Donnet.

The Senesh materials include recorded lessons which the children listen to in small groups with earphones as they follow the action in their books. As they learn, the children find in their own lives the law of diminishing returns, division of labor, marginal choice, supply and demand, etc. and are introduced to fundamental principles in economics and the relationships of these principles to geography, history and anthropology.

"The Fisherman and His Wife" fairy tale presents the idea of wanting more and better things. The first graders are shown how this applies to them and how it is an example of the law of diminishing returns.

The Senesh program being used in the classes of Mrs. Marjorie Berger and Mrs. Eleanor Wells conveys the idea that the child's family cannot fulfill all of his wishes and that he must make choices (marginal choice). This introduces the basic economic problem of the conflict between unlimited wants and limited resources.

The children produce a playlet, "Should Father Fix the Sink?" In their role playing and discussion they explore the importance in their families of the division of labor and specialization. They learn that by dividing the labor more goods can be produced faster and better thus lessening somewhat the gap between unlimited wants and limited resources.

Pioneers

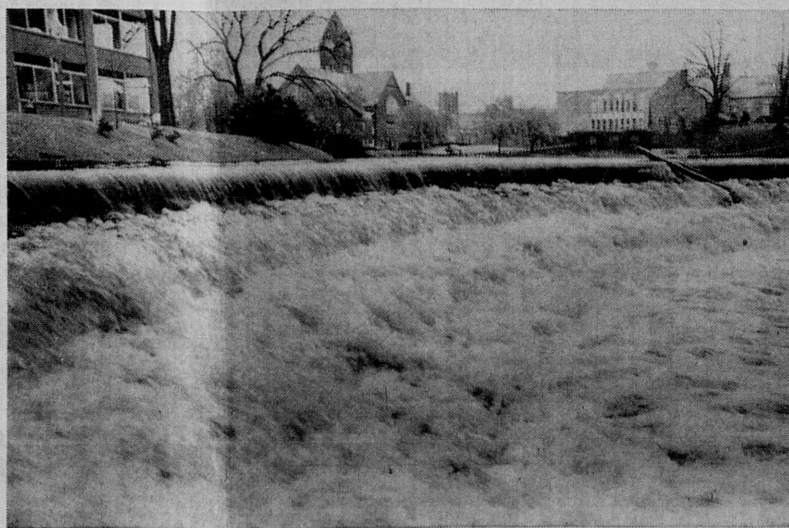

A unit on the pioneer family conveys history and the fact that families had to be both producers and consumers when there was no market economy as it is known today. The children learn that in the economic system in which they live the market is the focal point where producers and consumers meet. Through various activities the children find out how price, tastes and income affect consumer decisions and how consumer decisions affect prices. All Senesh materials are designed to encourage an understanding of the American market economy.

Through role playing, an important part of the Senesh program, the children get the chance to take the parts of adults and children filling a variety of roles and belonging to different social groups.

The Senesh social studies materials are written by Lawrence Senesh, professor of economic education at Purdue University. To encourage use of the program in Winchester, social studies teacher at the high school, George Watson, is instructing an in-service training course on the use of Senesh materials. A basic knowledge of the fundamentals of economics is vital for a teacher who uses these materials. Winchester elementary teachers in the course meet with Mr. Watson each Thursday after school to learn how they can teach economics in their social studies programs using Senesh materials in their classrooms.

"HERE'S WHERE I LIVE!" says first grader Jana Weller pointing to wall map of Winchester. Sixth graders made the map to scale for the young economists. (Lois Carr photo)

BOOK REVIEW

Winchester Public Library

THE PRINCE OF PLEASURE AND HIS REGENCY

by J. B. Priestley

Quite apart from the literary merit of this Priestley opus, its publishers, Harper & Row, should be congratulated on the quality of their production. The excellent paper, binding, and printing (which is larger than usual and particularly legible) and the beauty of the many reproductions make a book which is a great pleasure to handle.

Mr. Priestley begins with a discussion of the malady which affected George III and resulted in his incarceration from the year 1811 until his death in 1820. His son, the Prince of Wales, became Regent for these nine years, before succeeding to the throne as George IV. The years of the Regency have fascinated many writers of fiction and those who have enjoyed the romantic novels of Georgette Heyer will be intrigued by the life stories of many of the characters whom they have met in her pages.

Prince George's liaison with Mrs. Fitzherbert is discussed. It continued from 1785 to 1803 and produced no children. She terminated their relationship and he thought kindly of her all his life. In April of 1795 he married his cousin Caroline, daughter of the Duke of Brunswick, and their union proved far from loving:

"It was a bad choice; it brought together two unstable families; it also brought together two unstable persons who had never before set eyes on each other; and that wedding day, 5 April 1795, was to prove disastrous for everybody intimately concerned in its ceremony. . . . Bride and groom took an instant strong dislike to each other. Her verdict was that he was too fat. The Prince saw her for the first time with James Harris, Lord Malmesbury, who had escorted her from Brunswick, at his side, and he whispered, 'Harris, I am not well; pray get me a glass of brandy.'—However, in spite of this dislike at first sight, the royal pair somehow contrived, with astonishing speed, to produce a child, the unlucky Princess Charlotte being born in January 1796."

Society was changing during those Regency days, and Mr. Priestley comments in discussing the poet Shelley:

"Here it is worth noting that during the Regency, at least on the upper levels of society, there was a change for a time from the familiar pattern, belonging both to the 18th century and to the Victorian age, of male authority and the domination of the masculine principle. It is as if a matriarchy secretly took over for a few years. Country squires might still be seducing parlour-maids, but in London something different was happening. It was the girls who were bold and predatory. So Byron, that notorious seducer, was actually always being seduced. And any idea of Shelley as the enticer of innocent young girls can be dismissed."

Among the many illustrations are several of the Regent's palace at Brighton, with its Chinese-style decorations; portraits of famous people; and copies of the scurrilous cartoons which were such a feature of the period.

Mr. Priestley's book is beautiful, interesting, and entertaining.

Additional Money For High School Is Opposed

Editor of the Star:

Let the chips fall where they may.

The voters of this little community which once was a part of Charlestown where Increase Nowell was the first land owner, receiving his title and deed from Squaw Sachem herself, no less, about 1675. Public schools did not come along until 1836 when the Legislature created the School Committee. Horace Mann was head of the Boston English High School, the first public school in the world; it may have been the Boston Latin School; a statue of Harris Mann stands on the front lawn of the State House; the school was in the rear of the State House, on Duane Street, where a bronze tablet is attached to the wall commemorating the time and giving a sketch of the school and dates; go have a look at it some day.

From that beginning schools which means education have come to mean much all over the world, from the little red school house where all grades were taught in one room to the grandiose edifices of today; costing millions of dollars to the tax payers money through taxation, the only source of revenue of the Federal, State, and local government. For whom are these buildings of tremendous stature and size going to serve? The pupils who are most precious (as well as brats) to the Country as they are to the future in this affluent society.

Now comes the question of what kind of edifice are we going to build; Honest Abe Lincoln needed no school, as the light from his fireplace served him; no books, no slate as he shaved off the board to use over and over again; Lincoln did pretty well; as President he saved the Union; and when somebody advised him of General Grant's insubordination, his answer was to advise the name of the brand of whiskey Grant used so that Lincoln could send that particular brand to some of his other generals; Harvard University gave its first LL.D. to General George Washington when he arrived in Cambridge to take command of the Continental Army and Washington had no formal education; then for many years education was for the few but today it is for the many for without the fundamentals of the three R's, reading, writing and arithmetic, the pupil does not go very far; (even today college students do not know to read, write and spell on the authority of Ex-President Conant of Harvard and Admiral Rickover, the inventor of the atomic submarine); these subjects have to be reviewed in their first year at college.

The schools belong to the pupils and not to the teachers who want a toilet and a canary therein for every school room. Swimming pools are not necessary, nor smoking lounges, nor those rooms which are not in keeping with education, all of which cost money for education is a serious business; a campus type high school is an architect's dream but not for the Town of Winchester for the taxpayers cannot afford it; it is as simple as that. Building schools on swamp land is not to the credit of the School Committee or the architects or the Building Committee. In the Winchester Star of November 6, 1969, there are displayed beautiful drawings of parts of the proposed new High School but it is very expensive for the taxpayers which said taxpayers simply cannot afford it; "Winchester Building Committees have worked six years for the new high school" screams the headline of an advertisement; time wasted, not at all, it ought to have taught said committees that Winchester is not the so-called rich town as of yore; those damned Yengees (Yankees) were tight flatted and it was not necessary to hold Town Meetings as it was as decided at the Congregational Church before hand; the other parts of the towns such as precinct six were given short shrift; if one was other than Lutheran, Episcopal, Baptist or otherwise one was not in the same social strata and never did receive the same treatment.

Those of us who really have the interest of the inhabitants of the Town of Winchester at heart, and cannot add 3 million ($3,000,000) dollars which might go to 5 billion to the Town debt, the answer is there is no other choice but vote no on the referendum which goes to be decided on Thursday, November 13, 1969.

A no vote is imperative. Vote no.

Urges "No" Vote On Referendum

Editor of the Star:

Today is the day when all registered voters shall enter the polls and to the best of their ability use their vote in the most intelligent manner.

Perhaps if they vote "no" they shall forever bear the name of last-minute obstructionists, last-minute critics, last-minute redesigners, who offer no sound solutions.

Perhaps they shall be called truly interested citizens who are doing everything in their power to facilitate a new High School within the financial ability of many citizens to pay.

Because many in this town already are taxed to the point where they find it difficult, will the fact that their property has increased in value be of solace to them when they have to sell and move to another locality?

How many persons experienced comfort in viewing the proposed new High School on the front page of last week's Star? Cantilever—Stair Tower—Recessed door—Corner Column—What happened to the main section? On display are plans for both wings—Is not the whole school displayed in one place? What does it look like on the site? Why are the Citizens for the new High School implying that a "no" vote, is completely against the High School, when it was just announced that the School could not be built for $10,070,000 and the additional appropriation of $3,100,000 was needed? This is what the referendum is about. Do not let side issues cloud your judgement. We can still build a High School for $10,700,000, its just a matter of working within a budget.

Examine all the issues and if you honestly think its about time Winchester gave some consideration to the staggering escalation of taxes vote "no" on the referendum.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Anthony Pronski
128 Washington Street

Tears Shed For Generation

Editor of the Star:

It would be ludicrous were it not pathetic that the fat Guru from M.I.T. should be brought to tears because his brittle, brilliant, young disciples would not listen to him when he tried to reason with them. What do they know of reason? If he had been using four-letter words, they would have cheered him to the echo; but reason and logic are not for them, as he found out to his sorrow.

Why should they listen to him? Do they listen to anyone else? Do they listen to the police? The Mayor? The Governor? or even the President of the United States? No, they listen to themselves alone—and they even use bull-horns so they can hear themselves better!

Perhaps the truth is that it is high time for tears, and it might indeed be all for the good if more self-appointed gurus and moral uplifters would learn to shed tears over the lost "Now" generation they have worked so hard to produce.

Police Warn About Parking

Editor of the Star:

Now with the winter months approaching, residents should be aware that it is a violation of the Town's traffic regulations, section eight, to park on any street for a period of time longer than one hour between 1 a.m. and 7 a.m. any day.

Residents should also be reminded that all cars so parked in violation of the law will be towed as a warning. If the tags are ignored, then it will be necessary to resort to towing.

This action is necessary to enable the Highway Department to clear snow from all the streets. Winchester has always had an excellent reputation for snow removal. This can only be accomplished through the co-operation of all residents.

Very truly yours,

Litter Problem At Station

Editor of the Star:

Winchester has a serious litter problem in the Wedgemere Station area. While working toward the Boy Scout Eagle rank, I picked up 60 pounds of assorted trash. As you might imagine, beer cans and bottles were the biggest offenders.

This same area was cleaned up a year ago by a Cub Scout den. Now more trash has already filled in the area.

I think it would be a good idea to put up more "No Dumping" signs to remind people that the station is not the place to discard bottles and cans. These signs should be enforced so that people would stop dumping trash in the stations and start leaving it at the dump.

Sincerely,
A. A. Greene
25 Canterbury Road

Winchester Voter

"Winchester Voter" is a series written by the League of Women Voters for the Star in order to inform the citizens of Town voting practices and issues. It is published semi-monthly.

Winchester's annual Town elections are held the first Monday in March. This means that the next election will be on March 2, 1970, just over three months from now. It has been a source of growing concern for the Winchester League of Women Voters that few citizens vie for Town-wide office at election time. While seats on the Board of Selectmen and School Committee are frequently hotly contested, voters rarely have a choice in filling other vacancies.

Last year the only other contest was for the Board of Library Trustees; in 1968 there were 10 vacancies to be filled at Town election, 12 went uncontested, or 75%; in 1967 there were 18 vacancies and 13, or 72%, went without contest. Looking back over the past half-dozen years, only 1965 approached being a year of general contest, when candidates vied for 10 out of 20 places to be filled.

With the thought in mind that "no selection means no election," the League of Women Voters would like to embark upon a project to publicize the Town's elective positions, to spotlight our citizen government, perhaps in that way to inform the voting public and so to encourage some citizens to run for office who would not otherwise do so.

It is interesting to look at the voting statistics in recent years. Last March the Town had more registered voters than it ever has had: 12,300. Out of these only 2,786 voted, or 22.6%, little better than one out of every five. The powerful snowstorm which hit on election morning no doubt took its toll, but investigation of the pattern of voting over the past several years is not encouraging.

1968, 11,164 registered voters of whom 4,699 voted (42%)
1967, 11,188 registered voters, of whom 3,745 voted (33%)
1966, 11,127 registered voters, of whom 3,931 voted (35%)
1965, 11,598 registered voters, of whom 3,483 voted (30%)

In short, the best that Winchester can say it has done is to manage to get 42% of its citizens to the polls to decide who shall run the Town, in 1968, perhaps because the Board of Selectmen's race was particularly keen that year.

Is such a poor record the result of apathy or ignorance? Do issues or personalities bring out the vote? In subsequent articles in the Star the League hopes to describe Winchester's governing boards and conflicts which may have piqued voter interest in the past, not only in terms of Town-wide offices, but for the precinct Town Meeting Member contests as well.

Drive in the travel lane and observe posted road signs, suggests Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies. Lane hopping can be a dangerous game with the tragic results. Road signs are posted to help save your life and ignoring them is quite literally taking your life into your own hands.

"By state law the Town of Winchester is eligible to receive 40% of the total cost of approved new school building construction. The Massachusetts School Building Assistance Bureau has given complete final approval to the new Shore Road High School project to the full 40% state aid totaling $5,200,000. If the referendum fails to support the 174-14 Town Meeting vote, this financial guarantee from the Commonwealth would be withdrawn.

"Winchester sought and obtained preliminary and final approval for school building assistance funds from the Commonwealth for the proposed Turkey Ridge School in 1964 and 1967 and for the Shore Road High School in 1968.

Addition

"Those in favor of additions to the present high school and expansion by home-taking on Main Street appear to be unaware that neither of these proposed solutions is eligible for any state aid.

"To attempt to jerry-build an addition to the present high school building reducing its 12 acres of land even further has been suggested many times before in Winchester. But state aid for additions as proposed for the old high school building is virtually certain to be denied. Such requests are approved only when there is no available adequate land site remaining within the town or city.

"Last year the Massachusetts State Building Assistance Bureau indicated to the Winchester School Department that since two adequate sites had already been given approval for 40% state aid, it would prove fruitless to apply for any funds for a high school addition.

"Consequently, only if the town votes in favor of the three million dollar additional appropriation will Winchester receive $5,200,000 in state aid.

The group has submitted a petition for inclusion of the question on the warrant for this year's Annual Town Meeting. The Board assured the residents at the Monday night meeting that the article would be included in the warrant.

A scheduled hearing on the Police Department budget was postponed until the next meeting of the Selectmen.

In other business the Selectmen noted that the referendum held today on the new high school cost approximately $2,200. Approximately $1,500 of this is salary for personnel. Mailing charges for the warrant were approximately $400, and approximately $300 was spent on printing of the warrant and the strips for the voting machines.

Letter

The Selectmen also noted the following letter which was received from the Winchester Ecumenical Association:

"The Winchester Ecumenical Association would like to take this means of expressing our appreciation to the Board of Selectmen for the courtesy and consideration shown us as you heard our intention to use the Common in our participation in the October 15th Memorial Day activities. We knew that you were fulfilling your duty, but the warm, understanding, and cooperative way in which you did so deserves commendation.

"The way in which you handled the matter revealed your concern for all the people, even those who are not representatives of majority opinion. It has been said that "the true test of democracy is how well the rights of the minority are protected." We believe the way in which the Board of Selectmen and the other departments of the Town responded to the intention of the citizens who formed the Memorial Day group in Winchester reflected the true fundamentals of a democratic society. For this and the considerate way in which the matter was handled we express to you our deepest appreciation."

Consulting

Specializing in wire and cable exclusively, Shepherd Associates offers a complete range of consulting and other services, including: design and engineering; processing improvement of thermoplastic and thermoset compounds; plant layout; operations analysis; equipment design, purchase and installation, for both standard and custom requirements; development of inspection programs, including training of inspection personnel, development of quality control programs, including auditing, systems analysis and vendor inspection; short interval scheduling; and value engineering.

Other Services

Other services offered by Shepherd Associates include: production planning and control systems; cost and method studies; testing services and training; cable splicing, repairing and training; problem-solving and troubleshooting in all phases of engineering; compounding, manufacturing and quality control; field installation and service assistance; market research and analysis; and field sales assistance.

Mr. Shepherd holds a bachelor's degree in engineering management from Northeastern University and this year received a master's degree in business administration from the same institution. He is also the recipient of a degree in electrical engineering from Lincoln Institute and is a graduate of the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

Mr. Shepherd is a member of the American Society of Quality Control; the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers; the American Mining Congress; the Society for the Advancement of Management, of which he is a former treasurer; the Harvard Business School Association; and the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Author of a number of technical publications relating to electric wire and cable, Mr. Shepherd is a veteran of the U.S. Air Force and lives on Pond Street.

Mr. DiNunzio holds a degree in industrial engineering from Northeastern University and has done graduate engineering work at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Mr. DiNunzio has served as a director and secretary of the Society for the Advancement of Management. He is a resident of Lexington.

Mr. Stoddard has wide experience in the design, installation and maintenance of submarine power cable installations in offshore oil well operations from South America to Alaska. He served as consultant for cable systems for the "Sturgis," the first floating nuclear power plant. He is a senior member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers, and a member of the American Ordnance and American Railway Associations.

Mr. Stoddard is a graduate of Mt. Hermon School and Norwich University and has done graduate work in communications at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is a member of Tau Beta Pi, electrical engineering honor society, and in 1962 retired as colonel, U.S. Signal Corps. He lives in Needham.

Veteran's Day Ceremonies Draw Large Number Of Participants

School Comm.

On the motion of Committee man Dr. Richard B. Lawrence, the members voted to hire a maintenance man and one custodian, deferring action on the extra-curricular and curriculum council assignments.

Due to illness among the custodial staff and the backlog of maintenance work to be done, the Committee felt that with winter approaching the moratorium on hiring should be lifted in this case.

It was also reported that at the junior high and high schools various extra-curricular activities were not being held due to a lack of volunteer advisors. Committee member Richard K. Schroeder requested that records of such clubs be kept, emphasizing students' participation in them, so that in the future the School Committee would have a basis on which to judge whether the organization was worthy of budget expenditures.

Calculators

Assistant Superintendent Walter P. Gleason presented a report on the mathematics laboratory implemented at the junior high school. Though there was not enough time to make an efficient evaluation, the recommendation is to continue use of these laboratories and expand the program now offered to students.

The Committee voted to authorize the Superintendent to proceed in securing bids for electronic calculators. Originally, mechanical calculators were to be purchased, however, advancements have occurred so quickly in this field that professionals have recommended their replacement by electronic machines.

Also reviewed was the request of the Community School Association to increase the music staff of the school system to enable wind and percussion instrument instruction to take place in the fourth grade. At present only stringed instrument training is offered at this level.

No action was required on this matter, but it will be discussed in the future for September of 1970, or for possible reinstatement during this school year.

At the close of business on the agenda, Joseph C. Forte, principal of McCall Junior High School, talked briefly about the overcrowded conditions existing at his school.

Citing a total room utilization of approximately 87 per cent, he noted that non-classroom spaces were being used as regular teaching stations and that special teaching areas, such as the home economics room, have been taken over as general classrooms.

Mr. Forte said that with a new high school building, these conditions could be solved at the junior high schools.

Breaks

The preceding day Officer Perittano had investigated a break at a Cambridge Street home. The residents being gone for the day, entrance had been made by breaking a glass pane on a side door and unlocking it from the inside. Only the den and master bedroom had been ransacked. Known missing at this time were a portable radio, a wrist watch and about $200.

Also on Sunday Officer William H. O'Neil found the rear door of the Ryco Laundromat, 290 Washington Street open. A rear window had been jammed. According to the police report nothing was found taken at this time except perhaps some small change from the register.

Officer O'Neil also found the rear window of Robert's Beauty Salon, located next to the laundromat, with the same circumstances inside.

Accidents Occur On Slick Roads

Several motor vehicle accidents have occurred during this past week of driving rain and slick roads.

On Friday, November 7, Officer Donald E. Pigott with Officer Robert G. Baird investigated a two-car accident at Cross and Holton Streets.

According to the police report, a Winchester youth, 17, was making a left turn into Holton Street from Cross Street when he saw a vehicle in front of him, but was unable to stop in time.

Mrs. Richard W. (Rita) Veno of Woburn informed police that she was travelling in an easterly direction on East Street and was slowing to a stop at the Cross Street intersection when she was hit on the right side.

There were five passengers in her car, one of which was transported to Winchester Hospital for examination as a precaution.

The entire front end of the first vehicle was damaged and had to be towed from the scene. Damage to the Veno automobile was to the right front fender.

A single-car accident occurred on Sunday afternoon, November 9, under the bridge on Cross Street. Officer Frank Vozzella was sent to the scene.

Upon arrival, Thomas D'Arcangelo, 21, of Woburn was found in a dazed condition behind the wheel of his vehicle. He was taken to Winchester Hospital.

According to the police report, Mr. D'Arcangelo was travelling up Forest Street toward Woburn and had turned right into Cross Street. He told police that he thought he may have fallen asleep.

His automobile ran through 20 feet of guard railing and a "No Parking" sign before ending up broadside in the middle of the street under the bridge, pointed in a northerly direction.

The entire front end of his vehicle was damaged. The railing had entered the side of the car and protruded out of the glove compartment on the passenger's side.

The turnout of veterans, despite the weather conditions, was the largest to participate in a Veterans' Day program in Winchester. Members of the Color Guard consisted of James Ray, Clement Landry, Ralph Tauro and George Richburg.

Directors of the Veterans' Day Program were Gordo H. Horn and John T. Horn.

Mrs. Wilson was also elected treasurer of the New England Sculptors' Association at the annual fall meeting held recently at the Massachusetts College of Art.

Hundred Club Presents Gift

Sheriff Howard W. Fitzpatrick, president, and Leo L. Laughlin, executive director, of the Hundred Club of Massachusetts recently presented a check for $10,000 to Lamont L. Thompson, chairman of the Massachusetts Council on Crime and Correction.

LEO L. LAUGHLIN

The Hundred Club is an organization of Massachusetts professional, civic and business leaders pledged to assist families of policemen and firemen who are killed in the line of duty. Within 24 hours of a firefighter's or law enforcer's tragic death—where there are Hundred Club members—officers of the Club deliver $1,000 to the next of kin to help alleviate sudden expenses. The Hundred Club also pays the mortgage on the family home and aids in handling other expenses.

The Massachusetts Council on Crime and Correction is a private citizens organization working to improve the criminal justice system. In addition to Crime Check, the Council works in the areas of legislation, law enforcement, corrections, public education, and youth problems. MCCC is the local arm of the National Council on Crime and Delinquency. A professional staff headed by State Director John J. Buckley coordinates the activities of 10,000 citizens at 3 Joy Street, Boston.

WCCA To Meet; Discuss Sidewalks

All residents interested in obtaining Town sidewalks for the safety of school children are invited to attend an open meeting at the Winchester Public Library at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, November 18.

This meeting is sponsored by the Winchester Council for Community Action (WCCA) which felt that cooperation on a town-wide basis would provide a new and beneficial approach to obtaining town sidewalks or alternative solutions. By considering the specific problems in various parts of the town, it is hoped that priorities could be set so that an effective presentation could be made to the Board of Selectmen and the Annual Town Meeting.

Any person who knows of a specific problem is urged to attend. For any additional information, please call Lewis Linson, 729-8741, or Pat Globus, 729-3069.

St. Mary's School Mothers Club Plans Meeting

A representative of the Boston Globe's "Confidential Chat" will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the St. Mary's Mothers Club Wednesday, November 19, at 8 p.m. in the school hall.

Refreshments will be served. All mothers and their friends are invited. The co-chairmen for the meeting are Mrs. Clarence Lyon and Mrs. August Niewenhaus.

There will also be a brief business meeting.

Class Of '64 Plans Reunion This Christmas

The Winchester High School, class of 1964, is planning its fifth reunion on Friday, December 26 at 8:30 p.m. at the Woburn Country Club.

Included in the evening will be a popular soul band and a buffet meal.

Class members will be contacted by letter at a later date with more information about the reunion plans.

Unitarian Fair Features Items, Films And Food

Mrs. Nixon's gown Dr. Robert Storer's lobster stew recipe and prize-winning children's films will be among the enticements at the Unitarian Church Christmas Fair next week.

The fair runs from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Wednesday and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Thursday November 20.

The size eight gown and evening coat designed by Priscilla of Boston and worn once by Mrs. Nixon, will be modeled and sold by silent auction at the luncheon Thursday. Donated by Mrs. J. Norton Kidder of 18 Brooks Street, there is a $100 minimum on bids.

There are two seatings for luncheon, at 12 noon and at 1 p.m. For tickets, call 729-0949. Luncheon chairmen are Mrs. Percy Hill, Mrs. Warren Jackson, Mrs. George Blair and Mrs. Robert Tesar.

A new cookbook, "The Unitarian-Universalist Meat Cookbook" will be on sale at the fair. Among the 1,000 recipes from all over the country is one for lobster stew from the local church's recently retired minister, Dr. Storer. To reserve a copy, call Mrs. John T. Blanchard, 729-0441.

Three films for children will be shown from 4 to 5 p.m. on Thursday. The Winchester Unitarian Cooperative Nursery School is providing the films and taking tickets.

The Boy Scout troop will usher and Allen Eden will run the projector. The films, geared to children age three and up, are all in color. "Paddle to the Sea," a 1967 American Film Festival winner, tells of a toy canoe carved by an Indian boy, and traces its journey through the Great Lakes to the ocean. "Dick Whittington and His Cat," a 1966 Festival winner, is an animated puppet film. It tells how a penniless orphan arrived in London 600 years ago to seek his fortune, and how his kindness to a cat was repaid many times. "The Lost Doll," a Czechoslovakian film, tells of a doll who is lost in a park and comes to life. For tickets or information, call 729-7899. Tickets are also sold at the door.

The Children's Fair is open 3 to 5 p.m. Thursday, with inexpensive toys, grab bag gifts, balloons and a fortune teller.

Shoppers at the fair can relax with a snack bar almost any time. Coffee and dessert will be served throughout the evening Wednesday by Mrs. John Lyman's committee. Mrs. Robert Moffat will serve coffee and cake Thursday morning and Mrs. Neil Borden will serve tea and pastries Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Richard T. Morey of 10 Salisbury Street is a patient at the New England Rehabilitation Center, Route 3 at the Woburn-Winchester line.

College Club Of Smith Opens New Season

The Smith College Club of Winchester held its first meeting of the 1969-1970 year at the home of Mrs. Thornton Stearns on November 5.

After dessert and coffee served by Mrs. Neil H. Borden and her committee, the business meeting was opened by club President Mrs. Philip B. Parsons Jr.

Mrs. Persis Gow, chairman of the candidates committee, announced a drop-in buffet luncheon for prospective Smith students in this area on December 23 at the home of Mrs. Robert Roundy. An admissions officer from the college will be invited to answer any questions.

The club's annual Film Festival will be held at the Winchester Theatre on March 24, April 7 and April 14 of next year. Mrs. Philip I. Blumberg is chairman of this event, which is the club's major fund-raiser for its Scholarship Fund.

President Mrs. Parsons reported to the club on the recent Alumnae Council session which she attended as the delegate of the local group. Alumnae representatives from all parts of the United States convened in Northampton to conduct Alumnae Association business and to be updated on developments at the college.

Scouts Explore An Island

Several members of Scout Troop No. 525 have recently returned from a day of camping and exploring on an island neighboring Marblehead.

Using compasses they followed an original map formed by Long John Silver, himself, to discover a treasure of coins and candy. This was followed by an afternoon of football and camp-side cooking with return to Winchester at 10 p.m.

A member of the class of 1972 at the Malden School of Nursing is Miss Miriam Hoyt of Winchester.

Area Director Is Welcomed By Rotarians

The Winchester Rotary Club, led by President Albert S. Hovannesian, recently played host to the Rotary International District 793 Governor, Anthony Frasca of Lynn, at a dinner meeting held at the Winchester Country Club on Wednesday evening, October 29.

The District Governor was impressed by the turnout of Winchester Rotarians in his honor. Committee members presented their reports and ensuing discussions on Rotary principles, plans and club aims in good form to the satisfaction of the District Governor upon this annual visit.

He also noted the success of the Winchester club's Annual Auction which carries out one of Rotary's prime objectives, community service. All proceeds from this annual auction, which is actually a year-round effort by all members of collecting salable merchandise, are donated to local charities, emergency catastrophe funds and otherwise for the betterment of Winchester's public parks and grounds.

The District Governor and Mrs. Frasca, along with next year's District Governor nominee, Barney Samuels and his wife, were guests of the Winchester Rotary Club at the next day's regular luncheon meeting, at which time Governor Frasca presented a talk on Rotary ideals and their role in today's society and contribution towards better world-wide international understanding.

In closing, the District Governor commended the Winchester club for its excellent organization and community achievements, as being one of the best clubs, if not the best, out of the 37 clubs in cities and towns which comprise his district.

Band Members Raise Money For Trip

"SOCK IT TO ME!" DAY, Sunday, November 16, was advertised during Saturday's game by band members, who will be ringing doorbells on Sunday selling slipper socks in order to earn money to make an exchange concert trip to Montreal, Canada, in March. The town-wide, fund-raising effort is under the sponsorship of the citizens' group, the Friends of the Band and Orchestra. (Joyce photo)

Parents Groups Sponsor Program On Rome Trip

A combined meeting of the Lincoln School Parents Association and the Washington School Parents Association will be held on Wednesday evening, November 19th, at 7:30 p.m. in the Washington School Auditorium.

Following a brief coffee hour, the parents will hear a report from Winchester High School students who participated last summer in the Rome Study Program at the Overseas School in Rome, Italy.

Dr. Leonor Rich, principal of Washington School, will give an explanation of the new elementary school report cards which are being introduced this year. A question and answer period will follow Dr. Rich's presentation.

All interested parents are urged to attend.

High Schl. Parents Discuss Plan For Open Campus

Mrs. John Elliott of 118 Arlington Street was hostess for the Parent Faculty Board of Winchester High School, Wednesday, November 5. Vito Giarrizzo of 20 Saw Mill Brook Road chaired the meeting.

P.F.A. Social Chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Achilles Penna of 64 Bacon Street were congratulated for their efforts at the High School Open House, and at Exple II.

Principal Howard Niblock announced that 420 parents had attended open house and had picked up the High School calendar at that time. He will devise some way of getting the calendar to those parents who were unable to attend.

Dr. Niblock reported that Winchester Banks had contributed the yellow bags distributed at the Career Center on Exple night. He had forwarded appreciation to the Winchester banks on behalf of all concerned.

The business of the meeting included discussion of the probability that the High School would be put on probation should the referendum vote be negative.

The open campus plan, which had received a favorable vote from students and faculty, was discussed at length. The Board voted heavily in its favor. This vote will be forwarded to the School Committee.

This year's social event will be a dance to be held in March. Mr. and Mrs. Leo Roche of 26 Sargent Road, ways and means chairman, will make the necessary arrangements.

St. Mary's Mr. & Mrs. Club Holds Dinner

More than 100 people participated in the November meeting of St. Mary's Mr. & Mrs. Club.

Hosts for the evening were Virginia and Gerry Donahue who arranged a dinner for the club members. Virginia expressed her gratitude to Dot Mueller and several other committeewomen and volunteers for all their help.

President Peter Kelliher held a brief business meeting to allow time for the other activity. Under the direction of Gerry Donahue, this was a "Yankee Swap." The swap has endured as one of the best laugh producers for any gathering and this night was no exception.

One of the many gifts to be opened during the game was a silver coffee pot. It became everyone's target and finally, was captured by John Driscoll.

The November meeting was the last one in 1969. The next Mr. and Mrs. Club meeting will occur on January 22nd.

Christmas Job Is Time To Begin Social Security

"Students, that Christmas part-time job may do more than help pay your tuition or pay for new clothes. For one thing, it will buy you valuable social security protection for yourself and later for your family," John E. Lonergan Jr., social security manager of the Cambridge Social Security Office said recently. "Social security is a lot more than retirement and Medicare."

"Young people can get valuable survivors and disability protection with as little as a year and a half of work under social security," said Mr. Lonergan. "Thanks to the work they do part-time and on vacations, many high school and college students are already insured for both even before they begin their regular working careers."

Mr. Lonergan gave three basic suggestions to young workers who want to get the most protection from their social security.

Make sure your employer has correctly recorded your social security number. Without proper reporting a worker may not get credit for all his earnings.

If part of your wages is received in tips, it is also important that you keep a record of the amounts received and report them to your employer. If you earn tips amounting to $20 or more a month, you will receive social security credit for them and must pay a social security contribution for the tips just as for other wages.

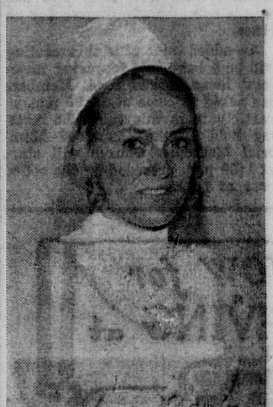

Check with social security every three years or so to make sure your earnings have been correctly reported. This is especially important if you change jobs frequently. A pre-addressed post card from available at district offices can be used to request a statement of the earnings credited to your social security record.

The Cambridge Social Security Office is open daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Wednesday evenings until 8 p.m.

You may also contact the social security representative at the Woburn Public Library any Tuesday between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Stafford - Dunn

Miss Linda Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Dunn of 5 Grant Road, and Arthur C. Stafford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Stafford of Woburn, formerly of Winchester, were married in St. Mary's Church on Saturday, October 4.

MRS. ARTHUR C. STAFFORD

Officiating at the 5:30 candlelight ceremony was the Rev. John H. O'Donnell. Serving as altar boy was Mark Caputo.

A reception followed at the Montvale Plaza, Stoneham.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of ivory silk faced satin. Pearl and crystal beading graced the high colored neckline of the modified empire bodice. Her long bishop sleeves had deep cuffs of beaded satin. The soft A-line skirt swept into a full chapel-length train. Her full, tiered veil of imported silk illusion was held by a high open cone-shaped hat of matching beaded satin. She carried a cascade of phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Janis Stepper of Winchester was her maid of honor. She wore a gown of moss green crepe fashioned with a high collared neckline and bishop sleeves. A wide trim of gold braid with multi-colored beading encircled the waistline above the slim draped skirt. The headpiece was a Dior bow with spiral streamers made of matching green crepe. She carried a circular bouquet of fall mums and tea roses.

Bridesmaids were Miss Sheila McLaughlin and Miss Judi Stafford, sister of the bridegroom, both of Woburn. They were attired as the maid of honor in a shade of gold.

Serving as best man was Bruce Stanski of California. Ushers were Edward Masi and Edward Maguire, both of Stoneham.

Mrs. Kathy Stanski of California served as guest book attendant.

Sal Spignese of Lexington acted as seating plan attendant.

The bride is a graduate of Westbrook Junior College and is presently employed as office manager with a local firm.

Mr. Stafford is a graduate of Tufts University and is now employed by Sylvania Company as an engineer.

The couple had taken a wedding trip to the Virgin Islands.

Smith - Bird

On October eleventh at the Winchester Unitarian Church, Miss Mary Lou Bird, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. Arthur Bird of 11 Rangeley Road, became the bride of Gardner E. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percival A. Smith of Reading. The Rev. Jack Zoerheide officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white velvet gown with an Empire bodice and long cuffed sleeves. Her veil fell from a velvet headpiece. She carried a white bridal bouquet of chrysanthemums and stephanotis.

Mrs. Charles E. Lucier of Middletown, Connecticut, was the matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Sheila Thompson of Cornwall, Ontario, and Miss Marilyn Compton of Edmonton, Alberta. They wore gold velvet with bouquets of chrysanthemums in autumn colors.

Winthrop Smith of Reading was his brother's best man. Ushers were Charles Lucier, Richard Thompson, Lawrence Bairstow and William Saurman.

After a wedding trip to Canada the couple will make their home in Reading.

Marriage Intentions

Peter Coleman Courtney of Riverside, Rhode Island, to Janice Marie Sacco of 2A Fernway

John R. Kean of 8 Glen Road to Joan K. Vespucci of 33 Harvard Street

Serving on the ushering, seating and decorations committee for the annual fall convocation for New England high school principals and guidance directors at Wentworth Institute in Boston recently was Glen W. Okerson of 200 Swanton Street.

Released Time Is Scheduled For Grade Schools

Elementary school students will be released at noon on Tuesday, November 18. Teachers from all elementary grades will meet in workshops during that time.

All elementary teachers will meet at Wyman School to exchange various effective teaching practices in use in Winchester. According to William Warnock, principal of Wyman School, who is in charge of the program, the purpose of the exchange is to collect the techniques into a book which would be used for reference purposes throughout the system.

To Have Appraiser Discuss Antiques

Antiques will be the topic of discussion at the Wednesday, November 19 meeting of the Winchester Home and Garden Club. Members have been asked to bring to the meeting an antique that they would like appraised.

Mrs. Mary Elliott will examine each antique and discuss its value, age and history with the owner and audience. Mrs. Elliott is the owner of Nook and Cranny the antique shop located at 921 Main Street. She has appraised antiques in many Winchester homes and has been a collector of antiques for 25 years.

An added interest to this meeting will be a bake sale featuring members' home cooked food. Members are asked to come at 12:30 p.m. to participate in this sale. The meeting held at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will start at 1:30 p.m. preceded by the coffee hour at 1 p.m.

Northeast Story Includes That Of Paul Collins

"Adventures of a Yellowbird," Robert M. Mudge's newly published biography of Northeast Airlines, is also the life story of early aviator and Winchester resident Paul F. Collins.

Captain Mudge, a veteran of Northeast, began his career as a meteorologist for this airline, moving through several positions to his current post as Project Manager-Training Development.

The story of Northeast Airlines begins in the early days of commercial aviation when the Ludington brothers, members of a wealthy Philadelphia family, decided to establish an airline which would link their city with New York and Washington, D.C.

The Ludingtons chose the complementary team of Paul Collins, now of 3 Harrington Road, as general superintendent for Transcontinental Air Transport (T.A.C.), the predecessor of Trans World Airlines, and Eugene Vidal, a man with public relations polish, as assistant general manager.

Paul Collins was one of the original airmail pilots hired by the U.S. Postal Service who survived the dangers of such early aviation tests. He had already participated in flying the first night transcontinental mail into New York at the time of this executive appointment.

A relatively new philosophy for airlines which they instituted was the Collins-Vidal concept of "on the hour every hour" service. T.A.T. began service in September, 1930.

When the opportunity arose to pick up the Boston and Maine's New England route, Mr. Collins and Eugene Vidal joined with Sam Solomon to form their own airline. After convincing Amelia Earhart, who could perhaps provide the public image needed to attract attention to the new airlines, to become a fourth partner, work began on the physical formation of National Airways.

Classroom Visit

TUNED IN to the activities of her children is Mrs. Karl Sorger, a parent visiting Lincoln School during classroom visit day. Parents are encouraged to drop in at the open houses held at the schools during American Education Week, November 9 to 15. Mrs. Sorger listened to a play which the class had presented and tape-recorded. Open house was held on November 12 at Lincoln, Mystic, Noonan, Parkhurst, Vinson-Owen, and Washington Schools. Wyman School will have open house November 19. Other schools have held open house prior to this week. (Lois Carr photo)

Children's Own School To Hold Open House

The Children's Own School, 36 Main Street, will hold its Annual Open House on Friday, November 14, at 7:30 p.m.

The school, now in its 27th year, comprises a Lower School for children ages three to five; a Transitional Class for children age five to six; and an Upper School for children ages six to 12. It draws its pupils not only from Winchester but also from Medford, Woburn, Lexington and other surrounding communities.

This year the staff includes two distinguished new members: Mrs. Rosanna Cullinane from England and Mrs. Maitri Padmanabhan from India. Both are members of the Association Montessori Internationale.

All teachers will be present at the Open House and Montessori materials utilized in the classrooms will be on display. Refreshments will be served. The public is most cordially invited to attend.

Garden Club To Host Talk On Holiday Ideas

Prospective holiday hostesses will be presented with a wealth of ideas for making floral party favors, corsages, wreaths, and centerpieces when Philip D'Errico of Cummings Florists speaks on Banquet Bouquets and Holly Days at the Vinson-Owen School on November 19 at 8 p.m.

Mr. D'Errico will commentate as two of his designers demonstrate, step-by-step, how to make various decorative items for the upcoming holidays. All the basic fundamentals of floral design will be covered.

The evening is being presented by the Winchester Estates Garden Club. Tickets will be available at the door. Refreshments will be served and a door prize awarded.

In charge of arrangements is Mrs. Rolland Robison, ways and means chairman.

Formumites To Sponsor Supper

In order to earn money to defray the costs of the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church Spring Trip in April, their committee is sponsoring a chowder-house supper on Friday, November 21.

Miss Cathy Schultz and Chris Fernald, chairmen of the Spring Trip Committee, are also organizing a "Forum" table for the church fair to help with travel expenses.

On December 6 and 7 the Senior Forum will hold its annual International Weekend when Forumites open their homes to foreign students. Activities and casual conversation during this weekend are interesting and beneficial.

Money earned from the Workday-For-Christ held recently will be donated to benevolence. The Forum wishes to thank those who participated.

Film Program At Library

Family Film Night at 7:30 p.m., November 14.

Amazon Family — This colorful film portrays the everyday life of the primitive Beni tribe. This tribe lives in the remote jungle area of the Amazon River.

Little Grey Neck — A story is told about a duck who injures her wing, thus being unable to fly south. The duck must rely on the forest animals for the winter.

The Monkey Who Would Be King — Real animals play the roles in this popular fable. When the monkey snatches the crown and desires to become king, he finds out that there is more to being king than wearing a crown.

Hospitalization May Be Extended For Certain Vets

Care in Veterans Administration hospitals may be extended to veterans of all wars and to peacetime veterans under certain conditions, according to the VA.

Priority on admission to hospitals goes first to veterans who require treatment for service-connected conditions, the VA said. Second priority is for those who have service-connected disabilities but require treatment for conditions that are not service-connected.

A veteran without a service-connected disability may be admitted provided he served in any war or after June 27, 1950, or received the Medal of Honor during peacetime service.

The VA pointed out that admission of these patients is contingent upon these considerations: (1) hospitalization must be necessary, (2) the patient must state in writing that he is unable to defray the cost of the necessary hospitalization elsewhere, and (3) an appropriate hospital bed must be available.

Outpatient care for non-service-connected conditions is not permitted by law, the VA said, but certain prehospital and posthospital medical services can be performed for patients who are scheduled for admission to a VA hospital or for those who require follow-up care after hospitalization. The intent of this law, the VA said, is to shorten periods of actual hospitalization while providing the same medical care.

Patients who have received maximum hospital benefit yet require nursing care may be furnished this care in either a VA facility or a private nursing home.

Veterans disabled by age or disease who do not need hospitalization or skilled nursing care may be admitted to VA domiciliarys on an ambulatory, self-care basis under approximately the same rules as for hospitalization.

Applications may be made by the veteran or in behalf of the veteran at any VA office.

Mrs. VerPlanck
To Read Journal
Before Society

The Winchester Historical Society opens its fall season on Saturday, November 15 at 2:30 p.m. in the Meeting Room of the Public Library.

Readings by Mrs. W. K. VerPlanck from the rare Indian captivity journal by her ancestor, Susannah Johnson, will provide the Society with a first hand account of the terrors of our early pioneers.

Mrs. VerPlanck will display a rubbing taken from the marker at Weatherfield where Susannah's baby, Captive, was born two days after the grueling capture at Fort Four in Charlestown, New Hampshire, on the Connecticut River, August 30, 1754. Also slides will be shown of the new restoration of this historical Fort.

Wellington L. Caldwell, President of the Society, cordially invites the public to attend this meeting.

William Sullivan Helps Arrange
Honors Breakfast

William D. Sullivan of 2A Rangeley Ridge served on the committee making arrangements for the Second Annual Recognition Breakfast, which honored members of the Omega Beta Omega Society formed last year in recognition of their support in the past for the college.

A graduate of Bentley and the Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers University, Mr. Sullivan is President of the Winchester National Bank. He is also a national director of the Bentley Alumni Association, treasurer of the Winchester Rotary Club, residential and general chairman of the United Fund, past financial secretary of the Knights of Columbus, and is a member of the Robert Morris Association of Credit Men, the Bank Administration Institute, the American Legion, and the Elks.

During the breakfast program, Bentley President Thomas L. Morison announced that a $100,000 challenge grant from the Hayden Foundation will provide an incentive to the college's annual Giving Program. The gift is based on the college raising an additional $300,000, President Morison said.

Dean John M. Sinclair moderated a faculty presentation on the academic program at the college.

Schools To Present
Concert

On Monday evening, November 17, members of the music department of the Winchester Public Schools are presenting a chamber music concert in the Wyman School auditorium at 8 p.m.

This is a free concert for parents and friends, students, members of the faculty, and citizens of our community.

The program included the following:
Piano solos by Mrs. Lillian Enright, Lynch Jr. High; Paul Davis, McCall Jr. High.

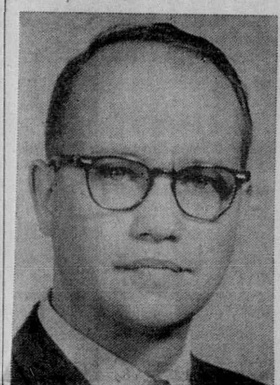

Songs by Herman Greene, Elementary school music specialist.
Violin Solos by John Woodworth, Instructor of strings, conductor of Lynch and McCall Orchestras.
Clarinet Solo by Thomas Page, Class of '72 WHS.

Violin Duet by Noel Webb, Class of '70 WHS and Scott Knopf, Class of '72 WHS.

Piano accompaniments will be provided by Wendell S. Withington, Director of Music

Surety Bank Opens Office
On Main Street

"Overwhelming!" was the comment of Surety Bank and Trust Company President, Daniel D. Moore, to indicate his impression of the success of the opening of Winchester's newest bank, the Surety branch facility at 522-524 Main Street.

Officiating at the ribbon-cutting ceremony to mark the formal opening of the bank were Cleo F. Jaillet, commissioner of corporations and taxation; Paul F. Amico, chairman of the Winchester Board of Selectmen; and Daniel D. Moore.

Other dignitaries present at the ceremony were Representative Harrison Chadwick; Robert J. Maletta, deputy commissioner of banks; Ralph W. Swanson and Sherman W. Saltmarsh Jr., members of the Board of Selectmen; James J. Costello, Town Comptroller; Jack Chitel, chairman of the Winchester Professional and Business Association; Richard Mintz, Louis Lager and Mrs. Joan Foley, trustees of the Locatelli Realty Trust, owner of the building; Gordon Thayer, president of Thayer Construction Company, general contractor for the renovation of the location; members of the Board of Directors of the Surety Bank and Trust Company, and many others.

The Reverend Herbert K. A. Driscoll, Immaculate Conception Church, gave a short invocation. Mr. Moore introduced the various dignitaries as well as the staff of the Winchester Branch Bank, William J. McDonough, vice president and manager, and Benjamin A. Curtis, assistant vice president and assistant manager.

Mr. Moore said, "It is gratifying, indeed, to see this response to the opening of our new banking facility in the Town of Winchester. We are glad to be a part of the retail community and will endeavor to provide them with our full support."

Elks Club Honors Family At Meeting

Winchester Lodge of Elks held one of its most important meetings on Sunday, November 2.

The visitation of District Deputy Nicholas J. Mazzoni of Chelmsford Lodge and his official suite plus the initiation of 18 new members and recognition of the well known Mawn family made the day a memorable one for the Winchester Elks.

District Deputy Mazzoni in his remarks called for all Americans to support their government 100% and said that all Elks should be and act in the true spirit of "a proud American."

He also complimented the Winchester Lodge on its continued growth and progress in the new home on Cambridge Street.

Creighton Horn, P.E.R., and presently a trustee of Winchester Lodge then called the Mawn family to be recognized. James Mawn Sr., his seven sons, his two sons-in-law and a cousin, all members of Winchester Lodge were introduced individually by Mr. Horn and were given a standing ovation.

The day ended with a roast beef dinner prepared and served by the Lodge stewards.

Mawn Family Honored At Elks Meeting

Voters League To Study Aid Programs

Re-evaluation of the U.S. development assistance programs and a re-examination of the League of Women Voters position in aid is the principal topic of discussion for the November unit meetings of the Winchester League of Women Voters scheduled to be held on November 18, 19, and 20.

In adopting the 1968-70 foreign policy item at the National League of Women Voters Convention it was determined that there was a great need for a "back-up" review of the basic elements of foreign assistance as well as an increasing need to seek new emphasis on the issues of aid as related to certain general questions. There is dissatisfaction with the relationship of military aid to economic aid; anxiety about rumors of corruption, waste, and inefficiency; and concern about funds for domestic poverty programs.

There have also been questions about the relative advantages of multi-lateral and bi-lateral aid. The League's re-evaluation of aid policies seems particularly well-timed, paralleling similar re-appraisal efforts by the U.S. government and international bodies.

Because the unit discussions provide opportunity to study, discuss, and express opinions on the issues, it is hoped that all interested members and guests will attend.

AMIC Chapter To Present Panel

The Region III Chapter of the Association for Mentally Ill Children (AMIC III), will present a panel discussion, Wednesday, November 19, at 8:00 p.m. at the First Parish Church, (On the Green) Lexington.

The subject on the discussion will be the role of the State and the future of education for the mentally ill or emotionally disturbed child in Massachusetts.

Lt. Connolly Elected Director Of Fire Marshals

Lt. Joseph M. Connolly of the Winchester Fire Department was elected to the board of directors of the New England Association of Fire Marshals, at the annual meeting held in Warwick, Rhode Island on September 17.

The objectives and purposes of the New England Association of Fire Marshals are:

1. To unite for mutual benefit those persons engaged primarily in the prevention or control of fire or the suppression of arson.
2. To act as a central agency for exchange of professional information among its members.
3. To assist Fire Marshals and fire prevention bureau personnel in the conduct of their professional activities towards the reduction of fire waste.

Cub Scouts Sell Flares For Auto Safety

A program aimed at improving motor vehicle safety standards got underway this week by members of Cub Scout Pack 524.

To fulfill their community service achievements, Pack 524 members are now busy selling safety flares that motorists can use in the event of an emergency. The achievement plan is the heart of Cub Scouting; it is designed to challenge the boys while helping them to learn more about themselves, their neighborhood, their community and their religion.

Completion of these achievements increases the boys' physical abilities and self-reliance as well as providing the boys with recognition within the Pack and community.

In announcing the program, Pat Paolini, assistant Cubmaster, pointed out that, within the next year, the United States Department of Transportation, through proposed regulations, will ask that all new automobiles be equipped with safety flares.

Boys selling the flares instruct in their use and acquaint people with safety precautions.

The drive was kicked off on Friday, November 7, and will continue through early December.

The Big One That Got Away

It was a real thrill to pick up the South hand when Board II appeared at your table in Section B. No one was vulnerable with South dealing.

How would you handle the following blockbuster?

♠ A 4
♥ A K Q 10 9 8 4 2
♦ A 6

The first bid is easy, - a strong forcing two-bid, either two hearts or two clubs, depending on your system.

Now when partner gives a negative response, really to be expected, what next? Your partner might have both Kings, - only six points - and not give a positive raise. So let's bid Blackwood to find out, - the four no trump bid first with of course a five club response showing no Aces, and then the five no trump bid asking for Kings, planning to bid six or seven depending whether the answer is one or two Kings. However, North responds six clubs showing no Kings, the final bid is thus necessarily six hearts, going down one trick. (The North hand holds the four Jacks only for high card strength, no help at all.)

Now using that overworked commodity of the bridge table, - hindsight - it seems to me that North, not South, is the partner who can tell if there is slam in the hand, so why not ask him to decide. In short, after the negative response to the original forcing bid, just say five hearts in the South spot. Surely it must mean, "I can make five hearts; if you can take one trick, go to six, partner." And since South's five heart bid goes by the four no trump bid asking for Aces, he can't be concerned about Aces. Therefore the hand must hinge on Kings.

Editor's Note: It's comforting to know that all but one South bid the slam, also going down.

Sachem Soccer Season A Success

The Winchester soccer team started the season with only four experienced lettermen, the three tri-captains, left inside Peter Dow, center halfback John Puffer, and fullback Steve LaPointe.

The other returning lettermen were center forward Mark Grace, and junior Jim Beck, otherwise the squad was inexperienced. But with fine defense led by Steve LaPointe, and new members this year, fullback Bob Salvucci and goalie Mike Stevenson, the club was inspired, for the defense was expected to be the weak spot.

However, the offensive line had problems scoring, only averaging 1.2 goals per game over the first five games, and compiling a 2-2-1 record, while the team stayed together defending the Middlesex League title. Coach Bouley resorted to a different strategy by playing a 4-2-4, four fullbacks, two halfbacks, and four linemen, instead of a 5-3-2, five linemen, three halfbacks, and two fullbacks, which produced an increase in scoring.

In the first five games the Sachems played, they only managed six goals while the defense gave up a mere five goals. When the offense switched to four linemen, Peter Dow was moved to an inside position in the line.

The remaining seven games finished with a 5-2 record while producing 23 goals, an average of 4.2 goals per game, and giving up nine goals for an average of 1.2 goals per game.

The team played much more as a unit as the season progressed. The high points came at the end of the season as Winchester knocked off tourney bound Andover 7-3, for the highest scoring game this year, and then topped arch-rival Woburn 4-0 in the finale. This team became very powerful at the end of the season by showing some of the ability that the 1968 team showed a year ago while winning the Middlesex League title.

Next year brings much the same situation as this year. The new captains for the 1970 team are tri-captains, right wing Jim Beck, left wing Gary Fincke, and fullback Bob Salvucci. Dave Frongillo, a sophomore who played well this year, and goalie Mike Stevenson are also returning as lettermen. Two other starters for next year's squad are sophomore Mike Shiag and junior Norman Jansen from this year's team who have gained valuable experience on the varsity.

Rod Laver Visits Tennis Center

Ken Tew, teaching professional at the Winchester Indoor Lawn Tennis Center, and Jeannette Hunt of Winchester had opportunities to discuss their favorite sport, tennis, with the master of the game himself, Rod Laver.

Mr. Laver was visiting the Winchester Indoor Lawn Tennis Center to view the tennis court surface called Uniturf. He was among the first professionals to play a major tournament on this surface.

Mr. Laver feels that Uniturf will evolve as a popular surface for both indoor and outdoor courts because of the uniformity and consistency of ball bounce, and the comfort it extends to leg muscles.

Supporting Mr. Laver's observation is the fact that presently about 28 courts in the New England area have been installed using this surface.

Mr. Laver put on a volleying exhibition with Ken Tew and writer Bud Collins serving as his opponents.

Dinner Meeting Is Scheduled By Girl Scouts

The Mistick Side Girl Scout Council, Inc. will hold its Fall Council Meeting on Monday, November 17 at the Melrose Highlands Congregational Church. It will be a dinner meeting and is open to all registered adult Girl Scouts. Senior Girl Scouts have been invited to attend and will take part in the program.

A newly organized Folk Singing Group of Senior Scouts will debut at this meeting with folk songs and less familiar Girl Scout songs.

Seniors who have completed their Leader-In-Training course will be presented their bars by President Mrs. George W. Hardy and Advisor Miss Barbara Stewart. Among those receiving bars is Miss Sally Hayden of Winchester.

Two Senior Scouts will give highlights of the conservation conference that they attended in August in Connecticut.

Another Senior Scout will give highlights of the New England-Canadian Camporee which she attended.

League Crown On Line In Big Wakefield Game

by John F. Parrell

The Middlesex League Championship, won by the 1968 Winchester eleven, is at stake Saturday afternoon as Coach Manny Marshall leads his charges to Walton Field in that town.

The Whip Halfday coached eleven would like nothing better than to upset the high flying locals and with their gargantuan tackle Dave Lapham leading the charge, they pose a definite threat to any dreams of an undefeated season and sole possession of the league title by Winchester.

The Sachems can not afford to make the type of mistakes which marred their play against Reading. Neither can they be guilty of the many infractions which have been costing them too much long yardage in recent games. Wakefield, too is undefeated in league play and if they can win Saturday they might well win the honors outright or set up a three way deadlock for the top berth.

Local fans will well remember Lapham who last year at 240 pounds was described by Coach Marshall as a whole side of a line in himself. With 20 added pounds he is bound to be hard to move and is a definite threat to Winchester's offense. He is just beginning to round into form after a broken hand but Navy thought enough of his ability to contact him after the season's opener in regard to attending the Naval Academy.

Like Melrose, the home team has several speedsters from their track forces who also appear on the gridiron. They must be regarded as dangerous rivals and fully capable of upsetting the best of schoolboy teams. The Sachems must play their top game and can ill afford even the slightest slip against such a strong group.

A large crowd is expected to follow the Winchester team for this key Middlesex League contest. A suggested route which will be free of traffic is to take Route 128 North to the North Avenue exit and continue down this road which passes the field. This eliminates some of the congestion which could be met in Stoneham.

Stop defensively and you won't get stopped on, reports the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company. How you stop and where you stop are equally important to your safety as when you stop.

Sachems Wallops Belmont In Middlesex League Game

by John F. Parrell

IN THE ACTION Saturday against Belmont were Tom Riley (23), Bob Wolfe (27), Co-Captain Mike Gilberti (12), and Co-Captain Dave Scott (60). Winchester had an impressive 48-0 win in the game. (Joyce photo)

Bouncing off to an early lead, the Sachems completely outclassed a willing Belmont eleven and in so doing piled up a top heavy margin. This happened in spite of the efforts of the local coaches to keep the score within respectable limits by playing the reserves for most of the third period and by using a complete sophomore team in the final session.

The home team brought the large crowd of partisan fans to their feet by chalking up seven touchdowns and having two others disallowed as a result of rule infractions.

Coach Bob Whately's eleven tried hard but never did make much progress except for a brief flurry shortly before the half when they made a few gains through a new center combination with which the Sachem coaches were experimenting.

Although three of the scores came on air strikes it was largely a ground offense which was used by Winchester. Co-Captain Mike Gilberti threw only eight passes and clicked on six of them. But in spite of this, the score continued to mount and the last touchdown was scored by Paul Tonello of the sophomore group.

With a clear advantage in the first half and a comfortable lead of 26-0, the coaches quickly started substituting early in the third period after the first group had played less than five minutes and run the count to 32-0.

To illustrate how hard it is to keep a score down, Coach Manny Marshall let his second group try to make a first down with three yards to go while deep in their own territory, and they didn't make it.

Later he replaced the whole reserve unit with his starters in order to allow Gilberti to punt. He hasn't for two weeks, and a kick under pressure would give him the practice and Belmont would have the ball. However, the pass from center was high and Mike was trapped at the five yard line. He started to run, cut back through the Belmont team, and went 90 yards for another touchdown. A punting play had suddenly become another score for Winchester! That's the way it was all afternoon for the hapless visiting team.

Opening Kickoff

Belmont received the opening kickoff and when three plays gained little they punted. The kick was not too good and was downed at the Winchester 45. Courtney West smashed out a first down at the Belmont 43.

Then Mike Desherler added nine before Gilberti threw a perfect strike to Joe Campo and he was into the end zone. Ben Dolan booted it through the uprights and the Sachems were in front by 7-0 with less than three minutes played.

A nice completion of a pass by Charlie Gangas to Bill Ruane gave Belmont a first down at their 45 before he was smothered by Phil Sampson and Paul Stevens. Two plays later Ron Fiorilli picked off a Belmont aerial and carried it to their 37.

Mike Desherler carried twice and made a first down on each carry to bring the pigskin to the visitor's eleven. Two plays later he was on a foot short of the goal line and Courtney West went over for the touchdown. Dolan's place kick hit the right upright and the Sachems led 13-0.

Bob Connelley took the kickoff and came back a few yards before he collided with Sampson and Rotundi who upended him hard. Marrocco then tried the Winchester left side and was engulfed in black jerseys. A screen pass to Bill Ruane good for nine yards brought the first quarter to a close.

Gangas made a first down at the 45 to open the second quarter but the Sachem defense stiffened and the visitors punted. Joe Campo grabbed it near his own 25, cut to the right behind a screen of blockers and raced the entire distance to score. Belmont Co-Captain Bob McDewitt chased him all the way with Noel Webb keeping him off and finally blotting him out to make the play perfect. The point try failed and with only two minutes of the second quarter played the scoreboard showed a 20-0 advantage for Winchester.

Belmont tried something new on the next series of plays as Marrocco threw a pass and it hit three Winchester hands but none could hold the ball. A screen pass to Ernie Dagnelli saw a short gain before he was tackled from behind by Webb.

A punt followed and Joe Campo was off on another carbon copy of his earlier 75 yard gallop, but this time the officials detected an overzealous Sachem player and instead of another touchdown the home team had it at their own 19.

Six More

They hit back fast and before the four minute warning they had posted six more points on the board. Courtney West smashed through for a first down at his own 30. Mike Gilberti threw a long pass to Dana Peterson for a first down at the Belmont 22. Tom Riley made two, Desherler six and Gilberti swept to the six yard line. One pass failed but the second was taken by Bill Wolfe for a score.

The point try failed and the score was 26-0 where it stayed until the end of the half.

Marrocco was trapped by Rotundi but managed a gain to the 34 and followed it up with another dash to the 47 for two consecutive first downs. A holding penalty against Winchester brought the ball to the 36. They ground out another first down but then Gangas was racked up hard and the ball popped loose into the arms of Tim Stygles. He might have gone a long way but was caught in a clutter of grounded Sachem players.

Bill Wolfe completed a pass from Gilberti at midfield but was hit down hard by little Frank DelTorto, a sophomore quarterback and some time end, who was a bright spot in an otherwise dark afternoon for the visitors. Then came a long pass to Tom Riley for another apparent score but the officials called a 15 yarder against the Sachems instead to stop the attack. Moments later the half ended with Winchester 26, Belmont 0.

Second Half

The second half boot by Belmont was poor and two plays later Winchester had a first down at midfield. A pitchout to Tom Riley made six and John Procopio inches shy of a first down. West made it on the next play to the 33. Gilberti completed a pass to Dennis Rotundi for first down at the 16.

Riley and Bob Wolfe made short gains and then came a well executed pass to Bill Wolfe for a score. This brought the tally to 32-0 and was made by a reserve backfield group working with the varsity line and with Gilberti still running the team.

Belmont could not gain and punted to Campo who was smothered at the Winchester 24. Larry Weller was in charge of the Sachem attack and although he completed a pass to Lee Horn, he faced a fourth down situation with three to go at his own 30. Winchester gambled and Belmont took over the ball as a line play was broken up.

The next series of plays by Belmont went nowhere thanks to some good hard tackling by Pete Wardwell and Ron Fiorilli. The varsity defense had been used during the third period to sharpen them for the hard action of the next two games.

Final Quarter

As the final quarter started, the reserve backfield had John Procopio away for a nice gain but it was nullified by another 15 yard assessment. With fourth down, the varsity team went in just to punt. As described earlier, the pass was

Hockey Pee Wees Down Stoneham

For the second week in a row the Winchester Pee Wee B hockey team downed a league rival by an 8-0 score. This week's victim was neighboring Stoneham.

Although providing stiffer opposition than last week's opponent, Stoneham fell before the local team's relentless attack. Peter Frongillo's second straight shut-out was earned this week as he turned aside two breakaways and at least a half a dozen point blank shots on net.

The opening period saw Winchester take a 3-0 lead as Jack McInnis opened the scoring by stealing the puck along the right side-boards and firing off an opponents skates into the net.

Dave Putnam added two more allies on a pass from Will Paglia and a rebound shot off Allyn Stillman's deflection of a Kevin Julian blast from the point.

The second period saw the locals widen the gap to 5-0 as Kevin O'Neill found the far corner on a long blast after being sent in by Jay Frongillo and a deflection by Will Paglia after a pass from Kevin Julian.

Final Period

The final period saw Jay Frongillo make it 6-0 on a pass from Kevin O'Neill. O'Neill then reached into the crease to slip one home after shots by Frongillo and McInnis had the goalie down and out.

Allyn Stillman finished off the scoring as he flipped home the rebound of Larry O'Grady's blast from the right point.

Next Sunday finds the locals meeting Billerica at 7 p.m. at the Bedford rink.

high and Co-Captain Gilberti ran the ball instead of punting. He went all the way to score and Procopio made the two point conversion for a 40-0 score with seven minutes to play.

Mark Keating nailed the ball carrier, Mike Pizzi, at the 30 on the kickoff as all varsity players went out for good to be replaced by the sophomores who finished out the game. A few moments later a Belmont fumble was gathered in at the visiting 27.

Procopio gained four and a pass failed before sophomore quarterback Tony Adams threw to Kevin Riley who made a nice catch at the three for a first down. Then diminutive Paul Tonello broke off his varsity career. Kevin Riley added the two extra points to make the final count 48-0. Belmont picked up a couple of first downs but the game ended soon after.

This was a good team effort by Winchester and the number of mistakes was far fewer than in the Reading game. However, they did pick up far too many penalties and these things must be ironed out before the big game at Wakefield on Saturday and the Turkey Day matching with Woburn at Manchester Field.

The lineups:

Winchester
Ends: W. Wolfe, Belden, Rotundi, Peterson, Ulwick, DeLuca, Stevens, James, Carroll, Powers, Strout.
Tackles: Devaney, Emery, Stygles, Lombardi, Pirani, Gennaris, Grenier, Vollmer.

Elks Host Sachem Team At Breakfast

by John F. Parrell

Winchester Lodge 1445, B.P.O.E., served breakfast Saturday morning to Coach Manny Marshall, his assistants, and all players of the Sachem football eleven.

It was a gala occasion and the gridders did full justice to the ample portions of steak fillets and scrambled eggs which had been prepared for them by the lodge members. If the results of last week's game are any criterion of the effect of the meal it would seem advisable if some other organizations followed the lead of the Elks.

The members were up early to get the charcoal fires started and have all in readiness for the breakfast kickoff scheduled for 9 a.m. The speaking program, with Exalted Ruler Robert Thompson as master of ceremonies, was very brief and the meal was eaten, the after breakfast remarks made, and the hall clear in less than an hour.

The team lived up to its pre-season record hung up at Camp Wyanoke where the director Bradford Bentley and his wife of 4 Sheffield Road estimated that the football players consumed about three times as much food per meal as the average regular camper.

Special guests included Rev. Bernard Hoy, C.Y.O. director at St. Mary's Church and one of the Sachems most loyal rooters; Athletic Director Henry Knowlton; Joe Bellino, all time Winchester football great who later starred with Navy and as a pro ball carrier; Selectman John Sullivan; and Attorney Paul Amico, chairman of the Board of Selectmen. The latter is a former player well remembered for his prowess nearly two decades ago.

Fr. Hoy started the festivities by saying grace and invoking spiritual guidance for the team's success. The Selectmen limited their remarks to praise of the team's efforts to date and the wish of the entire town for continuation of the fine record.

Joe Bellino echoed the same sentiment and told of his extreme satisfaction at the play of the Sachems in the very impressive victory over Melrose by 29-20. Coach Marshall expressed the hope that this would continue in spite of the letdown in the Reading game.

The committee was headed by Dick Mawn as chairman with the following sub committees: Cooks: Mike Penta, Nick DiZio, Dick DeConto, Charlie Koch, Bill Dailey, John Randazzo and Creighton Horn.

The helpers and servers included: Larry Bairstow, Reggie Scott, Joe Mawn, Mickey Curtin, Peter Mawn, Joe Marrone, and Bob Gilberti. The last three of this group were Winchester grid stars of yesterday.

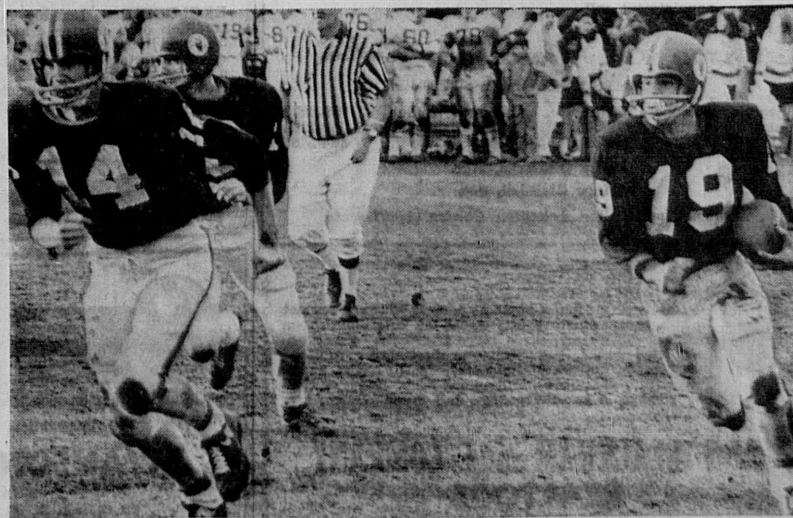

Henry T. Knowlton, director of athletics at Winchester High School, was elected president of the Eastern Massachusetts Physical Education Administrators Association for 1969-70.

Youth Hockey Plans Season

Winchester Youth Hockey will commence on Sunday morning November 23rd at 7 a.m. at the M.D.C. Rink in Medford. Applications must be in before this session starts.

Pee Wee and Bantam team try-outs will be held at the M.D.C. Rink, Medford, Sunday morning, November 16th from 7 to 9 a.m. This is for the teams that will be playing in outside league activities.

All members of this team must be registered with the Winchester youth hockey organization. This is Class A competition, and only those with hockey experience should be here for this try-out.

Players from this group will represent Winchester in the Pee Wee and Bantam programs in league competition in Hockey-town games at Melrose.

This team will also compete with West Point at New York on February 28th as an added attraction for the Pee Wee and Bantam teams.

Remember—get applications in early.

Pee Wee Soccer Washed Out

Due to flooding conditions on Leonard Field last Saturday following the prior week's monsoon-like weather, the Pee Wee division of the Winchester Youth Soccer program was postponed.

Last week's match-ups have been rescheduled for this Saturday at Leonard Field.

Plans for the youth soccer award night have also been rescheduled for early December due to the lengthening of the season.

Post Office Urges Use Of ZIP Codes

Postmaster Charles R. Hill has announced that now is the time to check Christmas mailing lists and make sure ZIP Codes for each address are included.

Listed below are ZIP Codes for surrounding cities and towns. As some cities have multiple ZIP Codes, the name of the street in the larger cities must be known for the correct ZIP Code.

Patrons desiring ZIP Codes for their mailing lists, should prepare a list alphabetically by states, and show the street and number of the addressee and present them at the Winchester Post Office to be ZIP Coded. Patrons should allow one week for return of their lists.

ZIP Codes should be included in all addresses, and return addresses on all letter mail and parcels. ZIP Code expedites the mails and helps to cut the cost in mail handling operations.

Audubon Society Concerned About DDT Disposal

The scientific case against DDT and persistent pesticides as destroyers of natural systems has been documented voluminously. Warnings have been widespread and Congress is considering a federal ban.

It would seem that the only remaining questions are: how long will the public permit use of the chemicals, and how can an owner dispose of DDT without further contaminating the environment?

DDT and other persistent pesticides do not break down easily—that feature makes them a problem. If the material is burned, it becomes a form of air pollution. If it is flushed into a sewer it becomes a water pollution problem. If it is buried, it pollutes the soil.

To date, all feasible methods of disposing of DDT merely furthers the damage that has caused it to be banned in Michigan, Arizona and Sweden and pushed it to the border line of banning in many other areas. Regardless of the care one uses in directing DDT spray, the chemical cannot be controlled.

A rather obvious suggestion would be to return DDT to the chemical factories that produced it and have it broken into some other chemical product more useful to man. Local collection depots could be established and their returns could be forwarded to a regional center, and so forth.

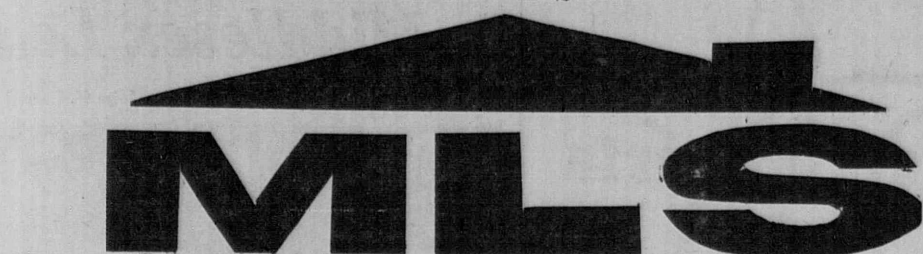

But chemical firms are unlikely to be interested in the arrangement. It is costly to set up a process for reconversion. The engineering would have limited profit possibilities, since the supply of raw material, i.e. DDT, would be limited by existing stocks. Such an operation is unlikely to occur, unless the government were willing to subsidize it.

The whole problem of disposing of pesticides through relatively "safe" methods that are both economical and technically possible interests the conservation organizations which have had much to do with curtailing use of the damaging chemicals. If you have a suggestion please write: Allen H. Morgan, Massachusetts Audubon Society, South Great Road, Lincoln, Massachusetts 01773.

Motorboat Registration Has Sales Tax

State Motorboat Director Tom Legere announced recently that the newly amended sales tax law, relative to casual sales of motorboats, has created some misunderstanding and confusion among boat-owners when applying for a registration number, especially in the processing of applications by mail.

Mr. Legere pointed out that motorboat registrations may still be processed by mail or in person at the Boston Office. However, a sales tax receipt or exemption form must accompany new registration applications, in order to expedite processing and eliminate the costly practice of mailing back applications to senders.

He also stated that the Division of Motorboats is not a tax collecting agency, nor does the Division evaluate boats for tax program. However, according to law, the Division must comply by Chapter 558, Acts of 1969. (Effective October 22, 1969.)

Each purchaser of a new or used motorboat, is required before registration, to furnish evidence that the Massachusetts sales or use tax was paid, or that the purchase or other transfer was exempt. According to Cleo F. Jalliet, State Tax Commissioner, boat sales tax and exemption forms may be obtained at any Massachusetts Marine Dealer.

For further information regarding registrations, please write or call Mr. Sheridan of Motorboat Division Headquarters at 727-3900.

Parish Players Present Show

Mrs. Wilson To Speak At Methodist Church

Prize-winning novelist, authoress of more than a dozen books, Dorothy Clarke Wilson will be speaker at the Crawford Memorial United Methodist Church tonight at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Wilson will show slides of her trip to India in 1968 and will be telling of the "Miracle of Vellore Hospital."

Mrs. Wilson's home is on Orono, Maine. Her husband is a Methodist minister who served twice as district superintendent. Dorothy Clarke Wilson is a graduate of Bates College, which awarded her an honorary degree in literature in 1947. All interested women in the community will be welcomed.

Mr. Nardella Has Position On Real Estate Board

An Arlington man has been appointed to a key position within the Greater Boston Real Estate Board.

Ralph A. Nardella will function as vice chairman of the Board's membership committee. The Greater Boston Real Estate Board, with a combined membership of approximately 3,500, is the second largest Realtor organization in the nation, surpassed only by the Los Angeles Board.

Mr. Nardella currently is president of the local Council of the Board, which encompasses Arlington, Belmont, and Winchester.

Holy Name Group To Hear Speaker

At the monthly meeting of St. Mary's Holy Name Society Sunday, November 16 at 8:45, the guest speaker will be Charles Munson, a clinical psychologist for the Quincy public school system.

He will tell of his work with various types of problems which youth encounters today and outline the means of providing proper advice and therapeutic services where necessary.

This facet of the educational problem was the subject of much discussion at Winchester School Committee meetings last year and the need for such services locally came under much discussion as well as the expense which is involved. All persons interested in this matter are welcome to attend the meeting which President John Ellis announces will be open to the public.

Mr. Munson has had wide experience in the field and notes that certain sections of Quincy, notably the Squantum and Furnace Brook regions, have much the same economic status as Winchester and thus face many of the same situations which require the attention of the psychologist.

The speaker holds a degree of bachelor of arts in psychology from the University of Nebraska and a master of science degree from Boston University in the same field. He has also done graduate work at the School of Public Health at Harvard Medical School. For the past several years he has been attached to the Quincy school department and prior to that he worked for several years at the South Shore Mental Health Center.

Sunday Night Fire Causes Heavy Loss On Fox Hunt Lane

A two-alarm fire late Sunday night caused heavy damage to an unoccupied house on Fox Hunt Lane.

The 20-room house, under construction by a Wakefield builder, was nearly completed. The house was being constructed for Robert Piazza of Plymouth, vice president of the Rosebud Celery Company.

Cause of the blaze is undetermined. It is being investigated by Lt. Leo Walsh of the State Fire Marshall's office. According to a report from the Police Department, officers arriving on the scene found a salamander stove inside the front entrance and it is their opinion that this may have been the cause of the fire.

Fox Hunt Lane, a new street, is a private way located off Hutchinson Road at the Arlington line.

Reports of the fire were made to the Police and Fire Departments by residents of Overlook Way and Mayflower Road at approximately 11:45 p.m.

Dr. Gibson Named To Committee By Governor

Dr. John S. Gibson of 20 Cabot Street was recently appointed by Governor Francis W. Sargent to a special Legislative commission which will study the present plight of the parochial school in Massachusetts.

The appointment of the commission was prompted by the announcement of the closing of five parochial schools in the Boston area.

"The problems of the parochial schools in Massachusetts are increasingly urgent," the Governor said, "and this commission faces a major task in attempting to find solutions to those problems."

Dr. Gibson is currently a professor of political science and the director of the Lincoln Filene Center at Tufts University, Medford. As a member of the special commission, he will be especially concerned with the feasibility of state aid to parochial schools.

Breaking, Entering Is Reported

Police are investigating a breaking and entering incident at a Wilson Street residence which occurred on Thursday, November 13.

According to the police report, on that day a woman in the home noticed two boys sitting on a picnic bench in her backyard. Later she spoke to the boys and informed them that she was going out to vote in the Town referendum.

While she was absent, her husband came home, noting that the cellar door was open. Later when his wife came home she discovered that two watches, a wedding ring and a diamond ring were missing at this time. Her husband noted that about 30 dollars had also been taken.

Identification Officer Daniel C. Pearson was called to the home, where it appeared that entry was gained by forcing a cellar window.

Sachems Down Wakefield 52-28, Win League Title For Second Year

by John F. Parrell

Striking back hard after a slow start, the Winchester High football eleven handed the Wakefield Warriors a surprisingly convincing defeat by the top heavy margin of 52-28 at Walton Field, Wakefield. By so doing they carded their eighth consecutive victory of the season and also assured themselves of retaining the crown won by the 1968 edition of the Sachems under Coach Manny Marshall.

It marked a string of 14 consecutive Middlesex League triumphs over the past two years and a total of 17 league contests without defeat dating back to 1967 when Lexington edged them during the popular coach's first season at the helm.

It was by far the highest count ever made by either of both teams in the long series with Wakefield and put a definite end to the Warrior mastery which extended over the entire 1960 decade until last year when Winchester won a close one by 19-14.

The two previous years were scoreless deadlocks and these were preceded by six consecutive defeats at the hands of Wakefield. So, it can be seen that this victory was a particularly sweet one to the Sachem team and made the 42 game series record 25-13-4 in favor of Winchester.

The game, which many experts had classified as a tight one, and some even felt might be decided by as close a margin as a point after touchdown, turned out to be a free scoring affair, but Winchester held a commanding lead once the attack got rolling. To pick out individual stars would be difficult because so many players contributed gems to make up the team triumph.

Wakefield was by no means disgraced in defeat as they battled back from a 31-0 deficit to keep the game interesting. Coach Whip Halliday's crew set a season's high scoring record in the game and also scored more points against Winchester than even Joe Hoague's Melrose powerhouse could muster. It was just a case of too many Sachem points too early but nobody could ever accuse the Wakefield team of quitting.

Make no mistake about it, the Warriors are as good a football team as their undefeated record in the league prior to Saturday's game indicates. They had grudgingly given up only 35 points in five league contests. They showed one of the most aggressive running backs of the year in John Rafferty who carried for a total of 114 yards in 14 tries with 103 in the first half alone. He was a hard driving runner and it took some good gang tackling by the Winchester boys to bring him down. He scored once in the first half on a 14 yard run and also caught a pass for the final tally, just before the final whistle sounded.

Receivers

The home team also showed some sure-handed receivers, and although the percentage of completions was not impressive, they did grab them when in scoring position to account for 22 of their 28 points. The Sachems suffered a severe loss when Joe Campo went out after less than five minutes of play with a twisted ankle.

This was a telling blow offensively and his defensive spot required some improvising also since he has been very effective both ways. The popular senior grunted his teeth and said that he'll be ready for full action against Woburn on Turkey Day.

Not so fortunate was Tom Riley who has been held back all season by injuries. He reentered his leg in this victory which may well write finis to his career as a Sachem ball totter. With these two exceptions and a temporary sidelining of Chip Emery over the last few minutes all Sachem players came through well.

The home team's offense was more or less up to expectations, but their supposedly strong defense was quite ineffective against both the ground and air attacks of Winchester. Coach Halliday stated "We just couldn't stop them, I didn't think anyone could run on us like they did. They did so many things well it would be hard to say what they did best. Winchester showed that it was a very good football team as well as a smart one."

Co-Captain Mike Gilberti's passing was of high order and his completion record showed 10 out of 13, and three touchdown tosses.

Thanksgiving Happenings

The Winchester High School Senior Class will sponsor the annual Victory Dance Thanksgiving night at 8 p.m. in the High School gym.

Trophies will be awarded at the dance to the best lineman and the best backfield man of both the Winchester and Woburn teams.

The annual Woburn-Winchester game will be held at Manchester Field at 10 a.m. Thanksgiving morning.

A special Mass for members of the football team will be held at 7:30 a.m. that morning at St. Mary's Church. The Rev. Bernard Hoy has arranged the Mass. The public is invited to attend.

Other events on the Thanksgiving Day agenda in Winchester include the annual Ecumenical Prayer Service, which is sponsored by the Winchester Ecumenical Association. This year it will be held at the Unitarian Church from 9 to 9:30 a.m.

The Rev. Lawrence Keeter of the Second Congregational Church will deliver the sermon. Opening prayers will be delivered by the Rev. Jack Zoerheide, pastor of the Unitarian Church. He will be assisted by the Rev. Allen Broyles of the Crawford Memorial United Methodist Church and the Rev. Henry A. Marquardt of St. Eulalia's Church.

High School Funds Voted By Referendum 3209-2048; Bids Due In Mid-January

Winchester voters approved the appropriation of an additional $3,100,000 to construct the new high school on the Shore Road site by a vote of 3209 to 2048 in a town-wide referendum Thursday, November 13.

The vote represented 46.4 per cent of the Town's 11,339 registered voters.

The action of the referendum gave approval to the Town Meeting vote of October 16 which had authorized the appropriation by 174 to 14.

In Precinct I, 41.8 per cent of the precinct's 1,769 voters went to the polls; Precinct II recorded 49.8 per cent of its 1,573 registered voters; Precinct III had 52.8 per cent of its 1,773; Precinct IV had 44.5 per cent of its 2,523; Precinct V had 51 per cent of its 1,806; and Precinct VI had 40 per cent of its 1,895.

Precinct I had the closest vote with 372 voting in favor and 367 in opposition. In Precinct VI the question was defeated overwhelmingly by a vote of 527 opposed and 229 in favor.

Precinct IV had the largest number voting in favor as compared to those voting in opposition: 802 to 321. Precinct V ran a close second with 705 in favor and 215 opposed.

Drawings Prepared

According to Arthur Dunbar, chairman of the Secondary School Building Sub-Committee of the Permanent Building Committee, the specifications and drawings for the building are now being reproduced by the architect, Frank Crump of Crump, Brown and Fisher, Inc. This process is due to be completed tomorrow, and it is anticipated that bids will be advertised next week.

Mr. Dunbar noted that the tentative date for the return of the filed sub-bids is January 8 and that the general bids are due the following week, January 15.

According to Mr. Dunbar, his committee has tentatively scheduled a meeting next Tuesday evening for review of the specifications and drawings. Notice of the definite time and location of the meeting will be posted in the lobby of the Town Hall.

The referendum was the culmination of several months of discussion of the problem posed when the general bids returned for the school last July were approximately $3 million over the amount approved by the February 26, 1968 Special Town Meeting. That meeting gave initial approval to the plans for a school on Shore Road and appropriated $10,070,000 for its construction. Of that amount, approximately $8 million was intended for actual construction of the building with the additional money needed for site preparation and architect's fees.

In November, 1968, an article was introduced in the warrant for the Special Town Meeting calling for rescinding the February vote. This article was defeated.

Bids were finally sought for the project in June and July and were returned to the committees in July. Only two general contractors, Park Construction and Grande and Sons Inc. submitted bids on the project.

Suitable Alternate

The committees voted to reject both bids since they were approximately $3 million over the original amount appropriated. Following this, the committees met to discuss possible alternate plans for the school; however, a suitable alternate was not found, and it was decided to seek an additional appropriation from the Town to construct the school as originally planned before going out to bid a second time.

A Special Town Meeting on October 16 voted to appropriate the additional funds. A petition for a referendum on that action was filed by Mrs. Anthony Fronski of 128 Washington Street on October 23. The petition was signed by 759 residents.

To date, some $1,254,000 of the original $10 million appropriation has been spent or committed in site preparation and architect's fees.

The committees anticipate that there will be more competition in the bidding this time.

Regional School Completion Seen In April, 1970

Tentative operating budget figures, reflecting the cost of full operation next September, have been set by the Northeast Metropolitan Regional Vocational School Committee.

A final budget, with the proportionate shares of the 12 communities served by the school, will be submitted to city and town treasurers in December.

While the state will pay half of the cost of operating the regional school, the remaining 50 per cent is shared by Malden, Revere, Melrose, Chelsea, Saugus, Stoneham, Reading, North Reading, Winthrop, Wakefield, Woburn and Winchester.

During the budget discussions, Attorney Philip L. McAuliffe Jr., Wakefield's representative on the Regional School Committee, expressed concern over the added burden on that town's police and fire departments, since the huge school is located entirely in that community.

Attorney McAuliffe had earlier pointed out to the Committee that the town would be hard pressed to supply snow plowing and rubbish removal services for the school also. As a result, Superintendent Director Douglas J. Tilley included in the budget $1,500 for snow removal and $1,200 for refuse removal at the school.

However, the problem of shared costs for fire and police protection were slightly more complicated. Attorney George E. Lodge, Board chairman and Malden's representative, noted that since the school is a non-taxable public educational institution, it couldn't be assessed for these costs.

Compromise

As a compromise solution, Attorney McAuliffe suggested an item of $10,000 be put in the budget to provide for some security protection, thereby diminishing the cost of police protection to the town of Wakefield. This was unanimously adopted by the Board.

Tag Day Saturday

They'll be all over town Saturday morning, November 22, the volunteers from the Homefronters. They'll be selling tags for whatever anyone wants to give to raise money for the Christmas boxes which are sent to Winchester servicemen and women every Yuletide.

Mrs. Bradford Bentley, who is in charge of assembling the gift packages reports the contents include cards, pens, pencils, a mini-mirror, mini-tools, hand lotion, foot powder, chapstick, towelettes, a traveling kit, a calendar, the Old Farmers Almanac, air mail writing paper, Kool Aid, pocket valet, mouth spray, wash cloths, paperback books, candy, peanuts, gum, sardines, and other items.

Some of the gifts are donated, but many have to be purchased, so support of the Homefronters' Annual Tag Day is necessary.

Mrs. John MacDonald is chairman of Tag Day and will be assisted by precinct chairmen, Mrs. Everett Gray, Mrs. Thomas Bates, Mrs. Frank Thorp, Mrs. Robert Gray, Mrs. Ralph Larson, and Mrs. Eugene Lane.

School Comm. Releases Agenda

Some of the items expected to appear on the agenda for the School Committee meeting Monday, November 24 are as follows: Appointment of a committee to set up evaluation objectives for the Muraco School evaluation will be discussed.

The Superintendent will report on an informational visit to the Darien, Connecticut school system to examine their program budget practices. Such practices involve the use of data processing for budget analysis and budget planning.

Dr. Klemer will distribute the newly published Field Trip Guide to the Committee members. Suggested educational trips to historical and other spots are compiled in a booklet prepared by principals Miss Paula Y. Caffrey and William A. Warnock.

The Committee will review the deferred item from a prior meeting regarding possible appointment of Curriculum Council personnel, liaison personnel and extra-curricular sponsors.

Obituaries

James F. Gaffney

James F. Gaffney of Littleton, formerly a resident of Winchester for over 40 years, died on Thursday, November 6 in Littleton.

Prior to moving to Littleton six years ago, Mr. Gaffney and his family had lived on Wedgemere Avenue and later on New Meadows Road. Mrs. Gaffney was then president of the Winchester Infant Saviour Guild. His children attended Winchester schools, where his son played football.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Marion A. (Linn) Gaffney of Littleton; a son, James Gerald Gaffney of Leominster; two daughters, Mrs. Colette Platt of Riverside, Connecticut, and Mrs. Loretta Johnson of Holden; nine grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from the Joseph Curran Funeral Home, Everett on Saturday, November 8, followed by a high Mass of Requiem in St. Anne's Church, Littleton. Burial was in Westlawn Cemetery Littleton.

Mrs. Ella E. McKinnon

Mrs. Ella E. (Boyle) McKinnon of Boston, formerly of Winchester, wife of John J. McKinnon, died suddenly at her home on Tuesday, November 11. She was 72.

Born in Winchester, she was the daughter of Edward and Margaret (Reddy) Boyle. Mrs. McKinnon was also formerly a resident of Woburn.

Besides her husband, she leaves a daughter, Mrs. Carlene Boller- man of New Jersey; a brother, Frederick Boyle of Weymouth; four sisters, Mrs. Grace O'Neil of Woburn, Miss Mary Boyle of Medford, Miss Mildred Boyle of Boston, and Mrs. Carlene Campbell of New York; two grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Friday, November 14 at 8 a.m. from the McLaughlin Funeral Home, Woburn, followed by a high Mass of requiem in St. Charles Church, Woburn at 9. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

Peter Sullas

Peter Sullas of Lynn, a fruit venter in Winchester for approximately 43 years, died on Sunday, November 16, in Lynn Hospital after a brief illness.

Born in Greece, he came to the United States as a young man, residing in Medford and Winchester before moving to Lynn.

He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Barbara A. Driscoll of Lynn and Mrs. Pricilla Juliano of Peabody; a brother, William Sullas of Allston; and six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held in the St. George Greek Orthodox Church, Lynn today, November 20 at 11 a.m. Burial will be in Pine Grove Cemetery, Lynn.

The Babalas and Demarkis Funeral Home, Cambridge is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Alice M. Walsh

Mrs. Alice M. (Lundgren) Walsh of Woburn, formerly of Winchester, died suddenly on Friday, November 14 in Woburn. She was 62.

Born in Woburn, she was the daughter of Edward and Alma (Soderholm) Lundgren. Mrs. Walsh lived in Winchester most of her life.

She was a member of Trinity Episcopal Church.

She leaves a daughter, Miss Marilyn J. Walsh of Woburn; a brother, Francis Lundgren of Worcester; and three sisters, Mrs. William Baert and Mrs. Edmund J. Barry, both of Danvers, and Mrs. Thomas Griffin of Ipswich.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, November 18 from the McLaughlin Funeral Home, Woburn at 11 a.m. with the Rev. Bruce A. Young of Trinity Episcopal Church officiating. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Mary T. Ryan

Mrs. Mary T. (McDonough) Ryan of 83 Lawson Road, wife of former State Representative Francis E. Ryan, died on Saturday, November 15 in Winchester after a long illness. She was 70.

Born in Watertown, May 9, 1899, she was the daughter of Patrick and Katherine McDonough. She attended Somerville schools, graduating from high school there.

Prior to moving to Winchester 18 years ago, she had resided in Somerville for many years. She occupied herself as a housewife.

Her memberships included the Dolly Madison Club, the Mothers' Club of St. Ann's Church and the Somerville Women's Democratic Club, all in Somerville. She attended St. Mary's Church in Winchester.

Besides her husband, she leaves a son, Francis E. Ryan Jr. of 54 Salisbury Street; a daughter, Mrs. Eileen U. Judge of Brookline; and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, November 18, from the George L. Doherty Funeral Home, West Somerville, followed by a requiem high Mass in St. Clement's Church at 9 a.m. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

In Section A on Wednesday, November 12th, Evie and Bob Blackler were first North-South, adding a colorful 65% game to their current winning streak; East-West Adeline Duryen and Sam Burwen also posted a 65% game, way ahead of the field.

At our table East passed, I hid one heart in the South spot, West and North passed, and East came in with a take-out double. What would you choose to do with the South hand? A redouble is possible except that it implies, "Please bid something else, partner; I can't stand the double." And (as yet) I have no fears for the hand and feel it necessary to show partner I have more than a minimum opener. I finally settle on two hearts which may keep West from naming a suit. To my surprise everyone passes.

At the first evaluation of the hands, it certainly looks as if East-West can make the two spades they would have bid if I hadn't stepped in, so if I can keep from going down more than two tricks (-100 instead of -110 if they make two spades), the bid should pay off.

The diamond five is led by West. South's Ace taking East's King. Hopefully you can take seven tricks, -four hearts, two clubs, and the diamond. Making the eighth one doesn't look too simple, but you may as well try. If you finesse the club for a spade discard, the finesse has to work and the suit break three-three. Or you can try to ruff the third spade in dummy. The opposition will probably see through that one, but their defense of a heart lead is to be desired.

Anyway, I lead a spade from South which runs to East's ten. Back come the Queen and Jack of diamonds (West discarding his two clubs) and a third diamond which West ruffs. I discard a spade from South.

Now when West leads a heart, the Jack is played from dummy, and the surprise shows up. There are six hearts against you in the West hand. I have to lose two spades, two diamonds, a diamond ruff and two more hearts, down two. And in thinking over other lines of play, it's down two no matter what line you take, -I think.

The traveling score sheet agrees in that six tricks is all anyone makes in hearts from South.

There are always swinging scores on these distributional hands. Some East-Wests go too high in spades and are set. Would you believe three no trump by South down four, or three clubs doubled and redoubled by North down two, or two hearts doubled by West down one. The only contract that made was one two diamond bid by East making two.

And how did our two hearts down two fare? A little below average. The theory was correct; two spades by East-West would have made, but no one ended up in it.

The Winchester Star

Established 1880 By Theodore P. Wilson, Sr.

Serving The Community For 89 Years

Editorials:

Hooray!

The registered voters of the Town, at least the 46 per cent of them who turned out to vote, have spoken, and the Town after four long months can at last proceed with the Shore Road high school project.

It seems assured now, barring the unlikely possibility that the bids would cause the project's cost to be above $13,170,000, that Winchester will at last see a new school on the Shore Road site. Bids won't be returned until sometime around January 15, however, so there's still another month of uneasy anticipation ahead.

Although we are happy with the decision that was returned, it concerns us that only 46 per cent of the Town's 11,339 registered voters cared enough about this issue to vote. That figure means that the feelings of the majority of the voters were not recorded. We wonder how it would have turned out had the other 54 per cent of the voters expressed their feelings through the ballot box.

Looking at figures presented by the League of Women Voters in their first column of a series called "Winchester Voter," we note that a 46 per cent turnout is about the best that Winchester has made in the past several years, even in a hotly contested election. Why is this town so apathetic? The polls are open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.; surely everyone has five or ten minutes free sometime during those 12 hours to get to the polls. Lack of transportation can't be blamed since both sides in this referendum offered rides to the polls in each precinct.

Interestingly, in the two precincts which have made the most noise in opposition to the new high school, I and VI, only 41.8 per cent and 40 per cent of the voters respectively came to the polls. These precincts showed considerably less interest in actually voting on the issue than did those in favor of the appropriation such as III and V, each of which had over 50 per cent of its voters appear at the polls.

One of the marvelous things about a democracy is that citizens can vote for their leaders, and on issues that confront their government. The policies of the town, the state and the nation can be changed through the ballot box. Ideally, the majority rules on any question. Unfortunately, however, it seems more and more that a majority of only a minority of the voters is deciding the questions that confront us.

Both sides in this question of the high school have presented the figures that show what will now be added to the tax rate by this school. The issue was a question that should have concerned everyone because it hits us all where it hurts—in the pocketbook. Yet only 5,257 people were concerned enough to register their opinion. Already we can hear the voices of people complaining about the 1974 tax rate, and to them we say, "you bought it by not voting."

If you don't care enough to vote on an issue, it's nobody's fault but your own if your government isn't responsive to your opinions!

Unitarian Players Present "Kind Lady"

"KIND LADY" by Edward Chodorov was presented by the Unitarian Players last weekend in Metcalf Hall of the Unitarian Church. (Ryerson photo)

Unitarian Players' Production, "Kind Lady," Is Reviewed

The play presented last weekend by the Winchester Unitarian Players was "Kind Lady," written by Edward Chodorov. While this piece is catalogued as a melodrama, "thriller" is a description which might sit more comfortably with modern audiences. A play of this type has not been offered in Winchester for some time, and so was eagerly anticipated as a welcome change from more routine fare.

However, the play was adapted from a short story by Hugh Walpole, and unfortunately did not stand up very well to the operation. It finished up as a rather unworkable addition to the English repertory companies' list of stock plays. The atmosphere was dated without being "period," and the construction was cumbersome and awkward.

In spite of this, the cast and director made a sincere attempt to turn the book into an entertaining evening, and with some measure of success. Notable, for instance, were the performances of Eloise Kadesch as Mrs. Edwards and Albert Smith as her husband. These two played together well and provided a convincing picture of a pair of lower class Londoners who had spent all their lives just on the edge of the law.

Giving them good support in a minor role was Nicky Labedz as their daughter Aggie. The traditional maid, Rose, was played with something more than traditional verve in an attractive performance by Betty Vallee.

The story revolves around an elderly lady (definitely upper crust) named Mary Herries, who lives alone except for her maid in a large and richly furnished house in London. One Christmas Eve she takes pity on a starving, down-and-out artist whom she meets by chance, and invites into her home for a cup of tea. Later he shows up again to try to sell her some of his paintings, and this time, by a subterfuge, contrives to introduce his sick wife and child into the household, a wife so sick, it seems, that she cannot safely be moved. Obviously the husband has to stay too, so here we have him firmly established, and Mary begins to wonder if this is really such a good idea.

Rose begins to wonder too, and decides to hand in her notice, to go and see her sister in Newcastle. In fact, Rose suspects that the wife is not really sick at all, but just acting, and that the doctor is being paid off to give the right reports. (We'd begun to wonder about all this too.)

This is where Mr. and Mrs. Edwards, old friends of our artist's wife, show up. Since Rose is leaving, it is suggested that they should move in as housekeeper and butler, or something of the sort, and Mary Herries is given to understand that "no" is not an acceptable answer.

Mary by this time is so intimidated and outnumbered that she has very little fight left in her. The story is spread around that she has left for an extended vacation and that she has appointed the artist as her agent to sell some of her works of art, which she proceeds to do.

Smuggles Note

Eventually, however, she manages to smuggle out a note and instantly (like 12 seconds) the police arrive and the tables are turned. Maybe they are right. Perhaps it is a melodrama.

It is a tribute to the director that there was a considerable build-up of suspense and quite a few gasps from the audience when it seemed in doubt whether Mary's note would get through or not; and although the overall pattern of the action moved rather erratically at times, with marked variations in the pacing and the credibility of the acting, the detailed blocking and interpretive intent were on the whole very well planned.

The play is introduced in a flashback-type prologue by a charwoman (played by Peg Magnusen) and Mr. Foster (who is later instrumental in unmasking the villains), played by Dan Blanchard. When we move into the body of the play we meet Lucy Weston, attractively played by Nancy Dorsey, one of the Players' always reliable stalwarts, as well as Phyllis Glenning and her fiancée Peter Santard. These were played by Pam Sibley, who was seen recently in "That Certain Age" and "Gold in the Hills," and by John Keller, who is, as far as this writer knows, a newcomer to Winchester theater, but should prove a valuable addition to the stock of young men.

Henry Abbott, the principal villain of the piece, was portrayed by Bob Magnusen. Bob is becoming quite a regular on stage around here; this part he performed smoothly and capably, but without quite convincing us that he was the out and out Machiavelli that his actions implied him to be. Two old timers, Gene Pollard and Cecil Prest, filled in with bit parts as the unscrupulous doctor and the French art dealer.

Plaudits should go to Elizabeth Hoxie, who did well in a rather unrewarding part as Mary Herries, and to Nancy von Lazar, who held on to her characterization as the practically unspeaking and not too bright, wife, Ada, almost all through the play.

The set decor was truly a delight; the atmosphere was caught well and the stage was adequately supplied with those extra trivia, which, while not strictly necessary, make the difference between a sterile set and a virile, believable one. An interesting lighting effect at a suspenseful moment in the action helped to heighten the tension, although done a little more moderately it might have been less distracting.

The play was directed by Jay Sibley and produced by Garry Patrick.

BOOK REVIEW

by Ann M. Anderson
Winchester Public Library

THE SOUL OF THE APE

by Eugene Marais

It would be expected that a scientific treatise written in the early 20's and not published until the present would be hopelessly out of date, of no value except as a curiosity. This is not true of Marais' The Soul of the Ape. This work, produced over 40 years ago, was the first and, until recently, the only study of the behavior in the natural state of man's closest evolutionary relative.

The possibility of studying an animal which had not previously come in contact with man and his weapons would have been slight even in the beginning of the century except that a remote section of the Transvaal had been depopulated as a result of the Boer War. Wild creatures in the area had never seen humans or heard the sound of gunfire. It was here that Eugene Marais and a companion took up residence near a large tribe of wild chacma baboons who lived in a cave on the side of a cliff.

There is some question as to when this study was actually initiated but it is believed to be roughly 1903. It was not in a true sense a scientific inquiry. In this field Marais was a novice. Although he had grown up in the area and was familiar with the animal life he was not a practicing ethologist, or student of animal behavior. This was not entirely a disadvantage because as he says, "We approached this investigation without any preconceived ideas, and although at the beginning inexperience may have left much to be desired in our methods, we had at least no theories to verify."

For over three years Marais studied these baboons, gradually gaining their confidence so that they allowed him to approach at close range. He lived among them, fed them meals morning and night and learned to know each one of them individually. From this close daily contact with these highly evolved primates, Marais drew a new conclusion about the subconscious mind—the ability to reason submerges animal instincts. The more intelligent the species, the less it relies on instinct. A digression on the uses of hypnosis seems to prove that in this state a subject is able to bring up from his subconscious such things as a strong "homing" instinct or an abnormally keen sense of smell or hearing or sight such as is common in some lower animals.

For some reason the work on The Soul of the Ape was cut short. The manuscript disappeared for several decades. Now in 1969 it is being brought out with an introduction by Robert Ardrey, whom we know for his controversial book "African Genesis."

Ardrey was an enthusiastic admirer of Eugene Marais, and he presents him as a warm and likeable man although introspective and suffering at times from melancholia. Marais had endured several crushing blows during his lifetime. His wife had died after a year of marriage. He was deeply affected by the atrocities of the Boer War and for a time refused to use the English language and spoke and wrote only in Afrikaans. His original and painstakingly produced study on the white had been stolen and published by the well-known Maurice Maeterlinck, and finally he was trapped in the vicious habit of morphine addiction. All these things proved to be a burden too heavy for Marais, and in 1935 he shot himself.

Although some of Marais' conclusions may have been proved erroneous in recent years, this is still a fascinating study of the reasons for man's "animal" behavior.

Pleads For Fire Station "On the Hill"

Editor of the Star:

Last night at midnight, a lovely new home near completion and unoccupied was gutted by fire. A passing motorist alerted a neighbor who promptly notified the fire department. Ten minutes later when our town equipment began arriving, the entire house was enveloped in flames. Fire fighters worked quickly but the time lapse was too great to contain the fire. At this point, nothing could be done to save a young family's dream. This, on a windless night and with clear streets to navigate. Had winter conditions existed (gusty winds and icy streets) adjoining properties could have also been destroyed.

The town must face the immediate need of an auxiliary fire station here "on the hill." The residents of this area live in fear of fire constantly and with the increase of more than 50 homes being built within the next few years, the need is even more acute.

The proposal for a two-bay station came up a number of times in the past. Petitions had been circulated and presented to the Board of Selectmen and each time it was tabled. The reasons we have received: (1) The homes are newer and therefore not subject to fires as readily as those in an older, more densely-populated area. (Any one who has seen a brush fire near through this area knows that defective wiring is not always the main cause of fire.) (2) The town has already spent too much money on other more pressing needs. (A four hundred thousand dollar library addition—a delight to all who use it, I agree—was re-submitted many times and was pushed through for approval shortly after our last petition.) Was this a more pressing need? Monies were then approved to remodel our central fire house at considerably less expense which should have been allocated for a second firehouse.

All surrounding towns and cities, many with land areas less than ours, have one or more auxiliary stations and we believe Winchester certainly owes its citizens "on the hill" the security of knowing that firefighting equipment is closer than ten minutes away. Fortunately no lives were lost in this tragedy, but must wait until that time before a step is taken to protect this end of town?

Now that we have approved additional sums to finally get our new high school built, it will be even harder to get approval for this additional fire station, but the safety factor is the most important issue here.

This area has always overwhelmingly supported town-wide improvements and bears willingly the brunt of the tax burden. We think it only fair that the remainder of the town recognize our need at this time and support our plea for a much-needed station.

Our school building problems will always be with us, but the fire-safety problem could be solved once and for all with a fair appropriation from the town Selectmen.

Most sincerely,
Mrs. Edward Cincotta
9 Trinity Road

Thanks

I would like at this time to thank all my good friends in Winchester who have been so kind to me since I have been a resident of this town. The friendly greetings you gave to me have made me feel as though somebody cared. Now I know that you do care and for which I am truly grateful.

My sincere thanks to the clergy of the First Congregational Church and to its members, also to the personnel of the Town Hall, to the members of the Public Library, to the members of the fire and police departments and to all the Public Works Department employees. Most of all an especial thought of gratitude and a million thanks to all those grand people at the Winchester Hospital, the staff, the doctors and the nurses—all the personnel were so kind and concerned about me during my illness. I shall never forget how wonderful they were to me. I shall always be grateful to them for what they did for me. My best regards and gratitude to all you nice people. I also want to thank the American Legion, the V.F.W., the Knights of Columbus, and the Rotary Club.

Sincerely yours,
William J. Keough

Answers Ad For Moratorium

Editor of the Star:

In an advertisement in the November 6th issue of the Star, a resident of Winchester asks several ungrammatical questions. Since a seeker after knowledge should be encouraged, I feel obligated to assist in this quest for enlightenment.

Question No. 1: Agnew Who? Answer: Spiro Agnew is the Vice-President of the United States. He is of immigrant stock and has just adopted the technique of most prominent American politicians who say what they think their constituency wants to hear. He follows an unconventional practice of telling the truth, however unpalatable it may be. This has made him unpopular among those who do not wish to face facts or to listen to unpleasant truths.

Question No. 2: Nixon What? Answer: Richard Nixon is the President of the United States. He is Mr. Agnew's boss and he agrees with many of the statements made by Mr. Agnew. As a result, he also is unpopular with the group of dissidents who are seeking to undermine the structure of American society. This noisy minority is attempting, by encouraging or participating in violence, to replace orderly government by anarchy. President Nixon is trying to discourage this dangerous agitation.

Question No. 3: Nixon wants "Peace and Freedom" for whom? Answer: President Nixon does not intend to sacrifice thousands of innocents to the vicious indoctrination of the North Vietnamese. He knows from past experience that barbarous purges will follow a precipitate withdrawal of American forces.

Question No. 4: Why not be an "impudent snob" and come to Washington November 15th? Answer: Because I know that encouragement of disorder is the surest way to trigger a reaction which will rob us of constitutional rights and lead to the imposition of a dictatorship.

Very truly yours,
Stanley B. Black

Thanks Workers On Referendum

Editor of the Star:

In a record vote for referendum the citizens of Winchester have upheld the recent Town Meeting action that will enable the High School to get under way. The Citizens for the New High School wish to thank all those people who helped in the effort. Sparked by the LWV these are the willing gals who got out the question and answer sheet, who canvassed their neighborhoods, who were at the polls on voting day, and who then took the lists and made the phone calls. We were confident the "yes" votes were there—it was a matter of convincing these people that their one vote did matter.

In particular the committee members since 1963 who have devoted hours to the effort of a new school deserve the thanks of the town. Winchester is indeed fortunate to have the Arthur Dunbars, the Andrew Nicholls, the Philip Tesoreros, the Harriet Dieterichs, and the Richard Lawrences—to name a few that were most visible this go-round. I'm sure their predecessors are as relieved and happy at the November 13th vote as they are. The student committee who put its enthusiasm behind the effort, even though the town has moved too slowly for their benefit, has our special thanks. We were never lacking in volunteers; there were many for whom we just did not have a specific assignment.

But most of all we thank the voters who took the trouble to go to the polls to record their opinions.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. Nolan T. Jones
Coordinator, Citizens for the New High School

"Silent Spring"

Editor of the Star:

Rachel Carson's "Silent Spring" seems to have come to my section of Mason Street for all summer I did not have one bird either in the woods in back or on my front lawn. We always used to have lovely songs by thrushes and in the morning there would be such loud bird singing that it would wake our house guests. This year I have not had one bird nor one song. I wonder if other Winchester people had the same experience.

Accidents Result In Injuries

Minor injuries were the result of two traffic skirmishes over the weekend.

Treated at Winchester Hospital for cuts on the nose and upper and lower lips on Friday night, November 14, was Fred J. Schiffmacher of 50 North Lake Street. According to the police report Mr. Schiffmacher related to Officer Donald Jackson that he was travelling west on Forest Street when he was forced to the side of the road by an oncoming car. Although he pulled to the right he was unable to avoid hitting an Edison pole.

On Saturday, November 15, a collision with two other unoperated vehicles caused Robert E. Fogg of Lexington to complain of minor injuries.

He told police that he was moving west on Lake Street at approximately 30 miles per hour when he heard a "loud pop" and the car pulled to the right. As he applied the brakes, he struck a jeep parked at the side of the road, pushing it up on the lawn, and then collided with another automobile parked in a driveway.

Mr. Fogg complained of a bump on the head and pain in the right leg, but did not desire medical attention. The entire front end of his car had been pushed in. Damage to the jeep was on the left rear side and rear end and to the sedan on the bumper.

It was also noted by several Committee members that since the school will have a vandal alarm system, the security problem at the school, located on a 60-acre site which was once part of the MDC's Breakheart Reservation, should be further diminished.

A progress report from the architectural firm of Korusund, LeNormand and Quinn, indicated that the general contractor's schedule called for 100 per cent completion of the building by April.

The director's timetable calls for the school to be fully staffed by July 1, allowing two months to get the building ready for the anticipated September, 1970 opening.

Vincent Ambrose Day Proclaimed By Rotarians

A surprise was in store for the Rotarians at their November 13 meeting. A record number of visiting guests and out-of-town Rotarians necessitated the addition of two tables to handle the over-capacity crowd.

The scheduled speaker for the day, Jim Dobbins, a Herald Traveler political cartoonist, was unable to make the meeting. Vincent Ambrose was to perform the induction of new members into the club. As Vin began his presentation Fred McCormack asked a point of order of the President and proclaimed Trust Company in 1948, his advancement to treasurer and in 1955 to president.

Next Fred McCormack again became Master of Ceremonies and presented Vin with more gifts from friends and well-wishers in the Rotary Club. From the Rotarians as a group he received a portable television.

This meeting was a complete surprise to Vin. The comradeship of the club arose on this occasion to wish Vin happiness while absent from his many Winchester friends.

President Hovannesian closed the meeting at 1:40 p.m.

Winchester Trails will be on television on Saturday, November 22 at 6:30 p.m. on Channel 5, WHDH-TV. Students from Vinson-Owen School will be shown on a field trip to Smith Pond as part of the program, "The Week Ends Here."

Trails members, volunteer nature counsellors, have conducted field trips around the conservation area of Smith Pond for 345 children of the schools during the month of October.

Their efforts have been recognized by Channel 5 as being worthy of mention on television and their contribution to the children of Winchester has been deeply appreciated by the School Department, according to Dr. Donald A. Klemmer, superintendent, who was instrumental in the implementation of the nature program.

Chairman of the Trails group, Mrs. W. Ver Planck will lead one group of students and Mrs. Philip Parsons will conduct the in-class program which is used to orient the students to the pond succession happenings as evident on the trip.

In addition, Mrs. Howard Frazier, Mrs. Dirk Van Gemeren and Mrs. Robert Crasty will assist on the trail.

Filming on the trip took place on Wednesday.

United Fund Benefits Winchester

Winchester residents were served 6,734 times last year by 69 agencies and services of the Massachusetts Bay United Fund, according to James P. O'Halloran, community chairman for Winchester in the current United Fund campaign.

The types of services used most often by Winchester residents were youth organizations and hospitals, Mr. O'Halloran reported.

The Winchester Hospital provided the most units of service, 1,602. Other typical agencies and the number of units of services they provided were: Mistick Side Girl Scout Council, 956; Minuteman Council, Boy Scouts, 679; Cambridge Y.M.C.A., 204; Arlington Boys Club, 164; Wakefield Y.M.C.A., 189; Salvation Army, 549; C.A., 189; Salvation Army, 470; Mystic Valley Mental Health Association, 549; Winchester Visiting Nurse Association, 411; Boston Legal Aid, 14; Massachusetts General Hospital, 142; Greater Boston Y.M.C.A., 233; and U.S.O., 345.

A total of 225 health, family, child care and youth serving agencies sharing in the Massachusetts Bay United Fund help more than a million persons annually in the 65 cities and towns in the Massachusetts Bay area.

David Graham

We are the only bank in this area that puts a Polaroid® photograph of your face on back of your Master Charge.

In literally 60 seconds, you have instant identification. And protection. Should you ever lose your photo-backed Master Charge, it would be mighty hard for anyone else to use it.

Hardly surprising, is it, that the people who give you a Personal Banker should be the first to personalize Master Charge. After all, your Personal Banker, like your personalized Master Charge, makes your financial transactions more convenient. And safer.

So when we decided Master Charge was the very best credit card — because it's recognized by the greatest number of retailers and banks in the country — we went one step further. And made Master Charge as personal as your face. And as attractive.

All you have to do to get your photo-backed Master Charge is come into our bank and let us take your picture. In a minute.

You don't have to bank with us now or ever. But doesn't it make sense to do business with bankers who prove again and again they take all your financial needs personally?

Report Card Conference Tips Listed

The first of the report card conferences between parents and teachers of elementary school children are scheduled for December 2, 3, and 4, the first week after Thanksgiving vacation.

In order to assist parents in preparing for the conferences the following pre-conference tips have been suggested:

1. Decide in advance what to ask the teacher. Jot down specific problems rather than indulging in generalities.
2. Ask the student if there is anything he would like discussed with his teacher.
3. Feel free to ask the teacher any questions about the pupil and his school. Remember, other parents wonder about the new methods used to teach reading, team teaching, and other innovations.
4. Be ready to tell the teacher what she wants to know. Knowing about a child's family life, health, hobbies, homework habits, or feelings about school, help her to work more effectively on the child's learning problems.
5. This is an opportunity to dispel rumors about the school by hearing the facts. Ask the teacher about such problems.
6. Be reasonable in what is expected of the teacher and about the amount of special attention which she can give to a child. Ask how the parents can help meet some of the child's special needs at home.
7. Take notes during the conference, and review them later at home. Starts soon with the action steps upon which have been decided.
8. Fathers are encouraged to attend conferences, if possible. Younger brothers or sisters are best left at home.

Church Service On Thanksgiving Day

A Thanksgiving Day service, including a period for expressions of gratitude by members of the congregation, will be held at First Church of Christ, Scientist on Thanksgiving morning, Thursday, November 27, at 11 o'clock.

The public is welcome to attend the hour-long service in the church edifice at 114 Church Street.

The First Reader, Clarence W. Feldmann, will conduct the service and read passages from the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy. Bible selections are to be read by the Second Reader, Mrs. Rina H. Messer.

Four sections of short passages from the Lesson-Sermon develop the theme of the Golden Text from First Thessalonians: "Rejoice evermore. Pray without ceasing. In every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you."

The first section, with selections from Psalms, sets forth the primacy and power of God, the creative Mind. One of the passages from Science and Health is: "If Mind was first chronologically, is first potentially, and must be first eternally, then give to Mind the glory, honor, dominion, and power everlasting due its holy name."

The second section briefly relates the story of Ruth, whose faithfulness to God was abundantly rewarded, and includes a familiar passage from Science and Health, "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need."

In the third section, the power of faith in God is illustrated by Jesus' healing of the blind beggar. One of the explanatory passages from the Christian Science textbook is: "The physical healing of Christian Science results now, as in Jesus' time from the operation of divine Principle, before which sin and disease lose their reality in human consciousness and disappear as naturally and as necessarily as darkness gives place to light and sin to reformation."

The final section focuses on the solution of world problems, as promised in the words of the prophet Isaiah: "The Lord hath made bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations; and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God."

Hymns to be sung by the congregation include: "Praise ye the Lord," "We thank Thee and we bless Thee," and "In God I find a precious gift... the gift of gratitude."

John Williams Is March Of Dimes Local Director

Leadership of the January March of Dimes campaign was completed with the appointment of community directors in key areas of the Massachusetts Bay Chapter. Named to the top post in Winchester by county campaign director William J. Cocoris was John Williams. Mr. Cocoris said the appointee would coordinate the efforts of thousands of local volunteers during the traditional January campaign, which opens the day after New Years. The Annual Mothers March, to be held this year on Mothers March Sunday, January 25, will be the principal fund-raising activity of the drive.

We are just now beginning to discover the fearful toll that birth defects take each year in this country, he said. Not only are there 250,000 babies born annually with serious birth defects, but physicians are discovering that many disabling and even fatal ailments which crop up later in life are actually the fault of hidden birth defects.

The March of Dimes, he noted, is supporting the work of many prominent scientists who are investigating these and other aspects of birth defects hoping to find the means of preventing them. In Boston alone the March of Dimes supports three centers and clinics that are furnishing improved medical care for victims of birth defects, making it possible for many of them to escape permanent disability.

Mr. Russo Cited By John Hancock For Sales Work

James J. Russo of 9 Adams Road and the Chelsea District Office of John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company, was honored as a leading agent for the company's Northern New England region.

District Manager Frank Balon said that in the past 12 months Mr. Russo compiled a leading sales record in the region which covers 23 offices in three states.

Twelve members of the Chelsea District Office also have been cited by John Hancock for outstanding individual records.

The sales achievements of these agents and Mr. Russo were recognized by John Hancock at a three-day Regional Honor Club conference November 7 to 9 at Grossinger's, Grossinger, New York.

Mr. Russo has been associated with John Hancock since 1958.

Drug Group Meets Today In Malden

Today, November 20, RADAR (Regional Association of Drug Action Representatives) will meet at 8 p.m. in the Meeting Room of the Malden Chamber of Commerce, 417 Main Street.

Father Bernard Lane, Chaplain of Malden Catholic High School, and young people from Malden's successful ACD Drop-In Center, will discuss their experiences and problems in establishing and maintaining their center.

Father Lane, who instituted the center, is primarily responsible for the establishment of a new citizens' group known as ACD that is now formulating plans for an all-out community attack on drug abuse.

Since June, 1969, RADAR has served over 30 member communities and has assisted a total of more than 75 communities in an attempt to provide immediate and meaningful assistance at local levels for persons with drug-related problems and an intensive program of total community preventive education.

All those who are interested in furthering these goals in their own communities are invited to attend.

Cong. Macdonald Receives Award Of Broadcasters

Congressman Torbert H. Macdonald, who represents this district in Congress, recently received the Award from the National Association of Educational Broadcasters.

The award was presented at the association's national convention, held in Washington at the Sheraton-Park Hotel.

CONG. TORBERT H. MACDONALD

Congressman Macdonald was introduced by Hartford Gunn, general manager of Boston's educational station WGBH-TV (Channel 2), to a national assembly of educational station managers. The presentation was made by William G. Harley, president of the association. Mr. Gunn, after listing a number of bills, both sponsored and managed on the House floor by Congressman Macdonald, praised him for his efforts on behalf of educational broadcasting.

The association president cited Macdonald's recent accomplishment, as Chairman of the House Communications Subcommittee, in raising the appropriations ceiling for educational-TV equipment and programming grants by over ten million dollars.

In his acceptance remarks, Macdonald reminded the educational broadcasters that the appropriations battle was still to be won, and called for increased grass-roots cultivation by the broadcasters of legislators from their respective districts.

"Financially," he said, "Congress still hasn't done completely right by you." Pledging full support, he added that his task would be made easier if more Congressmen were personally exposed to public broadcasting's past record and unlimited future potential.

Miss Diane Capodilupo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Capodilupo of Oneida Road, has been selected for a House fellowship at Rosemary Park Dormitory for the 1969-1970 academic year at Connecticut College, New London, Connecticut. Diane, a senior, is a dean's list student.

Advisory Council On Education Is Formed

The Citizens' Advisory Committee on Secondary School-College Relations has been renamed and given a new purpose, according to the School Department.

Originally set up to provide a closer tie between high school and college, its purpose was to get the advice of college professors on the preparation of high school students. According to Superintendent Klemmer, "The gap between high school and college now has been considerably reduced and we have our own effectively working curriculum committees."

The Citizens' Advisory Committee members felt they needed to consider a new function, that of a steering committee which would prepare a list of resource people who would be available to the School Committee and staff. Individuals would be drawn not only from college staffs as in the past, but also from technical areas in business and other fields. These people would be available to help advise on curriculum changes, training programs and to speak on special topics to classes of students.

A new name has also been chosen. The C.A.C. will become the Winchester Advisory Council on Education.

The School Committee has expressed its gratitude for past services of the advisory committee and is enthusiastic about the plans for the new council.

Field Trip Guide Is Available To Teachers Now

The first Field Trip Guide for teachers has been published by the Winchester public schools through the efforts of Principals Miss Paula Y. Caffrey and William A. Warnock.

Field trips for elementary school children have always been encouraged by the School Committee and School Department as a means of broadening and enriching experiences.

The guide suggests field trips in specific subject areas appropriate to the curriculum used in each grade. It explains the place, telephone number of the person to be contacted, cost or admission, group size preferred, visiting days and hours and availability of a picnic site. Places suggested include Town departments, library, newspaper, dairies, museums, zoos, factories, airports and historical sites.

Elementary members of the English, science, social studies and math curriculum councils worked with the Field Trip Guide Committee in recommending trips that correlate with the curriculum. Although the guide is extensive in its suggestions, Miss Caffrey and Mr. Warnock add, "There are, however, many other trips or historical landmarks of value that are not listed in the guide, and teachers should not feel restricted by the suggestions listed in the booklet."

It is hoped by the Committee that elementary teachers will find the booklet a useful tool in aiding selection of an educational trip for their classes.

Visiting Nurses Discuss Programs In School Health

The Visiting Nurse Association Board meeting was held on Friday, November 14.

As guest speaker, Donald Klemmer, Superintendent of Schools, thanked volunteers and staff for their assistance in current school health programs. This included a dental research study by Harvard University, audio and visual testing, and pre-school speech and hearing clinic with which the nurses and volunteers assisted.

Doctor Klemmer plans in the near future to establish an advisory committee for health, education. This committee will design the formal complex program, geared to each grade level.

The program will emphasize the importance of early diagnosis of perceptual handicaps (3 and 4 year olds), preventative dental hygiene, nutritional balances, smoking alcohol, mental health, human development and narcotics.

Harriet Deiterich, Chairman of the School Committee, was also present at the meeting, as was Norton Dempsey, Director of Pupil Personnel Services.

The Visiting Nurse Association noted an increase of one dollar for home visits, raising the charge to eight dollars to meet increasing costs.

Unitarian Choir Choral Program

On November 23rd the Winchester Unitarian Choir under the direction of Mary Ranton Witham will present its first in a series of pre-service choral programs based upon the great sacred oratorios and Masses. The first offering will be "Gloria" by Vivaldi and will start at 10:35. Immediately preceding the 11 o'clock service, James Sauer, Trumpeter will play "Priore" by Faure.

The Anthems will be "Laudamus Te"—Mueller, sung by the male choir and "Alleluia" by Randall Thompson and a cappella by the mixed choir.

The postlude will be an original arrangement of "Ein Feste Berg" played by John Winchester Baldwin.

Soloists of the Winchester Unitarian Choir are: Estelle McNeely, soprano; Barbara Wood, contralto; William Jeffery, tenor; Sidney C. Blanchard Jr., baritone.

John Hancock To Host Students

Seven Winchester High School students are among 1,000 juniors and seniors from 150 Greater Boston area high schools invited to attend a program Saturday for business students sponsored by the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company.

Boston psychologist Alan B. Sostek will be the main speaker at the day-long program. Chairman of the National Vocational and Guidance Association Commission on Personal Growth and Development in Education and Industry, he will discuss patterns of development for the individual in the 70's.

The program will also include a fashion show coordinated by the Academie Moderne of Boston, a film and luncheon in the John Hancock cafeteria.

Music by "The Orphans," a Boston rock group, will be featured throughout the day.

Winchester High School students invited are:

Miss Linda Eschner, 78 Yale Street; Miss Cindy Alvarez, 200 Swanton Street; Miss Kathy Marini, 49 Swanton Street; Miss Donna Gambino, 29 Olive Street; Miss Debbie Dee, 251 Swanton Street; Miss Valerie Freda, 343 Cross Street, and Miss Becky Mas, 208 Ridge Street.

Following the talk by Dr. Cohen, the teachers separated into primary (grades one through three) and intermediate (grades 4 through 6) groups. The workshop for primary teachers was led by Mrs. Dorothea Kress, well known in the field of reading and a principal in the Concord school system. The intermediate workshop was conducted by Dr. Nancy Santensario, an authority in reading and a principal in the Lynnfield school system.

THIS AERIAL VIEW of the Northeast Metropolitan Regional Vocational School now under construction in Wakefield to serve 12 communities, including Winchester, shows the rambling 1200-student co-educational facility from the rear of the site looking southwest, with the approach road at the top center. About 13 of the 60-acre site, once part of the MDC's Breakheart Reservation which surrounds the school on three sides, have been developed for the facility. Construction is about 75 per cent completed, and the school is expected to open next September. (Richard Hillis photo)

Unitarian Fair Ends Today

A children's fair and three award-winning movies will be featured at the Unitarian Church Fair this afternoon, November 20.

The children's fair is open from 3 to 5 p.m. Children only are allowed to shop for the good used toys and books here. There will also be grab bag gifts, a fortune teller, balloons and a make-up table with make-believe cosmetics for the girls and mustaches, beards and hats for the boys.

The movies start at 4 p.m. and are all in color. The session, which lasts an hour, will include "Paddle to the Sea," "Dick Whittington and His Cat" and "The Lost Doll." They are geared to children from about age three through elementary school.

While children shop at their own fair, adults can browse through Christmas gifts throughout the church until 5 p.m. Handmade felt Christmas ornaments will be sold off the Christmas tree at the close of the fair.

Library Film Program

Family Film Night at 7:30 p.m., November 21.

Dr. Doolittle in Africa — This film is based on the Dr. Doolittle story by Hugh Lofting. Dr. Doolittle and his faithful pets set sail for Africa, where the monkeys are sick. Excitement mounts as the sea gets rougher.

Miss Esta Maude's Secret — Esta Maude is a school teacher. She lives in a tall thin house on the edge of town and drives an old black car. Everyone thinks that Esta Maude's life is very dull. Imagine their surprise when they find out that she owns a red sports car—and we find out all about her adventures in it.

Modern Hawaii — This colorful film shows the scenic beauties of these islands. Hawaii is also an important location for military bases.

Trip to the Moon — An imaginary rocket takes off for the moon and explores its surface. It shows in detail the craters and seas, the valleys and the mountains that can be seen from the earth.

Schools Receive Federal Funds For Equipment

The strong bi-partisan support of the Massachusetts Congressional delegation has apparently been a contributing factor in the fight this year to retain federal funding for the purchase of instructional materials for public schools.

Francis X. Finigan, president of the Massachusetts Association of Science Supervisors, and science department director at Winchester High School, said recently that it is his understanding that federal funding under Title III of the National Defense Education Act has now been restored.

The original proposal of the Bureau of the Budget had requested that no appropriation be made for this legislation which allows 50 per cent reimbursement to cities and towns from the Federal Government for the purchase of instructional materials.

John W. McCormack, Speaker of the House of Representatives, informed Mr. Finigan that he strongly favors and supports extension of the provisions of NDEA and would extend his full support on the legislation.

Senator Edward Brooke has assured MASS that "I will do all I can to support appropriate funding for this worthwhile program."

Mr. Finigan, who is also president-elect of the National Science Supervisors Association, has been in the forefront of the fight to have these cuts restored. He stated, "It now appears that Congress may be inclined to restore the appropriation of $78,740,000 for the fiscal year. To deny these funds would work a serious hardship on schools in our state and throughout the nation."

Senator Kennedy reported that "the proposed cutbacks in appropriations for these acts are very disturbing. I am hopeful that Congress will recognize these needs, and that responsible and effective legislation will be passed."

Mr. Finigan pointed out that in Winchester $15,340 was allocated last year under Title III for the purchase of equipment such as microscopes, laboratory tables, and audio-visual materials. This has generated substantial improvement in the quality of education.

To allow for the passing of the beginning of the fiscal year 1970 on July 1st, Congress approved a continuing appropriations resolution. This measure guarantees that funding will continue on current programs at the 1969 rate. MASS now expects that the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee for Education and Labor will give a favorable funding of the bill.

Merry Christmas In November At Gift Shop

The Winchester Hospital Gift Shop—right now—is bursting with beauty, originality, and color. Early, clever, and unusual Christmas shopping is available to everyone who wants the new, the lovely, the different in decorations, wrappings, and gifts. And since we all have to shop sooner or later, why not sooner?

Especially, why not, in the name of Winton Club which proudly provides the entire linen of the Winchester Hospital?

There are toys for all ages, note papers for all tastes, baby items for all babies. Costume jewelry and novelties enough for every imagination are also there, including imported and domestic items. All are reasonably priced. And they are yours for the early choosing and buying. And with every week comes more and varied excitement all on display and eager for purchase.

Never forget the Stocking Stuffer Table—an innovation not to be missed by the young in heart who want their Christmases to be merry.

So—everybody's invited to this unique Christmas shopping area in a relaxed and leisurely setting. Enjoy a delicious home-cooked lunch or tea in the neighboring Coffee Shop as you pick and decide in the Gift Shop. Come and see, choose and buy—at the same time you are helping your hospital!

Woburn YMCA Offers Weekly Bridge Course

The North Suburban YMCA will conduct a 10-week Intermediate Bridge Course beginning on Tuesday, November 25.

This course, under the leadership of Kark Cox, will stress competitive bid, specialized bidding, defense and declarer play. Mr. Cox is a certified Goven Instructor and also a Certified Bridge Director with the American Contract Bridge League.

Classes will meet every Tuesday (except December 23 and December 30) from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the North Suburban YMCA, 553 Main Street, Woburn. For those with pre-school children, a baby sitting service is available at a small additional charge.

For further information and to register, please call the North Suburban YMCA, 935-3270.

Rotary Hosts Bill Veeck

The Rotary Club was fortunate in having Bill Veeck, president of Suffolk Downs, as its guest speaker last week.

Program chairman for the day, Charlie Mahoney introduced Bill's long line of accomplishments, among them past owner of the St. Louis Browns and the Cleveland Indians.

During his half-hour talk on sports, Mr. Veeck kept the Winchester Rotarians chuckling with his easy wit and fantastic stories, including those of that venerable pitcher, Satchel Paige, when he was with him in St. Louis. He called him one of the most competent pitchers that he had ever met.

He further pointed out that everybody was interested in the attendance figures for baseball. Unfortunately Bostonians are not aware of the situation because the Boston Red Sox have led the league in attendance figures for the last few years. But attendance around the country is 30 per cent less per game than it was in 1948. He feels that the game is getting dull and that the 32 minutes that have been added to the game in the last few years have shown fewer men on base and fewer home runs.

Mr. Veeck claims that winners like the New York Mets joined the people in New York as one group rooting for a common goal. This is one of the things that baseball is able to do to a local population. Baseball has fallen out of the times, he feels, by not keeping up with today's faster pace. They should be speeding up the game. The new Commissioner has done a fine job in this area, he said.

One of his pet gripes, continuing his comments on present conditions the Boston sportsman noted junk mail. His attempt to foil that system is to mail one company's mail back in another company's return envelope. He says that this will get you off the mailing list fast enough. He further claims that he belongs to one of the largest minority groups in the country, that of being left-handed.

He wrapped up his talk by mentioning the fact that he is the new owner of Suffolk Downs and explaining some of the problems involved in running a race track.

The pulling power of a personality such as Bill Veeck at one of our dinner meetings was readily shown by the fact that we had one of the largest groups in attendance at this meeting. There were only two Rotarians missing, and it is hoped that they will make up this week in an attempt to get another 100 per cent meeting. President Hovanessian adjourned the meeting at 1:40.

WILL WOBURN WRECK WINCHESTER'S WAGON?

Sachems Growl "No!!--And You Can Bet Your Life On It"

by John F. Parrell

If anybody had any doubts regarding the desire of the Sachems to win the Wakefield game they were quickly dispelled once the Marshallmen got their hands on the football.

The Wakefield Warriors felt the full wrath of the Winchester attack and wound up having nearly as many points scored on them in one quarter or 12 minutes as their five previous league victims had accrued in five full games (200 minutes) such was the extent of Winchester's revenge for a decade of frustration which saw only one win and two ties in 10 starts against the Warriors. Then too there was the will to defend and retain the Middlesex League title and to continue undefeated for 1969.

But all this is merely a ripple on the pond compared to a tidal wave when one even mentions the name of the Woburn Tanners to these eager Sachem stalwarts. It is one of the most bitter memories that can be stirred up in Winchester hearts, that of last year's debacle at Woburn.

This was not only a defeat in the traditional Turkey Day game. It was the ruin of the first perfect slate since the days of Joe Bellino and particularly hard to take since by any method of figuring Winchester was a sound favorite. But as so often happens in these long rivalries and climactic games Woburn came roaring out and kept going right to the end to chalk up an amazing 20-14 win.

Once again the two teams enter the Thanksgiving Day classic and once again the Sachems are Middlesex League champions and undefeated. Woburn has had a very disappointing season with only a single victory to show against six defeats, but don't let that fool you. Remember they held strong (7-1) Saugus to a measly field goal (3-0) edge.

After their opening loss to Newburyport by 42-20 one of the Clipper coaches made the remark that the Tanners were a dangerous team. A Woburn player replied: "You can say that again, look what we did to Winchester last year and we'll do it again this year." This was said seven weeks ago and it has been re-echoed many times whenever the subject comes up. Every loss has been softened by the thoughts of what they plan to do to the Sachems in this year's big game.

Plans They have been quite open in their plans and when rival players have met on the street, or in restaurants, or at dances the story has always been the same. Each passing week has seen the game draw nearer and with every victory the Winchester crew has built up its determination to make last year's defeat only a passing incident. To date they have tallied 329 points but a margin of even one against the Tanners would be a fair trade for all the excess points.

In such traditional rivalries records and point totals do not mean a thing but in order to be realistic it is only sensible to name Winchester as a solid favorite. Some fans talk of fantastic figures for the result of the game but the players want first and foremost to win it and let the score take care of itself. A comfortable margin is hoped for and many of the lesser lights on the team are hoping that this can be gained early enough so that they can have their long awaited chance for action.

Winchester is not overconfident, it is cautious, for the lesson of last year is all to recent and rankles within them. You can be sure that there will be no letdown from last week's peak but rather a buildup of desire. For many this is their final game against the Tanners and they want it more than all the games they have ever played.

The underclass players are just as determined to help the seniors do it so that their careers will have a glorious ending. As the headlines state, Winchester does not look forward to any pink tea party but if you want to get a true picture of their innermost feelings just say something like "Last year the team was undefeated but Woburn..."

and then duck, for even the mention of that hated word Woburn stirs up some unhappy and haunting thoughts. Let's hope that this year's game will do much to make bitter the turkey which will be on Woburn's tables!

Tanners' Quick Retort: "Remember Last Year"

by Peter M. Haggerty

The old forward pass may turn out to be the decider this Thanksgiving morning in the 64th meeting of the Winchester Sachems and the Woburn Tanners at Manchester Field.

The Sachems recently became the Middlesex League champs for the second successive year and will be sporting an 8-0 undefeated record when they take the field on Turkey Day.

The Tanners on the other hand have had a tough season all around, ending up with a 1-6 record clearly making the Sachems high favorites.

Woburn High can hardly be cut short and Winchester found that out the hard way last season. The season records can hardly predict the outcome of the state's third oldest rivals.

Winchester came to Woburn last year with an undefeated record and were naturally picked as favorites but apparently it went to their heads. The Woburn eleven struck hard and fast that overcast day and before the Sachems knew it, they had lost to Woburn 20-14, the last team in the world the Sachems wanted to break their undefeated record.

Sachem Coach Manny Marshall will be fielding an outstanding ball club this Thursday. It is a fired up club that considers Woburn no push over and will be working toward the revenge victory.

Woburn Coach Lenny Hill, now in his second year with the Tanners, will also field a team with a lot of spirit and determination. Although their record shows very little the Woburn Tanners have potential and should things jive Winchester is in for another good game this year.

Great Football

The Tanners have played some great football in some of their losses. The first game of the season against an always strong Newburyport team, Woburn dominated the first half completely, leading at halftime 20-6. Fumbles, injuries and pride fell to the wayside in the last half thus Woburn lost 42-20.

The following Saturday the Tanners hosted Class A leader Saugus and played the Sachems play for play—a 23 yard field goal and the Tanners lost 3-0.

Woburn finally came up with their well earned victory in the third game of the season when they completely overpowered the Gloucester Fishermen 30-16. Coach

Hill was able to use his reserves most of the last quarter.

Woburn went straight down hill the rest of the season as they would come through with a fantastic first half and lose the game in the second or vice versa. Winthrop 20 point first half, score 20-6; Falmouth down at halftime 12-6, 20 point last half score 26-12; Danvers 22 point first half, score 28-6; and Marblehead, who edged Gloucester 26-20, edged the Tanners 12-6.

Thus it's been a real nightmare for the Woburn Tanners who now travel to meet the aerial attack of Winchester's Mike Gilberti.

The passing game of Gilberti will be the key for the Sachems as it has been all season long. Woburn Coach Hill without a doubt realizes the only way to stop the Winchester offense is good pass defense backing up a hard hitting line.

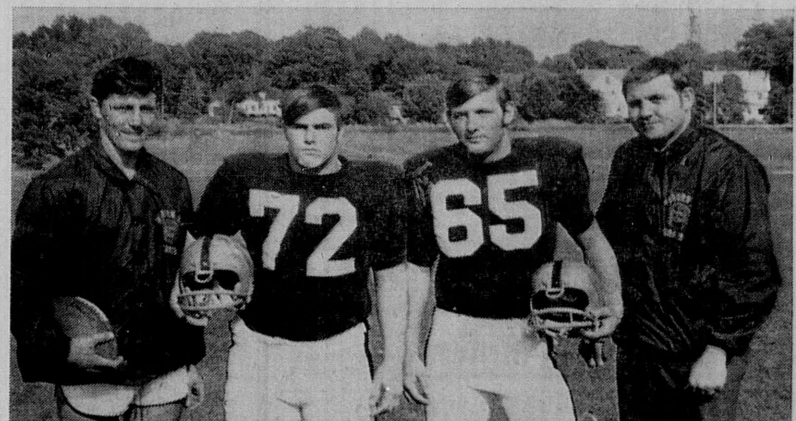

Pass Defense

The Tanners certainly appeared to be lacking in the pass defense category all year long but an obvious change in the defensive backfield last Saturday, against Marblehead looked like a step in the right direction.

Coach Hill placed two six foot basketball players, Bob Bergstrom and Bob Lang, with good hands on pass defense and they seemed to work out well. Bergstrom made a fine interception against the Magicians returning the ball to the 10 yard line and setting up Woburn's only TD.

Woburn on offense will probably have senior Paul Carroll at the helm. Carroll missed most of the season due to a foot injury sustained in the first game of the season with Newburyport. Carroll went the full distance last Saturday for the first time. Coach Hill feels he will be ready this Thursday. Should Carroll come out of the ball game, left-handed junior Bob Morrison will fill the vacancy to Woburn's downfall.

Ready For The Sachems?

Pop Warner 100's Down Wilmington

The Winchester Pop Warner 100's used stout defense and a second half offensive surge to defeat Wilmington 20-0 at Wilmington on Sunday. It was the B's seventh consecutive victory and brought their season's record to 8-1. Only three teams managed to score against the Juniors this fall.

Two weeks' rest stalled the offenses of both teams at the outset, and through the first quarter they sparred ineffectually at mid-field. This changed abruptly in Winchester's favor as the second session opened. Dickie Errico picked off a short Wilmington pass at his 45 and legged it to the six yard line. This key play ignited the B's. On the next play Hayford scored untouched, and from this point their offense regained some of its old punch.

Doug Marr returned the second half kick off to the Wilmington 35 behind several nice blocks. Jimmy Beaton got eight at left tackle, and Kenny Errico ran the same hole for nine. Chuckie Hayford then barreled over right tackle and cut back over the middle. There he picked up a fine downfield block by Dave Marr and raced over the goal. Kenny Errico cashed in the bonus.

The B's offensive line of Steve Johnis, Don Allard, Todd Cronan, Dave Marr, Dave Donohue, Mike Collins, and John Harrington now began to dominate the home team, but their thrust was stopped at the 20 by an interception. The Juniors' game plan had called for little passing, since quarterback Frongillo played despite a painful stiff neck.

After the interception, Wilmington racked up its only significant gain on a long sweep left, but the B's held at their 30 as the quarter ended.

Back on the attack, Marr and Errico chewed out a first down. Then Hayford followed near perfect blocking around left and carry in from the 38, but a penalty nullified the score.

Rolling now, the Juniors were undismayed. Doug Marr cracked for nine, then Dick Errico hit left guard and in a driving, spinning run carried to the 14. The line then scored a wipeout at the same hole and Marr scooted in for the last TD. Les Brownwell dived in for the extra point.

Thus the 100's closed the season on a high note, winning going away. Many stayed to watch happily as the 115's took the night cap. Coming home, there was animated chatter about powdery slopes, slap shots, and lay-ups. Next the talk will be of hook slides and high surf. Then one day there'll be a poster saying "On or about August 15th..."

Pee Wee B's Defeat Billerica 12-0

The Winchester Pee Wee B hockey team continued their winning ways downing Billerica 12-0 for their third win. This victory was highlighted by improved positional play.

Again the defense corps, led by Mark Milley, Larry O'Grady, and Phil Neergard, kept the pressure on Billerica by continually preventing them from clearing their zone.

Winchester started fast with six goals in the first period. Will Paglia, sent in by Allyn Stillman, and Dave Putnam started the scoring. Shortly thereafter Kevin O'Neil slipped one by the goalie after a beautiful feed from Larry O'Grady.

In quick succession Mike Jeanette scored twice within 45 seconds with assists going to Bob Coppins and Mike Donellan respectively. Will Paglia, again assisted by Dave Putnam and Allyn Stillman, and Jack McInnis on a pass from Jay Frongillo completed the first period scoring.

Winchester faces off against the Arlington club next Sunday at 4 p.m. at the Bedford rink.

Warriors Lead In Pee Wee Soccer

The West Side Warriors took over sole possession of first place in the Pee Wee division of the Winchester Youth Soccer program this week on the strength of their 5-1 victory over the Northern Stars.

The Warriors potent scoring twins of Norm Alpert and Allyn Stillman combined for all five tallies with Norm having the hat trick. The Warriors' defense, led by George Vaga, Skif Sizemore, Kurt Illinger and Don Atwell, allowed a single tally by Stars' scorer Matt McCroary.

Also contributing in the Warriors four straight win streak have been Tom and Billy Mitchell, Dave Deshler, John Fallon, Dave Lindbo, Mike Minutoli, Jim McCarthy, and Chuck Morris.

In the game of the day the Southern Sachems knocked the Central Cougars out of a first place tie by holding them to a scoreless tie. The Sachems actually held a territorial edge but the Cougar defense held them at bay. Jack Driscoll missed on the best scoring chance of the game just before the end of the half when his shot went just outside the goal post.

Jim Aylward, Pat Fortin and Paul Klemer were among the Cougar standouts while Kevin Julian, Mark Pistone, Richard Pantaleo, Brian Zudeck and Bob Sandford shone for the Sachems.

Meanwhile the Midtown Mustangs gained their first point of the season by holding the East Side Eagles to a scoreless tie as George Casey excelled again in the nets for the Mustangs. Fearless George bounced back from last week's injury to make many fine stops and save the tie.

In the final game of the day the Washington Whips retained their slim chances of finishing in first place with a hard fought 2-0 verdict over the Wedgemere Wildcats.

Jim Carter tallied both goals on passes from John Waite. Other Whip standouts were Bill Strazulo, Nick Julian, Don Layton and John Murphy. Playing well for the Wildcats were Frank Stiles, Donald Annino and Dave Nielsen.

Final Week

Next week will be the final week of action, barring playoffs, and the big game will be between the league-leading Warriors and the Sachems in the role of spoilers. Should the Warriors win they will be champs.

The Cougars, waiting for a Warrior slip, take on the Stars while the contending Whips meet the tenacious Mustangs. The Eagles round out the schedule by meeting the Wildcats.

Wee Sachems Down Wilmington

In one of the hardest fought football games of the season the 115 pound Wee Sachems rose to the occasion by defeating a strong Wilmington team 28-13.

Wilmington won the toss of the coin, but little else during the excitement packed afternoon. Kevin Pierce recovered a Wilmington fumble and the Wee Sachem offense went into action with quarterback Andy Miga using his three backs, Devlin, Fiore, and Heffernan, for one play each plus a pass to Steve Waite for 15 yards to set up Winchester's first touchdown. Miga took the ball in for the six points and Rudy Fiore ran for the extra point.

The Wee Sachem defense, performing at its highest level, forced Wilmington to punt after only three plays. Subsequently, the Winchester offense again went into high gear as Rudy Fiore scored 35 yards for a touchdown. Mike Heffernan added the extra point and the Wee Sachems led 14-0.

The second quarter was wide open as the ball changed hands frequently. Wilmington's two fumbles were recovered by Fiore and Miga while Winchester's punt was blocked and a fumble recovered by Wilmington. Wilmington got the best of the exchange of miscues by scoring after the blocked punt.

With less than two minutes left in the first half, it appeared that the excitement might be over, but it started again as Fiore broke clear for 20 yards and Dean Devlin caught a 15 yard pass from Miga. Sweeping the goal line just ahead, Andy Miga threw a long pass which was intercepted by Wilmington. With the clock moving and 50 seconds to go, Fiore intercepted a Wilmington pass and ran 30 yards for Winchester's third touchdown. Andy Miga ran the three yards to score an extra point and at half-time the Wee Sachems led 21-7.

Second Half

Winchester put themselves in a hole at the start of the third quarter with a punt attempt which never materialized giving the ball to Wilmington on the Winchester 10 yard line. The Wee Sachem defensive line comprised of Karl Mayer, Kevin Pierce, Dan Westwater, Andy DeMars, and Gary Beard performed as a unit to shut-out Wilmington's offensive threat. Later, midway through the third quarter, a fleet-footed halfback from Wilmington outran everyone for a 40 yard touchdown. The try for extra point failed setting the score at 21-13.

A short kick-off by Wilmington was recovered by Jeff Christensen and the Wee Sachem offensive machine began to function. After three short gains Andy Samoiloff dropped back to punt, but instead fired a pass to Fiore who raced 20 yards to Wilmington's 20 and a first down. Dean Devlin and Mike Heffernan ran for gains of five and three yards respectively, then Andy Miga crossed-up the defense with a bootleg pass to Steve Waite who ran the remaining distance for a touchdown. Rudy Fiore added the extra point.

At the close of the third quarter Wilmington's fleet-footed halfback again broke loose, but this time was caught by Jack Pantaleo short of the goal line. Winchester took over after a goal line stand and played "ball control" during the fourth quarter, running sixteen plays to Wilmington's six. Wilmington's only threat was a long pass which was intercepted by Rudy Fiore and as time ran out the Wee Sachems were on the winning end of a 28-13 victory and a successful 6-2 season.

Winchester Whips Warriors 52-28

Game Opening

The game opened with Wakefield showing a good long offensive drive, but two 15 yard penalties slowed it and eventually ground it to a halt quite deep in Winchester territory. Gilberti lost little time getting the offense into gear and he uncorked a long heave to Bill Wolfe over the center of the line which accounted for 59 big yards. Moments later he looped a short one to Mike Deshler and Winchester was in front by 6-0. Ben Dolan split the uprights and the Sachems had the lead which they never relinquished.

After the kickoff, the home team was unable to gain too much and Wakefield Co-Captain Dave Keough booted to Mike Deshler at the 35 but a clipping penalty moved the pigskin back to the 24. Ben Dolan made six and on a fake pass Gilberti had a first down at the 34. Mike Deshler lugged the ball for a first down at the 46 and another three yard gain brought it to the 49 as the quarter ended. This brought about a minimum of ball moving as the teams changed ends with the officials just carrying it a total of two yards.

The second quarter was to provide more fireworks offensively than most games have over the entire 40 minutes. Things came quick and fast with the Sachems moving out in front by an ever-increasing margin. They tallied 32 points over this stretch and the Warriors managed 14 for a record breaking 46 points in 10 minutes. The period seemed interminable and the erratic score board clock did not help matters with well over 30 plays run by the teams. The Warriors scored on the final play at half time and at the game's end with no time for even a kickoff.

To open the period Co-Captain Mike Gilberti was trapped but ran up the middle for 19 yards for a first down at the 32. Courtney West banged out line and Ben Dolan made another first down at the 14. Courtney West, who played well all afternoon, zoomed through for a touchdown as the Warrior defense could not stop his momentum. A pass for the extra point was not successful and Winchester led 13-0.

Wakefield failed to gain and when Keough went back to punt he juggled the pass and could not get his boot away. With Chip Emery and Paul Stevens in on him, he tried to kick but the ball fell to the ground and Stevens fell on it at the 20. Dolan pounded out a first down at the nine, Mike Deshler went for five and then Gilberti crossed the goal line. Deshler added the extra two points on a rush to run the count to 21-0.

Deep Hole

No sooner had the Warriors started to attack after the kickoff than they were once again in a deep hole. Kevin Halliday, son of the coach, entered the game heavily bandaged and threw two bullet passes which went through the arms of receivers. On his third attempt Noel Webb blocked the aerial and Chip Emery grabbed it before it hit the ground for an interception.

Gilberti, back to pass, was trapped and forced out at the 36. He punted but Winchester was off-side and the home team took the penalty and he got off a booming punt which was taken by Bob McMenimen near the goal line. The latter, attempting to break clear, was nailed hard on a fine tackle by Tom Riley and thrown in the end zone for a safety and Winchester had two more points.

Co-Captain Keough free kicked to Deshler at the Sachem 40 and he brought it back to the Wakefield 45. On the second play a perfect pass from Gilberti was hauled down by Bill Wolfe who raced the whole distance and Winchester had six more points. Gilberti carried himself for the conversion and it was now 31-0 for Winchester.

At this point Rafferty started to make some good gains for the Warriors. He broke loose from his own 39 to the Winchester 20 and added a pair of short gains, one on a pass, before Jack Roberto pitched out to him for 14 yards and a score. Kevin Meade took a Roberto pass for the two extra points and it was a 31-8 ball game.

With two-and-a-half minutes to go, Noel Webb took the short kickoff at the 45. Dolan made a small gain and then Courtney West was away to the home team's 38. One of the Warriors was decided to be acting too warlike and he was exiled to the sidelines and the team penalized to the 23.

Gilberti threw a strike to Dana Peterson for first down at the 12 and three plays later he whipped a look in pass to Peterson for another touchdown. Courtney West smashed over for two more points to give Winchester a 39-8 lead. Wakefield struck back fast as Rafferty reeled off a 23 yard gain before Noel Webb nailed him from behind. After one pass failed, Bob McMenimen gathered in one for a first down at the 14 before Stevens and Gilberti hauled him down. Jack Roberto carried to the six and was grabbed by Ron Fiorilli with three seconds left.

On the last play of the half Kevin Meade snagged an aerial from Roberto and the teams left the field with the scoreboard reading Winchester 39, Wakefield 14.

Second Half

Ben Dolan took the second half kickoff back ten yards to midfield and Courtney West added a first down to the Wakefield 40. Four plays took the ball only to the 33 and Wakefield took over for its only sustained drive of the game. Bob Greene pounded out a 16 yard gain to the 49, Rafferty was thrown very hard by Bill Wolfe, but on his next try made seven to set up a first down by Ken Melanson at the Winchester 40.

Greene slanted for seven more and Rafferty carried for another first down before Ron Fiorilli stopped him. Roberto then pitched a strike to Bob McMenimen for a Warrior touchdown but the point rush failed and it was 39-20.

Mike Deshler ran the kickoff from the 15 to the 29 with Bob Wolfe throwing a hard block. West made eight and Deshler had a first down at the 45 two plays later. Gilberti threw to Deshler at the Wakefield 43.

On the next play Gilberti juggled the ball but recovered and then threw two consecutive successful passes to Peterson and Wolfe for a first down at the 25 as the period ended.

On the third play of the fourth quarter Deshler added Winchester's next touchdown as he went 14 yards aided by a key block by Courtney West. A point try pass failed and it was now 45-20.

Failing to gain, Keough kicked and the Sachems, with no safety back, let it roll dead at the 32. Mike Gilberti and Courtney West, on successive carries, made first downs at the home team's 42 and 32. A fumble interrupted the advance momentarily but Pete Wardwell covered it. West made a shoestring catch of a pass at the 15 for a first down, and Gilberti legged it to the one before West plunged for the final touchdown, and Ben Dolan's placement was perfect to give the Sachems their 52nd point.

The reserves took over on defense, and Roberto made first-down throws to Bob McMenimen and Co-Captain Dave Keogh. As the clock ticked off the last five seconds, he threw to John Rafferty for six points, and the latter picked up two more on a rush as the game ended with the very satisfactory score for the Marshall crew reading 52-28.

The Middlesex League title had been retained, the eighth straight win was in the books, an old and spirited rival had been soundly beaten, so it was small wonder that the gridlers hosted the coaches on triumphantly off the field.

The Wakefield mentor "Whip" Halliday, a true sport to the end, just shook his head and murmured softly, "I would never have believed it," and stealing a last look at the scoreboard he continued "but it just must really be so."

"WE'RE NUMBER ONE!" chanted the Winchester cheerleaders a few minutes before the end of Saturday's game against Wakefield which once again made the Sachems league champions. (Ryerson photo)

The lineup:

Winchester—e, W. Wolfe, Peterson, Rotundi, DeLuca, Stevens, James; t, Emery, Devaney, Stygles, Pirani; g, Scott, Wardwell, Keating, Fiorilli, Rhubarb, Grenier; c, Webb, Tello, Osgood; b, Gilberti, Campo, West, Deshler, Horn, McHugh, Procopio, Sampson, T. Riley, K. Riley, R. Wolfe, Cantillon.

Mark Donahue Plays Hockey For Brown

Mark Donahue, the former Taft School standout, is a member of the Brown University hockey team.

The 5-9, 160 pound sophomore will attempt to get a share of the goal tending duties this winter for the Bruins. As a freshman Donahue played in eight games, compiling a 2.6 goals per game average while stopping 88.3% of the shots.

Coach Jim Fullerton says he is uncertain as to his deployment of his goalies, which number four to date. He gives Donahue a good chance for the way he played the angles on that 13-4 Frosh squad.

At Taft Donahue starred in hockey and baseball. The son of Mrs. John Donahue of 16 Myopia Hill Road, he is a history major at Brown.

Football Mass At St. Mary's

The Rev. Bernard Hoy, CYO director at St. Mary's church and one of the Sachem football teams most ardent rooters, is planning to have a Mass for the team on Thanksgiving morning.

Such a Mass was held last year and was well attended by players, cheerleaders and other members of the Winchester entourage. It is open to interested persons of all denominations and provides a fitting opportunity for the ecclesiastical phase of Thanksgiving as well as the hope of success for the athletes.

Last year the Mass was celebrated at 6:45 but it is possible that it may be arranged for 7:30 a.m. if it does not interfere with the regular schedule of church activities.

Junior Ski Club Memberships

The Massachusetts Junior Ski Club is now offering memberships in Winchester for the coming winter season. The club sponsors a completely supervised program of skiing, professional instruction, and transportation for young people between the ages of nine and 17.

It's good news for parents who would like to see their children enjoy the sport of skiing, but don't want to drive all the way up to New Hampshire each Saturday.

Buses with adult chaperones pick up members at local points in Winchester and bring them to New Hampshire where they enjoy a full day of skiing, which includes a two-hour lesson. The buses return to the pick-up area early Saturday evening.

Interested individuals can get complete information by calling the club at 828-0149 day or evening.

Royal Ballet's "Coppelia" Seen On Channel Two

Britain's acclaimed Royal Ballet performs Leo Delibes' lighthearted "Coppelia," Wednesday, November 26, 8-9 p.m. on Channel 2 (repeat Sunday, November 30 at the same hour).

The ballet is one of the oldest and most popular in the entire repertoire. Starring as the heroine, Swanilda, is Merle Park, one of the Royal Ballet's most successful and popular interpreters of the role. Christopher Gable is her fiancé, Franz, and Stanley Holden is the toymaker Dr. Coppélius.

The doctor has created a beautiful life-sized doll named Coppelia who sits in a window overlooking the village square. It's not long before she attracts the attention of Franz and the jealousy of Swanilda in this classic story of true love and mistaken identity.

Set to the happy, tuneful music of Leo Delibes, "Coppelia" has long been a favorite of ballet goers. Now it comes to television in this one-hour N. E. T. production by the Royal Ballet with the Covent Garden Orchestra conducted by John Lanchbery.

"N.E.T. Festival: Coppelia" was produced for the British Broadcasting Corporation by Margaret Dale and is being seen across the country on National Educational Television.

Miss Erbaflina Of Junior Miss Seeks Title

Miss Sandra Erbaflina, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Domenic Erbaflina of 64 Church Street, a senior at Winchester High School, is among 13 contestants vying for the title of Arlington's Junior Miss and for the scholarships offered by Mirak Chevrolet and Gregory's Men's Store, both in Arlington.

MISS SANDRA ERBAFLINA

Miss Erbaflina is a member of Youth Marc (an organization to help mentally retarded children), the Pep Club, and the Christian Youth Organization. Her hobbies are playing the piano, sewing, and dancing; she is a member of St. Eulalia's Parish and attends Confraternity For Christian Doctrine classes at St. Mary's.

Miss Erbaflina plans to attend either Northeastern, Garland, or the University of Massachusetts, Amherst and hopes to become a fashion designer or enter retailing.

Arlington's Junior Miss Pageant, restricted to high school senior girls, is scheduled for Saturday, November 22, in the Arlington High School Auditorium. Tickets are now on sale through the Senior Girls Club and the Key Club, both of Arlington High.

The Arlington Jaycee sponsored pageant has produced one State winner, a second runner-up and a third runner-up at the Massachusetts Junior Miss Pageant. This year's state pageant will be held in Hyannis on January 23 and 24.

Mirak Chevrolet has increased their scholarship share this year to $500, which was announced by Charles Mirak. A new scholarship sponsor this year is Gregory's Men's Store with a $100 scholarship. They are also providing tuxedos for the emcee and escorts. Mr. Richards is providing hair styling for the contestants; Carol Perfumer, the cosmetics; and Richard Erickson of Park Florist is serving as technical advisor and Wayne Hayden as production advisor.

Morgan — Norberg

In an early evening nuptial Mass ceremony at St. Agnes Church, Arlington recently Miss Nancy A. Norberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Norberg of Arlington, became the bride of James J. Moran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Moran of 103 Wildwood Street.

MRS. JAMES J. MORAN

Mrs. Moran attended the Forsyth School of Dental Hygiene at Northeastern University. Mr. Moran also attended Northeastern.

A reception was held at the King's Grant, Danvers, following a wedding trip to Canada, the couple are residing in Greenfield.

Miss Schinkal To Marry Mr. Gardner

Mrs. Harvey T. Schinkal of Kent, Washington, announces the engagement of her daughter, Deborah, to Thomas W. Gardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Gardner of Hancock, New Hampshire, formerly of Winchester.

Mr. Gardner is a graduate of Winchester High School and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and is an associate engineer with the Space Department of the Boeing Company.

A December wedding is planned.

Thanksgiving Prayer Service To Join Sects

The Winchester Ecumenical Association cordially invites Winchester residents to unite with them in participating in the annual Ecumenical Thanksgiving Prayer Service. This year it will be held at the Unitarian Church on Thanksgiving morning from 9:00 to 9:30 a.m.

Rev. Lawrence Keeter of the Second Congregational Church will deliver the sermon. The opening prayers will be offered by Rev. Jack Zoerheide, the host pastor. He will be assisted by Rev. Allen Broyles of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church and Rev. Henry A. Marquardt of St. Eulalia's Parish.

Scarpaci—Marshall

In a double-ring ceremony held at the St. Thomas the Apostle Church, Peabody, on Saturday, November 1, Miss Carol Ann Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marshall of Peabody, and Francis John Scarpaci Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scarpaci of 8 Ravine Road, were married.

MRS. FRANCIS J. SCARPACI JR.

The nuptial Mass was performed by the Rev. Charles M. Saudade. A reception followed at the Thomson Country Club in North Reading.

The bride appeared in a formal, princess-line gown of peau de soie and applied with Venice lace. A high-neck collar, puff sleeves with a tight applied cuff and a chapel-length Watteau train were also featured. A matching Camelot cap of peau de soie and Venice lace held her chapel-length veil in place. The bridal bouquet was composed of white roses and stephanotis arranged over a misal.

Miss Judith Marshall of Peabody served as maid of honor for her sister. She wore a pelican pink satin formal gown accented with Venice lace. The gown was styled with a bolero effect, puff sleeves and a controlled skirt. Her headpiece was formed of a Camelot cap with a floor-length maline veil. She carried an arm bouquet of red long-stemmed roses.

Attired as the maid of honor in strawberry red and carrying pink long-stemmed roses were the bridesmaids, Miss Paula De Freitas of Lynnfield, cousin of the bride; Mrs. John Ryan of Peabody, cousin of the bride; and Mrs. Thomas Cheney of Woburn, sister of the bridegroom.

Having the honor of best man was Ronald Vitti of Quincy, cousin of the bridegroom. Serving as ushers were Robert Marshall of Peabody, brother of the bride; Joseph Garcia of Winchester; Paul McLaughlin of Medford; and Thomas Cheney of Woburn, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

Miss Cathy Di Croce was in charge of the guest book. The couple took a wedding trip to the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico.

The Chase's Celebrate Their 25th

A surprise open house was held on Saturday, November 1 in honor of the 25th anniversary of Florence and Howard Chase in their home at 160 Forest Street.

Over 200 friends and relatives gathered to greet Mr. and Mrs. Chase, who were married in the First Baptist Church, Winchester on November 4, 1944, by the Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, minister emeritus. Among those present were the couple's maid of honor, Mrs. Dorothy Roberts, sister of the bridegroom, and Ronald Pynn of Medford, brother of the bride, who was best man. Mrs. Helen (Palmer) MacDonald, who served as their organist, was also present. Many other guests had also attended their wedding.

Friends came from Washington, D.C., New Hampshire and from as far as Scotland.

A tiered wedding cake had the place of honor at the collation with a repetition of the cake cutting ceremony of 25 years before.

The couple received many gifts and best wishes, including a money tree.

The occasion was planned by their daughter, Miss Marsha Chase, who was joined by her brother Robert to act as hosts for the occasion. They were assisted by Mrs. Dorothy Roberts and Mrs. Helen Ward.

Mr. and Mrs. Chase departed on Sunday morning for Bermuda. During this week they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Carl I. Pynn, brother and sister-in-law of Mrs. Chase.

Marycliff Center Holds Open House This Sunday

Family Tradition Is Followed By Cecelia Griffin

Recently elected president of the freshman class in the Boston College school of nursing was Miss Cecelia Griffin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Griffin of 31 Lincoln Street. By winning, she follows the tradition of three brothers who preceded her to the Heights.

Robert, a junior in the school of management, is president of his class and held the post in his freshman and sophomore years.

Dennis, now a medical school student, who was graduated from B.C. a year ago, was vice president of his freshman class and president of his sophomore class.

John Jr., an attorney and a member of the class of 1965, was president of the Arts and Sciences for all of his four years as an undergraduate.

Besides these student government posts they have been and are active in a variety of other campus organizations and programs.

It may come naturally, John Sr., vice president of the Metropolitan Petroleum Company, was president of the Boston College Alumni Association and also national chairman of the Jesuit University's Annual Fund campaign, to list only two of a variety of his Boston College achievements.

Pianoforte Teachers To Meet

Football Classes Are Moot Question

by John F. Parrell

Last year the classification of high school athletic teams was the subject of a long and comprehensive article in this newspaper but it seems only proper to reexamine the situation at this time. This is not being done merely because the Winchester Sachems are involved but in the interest of making revisions which time has necessitated.

There are far too many teams which are rated Class A because of numbers and schedules alone which would be easy prey to most of the better Class B teams, and similarly in the lower divisions, Class C teams which could handle Class B lesser lights, etc.

Teams which have a full league schedule such as the Bay State League this year and the Middlesex League which will have ten members and a full nine game league slate next year can not possibly play any non-league member. Thus they are destined for a perfect 8.00 record should they take the championship and win all their games.

Other leagues have fewer members, permitting outside games and with careful schedule planning some Class B teams can book Chelsea, Lynn Classical, etc. which are now only shells of their former greatness. For winning these games they get 10 points credit and if they go without defeat their percentage record may be 8.50 or better. In any event it will be higher than the 8.00 league members and they are automatic champions under the rating system.

This was originated nearly 40 years ago and proved a rather good stop gap over the years. In this particular year let us look at the facts.

Swampscott has played its regular Northeastern Conference slate and also met Saugus, a full-fledged Class B school under the ratings. They also bested hapless Lynn Classical (44-0) and Lynn English (28-0). Both of these teams are natural rivals and next year will join the Northeastern Conference — but will they still be Class A? This gives them a current rating of 8.50.

Both the Sachems and Walpole are equally undefeated through the same number of games against Class B opposition, but if they continue on and Swampscott's Big Blue does too, Swampscott will end up with a figure of 8.44 and others will still be at 8.00 and deadlocked for second.

Does anyone realize that Melrose, Wakefield, Lexington and next year's league member Watertown are all Class A by the Headmaster's system?

The Massachusetts Secondary School Principals' Association has for years rated schools as Class A over 600 boys, Class B 401-600, Class C 251-400, and Class D 250 and under. But this is only for track, no other sport is affected. Why? Is not the potential number of players for all sports not proportional to the number of boys in the school? Why does not the same yardstick prevail for football, baseball, track or even paddle tennis?

This issue has been avoided altogether too long and many worthwhile teams have been hurt by the system and by astute scheduling by the faculty managers of those who have copped the honors.

Injustice

For an outstanding example of the horrible injustice which prevails, look at Durfee, a perennial basketball power in the Tech tourney and frequent winner, one of the largest in boy population in the state, yet it languished near the bottom of Class C. Chelsea which has now met 26 consecutive defeats is still Class A. Where does either logic or justice lie?

To reiterate, this is not by any means sour grapes, nor is it because Winchester is part of this year's top battle. Stan Bondevitch, coach of the Big Blue, is one of the best mentors in this section and his teams are always powerful and well coached. This article is not to be viewed as detracting from the Big Blue but rather is a call to the Headmasters' group to be logical. It's about time that something was done, nothing radical, but just the simple expedient of having all sports treated alike, by their own already set standards.

Colonial just over the Woburn line. Built in 1740 it features many "modern" touches—a first-floor family room (added 150 year ago), large kitchen and plenty of history to bring to life. Three centuries for $34,000.

Your choice—a custom-built contemporary on an acre of wooded land or an oversized four-bedroom Cape featuring a private patio and fenced corner lot. Both West Side and only 49/9.

What about teams playing above their class? Give them full credit for victories in their own bracket, no extra points. What about playing teams of lower class. Give them credit for the number of points of the lower class. In this way there will be a definite tendency for very little inter-class scheduling since nobody will profit.

So, in conclusion, let's see some action which will be constructive for everybody and improve the overall tone of all schoolboy sports. Too much time has been wasted already. It stands to reason that the situation expressed mathematically is that the ratings of the teams in all sports should be directly proportional to male enrollment in the three upper school classes, and to nothing else.

Lt. Hession Enters Air Force Pilot Training

Second Lieutenant Frank W. Hession, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Hession of 16 Hillside Avenue, has entered U. S. Air Force pilot training at Reese Air Force Base, Texas.

SECOND LIEUT. FRANK W. HESSION

Lieutenant Hession will fly the newest Air Force jet trainers and receive special academic and military training during the year-long course. He will be awarded silver pilot wings upon completion of the Air Training Command flying program.

The lieutenant, a graduate of Boston College High School, received a bachelor of arts degree from the College of the Holy Cross and was commissioned there through the Reserve Officers Training Corps program.

Achievement Award Given Local Company

Albert S. Hovannesian, President of Diamond Antenna and Microwave Corporation, Winchester, recently received the special award of Achievement Certificate in behalf of his company.

ALBERT S. HOVANNESIAN

Newly elected president of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, Elden L. Auker, Vice-President of AVCO Bay State Products, made the presentation at the 54th AIM Anniversary Banquet held recently in the Grand Ballroom of the Statler Hilton Hotel in Boston.

Massachusetts contractors and institutions were paid tribute in recognition of their important contributions and participation in the Apollo space program which led to the successful lunar landing mission of Apollo 11 on July 20, 1969.

Diamond Antenna and Microwave Corporation designed and manufactured various critical high power radio frequency couplers and other antenna components for the long-range radar systems aboard the Apollo tracking ships Redstone, Mercury, Vanguard and Huntsville.

Among the distinguished guests taking part in this salute to Apollo contractors were the Honorable Mark O. Hatfield, U.S. Senator from Oregon; James C. Elms, Director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Electronics Research Center in Cambridge; and Dr. C. Stark Draper, Director of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Instrumentation Laboratory.

Kiwanis Aids Speech-Hearing Clinic In Schools

The Winchester Kiwanis Club, in cooperation with the Winchester School Department, conducted a Speech and Hearing Clinic during the week of November 3 to 7.

President Jack Rogers reports that more than 550 pre-school and kindergarten children were tested for speech and hearing difficulties. Many problems, formerly unsuspected, were uncovered and various types of therapy and assistance were recommended to parents.

Speech testing was conducted by Mrs. Sally Fishman, speech therapist, and Mrs. Rachel Jassierow, with assistance from four graduate students from Northeastern University. Hearing tests were conducted by the Winchester Visiting Nurses Association, with the assistance of Mrs. Donald MacLean.

Wives of Kiwanis members also assisted in registering children and conducting them to the testing areas in the various schools. The High School art department provided posters to advertise the Clinic.

The Kiwanis extends its thanks to all those who assisted in this program which is so important to the health of Winchester's children.

Charles Munson Discusses Need For Pupil Help

Charles Munson, clinical psychologist for the Quincy public school system, addressed the members of St. Mary's Holy Name Society Sunday morning on the need for and the work of the psychologist in the school system.

He told of his work as psychologist in a major mental hospital and how he decided that there was even more need for assistance in the work of the schools if many of the problems of youth were to be adequately solved.

Many of the cases which he has handled bear a startling similarity to those encountered in any school department. It was pointed out that there may even be more cases in communities of good economic status than in those where cost of living is a major problem.

The entire talk was taped and typewritten copies will be available to any interested citizens or groups who may desire to read it. John J. Waite Jr., head of the Mathematics Department of Winchester High was in charge of this phase of the program.

President John Ellis announced final plans for the turkey shoot to be held November 24 and there was a report by committee chairman Leo Roche. A continental breakfast was served under the direction of John McDonald.

Billerica Accident Places Resident In Lowell Hospital

A Winchester woman is in fair condition at St. John's Hospital, Lowell, and her sister, a Woburn resident, is dead following an automobile accident in Billerica Sunday night.

A spokesman for the Hospital reported Tuesday night that Mrs. Pearl Cannon, 37, of 2 Richardson Street was in fair condition.

Another occupant of the car, Richard Duffee, 43, of Somerville, is also a patient at the hospital.

Witnesses at the accident said the crash occurred at approximately 9:06 p.m. on Salem Street near Green Acre Drive in an area not far from the Wilmington-Billerica town line.

The car, according to witnesses, had come around a slight bend in Route 129, heading in a northerly direction. It snapped off a guy wire on a utility pole on the left-hand side of the road after crossing the oncoming lane.

Witnesses said the car flipped over on its roof and slammed into a stone wall and a tree. The roof and the driver's side of the car were badly damaged.

One witness, a neighbor at the scene, said all three occupants were thrown from the car. The witness said Duffee, the owner of the car, was staggering near the scene, but suffered from severe head and face cuts. Billerica police at the time said they did not know the driver of the vehicle.

Captain Turville Is Appointed Commanding Officer Of Naval Hospital

Captain William C. Turville, Medical Corps, U.S. Navy, son of Mrs. William H. H. Turville of 36 Central Street, was appointed commanding officer of the national naval medical center in Bethesda, Maryland, on October 1 of this year.

Attending the change of command ceremonies at this time in Maryland were his mother and his sister, Mrs. Mary R. Delaney of 72 Wedgemere Avenue. Recently his picture appeared prominently in national newspapers with President Nixon when the President visited the Naval Hospital for his medical check-up.

Captain Turville is a graduate of the Belmont school system, William and Mary College and the University of Pennsylvania Medical School. He has specialized in the field of surgery.

In 1944 he entered the Navy as a cadet and saw active duty in the Pacific area during World War II. As a member of the Medical Corps he has been stationed in Jacksonville, Florida; Camp Lejeune, North Carolina; Hawaii; Philadelphia; and Cuba, among other places. He also served as chief of surgery for four years at the Chelsea Naval Hospital in the early 1960's.

His father, the late Captain William H. H. Turville, had preceded him in the Medical Corps, serving there for 32 years.

Captain Turville is married and has three children. His son is scheduled to enter flight service in January of 1970 and his daughter returned from Vietnam last February after serving for one year with the Red Cross.

Another witness, who knew Duffee, said the car was purchased only two weeks ago.

Although a resident of Somerville, Duffee had lived in Billerica until moving to Somerville three months ago, the witness said.

Route 129 is a narrow, winding road. Early Monday Billerica police said the driver of the car was Mrs. Callahan.

WHS Students Form Committee Against Pollution

Young people of the Winchester High School have formed an anti-pollution studies group called the Pollution Committee. Jean Cabral, Mark Des Meules, Jean O'Neill and Eugene Rochow are leaders of this group.

Last Monday evening at the Rich Room in the Public Library their first open meeting was held.

Paul Orsillo read a paper entitled "Ego Catastrophe" by WBCN radio station in Austin, Texas, which outlined graphically the cataclysmic impact the population explosion will exert and its resulting pollution of the oceans.

It predicted the demise of life in the oceans by the 1980's. Pollution of the Aberjona River was next discussed by Mrs. W. K. Ver Planck. She spoke of the threatened loss to the Aberjona Watershed by the breaking of the dam at Mishawam Lake.

Since early times when it was first dammed it has provided an important regulatory factor in the flow of the Aberjona. An industrial complex is planned for this area bringing with it its necessary acres of concrete and asphalt to cover this area of approximately 12 acres.

A cease and desist order by the Department of Natural Resources, alerted by Richard Freeman of 14 Franklin Road, resulted in a hearing at the City Hall in Woburn on Monday evening, November 10. Four members of the Winchester High School Pollution Committee who attended were disappointed to see only two adult residents of Winchester attend this hearing which has great import to the future of the ailing Aberjona River.

Although it was stated at the hearing that water withholding methods will be used, conservation engineers declared the overall effect would be a further lowering of the water table, already at alarming levels.

Watershed Report Referring to the 1967 Aberjona Watershed Committee Report on the Aberjona River, Mrs. Ver Planck said that most rivers have a 45% to 50% runoff. The Aberjona has a 35% runoff due to millions of gallons drawn off daily by large factories in Woburn and the City of Woburn's water supply.

School Committee Votes To Fill Vacant Positions In Department

The Winchester School Committee took action Monday night to authorize replacements for several personnel positions which have remained vacant this fall due to various resignations which have occurred since August 1 of this year.

By lifting the moratorium on the hiring of school staff personnel established last August, the Committee voted to employ nine liaison persons for the Curriculum Council, several extracurricular assignments for the Senior High School and McCall Junior High, a part-time music teacher to re-establish the fourth grade band program, a clerical aide for Wyman School, and a part-time clerical aide for secondary school teachers.

At the last Committee meeting of November 10 the hiring of one custodian and one maintenance man was approved. This left the projected balance-in-hand of this section of the budget for December 31 at about $11,001. The replacement of these persons will mean an expenditure here of approximately $3,000, leaving a predicted sum of about $7,000 to $8,000 as of December 31.

This will not affect the sum set aside for substitute teachers. It is not anticipated by the school administration that this particular budget will be entirely used by the end of the calendar year, 1969, either.

Expressing concern over these replacements, Committee member Richard K. Schroeder noted that the Committee was not just making replacements, but also committing itself to the continuation of these positions in the budget of next year. He also said that between the time in which these vacancies have occurred and the present, a few additional personnel not originally budgeted have been hired.

Dr. Donald A. Klemer, superintendent of schools, stated that when active consideration of the 1970-1971 budget took precedence, he felt that priority should be given to existing positions rather than those falling under newly created programs.

"No Vote"

The Committee turned in a "no" vote for the replacement of a stenographer for the central school administration office and for a clerical aide for the Curriculum Councils, amounts budgeted for the remainder of 1969 at approximately $469 and $444, respectively.

Commenting on the rejection for the replacements in these positions, Dr. Walter P. Gleason, assistant superintendent for curriculum and instruction, felt that it was unfortunate that programs which involved such previous planning and commitment, as well as capital outlays faced the danger of being discontinued each time a resignation occurred.

Included in the matters composing the Superintendent's report was a statement on the function of the Administrative Council determined by the Superintendent and the Council itself.

In this it states, "The Administrative Council acts as a cabinet of principals and Central Office administrators that identifies school problems, advises the Superintendent on solutions for these problems and aims toward the improvement of overall coordination of the school program."

The topic of unity and diversity in the elementary school program has been discussed before. Another position statement accepted by the Administrative Council notes that these schools follow a consistent grading policy, a standardized testing program, dedication to the continuous progress of students, etc.

"In what we teach, in our basic philosophy about children, in our overall policies, we strive for consistency. In organization of instruction we encourage principals and teachers to apply their imagination in the use of buildings and human resources."

The Council anticipates future statements on promotion and retention and ungraded classes at this level.

Toy Drive

It was also announced that a Toy Drive will be conducted December 1 to 5 to provide Christmas gifts for the children of Jamaica Plain. The elementary school principals are cooperating and some information has already been distributed with elementary school children.

The School Committee also heard a personal request from Dr. MacAdams of 4 McCall Road. Speaking for himself and two other parents he informed the Committee of the dangerous conditions involved in a crossing situation at Myopia Hill Road and Everett Avenue.

Probable Cause Is Found In Nov. 16 Fire On West Side

Probable cause in a fire November 16 at a new, unoccupied home on Fox Hunt Lane was found to be careless disposal of smoking materials, according to an announcement from Fire Chief I. Francis Amico.

Cause of the fire was investigated by Lt. Leo Walsh of the State Fire Marshal's office.

The late night fire caused approximately $85,000 damage, according to a report from the insurance agent working on the case.

The new home was being constructed for Robert Piazza, vice president of the Rosebud Celery Company. Heavy damage was caused to the 20-room structure which was nearly completed.

Major damage to the stone-sided house was done to the right wing, which included a three-car garage.

South Border Rd. Meeting Warrant Closing Scheduled For December 29

A Winchester resident is listed in poor condition at the Winchester Hospital as the result of injuries sustained in a one-car accident on South Border Road, Medford, Tuesday evening.

Norman E. Weeks Jr., 18, of 15 Fells Road, was taken to the hospital after the car which he was operating struck a utility pole approximately 400 feet east of the entrance to the old Army camp on South Border Road.

According to the MDC police who investigated the accident, it occurred at 6:35 p.m. Mr. Weeks apparently was traveling east on South Border Road.

Responding to the accident were the Medford and Winchester Fire Departments and rescue trucks; the Registry of Motor Vehicles; and the MDC.

According to the MDC, the car which Mr. Weeks was operating was totally demolished.

Giant Stores Opens Branch In Woburn Plaza

Theodor H. Kaufman, president of Giant Stores Corporation, has announced the successful completion of Giant's 1969 growth program with the opening of its 26th store in the New England area, the eighth store opened this year.

At 9 a.m. Wednesday, November 12, the doors opened officially at the new Giant Discount Department Store in Woburn.

On hand to cut the ribbon was Mrs. Robert Goldhammer of 1 Taft Drive, joined by Mrs. Jo Ann Shuler of Woburn, and Woburn Mayor Edward F. Gill, and of course, the local Giant management team.

The Woburn store is the 14th Giant to open in the last 18 months and is the 26th store in the Giant chain.

The Woburn Giant Store has an excess of 100 major departments, including: ladies', children's, girls', infants', men's, and boys' wear; hosiery, toys, linens, piece goods, curtains, draperies, millinery, handbags, shoes, housewares, hardware, appliances, photographic needs, bedding, lamps, cosmetics, jewelry, health and beauty aids, stationery, records, and many others, including a host of service departments.

This department store chain plans to open nine new stores in 1970.

The new 60,000-square-foot store — located at the Woburn Plaza, Route 3 on the Woburn-Winchester line — raises the current number of branches in Massachusetts to 13.

Over the past 18 months, Giant Stores Corporation has grown 116% from a chain of 12 stores to 26 fully operated units carrying a broad and fashionable line of department store merchandise. "For fiscal 1970 our goal will be to continue an accelerated program of expansion in the New England area," Mr. Kaufman said.

Giant Stores Corporation (OTC) now operates 26 self-service discount department stores in New England under the name "Giant." These stores carry a broad line of department store merchandise selected to appeal to people of average income and sold at discount prices.

Meeting Warrant Closing Scheduled For December 29

At its regular Monday night meeting, the Board of Selectmen voted to set December 29 as the closing date for the warrant for the 1970 Annual Town Meeting to be held in March.

Selectman Edmund Williams chaired the meeting in the absence of Chairman Paul Amico.

The Board discussed a recommendation from the School Department and the School Committee that an article pertaining to the extension of Bates Road be included in the warrant for the Annual Town Meeting.

An extension of the road was proposed some time ago to ease the traffic congestion on Irving Street and Tufts Road, traveling to the Muraco School. During the bad weather last winter, the congestion caused a fire hazard since fire engines would not have been able to maneuver the streets.

In July, Town Engineer Howard F. Ambrose estimated that the construction of an extension to the road and to the proposed parking lot would cost $49,000.

The breakdown of the figure, Mr. Ambrose stated in a letter to the Board dated July 2, 1969, was Bates Road, $7,000 (to include length, 200 feet; layout width, 40 feet; traveled way, 23 feet; and sidewalk, five feet, southerly side only); extension to proposed parking lot, including drainage, $32,000 (this would include length, 700 feet; traveled way, 23 feet; sidewalk, five feet, southerly side only; and granite curbing); and parking lot, $10,000 for a pavement area 150 feet by 120 feet.

William F. Clark, assistant superintendent of schools for administrative services, in a letter to the Selectmen dated November 17, 1969, said:

State Aid

"You will, I am sure, be interested to know that at one time the Building Committee authorized the architect, Mr. Frank Crimp, to proceed with the enlargement of the parking area, the costs to be borne by the balance in the Building Fund of the Muraco School. This work was not done because of the request of residents in the area for the extension of Bates Road and because of the possibility that such an extension would interfere in terms of lines and grades. It may be that funds remaining in this account could well be used, at least for the purpose of enlarging the parking area. This would qualify for 40 per cent state aid and would thereby reduce the amount which would have to be appropriated at Town Meeting."

Residents of Irving Street and Tufts Road had petitioned the Selectmen for a solution to the traffic hazard earlier this year.

In other business, the Board reinstated Kenneth P. Duffy to the auxiliary fire department. Mr. Duffy had been on leave of absence for military service.

Preliminary Plans For Marycliff Accepted By Building Committees

The Permanent Building Committee and its Elementary School Building Sub-Committee, meeting in joint session Tuesday night, voted to accept the preliminary architect's plans for the renovation of Marycliff Academy and to authorize the architect, Herbert Hamilton Jr. of Architects Design Group Inc., to proceed with preparation of the bidding specifications.

The plan which was given approval by the committees involves leaving the ground floor unfinished since the ventilation problems encountered there would add to the cost of the renovations.

Upper stories in the building will be converted to open spaces capable of handling approximately 325 pupils. Later finishing of the ground floor would increase the number of students the building could contain and would make it possible to plan a district around the school.

At this time, the plan calls for moving pupils from several schools, including Lynch and Mystic schools. Presently, some elementary students from the Wyman School attend the Lynch Junior High and there are portable classrooms in use at the Mystic School to accommodate the students in that district.

Furniture

Current plans, according to Lawrence Beckley, chairman of the Elementary School Building Sub-Committee, call for moving the furniture from the portable classrooms and from the elementary classrooms at Lynch to Marycliff, thereby cutting the cost of furnishing Marycliff.

Mr. Beckley also stated that a long-term approach to use of the Marycliff building would have to include construction of a walkway over Cambridge Street, since school districting for Marycliff would have to include both sides of Cambridge Street.

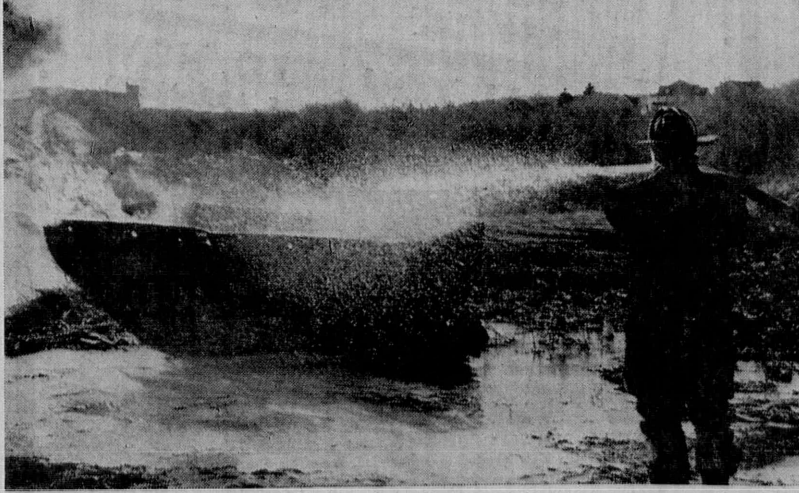

It will take approximately five weeks for the bidding specifications to be drawn up, according to Mr. Hamilton. He told the committee it would be good to go out to bid during the early winter when the building trade is in a general lull.

Following the meeting of the two committees, the Permanent Building Committee met with its Secondary School Building Sub-Committee and Frank Crimp, the architect for the new high school.

Mr. Crimp informed the committees that the total net cost of the railroad underpass had been determined to be $63,208.60.

Bidding specifications and plans have been prepared and are ready for distribution, according to Mr. Crimp. The committees voted to permit Mr. Crimp to place advertisements for bids in the Winchester Star and in the McGraw-Hill Systems immediately.

Mrs. Nora R. Caldwell

Mrs. Nora Revere (Hay) Caldwell of Henniker, New Hampshire, a relative of several Winchester residents, died on Monday, November 24 in the New London Hospital, New London, New Hampshire, after a long illness. She was 73.

Born in Stoneham, November 16, 1896, she was the daughter of Miner Levi and Blanche R. (Holden) Hay, both natives of Stoneham. Mrs. Caldwell was a graduate of Stoneham High School. She was the widow of John H. Caldwell.

Prior to moving to Henniker 13 years ago, she resided in Auburn, Maine. She was retired and occupied herself as a housewife. Mrs. Caldwell was also a member of the Unitarian Church and the Home-makers of Hillsboro, New Hampshire.

She leaves a son, John H. Caldwell, and three granddaughters, Miss Susan Caldwell, Miss Elizabeth Caldwell and Miss Lorna Caldwell, all of 21 Symmes Road.

Graveside services will be held on Friday, November 29 at 2 p.m. in Wildwood Cemetery with the Rev. Jack Zoerheide of the Unitarian Church officiating. The Norris Funeral Home, 1 Elmwood Avenue is in charge of arrangements.

In lieu of flowers memorial contributions may be made to the Cancer Fund or to the New London Hospital Extended Care Unit Fund.

Boy Scout Troop 506 Has Trip

On Saturday, November 1st, Troop 506 held an overnight fishing expedition to Jamestown, Rhode Island.

Leaving in mid-morning, they arrived at the Bethold Farm campsite in time for lunch. The afternoon was spent surf casting, from the rocks at Jamestown Light. Assorted stripers, blues, mackerel, etc., were evident, but the "natives" caught most of them. The Scouts did catch a few fish though, so all wasn't lost.

A few boys were casualties of the big breakers though, necessitating a change into dry clothing. Back at camp, fun, games and stories were enjoyed by all, in view of the high tower of the Newport Bridge.

Sunday, thanks to Cdr. Steve Moore, they toured the Newport Navy Base, seeing the latest in destroyers, escorts and support vessels. Continuing the nautical theme, they next toured the USS Massachusetts. No one got lost, and many an imaginary plane or ship was shot down or sunk!

Christmas Seals Fight Against Respiratory Ills

Respiratory disease screening an industrial chest x-ray programs are but two of the specialized health functions of the Middlesex Respiratory Disease Association, the organization which is supported by individual contributions to the annual Christmas Seal Campaign.

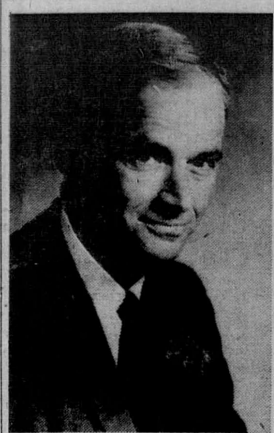

Asthma, chronic bronchitis and emphysema are three respiratory diseases which the Association's respiratory disease screening programs seek to identify. These screening programs are usually conducted in high-risk industries throughout Middlesex County and are provided as a free service sponsored by Christmas Seal contributions.

Community and industrial chest x-ray programs also are provided during the year by the Middlesex Association. A nominal charge is made for the chest x-ray service which helps to defray the expense of the chest x-ray programs.

Morton S. Baratz Named Chairman Of B.U. Economics

Morton S. Baratz of 89 Thornberry Road, an authority on urban economics, has been named chairman of the economics department at Boston University's college of liberal arts, the board of trustees has announced.

MORTON S. BARATZ

Mr. Baratz is co-directing a three-year, $1 million research program in Baltimore, Maryland, to determine the nature of poverty and the political processes that interact with the war against it.

For the past five years, Mr. Baratz has been chairman of the economics department at Bryn Mawr. He also has taught at the University of Connecticut, Yale, Haverford, and the University of Pennsylvania. He was national research professor at the Brookings Institution, visiting lecturer at Swarthmore, and spent a year in Nigeria heading the department of economics at the University of Ife. He will continue as visiting research professor at the Institute for Environmental Studies in Pennsylvania.

Mr. Baratz is co-author of two soon-to-be-published books, "Power and Poverty" and "The Meaning and Measurement of Poverty."

He received a bachelor's degree from the University of Connecticut in 1947, and a master's and doctoral degrees from Yale.

Antiques Valued At Meeting Of Home and Garden

Members of the Winchester Home and Garden Club arrived early for their November 19 meeting which provided a varied schedule.

A home baked sale headed by Mrs. Edward Kawa, chairman, and assisted by Mrs. Frank DeTeso, Mrs. Michael Simone and Mrs. Thomas Magoun began at 12:30 p.m. for eager shoppers.

The tea table, beautifully decorated by Mrs. Edmund M. Wright's centerpiece of white and yellow mums, offered pumpkin tarts as refreshments. Mrs. John Chipman gave an informative talk on conservation and Mrs. Frank J. Robinson paid tribute to Mrs. Frances R. Williams, who passed away last month and who was an honorary member of the club.

Mrs. Mary Elliott, owner of the Nook and Cranny antique shop at 921 Main Street, was the speaker for their meeting. Members brought in their antiques for Mrs. Elliott to appraise. The treasures ranged from a baby doll and a lace mantilla to china and antique mirrors. Mrs. Elliott was able to tell the approximate age of the object, its list price and a little of its historic background.

The annual Lasell Junior College Student Nurses' Bazaar will be held on Monday, December 8. The bazaar will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. in Winslow Hall, on the Lasell campus in A-burndale.

Three Churches Plan Combined Wednesday Service

Beginning Wednesday evening, December 3, at 7 p.m., the First Baptist, the Crawford Memorial Methodist, and the Second Congregational Churches will combine to sponsor a united Wednesday evening service of worship.

These services are designed primarily to offer worship opportunities to those people who were unable to attend the regular Sunday services of worship. However, everyone is invited to attend and participate in these Wednesday evening services.

The ministers from each of the participating churches combine their abilities and resources in planning the services and all three will share in leading the service of worship. The place for holding these services will rotate each month.

During the month of December the services will be held at the First Baptist Church, in January at the Second Congregational Church, and in February, at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church. Varied in form and content, these worship services will provide the opportunity to try new approaches to worship while retaining the meaning and purpose of worship.

New worship material in the form of litanyes, bidding prayers, folk hymns, non-verbal communication forms, films in place of sermons, dialogue sermons between clergy and between clergy and congregation, one act plays, and the like, plus the regular forms of music, prayers, sermons, etc. will be used.

Beginning at 7 p.m. each Wednesday evening, the Wednesday services of worship will be early enough that people may attend and then go on to another meeting later in the evening. For those who desire discussion periods and other forms of Christian education, these will be offered following the worship service. Wednesday evening, December 3, the first of these weekly Wednesday services of worship, the sermon will be the film "The Parable," which will be followed by a discussion period led by the Reverends Larry Keeter and Everett L. Waters. Dr. Allen Broyles will share in leading the service of worship.

Everyone is invited to attend and to participate in these union services.

Thompson - Fontneau

At a two o'clock ceremony on Saturday, November 15, at the Chapel-by-the-Sea, Newport Naval Hospital, Newport, Rhode Island, Miss Suzanne Jane Fontneau, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Nelson C. Fontneau of Tufts University, Medford became the bride of William Arthur Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Thompson of 54 Water Street.

Officiating at the ceremony was Chaplain David White of the Newport Naval Hospital.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a linen empire-waisted gown edged in daisies with a chapel length train similarly decorated with a daisy applique. A Juliet cap held her short veil in place and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses.

Maid of honor was Miss Nancy Marshall Fontneau, sister of the bride. She wore a gold empire gown and carried an old fashioned bouquet of white carnations and yellow roses.

Best man was Billy Abrams of Tarboro, North Carolina. Ushering were Carl S. Fontneau of Narragansett, Rhode Island, and Ensign Peter B. Fontneau, U.S.C.G.R., of Glen Burnie, Maryland, brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Fontneau wore a cream colored ensemble with a flowered hat for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Thompson wore an aqua silk ensemble with a matching feather hat.

A reception at the Viking Hotel, Newport, followed the ceremony. Miss Martha Thompson, sister of the bridegroom, was in charge of the guest book.

Miss Edington To Wed Mr. Eaton

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Edington of Bedford announce the engagement of their daughter, Elaine Helen, to William DeLeon Eaton, son of Mrs. Virgie Eaton and Charles Eaton, both of Dover, Delaware.

Miss Edington is a graduate of Lasell Junior College and Paterson State College, where she received her bachelor of arts degree in elementary education. She is presently teaching at the Muraco School while working for a master's degree at Boston University.

Mr. Eaton is a graduate of Wesley College and the University of Delaware, where he received a bachelor of arts degree in engineering administration. He is presently stationed as a First Lieutenant at Hanscom Air Force Base, Bedford.

A February 14th wedding is planned.

Lose 10 Lbs. In 10 Days On New Grapefruit Diet

This is the revolutionary new grapefruit diet that everyone is talking about. Literally thousands upon thousands of copies have been passed from hand to hand in factories, plants and offices throughout the U.S. and Canada. Word of its success has spread like wildfire, because this is the one diet that really seems to work for most overweight people. A well known Toronto columnist recently praised it to the skies. He reported losing 20 pounds quickly and easily long after he despaired of ever getting down to his wartime weight of 165 pounds. All this without cutting out the occasional beer or rye. If it is followed exactly the average overweight person should lose 10 pounds in 10 days. There will be no weight loss in the first four days. But you will suddenly drop 5 pounds on the 5th day, there after you will lose one pound a day until the 10th day. Then you will lose 1 1/2 pounds every two days until you get down to your proper weight. Best of all there should be no hunger pangs. Now revised and enlarged, this new diet plan lets you stuff yourself with foods that were formerly "forbidden." Such as big steaks trimmed with fat, Southern fried chicken, rich gravies, mayonnaise, lobsters swimming in butter, bacon, fats, sausages and scrambled eggs. You can eat until you are full, until you can't possibly eat any more. And still you should lose 10 pounds in the first 10 days, plus 1 1/2 pounds every two days thereafter until your weight is controlled. A copy of this new and startling successful diet plan can be obtained by sending $3 to The

Unconditional money-back guarantee. If after trying the diet plan you have not lost 7 pounds in the first 7 days, another 6 pounds in the next 7 days, and 1 1/2 pounds every two days thereafter, simply return the diet plan and your $3 will be refunded promptly and without argument. Take out this message as a reminder. Decide now to regain the trim attractive figure of your youth, while still enjoying hearty breakfasts, lunches and dinners. Marks - Chisholm

Miss Lois Ann Chisholm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Chisholm of Weston, and George A. Marks Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. George A. Marks of 32 Foxcroft Road, were married in a 12:30 ceremony on Saturday, November 22 in the Martha Mary Chapel, Sudbury.

MRS. GEORGE A. MARKS JR.

Father J. Connolly of St. Julia's Church, Weston, and Rev. John J. Bishop of the Church of the Epiphany presided over the service. The reception was also held in the Martha Mary Chapel.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an off-white gown featuring a high neck and waist and tapered puff sleeves. Appliques of flowers edged the hem, sleeves and neck. A peau de soie bow held her shoulder-length veil in place. She carried a nosegay of white roses with off-white velvet and ribbons.

Miss Kathleen Chisholm of Denver, Colorado, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Her empire-waisted linen gown of lime green featured a bib collar of beige lace with a high neck, long sleeves and lace cuffs. She had a single, long-stemmed white rose.

Attired as the maid of honor and carrying single, long-stemmed yellow roses, the bridesmaids were Miss Amelia Marks of 32 Foxcroft Road, sister of the bridegroom; Miss S. Hillary White and Miss Pamela J. Wright, both of Brookline; Miss Patricia Arnold of Great Neck, Long Island, New York; and Miss Patricia Kirchgessner of Garden City, Long Island, New York.

Having the honor of best man was Frederick H. Marks of Belmont, brother of the bridegroom. Serving as ushers were Joseph Knight Jr. of Weston; John Keenan of Warwick, Rhode Island; Francis A. Rowen Jr. of Watertown; and Paul A. Compasano Jr. of Brighton.

Mrs. Chisholm wore a dress of ice blue with a beaded collar. Her hat was of ivory and fresh flowers. The mother of the bridegroom chose a mint green dress with short sleeves and a beaded collar and a matching hat.

A graduate of Weston High School, the bride was also graduated from Vernon Court Junior College in 1968.

Mr. Marks was graduated from Hamilton College in 1962. He is presently employed by Little, Brown and Company.

Mrs. Marks chose a black coat and dress ensemble with white trim and a black fur hat as the couple embarked on their wedding trip to Florida. They will make their home in Watertown.

Paul A. Capone of Nathaniel Road, a second year student at the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, Boston, is one of the recipients of the Daniel O. Wolff Scholarships for the session of 1969-1970.

Miss Smith To Marry Mr. Hill

Mr. and Mrs. Stanford Smith of New York City; formerly of Augusta, Georgia, announce the engagement of their daughter, Marion Cooper, to Jeffrey Ross Hills, son of Arthur R. Hills of 34 Cabot Street and the late Mrs. Hills.

LOOKING FORWARD TO THE CHILDREN'S FAIR to be sponsored by the Order of the Eastern Star on Saturday, November 29, at the Masonic Hall from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. is Jonathan Polleys of 10 Albamont Road.

Children's Fair To Be Presented This Saturday

The Order of the Eastern Star Children's Fair will be held at the Masonic Hall in the Square on Saturday, November 29 from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Children of all ages will find items of interest here. A snack bar will be open to provide a lunch break in between Christmas shopping. The very young can have their picture taken with Santa or enjoy the antics of a rolicking clown.

Although the fair is primarily for children, there will be items for parents, also.

Mr. Morse Is Program Head For Conference

Thomas A. Morse, coordinator of audio-visual aids and special programs, served as program chairman for the fall communication conference of the Massachusetts Audio-Visual Association at the Colonial in Lynnfield November 13 and 14.

Winchester Public Schools were also represented in a portion of the program entitled "Kit Making and Media." Principal Richard H. Young of Muraco School presented kits, and staff members Miss Lily Heiberg and Miss Elizabeth Quinn explained their preparation and use to the 225 assembled conferees.

Dr. Walter P. Gleason, assistant superintendent for curriculum and instruction, presented a demonstration in part of the program on "Educational Technology."

Theme speaker for the conference was Robert C. Snider, director of publications, Division of Educational Technology of the National Education Association.

Topics discussed included photography in education, computer assisted instruction, production of videotapes, library and media, school plant design for media and community support for media. As president-elect of the organization Mr. Morse chaired the committee which planned the conference.

Republican Club Holds Meeting

Mrs. Ralph Swanson of 44 Swan Road was hostess at her home on November 19 for a meeting of the board of the Women's Republican Club.

Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, presiding, heard reports of the following members who attended a series of organizational workshops recently at State Headquarters: Mrs. Joseph Pontone on campaign activities; Mrs. Robert Cesari on community involvement; and Mrs. Joseph Zrodowski on publicity.

Rep. Harrison Chadwick reviewed the political problems of the town in future campaigns.

Activities for the month of December were outlined by Mrs. Philip Woodward. They included a fund-raising dinner on December 2 in honor of Gov. Sargent at the Statler Hilton Hotel; also on December 10 the Massachusetts Federation of Republican Women will hold a business meeting and dinner at the Marriott Motor Hotel. Tickets and transportation are available by contacting either Mrs. McCreery or Mrs. Woodward.

The next meeting of the Winchester Club will be a Christmas program featuring the songs of Los Compañeros at the home of Mrs. Edward Livingstone on December 11 at 1:30 p.m.

Unitarian Church Pre-Service Music

On Sunday, November 30th at 10:40 in the chancel of the church, the Winchester Unitarian Choir, under the direction of Mary Ranton Witham, will sing from the "Imperial Mass" by Josef Haydn. The numbers follow: Kyrie, Gloria, Quoniam tu Solus, Sanctus, Benedictus.

The first anthem will be "Behold the Star of Jacob" from "Christus" by Mendelssohn. The second anthem is "Gesu Bambino" by Yon. The Organ postlude is "Alleluia" by Mozart. Soloists are: Estelle McNeely, soprano; Barbara Wood, contralto; William Jeffery, tenor; Sidney C. Blanchard Jr., baritone. John W. Baldwin is assistant to Mrs. Witham.

Special Classes To Be Discussed

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ostrach will be guest speakers at a meeting of the Vinson-Owen Parents Association at the school on Wednesday, December 3, at 8 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Ostrach will describe the personal ethics program which they teach at the junior high schools and the seminar on human relations they conduct at the Senior High School.

Before coming to the Winchester school system in 1968, Mr. Ostrach taught senior high school English courses for eight years. He holds a master's degree in education. Mrs. Ostrach, who has a bachelor of arts degree in sociology, formerly taught elementary grades.

They will welcome questions from the audience on the program they are conducting for eighth and 11th graders in Winchester.

Art Works Of Marshall Joyce Are Presented

Mr. Joyce is a graduate of the School of Practical Art and is currently a member of the faculty of the Butera School of Art.

Equally at home with oils or watercolours that are in banks, museums and private collections, he has done covers and illustrations for nationally known magazines. He worked the murals for the Plymouth Museum and the official painting of the Mayflower for the Plymouth Plantation.

His father was First Mate on the "Gate City," which left Boston with the ill-fated "Portland" lost with all hands in the famous blizzard of 1898. The "Gate City" made the tip of the Cape and rode out the storm.

Mr. Joyce's work radiates a feeling for the sea.

Coffeehouse To Feature A Favorite

This week-end, November 28 and 29, the Garret Coffeehouse will host Livingston Taylor.

Livingston is not only one of the Garret's best friends, but also he is probably its most famous performer. He is the brother of James Taylor who put out an album on Apple Records last year. Having performed in Winchester and Boston, this young performer is originally from Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

To accommodate his audience, the Garret is scheduling two shows in Chidley Hall of the Episcopal Church. The admission will still be minimal and the atmosphere informal. The Garret opens at 7:30 p.m. with the final set ending around 11. Everybody is welcome.

December will feature some of the best folk performers from Winchester and other suburbs.

Perhaps the most exciting evening will be the December 20th Open Hoot for all students who are home for Christmas from colleges. The schedule is flexible, so if there is anyone who would like to play guitar, read poetry, debate, or show a movie, they may call Rita McCreary at 729-0478. The Garret wants you!

Troop 525 Holds First Court of Honor

Scout Troop 525 opened its first Court of Honor by welcoming its new members: Brian Walsh, Andy Harris, Michael Brown, Eric Benson, and Jeff Davis.

Merit badges were awarded to Dale Wilson for hiking and camping and to Scott Wilson and Steven Spencer for hiking.

Later Jack Wilson showed slides of the 80 mile hike the Scouts had taken during the summer. This hike, along the Appalachian Trail in Maine, crossed several mountains and went along a dangerous knife edge at high wind. Great appreciation is felt for Mr. Wilson and Robert White who accompanied the 10 boys.

Teacher Education Program Tried At Muraco

Tufts University and the Winchester Public Schools are working together in an innovative, mutually beneficial program of teacher education.

In the course, "Teaching Math and Science in Elementary School," Tufts students are sent to Muraco School three days each week. Through this program Winchester is acting as a model for teacher preparation at a major university's School of Education. In addition, Winchester children receive additional tutorial assistance.

It is the hope that this program will reverse the trend of the majority of educational institutions which deal with theories in vacuums and rarely in dynamic laboratories.

During the first academic quarter 25 elementary students from Tufts University go to Muraco School on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday mornings. Robert Forest and Chet Delani, combination third-fourth grade teachers and former writers at the school, function on an alternating basis, instructing the college students in the areas of math and science, in terms of content, approach, media, and group process.

As part of the course, the college students observe the scope of the elementary school. They see demonstrations of techniques applied directly in the classroom. Each college student is also assigned as a tutor to a third or fourth grade child. The students work with the individual child using techniques including Cuisenaire rods. (Cuisenaire rods are a set of 10 different colored wooden rods in lengths from one centimeter through 10 centimeters long. They are a manipulative material and can be used to symbolize a multitude of mathematical operations and relationships.)

Former Writers

As former writers at the school, the instructors have had the opportunity to show the students techniques of writing curriculum materials. Muraco School children

D.A.R. Topic Is Museum Of Science

On Tuesday, November 18, the members of the Committee of Safety Chapter, D.A.R. met at the home of Mrs. Herbert F. Ross, 45 Myopia Road, at 1:30 p.m. for dessert and coffee.

The speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. John Harrison, of 47 Yale Street and a member of the Chapter, gave an informative account of the development of Boston's Museum of Science under the directorship of Bradford Washburn.

Mrs. Harrison who is a professor of biology at the University of Massachusetts, Boston, showed excellent colored slides of both the physical aspects of the museum, as well as the many varied programs it houses.

Also on Tuesday evening, November 4, members and friends enjoyed a travel lecture on Mexico given by Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Symmes at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church. The proceeds benefited the Hillside School for Boys in Marlboro.

have benefited by obtaining the products of the students.

During the second quarter, Mr. Forest and Mr. Delani are serving as college supervisors for some of the same students who took the "methods" course with them. According to Mr. Delani, "quite often the student teacher as a novice has more to gain than to give. However, in this program Muraco School welcomes back as student teachers Tufts people already trained in the specific philosophies of the town."

Mr. Delani expresses the opinion that Winchester has assumed a leadership role in working with a university to improve education in elementary schools today and tomorrow. Already several surrounding communities, excited by the Winchester-Tufts program are associating with other colleges. He adds that he feels it would be to the advantage of both academic institutions to make the program permanent and enlarge it to serve more elementary schools.

PAULA TOPPI receives congratulations from Patti Weiser, a Tufts University student who is helping Muraco School students in math. (Lois Carr photo)

Editorials:

Happy Thanksgiving

Families all over the country will gather today to celebrate Thanksgiving. For most it is a time for reunion with relatives, for traditional football games, for the Macy's parade, and for the beginning of the holiday season.

Today in Winchester will see the Sachems meeting the Woburn Tanners at Manchester Field in a rivalry some 70 odd years old. The Sachems head into today's game with an undefeated record and their second league crown in two years, and we wish them luck. We hope that history will not repeat itself and find the Tanners handing them their only defeat as happened last year.

The churches join this morning in an ecumenical service at the Unitarian Church. This religious aspect of the day is reminiscent of that first Thanksgiving when the pilgrims, in a new land to find relief from religious persecution, gave thanks for their fortune in finding that land.

Thanksgiving is a particularly New England holiday, drawing its turkey-and-cranberry-sauce traditions from the depths of early American history which began in Plymouth in 1620. As you gather today in the chill air at Manchester Field or warmly in front of the television, remember those blustery days in Plymouth, 1620, and be thankful for what we all enjoy in 1969!

Editorial Comments

Today's front page lists stories about two residents seriously injured in auto accidents this past week. Although the accidents were in different towns, both had things in common. Both occurred after dark on roads that may best be described as twisting and at times narrow. Both were one-car accidents in which the car struck a utility pole. We would enter a plea for all drivers to be especially careful in all driving situations, particularly as we enter the winter season with its added hazards of ice and snow.

An interesting article in one of the Boston papers this week commented on the Apollo 12 astronauts as the "also-rans." History books will note astronauts Conrad, Gordon, and Bean, but how many Americans spent this flight glued to their televisions and radios as did during the last? Of course, the astronauts themselves didn't help their "second best" problems too much when they directed their television camera toward the sun, destroying the picture tube and all possibilities of anyone watching what they were doing up there.

A group of students at the high school, determined to make their world a little bit better, have formed an anti-pollution committee to study the problem here in Winchester. In one of their first gestures, the group traveled to Woburn to attend the hearing on the Michawam Lake dam removal. It is commendable to see young people taking action on this very real problem.

Legislature Again Faces Big Workload

by Wendell H. Woodman

December 3 is the last day for filing bills for the 1970 legislative session, so during the next two or three weeks, we all must pause to reflect on everyone's reflections about the whole business of handling legislation and what a tribute it is to the doctrine of red tape.

In a way, it is hard not to be cynical about the mechanics for "grinding time" the meal of government, especially when the mill is caked solid with last year's batter.

Several thousand bills will be offered in the next week. Almost every one of them was offered and rejected last session. And yet, in testimony to the principle that 17 per cent of all bills filed must be enacted into law, Massachusetts will put between 800 and 1000 new laws on the books in 1970.

Through this tedious exercise, we will be told that the Legislature's workload is much too massive and isn't there something—anything—that can be done to reduce it.

Sure there is. If the Legislature kills a bill in the first year of its biennial sitting, why is there any reason to expect the Legislature to act any differently on the same bill in the second year of its sitting?

Well there isn't, except that 800 to 1000 bills that didn't make the grade the first year make it the second. That does not indicate anything profound. In fact, nobody has quite figured out what it does mean.

It has been suggested over the years that a scheme be devised to discourage filing legislation in the second year of a sitting, and that business not completed in the first year be carried over into the second.

The rub comes when the advocates are asked who is going to police the filing and who is going to decide what bills may or may not be considered.

The logical solution is to prohibit any filing in the second year, except as "late filed bills" through the approval of the Rules Committee—a procedure that goes into effect automatically as soon as the filing deadline arrives in December anyway.

By banning open filing once the two-year sitting convenes, the workload of the Legislature could effectively be reduced by nearly 50 per cent, and the House and Senate and the committees would be free to practice their craft with a little more deliberation.

And heaven knows they can use time to deliberate.

THE POST of Patroage Secretary in the Sargent Administration, formerly held by newly-installed Somerville District Court Clerk Richard Milano, has gone to Harold Green, formerly of the State Department of Natural Resources.

Earlier David Nagle of the Appellate Tax Board had accepted Gov. Sargent's bid to head up the office, but Nagle, instead, will move into a much more important position around the first of the year.

It is all but confirmed that Nagle will head up Gov. Sargent's gubernatorial campaign. If that doesn't strike fear in the Democratic Party, then there's something wrong with the Democratic Party. (New England News Service)

Warrant

Also, the Board discussed a letter from the Auxiliary Fire Department which suggested that future members of the Department should undergo a one-year probationary period before becoming permanent members of the Department. The matter will be considered further by the Board.

The Board also heard a report from Arthur Rand, architect for the renovations to the Town Hall, on the status of the file cabinets ordered for the Selectmen's Office. These are due to be delivered on December 1.

Superintendent of Streets Robert G. O'Brien also met with the Board to discuss the snow and ice budget.

Residency Requirements

In other action the Board discussed the State Statute pertaining to residency for fire and police department members. No resolution was reached on this matter as the full Board was not present.

The two acts are as follows:

ACTS, 1968

CHAPTER 263. An Act prohibiting the establishment of certain residency requirements for appointment as a fire fighter under Civil Service Law in certain cities and towns.

Chapter 31 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 19B the following section:—

Section 19C. The director may hold examinations for appointment to fire forces in the cities and towns which are subject to the provisions of this chapter and which accept this section on a state-wide basis or within a reasonable area based on proximity to any city or town. An appointing authority in a fire department may file with the director a request that such a reasonable area be established setting forth in his request the names of the municipalities which he proposes should be included within said area. If the director approves the establishment of such an area, no applicant for appointment to the fire force of a city or town shall be required by rule, or otherwise, to be a resident of such city or town at the time of filing his application for examination; provided, however, that if any person has resided in a city or town for one year immediately prior to filing his application for examination and has the same standing as any person who has not so resided in such city or town, the director of civil service, when establishing the list of eligible applicants, shall place the name of the person so residing ahead of the name of the person not so residing; provided, further, that notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, any person who receives an appointment to the fire force of a city or town shall within six months after his appointment establish his residence within such city or town or at some other place within ten miles of the perimeter of such city or town. The commission may by rule require that any such applicant shall have resided in the Commonwealth for one year prior to filing such application.

Approved May 11, 1968
CHAPTER 857. An Act prohibiting the establishment of certain residency requirements for appointment as a police officer under civil service law.

Section 48A. No applicant for appointment to the police force of a city or town shall be required by rule, or otherwise, to be a resident of such city or town at the time of his filing for examination for such appointment; provided, however, that if any person has resided in a city or town for one year immediately prior to filing his application for examination and has the same standing as any person who has not so resided in such city or town, the director of civil service, when establishing the list of eligible applicants, shall place the name of the person so residing ahead of the name of the person not so residing; provided, further, that notwithstanding the provisions of any general or special law to the contrary, any person who receives an appointment to the police force of a city or town shall within six months after his appointment establish his residence within such city or town or in any other place within ten miles of the perimeter of such city or town. The commission may require that any such applicant shall have resided in the Commonwealth for one year prior to filing such application.

Approved January 3, 1968

Pollution

Thermal pollution, caused by low flow and returning of heated water to the stream, especially by the Atlantic Gelatin Company at Sweetwater Brook, caused lack of oxygen (since hot water cannot carry as much oxygen as cold) and therefore the inability of bacteria to utilize oxygen to reduce impurities in the water.

The leaching of acres of chlorides from the now defunct Stouffer Chemical Company provides an important source of chemical pollution, also leaching of "sanitary landfill" of the Woburn City dump adds bad odors.

The evening was climaxed by Mark Des Meules' colored slides of Winchester contrasting its beauty versus its pollution. Shots of birds and natural scenes were followed by those of the steam rising from the thermal pollution and materials of all sorts and colors dumped into our Aberjona River causing low flow and resulting stench. Taped music added to the dramatic effect of this slide presentation.

The meeting was well attended by high school young people who expressed disappointment that more adults of the community were not there to support them at this meeting.

The next project of the Pollution Committee will be to send out 600 official anti-pollution forms to residents here and in surrounding communities. These forms ask citizens to report polluters to the Department of Natural Resources (who have police authority). It was felt that policing by individuals by reporting violators was the best way to begin an intensive fight against this scourge.

Community School Group To View Rome Slides

The November business meeting of the Community School Association of Winchester took place last week at the home of the President Mrs. Robert Grainger.

Members of the Community School Association Board have been invited to attend a program of slides and commentary about the Rome summer program. The Rome students wish to share their experiences with the board in thanks for the Association's support and cooperation.

A tour of an outstanding open area elementary school will be held January 22 at the Bancroft School in Andover. Mrs. Grainger has reserved 20 places for this tour which will take place from 9 to 11 on that day. Participants will be back in Winchester in time for children's lunches.

The program will consist of orientation, a tour by the wife of the school's architect, and a talk and question period moderated by the school's principal. Anyone interested in going on the tour should contact Mrs. Grainger at 729-6743 as the number of vacancies is limited.

Dr. Donald Klemer, superintendent of schools, attended the meeting and answered questions that had been submitted to him in writing. He will be meeting with groups of mothers from each of the schools within the next two months to answer their questions about a particular school or system-wide policies in an effort to achieve a broader public understanding of the education of Winchester's children.

MISS SALLY JOHNSON, 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Johnson of 30 Prince Avenue, the reigning Miss Massachusetts, will represent her area in the national finals for Miss North America Hemisphere 1970, to be held November 25 to 28 in Providence, Rhode Island.

School Comm.

Although they live within the two-mile walking limit, he is requesting transportation for his son to Lynch Junior High School. Approximately four students at the junior high level have been placed in this situation.

The Committee, after explaining the difficulty of administering such exceptions, decided to consult the Police Department and consider alternatives before coming to a decision.

In other business the School Committee listened to a brief report by their member Paul Del Rossi on a recent trip to Darien, Connecticut, concerning the five-year plan being implemented there.

He said that while the program itself does not take care of budget evaluations or remove the pressure from those who must make these decisions, it seems to allow for a sharpening of the ability to make such evaluations and to get a clearer view of expenditures. He also noted that the computer used in this case was under the priority of the school administration and not the town.

The five-year plan has been previously discussed as a means of determining priorities and developing a better system of budgeting through a programmed plan. At this time several additional goals concerning costs were incorporated with those previously a part of the five-year plan.

Accident

Mrs. Cannon is the wife of Kenneth Cannon.

Her sister, Mrs. Callahan, was the wife of Ronald R. Callahan of Woburn. She leaves four children, Ronald, Richard, Roger, and Kenneth.

Other survivors include her mother, Mrs. Asa (Gertrude) Gray of Burlington; a sister, Mrs. Richard (Ella M.) Doherty of Woburn; and two brothers, Lloyd Langill of Billerica and Richard Langill of Burlington.

Funeral services for Mrs. Callahan were held Wednesday at 8 a.m. from the Lynch-Cantillon Funeral Home, Woburn. A high Mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Charles Church, Woburn, at 9 a.m. Interment was in Woodbrook Cemetery, Woburn.

Trailer Hitch Patent Obtained By Local Men

Carl G. Palage of 8 Maple Road and Guy M. Palage of Woburn were the recipients on October 7, of U.S. patent No. 3,471,169, entitled "Load Equalizing Hitch."

This invention pertains to load equalizing hitches that are used for connecting an automobile to a trailer so that the latter may be towed by the former. The hitch assembly includes a tow bar unit which is secured in conventional manner to the frame of the towing automobile and is connected to the well-known ball mount that provides the coupling between the automobile and the trailer.

The hitch assembly also includes a pair of spring bars that are connected removably at their forward ends to the ball mount and at their rear ends to the sides of the trailer frame by means of chains.

In the construction of these hitch assemblies, it is the practice to provide for removal of the spring bars when the trailer is not being towed by the automobile. This is necessary because the laws of most states require that when the trailer is not being towed, the ball mount assembly must be removed from the rear of the automobile if it wholly or even partially obscures the rear license plate.

However, difficulties have been encountered heretofore with the mechanisms by which the spring bars are connected initially to the ball mount and held in place prior to final connection with the trailer.

According to the two inventors, some of these constructions have which are inherently weak and subject to wear. Others are awkward to manipulate and women, in particular, have found it difficult to install and remove the spring bars.

To provide an improvement over the prior practice, they have devised a load equalizing hitch which is of such construction that the spring bars may be connected to the ball mount only when the bars are in a position substantially parallel to the car bumper, following which the bars may readily be swung into their positions of use.

The two spring bars are unitary structures with no moving parts or latches and they may be attached easily to the automobile when the trailer is about to be connected to it. They may also be removed easily when the trailer has been disconnected.

Other features and advantages of the invention are described in detail in the specifications and drawings of the patent.

The application for this patent, which consists of six claims of originality, was filed on October 19, 1967. (Fact Bureau)

THE TIMID ADVENTURES OF A WINDOW WASHER

by Georges Michel

The Paris sketch depicts the ups and downs of a Walter Mitty — picaresque figure named Gussie. Heer is the common man, downtrodden, ill-educated, and unnoticed, tenaciously holding on to life, optimistically reaching out for the good life that taunts him from every billboard and advertisement. His airless, bathroomless room, the murky hallway that leads out to the street, the scolding crochety window washer's clients are not pretty nor even pleasant, but the author's sympathetic rendering and Gussie's unbreakable spirit imbue them with humor and a comfortable familiarity.

Gussie suffers his adventures tortured by a bourgeois conscience, his maternal inheritance. Constantly bombarded by advertising, he is agonizingly aware of his limitations—no convertible, no vacation on the Mediterranean, no girl, not even a transistor radio to take on Sunday walks. He lives on a friendless fringe of modern times terribly aware of the lonely old men seeking some human contact in the park and of his own Sunday agonies.

Fantasy and reality weave an engaging pattern around Gussie. Often the safe daydreams and the endangering present intertwine as when his desire to be noticed forces him to act against his innate good judgement; but no discouragement is great enough to put down this fellow for long.

There are no great moral lessons here, no profound social truths. Gussie is a simple creature. The secret of the success of this short novel is in the telling that uncovers the pathos and human comedy in the most common of occurrences. Gussie is undeniably crude but he is also perceptive and compassionate. So what does a window washer do all day, how does he feel when he gets up in the morning, how does he meet girls? It's not like big game hunting, but to quote Gussie, "It's interesting as hell."

letters to the editor

Yes, Mrs. Grindle

Editor of the Star:
To Mrs. Grindle the answer is "Yes, we have no birds." A few years back I would be awakened at daybreak by a concatenation of bird sounds, calling up the sun and on the hunt for breakfast. Now, except for a few squawks from blue jays I can sleep peacefully on. Did D.D.T. do it?

Grateful For Rescue

Editor of the Star:
I am so grateful to them I would like the town to know what a fine, loyal and dedicated fire department we have here in town.

I was trapped in my attic for two hours last Wednesday.

I went upstairs on a step ladder into my trap door attic and when I went to come down my ladder slipped and fell, trapping me in my attic for two hours.

Six year old Peter Capone, on his way home from school to lunch, heard me calling and told his mother who in turn notified the Police and Fire Department.

I want to thank all of them, and especially little Peter, who is only six years old.

The Fire Department came to my rescue and I am very grateful to Captain Galuffo, Joseph Eagan, Michael Brincasa, Norman Doucette, Mrs. Capone and especially little Peter.

Marchers Respond To Criticism Of Moratorium

Editor of the Star:
As Winchester citizens attending the Washington Moratorium on November 15th, we would like to express publicly some of the thoughts and emotions that have been generated by this experience.

We are deeply grateful to the members of the Winchester Ecumenical Youth Council, especially Marc Levinson, for the organization of our participation. Their dedication, performance, and behavior were of the highest order. Their friendliness, peacefulness, and good humor were contagious. We felt privileged to be in their company.

We regret that the Winchester Star opposes honorable dissent and supports a policy that brings no hope for peace and even threatens escalation. We are anxious to unite for peace, but we are not anxious to unite to continue a war that has cost 40,000 American lives, $100 billion dollars of tax money, and untold death and destruction to North and South Vietnam and her people. Criticize not the peacemakers but the warmakers.

Until our experience in Washington, we felt that there was little since November 3rd about which to be hopeful. Our exposure to hundreds of thousands of peaceful persons has given us new hope. It was inspiring to see the way in which many thousands of people, after standing for three hours in the cold and wind to join the peace march, responded to the announcement that they would not be allowed to march because the two hour parade permit had expired. Although tired, chilled, and disappointed, they turned good-naturedly around and retraced their steps down the Mall to the Washington Monument. The Student Mobilization marshals were sensitive, wise, and courageous. Their presence was reason for great hope. We even hope that President Nixon may have heard and understood part of our message.

Sincerely yours,
Emmons S. Ellis

Response Given To Advertisement Of Draftable Men

Editor of the Star:
To: The Draft Age Men Against The War.

I read your ad in the last Star, and I sympathize with your position. I do believe some of you have lost sight of the reason we are there, however. So have a lot of older people who have been around since the beginning though, so I can't blame you on that account.

There is much rhetoric from both doves and hawks as to why we got there and how we should get out. In fact we have only one legitimate reason for being in Vietnam. It is that a communist win there poses a real danger to the security of the United States. If you believe that, as I do, then we must end the war there by winning it or at least by preparing South Vietnam so they can fight to a draw. If you do not believe the security of the U.S. is threatened by a communist victory then we are justified in an immediate pull out.

You've got to be mighty scared of fighting to do that, however, for certainly thousands of innocent people will be butchered in typical communist fashion if we do.

I've been one of the biggest critics of our Vietnam policy and I have two boys a few years away from draft age. I favored winning the war for the last six years instead of a planned stalemate. The alternative to winning is not a bug-out, unless that is, you like mass murder. It is sad indeed that we do kill innocent people in the course of fighting the communists. It is unavoidable in some circumstances. The U.S. can punish those in our armed forces when the killing is deliberate, but how can we punish the communists for their killings if we pull out too soon? Maybe you don't care? I'm sure you do.

Don't let the noisy left wing have their way. Too many of them are not trying to save lives, but are working for a communist victory!

Sincerely,
Jack A. Wilson

Thanksgiving is like a starter's pistol shot marking the beginning of a race.

In some cases it's hectic, what with all the preparations and all the planning. You entertain relatives and friends, mixed in with social events and impromptu office parties, and then rather abruptly January 1st rolls around.

But frankly, we would have it no other way because this starting date puts me in a festive mood — a mood that makes me feel warm all over — as though I could embrace the whole world.

I might even smile at my wife tonight when I go home to dinner, but that would be unusual and she might question me about what I did wrong today.

However, have a Happy Thanksgiving, and love thy neighbor.

Winchester Voter

"Winchester Voter" is a series written by the League of Women Voters for the Star in order to inform the citizens of Town voting practices and issues. It is published semi-monthly.

Under Winchester's system of Town government there are fifteen offices or boards which are elected by the voters. Most elective offices are for three-year terms, the exceptions being the Moderator, who is elected annually, the Planning Board and Cemetery Commission whose members are elected for five-year terms, and the regional vocational school representative, who is elected for four years.

In the next Town Election, on March 2, 1970, there will be twelve elective boards which will have vacancies:

Two Selectmen, out of five two School Committees, of six one Assessor, of three one Cemetery Commissioner, of five one Park Commissioner, of six two Trustees of the Public Library, of six one Commissioner of Trust Funds, of three one member of the Water and Sewer Board, of three one Constable, of three one member of the Board of Health, of three one member of the Planning Board, of five the Moderator

The terms of the Town Clerk and the Town Treasurer do not expire until 1972, while the term of the representative to the Vocational School District runs until 1973.

It is the job of the Moderator to preside over Town Meeting. The office has been held by Harrison Chadwick, also Winchester's representative in the General Court, since 1956.

The Board of Selectmen is the executive body of the Town, responsible for carrying out the decisions of the Town Meeting. Selectmen bear the weight of responsibility for the general administration of the Town government. The Board meets each Monday evening, summer and winter, and more often as the need arises. Since 1937 there have been five Selectmen, who are elected to serve overlapping terms. It has been customary for Selectmen to retire after one term, though that precedent was broken this year.

Appeal

Contests for election to the Board of Selectmen have wide popular appeal. Seats are invariably contested, it not being rare for five men to run for two vacancies. The 1968 race was unusual when a woman ran for office, only the second time in the Town's history that this has happened. Though she did not win a place on the Board, perhaps her candidacy was responsible for the large turnout at the polls that year. In 1961 and again in 1964 voting was heavy, too, when a larger than usual field of candidates vied for Selectman.

Of equal, perhaps greater, public interest is the contest for School Committee, reflecting citizen concern for the large share of Town revenue which goes to support our educational system. It is the duty of the Committee to establish policies for the public school system, prepare the annual budget, supervise expenditures, provide for maintenance of the school plant.

Since 1921 the School Committee has consisted of six members, two elect each year. As in the case of the Selectmen and the Moderator, they serve without pay. In recent years, with a rising public demand for increased educational services the School Committee has been called upon more and more often to make controversial policy decisions. It has been the custom, though not invariable, for members to run for a second three-year term.

The race for School Committee is often a heated one, as it was this year when five men waged a hard-fought campaign for two vacancies. Unlike contests for Selectman, it is common for a woman to be elected to the School Committee, and two are serving at the present time.

Dr. Kroll To Speak At Lynch

Parents concerned with the quality of special education known to professionals as "pupil services" should plan to attend a talk by Dr. Arthur M. Kroll on "Pupil Services for Winchester Schools" on December 3 at 8 p.m. at the Lynch Junior High School Cafeteria.

Dr. Kroll's remarks will be tailored to fit the needs of Winchester's schools. On the basis of information supplied to him by the Education Committee of the League of Women Voters, Dr. Kroll will explain the roles and functions of specialists in the various pupil services areas as guidance, counseling, remedial reading and speech therapists.

His remarks will emphasize the developmental needs of youngsters as they progress through the grades and how these needs can best be met.

As Dr. Kroll effectively sums up the thrust of trends throughout the state and the nation, "Pupil services must expand beyond the present problem-centered emphasis and intensify its efforts on problem prevention."

MSPCA Auxiliary Kevin Mawn Is Graduate Of Police Academy

Family portraits, a canopied four-poster bed and a Dutch oven circa 1780 drew comments at the recent monthly meeting of the Winchester Auxiliary MSPCA held at the home of Mrs. Donald Belcher of Arlington.

Guest speaker was David S. Claffin, president of Boston's MSPCA at 150 Longwood Avenue. Mr. Claffin, who is also president of the American Fondak in Fez, Morocco, the only animal welfare organization flying the American flag in a foreign land, reported on his recent visit there.

This "donkey hospital" provides refuge and help for the tortured, diseased and injured beasts and birds which arrive there on stumbling feet or via the Fondak ambulance. An interesting sidelight is the goodwill the Fondak contributes to American-Moroccan relations as well as the practical help it gives the people of Morocco.

Touching on the seal hunts in which the baby seals are clubbed to death the speaker pleaded against the purchase of seal coats or accessories, which is the only way the seal hunt will become unprofitable. The same thought holds true for the "endangered species" of the world, many of which are very near extinction. Ladies, please don't buy that leopard or jaguar coat! Even although it is already on the rack, if it is purchased, the store will reorder.

Regarding recent sensational publicity on the danger of cats carrying leukemia to humans, Mr. Claffin emphasized that there is no truth to the rumor. Retractions have appeared in all newspapers which printed the story and in the medical journals.

A social hour around the tea table served by Mrs. Dean Carleton and Mrs. Clinton Charles closed the afternoon. Mrs. Norman Weeks and Mrs. Gordon Tobey poured.

Joint Meeting Sponsored By School Parents

A joint meeting of the Lincoln School Parents Association and the Washington School Mothers Association was held in the auditorium of the Washington School on Wednesday evening, November 19.

Mrs. Robert Cronin, president of the Washington School Mothers, welcomed the parents and introduced Miss Martha Cunningham, principal of Lincoln School. Following some introductory remarks about the Rome program, Miss Cunningham presented Miss Constance Trickett who, with six students from Winchester High School, gave a description of last summer's Rome Study Program in which 30 Winchester students took part.

The students who participated in the presentation, all graduates of Lincoln or Washington school, were Debbie Cirolli, Margie Millican, Chris Parsons, Elisha Paulson, Diane Rotondi, and Peter Simmons.

The second portion of the evening's program was devoted to a presentation by Dr. Leonor H. Rich, chairman of the Elementary School Report Card Revision Committee and principal of Washington School.

Dr. Rich explained that the new report cards are being introduced in an effort to find a system of reporting which will measure the child's individual achievement without destroying his self-image or branding him a failure at an early age.

A question and answer period followed the presentation.

Chamber Concert Is Held

An audience of 135 attended the Chamber Concert sponsored by the music department of the Winchester public schools on Monday, November 17 at Wyman School.

Following the performance Wendell Withington, music department director, expressed the hope that a similar program could be held later in the year.

Participants included Paul Davis, McCall Junior High music teacher, who performed selections of Chopin and Gershwin on the piano.

Noel Webb, WHS '70 and Scott Knopf, WHS '72 presented a violin duet.

Music department staff member, Herman Green, tenor, sang selections from Handel and Scarlatti.

Young Repubs To Hold Raffle For Christmas

The Massachusetts Young Republican Association is holding a raffle, with the drawing to take place at its annual Christmas party, it was recently announced by Susan L. Nolan, president of the Winchester YR Club.

GOV. FRANCIS SARGENT is shown with Susan L. Nolan, president of the Winchester YR Club and chairman of the State YR fund-raising project.

Mrs. Nolan is in charge of the state YR organization's fund-raising project.

Prizes for the raffle have been donated by numerous GOP members throughout the state. During the next two weeks, YR club members in every town will be selling tickets with the proceeds to be divided between the local clubs and the state YR organization.

On December 14th, the state YR's will hold their annual Christmas Party, from 7 to 11 p.m. in the 1200 Beacon Motel, Brookline. All ticket-holders are invited to attend this party, which will feature at least one big-name Republican personality, but it is not necessary to be present in order to win a prize. Holders of prize-winning tickets will be notified of their good fortune.

Anyone interested in purchasing tickets, or in joining the Winchester Young Republican Club, should contact Mrs. Nolan at 729-0800 during the evening.

and a familiar spiritual, "He's Got the Whole World in His Hands."

The clarinet solo played by Tom Page, WHS '72 was by Mozart.

Miss Lillian Enright, Lynch Junior High School music teacher, played piano solos by Brahms and Debussy.

Final selections in the concert were performed on the violin by John Woodworth, elementary school string specialist.

Mr. Withington supplied the piano accompaniment for the soloists.

A dry answer to a wet problem ...or how to stop winter water damage.

Snow on your roof can mean water in your house. Now you can avoid the problem of water seepage with THERMOROD®. This scientifically designed, specially constructed rod uses the sun's rays and interior heat loss, through the roof, to create ice-free drainage paths. This prevents water back-up under the shingles and the resulting seepage between the interior and exterior house walls.

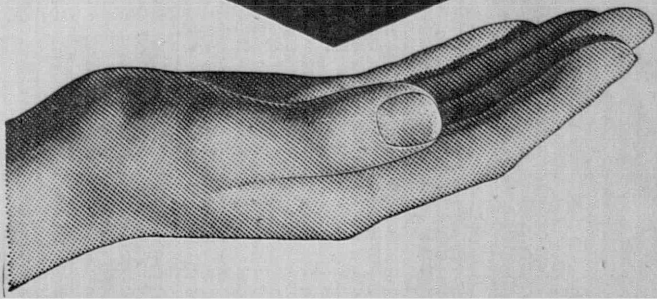

For a leak-free winter, install rust-proof THERMOROD units at 6 to 8 foot intervals on your roof. THERMORODS are pre-assembled, ready to install. They can be hooked under the shingles quickly and easily. Once in place, THERMOROD operates continuously and automatically. NO WIRING - NO ELECTRICITY.

Emmanuel Alum. School Library Form Local Club Dedicated To Mrs. Erskine

Thursday, November 20th, members of the newly formed Emmanuel College Club of Winchester met for luncheon at the Winchester Country Club.

Co-chairman Mrs. Robert H. Murphy welcomed Sister Marie Barry, SND, the recently inaugurated president of Emmanuel College and Mrs. John F. Fleming, executive director of the Alumnae Association, as invited guests.

Sister Marie Barry, SND, spoke of some of the changes at the college and the many interesting and innovative programs taking place. She stressed the fact that there is a place for a women's college in the world today and that women should not lose their identity in today's society. She asked for the active support of the alumnae.

Mrs. John J. Waite Jr. read the proposed by-laws of the club which were discussed and voted upon. Any alumnae interested in entertaining a foreign student from the college during Christmas vacation are asked to contact the alumnae office. On Sunday, December 7, from 3 to 5 p.m. o'clock a reception to Sister Marie Barry, SND, president, will be held in Marian Hall at Emmanuel. Mrs. Edward Murphy of Winchester is on the planning committee.

MRS. MARGARET W. ERSKINE

A bronze plaque was placed on the library wall, a portrait of Mrs. Erskine was unveiled, and the library was named the Margaret W. Erskine Library in her memory.

Mrs. Erskine was head librarian at Newton High School and Newton South High School for many years.

The Newton South High School string orchestra under the direction of David Levenson provided music. Wayne Altire, chairman of the social studies departments at both high schools, paid a moving tribute to Mrs. Erskine in his short talk. He also announced that a fund of over $1,000 has been collected which is to be used for an annual award to a senior at Newton South High School, a former graduate of Newton South High School, a librarian, a library secretary or a teacher who is interested in pursuing work in library science. Friends of Mrs. Erskine have collected this fund to be used to honor the memory of a dedicated colleague.

Several Winchester women from the Emmanuel College Alumnae Association are serving on the committee planning a reception for Sister Marie Barry, SND, the newly elected president of the college, for Sunday, December 7. They are Mrs. Robert H. Murphy, 29 Allen Road, Mrs. John J. Waite of 7 Appalachian Road, Mrs. Charles G. Fletcher of 24 Symmes Road, and Mrs. Edward S. Murphy, co-chairman, of 16 Salisbury Street.

Kay Bova Releases New Album

Kay Bova, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard E. Battista of 11 Wellington Road, released her stereo album of organ arrangements, "Unforgettable," at a special dinner reception in her honor in the Lido Room, Fantasia Restaurant, Cambridge.

KAY BOVA

Prominent figures in the musical, entertainment, radio, television and political professions were among the more than 250 persons gathered. Don Latulippe of WEZE acted as master of ceremonies. Cambridge Mayor Walter J. Sullivan was also present.

"Unforgettable" includes Kay's recordings of 11 top hit songs plus three original compositions written especially for her. These are "Kay's Tune" by Joe Sain, "Give Me Love" by Bill Taylor and Stan Jones, and "The Dreamer's Waltz" by Solie Bell.

This album captures, for the first time, the sound of the Hammond X-66 organ, which has been augmented by a large orchestra.

The record is on sale exclusively at Fantasia, where Kay is entertaining nightly, Wednesday through Sunday, evenings. She is scheduled to appear soon on the Dave Garroway television show, "Tempo Boston."

David W. Sidebotham of 9 Roberts Road, a freshman at Worcester Polytechnic Institute, Worcester, has pledged Alpha Tau Omega fraternity at the Institute.

Coronary Care Institute Held At Area Hospital

Twenty-one registered nurses representing three area hospitals, Lawrence Memorial of Medford, Woburn's Choate Memorial and Winchester Hospital, recently participated in a four-day Coronary Care Institute.

The Institute was based on the generally recognized assumption that a specially prepared coronary care nurse is the most important individual in the care of a patient with coronary disease.

Classes provided both informative lectures and demonstrations encompassing the recognition and evaluation of the symptoms of cardiac disease as well as the medical management and nursing care, and the rehabilitative aspects.

Emergency cardiac resuscitation measures were discussed and demonstrated, and the nurses had the opportunity to practice cardiac pulmonary resuscitation through the use of life-size mannequin, Resusc-Aid, and electronic monitoring devices.

Members of the planning committee were Mrs. Elizabeth A. Clark, R.N., director of nursing at the Choate; Richard E. Levesque, R.N., director of nursing at Winchester; and Mrs. Alice D. Hamilton, R.N., director of nursing at Lawrence Memorial, who also acted as chairman for the group. Instructional personnel were drawn from the participating hospitals and included staff physicians and registered nurses from the nursing and educational units.

Additional intensive coronary care classes are under consideration for the future to prepare and ensure an adequate number of prepared nurses to care for patients with cardiac disease. The institute was held in the new school of nursing building at the Lawrence Memorial Hospital of Medford and demonstrated how three community hospitals can work together on a regional basis successfully.

Co-Operative Bank Names Dr. McLean

The Winchester Co-operative Bank announced at its annual meeting on Monday, November 3 that Dr. Donald E. McLean, Winchester pediatrician, author and lecturer, has been elected to serve as a director for three years.

DR. DONALD E. McLEAN

Dr. McLean is known for his work with young people in the field of guidance and counseling, and is the author of the book, "Fit To Be Tied."

At its regular board meeting on Monday, November 10, Dr. McLean was welcomed by the directors and took the oath of office from Sumner R. Andrews.

At the same meeting Sidney C. Blanchard was elected an honorary director. Stanley E. Neill was elected vice president of the bank and Frederick W. McCormack was made a member of the executive committee.

Marine Reserve Is Sponsoring "Toys For Tots"

The 1969 "Toys For Tots" program received the support of a television star when MGM-TV's Judy The Chimp stepped forward with the donation of a new toy. For others wishing to donate, toys can be left at the nearest Marine Corps recruiting station or at the Prudential Center "Toys For Tots" booth which opens on December 1.

A Marine will be there throughout the holiday season to receive the gifts and convey the thanks of needy children.

This program, conducted by the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve, provides a new toy on Christmas morning to expectant youngsters. Begun in 1947 "Toys For Tots" is a community project headed by the Marine Corps Reserves.

Last year 60,000 new toys were given to such children. This program does not compete with any existing charitable organizations or other Christmas programs, but rather supports and augments the efforts of others.

Our goals are all similar—namey the happiness of children on Christmas morning. For further information call "Toys For Tots" 542-5100, Extension 458.

Library Film Program

Family Film Night at 7:30 p.m., November 28.

Scribbling Kitten — This is an animated cartoon film. A Japanese kitten draws pictures that come to life.

Ti-Jean Goes Lumbering — This is a French-Canadian folk tale about the adventures of a mysterious little boy who one day rides into a logging camp on a big white horse. Ti-Jean amazes everyone as he fells trees, carries heavy piles of logs and wins every contest. It is a colorful film, showing life in a Canadian logging camp.

Village on Stilts — This is the newest of the UNICEF films to be released. It is the story of life in Granvie, Dahomey, Africa.

These words of Jesus are from the Lesson-Sermon to be read this Sunday in all Christian Science churches: "I cast out devils by the Spirit of God; but will ye not be subject to the Kingdom of God?" The subject is "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced."
A passage from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy reads: "Jesus cast out evil and healed the sick, not only without drugs, but without hypnotism, which is the reverse of ethical and pathological truth-power."

Program Is Set For Thanksgiving Prayer Service

Residents of Winchester will gather on Thanksgiving morning at the Winchester Unitarian Mission to participate in the annual Ecumenical Thanksgiving Prayer Service. The service will begin at 9:00 a.m.

It has been designed to last 30 minutes so as to accommodate those who plan to attend the football game.

Rev. Jack Zoehride, the host pastor will offer the Opening Sentences and the Benediction. He will be assisted by Rev. Allen Broyles of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church and Rev. Henry A. Marquardt of St. Eulalia's Parish.
The meditation - "A Grateful Heart" - will be given by Rev. Lawrence Ketter of the Second Congregational Church. Mrs. Robert Dushan of Winchester, a lay representative of the Temple Isaiah, Lexington, will offer the Scripture Reading.
The offertory collection will be directed to the needs of the American Indians on the Cherokee Reservation in North Carolina.

Diocesan Entrance Pre-Registration

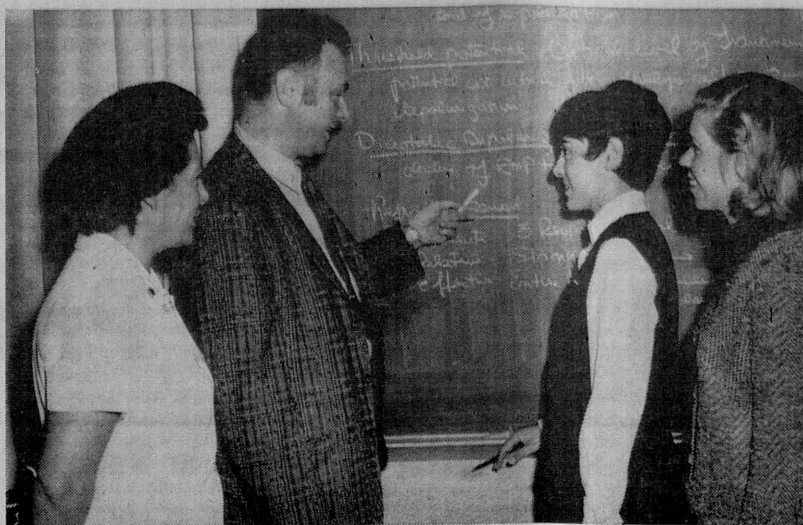

All eighth grade students who wish to take the Diocesan Entrance Examination at Matignon High School may register on one of several days at the school.

Registration is being held from 3:15 to 4:45 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, December 2, 3 and 4.

The entrance and placement examination will be given at Matignon High School on Saturday, January 24, 1970, at 8:30 a.m.

There is a registration and testing fee.

Only those who have registered on one of the above dates will be eligible to take this examination.

PARTICIPATING in the four-day Coronary Care Institute at Lawrence Memorial Hospital in Medford recently were, left to right, Mrs. Theresa Miller, R.N., Choate Memorial Hospital; Dr. Merrill M. Goldstein; Miss Mary Ann Liro, R.N., Lawrence Memorial Hospital of Medford; and Miss Sharon Titcomb, R.N., Winchester Hospital.

TAKING THE TITLE LITERALLY during rehearsals for "A Funny Thing Happened On the Way To the Forum" are Rosanne Berberian of 1 St. Augustine Court, one of the female leads, and Robert Boyd of Wakefield, who teaches science at Lynch Junior High School. He portrays Captain "Miles Gloriosus" who believes he has purchased "Philia" (Rosanne) for his bride. This will be his first performance as a singer.

William Kennedy Appointed Chief Nuclear Engineer

Stone and Webster Engineering Corporation has appointed William J. L. Kennedy of 25 Lakeview Road chief nuclear engineer of the power industry group in its headquarters office in Boston.

WILLIAM J. L. KENNEDY

Mr. Kennedy, since joining Stone and Webster in 1952, has been associated with nuclear power projects.

Mr. Kennedy was graduated from Purdue University in 1944 with a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering and attended the University of Chicago and Northeastern University.

Mr. Kennedy is a registered professional engineer in Indiana, Illinois, South Carolina, Massachusetts, Connecticut, and New York. He is a member of the American Society of Electrical Engineers and the Instrument Society of America, having served this organization as president of the Boston section from 1958 to 1959. He is also a member of the American Nuclear Society.

Mr. Kennedy and his wife, Marie, have four children.

Cub Scout Pack To Be Formed At Muraco School

Robert DeBourke of 17 Kenwin Road has announced that the organization and extension committee of the Musket District, Minuteman Council, Boy Scouts of America, working in conjunction with Richard Young, principal of the Muraco School, has formed Winchester's newest Cub Scout pack for boys from the age of eight (or in the third grade) through the age of 10. The pack will meet at and serve the boys of the Muraco School.

The following parents have volunteered to serve as leaders in the pack: Den Mothers: Mrs. Lois C. Miara, Mrs. Pauline Cooke, Mrs. Louise Barker, and Mrs. Carol Marchesi. The Committee will be composed of William Maggo, John F. Skinner, Edwin Dokus, Edmund Bingel, Robert Girard, Frank Antonuccio, Gerald D. Errico, and Profulla Khaund. Ralph Norton will serve as the pack's first Cubmaster.

The pack will be comprised of five Dens, totaling 36 boys. Also assisting Mr. DeBourke in organizing the pack were Mrs. Robert Nicholas of Winchester, William Babiniau of Woburn, Clayton Atchison of Stoneham, and Donald H. Lawrence, District Scout Executive. All are representatives of the Musket District, Minuteman Council, BSA.

The following Cubbers also assisted: Frank Lawton of 111 Pond Street, Cubmaster of Pack 508, Noonan School; Anthony J. Capriulo of Woburn, Webelos Den Leader and his Webelos Den from Pack 508; and Life Scout Michael F. Lawton, Den Chief of Troop 508, BPO Elks 1445, Winchester.

A meeting of the new Cub Scout leaders will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Muraco School Library on Wednesday, December 3rd. At this time final steps will be taken to complete chartering the unit, preliminary training will be presented, and the first den and pack meetings will be planned.

A Plea From Your Letter Carrier

SAVE OUR SERVICE

Your letter carrier is struggling against overwhelming odds.

Wages of postal workers average thousands of dollars a year less than the amount determined by the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics as necessary for a "modest but adequate" standard of living.

To reach the top step in our postal pay scale takes up to 25 years of service... a goal most postal workers never reach. Over 90% of the letter carriers never rise above level 5 of the 21 level scale.

The rate of turnover among postal workers is nearly 10 times the turnover rate among factory workers—23 per hundred compared to 28 per thousand. That costs the postal service... and the taxpayers... over $100 million a year in locating, hiring and training new employees.

To remedy these conditions and to achieve the kind of postal service Americans want and deserve, Congress has passed a bill. That bill is HR 13000 and is about to be considered by President Nixon.

Here's what HR 13000 would do:

- Provide step increases equivalent to a 5.4% pay increase.
- Establish a Federal Wage Commission to determine future postal and federal pay scales.
- As of July 1970, provide for reaching top pay after eight years of service instead of 25, thus increasing the incentive for postal workers to stay in the postal service.

The simple fact is that postal reform begins with good postal pay.

President Nixon can take that first large step toward postal reform by signing HR 13000.

You can help by sending him the coupon at left indicating your approval.

Postal wages are not inflationary.
Postal workers are the victims of inflation.

NO CORPORATION NEEDED

Postal reform is badly needed. The surest path to postal reform is through good postal pay. It cannot be achieved by turning the postal service over to a corporation that will simply put a new name on old practices. Postal reform is up to Congress. The Postal Service, however, should remain in the hands of the people through their elected representatives and not in the hands of a profit-motivated Board of Directors.

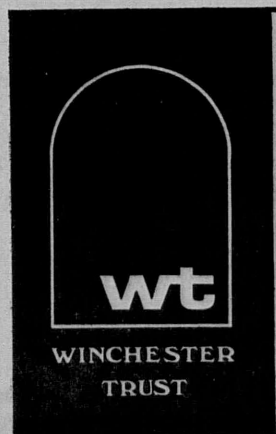

President Richard M. Nixon

The Cougars behind some nice bowling of Neil Haggerty and David Errico swept all eight points from the Wildcats.

The Bobcats and Cheethas split four and four, John Melaragno high for the Cheethas and Dale Beardon tops for the Wildcats.

Al Cordice's Leopards took six points from the Panthers despite some nifty bowling by Rick Ranzo and Jimmy Sullivan. The Lions and Tigers had a 4-4 tie. Andy Gangi and Paul Gennaris bowled well for the Lions and John Nowell and Gerry Polcari starred for the Tigers.

Early Birds

Bowling for a Thanksgiving turkey gave added incentive to the Early Birds on November 20. The prize bird went to the person who rolled the most pins over her average that day.

Jane Johnson rolled 31 pins over her average (123) to win the prize. She had a high single of 193 and a total of 463.

The Sparrows (Edna Dayton, Mary Dennis and Jean Bradley) had a three-game series of 1332 pins to take second place in that category over the Thrushes and Starlings. The Doves are in first place with 1337 pins.

Congratulations to Jo Vacca for making the 1-5-7 conversion. Jo also had a high single of 162.

Girls' League

The Invaders won all eight points from F Troop. Nancy Ranzo was high bowler for the Invaders while Karen MacIsaacs led the Troop.

Warriors Win Soccer Title

The West Side Warriors used an outstanding team effort to defeat the Southern Sachems 4-1 and clinch first place in the Pee Wee division of the Winchester Youth Soccer program.

The Warriors drew first blood on a hard shot by Allyn Stillman that broke past the Sachem goalie. Skiff Sizemore made it 2-0 when he intercepted the ball deep in Sachem territory dribbled in and blasted the ball high into the net.

The Warriors left the field with a 3-0 half-time lead when Allyn Stillman scored an shot into the corner after taking a fine pass from George Vago, who played a sensational game at center half-back.

The Sachems made it 3-1 on a long blast by "Bub" Sandford, but Allyn Stillman ended the game by converting Skiff Sizemore's pass for his third goal of the game.

The title was well earned by the Warriors for their consistently well-played games during the second half of the season.

Central Cougars

The Central Cougars, who finished second despite being undefeated, ended their season on a winning note after three straight ties. The Cougars defeated the Northern Stars 2-0 on two goals by high-scoring Pat Fortin.

The Washington Whips were held to a 1-1 tie by the Midtown Mustangs but finished in third place. Both goals in this contest were scored on penalty shots, the Whips by John Waite and the Mustangs by Rich Champoux.

Mustang goalie George Casey finished the season with another great job including an "impossible" save in the first half which kept his team in the game.

Wildcats Upset Eagles

The final game of the season saw the Wedgemore Wildcats upset the East Side Eagles 2-0 on goals by Frank Stiles and Don Annino.

The competition was fierce but highlighted by fair play and good sportsmanship all season long.

The first Winchester Youth Soccer awards night will take place on Friday evening, December 5, at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the Muraco School on Tufts Road.

A soccer film will be shown and there will be refreshments along with the presentation of awards. Players, coaches, parents and friends of Winchester soccer are cordially invited to attend.

St. Mary's School Loses Match To Youth Team

On Sunday, November 16, at Leonard Field, St. Mary's School entered into the first sports contest in the school's history. Their recently formed soccer team lost to a more experienced Winchester Youth Soccer team, 2 to 1, although it was a surprisingly close and interesting game.

During the first half, Winchester took the lead with goals scored by Martini and Bowen. Then, Mehan scored for St. Mary's with an assist by Costello. The second half was scoreless, although each team played well.

A second game between these teams was played on Saturday. St. Mary's, after a week of practice drills, played an improved game in a 1 to 1 draw. The first half was scoreless. The Winchester Youth team led the scoring with Shiang assisted by Casey. St. Mary's tie goal by Jacobs, assisted by Costello, came after their determined team narrowly missed scoring several times. Good sportsmanship was displayed by both teams.

Interest in soccer among Winchester youth ages seven to 14 has increased 100 per cent over last year. Although presently, there is no soccer team in either junior high school, great interest was apparent at the High School level this year, when many applicants reported for soccer as for football.

Unlike most one season sports, there will be a resumption of soccer in the Spring, with three teams being entered in the Boston Area Youth Soccer Leagues. One team will consist of boys 16 years and under, another team 14 years and under, and the third 12 years and under.

The lineups were: Winchester: Martini, Whitman, Paulson, Paglia, Waite, DelGreco, Raphael, Bowen, Alpert, Stillman, West, Sullivan, Smoley, Minnehan, Sampson, Shiang, Abbott and Casey.

St. Mary's: Mehan, Jacobs, S. Fisher, Roche, Ellis, Wilson, Kennedy, Burns, Costello, C. Bumiller, O'Neil, V. Palumbo, Floyd, Conway, Connaughton, M. Bumiller, A. Fisher, Donohue, Hines, Wilhelm, Coakley, R. Palumbo, Gill.

The games were arranged by John Duffy for St. Mary's and Roger Stillman and Herbert Cabral of the Youth Soccer Program.

The next game is 11 a.m. Saturday with St. Raphael's at Playstead Park, Medford.

Lynch Lions Finish First In Bantam Soccer

The Lynch Lions finished first in the Bantam Division of the Winchester Youth Soccer program this fall.

The Bantam season was cut a week short due to the inundation of Shore Road Field, but the Lions had clinched the flag already. The first Winchester Youth Soccer awards night will take place on Friday evening, December 5th at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the Muraco School on Tufts Road.

A soccer film will be shown and there will be refreshments along with the presentation of awards. Players, coaches, parents and friends of Winchester soccer are cordially invited to attend.

Indian Ridge Hospital Open Nets $20,000

Seven participating hospitals have received approximately $20,000 as a result of the First Annual Hospital Open held at the Indian Ridge Country Club, Andover in mid-August.

Children's Hospital Medical Center received $10,627; the Lawrence General Hospital received $3,718; Bon Secours Hospital, Methuen received $2,650 and additional contributions went to St. John's Hospital, Lowell; Memorial Hospital, Nashua; Waltham Hospital, Waltham; and New England Baptist Hospital, Boston.

In addition, a dozen non-participating hospitals received varying amounts totaling about $4000.

In announcing the final results, Indian Ridge president Daniel E. Hogan stated, "We are most gratified that the New England event of this nature has been concluded so successfully." He added that the results and response in this initial 72-hole PGA Tour Championship event "has encouraged us to embark upon an even more ambitious program in 1970."

He said that "this year's $40,000 purse will be expanded to at least $50,000 and we are confident that the financial results of this year's event will be resulting in greater effort by the participating hospitals next year."

Mr. Hogan stated that the possibility of obtaining sponsorship from a major corporation could greatly increase benefits to the participating hospitals next year. He noted that the Westchester Hospital Classic has raised more than $1 million for the six participating hospitals over the past three years.

He added that while the Indian Ridge Hospital Open still has a long way to go, we have made a good beginning and "we feel that we can attain greatly increased benefits for the hospitals of our area over the next few years."

One-Day Seminar Being Offered On Power And Cables

The techniques and economics of the design and installation of underground power and communication cable will be featured at a seminar to be held on Monday, December 8 at the Colony Motor Hotel (Colonial Hilton Inn) Cranston, Rhode Island.

The seminar is a presentation of A. H. Shepherd Associates Incorporated, technical management consultants and specialists in electrical wire and cable.

The seminar, called "Design for the 70's," is a one-day lecture/workshop session on the design, specification, application and installation of underground and overhead power and communication cable.

In addition to the presentation at the Colony Motor Hotel on December 8, the seminar will be given on December 1 at the Lord Wakefield, Wakefield, and on December 11 at the Yankee Silversmith Inn, Wallingford, Connecticut.

Burlington YWCA Holds Registration For Winter Progr.

Registration for January classes has started at the Burlington YWCA. Some people have indicated an interest in folk dancing on Friday nights. A survey also is being taken for a class in copper enamelling. If anyone is interested in either of these classes call the Y.W.C.A. or send a post card. Call 272-3181 or write Y.W.C.A., Box 223, Burlington.

The December 4th meeting, 8 p.m., of the Y-Wives is being devoted to the wrapping of gifts contributed by the members for the State Hospital in Waltham.

We carry the Bausch and Lomb reading glasses, magna bars and pocket magnifiers. At the Winchester Star.

Football Player Eddie Sadler Visits School

Harvard football player, Eddie Sadler, visited Children's Own School in Winchester on Thursday, November 20. The defensive tackle did calisthenics and scrimmaged with the young admirers.

He was asked to demonstrate his strength and with one on each arm he hoisted two husky eight-year-olds into the air.

Children's Own School Director,

Mrs. Angel Okerson, emphasizes the importance of having male instructors in the program planned for the upper school boys and girls. In an endeavor to provide this she has arranged for Peter Meehan, a student at Harvard, to take on training the children in physical education. Eric Okerson, from Boston University, works with the students on science experiments.

"The interaction with these fine young men and visits from such impressive figures as Eddie Sadler provide, we hope, impetus for accomplishment and build the male image for the students," according to Mrs. Okerson.

Mr. Meehan, a classmate of Mr. Sadler, arranged for the visit of the football player to the school.

Board 18 from Section B (North) the dealer, East-West vulnerable and the board rotated for convenience) posed a philosophical problem in the play.

Please look at the South hand. Your contract is four hearts, and the lead is the Jack of spades from West.

What is your philosophy on the play? You can obviously make eleven tricks off the top, seven hearts, two diamonds, and the Aces of spades and clubs. Do you finesse the club trying to make six when if the finesse loses, you will make only four? You would lose the King of clubs and two spades. Or do you play safe and make five hearts?

What did we do? Took our safe six no trump, you'll make it, while in a game bid, you'll probably tie for making five. As is often case, your play varies with the contract. Two pairs, however, in section B were swingers and made on their game contracts.

Editors Note: If everybody agreed on how to play the hand it would be a dull game.

Humor Will Vary In Channel 2 Hour Special

Top comedians Dick Gregory, "Moms" Mabley, Stu Gilliam and Timmie Rogers will star in a Channel 2 special, "Laughing to Keep From Crying" on Wednesday, December 3, 8 to 9 p.m.

Their laughter is about black America, and about white America too. The humor ranges from bitter satire to pure comedy. Always it is personal, for each comedian has written his own material.

Leon Bibb, folksinger and actor, hosts the hour of comedy originally produced for WGBH's drama series "On Being Black." Now being broadcast by Channel 2 for the first time, "Laughing to Keep From Crying" includes selections by Dick Gregory, social satirist who made national headlines in 1968 when he ran for President as an independent candidate.

Jackie "Moms" Mabley, a vaudeville, night club, theatre and television performer who began her stage career at the age of 14 by dispensing her own brand of down-home humor; and well-known TV performers Stu Gilliam and Tim-mie Rogers.

"Laughing to Keep From Crying" was produced by Luther James and directed by Bob Wagner and Kent Garrett.

Long-Term Workers Feted By Goodwill

Twenty Quarter Century Club members, including two who have completed 50 years service, will be honored by Morgan Memorial Goodwill Industries at a special "Thanks-For-Giving" breakfast on Tuesday, November 25.

More than 695 Goodwill Industries workers from Boston, Lynn and Worcester will attend the event.

The two 50-year recipients will be Joseph Borsini and Barney Pollack, both of Arlington.

Morgan Memorial Goodwill Industries is the largest voluntary non-profit and non-sectarian agency in New England serving handicap-ed and disadvantaged people.

Morgan Memorial will celebrate its 75th birthday in 1970.

SELECTMEN'S RULES OF GOVERNMENT

Requests for hearings before the Board of Selectmen must be filed in writing by 4:30 p.m. on Thursday, or Wednesday should Thursday be a holiday. If possible a hearing will be scheduled, at the discretion of the Board of Selectmen, for the meeting to be held the following Monday. It is the responsibility of the party making the request to confirm the date and time of the hearing. This procedure is necessary to insure that persons will be heard by the Board when scheduled.

Written requests must indicate the subject matter to be discussed in order that the Board may review pertinent background material.

J. Maloney Is Campaign Manag'r For The Blind

J. Joseph Maloney of 6 Lincolnshire Way, Boston attorney and vice-president of Hibernia Savings Bank, will head a major funds campaign on behalf of the Catholic Guild For All The Blind in Newton.

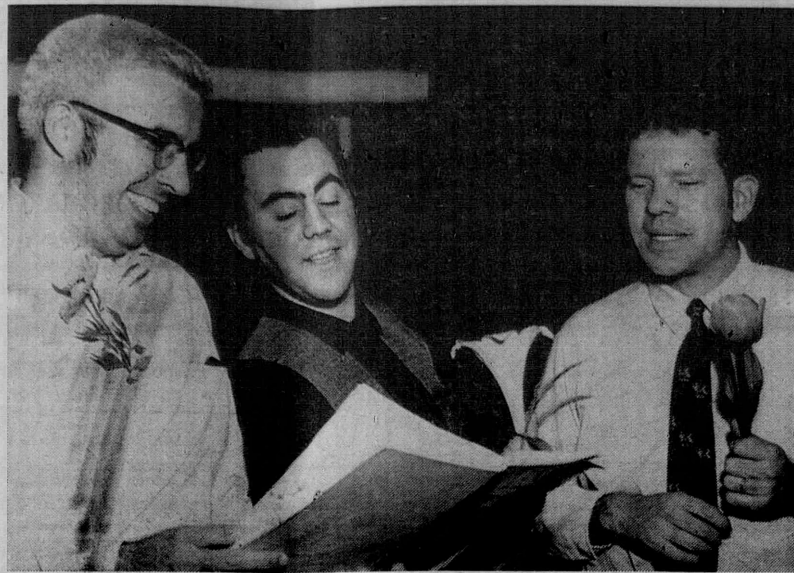

J. JOSEPH MALONEY

The veteran attorney has been named chairman of the Guild's Special Gifts committee, succeeding Robert P. Fitzgerald, president of Harbor National Bank of Boston. The committee is made up of business and civic leaders in the Greater Boston area who enlist support for the Guild.

Mr. Maloney received his bachelor of laws degree from Harvard Law School in 1939. He is now senior member in the law firm of Maloney, Gallagher and Kirk, Boston.

Mr. Maloney is on the Board of Directors of the Guild and is a former member of the Standing Committee of the Latin School of Boston. He is a director of the Federated Group of Mutual Funds, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

The Catholic Guild For All The Blind, 770 Centre Street, Newton, is a noted agency for rehabilitation of blind people, both young and old. The Rev. Thomas J. Carroll is Executive Director.

STRETCHING THE DIGNITY OF AN OPERETTA at rehearsals are, left to right, Harry Downs of 11 Wildwood Street, who will play the Major in Gilbert and Sullivan's "Patience"; Pat Saavedra, who is the Colonel; and Bob Mathews of 26 Grove Street, who plays the Duke. The Staff and Key Society will present the play December 5 and 6 in the Winchester High School Auditorium.

Area Residents Awarded Four "Patience" Leads

Four Winchester residents have starring roles in the Staff and Key Society's performance of "Patience" by Gilbert and Sullivan.

Kristen Beard of 72 Oxford Street plays the role of Lady Ella; Harry Downs of 11 Wildwood Street is the Dragon Major; Enid Houlding of 19 Yale Street plays Lady Jane, and Robert Mathews of 26 Grove Street is the Dragon Lieutenant-Duke in the satiric comedy aimed at female adulation of "fleshy" and "idyllic" poets.

Six other leads have been named including Mrs. Linda (Milani) Palkey, formerly of Arlington, who plays the title singing role, aided by a host of back-up chorus men and women.

The cast has been rehearsing since mid-September under the direction of L. Hassler Einzig, former director of music in the Arlington school system.

The quality of the voices and the management of sometimes difficult stage steps promises to provide two fine evenings of operetta on December 5 and 6 in the Winchester High School auditorium.

Sponsor tickets and regular tickets are available from any member of the Society, or by calling Mrs. Connie Stewart at 729-3598 or Mrs. Charlotte Jason at 729-4847. All seats are reserved, with the curtain going up at 8:15.

Sister Flavia Resigns As Dean At Regis College

Sister M. Flavia Murphy, C.S.J., academic dean at Regis College, Weston since 1964, announced her resignation recently at the monthly meeting of the faculty. Her resignation will be effective in June, 1970.

Sister Flavia came to Regis College in 1946 as an instructor in the department of home economics. She left in 1954 to open Fontbonne Academy, a private secondary school in Milton of which she was the first director. She returned to Regis in 1964 as academic dean.

Sister Flavia did her undergraduate work at Simmons College and holds master's degrees from Cornell University and the Catholic University of America. She is a member of the Catholic Theology Society, the American Conference of Academic Deans, the National Catholic Educational Association, and the national honor societies of Omicron Nu and Phi Upsilon Omicron.

Sister was named to the Liturgical Commission of the Archdiocese of Boston in 1965 and has been listed since 1963 in Who's Who of American Women.

Sister Flavia is a native of Winchester and a graduate of St. Mary's High School. She is the sister of Colonel Thomas D. Murphy and Mrs. Alexander Milley, both of Winchester.

Robert Fortier, Former Resident, Gets Promotion

Robert M. Fortier of Wilton, Connecticut, formerly of Winchester, has been named manager of facilities planning and design for Xerox Corporation.

Mr. Fortier joined Xerox in 1965 as an architectural designer and was named manager of architectural projects in 1967. A native of Winchester, he attended Northeastern University and the Boston Architectural Center.

Mr. and Mrs. Fortier have a daughter.

Suffolk Honors Dr. Lieberman For Long Service

Dr. Leo Lieberman of 17 North Gateway, director of psychological services at Suffolk University, is one of 17 Suffolk faculty members who will be honored by Suffolk's General Alumni Association for 20 years service to the university.

Dr. Lieberman will be presented with a Captains chair at a reception at the 46 Beacon in Boston December 10. He and the other recipients will have their names inscribed on a plaque to be presented to the college library.

A graduate of Harvard University, he holds a bachelor of arts degree, a master of education and a doctor of education from that university. He has also done post-doctoral study at Claremont State College. He joined the Suffolk staff in 1947.

A CHANCE TO HELP

Many elderly and infirm persons, as well as those with small children and limited incomes, need help at Christmas if the holiday is to be a happy occasion in accordance with the American tradition.

To help our less fortunate Winchester friends during the holiday seasons, gifts of money, food and clothing are earnestly solicited.

Gifts may be sent to the Winchester Community Relief Committee.

Sachems Down Woburn 26-12 To Claim Undefeated Season

by John F. Farrell

The Winchester High football eleven, capably coached by Manny Marshall, achieved the dream of every player and coach by beating Woburn 26-12 on Thanksgiving morning. This brought their final record to 9-0 and the victory over Woburn was a fitting dessert to the main dish which was their second consecutive Middlesex League championship.

They all but achieved the "impossible dream" of winning Class B without playing a Class A team, but the Big Blue of Swampscott came from a 14 point deficit to shade Marblehead 15-14 on the strength of a field goal with only a minute left to play. The final Swampscott count was 8-44, the Sachems were second with 8-00 and Melrose third with 7-33.

Just how a meeting between the Sachems and Swampscott would result will long be a subject of discussion and as is usually the case no sure answer is available. They played no mutual opponents and so there is not even the unreliable comparative score system to use as a basis for judging. Both teams have shown steady offensive power and neither was threatened with defeat by defensive lapses until Turkey Day.

On paper it shapes up like an almost perfect standoff with both tallying 20 points or more and breaks deciding the winner, if any. They are coached by men with the best records of any high school coaches in the area, the Bondevitch clan being 27-0-0 and the Marshallmen 24-2-1 over the past three seasons. It would be a dream game but is an impossibility since the Headmasters' Association has banned post season games for the past several years.

Ready to Play

The Tanners came to Manchester Field ready to play football and determined to repeat their upset of last year and they astounded the capacity crowd by giving the Sachems their hardest battle of the season before succumbing to an inspired Winchester second half drive.

The visitors left the field at half-time in the van by 12-6, the only time this season that the all conquering local eleven had been behind at this stage of the game. As a matter of fact the real turning point came in the middle of the third quarter when John Gattin of Woburn broke loose for a 49 yard gallop on a reverse from Bob Morrison and raced to the one yard line of Winchester before he was forced down and out of bounds by Phil Sampson.

The latter gave stern pursuit and managed to elude one Tanner who was protecting the speeding Gattin and nailed him just at the last moment, even 1/5 of a second more would have made him too late. Then with the Winchester defense gacked, a Woburn ball carrier lost control of the ball inches away from the goal and it rolled into the end zone where Ron Fiorilli pounced on it for a touchback.

With this great break as a stimulus, the Winchester crew smashed into Woburn territory on some fine running by Courtney West and some well executed passes to eventually take the 18-12 lead which Woburn had seemed certain to have until the costly goal line fumble.

Once they gained the lead, Winchester kept tight control of the game and added an insurance touchdown to assure the victory. They held the visitors to practically no gains, thus forcing punts and then they ate up the clock as they chalked up at least a half dozen first downs over the final 12 minutes. By this time the frost which had been in the ground had given way to slippery and muddy conditions which hampered the offenses of both elevens, but it can truthfully be stated that although the Woburn crew never quit, the goal line fumble had broken their momentum and they never did recover from the shock. To their credit it is only fair to state that the Sachems knew they had been in a tough ball game and Woburn did work very hard to "Wreck Winchester's Wagon" as the headline read in the Thanksgiving football issue of this newspaper.

Hard-Fought

Although the game was hard fought it was essentially clean although in a few spots tempers did flare. Penalties set Woburn back 30 yards and the Winchester team 55. The slippery pigskin was fumbled three times by both teams and each lost the ball twice but the two which the Sachems came up with were definite factors in their final triumph. As the game was played, the Tanners enjoyed a definite margin over the first half when they played the possession game and did a good job of rushing Co-Captain Mike Gilbert's passing attempts.

The forward wall put on a good pass blitz and but for Mike's scrambling ability they would have nailed him for several sizeable losses. But the final figures showed a total Winchester offense of 428 yards to 187 for Woburn and 20 first downs as opposed to the six made by the Tanners. It was a hard but well earned win and, giving full credit to Woburn, form prevailed and the champions left the field undefeated.

Bill Wolfe did the kickoffs for Winchester in place of Ben Dolan who was bothered by a foot injury. Jim Doucet took his game opening boot near his own 20 and the Tanner speedster was out to the 47 before he hit the ground. An offside penalty and then one for holding moved the pigskin back to the Woburn 36. Dick Massotta was in the clear but the pass was off the target and then Paul Stevens and Chip Emery smothered Morrison's next aerial attempt.

John Lyons, who did all of Woburn's punting, booted the ball and the Sachems had their first offensive play from their own 37. It resulted in a two yard advance by Courtney West but on the next play there was a fumble at the scrimmage line and center Bob Devaney made the first of his two recoveries for Woburn.

Illegal Procedure

A five yard gain by the visitors became a five yard loss on an illegal procedure call and Ron Fiorilli smeared Steve Hogan for a four yard loss. Bob Morrison then completed one of his two passes to Dale Clements for a first down at the Winchester 25 before Mike Desher grounded him.

Steve Hogan was hit hard by Paul Stevens for no advance, and John Arena picked up a couple. Morrison again took to the air but once again Stevens was in on him and he lost six yards. He then completed his second and last pass of the morning to Clements but it was short of the first down marker and the Sachems took over.

Town Incinerator In Operation; Repairs Complete

The Town Incinerator has resumed operation at full capacity following the completion of repairs in major areas which closed the plant down in March.

According to Superintendent of Streets Robert G. O'Brien, only minor adjustments not affecting the operation of the incinerator, remain to be finished in the next few weeks. New England Boiler Workers was the contractor for the repair work which will consume approximately the amount of the Town meeting appropriations of $128,783. The original cost of the plant in 1960 was about $500,000.

Superintendent O'Brien also noted that approximately eight years of "dump life" have been lost during the repairs due to the fact that during this time refuse has been piled on the adjoining land, consuming about 80,000 cubic yards of space. In four or five years, Mr. O'Brien estimates, the Town will be looking for additional land on which to heap refuse.

The cost of removing this accumulated rubbish would be very expensive, Mr. O'Brien informs, and therefore will simply be covered over on the site. About this same amount of fill was previously removed from the Swanton Street dumping area for use in the new high school playing field on Shore Road, giving the dump eight years of additional life at that time.

When the plant was built, a life-expectancy of about 20 years was attached to the incinerator. The structure was seven or eight years old when major repair work was necessary. Superintendent O'Brien foresees the continuing need of minor repair work, but hopes that there will be nothing of major importance as in the past.

He also cautions residents that the present incinerator is not a new plant, but simply a restored structure.

The full-time operation of the incinerator has augmented its use from a one-shift to a two-shift day with continuous burning taking place from 7 a.m. to midnight.

School Committee Considers Budgets In Special Session

School Committee members began discussion of the 1969-70 budget at the special meeting held Monday, December 1 at 9:30 p.m.

Superintendent Donald A. Klemer presented the rentals and cafeteria budgets for consideration.

A two-hour executive session preceded the regular meeting. Expiration of three-year collective bargaining agreements with the five organized groups of School Department employees requires the School Committee to meet for deliberation in closed session.

Contracts are being re-negotiated with the Winchester Education Association (teachers), Winchester Principals' Group, Winchester School Custodians' Association, Winchester School Secretaries Association, and Winchester School Food Services Association.

Discussion of the school rentals included the observation that income from rental of buildings does not meet the costs. Dr. Klemer cited as reasons for this disparity (1) negotiated wage increases for custodians who are on duty while buildings are used, (2) necessity to have lighting technician on duty when auditorium is used to prevent accidental damage due to unfamiliarity with equipment, and (3) the increased use of the schools by the Recreation Committee.

On further study of the figures it was suggested by a Committee member that the Recreation Committee be approached to arrange for them to budget for the custodial fees involved during their use of the buildings. An increase in the amount charged for use of the school facilities by other groups was also suggested.

Report on Usage

The Administration was asked to prepare a report on use of buildings, by whom, rental fees and comparative fees charged by other school systems and by other town buildings.

A 10% decrease in the participation in the 30 cent hot lunch program was explained by Mrs. Katherine O'Brien, supervisor of cafeterias, who met with the Committee to present budget requests for her department.

Figures showed increase in purchase of the 25 cent box lunch at both Winchester High School and Lynch Junior High. She cited increased costs in support of a larger budget request for next year. Among them were food costs (particularly meat prices which are 20% higher than last year), paper supplies which increased 15%, and labor which increased two percent. (Labor costs represent 40% of the operation.) In addition, Mrs. O'Brien explained that Winchester received $2,000 less in Federal commodities.

Overcrowded conditions at the high school were cited by Committee member, Mrs. Mary Mears, as a possible factor in the decrease in participation in the hot lunch program. She explained that students often must stand to eat at one especially crowded lunch period and that the long wait in lines often leaves little time to eat.

On the question from Mr. Del Rossi regarding possible impact if prices were increased, the supervisor of cafeterias explained that prices on the hot lunch and milk must be approved by the State and that, if approved, it was her feeling that a price increase would mean a further decrease in participation. She added that with the opening of Marycliff and the possible implementation of the open campus plan at the High School, 1970 is a difficult year to predict in terms of hot lunch participation.

Mrs. O'Brien was asked what hot meals were found to be most popular among the students. Biggest sales at the High School, according to Mrs. O'Brien, are on cheeseburgers while at the Junior high schools pizza is number one in popularity.

Commendation

The Committee commended Mrs. O'Brien for "doing a marvelous job of running the cafeterias."

A tentative schedule for consideration of budgets includes: maintenance and athletic association on December 8 and other expenses on December 15. The annual tour of buildings with representatives of the Finance Committee to see maintenance necessary will be conducted on Saturday, December 13.

Superintendent Klemer presented the principals' requests for additional personnel. He explained that the requests were made in consideration of increased school population requirements (more students—thus more teachers), new programs planned (Lynch Junior High, for example, is proposing to provide alternatives within the building during study hall time), and equating class sizes (attempting to maintain present standard of 25-1 pupil-teacher ratio).

According to Dr. Klemer, a list of proposed new programs will be presented to the Committee. Details will be given regarding goal, objectives or what must be done to achieve the goal, and total cost.

The Committee deferred action on bids for electronic calculators. The meeting then was continued in executive session.

United Fund Reaches 75% Of Local Goal

Winchester United Fund Chairman, James P. O'Halloran, reports that 75% of the $37,000 goal has been reached.

If there are any citizens who still have not been solicited by a volunteer worker and do wish to contribute to this year's drive, they may do so by sending a check made out to the United Fund to James P. O'Halloran, 20 Mayflower Road.

Residents should watch the United Fund Torch-O-Meter in the center of town where hopefully by the end of the drive, Winchester will have attained 100% of its goal.

Aberjona Watershed Plans Are Discussed By Selectmen

A hearing was held before the Board of Selectmen at its regular meeting Monday night regarding the Aberjona Watershed Committee and the completion of the Davidson Park project.

Present at the hearing were members of the Board; David Turnquist of the Aberjona Watershed Committee; and Albert A. MacDonnell, chairman of the Park Commission.

The Aberjona Watershed Committee was formed by a vote of the 1967 Annual Town Meeting to investigate matters connected with pollution, flood control, flow augmentation, health and use of the Aberjona River and its watershed.

Among the projects which the Committee undertook were the improvement of the Mill Pond Island (now complete) and the improvement of the river channel in Davidson Park, both of which were to be done in conjunction with the Park Department.

Mr. Turnquist reported to the Selectmen Monday night that preliminary studies of the Davidson Park area have been done by the engineering firm of Camp, Dresser and McKee.

Indicating that several delays had occurred in the completion of the project, Mr. Turnquist told the Board he felt that if the project were turned over to an outside firm, rather than to the Town, it would take about one month to reach the bidding stage on the project. Still to be completed are some hydraulic studies of the river.

Mr. Turnquist also indicated that the Committee had been delayed because they had no reply from Woburn with regard to a possibility of a combined project on the river with Woburn which would enable both towns to apply for 100 per cent Federal aid on the project.

In response to questions from the Board, Mr. Turnquist indicated that delays had also been caused by the need for a decision by the Park Commission before money could be allotted the Committee.

The Board suggested a meeting between the Park Commission and the Watershed Committee in which the two could discuss their problems with the project. A member of the Board will attend that meeting, scheduled to be held this month.

Planning Council

In other business, the Board met with Rep. Harrison Chadwick of 24 Everett Avenue to discuss filling of the position on the Metropolitan Area Planning Council (MAPC) which Rep. Chadwick had held for the past six years.

Rep. Chadwick indicated to the Board that he does not wish to be reappointed to MAPC when his current term expires this month. In discussing his reasons for declining the position, Rep. Chadwick cited Gov. Francis Sargent's proposal for a metropolitan government. He told the Board that he wished to be free to fight the Governor's proposal.

Rep. Chadwick also informed the Board that he had filed a bill for the 1970 session of the Legislature asking the repeal of the so-called "snob zoning" bill.

He also indicated that the Board should follow legislation on the retroactive pay for firefighters as a decision from the Attorney General's office on the Town's recent action did not appear to be forthcoming.

The Board also discussed with Rep. Chadwick his recommendations for an appointment to MAPC.

Portrait Presentation

In other action, the Board discussed a letter received from Mrs. Mercedes Meyer of 145 Cambridge Street in which Mrs. Meyer indicates her desire to present a portrait of Simon Bolivar to the Town.

The Selectmen noted that such a gift might best be turned over to the Public Library for its use.

Mrs. Meyer's letter is as follows: "My dear Friends: "When my husband, a Chemi-

Staff and Key To Present "Patience" Friday

The beneficiary of the Staff and Key's presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Patience," this Friday and Saturday, is the Winchester Scholarship Fund.

The performances will be presented December 5 and 6 at 8:15 p.m. in the Winchester High School Auditorium. All seats are reserved. In this hall, all seats are good seats, due to the fine acoustics.

Patrons for this year's program will be thanked in a special addendum to the 32-page program that will be given to each member of the audience by Mrs. Eleanor Thistlethwaite, lower school music director and leader of the popular "Les Troubadours," and her ushers and usherettes from that group primarily.

Mrs. Robert Magnusen of 2 Cutting Street is in charge of the make-up crew and Mrs. Thomas Raphael of 5 Oneida Road is in charge of the wardrobe. Winchester High School's Rick Hillier and Dennis Holland will be prime assistants to Stage Manager Fred Penny and his wife Ruth. Also assisting backstage will be Mrs. Robert Elliott of 501 Washington Street and Mrs. Virginia Goring of Stoneham.

Dress rehearsals were held Sunday through Wednesday, and the show will be ready to go for its first performance, tomorrow night. There is a good mixture of ages in the cast and chorus.

Staff and Key Society Rehearses

"PATIENCE," this year's production by the Staff and Key Society, will be presented tomorrow and Saturday at 8:15 p.m. in the Winchester High School auditorium. Rehearsing a scene from the production are Carol O'Shaughnessy of Lexington, who plays Lady Angela, in the foreground, and members of the chorus. (Ryerson photo)

George K. Bramley

George K. Bramley of 12 Canterbury Road, president of the Middlesex Federal Savings and Loan Association of Somerville, died suddenly on Tuesday, December 2, in Mount Auburn Hospital, Cambridge. He was 60.

He was born in Somerville. His memberships included the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, the 100 Club and the Winchester Country Club.

Mr. Bramley had also served as a trustee of the Somerville Hospital, a treasurer of the Somerville Chamber of Commerce and a director of the County Bank N.A.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Margaret R. (Boekmann) Bramley of 12 Canterbury Road; a son, Robert George Bramley of North Andover; a daughter, Mrs. Gale M. MacDonald of Winchester; a brother, William C. Bramley of Plaistow, New Hampshire; and a sister, Mrs. Frances Biddle of Cambridge.

Funeral services will be held Friday, December 5, at 11 a.m. in the St. James Episcopal Church, Cambridge, with the Rev. Russell Way officiating. Visiting hours will be conducted in the A. E. Long Memorial Chapel, Cambridge, today from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Burial will be in Cambridge Cemetery. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to the charity of the donor's choice or to the Garland of Memories Fund at St. James Church, Cambridge.

Edward L. McManus

Edward L. McManus of 340 Cross Street, a resident of Winchester for 21 years, died on Saturday, November 29, after a brief illness in the Winchester Hospital. He was 48.

Born in Everett, January 7, 1921, he was the son of Thomas and Catherine (Cullen) McManus, natives of Everett and Newfoundland, respectively. Educated in the Everett school system, Mr. McManus was a graduate of Everett High School.

Flags in Winchester were lowered to half-staff in memory of Mr. McManus, who served in the U. S. Navy during World War II as a Metalsmith 2nd Class. He was also a member of the U. S. Naval Reserve.

He was employed as a sheet metal worker in the Boston Navy Yard for 29 years.

His memberships included the Immaculate Conception Church and the Holy Name Society of that church; the St. Pius X General Assembly, Knights of Columbus; the Winchester Knights of Columbus, in which he was an active participant and a Past Grand Knight; and the Winchester Knights of Columbus Bowling Team.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Rita A. (Doherty) McManus, of 340 Cross Street; three daughters, Miss Mary McManus, Miss Rita C. McManus and Miss Barbara A. McManus, all at home; two brothers, Wilfred McManus and Raymond McManus, both of Everett; and three sisters, Mrs. Evelyn Farrell and Gladys McManus, both of Everett, and Mrs. Doris Walsh of Malden.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, December 2, from the Lane Funeral Home, 716 Main Street, followed by a Solemn High Mass in the Immaculate Conception Church at 9 a.m.

Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Woburn. Serving as honorary pallbearers were members of the Winchester Knights of Columbus, Council 210, Grand Knight Richard Kelley, Past Grand Knights Leonard Sortino, Richard Fiore and Carl Bruno, and members George Foley and William Hargerty.

Ewen Hume

Ewen Hume, who made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Harold (Gladys) Mood of 4 Prospect Street, died on Wednesday, November 26, in Wakefield after a long illness. He was 81.

Born in Canada, Mr. Hume had been employed as a carpenter prior to his retirement. He lived in Winchester with his daughter for approximately five years. He was the husband of the late Mrs. Prudence (Taylor) Hume.

He was a member of the Church of Scotland, Cambridge.

Besides his daughter, he leaves four sons, Elmer Hume and Alvin Richard Hume, both of Hingham, Robert Hume of Topsfield and Lloyd Hume of Somerville; and two other daughters, Mrs. Gordon (Isabelle) Mood of Florida and Mrs. Mary A. Buzzell of New Hampshire.

Funeral services were held on Saturday, November 29, in the Delo Russo Funeral Home, Medford at 2 p.m. The Rev. Brent Robitson of the Church of Scotland officiated. Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery, Medford.

Correction

Among those surviving Mrs. Dorra Revere (Hay) Caldwell of Heniker, New Hampshire, who died on Monday, November 24 in New London, New Hampshire, is her husband, John E. Caldwell of Heniker, incorrectly given as deceased in the obituary which appeared in the Star of November 27. She also leaves a son, John H. Caldwell and three granddaughters, all of 21 Symmes Road.

Annual Report Gives Figures On Heart Fund

Contributions by Massachusetts residents to the Massachusetts Heart Association exceeded $1 million in the 1968-1969 fund drive, according to the recent MHA annual report. The precise figure was $1,750,968.

According to MHA president Elliot G. Strauss, M.D., the 12-page report is primarily written for "the thousands of Massachusetts citizens whose generous contributions during the February drive accounted for the bulk of this sum ($953,220) and for the army of energetic and dedicated volunteers who solicited the funds from their neighbors."

The report describes in detail how Heart Fund money is used for research projects (30 per cent), public and medical education (29 per cent), community service (7 per cent), education services and other costs of the American Heart Association (10 per cent), fund raising (19 per cent), and general administration (11 per cent).

In addition to the February fund drive, other sources of income were memorial gifts and bequests. Memorial gifts, given in the memory of someone who died from heart disease, were received in record numbers and totaled $218,576. Gifts by bequests are growing year by year, says the report, and totaled $437,552. Receipts from miscellaneous sources such as special fund-raising auctions or heart balls and business gifts totaled $141,620.

The report cites 18 research projects that are underway in major medical centers with Massachusetts Heart funds. Research in the past has resulted in such life saving devices as the artificial heart valve (a striking closeup of one dominates the front cover of the report), sophisticated diagnostic techniques, and operations to save babies born with congenital heart defects.

Research investigations currently in progress with Massachusetts Heart funds include a study of what happens to the heart muscle as it recovers from lack of oxygen; a study of a substance heparin, which is important in preventing clotting; a study of how a high fat diet affects the blood, liver, tissue, and artery walls; and an evaluation of the heart's performance using sound recordings of the heart muscle walls.

In order that the breakthroughs of research can benefit the heart patient, the Massachusetts Heart Association runs a year-round program of postgraduate courses for doctors and nurses. The public is kept informed of the latest medical breakthroughs and of how to protect their own hearts through an organized public education program utilizing the news media and free pamphlets, films, and speakers.

Community service activities of the Heart Association include a rheumatic fever prevention program; courses in cardiopulmonary resuscitation (mouth-to-mouth breathing combined with chest massage); legislative activity to improve chances for the cardiac of employment and re-employment; acting as a clearing house of information to the heart patient and his family; and the establishment of programs to rehabilitate victims of stroke.

The public can obtain a copy at no charge at any of the Massachusetts Heart Association chapters or by writing to Massachusetts Heart, Annual Report, 85 Devonshire Street, Boston, Massachusetts 02109.

Serving The Community For 89 Years

Editorials:

Happy Birthday Young Man

Young men in Winchester between the ages of 19 and 26 along with their counterparts all across the country had their fates sealed this week with the draft lottery Monday night.

At least one young man here—Howard Ambrose—was happy to learn his number. With a birthdate of June 8, he came in 366. A senior at Providence College, he told a reporter from the Boston Herald-Traveler that he couldn't believe his good luck at first. "Some friends told me I was 366, but I called my girl friend to be sure and she confirmed it. I think it's great," he said.

Reactions throughout the country ranged from jubilation at the fortune of being born June 8 and anguish with a birthdate of September 14, the first date drawn. It was perhaps one of the few lotteries which no one wanted to enter, let alone win.

Given the suppositions that a volunteer Army could not work and that this country must have some type of defense, it becomes obvious that the country has to evolve some method of drawing its young men into the Armed Forces. The means of drawing people should be somewhat fair, causing each person to have an equal chance of being called. Despite additional reforms which have been called for in the system, the lottery meets the requirement that each man stand an equal chance of going.

Editorial Comments

The season's first dusting of snow Monday was a blissful taste of things to come for skiers and a portent of another of New England's famous winters for those for whom visions of snow shovels and aching back muscles loom large.

Tuesday night's CBS special titled "A Timetable for Vietnam" was the first hopeful documentary we have seen on the subject. The feeling of the officers and men interviewed in the film is that by 1972 only 20,000 troops need be left in Vietnam to complete the training of the South Vietnamese. Although this is still more than the 16,000 troops sent in as advisors by the late President Kennedy, it is at least something for which to aim.

Our congratulations go out to the Sachems for their undefeated season and their wonderful 26 to 12 win over Woburn. Their comeback from a first half performance that looked like a perfect repeat of last year's loss made victory sweet!

With the new system, as we understand it, the youngest, the 19-year-olds, will be the eligible group each year, along with those who have received previous deferments, such as the IIS student deferment. Thus if a 19-year-old has a student deferment and his number is 001, he will not be called until his student deferment is ended. In the year in which his deferment ends, however, he will be called up along with the 19-year-olds of that year who have the number 001. All those between 19 and 26 who received numbers this year will have that number until their 27th birthday. It also is unlikely that anyone with a number over 244 will be called.

One of the obvious benefits of the system is that a young man will have only one year to worry about the draft catching up with him, and if his number is over 244, the possibility is almost non-existent. The year of worry is either the year of the person's 19th birthday or the year in which a deferment ends.

This new system seems to us a very good one, making it possible for young men to plan their lives, educations, and careers without a seven-year threat of the draft disrupting their plans. It seems as fair as any system can be that calls some and leaves others. The place we would now ask reform is in the rules governing deferments.

The Fire Department reminds this week that any open burning requires a permit from that department—including burning of leaves. Chief I. Francis Amico also reminds that no permits will be issued for burning of leaves in the street since this is harmful to the black top. Anyone trying to beat the snow in cleaning the yard should take note of the laws concerning disposal of the leaves.

Our commendation goes this week to the Clearwater Road resident who cared enough about the goings on at a neighbor's house to report his suspicions to the police. By his tip and his notation of the car registration, the police were able to apprehend two juveniles on suspicion of breaking and entry. We have urged residents many times to report any suspicious actions in the neighborhood to the police, and on several occasions neighbors' reports have paid off in apprehension of suspects.

Disagrees With Play Review

Editor of the Star:

While reading the review of the play "Kind Lady" in the Star of November 29, I could think only of the words of Alexander Pope, "Damn with faint praise." I would take exception with almost every statement in Mr. Foskett's article. Granted the play is of awkward construction with its prologue and epilogue, and the story it presents is unrealistic in our culture of today—no Mary Herries of the 1960's would have the serene self-assurance to invite into her home a beggar encountered on the street! But going to the theatre is on experience that involves a willing suspension of disbelief, as some critic has said.

The Unitarian Players cast for this show were consistently fine. Elizabeth Hoxie as Mary had a difficult role to sustain; first as the wealthy woman quite in charge of her own life, then revealing the gradual disintegration, physically and mentally, as she came under the control of those who had usurped her house. Even in the moments when all hope seemed gone, Miss Hoxie projected the indomitable human spirit that the forces of evil can overcome. Eloise Kadesch and Albert Smith, as noted in the review, are accomplished actors with an excellent stage presence. Together they made entirely believable the couple who skate on the thin edge of respectability, their criminal tendencies overlaid with the veneer of false mannerisms.

Space does not allow me to mention each person. I regret I cannot "re-review" the entire play.

Of all the opinions expressed by Mr. Foskett, and he has every right to offer his impressions, I disagree most with his appraisal of Bob Magnusen in the role of Henry Abbott. From his earliest appearance in shabby clothes giving his hard-luck story to Miss Herries one is aware of some scheme in his mind; what is it and how will it be implemented? The developments that ensue show careful planning by a strong and magnetic personality, an educated man, how else could he so thoroughly control the two more violent characters who are his accomplices, or install himself in this house with complete domination of its mistress?

Mr. Magnusen's small but important gestures, his voice conveying menace while reassuring Mary Herries, his air of standing apart from the rough action while actually condoning it, his scenes with the more innocent characters in the play where he presents the very picture of an honest man entrusted with great responsibility—all were done in complete command of his part.

When one considers the enormous amount of time and talent given to the production of a local play, rehearsals three and four times a week; the hours spent in obtaining furnishings, costumes, props; the building of the set; the lighting and sound effects which are so important (the audience must be able to see and if a telephone is to be answered it must ring first!), one can only marvel that there are people who care enough about the theater to try to keep it alive in the suburban area. Both the Unitarian Players and the Parish Players are to be commended for their efforts in this regard.

The critic writing for a city newspaper or a national publication has the freedom, even the duty, to give his opinion frankly on a play, a concert, an art exhibit. Indeed, some have been accused of wielding too much influence! The person invited to review for publication a production on the local, non-professional level should find it incumbent upon himself to remember that the people involved are fellow citizens in the community, giving their time and talents to bring pleasure to others, the only recompense being the fun of working with similar theatre lovers, and a few kind words in the Winchester Star.

Sincerely yours,
Joan P. Benson

Accusing Men Of Cowardice Is Disturbing

Editor of the Star:

It is disturbing to see, in a letter printed in last week's Star, the accusation of cowardice levelled at young men who, at considerable risk to themselves, are putting in to practice the principles taught them by their elders, including the precepts of the Ten Commandments and the ideals of our own Founding Fathers.

It was also disturbing to find in the same letter an expression of belief in the myth that the U.S. armed forces in Vietnam are protecting civilians from a "bloodbath." I am amazed that this myth has survived the shocking revelations of the past few weeks, including not only the sickening story of the massacre at Song My, but the still more heart-rending report (if such a thing is possible) that civilian casualties from all causes in Vietnam vastly exceed those inflicted in the massacre. According to official South Vietnamese sources, quoted in The New York Times of November 27, such casualties were running at the rate of 9,600 a month at the time of the massacre.

To the victims, it matters little whether the killing and wounding of human beings on such a scale is classified as a "bloodbath." To prolong it, by continuing to intervene in Vietnam's civil war, is to bleed the patient to death by surgical means lest he suffer a hemorrhage at some later date—a hemorrhage, let it be noted, that can be prevented by resettling those individuals whose active participation on the American side might make them targets for retaliation.

Sincerely,
Ruth D. Terzaghi

Thanks Florists

Editor of the Star:

The plant table committee of the Unitarian Church "Christmas Fair" wishes to thank the florists and green houses in and around Winchester for their generosity in giving us a discount as a church activity. We enjoyed watching the adults as well as the children, hugging their plants as they went away.

We feel that the beauty and wonder of living plants is food for our souls. We would all benefit if we would buy living plants and flowers more often and our local merchants can supply our needs beautifully.

Sincerely,
Justine M. King

Hit And Run Accident Occurs On Bacon Street

A hit and run motor vehicle accident resulting in property damage and personal injury was reported to the Police Department during the past week.

Miss Helen L. Pogal of Hempstead, New York, and her father, Bernard Pogal of West Medford came to the station to inform police of the incident. According to the police report, filed by Sergeant Mario Buzzotta, the Pogals were traveling north on Bacon Street and had stopped for a red light at the intersection with Church Street when they were hit from behind by another automobile.

The Pogals pulled to the side of the road to engage in accident procedures and the second car followed behind them, but as Mr. Pogal approached the other vehicle, the driver pulled away. They did not obtain the license plate number.

Mrs. Pogal, who was also a passenger in the front seat, complained of chest pains and neck whiplash after hitting the dashboard. She was taken to Lawrence Memorial Hospital.

Damage to their automobile occurred on the trunk door and on the rear bumper.

Later a Lexington man called the police station to report that he had been a witness to such an accident, had seen the license plate number and had even pursued the other vehicle for some distance.

Subsequently the registration of this car was obtained, leading to the information that the vehicle is in the use of a Winchester man. Police are trying to contact this man as investigation continues.

Watershed Plans

country, accepted a position with the International Division of The Badger Company, and consequently we had to move to Boston, I was thrilled!

"Boston, a beautiful, historical and friendly city, has long been dear to my heart. Furthermore, the first North American Ambassador to my country, The Hon. Thomas Russell, was a Bostonian, and his daughter, Miss Nelly Russell married a young Venezuelan, Mr. Tomas Ibarra Rivas, whose family is related to my mother's, and who became an outstanding scholar, professor at Harvard University and author of the classic "A Young Man from Caracas," which I am sure is familiar to many of you, friends.

"So when, as a wife and mother, we came my duty was to "shop around" for a place to settle. We visited many communities around Boston, until we came to Winchester. Frankly, it was love at first sight with us!

"If I may be romantic about it, the beauty of the lake, the majestic and tranquil sight of its churches, and above all, the friendly, though reserved, manner of the people touched our hearts and made us feel that this was 'home.'

"And as the months have rolled by, we have had more reasons to be happy of our choice. From the very beginning, wherever either my daughter or I have gone, we were made to feel welcome.

"This warm and spontaneous hospitality was forever present in my mind during my trips back to Caracas, and, in more than one opportunity, I brought it out to various groups as an example of the proverbial "North American kindness and generosity." So, on my last trip in July, the Bolivarian Society of Venezuela, as well as the Chamber of Commerce of Caracas, asked me to act as their special envoy of friendship, to extend a warm 'saludo' - greeting to the people of Winchester, from the people of Caracas.

"And to make sure that the people of Winchester would always have a special bond that would tie them to the people of Caracas, the Bolivarian Society of Venezuela entrusted me with a portrait of our greatest national hero, Simon Bolivar, liberator of Venezuela, Colombia, Peru, Ecuador and Bolivia, born in Caracas, not only a great general but an outstanding citizen of The Americas.

"Simon Bolivar, scion of an old and aristocratic Venezuelan family, was born in Caracas on July 24, 1793. Very young he was sent to Spain to be educated under his uncles and also his kinsman, the Marquis of Uztariz, a famous Spanish philosopher of that century. The young Bolivar grew up in an atmosphere of high intellectual refinement and culture. Since early in his life he showed extraordinary talent, intelligence and dedication to the studious life, as well as a keen awareness of the social problems and the then new and shocking philosophy of "equality and freedom" for all mankind. This sincere preoccupation for freedom for all led him later on in his life to dedicate all his efforts, immense personal wealth, power of leadership and statesmanship to the fight for the freedom not only of his beloved country Venezuela, but also for all the Latin American continent.

"On the 5th of July 1810, together with a handful of young patriots, he proclaimed the Independence of Venezuela from the Crown of Spain, initiating a long and bloody war which would last more than 17 years and which would take him from the steaming plains (llanos) of Venezuela to the coldest, snow-covered Andean altitudes and mountains, in Bolivia, matching his brilliant mind and extraordinary military genius against the most powerful armies led by the most distinguished general of the mighty Spain!

"And as a result of this, five nations, like the crown of glory, are his pedestal in posterity, where he takes his place among the greatest generals of the world, such as Washington, Alexander the Great, Napoleon!

"But aside from the priceless gift of freedom, Simon Bolivar left also another priceless gift: a great love for the cause of the unity of the Americas. His unflinching faith in the greatness of the people of the Americas made him foresee, as far back as 1827, in Panama, that all the people of the Americas would eventually become a mighty family of independent, sovereign nations, powerful, peace-loving and leaders among the rest of the nations.

"It is therefore with great affection and pride that, on behalf of the people of Caracas, I want to donate this portrait of this great son of America, Simon Bolivar, as a token of friendship to the nice and progressive people of Winchester, as well as a symbol of his dream for which we should all work: peace, understanding, respect among all of us citizens of North and South America."

PECKED TO DEATH BY GOSLINGS

by Jane Trahey

Even when they came from Marlboro country they like New York City. Just the place to be, Jane Trahey thought, disregarding the papers, bottles and garbage underfoot. Arriving in the spring, she was astonished to find the summer exodus on week-ends, and visiting around was just not her cup of tea.

She decided to buy her own place. As she says, "I had only to find a charming, well-built, small eighteenth-century completely fixed-up house, with a backyard in the country and a front yard on the ocean. Cheap."

As she puts it, after looking at 2,700 houses, an ad for a place in Old Gosling, Conn., caught her eye. She phoned and could see it that very day. She thought she would be meeting a man.

This is how she says it was: "I picked up the masculine voice at the real estate agent's home. She was a good seventy, and had frizzy, appallingly hair that was bright red, and she smoked cigars—not Tiparillos.

"My name is Ma Henderson." She puffed her cheroot and studied me as thoroughly as I have ever been studied. "Want one?" She offered me a big black cigar.

"No," I said sheepishly, fearing to offend her. "I don't smoke. I only engage in the major vices." I hoped this might salvage my personality."

Ma Henderson sold Jane, not the farmhouse she wanted, having been tricked into thinking it had already been sold, but the barn. It was renovated and christened Versailles because of the expense. The contractor often mistook her, the author felt, for Louis XIV.

Her guests arrived. Every Saturday it was antiquing, and possessions became things to be kept clean. As she puts it, "One day I asked the liquor lady, 'Don't you know anyone. I'm bushed. I can't go on like this. I'll have to sell.'"

"Of course she had to lose a prize customer like me. . . ." The result was that Mrs. Firenza, an Italian lady of the community, was hired to help with the cleaning.

She would telephone Jane in New York. "Missa Tray, how are you?"

"Fine, Mrs. Firenza, and you?" . . .

"Oh, me, I'm pretty good for an old lady. Everything fine here in the house last weekend?"

"It looked fine to me, Mrs. Mirenza."

"Now it was coming. 'You didn't see no snakes?' 'There it was. 'No, Heavens, No. I didn't see no snakes.'"

"Well, Missa Tray, I tella you, I kill da baby snakes," she said proudly. "Three of dem" . . .

"So that was it: a mother snake was loose in my closet."

Her neighbors included an alcoholic, Orville, with an Eskimo wife and ten children. Orville, turned into a compulsive visitor. So she bought a dog, and after all who wants someone looking at them while they're still asleep, and fenced in her property. The place to get away from it all had its share of nuisances.

But after five years the author admits she had to keep trying to remember just what it was that ever prompted her to buy the barn in the first place. With the phobes nesting in the rafters, "their most charming trait was to scream 'feeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeee' about 25,000 times a day. The first time I heard it I was delighted. Then came the other 24,999 times."

But the guests, the bills, the neighbors, slowly got her down and she decided to sell. After all, she had to save money for her old age. As for an outlet, she would take up Karate. The real-estate man was summoned, who knew a good thing when he saw it. In the meantime the neighbors had moved and their place was also for sale. One day she and the real-estate agent looked it over, and she began to realize that he was the most poetic real-estate agent she had ever met.

The details of the purchase were simple enough. She remarks, He was a great Swamp Yankee like all the rest. Instead of selling my place to someone else, he had sold me the house next door."

Local Boys Make All-Star Teams

Although nothing can be officially announced at this time it is very certain that some members of the Sachem football eleven as well as some Middlesex League rivals have been named to the mythical all-scholastic teams of the Boston news-papers.

So, local sports enthusiasts must keep their eyes open to see whether their favorites have been selected for the honorary teams. Although not necessarily conclusive they do have a definite bearing on the chances of the players being sought by colleges which have a particular interest in the gridiron sport.

Co-Captain MIKE GILBERTI Jr., quarterback, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gilberti Sr., of 7 Clematis Street. He attended McCall Junior High and plays baseball and football. He is planning to attend Holy Cross.

DENNIS ROTONDI, end, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Rotondi Sr., of 224 Forest Street. He attended McCall Junior High. He plays baseball, basketball and football. Future plans have him attending the University of Maine.

PETER WARDWELL, guard, and end, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David S. Wardwell, of 39 Lorena Road. He attended McCall Junior High. A member of the wrestling team, he plays football and lacrosse. He plans to enter the University of New Hampshire.

Sons Of Italy News

The regular meeting of the Sons of Italy for December was held Monday, December 1 with Venerable Joe Paonessa starting the meeting at 8:30 p.m.

This year there will not be a members' children's Christmas Party, as this subject was discussed and voted on at the August meeting. The program and entertainment committee have been working out plans for a Christmas Party for 35 to 40 children from the Italian Home for Orphans in Jamaica Plain.

The party will be held in the club hall on Saturday, December 20th. The committee will have to bus the children and six nuns to and from the party, and will also serve a meal for all to enjoy. They also plan to give each child a gift, possibly a sweater or something in that line.

The committee is asking for support in the way of a small donation to help defray the expense of this party. Donations are being taken by the Venerable, the stewards at the club, or Bob and William Fiore.

The Second Pot of Gold dance was held on Friday evening November 28th, with a large attendance on hand. On account of the busy holiday season coming the committee voted not to have a dance this month, but the next dance will be held on January 23, 1970.

The name of John Paonessa was drawn to win the pot of gold, but he was not in attendance so the pot has grown for the January affair.

Chairman Dick Tofuri of the Blood Committee is looking for additional help. Anyone who would like to serve on this committee please contact Dick as soon as possible.

The committee will be planning for the next Blood Bank day which will be on April 17, 1970.

At this meeting Venerable Paonessa introduced the newly appointed Grand Deputy who is the Venerable of the Newton Lodge. He is Ambrose D. Cedone. Mr. Cedone told how happy he was to have been appointed to the Winchester Lodge and that he will try his best to be a good deputy and to assist the lodge in any way that he can.

Don Provinzano announced that his next social night will be held on Friday evening, December 19th.

Christmas Concert Planned At Hammond Castle

Kenneth Wilson will present his Christmas organ concert at the Hammond Castle, Hesperus Avenue, Gloucester, December 13 and December 20 at 8:30 p.m.

Due to the large volume of tickets sold for these concerts, a Friday evening concert has been planned on December 13 at 8:30 p.m. Tickets may be ordered by telephone or mail. All tickets must be paid for at least three days in advance of the performances.

A new album "Christmas at the Castle" with Kenneth Wilson at the console of the Hammond Museum organ has recently been made and will be released on Saturday, December 13.

Albums may be purchased at the Castle Gift Shop or by mail order.

"TO BE — OR NOT TO BE"

by John F. Parrell

As so often happens when a team has an outstanding season, there is considerable discussion among sports followers as to what can or should be done to reward the undefeated Sachem football team. However, to date nothing in the way of a definite plan of action has been crystallized nor has any committee been formed.

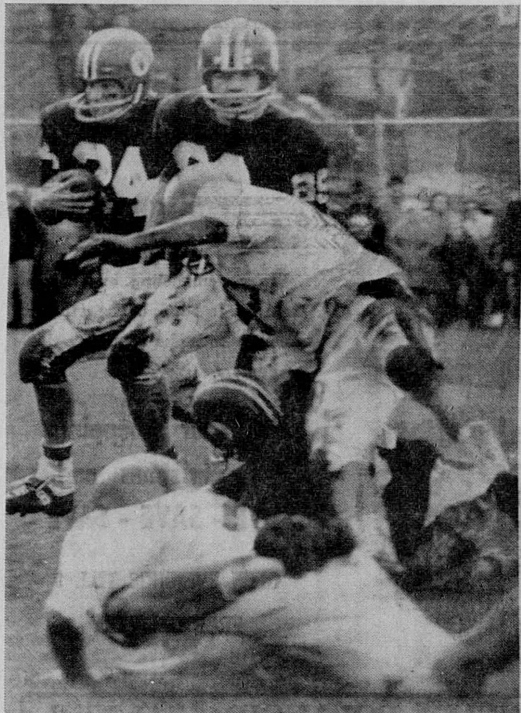

The writer prepared a short circular posing the question, and it was distributed to some 1,500 fans who were leaving the park after the great Winchester victory. A reply was received from Robert E. Johnson, chairman of the Bellino-Dattilo committee which had a Miami trip in 1960 and from just three other families.

There have been other groups talking and investigating, but to date there is nothing definite to report. Fraternal and civic organizations are also said to be interested.

One thing is certain, that whatever is undertaken will be expensive and will require much unified action if anything worthwhile is to be achieved. In this connection it is suggested that all interested persons or organizations make their interest and plans known to this writer in care of the newspaper. In this way we will be able to correlate all efforts and ideas.

As a veteran of three such expeditions with Malden, the most recent being the 'Gator Bowl' trip to Jacksonville, this writer is well aware of the need for money, first of all, but equally important, the need for careful planning to insure success and avoid overlapping of efforts.

But be assured of one thing, a Winchester-Swampscott game or any type of post-season contest is definitely banned by the Headmasters' Association. However, there is no regulation against "educational trips," etc. So, let's know what people have in mind. Get the various groups together so as to get this testimonial from the talking to the planning stage.

PHIL SAMPSON (24) charges down the field with the ball as Ben Dolan (39) moves in close beside him. The Thanksgiving Day win gave the Sachems an undefeated season. (Ryerson photo)

Sachem Eleven Downs Tanners 26-12

FAST ACTION was the story of the Sachem-Tanner contest on Thanksgiving Day as Winchester lagged at the half but came alive during the third quarter to defeat the Tanners. (Ryerson photo)

The Winchester offense sputtered and stalled after gaining seven yards and, after an incomplete pass to Phil Sampson at the sideline, Gilberti punted and the ball rolled dead at the Tanner 42. Woburn was equally ineffective offensively and almost lost the ball on an interception as it headed directly for Ron Fiorilli and Noel Webb. Both went up for the ball not realizing the other was there and it fell harmlessly with no Woburn player within 10 yards of the spot.

Lyons punted and Bob Wolfe brought the ball to the Sachem 43. Courtney West barreled for a first down at the Woburn 46. Two aerial attempts failed but Joe Campo made his first appearance and snagged one for a first down at the visitors' 20. It was a good grab which Joe made as he fell, batting the ball with one hand before gathering it in. Two plays later another completed pass to Phil Sampson gave the Sachems a first down at the Woburn 13 as the period ended.

Second Period

The next three plays saw a stiffening of the Tanner forward wall and short gains by West and Desher were neutralized as the onrushing visitors' front line threw Gilberti for a loss. An incomplete pass ended the threat as Woburn Co-Captain Tony Montecalvo and Paul Lindmark harassed Co-Captain Gilberti. Steve Hogan met Bill Wolfe and two plays resulted in a four-yard loss. Jim Doucet was equally unsuccessful with Ron Fiorilli, and John Lyons booted to the 36.

Phil Sampson reversed for a first down at the 22 and on the next play Mike Desher advanced to the 16 aided by a particularly hard block by Ben Dolan. The latter then punted out a first down at the 11 and after two plays netted a total of four, Mike Gilberti pitched perfectly to Bill Wolfe in the end zone and Winchester was in front by 6-0. The point try found Gilberti trapped and with only minutes of the period left to play, it seemed that the game was running true to form.

But the Tanners had other ideas and did not take long to execute them. Jim Doucet brought the kickoff out to the 32 and then Steve Hogan carried on three of the next four plays.

The first was a 14 yard first down spurt, then came one of five, and finally he broke loose over his right side, outran the Sachem defenders and crossed the goal to even the count. This followed the Winchester score by less than three minutes and the game remained tied as a pass to Joe Campo at the 30 and another to Ben Dolan made a first down at the Woburn 20.

Kickoff

Following the kickoff, Winchester made little headway and after a long pass just missed fire to Bill Wolfe, there was another fumble and Art Muse covered it at the home team's 16. Hogan was thrown by Mark Keating after a short gain and after a long delay due to the noise of the spectators the play finally got under way and Hogan broke away for a first down at the three.

On the very next play John Arena smashed over to give Woburn a 12-6 lead as the point try was smeared by the entire Sachem right side. This came with less than two minutes left in the half and although Winchester made a first down on a dash by Gilberti, the half ended with the Woburn stands still delirious with the score which had put them in front of the highly touted Sachems and the game was already half over. They rushed to the concessions still chattering with glee over the turn things had taken and the Winchester supporters trailed off glumly with visions of last year's debacle still haunting them and wondering if Woburn's wagon wrecking threat would indeed be successful once more.

Second Half

But as soon as the teams returned to the field for the second half it became quite obvious that things had changed. The Sachems were fired up and although the Tanners continued to fight hard the complexion of the game had changed perceptibly.

During the intermission Coach Manny Marshall and his assistants pointed out the flaws which had marred the first half performance and they also added a few well placed words to stimulate the team to better action in the second half. Whatever was said, it was a far different eleven which took the field and scarcely three minutes had elapsed before the ball game was tied at 12-12.

Woburn kicked off and Bob Wolfe received the ball at the 19 but slipped down immediately in the oozy going. Co-Captain Mike Gilberti took to the air at once and Joe Campo grabbed the ball for a first down at the 37. Courtney West smashed through for five and on the next play Phil Sampson slashed for a first down at midfield. On the next play West rambled all the way to the 35 and then added nine more on two smashes.

After a pass failed, Ben Dolan picked up the first down at the 25 after a hard battle with the Woburn frontier. Phil Sampson went for seven and on the next play West lugged all the way to the Tanner seven for another first down. Sampson brought the ball to the five and then Gilberti made a beautiful toss to Bill Wolfe to knot the count.

The try from placement failed and the deadlock continued. Thus in an even down the Sachems had drawn even and had once again looked like the classy team they really are.

Woburn was far from through and after taking the kickoff Jim Doucet raced all the way to the 40. Steve Hogan picked up three and then Doucet crossed midfield for a first down. It was at this point that track champion John Gatlin made his hair raising run which Phil Sampson ended only a yard from the goal line.

First Down

Taking over at the 20, Gilberti hurled a strike to sophomore Dana Peterson for first down at midfield. West made five and then was off for another first down at the 32. The onrushing Woburn line smeared Gilberti for an eight yard loss and a pass to West was unsuccessful. A 15 yard penalty set up a second down and 33 situation, but a pass to Joe Campo at the 30 and another to Ben Dolan made a first down at the Woburn 20.

Two plays made six but on the next play another Sachem fumble was recovered by Bob Devaney for Woburn at the 12. This was his second recovery of the game and relieved the pressure only momentarily as the Tanners fumbled on the second play and once again it was Ron Fiorilli who had the ball.

Dolan hit the line for three and on the next play Dana Peterson took the pass in the end zone to make the count 18-12. The extra point try by rush failed and it was 18-12, Winchester, as the third quarter ended.

Returning the kickoff to the 35, Woburn found the Sachem line airtight and then took to the air but was equally unsuccessful. The punt went dead at the 28 and Winchester had the ball again. Ben Dolan went for an apparent first down but a holding penalty brought the ball back to the 25.

Gilberti's pass to Campo was caught at the 40 and Joe was finally forced out of bounds at the Woburn 39. Dolan made four and then sophomore John Procopio was inserted to carry for a first down at the 29. Dolan made three and Gilberti lost three and added six more. The latter then threw to Campo for first down at the 14.

Sampson made seven and West two with Dolan picking up first down at the four. The Woburn defense bristled but on third down Dolan scored and this time Sampson swept to the right for the two extra markers to make the final tally 26-12.

In desperation the Tanners took to the air but without even the slightest success and they finally punted to the Sachem 34. It was now just a matter of killing the clock and the satisfied Winchester team with the game and the undefeated season safely secure ground out two more first downs to end any Woburn hopes of a last-minute rally.

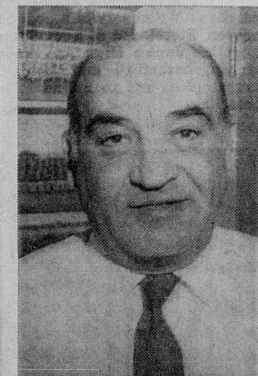

The final whistle sounded on the slinky playing surface and the exultant Sachems had achieved their "impossible dream" even though a willing Woburn team, well coached by Len Till, had made a determined attempt to "wreck their wagon." Thus ended one of the most successful seasons in Winchester's illustrious history. It was 14 years coming and it was really accomplished.

The score by periods:
Winchester 0 6 12 8—26
Woburn 0 12 0 0—12
Touchdowns: W. Wolfe (2), Peterson, Dolan, Hogan, Arena
Points by rush: Sampson

Trainer Has Boys In Tip Top Shape

No small part of the success of the Sachem gridiron eleven can be traced to the care received at the hands of its trainers. From the opening day of practice and even after the season has ended, the players receive excellent care from trainer Frank Provinzano of 31 Lebanon Street.

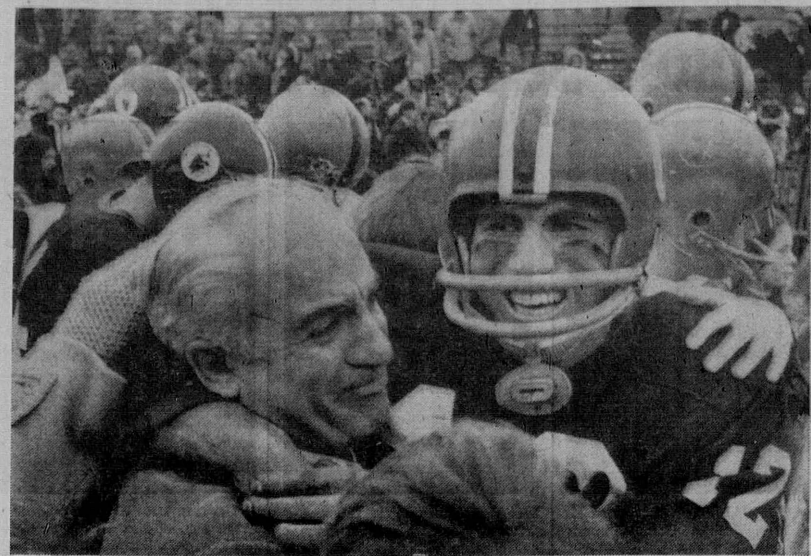

FRANK PROVINZANO

The former head coach of all sports for many years at Lynch Junior High ministers to their every physical need short of those which requires professional medical attention.

The boys appreciated this expert attention which made the bumps and bruises heal quickly, and even those injuries which took longer to heal improved with the therapy. Besides being one who knew the game and how to care for injuries, Frank was a confidant of those who needed words of advice on various matters.

Student trainer Peter "Doc" Murphy was also on hand every day to take care of the players. His sincere interest was shown by the fact that he was helping out at Camp Wyanoke even when his own arm was in a sling. He'll be back for another season to help out whenever needed.

The number of work injuries and deaths per 100,000 workers has been dropping steadily in the past 25 years, says the Insurance Information Institute. In 1968, with an employed labor force of 75.9 million persons, 14,300 persons were killed, approximately 19 out of every 100,000 workers. This was about 36 per cent lower than the 1944 rate of 29.6 deaths per 100,000 workers.

Turkey Tidbits

John F. Parrell

This was by far the largest throng to jam its way into Manchester Field in many seasons as Winchester fans wanted to get a glimpse of the undefeated Sachems. Woburnites were also on hand in full force hoping to see the Tanners upset the Marshalls. Every aisle and the space in front of the stands was packed solid with rosters. If the field had 3,000 more seats they would probably have been filled.

Never were so many photographers on hand for any gridiron classic within memory. There were newspaper men, professional camera men, amateurs, parents and relatives taking every conceivable type of picture. It was certainly a completely photographed game!

Many of the fans were wondering about the poor condition of the field. This was not due wholly to the heat of the morning sun for a great deal of it dated back to the previous weekend when a group of young footballers played on it on a warm afternoon and tore it up in spite of efforts of caretakers to chase them off. One thing is certain and that is the condition of the playing surface did nothing to help either team.

The special Thanksgiving Mass at 7:30 at St. Mary's church saw a large delegation of the players, cheerleaders, tumblers and their friends in attendance. Fr. Bernard Hoy, one of the Sachems most ardent rosters, celebrated the Mass and gave a short homily on the religious aspects of the day. The co-captains and the cheerleader representatives were part of the offertory procession.

Whatever complaints may be made regarding the game it was not marred by the appearance of even one canine. Usually big games like this one seem to attract an endless parade of mongrels and thoroughbreds who get in the way of the action and often cause interruptions to get them off the field of play.

The Rev. James A. Garrity, pastor of St. Mary's church was faced with a difficult decision when it came to getting seated. For many years he was stationed in Woburn and he has many friends among the Woburn rosters and parents of the players. He used the judgment of Solomon by sitting behind the goal posts which was about as neutral a spot as possible. In his Sunday announcements this week he complimented the Sachem players for their victory and said that they had won him over by their fine play and their cooperation in his parish activities.

The pre-game ceremonies were a bit unusual as not only the Captains but all the seniors of both teams trooped onto the field. Thus the traditional coin toss was not a private affair for officials and captains but was witnessed by some 44 participants.

This note is not to be in any sense construed as an excuse for the Winchester performance in the first half. Starters in the backfield included Phil Sampson, a defensive player for the past two years, and Co-Captain Dave Scott who has long been a guard. This was caused by injuries which kept Mike Desher out of action for all but a few minutes and Joe Campo from his regular ball carrying duties except as a pass receiver. Ben Dolan had a foot injury which kept him from his usual kicking duties but after playing for a few minutes he seemed to do a good job in spite of the bad foot. Tom Riley, the fine ball carrier, was unable to play at all since Coach Marshall refused to run the risk of a permanently disabling injury.

This array of ball carrying injuries and the replacement by boys not accustomed to the berths did not help make for a smooth running attack in spite of their efforts to fill the vacant spots. But the arrival of Ben Dolan and his good efforts soon restored part of the problem and as the game wore on and Joe Campo was able to play in spots and Sampson became the ball carrier he has long given promise to be. He should be a very effective ground gainer next season with his injured achilles tendon having had plenty of time to heal.

One of the most humorous and at the same time aggravating things which occurs every year is the tendency of the Tanners and their supporters to belittle the Middlesex League while extolling the "tough" schedule which their team has faced. Any league which includes such strong teams as Melrose and Wakefield is not "weak." Next year the Woburn team will have a chance to meet some of these "softies." They won't have another chance step down to Class C to play Lawrence of Fallmouth, etc. By the way, the Cape Codders were a fine small school eleven and champions in their own class—but certainly that isn't the proper class for a large town such as Woburn.

Ron Fiorilli and the Orange and Black Co-Captain Tony Montecalvo had a bit of a set-to but it was quickly broken up by the smaller but quick thinking Fiorilli. In reminiscing about it at the Winchester-Woburn dance Ron said "I just did what you do in hockey. I pulled his jersey up over his head." Incidentally both of these boys played a fine game and received trophies as outstanding linemen of their respective teams. The awards for the backs went to Co-Captain Gilberti and Steve Hogan.

This annual joint dance is a wonderful affair. It attracted a monster crowd and everybody enjoyed an evening of dancing. The losers and the winners both had a good time and it was great to see such arch rivals in the morning talking over the game in a friendly way.

Pee Wee "B's" Down Chelmsford

Sunday the Pee Wee "B's" hockey team introduced ten new faces and they all came through, beating Chelmsford 5 to 1.

Andy deMars scored first for Winchester with a blast from the blue line unassisted.

Early in the second period Jim Beaton found the corner of the net with a quick shot on a good pass from Tom Romeo. Hard-skating Chip Hartnett got the third goal when he broke one in from out in front on a feed from Jim Beaton.

Rich Coakley closed the second period scoring with a rush up the middle, beating the goalie with a fast shot in the upper corner. He was sent in by fine-passing Greg Fucillo.

Short-handed in the third period, Jon Pettee caught the goalie going the other way and beat him on a fine centering pass from Phil Neergaard. Cliff Falla played exceptional hockey in the net, making a number of great saves.

Next Sunday the "B's" face off against undefeated Medford at Bedford at 4 p.m.

Please look at the South hand and decide on your bid after a one club opening bid (normal - no special understanding or force) from your partner at North.

At our table the gentleman sitting South promptly said six no trump, everyone passed, and as you can see from all four hands, six no trump is what he made, the ace of clubs being the only loser (4 club tricks, 4 hearts, 2 spades, and 2 diamonds).

We wrote down the score (incidentally it was a 5-way tie for top, 5 stopping at game, and the other North-South playing in six clubs for a middle score), played the next board as rapidly, and had plenty of time for a relaxed visit with the opponents before the move was called for the next round.

As I said, some nights it looks so simple!

Pee Wee A's Open With 8-1 Win

The Winchester Pee Wee "A" hockey team, in defense of its league title, opened the 1969-70 season with a convincing 8-1 verdict over Stoneham this past Sunday at Hockeytown in Melrose.

The locals took an early lead when Dave Brenton sent a clearing pass to Will Paglia, who in turn sent Jim Graham in with a perfect pass that he fired home from 10 feet to the right of the net.

The score quickly jumped to 2-0 when Mike Jeanette picked up a loose puck behind the Stoneham net and slid it to Allyn Stillman, who hit Jack Melaragni with a pass at the open side of the net. Jack flipped it home and the A's were off and running.

Before the end of the first period Tom Brennan notched his first score on the way to a hat-trick performance, assisted ably by Jay Frongillo.

Stoneham cut the margin to 3-1 early in the second period, but Tom Brennan got that one back with one of his patented backhanders high into the corner, assisted by Jay Frongillo and Mark Milley.

Final Period
The final period saw the locals pour in four goals to win going away. Jay Frongillo finished off a fine rush by Tom Brennan on a deflection goal followed by a goal by Will Paglia, who knocked home a perfect pass from Jim Graham.

Tom Brennan then tallied his third of the game, assisted again by Jay Frongillo. The final goal of the game was scored by stellar defenseman Ron Martignetti on a solo rush.

The Winchester defense corps of Ron Martignetti, Mirk Milley, Dave Dolan, Dave Brenton, Larry O'Grady and Gerard Kivney were outstanding as they repeatedly broke up Stoneham attacks before any dangerous shots could be taken. Goalies Peter Frongillo and Mike O'Leary were equal to those shots that were taken.

The team does not see action again until Sunday, December 14, at 10 a.m. against Charlestown at Hockeytown.

The team's roster:
Forwards - Tom Brennan, Jim Graham, Jay Frongillo, Dave Putnam, Will Paglia, Allyn Stillman, Kevin O'Neil, Mike Jeanette, Jack Melaragni.

Defense - Ron Martignetti, Dave Brenton, Mirk Milley, Dave Dolan, Gerard Kivney, Larry O'Grady.

Goalies - Cliff Falla, Mike O'Leary, Peter Frongillo.

Coaches - Joe Keating and Roger Stillman.

St. Mary's School Soccer Team Beats St. Raphael's

St. Mary's School ended its brief soccer season on a high note with a 3 to 0 win over St. Raphael's at West Medford on Saturday.

St. Mary's finished with a 1-1-1 record. With temperatures in the 50's, the field was covered with mud, as were some of the players. The field condition slowed the ball, but St. Mary's was aggressive enough to force St. Raphael's to make 10 saves, compared to four saves and a light workout for St. Mary's defense. Halfback Chuck Bamiller played the defense position well and fed his forwards with good passes.

In spite of the mud, Vincent Palumbo played the forward position with his usual burst of speed. Alan Fisher on two occasions narrowly missed scoring when both of his shots went skimming to the outside of the goal post.

Dick Ellis displayed fine footwork as a right forward, which led to his unassisted goal. Stephen Roche as goalkeeper made a great sliding kick save in the mud.

St. Mary's goals were scored by Jacobs (V. Palumbo), Ellis unassisted, and Meehan (Wilson).

The soccer program will resume in the spring.

Residents Of Middlesex County Have High Assets

Are Middlesex County residents richer than they THINK?

What is the net worth of the average local family, taking into account its cash savings, the equity in its home, its car, investments, insurance, pension reserves, clothing and the like?

A family balance sheet, in which the assets are listed in one column and the liabilities in another, may prove to be an eye-opener, as most people have never figured out how much they have accumulated over the years.

They know, in a general way, that they are better off than they once were, in most cases, but they have never worked it out in dollars and cents.

Some help in this direction is now available through national studies made by the Federal Reserve Board, the Institute of Life Insurance and others.

They find that the earning capacity of a family and its net worth are directly related. Those in the higher brackets have assets equal to several times their annual incomes while those with modest incomes have less.

Related to Middlesex County and to the current earning levels in the area, the national figures indicate an average net worth of $42,500 per family locally.

By way of comparison, in the United States generally, the net worth is $24,000 per family and, in the State of Massachusetts, $29,100.

The amount applies to the so-called "average" family. It lumps together all age groups the older ones, who have been adding to their assets over the years, as well as the younger ones, who are on the way up.

For typical families in some specific brackets, the estimates are as follows: those with after-tax incomes of $5,000 to $7,000, a net worth ranging from $10,500 to $15,500; those with $7,000 to $9,000, net worth of $15,500 to $21,000; and those in the $12,000 to $15,000 bracket, assets of $38,500 to $63,000.

For the population of Middlesex County as a whole, the total net worth comes to an estimated $16,373,000,000.

Included is the value of all housing, automobiles, household equipment, life insurance, wearing apparel, bank accounts, business interests and stock holdings.

On the other side of the ledger are installment debt, mortgages, medical bills, payments due on the car and all other obligations.

Bloodmobile Visits Here December 17

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Winchester on Wednesday, December 17, at St. Mary's Hall from 2 to 6:45 p.m.

As always the need for blood is urgent, but the holiday season puts an even greater demand on the blood supply. The usage increases to a sharp degree at this time of the year.

Those who are able to donate could make a fine gift to their community by reserving the Bloodmobile date on December 17. If you wish to make an appointment call the Winchester Red Cross chapter house at 729-2300, or just be at St. Mary's Hall.

Your gift of blood to the Bloodmobile is truly one that keeps on giving.

Food Flights On Biafra

WEEI Assistant News Director Bill Shermer left Boston Wednesday, November 19, on the first leg of a journey which will take him to Sao Tome island off the coast of Nigeria and ultimately on an actual flight into the war-torn state of Biafra.

According to Joint Church Aid officials, who are handling the details of the trip, Mr. Shermer is the first radio newsman to visit Biafra.

Mr. Shermer is due to arrive on Sao Tome island from Frankfurt some time Saturday evening, November 22. During his stay, he will accompany relief officials and others on a food flight from Sao Tome to Biafra, a distance of some 300 miles.

In addition to recording his observations during the flight, he will also interview church officials and others working on Biafran relief and record his own firsthand observations of the situation in the tiny African state.

Mr. Shermer returns to Boston on December 6, and the material he brings back will be utilized in conjunction with WEEI's fifth annual "Penny-A-Month" campaign which starts Friday, November 28. WEEI also plans several "AM Report" features as well as two expanded WEEI special reports on Biafra.

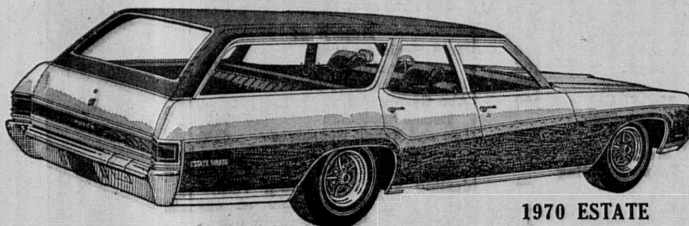

Traveling with Mr. Shermer is Rev. Dermot Doran, an Irish Holy Ghost Missionary, who served in Nigeria's eastern region for six years prior to the outbreak of the war and was one of the first persons to organize a mercy relief flight to break the blockade around Biafra.

This is the second year the WEEI "Penny-A-Month" campaign is being conducted on behalf of the starving children of Biafra. Last year, WEEI raised over $151,000 to aid the victims of what has been referred to as "The Children's War."

This year, Catholic Relief Services, Protestant Church World Service and the American Jewish Committee have joined forces and formed Joint Church Aid-U.S.A., the ecumenical group which finances and operates the six Stratofreighter cargo planes obtained from the United States Government.

According to church officials, between one million and two million have died since July, 1967, when the war began, the majority of them children. Should the food flights stop because of lack of financing, the human catastrophe in the number of deaths caused by starvation would be beyond estimate.

small, succulent bay scallops

This fluted little bivalve is a first cousin of the more common, larger, sea scallop, and is harvested for us from the shallow ponds of Martha's Vineyard by small boats towing dredges along the bottom. A scallop gets around by opening his shell and then quickly snapping it shut, spurting water out behind him.

This simple form of under water jet propulsion is provided by the small "abductor" muscle located in the middle of the shell. This muscle is the only part of the scallop that we eat, and as scallops are always sold in bulk form, many people do not realize that they are shellfish.

preparing scallops

Scallops are very easy to prepare, and make an excellent main course or hors d'oeuvre. Leftover scallops may be refrozen for use at a later date, or used to make a delicious salad. One pound serves four.

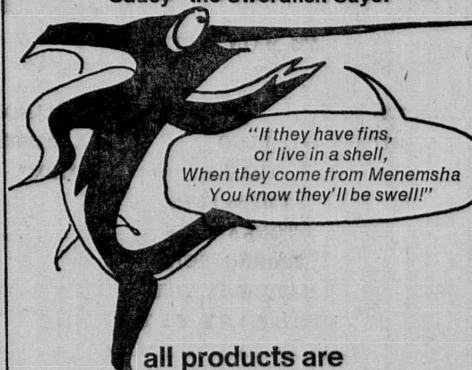

pan-broiled
menemsha scallops

- 1 Allow scallops to thaw slowly (overnight) in your refrigerator.*
- 2 Heat 2 Tbs. butter, 1/2 Tsp. salt and 1/4 Tsp. pepper in a frying pan.
- 3 Add scallops and cook about five minutes until brown and remove from pan.
- 4 Pour four Tbs. lemon juice, white wine or vermouth into the pan with the cooking butter, stir and pour over the scallops.

(CAN YOU TOP THIS RECIPE? If so, send it into the store and we will publish the most appealing one the next time we feature scallops. Winner will receive one pound of scallops FREE.)

*All frozen seafood is better if it is allowed to thaw slowly in your refrigerator overnight. You may, however, thaw it at room temperature with no appreciable loss of quality. If really rushed it is possible to put frozen fish directly in the oven and cook for longer than normal. This is the least satisfactory method.

Fire Warnings Are Issued Now For Holidays

Fire Chief I. Francis Amico in his annual Christmas season safety message has delved into the many causes of Christmas season fires.

He urged all residents to be extra cautious during the holiday season since the hazards of fire in the home are more prevalent at this time of year.

He wishes to remind residents that care should be exercised in selecting a Christmas tree; the importance of safety among smokers who gather at various homes during the holiday season; the necessity for parents to insist that toys purchased are safe; the need for an adequately operating heating system and other safety tips.

"By using ordinary care," he said, "we can do our part to hold down the tragic toll."

He urged residents to select their Christmas tree with caution, reminding them to keep it out of doors until ready to be placed in its stand. "Keep it in a pail of water if possible, as a freshly cut tree will 'drink' and help keep itself fresh and green."

Trees should be erected in the coolest part of the room, away from radiators, hot air ducts, heaters and fireplaces.

Many people go about placing lights on their homes and on trees from year to year without really making a thorough check on their condition. Wires should be checked as well as sockets on Christmas tree lights several days before decorating the tree.

Don't ever say—"Oh well, they'll be good enough for this year." Carelessness such as this could lead to tragic ends.

Chief Amico said there has been a trend in recent years to get away from the fresh cut tree in favor of a metal tree of some sort. "Never decorate metal Christmas trees with lights, as there is always the danger of an electrical shock or short circuit which could lead to a fire. There are other ways of beautifying this type of tree, but they never should have wires or lights."

Lights should never be left burning all night, the Fire Chief said, and positively should not be left illuminated while away from the home for long periods of time.

His safety warning also deals with the disposal of Christmas wrappings.

In closing Chief Amico issued the following warning:

In case of fire in the home, quickly get every one out of the house. Call the Fire Department at 729-1800 or use the nearest Fire Alarm box. Be sure everyone in the house knows how to call the Fire Department.

In case of fire at public gatherings, walk, do not run, to the nearest exit. Call the Fire Department immediately. Keep calm.

Chief Amico and the members of his department extend their season's greetings to all residents of town and urge them to keep safety in mind at all times.

Parenthood Costly Here

What is the price tag on the average 18-year-old in Middlesex County? How much have his parents spent over the years in the process of raising him from a gurgling infant to a young adult?

Few parents have even a remote idea of the amount. They have never thought of their children in those terms. All they know, in a general way, is that they have been both costly and priceless.

Had they paused along the line, however, to tally up the bill, they would have been astounded. They would have found that their expenditures in the 18 years run well into five figures. For the average family, nationally, it came to $26,700.

The latest figures on the cost of parenthood, from the Department of Agriculture and others, shows that income is the determining factor, in most cases, in how much is spent by an individual family in bringing up its children.

Where not income is between $11,000 and $13,000 per family, as is the average in Middlesex County, the outlay per child is approximately $46,500 to age 18.

A major part of it is for food. The figures, adjusted for price changes, show that the average child consumes about $7,300 worth during the 18 years.

Fortunately, this cost, as well as most others, are spread out over the years.

One that cannot be handled in that way, however, is the initial one, in connection with the birth of the child. Medical fees, hospital bills and baby equipment call for an outlay of about $700, on average.

The subsequent, growing up expenditures include clothing, $3,000, transportation, $3,950, medical and dental, $2,000 and personal care $900.

There is also the portion of housing costs attributable to the child, as well as incidentals ranging from dolls to baseball bats and bicycles to lipsticks.

For the 21,870 or so boys and girls in Middlesex County who are reaching 18 this year, how much of an expenditure do they represent?

Based upon the average amount per child locally, the grand total is $1,016,955,000. And that is only up to the point at which they are ready to enter college. (Park Row News Service)

Elliott's Elects Officers

At the annual meeting of the board of directors of Elliott's Stores Inc. of New England, a 21-store homefurnishings and carpet specialty chain with headquarters in Salem, New Hampshire, the following officers were unanimously elected: George E. Goodman, re-elected as president and chairman of the board; Gerald B. Talty and Harry E. Goodman, former vice presidents, have been named senior vice presidents.

Mr. Talty heads the firm's extensive carpet operations and Mr. Harry Goodman is Elliott's general manager—stores division. David H. Goodman, controller, was re-elected to the post of treasurer.

Unanimously elected as assistant vice presidents were: Elliott's advertising director, Arthur V. Gelardi; Ralph C. Norgren, supervisor of the firm's installation division; George S. Turrow, merchandise manager, and Richard Yon, assistant general manager—stores division.

Elliott's is currently planning an accelerated new-stores expansion program scheduled for implementation during the early months of 1970. The firm has substantially expanded its central warehousing facility in Salem. This central warehouse is now capable of efficiently servicing a greater number of additional stores and presently stocks an adequate inventory of broadloom as well as homefurnishings and furniture items for distribution to area stores.

The firm's retail stores are located in Massachusetts, New Hampshire, and Vermont.

Social Security Proof Of Age

Nationally, about 45 percent of the people applying for social security retirement benefits have a birth or baptismal certificate to prove their age.

Here in the Cambridge area, John E. Lonergan Jr., Social Security district manager, said, the percentage is a little higher than the national average. In many areas of the country, he said, the keeping of birth records was not systematic or well organized at the time today's retirees were born.

While the best proof of age, Mr. Lonergan noted, is a birth or baptismal record recorded before the fifth birthday, other records can be used if neither of those documents is available.

Mr. Lonergan said he had seen some very unusual documents that have been used in establishing the age of a beneficiary. One of the more unusual ones was a picture of a headstone over the grave of a claimant's deceased wife, on which the claimant's name and date of birth had been carved. The only thing missing, he added, was the date of death.

Most people need not go to that extreme to establish their age, Mr. Lonergan said. There are a number of documents that may be readily available. Among these are school or church records, Federal census records, employers' or union records, fraternal organization records, old insurance policies, children's birth certificates, immigration records and others, he said.

If a person is nearing retirement age and does not have a record of age, he should call or visit the social security office to learn what documents are needed.

The Cambridge Social Security Office is located at 625 Mt. Auburn Street, Cambridge. Office hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and Wednesday evenings until 8 p.m.

The Social Security representative is at the Woburn Public Library any Tuesday between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Mrs. Gittlemen Is Chairman Of "Fun Fair"

Mrs. Sol Gittleman of 32 Fletcher Street is chairman of the decorating committee for a "Fun Fair" to be presented by the Eliot-Pearson Children's School Parents Group on Sunday, December 7, from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Children's School, 105 College Avenue on the Tufts University campus. There is no admission charge.

The Committee has planned games, grab bags, plant, baked goods, handicrafts and penny candy tables. At 3:30 there will be an auction with a clown auctioneer. Proceeds of the "Fun Fair" will go primarily to the Martha H. Chandler Scholarship Fund. The fund provides scholarship aid to some preschool children who would derive benefit from the Eliot-Pearson Children's School but whose parents cannot meet the tuition fee.

College Students From County On Increase

In Middlesex County, the proportion of young people who will be going to college, when classes resume in September, will be greater than ever.

And, at the same time, as the parents of these college-bound youngsters are discovering, tuition costs will be at an all-time high.

On the basis of local enrollments and the new schedules of rates — for tuition, fees, room, board and incidentals — the parents of these students will be shouldering a $157,808,000 load for the coming academic year, it is estimated.

The Institute of Life Insurance finds that the cost of sending children to college for four years could amount, for some families, to the biggest expenditure of their lives.

The total could very likely add up to more than they invested in their homes.

This is particularly so in Middlesex County families that have two or more youngsters to put through college.

Facts and figures on college costs and enrollments have become available through surveys made by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the United States Chamber of Commerce and others.

They show that no less than 7,000,000 Americans will be attending college this year, as against 2,935,000 in 1960.

Of this total, Middlesex County will be supplying approximately 56,360. In 1960 the number from the local area was about 24,400.

As to cost, at state colleges and other publicly supported institutions, the bill will come to about $1,600, on average, for tuition fees, room and board. Some charge more for out-of-state students and less for local ones.

At private colleges, the average will be close to $2,700 this year.

To these figures must be added the cost of books and supplies, clothes, transportation and incidentals.

The grand total, for those in public colleges, comes to approximately $2,200, and for those in private colleges, $3,400.

The $157,808,000 overall cost, for Middlesex County families, is based upon half of the students going to public colleges and half to private ones.

Heavy as this financial burden has become, more and more local families are finding it possible to handle it, thanks to rising incomes. (Park Row News Service)

By virtue and in execution of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by WILFRED S. GARVEY and NORMA L. GARVEY, husband and wife, as tenants by the entirety, to WINCHESTER SAVINGS BANK, dated May 15, 1964, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 10528 Page 287, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described at 9:30 o'clock in the forenoon on Wednesday, January 7, 1970, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and therein substantially described as follows: "A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated in Winchester, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, being Lots D and F as shown on a plan entitled 'Plan of Lots, Winchester, Mass.', by Frederick A. Ewell, Reg. Land Surveyor, dated March 4, 1957, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 8963 Page 185, bounded and described as follows: Westerly by Highland Avenue as shown on said plan, 102.96 feet; Southerly by Lot E by two lines as shown on said plan, 150.00 feet and 94.79 feet; Westerly again by said Lot E as shown on said plan, 70.00 feet; Southerly again by land of Barrows and by land of Cazole, as shown on said plan, 123.90 feet; Easterly by a stone wall by land of Hawley, as shown on said plan, 132.62 feet; Northerly and Northeasterly by Lot A and by Lot C, by five lines, as shown on said plan, 139.26 feet, 35.61 feet, 124.93 feet, 9.24 feet and 56.65 feet. Containing 30,429 square feet, according to said plan. Hereby conveying the same premises conveyed to the said Wilfred S. Garvey et al. by Ralph L. Gartner et al. by deed dated May 15, 1964, recorded herewith. The said premises will be sold subject to and with the benefit of a right of way over the driveway shown on said plan in common with all others entitled thereto and to easements and building line set forth or referred to in the aforesaid deed."

The said premises will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes, tax titles, assessments, and other municipal liens. $1,500, in cash will be required to be paid by the purchaser at the time and place of sale and the balance to be paid within ten (10) days from the date of the sale at Room 5, 7 Church Street, Winchester, Massachusetts. Other terms will be announced at the sale. Winchester Savings Bank, by Arnold M. Gibson, Treasurer, Mortgage and present holder. For further information apply to Winchester Savings Bank, 26 Mt. Vernon Street, Winchester, Massachusetts.

Savings Bonds Might Be Made More Attractive

John J. Nyhan, Middlesex County Chairman for U.S. Savings Bonds, was recently queried about the Treasury request to Congress to remove the interest rate ceiling on Savings Bonds and other Government securities.

According to Mr. Nyhan, "If the legislative request is approved, the interest rate on Series E and H Savings Bonds will be raised from the current 4.25 per cent to five per cent, if held to maturity. The increase would be retroactive to June 1, 1969. All outstanding E and H Bonds would also benefit from the new five per cent rate, beginning with the first semi-annual interest period which starts on or after June 1."

Series E Bonds will have their maturity period reduced from seven years to five years, 10 months. H Bond maturity will remain at 10 years. Both E and H Bonds would enjoy an automatic extension period. The present five per cent rate on Freedom Shares would continue unchanged until they are removed from sale six months after the proposed legislation becomes law. Authority to extend Freedom Shares at maturity is included in the Treasury's request.

Mr. Nyhan said that the Treasury's proposal "should give new impetus to the Savings Bonds Program throughout our area."

CONCERN To Sponsor Dialogues

There will be two discussion groups on drugs next week sponsored by CONCERN.

Anyone interested in drug use and misuse are invited to meet in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Roger H. Wood of 39 Woodside Road on Monday, December 8, or Mr. and Mrs. Theodore von Rosenvinge of 111 Church Street, on Wednesday, December 10th. The meetings will start about 8:00 p.m.

The Boston West Suburban Alumnae of Gamma Phi Beta sorority will hold its annual holiday supper party on Thursday evening, December 11, at 7 p.m. at the Lexington homes of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Marek, 43 Somerset Road, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Jaquith, 42 Somerset Road (telephone 862-2248). Husbands of the members will be guests for the evening.

One in every 107 cars registered in the United States was stolen in 1968, reports the Insurance Information Institute. A total of 777,800 thefts represented an increase of approximately 18.8 per cent over the 1967 figure.

Christmas Kits For Mail Are Distributed

Postmaster Charles R. Hill has announced that Christmas kits containing mailing wrappers and holiday mail instructions would be distributed to all residents of Winchester starting on Thursday, December 4.

The labels are colored strips with the following identifications, "Local," "Mass" and "Out-Of-State." The "Local" label is to be used by Winchester residents for mailing of Christmas cards to Winchester addresses only.

The "Mass" label is used for all on all mail going outside of Massachusetts address.

The "Out-Of-State" label is used on all mail going outside of Massachusetts.

Patrons requiring additional mailing wrappers may obtain them at the post office. Full compliance with this suggestion will save sorting by clerks and will advance the dispatch and delivery of mails.

Postmaster Hill added, "We owe our success in moving the large volumes of mails during the Christmas periods in past years to the splendid cooperation of our patrons in mailing early and their use of ZIP Codes."

Webelos Receive Awards

The monthly meeting of Pack No. 525 was held at Vinson Owen School on Friday, November 21.

The following Webelos were awarded neckerchiefs and Webelo colors by cubmaster Mitchell: Nick D'Angelo, Wayne George, Paul Maxwell, William Zettler.

The following new cub scouts received Bob Cat pins:

Den 1—Walter Ferrara, Billy Mitchell, David Saxe, James McCarthy, Michael Musto.

Den 3—David Cannava, Kevin Fitzgerald, Joseph Peantedosi, Gregory Albers, Chris Linson, Paul Feldman.

Den 4—Gregg Cummings, Dana Estlick, William Sizemore Jr., Gregory DeSilva, David Medzokian.

Den 5—John Collins, Stephen Cicco, David Lindbo, Wayne Lawson, George Hall.

Den 7—Robert Cormier.

Gerald DiBlasi also of Den 7 received a gold pin and three silver arrows. Paul Mahoney received a gold pin and a silver arrow.

The program for this evening was a craft display by Den 1, costume parade by Den 5, songs by Den 4 and rhymes by Den 3.

Postmaster Urges Patrons To Mail Early

"Don't take a chance on disappointing someone you love, send your gift parcels and cards early enough to ensure their delivery before Christmas, not after," Postmaster Charles R. Hill has advised.

"On the day after Christmas a post office building can be the most depressed place in the world," Postmaster Hill added, "if it still contains a mountain of messages of love and cheer that didn't make it because they were mailed too late."

Such disappointments can be avoided if Christmas mailers will observe the following mailing schedule.

Gift parcels going to distant states should have been mailed by December 1. Parcels going to local and nearby areas should be mailed not later than December 13.

The name and address of both the sender and the addressee should be enclosed in each gift parcel to permit identity in case of damage or loss of the outside address label. The outside label should be placed on only one side of each parcel.

Greeting cards going to distant states should be mailed not later than December 10. Cards going to local and nearby areas should be mailed by December 15.

Postmaster Hill also emphasized the importance of using ZIP Codes and adding a return address to all Christmas mail. It only takes a couple of extra seconds, but pays big dividends.

ZIP Codes enable postal employees to sort and handle the mail faster. A return address insures that mail that can't be delivered because of an illegible or incomplete mailing address will be returned to the sender.

"A return address might not seem very important," Postmaster Hill noted, "but last year over 32 billion pieces of mail went to postal dead letter branches because the mailing address couldn't be read and there was no return address on the envelope. If you estimate the worth of each of these pieces at 25 cents, including postage, postal customers lost over $7.5 million last year to dead letter offices. And if the envelopes had contained a none of this would have happened return address."

Channel Two Interviews Lord Snow

"Crime . . . is partly the result of affluence," British scientist-novelist C. P. Snow believes and he explains why on Channel 2's "Speaking Freely," Tuesday, December 9, 6 to 7 p.m.

Lord Snow, one of the most distinguished scientists of our time and author of 11 novels, joins Edwin Newman of NBC News for a far-ranging discussion that touches on the Apollo moon flights, the gap between rich and poor nations, population growth and Lord Snow's experience in British government.

When asked to elaborate on his statement about crime, the scientist puts some of the blame on technology, which, he says, has made it "much easier to commit ingenious robbery than ever before in human history." But, he is quick to add, "technology has done much more good than harm."

Mr. Newman also asks for Lord Snow's evaluation of leisure and how people spend it. The question evokes a thoughtful response: "Most people are tired of doing nothing, most people are tired of fun." The reason is that "purpose is something which gives salt to life."

Medical Nuns Sponsor Annual Christmas Fair

The Annual Christmas Bazaar of the Medical Missionaries of Mary will be held on Saturday, December 6, in the Arlington Street headquarters of the Sisters.

Open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., the Bazaar this year offers a selection of handcrafts and gifts, many of them produced by craftsmen who have volunteered their talents in support of the medical services rendered by the Sisters in developing parts of the world.

To be exhibited in the house will be antiques, china and glass. Most intriguing of these is a never-used patchwork quilt that has come from the gay nineties, and displays skill with needle and design, together with most unusual hand-painted or printed panels. Supplementing this exhibit are lace and crochet pieces.

The usual booths of cakes and candies will offer home-cooked products of many Winchester friends of the MMM. The catering section will produce hot meals for all comers, but those intending to patronize this department in the evening are urged to come early, lest they be disappointed.

For holiday decorating and giving, there are booths piled with gifts, decorations, and ceramics produced in the MMM Ceramic center by members of the Mother Cabrini Guild of Nurses. A section entirely by itself is the White Elephant House, where the old things rub elbows with hobby equipment, tools for kitchen and garden, brass and bronze, and electrical gadgets.

Proceeds from the Bazaar this year are destined for the re-equipment and re-staffing of many medical centers in Nigeria, now re-opened after the sweeping horrors of war. Sisters from the MMM community in Winchester also help to staff 10 hospitals and clinics in East Africa, and one each in Brazil and Taiwan.

Republican Newsletter Distributed

Cynthia L. Barone of 1 School Street, Republican State Committeewoman for this district, sent her December newsletter to all elected members of the district's Town and City committees, as well as to women's club and Young Republican leaders.

This publication was initiated by Mrs. Barone shortly after her election in April, 1968. It lists the Republican activities of the official committees, women's clubs and Young Republican organizations in Arlington, Medford, and Winchester. The newsletter also reports any fund-raising events, grass roots news, and highlights of the most recent State Committee meetings.

Republican State Committee Chairman Josiah Spaulding has expressed interest in and approval of Mrs. Barone's method of communicating with her district's workers and has found District Six to be a very well informed district. This Newsletter mentioned the retirement of Chairman Spaulding and the coming election of a new chairman.

This issue's Winchester news listed the Town Committee meetings under Chairman Sherman Saltmarsh Jr., the fund-raising efforts of Finance Chairman Cynthia Reynolds, the Women's Club Christmas program planned by President Margaret McCreery which will fall on December 11, and the Young Republican activities led by President Susan Nolan.

Think-In To Be Held At St. Mary's

On Thursday evening, December 11th, the second Thursday Think-In will be held in St. Mary's Hall. The think-in is a lecture series in Christian adult education.

A great need of the Catholic Church today is to present to the faithful the new direction that the Church is taking. Here is an opportunity to come and learn with fellow parishioners. It is every adult's responsibility to learn what his Church asks of him today.

The speaker for the evening is Sister Maryann Enright, C.S.J. Sister's topic will be liturgy.

The think-in begins at 7:45 and ends at 10 p.m.

Any interested persons are cordially invited to attend the think-in.

Eight fires with insured losses over $3 million each occurred in the United States in 1968, reports the Insurance Information Institute. The most costly was a $12 million fire involving chemicals in Taft, Louisiana.

Clifton — Rogers

In a double ring ceremony at 4 o'clock on Sunday, November 9, in the Hillcrest Congregational Church, Whittier, California, Miss Donna M. Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald T. Rogers of Whittier, became the bride of Richard F. Clifton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Clifton of 4 Summit Avenue.

MRS. RICHARD F. CLIFTON

Dr. George Haskell presided at the service. Miss Helen Sholl was organist with Mrs. Pauline Penrose of San Diego, California, a friend of the family, performing as soloist. A reception was later held at the church with Mrs. Brower Demarest of Whittier, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Karl Placek Jr. of Pasadena, California, cousin of the bride, assisting.

The bride was escorted down the aisle by her father wearing a formal white velvet gown trimmed with white fur and fashioned with a formal white velvet gown trimmed with white fur and fashioned with a detachable velvet train. A crystal butterfly caught her short veil to form the headpiece.

In her cascade bouquet were pink carnations and yellow rose buds. The bride was attended by her twin sister, matron of honor Mrs. Darlyne McElroy of Oxnard, California, in a formal royal blue velvet gown. She carried a short cascade of pink and white carnations and blue velvet ribbon. Her headpiece was formed of a blue velvet bow with small pink carnations. She also wore a cameo pin, a gift of the bride.

The bridesmaids, attired as the matron of honor, were Miss Christine Winters and Miss Judy Winters, both cousins of the bride and both of Whittier.

Thomas Sanders of Glendale, Arizona, was best man. Also members of the wedding party were ushers Thomas McElroy of Oxnard, and John Winters of Whittier, cousin of the bride.

Others helping with seating were Walter Winters and Harlan Winters, both of Whittier and both cousins of the bride.

Attending the guest book was Miss Gareth Penrose of San Diego. Mrs. Rogers wore a powder-blue ensemble with a white orchid corsage.

A graduate of LaSerna High School, Whittier, the bride was awarded a bachelor of arts degree from California State College at Long Beach.

Mr. Clifton was graduated from Winchester High School and The Citadel, a military academy in South Carolina. After serving in the U.S. Air Force, he is presently stationed in the Boston area with the Senior Company, Friden Division.

On the couple's departure for their wedding trip to Catalina Island, the bride chose a dress with a beige bodice and beige lace trim and cherry red skirt. Her corsage was of small pink carnations and yellow baby rosebuds. Mr. and Mrs. Clifton now make their home in Brighton.

Mackun — O'Brien

In a double ring ceremony at a nuptial mass on Saturday morning, November 22 in the Immaculate Conception Church, Miss Kathleen Ruth O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. O'Brien of 5 Arthur Street, and Stanley Joseph Mackun of Brockport, New York, son of Mrs. Martin Mackun of East Walpole, were married.

MRS. STANLEY J. MACKUN

The Rev. Richard J. Brady, cousin of the bride, officiated at the service which was followed by a reception at the Colonial Country Club, Lynnfield.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a white satin gown accented by re-embroidered Alencon lace. Styled in a demi-bell silhouette with long fitted sleeves and a high jewel neckline, the gown was complemented by a long mantilla veil and an old fashioned bouquet of miniature carnations and stephanotis.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Carl Fuller of South Yarmouth, sister of the bride. She wore an empire-waisted chiffon gown in cognac. The long sleeves and high neckline were edged in venise lace with an aqua satin insert of ribbon. A matching satin bow served as her headpiece. She carried a cascade of bronze mums and yellow pom poms.

Attending as best man was Anthony M. Mackun of East Walpole, brother of the bridegroom. Paul F. O'Brien of 5 Arthur Street, brother of the bride, and Carl Fuller of South Yarmouth, brother-in-law of the bride, shared the duties of ushers.

Miss Diane Mackun, niece of the bridegroom, was in charge of the guest book.

Mrs. O'Brien chose a champagne brocade ensemble with dark brown accessories and a corsage of orange roses. The mother of the bridegroom wore a pink boucle ensemble with pink and silver accessories and pink sweetheart roses for her corsage.

Mrs. Mackun received her bachelor of science degree from Boston College and a master's degree in education from Tufts University. Mr. Mackun was awarded his bachelor of science degree from Bridgewater State College, his master of arts degree from Clark University and his doctorate from the University of Michigan. He presently occupies a position as a professor at the State University of Brockport, New York.

The bride chose a white knit suit, crimson coat and white mink hat, with dark blue accessories and a corsage of miniature carnations as her traveling ensemble for the couple's wedding trip to Portugal and Spain. Mr. and Mrs. Mackun are residing in Brockport.

Pre-cut letters for sign making. Five sizes to select from. Just glue to signs. May be painted colors as desired. At the Winchester Star.

Root — Johnson

In a ceremony held at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, San Diego, California, on Saturday afternoon, November 23, Miss Judith Anne Johnson, daughter of Lt. Commander and Mrs. Robert Johnson of San Diego, and Lt. (j.g.) Timothy Nicholas Root, Naval Air Force, Pensacola, Florida, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen E. Root of The Hague, Holland, were married.

MRS. TIMOTHY N. ROOT

The service was officiated by Ralph Richardson, with a reception following in the Officers' Club, Admiral Kidd Naval Base in San Diego.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white peau de soie gown trimmed with Alencon lace with a cathedral-length train. A beaded cap held her full-length tulle veil in place. She carried white chrysanthemums and roses.

Serving as maid of honor for her sister was Miss Carol Johnson of San Diego and as matron of honor was Mrs. William Gustin Jr. of Meriden, Connecticut, sister of the bridegroom. They appeared in a sapphire blue velvet bodiced gowns with light blue chiffon sleeves and skirt. Their round bouquets were composed of blue bachelor buttons.

Acting as bridesmaids were Miss Julie Root of The Hague, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Stephanie Vazquez of Pensacola, Florida; and Miss Darcy Stallman of Minneapolis, Minnesota. They were attired as the maid and matron of honor. William Gustin Jr. of Meriden had the honor of being best man. Ushers were Stephen E. Root of The Hague, father of the bridegroom; Lt. (j.g.) David W. Rucker of Fort Lauderdale, Florida; Scott Johnson of San Diego, brother of the bride; and David Wenz of Santa Barbara, California.

Mrs. Johnson chose an emerald green shantung dress and coat ensemble with a white mink hat and ivory roses. The mother of the bridegroom wore a rose shantung dress and jacket with a rose corsage.

A graduate of Escambia High School in Pensacola, Florida, the bride also attended Pensacola Junior College.

Lt. Root was graduated from Winchester High School, class of 1964, and holds a bachelor of arts degree from the University of Arizona, class of 1968. Commissioned in the U.S. Naval Reserve in September of 1968, Lt. Root is presently a helicopter pilot.

The couple will reside at the Naval Air Station in Brunswick, Maine.

Methodist Church Plans Fair

The annual Christmas fair of the Crawford Memorial United Methodist Church will be held Friday, December 5 from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. and on Saturday, December 6 from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Mrs. Payson Sierer is in charge of the children's Friday night highlight, a magic show by Johnny the Clown at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are available at a small fee.

Saturday there is more entertainment for the children with an hourly cartoon show. A continuous snack bar for coffee break or luncheon will also be available.

Handmade items, children's gifts, Christmas decorations, candy, Vermont cheese, jewelry, fabrics, books, stationery, cakes, pies, jellies, knitted items, and gifts of all kinds will be available for Christmas shopping.

A traditional ham and bean supper will be served Saturday night from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. For supper reservations call Mrs. Woods, 729-3460, Mrs. Morse, 729-2074 or the Church office 729-5056 or 729-9813.

Mrs. Richard Kadesch, this year's fair chairman, invites the community to come and enjoy this occasion.

EYC Plans Activities For Moratorium

The Ecumenical Youth Council will sponsor two activities on December 13, Saturday, as part of the Vietnam moratorium of this month.

The first is Just-A-Start, a volunteer program rebuilding housing in Boston's South End. The EYC collects Winchester people every Saturday for this program. These volunteers do painting, cleaning, plastering, wrecking, and carpentering.

The EYC is making a special drive for volunteers, especially adults, on the 13th to do this work-for-peace. Anyone interested should contact Marc Levinson (729-8428).

Also on that Saturday the EYC is running a furniture drive for Bromley Heath, a housing development in Jamaica Plain. Bromley Heath is known as the penitentiary of the housing developments.

The purpose is to furnish an apartment for two ex-drug addicts who will be available for consultation 24 hours a day. People who have furnishings they would like to donate should leave their name and address with Kathy Murphy (729-6213) or Tim Wilhelm (729-4497). The furnishings will be picked up on that Saturday.

At this wonderful time of year, we prescribe the most merry of Christmas for you, our customers, and your families. And thanks for your patronage... it's most appreciated!

Fire Dangers Arise From Home Heating

All citizens are advised to keep a constant and careful watch for home fire danger, Fire Chief I. Francis Amico warns.

Consider central heating. The furnace should be cleaned annually by a serviceman, the unit and controls checked. The emergency shut-off should work properly. Flue pipes should be kept clean, hole-free and well supported.

The chimney should be free of cracks and loose bricks and be cleaned yearly for coal or wood fires.

The furnace and flue pipes should be spaced to prevent overheating of nearby surfaces. There should also be enough air for combustion and ventilation. Trash, papers, paint and other items should be kept clear of this area and covered metal containers used for ashes.

Consider room heating. Fixed and portable heating units should be kept out of halls and away from doors and stairs where they may block escape routes. They should also be far from beds, upholstered chairs, curtains, clothes racks, etc.

Gasoline or kerosene should not be used on wood or coal fires. Avoid any chance of mistakenly mixing gasoline with heater fuel. Check to make sure that electric heaters do not need added house wiring.

Portable oil heaters are prohibited by law. Fireplaces should be equipped with screens.

Safety inspected equipment should be used, such as oil displaying the UL label, gas with an AGA or UL label, and electricity with a UL label.

All heaters require frequent cleaning, an annual check up. If used, flue pipes should be kept clean and tight.

Before going to bed, room heaters should be out or on low. Leave the damper partly open after banking coal or wood fires. Open bedroom windows when using fuel-burning heaters in the bedroom to protect against carbon monoxide.

By sleeping with the bedroom or hall door closed, in case of fire, it can be held back until escape is managed. If windows are an emergency escape means, then the family should be trained to use them. Storm windows should open easily.

Neither blowtorch nor any other flame should be used to thaw frozen water pipes. Hot water or UL-labelled electric devices are made for this purpose.

As temperatures drop, fire dangers rise.

Fewer Men In Winchester Stay Single

Marriage-minded men, take note. Winchester has a surplus of single women.

The over-supply is such that there are no less than 117 single women in the local area for every 100 single men.

The situation is quite different than that found in most parts of the country. Although there are more women than men in the population as a whole, the number of unmarried men is much greater, nationally, than the number of unmarried women.

On the average in the United States, the ratio is nearly 124 single men for every 100 single women. In Massachusetts it is 102 per 100.

The findings are based upon the latest marital data, gathered from all parts of the country by the Department of Commerce. They show that the male-female ratio varies greatly from one area to another. In most places there is a shortage of eligible bachelors.

In Winchester, according to the figures, approximately 25.5 percent of the male population over the age of 14 is unmarried, as against 25.4 percent of the females over that age.

This takes into account only those who have never been married. It does not include those who have been widowed or divorced.

Elsewhere in the United States, by way of comparison, 26.7 percent of males over 14 and 20.9 percent of females are single.

Despite the disparity in numbers, the chances of a woman going through life unwed are much slimmer today than in former years.

Forty years ago, nearly 15 percent of the women were unmarried by the time they reached their late 20's. The proportion has now dropped to less than five percent.

However, in most communities today, there is a temporary marriage squeeze because of the shortage of men at the normal marrying ages.

It all dates back to the 1940's, with the low birth rate during the war and the baby boom that followed. As a result, for many young women born after the war and now ready for marriage, there are not enough men slightly older than themselves available.

In Winchester this year, there will be approximately 810 women in the prime marrying ages, 18 to 21. As for the men, who marry between 20 and 23 for the most part, there will be 880. (Park Row News Service)

Lynch Drama Club To Present One-Act Plays

On Friday, December 12, at 8 p.m., the Lynch Drama Club will present two one-act plays: "Drag Race" and an up-dated version of "Tom Sawyer," both under the direction of Mrs. Beverly Cronan of the Lynch English department.

This is the Club's annual presentation, and is sponsored by the Lynch Junior High Associates as a fund-raising event.

Tickets are being sold by members of the Drama Club, and will also be on sale at the door of Lynch Auditorium on the evening of the performance.

Armstrong Cork Develops New Tile

Place 'n Press Excelon self-adhering floor tile, the newest idea in do-it-yourself convenience, has been introduced in the Winchester area by Armstrong Cork Company.

The new product features a special pressure sensitive adhesive on the back of the tile that eliminates the need for spreading adhesive during installation. The latex type adhesive will bond firmly to any smooth surface floor, thereby allowing the use of Place 'n Press directly over existing floors.

The tile is guaranteed to hold firmly to linoleum, tile, or concrete floors, providing these floors are well bonded, smooth, and free of wax, grease, or dust.

Place 'n Press represents a boon for the do-it-yourselfer in that it simplifies tile installation to just three steps: (1) clean old flooring; (2) peel off the release paper on the back of the tile; and (3) fit the tile in place. To further simplify installation, the tile is designed to be used on all grade levels and even over terrazo floors.

Decorations For Christmas To Be Shown

The Christmas Dove shop in Rockport comes to the Winchester Home and Garden Club on December 10 in the person of Mrs. Edythe Ingerman.

Mrs. Ingerman, co-owner of this shop with her husband, has demonstrated on television and will show her ability to create unusual Christmas decorations at this meeting. For those inspired by Mrs. Ingerman's lecture there will be a sale of ingredients at the conclusion of this lecture.

The Christmas Dove, open from May to December, has been in business since 1965 and now has opened a franchise in Manchester, New Hampshire.

The coffee hour begins at 1 p.m. at the Methodist Church Hall and the business meeting at 1:30 p.m. There will be a sale of handmade pinecone ornaments by members of the club following the meeting.

Hospital Asks Volunteers For Day Care Program

A day care program has been added to the psychiatric services offered at Melrose-Wakefield Hospital.

Psychiatric day care will provide continued support and rehabilitation for patients returning to the community after hospitalization.

Treatment will consist of individual and group therapy as well as art, drama, music and occupational therapy.

Members of the local community who are skilled in any of the above fields or who would like to participate with patients in such community activities as sports events, tours of museums, visits to industries or recreational activities are needed to assist with the day care program.

Day care is available for all patients discharged from the psychiatric unit at Melrose-Wakefield Hospital. Patients and volunteers may participate in the program on an hourly, one-half-day or whole-day basis.

Group therapy meetings are also held for all persons participating in psychiatric day care. In addition, patients can come back to the psychiatric unit at any time and talk.

Persons who would like more information about volunteering for the program can contact Janet F. Burns, R.N., B.S., director of the program, at 662-7200, Ext. 249.

Smith College Admissions Officer To Visit WHS

A "Facts about Smith" presentation by a member of the college's admissions staff will be offered to area secondary school pupils.

Mrs. Persis Robertson Gow of 5 Winslow Road is coordinating the visit. She is chairman of the Winchester Smith College candidates committee.

Miss Lillian Louise Hall, assistant dean of admissions, will answer questions and present information about the Northampton college, the largest independent college for women in the country. A 1968 Smith graduate, Miss Hall has been active in tutorial programs in her native Chicago and at the college.

Church Guild Plans Meeting On December 9

The Guild of St. Eulalia will meet on Tuesday evening, December 9, after the 7:30 p.m. Mass.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Sister Ann Regis of Sisters of Medical Missions of Mary, who will speak on the vast mission work done by these Sisters. All women of the Parish and their guests are cordially invited to attend.

The Guild's special Christmas project this year is making packages for the patients at Metropolitan State Hospital. Toilet articles are especially needed such as: combs, shower caps, make-up, face cloths, perfumed soap, also cigarettes and jewelry. Of course, a donation is always welcome.

Tins of cookies are being made up for the people at the State Prison. For further information on these, contact Mrs. Paula Gallant at 643-6693. Both toilet articles and the cookies may be brought to the meeting on December 9.

Inland marine insurance, which today covers personal effects, jewelry, furs, fine arts and many other movable properties, was originally developed to cover goods in transit other than by ocean vessels, observes the Insurance Information Institute.

TO OUR CUSTOMERS

At this time of year as throughout the rest of the year we say THANK YOU!

Without you and your faithful visits to our new Harbmark store, we wouldn't be around to say thank you.

Unitarian Church Pre-Service Choral Program

The pre-service choral program given by the Winchester Unitarian Choir under the direction of Mary Ranton Witham on Sunday, December 7th at 10:40 in the church chancel will consist of the singing of the Cantata "For Unto Us a Child Is Born" by Johann Sebastian Bach followed by Traditional Carols by the Male Choir.

The anthems will be "O Bethlehem" Folk Song of Glatz, "Hodie Christus Natus est" by Yon.

The postlude will be "Andante" from the Second Movement Organ Concerto in F by Handel.

Following this, John W. Baldwin, assistant to Mrs. Witham will play traditional carols on the Parkhurst organ.

Soloists will be: Estelle McNeely, soprano; Barbara Wood, contralto; William Jeffery, tenor; Sidney C. Blanchard Jr., baritone.

Art Group To Visit Boston Museum

The Winchester College Club Art Study Group plans a trip to the Boston Museum of Fine Arts on Friday morning, December 12th.

At 10 a.m. they will meet inside the Huntington Avenue entrance to visit the first special exhibition of the Museum's centennial celebration.

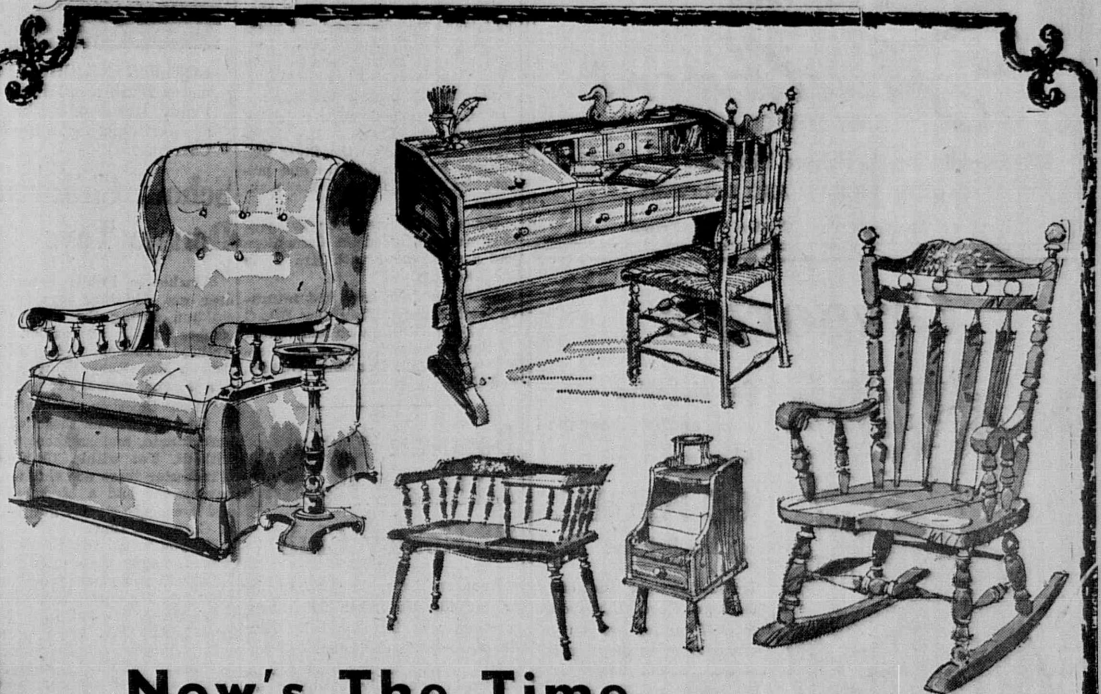

This exhibition is called "Back Bay Boston - The City as a Work of Art." The bulletin describes it as a "three-gallery exhibition including panoramic projections, narration, reconstructed house interiors, costumes, stained glass, models and renderings of new buildings and art objects from Back Bay houses and collections."

It has been compared to the World's Fair exhibitions in its intricacy, interest and beauty. The College Club group will wish to attend all of the special exhibitions of this centennial year of the museum. As usual, guests are welcome to join the group.

Democratic Town Committee Holds Meeting

The Democratic Town Committee held its regular monthly meeting on Wednesday, October 29, in the Welfare room of the Town Hall.

The guest speaker for the evening was Representative Eleanor Campobasso from Arlington. Mrs. Campobasso is also State Committee woman for Winchester. She informed the Committee that there were 8,000 bills filed last year and every one of them had a hearing.

The Committee discussed at length the bill she filed for the abatement for the elderly. There is a law passed that all 351 cities and towns in Massachusetts must evaluate at 100 per cent. However, there is no time limit.

Representative Campobasso has asked that citizens communicate more with their legislators. In her opinion, a great deal more could be accomplished if more pressure was put on the legislators by the citizens.

The difficulty in obtaining student loans was discussed. At present, only a few County banks provide these loans because the Federal Government is slow in giving the money back to the banks.

A question and answer period followed. The Beano bill, aid for retarded children on the State and Federal levels and State and private institutions were the main topics.

When all business for the evening was concluded the Committee had a social hour with Mrs. Ruth Peterson.

Ruth and John have just returned from Europe. They flew BOAC from Boston to London and visited England, Ireland, Belgium, Germany, Holland, Denmark, Sweden and France.

Donovan Yates Addresses Meeting Of Rotary Club

Donovan Yates, the guest speaker for the November 20 Rotary meeting, was introduced by Lew Snow, program chairman.

Mr. Yates, a Rotary Fellow from Australia, presently studying at Harvard University, presented an informative talk, augmented by beautiful colored slides, about his native country.

School Children Donate Toys

Winchester Public School children are donating toys for poor children during the week of December 1-5, as explained by Acting Principal of Parkhurst School, Mrs. Ruby M. Wiggett, in her personal message to each child.

"Many times we think of people in far-off lands as those who are unfortunate, and as those who do without. Yet within 10 miles of Winchester there are children who have never had a birthday cake, and some who do not get presents at Christmas time.

"If you would like to make this a more happy season for another child, will you please look through your toys for ones which you have outgrown or do not plan to use again? Any toy, large or small, that is in good condition that you can spare would be appreciated during a toy drive Monday through Friday, December 1-5. The school will provide containers for your donations.

"These toys will be delivered to a housing project in Jamaica Plain. The children there are black, white, and Puerto Rican. There are no parks near them. They live in brick buildings without yards. So if you plan to give a gift it must be something they can use indoors (although wagons, tricycles and bicycles will be gratefully accepted in the drive).

"There are two thousand children under 21 years of age in this one Project. I wish you, and them, a Very Merry Christmas!" All elementary schools are participating in the toy drive.

Dried Materials Are Useful For Home Decoration

After the leaves fall and most of the color has gone from the landscape, it is time to consider preserving some of the beauty of this past summer for winter home decoration.

Particularly useful for Christmas are the varieties of fruits and seed pods which may be made into wreaths, arrangements, and favors. Conifer cones, acorns, chestnuts, beechnuts, milkweed pods, and mullein spikes are only a few of the native materials which can be gathered at this season. For colorful contrast, the fruit of bittersweet, sumac seed heads, holly berries, and many other colorful plant materials are available in local woodlands or on your own home landscape.

Winter dried flower arrangements preserve the beauty of this past season and provide an imaginative way to beautify your tables and mantles. Native materials may be supplemented with strawflowers, cockscomb or exotic dried plant parts from all over the world which are available from local florists and garden centers.

With a little imagination, these natural products can become interesting novelties for winter occasions. A pine cone and some pipe cleaners may become a turkey to hold a name card at your dinner table. A few small painted gourds become a variety of funny animals for a conversational piece. Many other ideas can be imagined by using magazine articles and seeing the work of others at church fairs, flower shows, etc.

more than ever the year of gift selections from

Town & Country
WINCHESTER — BELMONT

Jules Verne, if he were alive today, would hardly be surprised at mankind's arrival on the moon, and he would probably still be the best-qualified man to predict our future. About all we care to suggest for fashion's future is Town & Country's place in the forefront of the unpredictable.

For the past twenty-eight years we've shown every new style change in its infancy. Some were serious, some were tongue-in-cheek, many were stunning, a few pretty damn ugly. We's sold wearing apparel of coal tar, glass, and metal, one year without tops, currently without bottoms, often with no middle.

Regardless of "look" or "content" if it's new it will be shown at Town & Country right here on this planet or some day in our branch shop on the moon.

Jaycees Open Lighting Contest

The Jaycees this week announce their second town outdoor lighting contest to be judged between Christmas and New Year's. They and the Boston Edison Company will donate electric appliance prizes.

Best use of lights and most creative use of lights will be the areas judged. The men of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, who will also run the after-holiday Christmas tree pick-up again this year, are joining an across-the-country Jaycee custom as they continue the lighting contest here.

Anyone interested in having a home entered in the contest is asked to call John Hackett at 729-7422 or Dave Smith at 729-1115. Entries may also be mailed to the Jaycees at Post Office Box 284, Winchester.

Christmas Eve Carolling Again

The Fortnightly has announced that the annual Christmas Eve carolling will take place on Winchester Common on Christmas Eve. More details of the program will be published next week.

Children Collect Gifts For Boston Housing Project

A caravan of station wagons left Winchester Monday, December 8, carrying toys from Winchester elementary school children to one of Boston's housing projects. The children there will receive the toys as Christmas gifts. Some of the larger toys donated will be used at the Neighborhood House so that many children may enjoy them.

Small items such as combs and mirrors and plastic cars, have been wrapped for grab bags or stocking gifts. Bells and trucks will be sold to the mothers for pennies so that they may have the pleasure of providing their children with presents. Proceeds from the sale will go to the Neighborhood House for equipment.

Books which were donated are being held in Winchester for a special delivery after Christmas. Clothes which were collected here will be donated to a thrift shop which is being started in the project.

All of the elementary school principals and their office staffs contributed to the success of the drive.

Volunteer drivers were: Mrs. Frank Bates; William Warnock, principal of the Wyman School; Mrs. Albert Vandell; Mrs. George Stanley; Mrs. George Dillon; Mrs. Galen Vincent; Mrs. Richard Murphy; Mrs. Richard Kramer; Mrs. John Stoeckle; Mrs. John Chambers; Mrs. D. C. Redpath; Mrs. Lawrence Globus and Mrs. Howard Frazier.

Xmas At WHS To Be Presented Friday, Dec. 12

Christmas at WHS, a program of story, song and music will be presented Friday evening, December 2 at 8 p.m. at the high school auditorium.

The Girls' Glee Club, WHS Orchestra, Double Sextette, Brass Ensemble and Concert Choir will perform traditional and modern music of the holiday season. Vocal soloists will be Anita Mucci and Carole Valle.

Christine Marrocco will accompany the concert choir on the piano. A violin solo will be played by Noel Webb, a senior at WHS. The musical program is under the direction of Wendell S. Withington, director of music.

Six dramatic presentations will comprise "Christmas Eve in Central Park" produced and directed by the WHS Dramatic Group. Curtains and Cue, Mrs. Stephanie McKay will direct the dramatic works.

Titles of the vignettes will be: (1) The young couple and the hunt; (2) A father in search of his runaway daughter; (3) A young couple realize an impoverished Christmas; (4) The proposal; (5) Two thieves take inventory; (6) Carolers come upon a bitter young veteran.

Comedy and tragedy are offered in the diverse titles with readers and actors including Robert Bell, Patricia Duffy, Stephen Roodaki, Virginia Richards, Nick Longo, Ann Markham, Joy Reppucci, Harold Leach, Kitty Babikian, Lynn Sullivan, John Sawyer, Kathy Whalen, Edward Sullivan, Carl Santanello, Timothy Donahue, Betsy Pattulo, Wayne Kell, Andrea Mulkern, Martha Webster, Patty Vautrain, Sidney Welles.

Superintendent of Schools, Donald A. Kiemer, has encouraged all townpeople to attend "Christmas at WHS" and has extended a special invitation to Senior Citizens Club members to share in the evening of Christmas music and dramas.

Carol Festival Is Scheduled At Epiphany

A Festival of Carols and Lessons will be presented at the Parish of the Epiphany on Sunday, December 21 at 7 p.m.

The traditional service, which originated at King's College, Cambridge, England, will be directed by Carl S. Fudge, organist and choirmaster at the church.

The Rev. John J. Bishop, rector of the Parish of the Epiphany, welcomes the public to attend the service.

Orchestra Plans Xmas Concert In Arlington

The Arlington Philharmonic Society, under the direction of John A. Bavich, music director, will present its annual Christmas concert Friday, December 12, at 8:15 p.m. in Robbins Memorial Town Hall, Massachusetts Avenue, Arlington.

Program highlights will include Schein's "Three Sacred Concerts," Hammerschmidt's "O Beloved Shepherd," Bortniansky's "Lo, A Voice to Heaven Sound," Talley's "Behold That Star," Byrd's "Rejoice! Rejoice!" and Beethoven's "Choral Fantasia, Op. 80; with a piano solo by Lloyd Gonyea.

The Philharmonic will also give its 36th annual performance of Handel's "Messiah" the following Sunday, December 14, at 3:00 p.m.

The concert will be taped, as usual, for broadcast at a later date over WHIL, 107.5 F.M. for the Society's regularly scheduled program on the third Sunday of each month at 9:00 p.m.

Winchester residents playing in the Arlington Philharmonic are: Jane Thompson, Douglas Dinsdale, Margaret Cornack, William Hoyt, Florence Mulkern, Nancy Ryder and Alta Merritt.

Merchants Assn. Decorates Center

The big evergreen and deciduous trees in the Winchester Common have been decorated by the Winchester Business and Professional Association to light the Center during the long evenings.

In addition, other evergreens have sprung up around the Center, the gift of Mahoney's Rocky Lodge Farm.

The lights were strung by the Park Department and the Fire Department.

Movie Show For Children Is Planned

Movies and cartoons for children will be the bill of fare at the Winchester Theater next Saturday afternoon, December 20.

Sponsored by the Theater and the Recreation Department, the program is offered as a shoppers' special to accommodate families waiting to shop in the Center that day.

Further information on the program will be announced in next week's Star.

Charles Moran Serves Aboard USS Green Bay

BMC Charles R. Moran, United States Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Moran of 971 Main Street, is serving aboard the newly commissioned U.S.S. Green Bay (PG-101).

Mr. and Mrs. Moran attended the commissioning ceremonies for their son's ship last Saturday, December 5, at the Boston Naval Shipyard.

At the ceremony, the acceptance of command of the ship was made by Lt. Thomas O. Kerley, a native of New York City, who received his Navy commission in 1963 after graduation from Officer Candidate School, Newport, Rhode Island.

Principal speaker at the ceremony was Donald R. Englebos, president of the City Council of Green Bay, Wisconsin, the city after which the ship is named.

The USS Green Bay is the sixth ship of the Tacoma-Class Patrol Gunboat to join the fleet and is the first naval vessel to be named after the city of Green Bay. The ship is staffed by four officers and 24 enlisted men.

Green Bay, Wisconsin, a recipient of the All-America City award in 1964, is the home of the Green Bay Packers and is a hub of Great Lakes shipping activity.

Public Housing Committee Replies To Elderly Questionnaire

Response to the questionnaire on housing for the elderly prepared and distributed by the Public Housing Study Committee recently has been termed "wonderful" by Chairman Mrs. John F. Murphy Jr. Approximately 900 out of about 2,761 letters have been returned to the Committee at this time.

Because of the confidential nature of the information requested in this form, the Committee is not free to disclose data until the issuance of its reports. After conferring with the Selectmen's executive secretary, Edward Donnelly, Mrs. Murphy informs that it may be necessary to go into executive sessions until the time of the Town Meeting in March.

The Selectmen have asked that a preliminary report be prepared by the Housing Committee for the Annual Town Report in December, as well as the more comprehensive and finalized report which is due for the Town Meeting in March.

Committee members have already begun to "sift through" the information from those replying in an effort to determine facts and to establish if there is a need for housing not only for the elderly, but perhaps also for those at the low income level. It is anticipated by Mrs. Murphy that this will take until March.

Considering the success in receiving so many replies, Chairman Mrs. Murphy cites as possible factors the inclusion of a self-addressed stamped envelope with the questionnaire and also a meeting which she had on November 13 with the Senior Citizens to explain to them public housing.

Information requested in the questionnaire included marital status, age, and income, both range and adequacy. Under housing it asked about home ownership, housing adequacy and the future ability to maintain this home, both financially and physically. It also posed, "Would you live in an apartment in an 'Elderly Housing Project' if available?"

The Committee was authorized by a vote of the 1969 Annual Town Meeting to study the need for public housing in Winchester and to report its findings to the 1970 Annual Town Meeting.

Members of the Committee are Mrs. Murphy, Vincent Celia, Sherman Josephson and Richard Duttig.

Attention

The Recreation Department has announced that the Judo Club and basketball programs scheduled at McCall Junior High School will be cancelled this Saturday, December 13.

A dance being held at the school in the evening necessitates the cancellation, according to Recreation Director Donald Spiny.

Selectmen Hold Four Hearings At Meeting

The Board of Selectmen at its Monday night meeting held four hearings, including one with representatives of the Winchester Citizens for Participation Politics, who wish to hang a wreath incorporating the peace symbol as part of the town's Christmas decorations.

In response to the request of Mrs. Robert Danly of Fenwick Road and Mrs. Philip Johnston of 32 Charles Road of Citizens for Participation Politics, the Board recommended that the women discuss the matter with the Town's decorations committee, led by Jack Chitel of the Business and Professional Association.

The Board also recommended after some discussion that the wreath incorporate the word "peace" rather than the international peace symbol.

Stephen Moore and members of the Conservation Commission also had a hearing before the Board. The hearing was held in executive session as the group was discussing possible land-takings.

Otto Schaeffer, chairman of the Central Business Study Committee also met with the Board to discuss his report to the Annual Town Meeting. In commenting on the areas his group had studied during the past year he said they had considered street and parking lot lighting in the Center; the maintenance of the train station; the problem of the Winchester Laundry on Mt. Vernon Street; and the Post Office.

Planning Board

The Board also met with William Chapman, chairman of the Planning Board. Mr. Chapman discussed with them certain regulations in the revised zoning by-laws and asked the Board's opinion on the regulations.

Mentioned were Sections 10 and 11 of the revised by-laws. It was the opinion of the Board that Section 13.2 of Section 13 should be left out. This is concerned with the duties of the Board of Selectmen with regard to the administration of appeal.

In other business, the Board drew the names of four residents for jury duty. They were Joseph Curran, Rebecca Avery, Ralph Dimmro and Douglas Davidson.

The Board also noted the following correspondence which was received from the Town Committee, James Cello, regarding retroactive pay for firefighters.

"Payrolls of the Fire Department, amounting to $20,234.14 and $10,830 for retroactive pay—April 1 through October 23, 1969, and 'retroactive pay—April 1 to September 30, 1969,' have been examined as required by the provisions of Chapter 57 of the Acts of 1963. Applicable statutory and case law has been researched and an official conclusion reached. It will follow, especially today when it is so greatly needed."

Mrs. Aseltine is a charter member of the Studio Guild of Winchester, the Friends of the Winchester Hospital, and of the Winchester Women's Republican Club.

The example of dedicated service to your community organization and through them to your fellow men," the Governor said, "is one that I hope many people will follow, especially today when it is so greatly needed."

Mrs. Aseltine is a charter member of the Studio Guild of Winchester, the Friends of the Winchester Hospital, and of the Winchester Women's Republican Club, whose board she has served for many years. She is well known at the Hospital, where she appears weekly to do flowers and spread cheer.

In 1932 she founded the Junior Florence Crittenton League of Winchester, and she served as chairman of Social Service and as a director of the Senior League, where her service has been recognized by making her an honorary member.

Paintings

Greatly interested in art, Mrs. Aseltine studied under Albro Hubbard of Rockport, and her paintings are well known to members of the Winchester Art Association. She has also specialized in china painting, doing delicate flowers and designs on cups and saucers.

A member of the Church of the Epiphany, her assistance on church fairs and bazaars has combined her artistic approach with her capability at sewing and cooking.

For many years she served as finance chairman of the Winchester Women's Republican Club, and later as telephone chairman, hospitality chairman, and advisor to the Board. She was made an honorary member of the Club at its meeting in October.

Attending the ceremony in the Governor's office were Rep. Harrison Chadwick and Mrs. Maxwell McCree, president of the Winchester Women's Republican Club, who added their congratulations to the Governor's, her daughter, Mrs. Herbert T. Wadsworth, her grandson, Todd Wadsworth, her granddaughter, Mrs. Victor Jonas, with her husband, Victor Jonas of Cottage Avenue.

School Committee Reviews Athletic Budget Data; Projects Increase In 1970

Meeting in a session abbreviated due to illness and absence, the Winchester School Committee reviewed various data concerning the athletic budget for this year and that projected for 1970.

Henry T. Knowlton, director of the physical education department at the Senior High School, reported that approximately one-third of the 545 boys enrolled at the high school participate in school sports in addition to those active in the intramural program.

For the 1969 athletic budget the Committee had asked for $52,776 in appropriations. For 1970 the members anticipate a request of about $75,200 plus additional sums for negotiated salaries and the purchase of football jackets. This is a projected increase of approximately $22,000.

Mr. Knowlton attributed a portion of this increase to the inflated cost of athletic equipment. He also noted that in 1970 there will be no receipts from the Winchester-Woburn Thanksgiving Day football game. Although tabulation of receipts from this year's game has not yet been completed, it is estimated to be about $12,000, bringing total receipts for the year to over $15,000.

The School Committee has also decided to send a letter to the Recreation Committee informing them that it will not be reserving an amount in its 1970 budget for the community's use of school facilities and rentals for recreational purposes and advising the Recreation Committee to set aside an appropriate sum in their budget.

Jackets

The Committee heard the request of Athletic Director Knowlton that jackets be purchased for all members of the winning football squad. In the past these jackets have been provided for the approximately 40 lettermen on the squad, which totals about 80 members. At a cost of about $20 apiece, this would entail an additional sum of approximately $800.

The alternatives for meeting this expense are to take it out of the 1969 unexpended funds or the E. and D. funds or to budget it into the 1970 athletic budget.

In other business the Committee voted to accept the bid of Remington-Rand for the purchase of 12 electronic calculators at a total sum of $6,287.64. The amount budgeted for this purpose was $6,675.

To be voted upon at the next School Committee meeting is a policy statement which would be incorporated in the Rules and Regulations authorizing the Superintendent of Schools to develop with staff members and others, student and/or teacher trips and to make various arrangements for them.

Committeeman Richard K. Schroeder stated that he would prefer making specific approvals on such trips, rather than establishing a policy statement. He noted that the Superintendent would in such a case have no recourse to the School Committee again concerning these trips, except at budget time.

Superintendent Kiemer replied that in requesting a policy statement, he was seeking flexibility and the School Committee's support of such a program.

Policies

Postponed for further discussion at the next meeting was the final approval of a policy statement covering uniformity and diversity in the school program.

Town Receives $1,950 Settlement In Price-Fixing

Attorney General Robert H. Quinn has announced that the Town of Winchester will receive $1,950 as its share of a settlement of an anti-trust case brought by the Commonwealth against three milk distributing companies.

The suit, brought in U. S. District Court in Boston in 1965, alleged price-fixing and bid-rigging with respect to the sales of milk to school districts in Eastern Massachusetts.

The defendant corporations are H. P. Hood and Sons, Inc., United Farmers of New England, Inc., and National Dairy Products Corporation, now known as Kraftco Corporation.

In announcing the settlement, Attorney General Quinn stated: "I am very pleased to announce this lengthy and extremely complicated case has been settled on such favorable terms. I intend vigorously to pursue anti-trust violations."

"Those who violate the anti-trust laws not only do great damage to our free system of competition, but in the last analysis hurt the individual consumer, who bears the ultimate burden of the higher prices caused by price-fixing and bid-rigging conspiracies."

Republicans Elect State Chairman

At a recent meeting of the Massachusetts Republican State Committee, Richard A. Treadway of Boston was elected chairman to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Josiah A. Spaulding of Manchester.

Cynthia L. Barone of 1 School Street, State Committee woman for this district, reported on the meeting, stating that "Mr. Treadway, former owner of the Treadway Inns, has held many positions within the Republican Party, including State Senator, president of the Republican Club of Massachusetts, president of the Middlesex Republican Club and Republican National Committeeman."

Defeated in the two-way contest for chairman was Hjalmar R. Peterson, former mayor of Brockton. Mr. Peterson also commands respect for his impressive background in civic and political work. The meeting was preceded by a coffee hour at the Parker House given by Governor Francis Sargent for the 80 members of the Republican State Committee. The Governor introduced a few of the key members of his staff to the State Committee.

"Tonight you are about to elect a new chairman" observed Governor Sargent. "The two men running are both good men, and I could work with either of them. However," he said, "I have my personal choice for chairman, as most of you know through my telephone conversations with you."

Mr. Treadway, the Governor's choice, won the contest 52 to 20. The election was the main business for the evening. Retiring Chairman Spaulding was given a standing vote of thanks for his three years of service to the Republican Party.

Dr. Donald W. Kiemer, Superintendent of Schools, will speak at a dinner meeting of the Tufts University Teachers' Association. The meeting will take place today, December 11 from 6 to 10 p.m. Dr. Kiemer will speak on student activism.

Mrs. Ruth G. Jones

Mrs. Ruth (Gleason) Jones died on Friday, December 5, after a long illness at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Claude W. Callahan of 48 Wildwood Street, with whom she resided.

She was the widow of Ira G. Jones and with her husband and family had lived for many years in Annisquam.

Besides Mrs. Callahan, she leaves two other daughters, Mrs. Dorice Larrabee of Sebago Lake, Maine, and Mrs. Jack Bradley Pierce of Hamilton; and six grandchildren.

Private funeral services were held on Sunday, December 7, at the Village Church, Annisquam. Burial was in Mount Adnah Cemetery, Annisquam. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to the Heart Fund.

K of C. Plans Xmas Activities

The Knights of Columbus, Council 210 of Winchester will sponsor several activities during the Christmas season.

On December 19th, the group will hold the Fernald School Children's Christmas Party at the Council Home. Lennie Sortino is in charge of the program.

Still needed are transportation for the youngsters, contributions to defray expenses and both male and female volunteers for the evening of the party.

A New Year's Party will be held at the Council Home. The party will include dancing to the music of Ken Thorpe and his orchestra and a cold buffet.

On January 10th, members will attend the K. of C. track meet at the Boston Garden. A roast beef dinner will be held at the Council Home prior to the meet.

Ticket deadline for the meet is December 15. The deadline is definite and no tickets may be sold after that date. For reservations call Lennie Sortino, 729-0416 or Dick Kelley, 729-4887.

Mrs. Eva F. Duquette

Mrs. Eva (Fortis) Duquette of 219 Washington Street, a resident of Winchester for 60 years, died on Saturday, December 6 in the Winchester Hospital Continuing Care Unit after a brief illness. She was 85.

Born in Woburn, September 28, 1884, she was the daughter of Charles T. and Carrie (Skelton) Fortis, both native to Woburn. She was educated in the Woburn schools.

Mrs. Duquette was the widow of Anthony M. Duquette. She was also active in the affairs of the Unitarian Church for 50 years and was well-known in Winchester.

She leaves no immediate survivors.

Funeral services were held on Monday, December 8 at the Lane Funeral Home, 760 Main Street at 1 p.m. with the Rev. Jack D. Zorheide of the Unitarian Church officiating. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

George Cummings

George Cummings of 92 Bacon Street died on Monday, December 8 in Winchester Hospital after a brief illness. He was 79.

Born in Hackberry, Arizona, February 10, 1890, he was the son of Charles and Mildred (McGee) Cummings, natives of Newport, Vermont, and Porterville, California, respectively.

Prior to moving to Winchester two years ago, Mr. Cummings was a resident of Los Angeles, California. He was employed as a machinist before retiring 15 years ago.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Emma E. (Peterson) Cummings of 92 Bacon Street; a son, Walter Cummings of Los Angeles; two daughters, Miss Evelyn G. Cummings of New York City and Mrs. Michael (Dorothy) Macdonald of 92 Bacon Street; a brother Charles J. Cummings of Porterville; and 10 grandchildren.

Private funeral services will be held at the Lane Funeral Home, 760 Main Street. Burial will be in Cambridge Cemetery, Cambridge. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made in his memory to the Winchester Hospital Memorial Fund.

Mrs. Lena Weymouth

Mrs. Lena Weymouth of 19 Hancock Street died on Friday, December 5 in Winchester after a long illness. She was 85.

She leaves a son, Philip Weymouth of Maine; a daughter, Mrs. Esther Woodward of 19 Hancock Street; four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Sunday, December 7 at the Church of the Epiphany with the Rev. John J. Bishop officiating. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery. The Norris Funeral Home, 1 Elmwood Avenue was in charge of arrangements.

Giving Guidance Exchange Program Is Established For Instruments

(Prepared from information supplied by Guidance Department of Winchester Public Schools)

On Saturday, December 6 Winchester High School students took the College Entrance Examination Board Exams in the process of making application to the college of their choice.

Another procedure necessary for application is the sending of a transcript of the student's grades. The procedure for having these sent is described in order to help students:

1. Transcript request forms are available at the guidance office.
2. Fill out one request form for each college to which you wish to send a transcript.
3. Beyond the fourth request a fee of $1 will be charged for each transcript.
4. Standard procedure calls for processing the requests as soon as possible after they are submitted.

Preparing For A Four-Year College

The junior year has become the crucial one for college preparation. The student first takes college boards in that year, talks to admissions officers and begins to think seriously about particular choices.

According to the Guidance Department, "Nobody should tell you where to go to college — many people will try. An investment of four years of time and money should begin with a realistic appraisal of your ability, motivation and goals. If you do not like to work, if you do not have a commitment to learning, be strong enough to face the fact that the competition of college is not for you. Much has been written about college as a place for the academically talented, but there is still a place for the average student who loves learning and knows how to face hard work. If there is a skill in choosing the "right" college, it is in making a realistic choice."

Admission

There is no single yardstick, but most schools use several criteria in determining who will be admitted.

1. Student's scholastic record in high school.
2. Recommendation of the high school.
3. Standardized test scores.
4. Evidence of willingness to work and a desire to learn.
5. Character, health, and extracurricular interests and achievements of the applicant.

Schools are interested in the candidate's participating in school and community activities as indication of his effective citizenship and qualities of leadership. Quality of contributions rather than quantity is carefully considered.

Demand for musical instruments is increasing as the holidays approach, according to Mrs. Mark Lombardi, director of the recently established Musical Instrument Exchange, sponsored by the Community School Association of Winchester.

A number of reasons explain the increasing demand, besides the obvious association of Christmas and music. Mrs. Lombardi states, "First, the rental period is about to expire for instruments leased through the schools in October and many parents are considering the purchase of an instrument as a Christmas gift."

Also, the recently announced intention of the School Department to reinstate the fourth grade brass and woodwind instruction in January has created demand for these instruments.

Anyone who possesses an unused instrument is encouraged to list it with the Exchange in order that it may provide an enriching musical experience for a student.

Individuals wishing to buy or sell an instrument may contact Mrs. Lombardi at 729-3445. Payment of a nominal listing fee will put prospective buyer and seller in touch with each other. Any listed instrument may be appraised at no cost by appointment with Frederick Murray of the School Music Department.

This appraisal will ensure that all parties to a sale through the Musical Instrument Exchange receive fair value in their transactions.

Application

Most schools want the student to file his application during the first semester of the senior year.

Following completion of the application blank the Guidance Office will provide the additional information requested on the application from the high school record. A transcript will be sent.

Schools vary on dates of notification of acceptance. Many wait until April, some do so shortly after the application has been received. Catalogs should be consulted to determine the particular date in each instance.

Visits to the college campus in which the student is interested are encouraged by the Guidance Department. Consulting the catalog will tell the student how to make an application for a visit.

Scholarships

Most scholarships are awarded on the basis of academic achievement, good character, and financial need. Some scholarships require that a student take the College Boards. More and more, financial need is being recognized as the basic consideration in awarding scholarships. Many schools believe that scholarships must be awarded to students with academic promise who are seriously in need of financial assistance.

The Guidance Office will supply the student with the College Scholarship Service form, known also as the Parents' Confidential Statement. This must be sent to Princeton, New Jersey, where it will be on file for colleges to which the student applies.

The student's counselor should also be informed of his interest in obtaining a scholarship. He will keep the student informed as to what can apply for a scholarship, where, when, and to whom the student should apply.

Winton Club
Readies Cabaret

As several months of work near completion, members of the Winton Club Cabaret program committee have reason to be pleased with the results of their effort. The program book, numbering close to 200 pages, is virtually complete.

Copy from the many loyal Winton Club advertisers has been collected, organized, and indexed, pages have been set up, and the presses are ready to roll.

Show Chairman Mrs. Sherman Saitmarsh Jr. announces that preparations for the 49th annual cabaret, entitled "If Elected, I Promise..." now are shifting to production phases. Scenery, property, and costume crews are making ready, publicity is being planned, tickets are being printed, and floor preparations are under way for the performance nights of January 27 through 31.

Most important of all, Talent Chairman Mrs. Malcolm B. Leslie is lining up her casting requirements. The roles are numerous this year, the chorus and dance groups are large, so local talent take note: exactly one month from tonight, on January 11, Talent Night will be held at the Town Hall from 6 p.m. on. Mark the date now and keep it open. Details of the "campaign" will follow shortly in this paper.

Mrs. Ralph (Ellie) Spellman of 10 Ridge Street, local distributor for Amway products, attended the Amway awards banquet at Monticello's, Framingham, last month. Featured speaker at the banquet was Richard DeVos, president of Amway, a leader in the development of bio-degradable products which are useful in the fight against water pollution.

Serving The Community For 89 Years

Editorials:

Yea, Team!

This week will see the beginning of a house-to-house drive by the students at the Winchester High School to provide the funds for a testimonial for the 1969 Middlesex League Champions. Gathering the donations will be members of the cheerleaders, the tumblettes and the general student body. The group will be led by precinct chairman who include the parents of team members.

It's not every year that Winchester sees an undefeated team—the last one, according to Athletic Director Henry Knowlton, was Joe Bellino's 1955 team—and this year's season provided some good Saturday entertainment for Winchester's football buffs. As Middlesex League champs for the second year in a row, they deserve our praise.

The students who will be knocking on doors this week want to see that the team has the kind of praise from their community that they deserve. They hope that this testimonial will be a real tribute to the boys from the community as a whole.

We hope that everyone in Town will receive the young canvassers warmly and, even if you feel unable to contribute, offer your congratulations to the team for a job well done.

To the students who will be doing the door-to-door leg work, we also add a word of tribute. They stand to gain nothing more from this than the pleasure of doing something for the team!

"Peace On Earth"

Two women from the Citizens for Participation Politics appeared before the Board of Selectmen this week with a request that their organization be allowed to place a wreath for peace along with the other Town decorations. The Citizens group wishes the wreath to incorporate the international symbol for peace and the Board recommended that the group use instead the word "peace," and that they first clear their plans with the Town Decorations Committee.

It seems to us unfortunate that one cannot mention "peace" these days without it having some political connotation. According to Biblical tradition, the angels over Bethlehem were singing "Peace On Earth. Good Will To Men,"—peace for all, not just in Vietnam.

The message of this season is peace. It is a religious season, not just a commercial one, and it is time for us to turn our thoughts to the achievement of worldwide peace, not to disregard the message because it connotes Vietnam and that war raises such conflict and feeling against the peace demonstrators. We do need peace in Vietnam, but it's not the only place it is needed!

It is unfortunate that the peace message this season has the political connotations that make it necessary for the Selectmen to say no to the use of the international peace symbol because the movement for peace itself has set man against man.

Communist Massacre Myth Or Reality?

Editor of the Star:

In her letter to the last Star, Mrs. Terzaghi referred to the myth of a massacre of the communists in South Vietnam. I can only refer to history and to present communist policy in saying it will occur. The following article was printed in the December 6, 1969, issue of "Human Events," a weekly newspaper printed in Washington.

"A former North Vietnamese Army officer, Lt. Col. Le Xuyen Chuyen, who defected to the south after 21 years of Communist party leadership, revealed to a Scripps-Howard reporter in Saigon last week that the Communists had a least five million on what he called the communists' 'blood debt' lists.

"Col. Chuyen declared that for every 100 on the lists 10 to 15 would pay with their lives, another 40 would be imprisoned and the rest would undergo 'thought reform.' Included on the lists are a million Catholic refugees who fled North Vietnam, some two million South Vietnamese troops, government officials down to the hamlet level and paramilitary groups, more than 100,000 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong defectors, some 100,000 South Vietnamese working for the Americans and numerous elements of the 'bourgeois' class.

"That massacres and atrocities have become official policy of the Communists in North Vietnam has long been known. Ho Chi Minh systematically slaughtered an estimated half-million peasants during his land reform program in the 50's, while some 20,000 civilians, including village chieftains, priests, government officials, hospital workers, etc., have been murdered by the Reds since the Viet Cong unleashed their terror campaign in the south.

"A Red document called the Hue massacre a complete success, stating: 'Hue was the place where reactionary spirit had existed for over 10 years. However, it only took us a short time to drain it to its roots.' On April 27, 1969, a Hanoi radio broadcast boasted that the bodies then being discovered in the Hue area were 'Hooligan lackeys who had owed blood debts.'"

I am disturbed that our local news media play up the alleged massacre at My Lai (which if true is certainly wrong and against our war policy) but fail to give a balanced picture of the enemy atrocities. Perhaps the communist murders are so commonplace they fail to become news any longer. Sort of like dog bites man is no news, but man bites dog makes headlines. Then again maybe Agnew was right.

Sincerely,
Jack A. Wilson
42 Thornberry Road

"Blood Bath" In Vietnam?

Editor of the Star:

It is disturbing to see, in a letter printed in last week's Star, an incredible naivety about the conflict in South Vietnam. There is considerable front page publicity about My Lai, where one report was that 128 Viet Cong died there that day.

On later pages of our newspapers we find reports of other events. President Thieu recently dedicated a monument to the "few thousand" civilians who were slaughtered by the North Vietnamese at Hue last year. When the Communist government assumed power in the north, they systematically exterminated 100,000 people, mostly Catholics, while 300-400,000 escaped to the south. These are not myths and they should be called "blood baths." Massacre of civilians is a standard practice by Communist armies and governments.

There is little question that a large number of civilians would be killed if the North Vietnamese took over after a precipitate withdrawal of our forces. Therefore our presence is preventing a blood bath. To suggest that a few individuals be resettled to prevent retaliation is one thing, but resettlement of the necessary several hundred thousand people from their homes to somewhere else is ludicrous.

The Vietnam situation is complex and unfortunate, but we don't need to be masochistic about it. There is a simple and obvious solution—the North Vietnamese should withdraw their troops from all neighboring countries, stop supporting the Viet Cong, and renounce ambitions of territorial expansion.

Very truly yours,
Nolan T. Jones
22 Squire Road

Thanks People Who Helped Band

Editor of the Star:

There are so many wonderful, cooperative people in Winchester that we want to communicate with them through the Star. Friends of the Orchestras and Bands have been working on two main projects to benefit the musical organizations. One is the concession stand at football games, and the other "Socks It to Me" Sunday. Mark Lombardi, president of the Friends, has been the organizer of the fall Projects, and much credit is due him for his initiative and planning.

There were so many people who helped — parents, students, townspeople, relatives, friends, custodians, town employees, that we can't thank each individual personally.

If you sold or bought, were a driver, a telephoner, a supporter in any way, we thank you. It has been an exciting experience, and I think everyone who has been involved has felt the enthusiasm and spirit of cooperation. The thanks of the Friends of Orchestras and Bands is extended to the many who helped in so many different ways.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. A. R. Brink
Secretary,
Friends of the Orchestras and Bands

Tribute To Betty DeVries

Editor of the Star:

To anyone who knew her, the untimely death last week of Betty DeVries (Mrs. George DeVries of Oldham Road, Arlington) represents a great loss. Betty had many friends in Winchester.

She was a member of Winchester Circle of Florence Crittenton, Winchester Auxiliary of MSPCA, a loyal supporter of Winchester's Annual Sale for the Blind, and a member of Winchester Country Club (she was an excellent and avid curler).

Friendly, gay, sweet, generous to a fault, fun to be with, that's how we remember Betty. A devoted wife and mother, loyal friend and gracious hostess, her passing leaves a deep feeling of grief and loss to friends and neighbors as well as family, but it was a joy to have known Betty at all.

Sincerely,
Kay Gardin
8 Copley Street

Selectmen

"In my considered opinion, you have acted beyond your authority in approving these retroactive salary payments, and submitting them to me for approval, notwithstanding your contention that they are based on a collective bargaining agreement dated October 15, 1969.

"Accordingly, I am unable to certify, in accordance with the provisions of said Chapter 57, Section 2(d), of the Acts of 1963, that they are . . . not . . . unlawful . . ." No warrant authorizing the expenditures, will be drawn upon the treasurer."

The letter is addressed to Fire Chief L. Francis Amico, and copies were sent to both the Board of Selectmen and Town Treasurer Marguerite Troop.

Petitions

Petitions were received by the Board requesting articles in the Town Meeting warrant concerning a sidewalk on Main Street and a Fire Station on the West Side. Signatures on the petitions are being checked by the Town Clerk's office.

In other business, the Board heard a report from David Turnquist of the Aberjona Watershed Committee and Albert A. MacDonald of the Park Commission. The two committees met Monday evening to discuss the Davidson Park project which was the subject of a hearing before the Selectmen on Monday, December 1.

Mr. Turnquist told the Board that plans call for the Watershed Committee to hire Camp, Dresser and McKee, the engineering firm which has done previous studies on the project, to do the hydraulic calculations on the project. Following this, the Watershed Committee will submit the plans to the State for approval.

The committee will also prepare bids for the project. Following this, the Park Department will complete the project. It was estimated at the meeting of the two committees that it would take approximately one month for Camp, Dresser and McKee to complete their study. It is anticipated that State approval would take six to eight weeks following the submission of the plans.

School Comm.

In reading over the statement Mr. Schroeder suggested that the wording should be made more concise, with particular references to those responsible. At present, he feels, the terms of the statement are subject to various interpretations.

Dr. Klemmer stated that it was a future aim to rewrite the Rules and Regulations in broader terminology, such as this statement represents, to make them more like policies than procedures.

Committee members will reread the statement and submit their amendments for its wording for the next meeting.

Among matters placed on the agenda, but not touched upon, were the dates for the receipts of bids on the new high school. Sub-contracts are scheduled for January 8, 1970, and general contracts for January 15, 1970.

The agenda also announced the receipt by the Council for Public Schools, Inc., of a $184,000 Ford grant for the establishment of an Orff-Kodaly Musical Training Center.

In a letter from the executive director of the council, it is written "It was as a direct result of what Richard Kapp, the program officer at Ford in charge of this project, saw in Winchester that sold the Foundation on the Kodaly system. Graham Winslow and Denny Bacon join me in expressing our sincere thanks to Dr. Donald Klemmer, Walter Gleason, Wendell Withington, Jean Loudon, and the principals and teachers involved."

Receiving a cover picture story in the "A.A.S.A. (American Association of School Administrators) International Newsletter" this fall was Winchester's participation with the Overseas School in Rome this summer.

The A.A.S.A. has also sent an invitation to attend their program at Atlantic City in February.

ventive help for the average or "normal" children in the early grades to encourage positive human development making a person better prepared to cope with life.

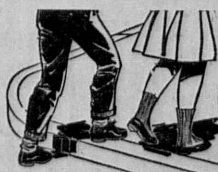

Contrasts

As evidence of the need for emphasis on pupil personnel services and the resultant help in development of the child's personality in addition to the development of his academic abilities, Dr. Kroll suggested appraisal of the contrast between technological accomplishments of society and the problems encountered in the society in human relations, international understanding and successful home environments.

Figures presented also showed Massachusetts first among the 50 states in expenditure for fire protection and eighth in expenditure for police protection. On comparison of these ranks with that of 50th in expenditure for education, Dr. Kroll observed that economically it would appear that Massachusetts is banking on police and fire protection rather than education to solve its problems.

First in a series of steps planned to implement a study by the League of pupil services offered Winchester Public School children, the discussion, according to guidance personnel present, opened the door for further discussion of the issues, aims and needs in the field.

Dr. Kroll is director of student counselling center, Clark University and vice-president of Inter-Active Learning Systems, Inc.

NIGHT OF THE GRIZZLIES

by Jack Olsen

By the middle of August of 1967, Glacier Park was sweltering. All summer the weather station had posted new record-high temperatures. Only a trickle of water fell over Birdwoman Falls, and fires continued to break out and threaten the 1,000,000 acres of forest that make up the magnificent northwest corner of Montana. Naturalist John Muir called Glacier Park "the greatest care-killing scenery" on the North American Continent. The eye is taken not only by the flora but by the geology of this most spectacular of America's wildlife preserves. This is the last hiding place for several near-extinct or rare species including the Rocky Mountain wolf, and animals abound within the confines of the park, seeming to know that here they cannot be hunted.

This, too, is the home of the grizzly bear, so-called by early explorers because his silvery white-tipped fur looks like the grey in an old man's hair. Standing seven or eight feet tall, with a speed that belies its quarter ton weight, the grizzly when first observed sets the heart pounding with both fear and pride. This animal is noted for courage, independence and intelligence. Driven from the plains by the westward migration of man, the grizzly is now holed up in these final square miles of American wilderness, avoiding a fight with his only natural enemy—man. His number has been reduced to less than 1,000 and perhaps as few as 500. With man probing deeper and deeper into the wilderness retreats of the great bear, he can find less and less space in which to flee the dreadful man smell.

There have been over the years a few incidences of attacks on humans, some of them serious but none of them fatal. This is how matters stood when the summer of 1967 began. Why then in a single night in August had two separate bears gone on a rampage and killed two nineteen-year-old girls in two areas of the park?

Night of the Grizzlies is a brilliantly researched book which clearly shows that this tragedy is one for which man must take a large part of the responsibility. It is another sad chapter in America's vanishing frontier and it traces the causes of the disaster—the rangers, busy with fires; the disregard for safety regulations; and the belief that grizzlies simply do not attack and kill human beings. It could not happen. But it did and we must learn the reasons why. Is the grizzly to be wiped out, or be allowed to live with the proper control that is necessary? Mr. Olsen writes of these bears

"Such heroes carry within themselves the stuff of tragedy; people break rules for them, make concessions to them until sometimes the heroes wind up destroying themselves."

Jack Olsen, senior editor of Sports Illustrated, spent months interviewing survivors of those involved, and his book is objective and thorough. It will be hard to put down.

65th Year Celebrated By D.A.R.

The December meeting for the Committee of Safety Chapter, D.A.R. will have significance for its members as they will be celebrating the Chapter's 65th anniversary.

On Monday, December 15, members will meet at the home of Mrs. Marshall W. Symmes, regent, at 2:00 pm.

A special program, a review of the Chapter's 65 year history, has been prepared by Mrs. Ernest J. Wright, a local member.

To add to the festivities, a Christmas tea will be served, including sandwiches, holiday cookies, and a special anniversary cake.

Federal Contract Is Awarded Diamond Antenna

A $12,000 government contract for electronic supplies has been awarded Diamond Antenna and Microwave Corporation of 35 River Street by the Defense Supply Agency's Defense Electronics Supply Center, Dayton, Ohio.

The contract calls for 100 rotary couplers, radio frequency, coaxial line type, to be manufactured in accordance with the contractor's design at their plant in Winchester.

This is a fixed-price supply type contract which has been awarded after formal advertising and competitive negotiations.

The Defense Electronics Supply Center procures, manages and supplies common parts of electronic equipment used by the armed services and various government agencies.

"Thought" Is Published By WHS Students

A magazine for conservatives, produced and paid for by high school students from this area, hits local newsstands today. The 32 page, wood-grain covered magazine "Thought" is the work of Winchester High School seniors who spent three months assembling stories and interviews about today's problems.

The project was born last September, says Editor Mark Frazier, as a reaction to "the Boston Globe, John Kenneth Galbraith, and similar examples of close-minded liberal thought." Material for the December issue was put together from interviews with evicted Brighton families, the leader of a Roxbury tenants' organization, Boston Housing Authority officials, an architect, landlords, and the chairman of Harvard's Economic Department. The centers of debate were the crisis of the cities and a study of foreign economic systems.

While rebelling somewhat against the term "conservative," ("We're libertarians, not conservatives," says the editor), the staff does come out strongly for free trade and private enterprise. The first issue links the decline of the cities with the flight of private industry, and takes a critical look at labor practices and restricted trade.

The first issue, with a press run of 1,000, is being offered in five neighboring cities and towns. Although the magazine is aimed at adults, Mark Frazier and Steve Boodakian, (the editor and business manager) feel that it may attract a few students in the area and even entice some of them into getting in touch. The editors would like nothing more, they say, than to make their enterprise a regional operation.

Both Mark and Steve have had previous journalistic experience. Mark was a columnist in junior high for the Winchester Star; publisher of a small-scale magazine last year; and editor of a church publication. His other interests include flying (he is a licensed pilot) and diving.

Steve is currently involved with the "Aberjona," Winchester High's student yearbook, a successful fund-raiser for numerous school and town activities, and one of the Dramatic Club's leading players.

Assisting them is a small, but able band of high school students. Michael Kelleher's talented artwork provides the magazine with one of its most distinctive features. Peter McClellan's six years experience in photography is evident in the pictures appearing in the December issue. And Joy Reppucci's skill in silk screening is responsible for the highly attractive covers. But the greatest credit of all, they feel, goes to University Press, a Winchester based printing company.

For the advice and assistance of the president, Mr. Cowan, and aid of the Art Department, Mark and Steve say, "We cannot thank them enough."

If matters go as planned, both circulation and staff will expand as future issues appear. The next issue, available February 1st, will emphasize developments in education; already, college students have offered to write for it. Moreover, the editor and business manager plan on offering it in Boston next time, and, if the current issue sells, doubling the press run. By June, they hope, Thought Magazine will be sold throughout the Greater Boston area, and if the first issue is any indication, perhaps they will succeed.

"Patience" Presented By Staff & Key

Many loyal Staff and Key Society's former members had grave doubts about the presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Patience" for the 1969 production, when the first announcement of the selection was voted last winter.

After the actual presentation on Friday night at the Winchester High School Auditorium, the "doubting Thomases" were loud in their acclaim of the accomplished performance put on before, unfortunately, a rather slim audience.

The show was an instant success from the moment the opening curtain came to rest at the wings. The girls' chorus set the tone of the entire performance with their excellent rendition of "Twenty Love Sick Maidens We" behind the initial soloists, Carol O'Shaughnessy and Kristen Beard as Lady Angela and Lady Ella, respectively.

The pace of this not-too-familiar operetta never lagged for tuneful music and witty repertoire. Linda Milani Palkey continued her amazing voice control in the lead role of "Patience," thrilling the audience with several solos and incidental pieces with the chorus and other principals.

Perhaps the hits of the entire show, if one could single out individuals, were Mrs. Enid Houding and Warren Colson. As Lady Jane, a not-so-young maiden, Mrs. Houding was a pleasant surprise with her "Sad Is That Woman's Lot" number, with generous swipes at a boss viol, and her comic poise throughout. Mr. Colson was never better as Reginald Bunthorne, edifying gales of laughter by his antics and soulful yet robust voice.

The Colonel, the Major and the Duke, as Officers of the 35th Dragoons, played by Pat Saavedra, Harry Downs and Bob Mathews, were apt subjects of frustration and then attempted aestheticism as neo-flower people.

Archibald Grosvenor, rival "poet" to Reginald Bunthorne, was admirably played by Marc Jablon, a "taller but more anemic" playmate of Patience. He and Bunthorne were fine foils for each other in their many appearances and their comic duos, while Jean Shearer, as Lady Saphir, was in excellent voice as she alternately cooed and demanded attention and supplication.

The retinue of Dragoons was smaller than the usual G and S male chorus, but they were outfitted splendidly, and made up for their small number by some robust singing that could be heard in the far reaches of the auditorium. The chorus of "rapturous" maidens presented a bevy of beauties whose talents with singing and dancing were a joy to behold and hear.

L. Hassler Einzig had a hit on his hands, this year, and he directed it in is usual masterful manner. His orchestra of 14 pieces played well and, this year, could not be accused of drowning out the stage voices, as they displayed rare volume control.

The outspoken praises of everyone who had the privilege of being at this year's Staff and Key performance hodes well for whatever G and S play they plan for 1970. If this year's production is a criterion, this reviewer suggests that everyone plan to attend next December's performance and get tickets early for as enjoyable musical entertainment as you will find in the Greater Boston area.

Music Club Sings Carols, Hears Soloists

More than 40 young members of the Winchester Music Club sang Christmas carols Sunday evening, December 7 and heard violin, piano and vocal soloists perform at the home of Mrs. John DeMars.

Mrs. Harold Thistlethwaite, special guest of the evening, led the singing.

Planned by Miss Ruth Hayden and introduced by Douglas DeNatale, the program was as follows: Rosalind Bertocci, voice: "La Noel Passe" and "Blue Madonna" arranged by Benjamin Britten; Susan Broadhurst, piano: "Waltz, C Major" by Schubert; Nancy Ervico, piano: "Hopscotch" by Kabelevsky; Mona DiCiccio, piano: "Autumn Leaves"; Jean Cormack, violin, accompanied by Paula Marko: "Sonatina, D Major" by Schubert; Christine Uglietto, piano: "Sound of Music"; Monique Phinney, piano: "Habenera," from "Carmen" by Bizet, and "Aria" from "Marriage of Figaro" by Mozart; Mary Barcus, piano: "Allegro" from "Sonata, D Major" by Hook; Francine Patti, piano: "Tijuana Taxi"; Jane Thompson, violin: "Canto Amoroso" by Sammartini-Elman; Karen Mentzoni, piano: "Two Sonatas" by Scarlatti; Mary Ann Salvucci, piano: "Alley Cat"; Patrick Lee, piano: "First Movement, Moonlight Sonata" by Beethoven; Douglas DeNatale, violin: "Chanson Papillonne" by D'Ambrosia, and "Mozart Dance" by L. Mendelssohn.

Teachers whose students participated in the program were Edith Bolster, Marguerite Webb, John Willis Jr., Doris Thomas, Mrs. Morton Baratz, Constance Sylvester, and Ruth Hayden.

The next program, which will be presented on January 25, will be prepared by Mrs. Norton Demsey.

We are at the halfway points in the 10-year conversion of Great Britain to the metric system, and in the three-year study by the U.S. National Bureau of Standards of pros and cons of a U.S. conversion.

Mrs. McGilvray Is Soloist In Christmas Concert

Mrs. James McGilvray of 1 Indian Hill Road will be the featured contralto soloist when the 30-voice adult choir of the United Presbyterian Church of Burlington leads a concert of Christmas songs and carols at the church on Sunday, December 14, at 7 p.m.

Under the direction of Mrs. Richard Douse, organist and choir director, the singers will present such varied selections as "The Carol of the Bells" by Leontovich, the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's Messiah, and "Glory to God in the Highest" by Pergolesi. In addition to Mrs. McGilvray, who will sing "O Thou That Tellest Good Tidings to Zion" from The Messiah, several other choir members will be featured as incidental soloists.

Other Winchester residents who will participate in this service are Anthony Carrigan and James McGilvray.

Following the program, a dessert buffet will be served in the church's fellowship hall.

Breaking And Entering Occurs At Jewelry Store

A breaking and entering was reported at the Winchester Jeweler at 35 Thompson Street on Saturday, December 6. An amount of jewelry and pen and pencil sets undetermined at that time was taken from the front window.

Proprietor George York showed Officer Joseph N. Perritano the 10 by 12 inch pane of glass which had been broken in the front display case. According to the police report, it is estimated that it could have taken two minutes to accomplish this act.

This year marks the 450th anniversary of the death of Leonardo da Vinci, who combined his talent of painting with an interest in mechanics and anatomy.

Cross Street Bridge Takes Truck's Roof

On Wednesday evening, December 3, a truck became wedged under the Boston and Maine railroad bridge on Cross Street. However, it had been freed before the arrival of Officer Peter Cogan at the expense of the entire roof of the vehicle, which was crumpled and torn off in the effort.

According to the police report there was only minor damage to the bridge. The driver of the truck, Robert E. Wilson of Saugus, told police that he thought he could clear it.

Holy Name To See Woburn Films

The Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Church will see the films of the annual Turkey Day game with Woburn at its December meeting to be held Sunday morning.

The gathering will take place at Knights of Columbus Hall after the 7:45 Mass. Coach Manny Marshall will give a running commentary and explain the action to the group.

All interested persons have been invited to attend by President John Ellis and the moderator Rev. John O'Donnell. A continental collation will be served.

Dr. Hunter Will Speak To Methodists

Dr. Howard Hunter of 3 Madison Avenue, West will be the guest preacher at the 11 a.m. service this Sunday at Crawford Memorial United Methodist Church.

Dr. Broyles, Pastor of Crawford Memorial, is conducting a week-end Conference on Exorcism for the Methodist Laymen of Delaware in Wilmington.

Dr. Hunter is chairman of the department of religion at Tufts University. Formerly with the Crane Theological School and with Boston University school of theology, Dr. Hunter is active in a variety of religious and academic affairs. He has developed workshops in the field of religion and cinema and is a Fellow of the Society for Arts, Religion, and Contemporary Culture.

A graduate of Ohio Northern University, he received his graduate degrees in literature at Ohio State and in theology at Boston University. He has been a juror for religious films at the American Film Festival for the past three years. This past summer he participated in a consultation at the Ecumenical Institute in Bossey, Switzerland.

Dr. Hunter's topic for this Sunday's sermon will be "The Messiah: A Transparent Mystery."

Dr. Hunter and his wife, Dr. Doris Hunter are the parents of two children, Amy and Bruce.

Holiday guests at the home of Marion Noonan of 27 Sheridan Circle were Mr. and Mrs. Gene O'Sullivan of Cape Cod, who had just returned from a three-month hunting trip in northern Maine. Mr. O'Sullivan attended the Woburn-Winchester football game and met many townspeople who remembered him from the 1914 team which played against Arlington.

Intrepid Offers Art Variety And Two Locations

When you think of the good things in life, one of the first things that comes to mind is good food; second might be good art. Good art is akin to good food, for, while one feeds the body, the other feeds the soul.

For years, the Pot Shop has been providing the buying public with the ultimate in cooking utensils to enhance good food.

In order to broaden the scope of good things, the Intrepid Art Galleries (affiliated with the Pot Shop) have sprung up in various locations. The Wellesley Intrepid on Central Street has just celebrated its second birthday and has proven to be a valuable addition to the town.

The Belmont Intrepid is only a few months old. Located at 49 Leonard Street in Belmont Centre, it is already becoming an exciting place to visit.

Both galleries are overflowing with a superb collection of oil and water color paintings, etchings, collages, wood cuts, lithographs, potato prints, serigraphs, batiks, pottery, stained glass designs, silver and copper enamel jewelry and many other items.

Many of New England's top artists are represented in these galleries.

There are also the works of lesser known artists. The important consideration at Intrepid is good quality.

The art work is presented in a friendly, informal way with a wide range of prices to fit every pocket-book.

Director of the galleries is Grace Godwin Way of Sudbury, herself an artist and well known in local art circles.

Browsers are always welcome—don't miss a visit to one or both of these treasure spots, where the best in art is gathered to whet your appetite.

Hints Offered For Telephoning Those In Vietnam

New England Telephone customers were advised recently to plan ahead if they wish to talk during the coming holiday season to relatives or friends stationed in Vietnam.

"It is generally easier for a serviceman to call home than for his family to try reaching him in Vietnam," said Robert G. O'Keefe, Winchester Business Office manager for New England Telephone. "And to avoid disappointments, servicemen are encouraged to notify their families in advance if they expect to telephone home, particularly during the holidays."

Mr. O'Keefe said that more than 42,000 calls were completed between the United States and Vietnam last year. Most of the calls, he added, were made from Vietnam rather than the U.S. because of the difficulty in locating servicemen when calls come in from the States.

The heavy concentration of so many troops in a small country at war creates some real communications problems," Mr. O'Keefe said. "Service is still not what we would like it to be, but it has been improved substantially in recent years."

Travel restrictions and curfews locating servicemen to take telephone calls, Mr. O'Keefe explained, in Saigon complicate the task of For this reason, when a call is made to Saigon it is important for the caller to have the serviceman's unit, his APO number and, if possible, a telephone number where he can be reached.

Until 1967, Manager O'Keefe said, servicemen could call home only from Saigon. Calls now can be placed from hospitals and bases in Ton Son Nhut, Long Binh, Cam Ranh Bay, Nha Trang, Qui Nhon and Da Nang.

United States callers, however, can reach only telephones in Saigon and the immediate vicinity. The speed of handling a call to Vietnam depends on the volume of calls pending at the time and the availability of the serviceman in Vietnam, Mr. O'Keefe said. Calls between the United States and Vietnam average about 350 a day. But this figure is expected to increase during the holiday season.

Calls originating in Vietnam are handled "first come, first served" at various telephone centers operated for servicemen.

"But when a serviceman does get to a telephone, it is usually just a few minutes before his call is completed to the States," Mr. O'Keefe said. Saigon is 13 hours ahead of Eastern Standard Time.

In 1965, communications facilities in Vietnam permitted the completion of only 20 calls a day between the two countries. Two commercial high frequency radio circuits were operated four hours a day.

There are now 10 circuits available for Vietnam service, and they generally are open 12 to 15 hours a day. The circuits go by ocean cable or satellite to Hong Kong and the rest of the way by high frequency radio. The calling hours are not continuous because radio circuits between Saigon and Hong Kong are subject to interference several hours a day.

The first three minutes of a station-to-station call to Vietnam is $9. A person-to-person call costs $12 for the first three minutes. Additional minute rates for both station and person calls is $3.

A U.S. Army sergeant contributed $100 to The Salvation Army's Christmas program because he had received food and lodging from The Salvation Army as a youth of 17.

Presents Annual Season Concert

The music department of Christian High School in Lexington will sponsor their Annual Christmas Concert on Friday night, December 12, at 8 p.m., in the high school auditorium.

Both the Junior High Choir and the Senior High Chorale will participate in the program. The musical groups are under the direction of Dan Foster.

The Christmas section of the Messiah will be the highlight of the Chorale presentation. The two groups will also render a variety of traditional Christmas music. Also, there will be vocal and instrumental solos.

The Christian High School extends a very cordial welcome to everyone who wishes to attend. Please take this opportunity to visit our school on this special occasion.

Mr. Davidson To Present Museum Concert

This Saturday, December 13, at 3 p.m., the Old North Singers, conducted by Douglass Davidson of 14 Thornberry Road, will give a Christmas concert at the Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum, Boston. Works of Clerambault, Schutz, Bach, Poulenc, and Pinkham will be performed.

The Old North Singers will be assisted by David Rhodes, lutenist, and by the Cambridge Symphonic Brass Ensemble. The concert is free and open to the public.

Fire losses usually are higher in the winter than any other time of the year, says the Insurance Information Institute. Although other factors are involved, this is a result mainly of heating hazards.

YMCA Classes For Handicapped

Louis Primmer, general secretary of the Melrose Y.M.C.A., has made the pool facilities of the "Y" available to physically handicapped children and will be cooperating with the Easter Seal Society and the Melrose Parks and Recreation Department in sponsoring a weekly instructional swim program throughout the fall season.

Swimming instruction will be geared to teaching each child individually at his or her own rate of progress. The program will be under the direction of Carolyn Doane, certified Water Safety Instructor with special training in teaching the handicapped, assisted by adult and teenage volunteers.

Bookstore Gets Help Of Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Hughes recently celebrated the remodeling of their little bookstore on 7 Davis Street in Woburn. While they were on a brief vacation with their family, friends surprised them by secretly redecorating their display room. Upon return from their vacation, the Hughes were greeted by fresh paint and newly constructed shelving.

MR. AND MRS. ARTHUR W. HUGHES

Mr. Hughes was stricken with polio in 1959 and nearly died. He fought a courageous battle against the crippling effects of the disease and astounded doctors by his remarkable recovery.

In July, 1960, he and his wife, Lois, opened the Go and Tell Christian Bookstore in their apartment and in September, 1961, were able to sustain themselves without public assistance. Their store represents all the major Christian publishing houses and stocks Bibles, biblical study aids, children's books, records and greeting cards.

The Hughes have five children, and Arthur is a ranger in the local unit of the Christian Service Brigade which numbers nearly 100 boys ages 8-11.

Winchester Voter

Next election day, March 2, 1970, the voters will elect one member to the Town's Planning Board for a five-year term. In order to promote greater voter interest in the up-coming election and, hopefully, to spark a contest for this office, some description of the Board's function and recent history follows.

The Planning Board is composed of five unsalaried members, elected for overlapping five-year terms. It is assisted by the Town engineers and, as projects arise, a planning consultant on a contract basis.

By law, the Board has the responsibility for studying and reporting on the resources, possibilities and needs of the community, and for making plans for future development. This involves attention to population trends, potential uses of vacant land, and similar questions. In these studies it is greatly aided by other Town departments. Its recommendations are purely advisory, with action dependent upon the will of the Town Meeting.

The Board must keep an up-to-date zoning map of the town. Another important function that occupies much of the Board's time is administration of the Subdivision Control Law.

Specific projects that have occupied the Board during the past few years include: proposals for revision of the Zoning By-Law; recommendations for the proposed new high school; and preparation of various land-use maps, prerequisite to the creation of a master plan for future development of the town. The Board has expressed its concern about the dwindling amount of open area in the town, specifically for recreation and conservation purposes. The Board has also emphasized the immediate need for the Town to acquire land adjacent to existing elementary schools for future expansion.

Planning Board election statistics for the past five years show that with the exception of 1965 there has been no contest for election to the Board. That year, with four candidates vying for office there was somewhat of a scramble for second and third place. Still, out of a total of 3,483 ballots cast there were 594 blanks. In 1966 a total of 3,931 votes were cast, 2,709 for the only candidate, with 1,222 ballots left blank. In 1967 there were 7,709 votes for the only candidate, 1,140 blanks; 1968 saw 2,605 for the only candidate, with 1,126 blanks; 1969 saw the one candidate for election voted in by 3,573 votes, with 755 blanks.

Park Board

In March 2nd's election one seat on the Town's Park Board will be open.

The principal function of the Board of Park Commissioners, of which there are six who are elected for overlapping three-year terms, is supervision of the Park Department in accomplishing the beautification and maintenance of the parks, playgrounds, school grounds and recreational areas. These total more than 206 acres at the present time.

The Commissioners serve without pay. They supervise the Park Department, consisting of a superintendent and 13 permanent employees. Land under the jurisdiction of the Park Department may not be removed from that category without specific legislation by the General Court.

Election statistics indicate that since 1966 there has been no contest for a seat on the Board of Park Commissioners.

In that year three persons ran for two vacancies: of a total 3,931 votes cast there were still 1,754 blank ballots for this office. The two Commissioners were elected by a very close vote, the third contestant losing by only 86 votes. Still, it must be pointed out that of 3,931 votes cast in that election there were 1,754 blanks.

In 1967, when there was no contest, the incumbent received 2,620 votes and there were 1,125 blanks. In 1968 when there were two vacancies, neither one contested, each candidate received over 3,500 votes, but still, 2,269 blanks were cast.

It is surprising, this high percentage of blanks left on ballots each year by the voters. Whether or not the seat is contested does not seem to affect this phenomenon. (League of Women Voters.)

Pee Wee B's Top Medford

The B's played a scrappy game with undefeated Medford and knocked the Mustangs out of first place by a 3 to 1 score.

Rich Coakley started the locals on the way with a score midway through the first period, scoring from a jam out in front on a good centering pass by Bob Coppins.

It was Rich Coakley again in the second period who broke a 1-1 tie. This time Rich teamed up with his right wing, fast-skating Greg Fucillo.

In the second period also Chip Hartnett got the goalie to commit and slipped one underneath him on a pass in front by Tom Romeo. The defense was sparked by the outstanding and improved play of Mike Donellan, Kev Julian and Paul Duffy who continually guarded their net and kept Medford bottled up in their own end.

Hartnett's insurance goal and the quick moves by rookie net minder Bill Maggio, who showed considerable improvement, kept the game out of Medford's reach.

Next week the B's look forward to facing off with Bedford at 4 p.m.

Team roster:
Goalies—Bill Maggio, Cliff Falla
Centers—Chip Hartnett, Rich Coakley, Pete Richmond
Wings—Tom Romeo, Jim Beaton, Bob Coppins, Greg Fucillo, Rich Graham, Jon Pettie

Defense—Mike Donellan, Phil Casey, Kev Julian, Andy de Mars, Phil Neergaard, Paul Duffy

The Insurance Information Institute notes that crimes involving property, which have a pronounced effect on insurance losses and rates, climbed sharply again in 1968. Robbery increased 29 per cent over the 1967 figure, larceny rose 21 per cent, auto theft 19 per cent, and burglary 13 per cent.

CYO Hockey Scores Win Over Milton

St. Mary's senior hockey team started its 11th campaign Sunday with a thrilling 4-3 comeback win over St. Agatha of Milton at McHugh Forum.

The game started as though St. Mary's was to suffer its first defeat ever, in an opening game, as at the end of the first period the scoreboard showed three goals for Milton and none for Winchester.

The second period was only one minute old when Stony Jacobs fired a rebound into the Milton net, his brother Richard and Mike Bonish getting assists. Five minutes later Stony Jacobs again lit the lamp with a high lift over the prostrate Milton goalie.

The third Winchester goal was a blazing 30 footer by defenseman Bob Ward, with assists to Bob Herlihy and Doug Ewart.

With the score tied and only 20 seconds left to play, Jack Brennan stole a puck at his own blue line, faked past two startled Milton defenders, and went in all alone on the Milton goal keeper, who came out of his net in a vain attempt to cut down Brennan's angle. Instead, Jack deked him into a committing move, skated around the now fallen goal tender and tapped a backhand into the exact center of the cage, as the Winchester rooters cheered themselves hoarse.

The game was marked by excellent defensive play by Matt O'Neill and John Campbell, and steady goal keeping by Peter Scopas.

The day also marked the introduction of some of the youngest players ever into this senior CYO league. Tom Brennan (12), Charlie Evans (13), and Mark Siegfried (13) took several turns as St. Mary's third line, and despite their lack of size acquitted themselves creditably.

Also showing well in their first game were Joe Martignetti, Ed Pierce, Kevin Pierce and Kevin Pronski. Defenseman Andy Twomey also looked good in his brief stint.

Donations Made To Football Fund

JOE BELLINO, left, former All-American gridiron star, presents his donation to Tom Keating, chairman of the Winchester High School football fund.

Sachem Testimonial Plans Are Formed By Committee

By John F. Parrell

What started out in a very small way with a few conversations and a flier prepared by this writer to be given out after the Thanksgiving Day game with Woburn have begun to take form as a committee is working hard on a testimonial for the Sachem gridders. There have been several meetings and offers of donations, and things have now progressed to a formal state. Thomas Keating is general chairman with Robert Johnson of 53 Wedgemere Avenue and your writer as advisors. The group is made up of parents, friends and followers of the Winchester eleven.

A monster house to house canvass has been planned for the coming weekend starting on Sunday and continuing until every home in Winchester has been visited by a football player, cheerleader, tumbler or some other authorized individual. It is hoped that a dollar donation may be received and of course those of larger amounts will be more than welcome. Clubs and organizations may send their donations to the Winchester National Bank.

The organization of the drive is headed up by Manuel Rainha and his precinct captains will be: Precinct 1: Anthony DeLuca, 6 Bates Road; Precinct 2: Mrs. William H. Wolfe, 16 Prospect Street; Precinct 3: Mrs. Ellsworth West, 16 Collamore Street; Precinct 4: Mrs. David Desher Jr., 186 Dothan Street; Precinct 5: William E. Rhubarb, 132 Swanton Street; Precinct 6: Robert Gilbert, 7 Clematis Street. Selectman Sherman Saltmarsh is in charge of commercial donors.

There will be an organization meeting of all workers tonight at Winchester High School and any volunteers are welcome to attend. The more persons who volunteer, the easier the task. All money received will be used to defray the testimonial expenses and those who may not be at home when the representatives call at their home may send their donation to the Winchester National Bank, c/o Charles Craven with checks to be made out to the Winchester Football Fund.

One of the first major gifts came from St. Mary's CYO and was presented by the director, The Rev. Bernard Hoy.

Winter Sports Action Begins

Now that the football season is a matter of glorious Sachem history the school athletes have turned their attention to the winter sports program.

Although the non-football players have been undergoing their conditioning for several weeks they have not been joined by those who were busy on the gridiron for the past few months. It is difficult to readapt the use of muscles and the gridders have a doubly hard task to round into shape in other sports and to reach a level equal to those who have already had weeks of regular training.

Coach Vandy Frence's basketball team opens its season tomorrow night at Arlington with a 6:30 starting time for the JV team and 8 for the varsity quintet. This shapes up as one of Winchester's best in many years and looms as a possible Tech Tourney qualifier even though Melrose and Lexington are big and experienced.

A 14-6 record is the minimum for qualifying, but Winchester could do it. They play at Watertown Tuesday in the Middlesex League opener and then pick two tartars as Lexington features the first home game next Friday night and Coach John Killilea brings his gifted Melrose team here on Tuesday the 23rd.

Coach Ted Kelley's puck chasers who travel far and wide in order to get ice for practice will open the league season at Lynn Arena next Thursday at 5:40 and face off against Wakefield at 3:25 on the following Saturday. The Lexington game on the 23rd will start at 6:40 p.m.

Handicapped by lack of practice facilities and with a squad which is far too small numerically, Coach Tom Hughes is working his faithful winter track few hard for meets in the league with powerhouse Lexington on the 20th, and Woburn on Christmas Eve. These events are at the Lexington cage starting at 8:45 a.m. The wrestlers, coached by Tom Kline, have only one pre-Christmas match and that with Malden next Friday.

Every 43 minutes fire claims a life, says the Insurance Information Institute. Of the 12,200 persons who died in fires in 1968, about one-third were children.

Sachems High In School Grid Ratings

By John F. Parrell

The Winchester High football team was rated co-champion of Division Two with Swampscott by Kevin Mannix, schoolboy sports editor of the Record American. He uses a modified set of rating devices which differ some what from that used by other Boston sports writers over the past several years.

It was his feeling that the Sachems deserved to be titlists in spite of the fact that Swampscott had a higher percentage rating under the other system because they had beaten two Class A teams. It so happened that these are the neighboring Lynn teams, natural rivals of the Big Blue and members next year of the Northeastern Conference with them. However, the Record authority felt that on overall play the local eleven deserved to be rated equal to Swampscott and so selected them as co-champions.

The schoolboy sports authorities of the Herald and Globe were forced to pick Swampscott as Class B champions by the old system which has been in use for over 35 years. Swampscott ended up with 8.44 to the Winchester perfect Class B slate of 8.00. They had no alternative because this mathematical arrangement has determined the class champions over the years.

Conversation with Kevin Walsh and Ernie Dalton of the Globe and Bill Kipouras and Bill Abramson of the Herald brings out clearly that they as well as many others feel that it is high time some revision should be made in the system.

In previous articles it has been brought out that any change must come from the Secondary School Principals Association and/or the athletic directors. To date nothing has been done even though there have been many inequities. For example Ipswich is Class D champion this year even though they lost a game and there was an undefeated team in the class. This was achieved by beating a couple of weaker teams of higher classification.

For years the headmasters have classified track teams on a strictly numerical basis. We have asked the question before and it must be asked again, "Why in track alone, why not in all sports?" If some such standards were set with proper regulations regarding league classes to be based on 75 or more percent of the members there could be no question of the real champions. Thus inequities would be avoided and injustices would be less apt to happen and after the season was over there would be far fewer gripes.

In any event Winchester is certainly rated at the very top of its class and the perfect record against good opposition can not and should not be discounted.

Sachem Co-Captain Mike Gilberti Is Unanimous All-Scholastic Choice

By John F. Parrell

Co-Capt. Mike Gilberti of the undefeated Sachem football eleven was one of the three offensive players selected by Boston sports writers as a unanimous choice for the mythical all-scholastic teams.

Others so honored were Paul Cassidy, 240-pound tackle from Somerville and Lou Metaxos, giant Peabody tight end. By being chosen as unanimous first choice for signal caller, Mike achieved an honor that eluded such current college stars as Frank Harris and Frank Champi of Harvard, who split the berth as seniors.

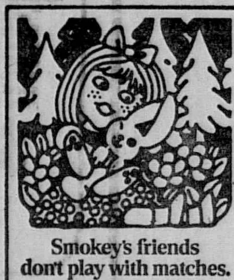

Not to be forgotten is Bill Wolfe, the rangy end who wears number 88 for Winchester and who has been one of Mike's favorite targets for his aerial thrusts. Impatient at playing only on offense, Bill worked to learn the difficult interior line position and was also a tower of strength in that important post. Bill was picked for the Herald first team on offense, the Record second team and the Globe bench.

No other Sachems were picked for either offense or defense but honorable mention was accorded to Ron Fiorilli and Joe Campo in the Herald. With the hundreds of boys to be considered it is an achievement to be named to the mythical all-scholastic teams or to be accorded honorable mention.

As the season went, five backs stood out on the opposition; Richie Harris and Tony DePaolo of Wakefield, Jack Rafferty of Wakefield, Dave Merullo of Reading and Bob Driscoll of Concord-Carlisle. All were accorded similar honors to the above mentioned Winchester pair. Dave Lapham, giant Wakefield tackle who was handicapped by a broken hand over much of the season, was also given honorable mention by the Herald and bench status by the Globe.

The Melrose co-leader, John L. Sullivan, was a first team pick in the Herald, and a Class B selection in the Globe. Co-Capt. Dan Woolard of Woburn was picked for the Herald Class B team and the Record second team.

The selections were made by the schoolboy sports writers of the Vinson-Owen

Ann Redmond sparked her team, the Gutterbells, by taking the high triple with 281 and also the high single of 109 with three spares in a row!

Mary Hifinger raised her average two points this week with some fine bowling. This team effort gave the Gutterbells the high team triple of 973.

Congratulations go to Regina Cantella for her two strikes! Betty Estlick also knocked them all down for a strike.

The Highlights took all eight points from the Pace Setters and are now in second place.

Youth Soccer Awards Night

The Winchester Youth Soccer Program held its awards night this past Friday at the Morano School. In attendance were over 250 players, parents, coaches and friends.

Awards were presented to the members of the winning teams in both divisions. The players on the Pee Wee champion West Side Warriors were: Norm Albert, Don Atwell, Dave Deshler, John Fallon, Kurt Illinger, Dave Lindbo, Jim McCarthy, Mike Minutali, Bill Mitchell, Tom Mitchell, Chuck Morris.

VFW Auxiliary

Cappie Airey was high for the night with 294. Many of the girls bowled high above their averages.

Eleanor Yore bowled a 119, and was second high for the night. Helen McAllister, Nellie Bolivar, and Millie Farrow all bowled in the high 70's and 80's.

Others who did well were Mary Lucas, Joan McAllister, Rayne Fuller, Kathie Fiore and Lucy McGonagle.

Duplicate Bridge Club

For your December calendar, please note: the Club's traditional Holiday Party will be held on Wednesday, December 17th, and the regular games the last two weeks of the month will be on Tuesday, December 23rd, and Tuesday, December 30th, instead of the usual Wednesdays.

In the Open Pairs Championship on Wednesday, December 3rd, the Bowman Real Estate Challenge Bowl was won by long-time Club members, Ev and Bob Blackler. This win caps a most successful year of play for them both.

There was a fine field of twenty-six tables with Jim Bradley and guest Luke Gillespie posting the highest score for American Contract Bridge League points (both players must be Club members to win the Bowl). Next highest in score were a pair of our latest Winchester duplicate aficionados (but not members yet), — Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cowles. Above average pairs were:

For Fire-Safe Holiday Lighting

Fire Chief I. Francis Amico warns that wax candles on trees are highly dangerous. Don't use them on or near a tree.

Check tree lighting sets, electric candles and similar holiday lighting equipment, as well as extension cords, for frayed wires, loose connections and broken sockets.

Use only lighting equipment carrying the Underwriters' Laboratories (UL) label. Unlabeled materials, domestic and foreign, seldom meet safety standards. Be sure the fuse on the circuit which will be serving the tree and other lighting is not over 15 amperes. Cord sets with a fuse in the plug, bearing a UL label, are available and recommended.

For outdoor lighting, use only sets listed for outdoor use by Underwriters' Laboratories.

EYC Activities Are Planned For Moratorium

The Ecumenical Youth Council will be sponsoring two work-for-peace activities on Saturday, December 13, as part of the Vietnam moratorium of this month.

The first is Just-A-Start, a program to renovate housing in the South End. Volunteers are needed to do painting, cleaning, plastering, wrecking, and carpentering. Work is done under Low-Cost Housing Corporation, a non-profit organization.

Low-Cost buys gutted apartments with local financial backing, rebuilds them, then rents them to people who were living in tenement buildings. Anyone interested should call Marc Levinson, 729-8428.

Also on this Saturday EYC will be sponsoring a furniture drive. The furniture will go to Bromley Heath, a public housing project in Jamaica Plain to furnish an apartment for two ex-drug addicts who will be available as a consultation service twenty-four hours a day.

Anyone with anything to donate may call Kathy Murphy 729-6213, or Tim Wilhelm 729-4497 and leave their name and address. The goods will be picked up this Saturday.

Cooperative Nursery School Holds Open House

The newly formed Neighborhood Cooperative Nursery School held its first Open House on the evening of Wednesday, December 3.

Located in the Second Congregational Church, the school has been in operation since October 6 and enrolls pre-school children who are at least three years old.

The Open House was held for members of the Second Congregational Church in order to permit them the opportunity to observe some of the activities of the school and also to meet with its officers and personnel.

On display were some of the children's projects and photographs of them while involved in various programs. Mrs. Marion Peacock, the teacher-director, gave a resume of a typical day and then opened a question and answer period.

Refreshments were prepared and served by members of the executive board under the direction of President Mrs. Martha Redding.

Holy Name Group Plans Meeting

The Immaculate Conception Holy Name Society will receive Holy Communion in a group on Sunday, December 14th at the 10:00 a.m. Mass instead of their regular 7 a.m. Mass. This will be for December only.

There will be a meeting following the Mass and Kevin P. Kelly of Charlestown will be the guest speaker.

Equipped with a camera and a tape recorder, Mr. Kelly journeyed to Cape Kennedy, Florida in July of 1969 to witness the launching of Apollo 11, man's first attempt to land on the moon.

His presentation of the launch and his personal recollections of the events preceding, provide his audience with a sense of personal participation in one of the proudest events in American history.

Holy Name sons and their friends are invited. Refreshments will be served.

To Present "Messiah"

The combined choir of St. Paul Lutheran Church, Arlington, will present the "Messiah," by Handel, Sunday, December 14, at 8:00 p.m. at the Church.

The first part of the "Messiah" consists of six choruses, and recitatives and solos for soprano, alto, tenor, and bass. Some of the more familiar selections are: "Every Valley Shall be Exalted," "The Glory of the Lord," and "He Shall Feed His Flock Like a Shepherd."

Director of the choir will be Philip Fay, music director at St. Paul Church and music supervisor at the Ayer Junior and Senior High Schools. The Soloists will be Kanje Ogata, soprano; Esther Traub, alto; David Dusing, tenor; and Allen Huszti, bass. Guest organist will be Lois Wetzel.

The public is invited to the concert. A free-will offering will be received.

Crittendon Club Plans Luncheon

Plans for brightening the January doldrums were whipped into shape last Thursday when Mrs. Park Hoyt of Lorena Road gave a morning coffee for the Florence Crittendon committee which is organizing a mid-winter fund raising.

An "Astrological Luncheon" is slated for Wednesday, January 14. For those intrigued by matters of the Zodiac the event will offer much of interest and a few surprises. Mrs. Hoyt is chairman of the affair.

Burlington YWCA Plans Season

Let the Burlington YWCA help with Christmas shopping! For the children on the list, they have classes in guitar, creative dance, art, crafts, and gym.

For women, there are classes which cover a variety of interests, or a membership in the Y. Classes will start after the holidays—the week of January 5th.

Call the YWCA at 272-3181 for further information. The Y-Wives have finished their activities for 1969 and will resume meetings on January 7th.

MAKING PLANS FOR THE CHRISTMAS SHERRY PARTY being sponsored by the Junior Circle of the Florence Crittendon League are Mrs. Henry Curtis Jr. of 15 Lawson Road, left, and Mrs. Thomas Craig of 4 Bruce Road, chairman of the event. It will be held on Wednesday, December 17, from 2 to 5 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Henry Curtis Jr. Proceeds will go to the Crittendon-Hastings Home, which provides care and counseling for unwed mothers. Tickets may be purchased at the door. (Rodgers photo)

ACLD Chapter Praises Grant For School Program

The Winchester Chapter of the Association for Children with Learning Disabilities is proud that Winchester has been selected from among many school systems to receive a Federal Grant for a classroom of children with learning disabilities.

The need for a small classroom became apparent when the progress of students in the learning disabilities program was evaluated.

It was found that a small percentage of the children tutored did not make the growth necessary for regular classroom placement.

Parents, teachers, and administrators were concerned for this small group of elementary children who continued to work at a level far below their average to superior potential.

The newly established class serves eight children with severe learning disabilities. It is under the direction of Mrs. Eileen Gertz, formerly a classroom teacher with added experience tutoring children with learning disabilities.

Mrs. Gertz is assisted by Miss Mary Mouradian, a graduate of the Winchester School System and Framingham State College. Her function is to help children with their assignments and to fit in where needed in order to free Mrs. Gertz to work with children individually or in small groups.

The curriculum places emphasis on each child's language development: on his comprehension of the spoken word, on his expression with the spoken word (speech); on his comprehension of the printed word (reading), and his expression with the printed word (writing).

The full program includes language arts, math, social studies and science, music, art, and physical education. The instruction is highly individualized in order to help the children overcome or learn to compensate for their widely varying disabilities.

Through special techniques of remediation, small class size and a generally controlled environment, it is hoped the class will promote growth in the areas of academic success, physical coordination, social relations, and emotional attitudes.

The classroom is also intended to investigate effective techniques and provide an observable situation in order to improve the education provided for the many disabled children in the regular classrooms.

Scout Troop 507 Hosts Parents At Family Dinner

On Friday night, December 5, the Scouts of Troop 507 held their first annual family night. The evening got underway with an old-fashioned baked bean supper prepared by Troop Committee Chairman Harry Boodakian and Committee members Earl Cole, Ed Crabtree, Al Fernald, Don Marchant and Russ Stout.
Following supper, parents were treated to slide shows of the seven national jamborees held in Idaho this past summer and a presentation of the varied summer camp opportunities offered by Troop 507 and the Minuteman Council.
These slide-tape shows were prepared by Scouts Doug Fritch and Peter Reynolds. The flaming Arrow and the Cobra Patrols were then selected as the winners of the Patrol "Wanigan" Contest. Scouts had worked hard over the past two months to build these patrol boxes of high quality and dependability which will be used to store their camping equipment.
The evening closed with a Court of Honor. Jay Cogan and Bob Sutherland were welcomed into the Troop as Tenderfoot Scouts. Dick Allison advanced to second class and Bill Dexter attained the first class rank. Fifteen merit badges were awarded to seven Scouts. Doug Fritch and Alan Greene each received four. Bill Dexter was elected as scout of the month and the Rattlesnake Patrol - the patrol of the month. Scouts and parents alike enjoyed this camping oriented evening.

Scout Troop 507 Hosts Parents At Family Dinner

On Friday night, December 5, the Scouts of Troop 507 held their first annual family night. The evening got underway with an old-fashioned baked bean supper prepared by Troop Committee Chairman Harry Boodakian and Committee members Earl Cole, Ed Crabtree, Al Fernald, Don Marchant and Russ Stout.
Following supper, parents were treated to slide shows of the seven national jamborees held in Idaho this past summer and a presentation of the varied summer camp opportunities offered by Troop 507 and the Minuteman Council.
These slide-tape shows were prepared by Scouts Doug Fritch and Peter Reynolds. The flaming Arrow and the Cobra Patrols were then selected as the winners of the Patrol "Wanigan" Contest. Scouts had worked hard over the past two months to build these patrol boxes of high quality and dependability which will be used to store their camping equipment.
The evening closed with a Court of Honor. Jay Cogan and Bob Sutherland were welcomed into the Troop as Tenderfoot Scouts. Dick Allison advanced to second class and Bill Dexter attained the first class rank. Fifteen merit badges were awarded to seven Scouts. Doug Fritch and Alan Greene each received four. Bill Dexter was elected as scout of the month and the Rattlesnake Patrol - the patrol of the month. Scouts and parents alike enjoyed this camping oriented evening.

Bruno - Melaragni

Miss Bernadette A. Melaragni, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Melaragni of Woburn, and Carl V. Bruno, son of Mrs. James Bruno of Woburn and the late Mr. Bruno, were married recently in the immaculate Conception Church of Winchester by Rev. Joseph Valenti S.J. A reception was held at the Elks Hall in Woburn.

MR. AND MRS. CARL BRUNO

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an A-line gown of silk organza embroidered with appliques of seed pearls and crystals. A matching petal headpiece held her silk illusion veil in place. She carried a cascade of cymbidium orchids and ivy.

Miss Louise Melaragni, maid of honor for her sister, was dressed in an avocado empire styled gown. Cut velvet leaves trimmed the high waist and the cuffs of the chiffon sleeves.

Similarly gowned in peach, the bridesmaids were Miss Anne Melaragni and Miss Rita Melaragni, both of Woburn, both sisters of the bride; Miss Diane Melaragni of Medford, cousin of the bride; and Miss Joan Sullivan of Concord. They carried cascades of autumn-colored mums.

Flower girls were Elizabeth Hatch and Cheryl Bruno. Richard Proia was ring bearer.

Robert A. Bruno of Wilmington, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were James Maloney, brother-in-law of the groom, Carl Proia, cousin of the groom, and Leonard Sortino, all of Woburn; and Edward McManus of Winchester.

The bride is a graduate of Mt. Auburn Hospital and is employed at the Choate Memorial Hospital of Woburn. The groom, a graduate of Winchester High School, is employed at the Winchester Post Office.

The couple spent their honeymoon in Europe and are now residing in Woburn.

Miss Spillman Mr. Thomson To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. E. Wayne Spillman of Lee's Summit, Missouri, announce the engagement of their daughter, Judith Ann of Manhattan Beach, California, to Douglas Thomson, also of Manhattan Beach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roderick S. Thomson of Sarasota, Florida, formerly of Winchester.

MISS JUDITH A. SPILLMAN

Miss Spillman attended the University of Missouri at Columbia.

Mr. Thomson spent most of his early years in Winchester and was graduated from Winchester High School. He was awarded a degree from the University of Kentucky and attended the University of Virginia.

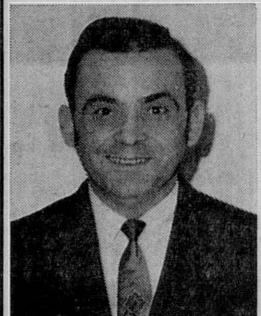

An early spring wedding is planned.

Bell - Lawrence

Mrs. Geraldine Weis Lawrence of 9 Park Street and Nelson McKenzie Bell of 71 Salisbury Street were married on Wednesday, November 26, at the First Congregational Church with the Rev. Oliver Powell officiating.

Christopher W. Lawrence of Cambridge, younger son of Mrs. Lawrence, and John P.N. Bell of North Brunswick, New Jersey, eldest son of Mr. Bell, were witnesses. Robert A. Bell, youngest son of Mr. Bell, attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell are presently residing at 71 Salisbury Street.

Miss Renz Engaged To Mr. York

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin W. Renz of Topsfield, formerly of Winchester, announce the engagement of their daughter, Deborah Ann, to Paul Franklin York, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert M. York of Gorham, Maine.

Miss Renz is a graduate of Winchester High School and is currently a sophomore at the University of New Hampshire where she is a member of the Delta Zeta sorority.

Mr. York graduated from Gould Academy and is a history major in his junior year at the University of New Hampshire.

An August wedding is planned.

Miss Butler To Wed Mr. Sullivan

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Waring Butler of 29 Glen Green announce the engagement of their daughter, Anne Lothrop, to Mark Edward Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. William David Sullivan of 2A Rangeley Ridge.

MISS ANN L. BUTLER

Miss Butler is a graduate of Centenary College for Women.

Mr. Sullivan is attending New England College in Henniker, New Hampshire.

A summer wedding is planned.

Miss Asper, Mr. Wurts To Marry

Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Philip Asper of Baltimore, Maryland, announce the engagement of their daughter, Lucy of Boston, to John S. Wurts III of Boston, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Wurts Jr. of Devon, Pennsylvania, and grandson of Mrs. Harold Hooper Blanchard of 32 Calumet Road.

Miss Asper is a graduate of Bryn Mawr School in Baltimore and is presently a junior at Boston University. Presented at the Bachelors' Cotillion in Baltimore in 1966 and at a tea at her parent's home, she is also a provisional member of the Junior League of Baltimore. Her father is president of the American College of Surgeons.

Now a senior at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity, Mr. Wurts attended the Episcopal Academy in Philadelphia and was graduated from the Gilman School in Baltimore.

His mother is the former Roberta Ray of 32 Calumet Road. His father is a marketing manager with TRW, Inc. Besides Mrs. Blanchard, Mr. Wurts is also the grandson of the late Willard Haines Ray, formerly a vice president of the Tidewater Oil Company in New York, and of the late John S. Wurts of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, lawyer, author and genealogist.

A January 3, 1970, wedding is planned.

Fire-Safe Hints Given For Gifts And Decorations

For fire-safe decorations use noncombustible materials (metal, glass, asbestos, etc.) where possible. Untreated cotton batting, flock and paper ignite easily and may burn intensely. If these and other combustible materials are used, make sure they are flameproofed.

Don't use polystyrene foam for candle holders, or for table or mantle decorations where wax candles are also used.

Select Santa Claus masks, whiskers and costumes with care. If they are not "flameproofed," they may be hazardous.

Dispose of gift wrappings promptly and safely. Place them in a metal-covered trash container or burn them in an incinerator as soon as possible. The fireplace is not a safe place to burn them.

Avoid pyroxylin plastic toys and dolls. Toys operated by alcohol, kerosene or gasoline are especially dangerous; they may spill and set fire to children's clothing, the tree or the house itself.

Electrical toys should be listed by Underwriters' Laboratories to show they have met shock and fire hazard standards.

Card Sales Will Aid Retarded

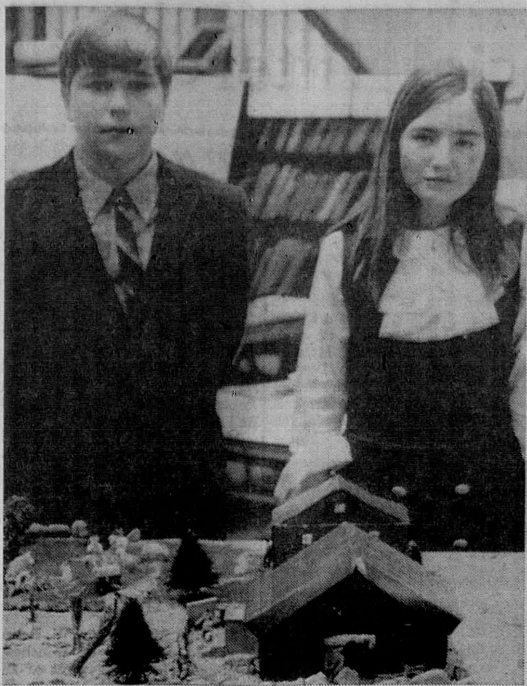

Beautiful Christmas cards, three of which were designed by retarded children, are available from local associations of the Massachusetts Association for Retarded Children.

Proceeds from the sale of these Yule holiday cards benefit the general welfare of the retarded of all ages. More than 6,000,000 retarded in the United States receive benefit from the various programs conducted by local and state associations.

The Christmas card selection includes a variety of 19 cards. Each card includes a special message: "The purchase of this card represents a contribution to the Association for Retarded Children."

Further information about ordering Christmas cards may be obtained from Massachusetts Association for Retarded Children, 680 Main Street, Waltham, phone 891-7710.

Pack No. 508 Performs Well In Derby Race

The annual Pine Wood Derby Race held recently by Pack No. 508 impressed its audience with the workmanship and care that each Cub put into the construction and decoration of his model. Pack Cubmaster Frank Lawton noted that this year's cars were outstanding over previous years.

Winners were: Semi-Final: Robert Cormier, Den 3; Speed: Tom Burchard, Den 1; Richard Norris, Den 1; Steve Rice, Den 2; Tom Foley, Den 1; Tom Shirley, Den 2. Final: 1st place, Tom Foley, Den 1; 2nd place, Robert Cormier, Den 3; 3rd place, Richard Norris, Den 1; Appearance: 1st place, Robert Cormier; 2nd place, Lloyd Beale; 3rd place, Alan Doughty.

The price of a watch was also awarded to Richard Norris, Den 1 who sold 84 boxes of candy in our recent Fund Raising Sale.

Cubs receiving advancement awards this month were: Lloyd Beale, Traveler Activity Badge; James Fallon, Bear Badge; Patrick McCroary, 1 Year Service Star; Mark Pasillo, Wolf Gold and Silver Arrows; Norman Rieberg, Wolf Badge; Paul Romeo, 2 Year Service Star; Mark Simpson, Wolf Badge.

The meeting was closed after refreshments.

the holiday season is for giving... ..and living

The holiday season is normally a time for the giving of gifts, for peace and good will. But statistics show that the period from Thanksgiving through New Year's is the most dangerous driving season of the year. Inclement weather accounts for a major part of the accidents that occur, but the lack of caution on the part of drivers is also a contributing factor.

Assure yourself and your family of a happy holiday this year. Give gifts at home—not lives on the highway.

Residents
Pass Tests For Civil Service

Two Winchester residents are among 49 men who passed a written test in October making them eligible for promotion to assistant civil engineer in the State Department of Public Works.

The civil service examination was taken by 258 men.

Eligible from Winchester are Joseph M. Donlon of 12 Cranston Road, and William V. Lynch of 35 Prince Avenue. (New England Service)

Edward Downing Patents Part For Microwave Tube

Edward T. Downing of 20 Squire Road, a Raytheon Company, Lexington engineer, is the inventor under a recent patent assigned to the company, of an improved internal structure for microwave tubes.

EDWARD T. DOWNING

The magnetic air gap of the new structure is less than that for conventional structures and appreciable savings in weight and size of the overall oscillator result. Smaller, lighter oscillators are important in such applications as man-pack radar and certain radar beacons.

With the company 23 years, Mr. Downing is presently manager of product assurance in Raytheon's power tube operation. Previously, he held a series of engineering and management positions including manager of the magnetron engineering department.

Mr. Downing holds a bachelor of science degree from Harvard University and master of science degree from Boston University.

He is a member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers and of Sigma Xi, national honorary society for electrical engineering.

He holds seven other patents in the field of microwave tubes. The Downings have six children, his wife is the former Mona A. Connelly of Portage, Pennsylvania.

Cong. Macdonald
Backs Social Security Increase

Congressman Torbert H. Macdonald announced recently that the House Ways and Means Committee had voted to approve a 15 per cent increase in Social Security benefits which would take effect on the first of next year. Mr. Macdonald, who is the Assistant Majority Leader for New England, predicted that the House of Representatives would pass the across-the-board increase before the Christmas adjournment.

Mr. Macdonald had first introduced the 15 per cent Social Security increase on May 26, 1969, and his bill was cosponsored by over 150 other Members. This action had come following President Nixon's recommendation of only a seven per cent increase which would not have taken effect until well into next spring.

Congressman Macdonald noted that the effort to enact this increase before the end of the year had gained impetus in October when a resolution which he had sponsored had been overwhelmingly endorsed by the Democratic Caucus. "From that point," Mr. Macdonald explained, "it was just a matter of time before the formal legislative machinery could get the measure to the House floor."

The approval of the Ways and Means Committee now clears the way for action by the House of Representatives possibly as early as next week. The bill, when passed by the House, will go to the Senate. "I feel certain," Mr. Macdonald said, "that our colleagues in the other body will follow our lead, and I am confident that the President will act accordingly."

The Congressman noted that the White House had indicated the possibility of a Presidential veto of any increase greater than 10 per cent. "We are so close to victory on this very necessary legislation," the Congressman emphasized, "that I cannot believe the President would fail to endorse the efforts of Congress in renewing our commitment to the senior citizens of this country. We must not ask the elderly who depend on Social Security simply to wait until next spring, for if we do, it will be a very long, hard winter."

A.L.A. Proposes Rebate Measure
For Motorists

Motorists would be able to receive pro rata rebates for unexpired portions of driver's licenses and auto registrations under a bill filed on December 2 on behalf of the Automobile Legal Association (A.L.A.).

The A.L.A. bill, filed by Rep. Charles W. Long (R-Westwood), would entitle Massachusetts motorists to receive the rebates when a license or registration is surrendered, except for suspension or revocation.

Presently, a rebate is allowed only when a registration is terminated on or before August 1 of the registration year and/or where the rebate would be one-half the fee paid in excess of $15.

Mr. Thibodeau noted that the A.L.A.'s proposal does not require any legislative appropriation and should not require any major readjustments at the Registry.

Mr. Cardin Produces Movie On Walden Pond

An original 18-minute sound movie entitled "Walden" produced by Frederick Cardin Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cardin of 8 Copley Street, in cooperation with Miss Sheila Laffey, a junior at Tufts University, premiered last Wednesday.

"Walden" was presented before a lecture course in major American writers at Tufts University and was well received. Fred is a second-year student at Harvard Business School.

Christmas Party Held By Guild Of Infant Saviour

A Christmas party was held by the Winchester Chapter Guild of the Infant Saviour on Tuesday, December 9, at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Professional entertainment was furnished by Frances De Bruyn, who sang the score from "The Sound of Music." She was then joined in Christmas carols by the audience.

Sherry and a festive tea were followed by an exchange of gifts. Mrs. John Cosgro was chairman, assisted by Mrs. Marvin Johnson, president, Mrs. Walter Crotty, Mrs. Joseph Donaghey, Mrs. Andrew Guthrie, Mrs. George McCarthy, and Mrs. C. Philip O'Rourke.

Hard-working and busy Guild members thus brought to conclusion a most successful and rewarding season.

Many servicemen throughout the world receive Christmas gift boxes from The Salvation Army in their home town.

Daryl Layzer To Spend Year At Dartmouth

Miss Daryl E. Layzer, daughter of Mrs. Rosemary Layzer of 2 New New Meadows Road, is one of 70 female students studying at Dartmouth College this year. She is enrolled at Vassar College in Poughkeepsie, New York, but is in Hanover, New Hampshire, this year as an exchange student to participate in Dartmouth's first major experiment in coeducation.

The girls, most of them juniors, come from colleges throughout the country, with the majority coming from Eastern girls' colleges.

Miss Layzer is majoring in regional studies and urban design, and has plans for a career in urban design. At Vassar, Miss Layzer has been active in the Owl and Torch, giving tours on campus, and was a member of the Committee for Leaves and Exchanges.

In addition, she did volunteer work with the Model City Agency in Poughkeepsie. At Dartmouth, Miss Layzer has done work at the Design Studios and has been active on the Trustees' Study Committee.

Young football players participating in the "Toys for Tots" Bowl Game helped The Salvation Army in Anniston, Alabama, provide more than 5,000 new toys for less fortunate children at Christmas last year.

Chanel Two To Present "The Duel"

Chekhov's brilliant short story
"The Duel" will be on Channel 2's
NET Playhouse Friday, December
12, 8:30-10 p.m. (repeat Saturday, December 13, 7 p.m.).

The story takes place at a seaside town in the Crimea where the young civil servant Laevsky and the already-married Nadia are having an affair. Watching from the sidelines are Dr. Samolienko and his friend, the idealistic scientist Von Koren who sees in Laevsky all the rottenness of Czarist Russia.

The antagonism between the two flares into open conflict, in this moving, subtle story critics consider to be one of Chekhov's finest.

Produced by the British Broadcasting Corporation, "The Duel" stars John Wood as Laevsky, with Katherine Blake as Nadia. Portraying the angry scientist Von Koren is Philip Madoc, with Paul Rogers as his friend Dr. Samolienko.

"The Duel" was directed for television by Charles Jarrold and designed by Natasha Kroll. Peter Luke is the producer. NET is seen across the country on the National Educational Television Network.

The life of your tires can be

J. H. Winn Featured In Annual Report

Products manufactured at the J.
H. Winn Inc. plant at 620 Washington Street were featured in the McCord Corporation 1969 Annual Report issued this week, according to Albert R. Vanderbilt, division president.

McCord, headquartered in Detroit, is a major manufacturer of automotive parts and accessories.
Earnings of this automotive parts producer rose 25 percent to $5,940,000 or $4.48 a share from 1968's total of $4,753,000 or $3.61 a share. Sales reached record levels for the eighth consecutive year, rising six percent to $127,924,000 from $120,917,000.

The report stated that, through the J. H. Winn division, McCord continued its leadership in fiscal 1969 as the world's largest producer of dial hands and instrumentation for the automotive, aircraft, electronics and other industries.

During the year, Winn, in its decorative metals line, concentrated on strengthening manufacturing methods through improvements in equipment and work flow patterns. In February, the division closed its Addison, Illinois plant in order to concentrate production at its other facilities in Winchester and Old Forge, Pennsylvania.

In their annual message to shareholders, C. F. Hogan, chairman of the board and E. Paul Casey, president noted:

"In fiscal 1969, the company continued to realize the benefits of our intensive capital expansion program, our improvements in manufacturing methods and our expanded marketing techniques—all began in the last four years. The foundation has now been well established for achieving our objectives of ever-increasing growth and profitability."

Stop defensively and you won't get stopped on, reports the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company. How you stop and where you stop are equally important to your safety as when you stop.

Girl Scout Diary

Brownie Troop 496 and Junior Troop 492 recently held a combined rededication and coffee hour for their mothers at Immaculate Conception School.

The Brownies performed a play based on the Brownie Story. Actresses included Maria Colella, Barbara McManus, Pamela Carney,
Sandra Capriolo, Beth Noble, Jane
Fallon, Ann McElhinney, Patty
Coughlin, Maureen Hollohan, Kathy Began, and Laura Seire. Linda Duran was the reader. Maureen
Hollohan and Ann McElhinney were invested as new Brownies.

Junior Troop 492 performed a flag ceremony and presented the Girl Scout promise and laws in a candle ceremony. A program of songs followed.

The program concluded with the presentation of badges by Mrs. Alfred Landry, troop leader, and Mrs.
Arthur Began and Mrs. Robert Powers, assistants. Every girl received a service pin.

The following girls were awarded badges: collector: Julie Walsh, Nancy McHugh, Peggy McHugh; health aid: Julie Welsh, Jane Johnedis; Nancy Powers; my home:
Susan Landry, Julie Welsh; my camera: Mary Ann Cullen; water fun: Mary Ann Cullen; housekeeper: Jane Landry, Nancy McHugh; hospitality: Ellen McKenney. Refreshments provided by the girls were served.

Junior Troops

Junior Troops from Wyman and Noonan Schools, as well as Troop
492 from Immaculate Conception School, are attending regular skating sessions, at Wal-Lex Rink in Waltham. They hope to earn the Roller Skating Badge within the next few weeks.

Mystic School Junior Troop 486, with their leader Mrs. Stephen
Moore, toured the Educator Cookie
Factory in Lowell, on December 2.
Junior Troop 544, of Parkhurst School, earned the Troop Dramatics Badge and completed a service project for town children when they presented the play, "Hubbub on the Bookshelf," at the library on December 6. Two performances were given, and admission was free. Scenery and costumes were made by the troop.

Cadet Troop 506, at McCall Junior High, recently expanded to receive 20 seventh-graders, bringing the membership to 38. The troop had a barn sale in November to raise money for a trip.

On December 17, the girls will hold a rededication and Christmas party at Camp Joy. Refreshments and entertainment will be provided by girls working on the Hostess Badge.

Badges will be presented and final plans for the troop's Christmas service project will be made.

Dr. D. McLean Will Be Speaker At Senior Circle

Mrs. Roman DeSanctis of 5
Stratford Road will be the hostess for the winter meeting of the Senior Circle of the Florence Critten-ton League. The meeting will be held on Friday, December 12 at 1:00 p.m.

Guest speaker of the day will be
Dr. Donald McLean, author, chairman of CONCERN for 1969, and youth counselor. His topic for discussion will be "Drugs in Winchester."

Tea will be served, following the meeting.

Announces Start
Of Annual Drive

Mrs. Merna Brenner, executive director of the Greater Boston Youth Symphony Orchestra, announces that the Orchestra's Board of Directors launched its annual drive for members, patrons, and sponsors on December 1.

Winchester members are Noel Webb, Craig and Scott Knopf, and Kathy Levinson.

The orchestra's activities depend upon the support of people who know that the future of music in America depends on its talented young people. The Greater Boston Youth Symphony Orchestras, under the direction of Walter Eisenberg and Robert Corley, includes 220 high school-aged musicians from the Greater Boston area and outlying towns. Rehearsals are held every Saturday morning at Boston University, the orchestra's most generous sponsor.

Their fine performances have earned them praise, not only in New England, but also abroad, where they were among the most outstanding musicians in the International Music Festival in Switzerland last summer.

This season, they will be performing in Dover - Sherbourne, Brookline, and Norwood. Special concerts have been scheduled at Sanders Theatre and Symphony Hall.

Contributions can be sent directly to the Greater Boston Youth Symphony Orchestra, Box 336 Kenmore Station, Boston, Massachusetts. Contributors will receive free tickets to the concert at Sanders Theatre on March 8.

1970 Registration
May Be Validated
By Adding Decals

The Registry of Motor Vehicles advises that current registration plates being used in 1970 will be validated by decals which are being issued with the 1970 registration certificates.

The decals may be affixed to current registration plates at any time prior to January 1, provided that the 1970 registration is made by the same registrant for the same registration plates.

"It is not necessary for a registrant to wait until December 31 of this year or January 1, 1970, to attach the decals to the registration plates now on the vehicle if it is registered for both years with the same number by the same owner," Registrar McLaughlin said. "But registrants are cautioned not to remove the validating sticker now on the windshield until January 1 and to carry both registration certificates until that date."

If the current registration certificate does not agree with the registration certificate for 1970, then the decal cannot be affixed to the vehicle until January 2, 1970.

When affixing the decals, drivers are asked to read the instruction envelope and place the decals to the right of the word "Massachusetts" in the upper right corner of the registration plates.

Lincoln School
To House Program
From Spacemobile

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration is making available its Spacemobile on Thursday, December 18 to the children in grades three to six of Lincoln School at 10 a.m.

This is a teaching aid for the space sciences and the lecture-demonstrations are conducted by professional science educators who are authoritatively informed on the activities of NASA.

The program will last approximately an hour, and includes discussion and demonstrations of aerodynamics, rocketry, propulsion systems, satellites, probes, orbits, communications, human factors, and manned spacecraft.

Town & Country
WINCHESTER — BELMONT

Jules Verne, if he were alive today, would hardly be surprised at mankind's arrival on the moon, and he would probably still be the best-qualified man to predict our future. About all we care to suggest for fashion's future is Town & Country's place in the forefront of the unpredictable.

For the past twenty-eight years we've shown every new style change in its infancy. Some were serious, some were tongue-in-cheek, many were stunning, a few pretty damn ugly. We've sold wearing apparel of coal tar, glass, and metal, one year without tops, currently without bottoms, often with no middle.

Regardless of "look" or "content" if it's new it will be shown at Town & Country right here on this planet or some day in our branch shop on the moon.

OPEN SATURDAY MORNINGS

They are Miss Laurie Jean McLean of 19 Grove Street, nominated by The Forthright, and Mrs. Louise D. O'Donnell of 50 Lloyd Street, suggested by Russell Sage College, Troy, New York.

MISS LAURIE J. McLEAN

Miss McLean, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Donald E. McLean, has devoted much time in her young years to social work with underprivileged and minority groups.

In the summer of 1964, after graduating from high school, she ventured from home for the first time to engage in volunteer work, including recreation and Bible study, with the Sioux Indians in South Dakota. The following summer she worked with pre-teen minority groups in New Haven, Connecticut, through St. Paul's Church at Yale.

Recalling these experiences in an interview with the Rev. George I. Hunter Jr., published in "The Church Militant" of January, 1966, she said, "I didn't feel that I was contributing as much at the time as I was learning. . . . I know my life is different because of these experiences and I know that the lives of others with whom I have lived and worked were also changed."

Other such knowledge was gained while at the Sunlight Camp for the Blind in Scituate and at the Fernald School in Waltham, serving the emotionally disturbed and the retarded.

For the past two summers she has worked with the Park Department here as head of the summer music program.

A graduate of Winchester High School in 1964, where she was a member of the National Honor Society, Miss McLean attended Westbrook Junior College, class of 1966, and earned her degree in sociology from Western College for Women, Ohio, in 1968.

At present she is studying for teacher certification in a specially funded, 10-week concentrated course given in West Peabody for

MRS. LOUISE D. O'DONNELL the teaching of grades one through three.

Mrs. O'Donnell won the nomination of Russell Sage College, from which she was awarded her bachelor of science degree, for her scientific research, particularly in the area of enzyme diseases.

She has been a research technician at the Harvard Medical School and received her masters in education, specializing in the teaching of biology and the sciences, from Boston University.

Since 1965 Mrs. O'Donnell has been the author of four papers, as well as the co-author of another paper, which were presented at the annual conferences of the International Association for Dental Research.

Beginning in the field of histochemistry, a study of various enzymes in cells of tissues, considered a "fairly new field," her research in the past few years has moved into the relationship of enzymes to periodontal disease, a disease of the gums.

Currently she is employed as a research assistant at the Tufts Dental School, where she is again concentrating on histochemistry and enzyme disease. Another paper is presently being prepared for publication in future months.

A native of Manchester, New Hampshire, Mrs. O'Donnell moved to Winchester with her husband Martin, who is an attorney here, in February, 1969. She anticipates a temporary halt to the professional work which has earned her this honor, however, since she expects to soon have a baby.

Outstanding Young Women of America is a program designed to recognize the abilities of young women between the ages of 21 and 35 throughout the country.

Trumpeters in the class played "Oh, Come All Ye Faithful" and the group sang "The Twelve Days of Christmas." Responsibility for the instrumental music played by the children was taken by elementary music specialists John R. Woodworth, Frederick J. Murthwaite, and Mrs. Eleanor Thistlethwaite.

The art for the performance was done by the children with substitute art teacher Mrs. Lily Yanamoto.

Noonan School

Noonan School children in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades will give a play entitled "The Boy Who Couldn't Sing," on Thursday, December 18 at 1:30 p.m. The story deals with the prayers of a boy whose voice wasn't good enough for the Christmas choir.

Column From CONCERN

(With this issue, the Star is reinstating its "Question for CONCERN" column. The format of the column will be changed to include not only questions on the drug problem, but interviews with members of the CONCERN committee and informative reports on what the committee is doing to combat the drug problem here. Questions which readers would like answered in this column should be sent to Post Office Box 293, Winchester 01890.)

Some 300 to 400 students in the Winchester High School have experimented with drug use and about 300 are habitual users, according to Andre Marcoux, president of the High School Student Council and its representative on the CONCERN committee.

The drug problem in Winchester is serious in terms of use within the high school, based on those statistics, he said.

Defining "habitual user" as someone who uses drugs two to three times a week, Andy said the drugs used by the high school students are mostly marijuana with some cases of use of LSD and amphetamines.

There is only a small amount of use of the so-called "hard" narcotics such as heroin. "We don't have that kind of problem yet," Andy stressed.

Stating that Winchester's problem with drugs is comparable to that found in the surrounding communities of Lexington, Arlington, and Belmont, Andy said that the problem is less serious than that found in Boston.

Most of the drugs used here come from Boston. According to Andy, drugs are purchased in Boston by students and then resold here.

Oak Grove Cemetery. Mr. Horn met with the Selectmen during the summer to discuss his proposal for the memorials.

The Board voted Monday night to include an article in the warrant for the Annual Town Meeting regarding the memorials. Approximate total cost which Mr. Horn gave the Board Monday was $8,000.

Civil Defense Director John Blanchard also met with the Board to discuss the 1970 Civil Defense budget. Among the items on the budget is $3500 for a new pump for the Auxiliary Fire Department.

Also discussed at the meeting were the plans for the street lighting program. The Board has scheduled a public hearing on the proposed program prepared by the Boston Edison Company.

The hearing, which will be held Monday, January 5, 1970 at 8 p.m. in the Selectmen's Meeting Room, Town Hall, will consider the following major streets within the Town which are under consideration for inclusion in the program and which will be the subject matter of an article to be considered at the Annual Town Meeting in the spring.

Les Troubadours To Sing Carols Monday, Dec. 22

Les Troubadours, Winchester High School's French singing group, will sing at the Burlington Mall Monday, December 22 from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

According to director Mrs. Eleanor A. Thistlethwaite, the students will perform in true troubadour fashion as strolling musicians moving through the Mall singing their carols entirely in French.

Fortnightly Plans Carolling Program On Christmas Eve

Continuing a tradition begun in 1925, the Fortnightly, the Federated Women's Club of Winchester, will sponsor the Christmas Eve carol sing on the Common.

Carolling will be held from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. under the direction of Fred Murray of the Winchester High School music department.

On December 11, 1925, the Star printed the following article about the now traditional carol sing:

"Everyone is invited to the Town Hall on Christmas Eve at 7:30 o'clock prompt, for carol-singing and opening exercises, of the presentation to the Town of the Community tree which is to be yours and your children's for years to come."

"This has been the dream of the Fortnightly for the last few years, and the dream has now come true."

"The Conservation Committee which believes in planting, not destroying, has been busy raising the necessary funds for lighting the tree, which was purchased by them, and set out in the Common last May and tenderly nurtured by the caretaker, Mr. Alexander MacDonnell."

"After short exercises at the Hall, we will march out singing carols on our way to the tree, which will be illuminated for the first time and the bronze tablet unveiled."

Two Residents Are Named Outstanding Young Women

Two young women from Winchester have been selected as Outstanding Young Women of America for 1969, and will appear in the annual biographical compilation, "Outstanding Young Women of America."

They are Miss Laurie Jean McLean of 19 Grove Street, nominated by The Fortnightly, and Mrs. Louise D. O'Donnell of 50 Lloyd Street, suggested by Russell Sage College, Troy, New York.

MISS LAURIE J. McLEAN

Miss McLean, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Donald E. McLean, has devoted much time in her young years to social work with underprivileged and minority groups.

In the summer of 1964, after graduating from high school, she ventured from home for the first time to engage in volunteer work, including recreation and Bible study, with the Sioux Indians in South Dakota. The following summer she worked with pre-teen minority groups in New Haven, Connecticut, through St. Paul's Church at Yale.

Recalling these experiences in an interview with the Rev. George I. Hunter Jr., published in "The Church Militant" of January, 1966, she said, "I didn't feel that I was contributing as much at the time as I was learning. . . I know my life is different because of those experiences and I know that the lives of others with whom I have lived and worked were also changed."

Other such knowledge was gained while at the Sunlight Camp for the Blind in Scituate and at the Fernald School in Waltham, serving the emotionally disturbed and the retarded.

For the past two summers she has worked with the Park Department here as head of the summer music program.

A graduate of Winchester High School in 1964, where she was a member of the National Honor Society, Miss McLean attended Westbrook Junior College, class of 1966, and earned her degree in sociology from Western College for Women, Ohio, in 1968.

At present she is studying for teacher certification in a specially funded, 10-week concentrated course given in West Peabody for

Christmas Programs Held In Elementary Schools

Christmas will be heralded by the elementary schools during this week prior to Christmas vacation (December 19 to January 5).

Lincoln School puts on a program with the theme of "Peace" today, Thursday, the 18th. The program includes selections from all grades and will vary completely light-hearted to religious to international tableaux. Music instruction is by Miss Jeanne Louden.

The celebration of Hanukkah will be explained and a group of children will display flags of many nations under the topic of "Peace for all." Scenery was done by the children with the guidance of Miss Marguerite Masarian, elementary art specialist.

Muraco School held the Christmas festivities yesterday when the sixth grade performed music traditional for the holiday season. The music served as accompaniment for Christmas art work which was projected on a screen from slides that were made of it.

The art work was all done by children in the school under the guidance of elementary art specialist, Mrs. Aileen Smith. Grades one and two will present a Christmas program for their parents and classmates today.

"Silent Night" played by student violins introduced the Christmas program produced by fourth graders at Mystic School on Tuesday, December 16. A

Column From CONCERN

(With this issue, the Star is reinstating its "Question for CONCERN" column. The format of the column will be changed to include not only questions on the drug problem, but interviews with members of the CONCERN committee and informative reports on what the committee is doing to combat the drug problem here. Questions which readers would like answered in this column should be sent to Post Office Box 293, Winchester 01890.)

Some 300 to 600 students in the Winchester High School have experimented with drug use and about 300 are habitual users, according to Andre Marcous, president of the High School Student Council and its representative on the CONCERN committee.

The drug problem in Winchester is serious in terms of use within the high school, based on those statistics, he said.

Defining "habitual user" as someone who uses drugs two to three times a week, Andy said the drugs used by the high school students are mostly marijuana with some cases of use of LSD and amphetamines.

There is only a small amount of use of the so-called "hard" narcotics such as heroin. "We don't have that kind of problem yet," Andy stressed.

Stating that Winchester's problem with drugs is comparable to that found in the surrounding communities of Lexington, Arlington, and Belmont, Andy said that the problem is less serious than that found in Boston.

Most of the drugs used here come from Boston. According to Andy, drugs are purchased in Boston by students and then resold here.

Selectmen Hear Mr. Horn Report On Memorial

At its Monday night meeting the Board of Selectmen heard a report from John Horn, caretaker of veterans' graves, on research he has done on erection of a permanent monument to veterans of all wars at Willow Grove Cemetery.

Mr. Horn met with the Selectmen last Monday night to discuss his proposal for the memorials.

The Board voted Monday night to include an article in the warrant for the Annual Town Meeting regarding the memorials. Approximate total cost which Mr. Horn gave the Board Monday was $8,000.

Civil Defense Director John Blanchard also met with the Board to discuss the 1970 Civil Defense budget. Among the items on the budget is $350 for a new pump for the Auxiliary Fire Department.

Also discussed at the meeting were the plans for the street lighting program. The Board has scheduled a public hearing on the proposed program prepared by the Boston Edison Company.

The hearing, which will be held Monday, January 5, 1970 at 8 p.m. in the Selectmen's Meeting Room, Town Hall, will consider the following major streets within the Town which are under consideration for inclusion in the program and which will be the subject matter of an article to be considered at the Annual Town Meeting in the spring.

Jaycees Open Lighting Contest

Homes that make the best use of Christmas lights and those that exhibit the most creative use of lights will receive prizes this year in the second annual Jaycees holiday outdoor lighting contest.

The Jaycees and the Boston Edison Company will combine forces to provide electric appliance prizes.

Continuing another long-standing custom, the Jaycees will also run the post-holiday Christmas tree pick-up again this year.

The lighting contest will be judged between Christmas and New Year's. Anyone interested in having a home entered in the contest should call John Hackett at 729-7422 or Dave Smith at 729-1115. Entries may also be mailed to the Jaycees at Post Office Box 284, Winchester.

Sgt. R. P. Zenga Is Honored By Decorations Posthumously

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Zenga of 209 Cambridge Street were the recipients on Tuesday, December 9, of three posthumous decorations for their son, Air Force Sgt. Ronald P. Zenga, a gunner on a helicopter lost when the aircraft was shot down last January in Vietnam.

Major General Joseph J. Cody Jr., commander of the Air Force electronic systems division presented the Silver Star Medal, the Distinguished Flying Cross, and the Purple Heart to Mr. and Mrs. Zenga in a ceremony at ESD Headquarters.

Sgt. Zenga was a 1963 graduate of Winchester High School and attended Maine Central Institute and Northeastern University before enlisting in the Air Force.

At Winchester High School, he participated in varsity football and wrestling. At Maine Central Institute, he played varsity football and at Northeastern University, he was a member of the freshman football team.

A scholarship fund in his memory has been established at Winchester High School by his family.

School Committee Reviews Sections Of 1970 Budget

As preparation for the 1970 School Department budget continues, the School Committee met Monday evening to review the Maintenance budget and various sections of the Other Expenses fund for 1969.

Presently in the second year of a five year maintenance program, it was reported by William F. Clark, assistant superintendent for administrative services, that several maintenance projects are being delayed for various reasons. Among these reasons are the expected utilization of the new high school, the eventual conversion of various areas for other purposes, and the possibility of 40 per cent state aid or other beneficial financing.

Due to the acquisition of Marycliff Academy and adjacent buildings, custodial supplies, heat, light and power, and gas charges have increased. Light and power costs at Muraco School, it was noted, are 40 per cent higher than the architect's estimates. Automobile allowances show an increase, and bookbinding and repairs, a decrease.

In consideration of the Other Expenses budget, such items as texts, transportation, and supplies will be taken in review at the next regularly scheduled meeting on Monday, December 22.

Among those areas discussed was the in- and out-of-state travel funds. The Committee recommended that the Rome School exchange for $1,000 be withdrawn from the budget.

A suggestion that this sum be cut further brought comments from Dr. Walter P. Gleason, assistant superintendent for curriculum and instruction, on the value of travel by Curriculum Council personnel. The gain in knowledge and the gain in personal contacts can not be matched in monetary figures, he noted.

Interpreting the sense of Committee members' remarks, Chairman Harriet Dieterich summed their feelings to be that specific programs be presented to the Committee as they occur. No action was taken on the recommendation.

Under personnel matters the Committee elected Joseph T. Crowley Jr., a former Woburn teacher and current member of the school committee of that town, to replace a Lynch Junior High math and science teacher.

Born in Italy, Mr. Comita was a member of the Christopher Columbus Society and of the Christopher Columbus Club.

Prior to his retirement 10 years ago, he was employed as a gelatine worker at the J.O. Whitten Company, Cross Street for 35 years.

He leaves a brother, Andrew Comita of Winchester; five nieces and five nephews.

Funeral services will be held on Friday, December 19, from the Lane Funeral Home, 760 Main Street with a funeral Mass in the Immaculate Conception Church at 9 a.m. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, Woburn.

Visiting hours at the funeral home will be held today, December 18, from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Helen L. Corey

Mrs. Helen Louise (Meador) Corey of 21 Pierrepont Road, wife of Stevenson Corey, died on Friday evening, December 5, in Winchester after a long illness. She was 62.

Born in Everett, April 7, 1907, she was the daughter of Joseph B. and Louise J. (Nagle) Meador, natives of Utah and Boston, respectively. She was a graduate of the high school in Watertown, class of 1925.

Mrs. Corey attended Park Street Church in Boston.

Besides her mother of Arlington and her husband, she leaves a son, Charles S. Corey of Providence, Rhode Island; and two daughters, Mrs. Ronald C. Kirkendall of Logan, West Virginia, and Miss Barbara E. Corey of Boston.

Funeral services were held on Monday, December 8, at 2 p.m. in the Park Street Church with Dr. Paul E. Toms officiating. Burial was in Seabrook, New Hampshire, on Tuesday.

The Norris Funeral Home, 1 Elmwood Avenue, was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Noemi L. Frazzoni

Mrs. Noemi (Luchessi) Frazzoni of 518 Washington Street, who had resided in Winchester for 20 years, died on Thursday, December 11, in the Woburn Nursing Home after a brief illness. She was 73.

Born in Italy, November 11, 1896, she was the daughter of Peter Luchessi of Italy. Mrs. Frazzoni was the widow of Joseph Frazzoni and occupied herself at home.

She leaves three sons, John Frazzoni of Winchester, Peter Frazzoni of Somerville, and Domenic Frazzoni of Cambridge, Ohio; two daughters, Mrs. John (Gladys) Bertolucci of Winchester and Mrs. Albert (Mary) Pacini of Somerville; a sister, Mrs. Dirce Pucini of Somerville; 16 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Saturday, December 13, from the Lane Funeral Home, 760 Main Street, followed by a solemn high Mass in St. Mary's Church at 10 a.m. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

Marc D. Fortiere

Marc Daniel Fortiere, two-and-one-half-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Fortiere of Norfolk, Virginia, formerly of Winchester, died suddenly on Sunday, December 14, in Norfolk.

Born in Portsmouth, Virginia, May 20, 1967, he was the son of David L. and Cynthia A. (Clark) Fortiere, natives of Melrose and Willimantic, Connecticut, respectively.

Besides his parents he leaves a sister, Miss Suzanne K. Fortiere of Norfolk; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel S. Fortiere of Winchester; and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Clark of Plymouth, New Hampshire.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday, December 17, at the Lane Funeral Home, 760 Main Street, at 11 a.m. with the Rev. Leonard Pelletier of the Immaculate Conception Church officiating. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

Scientists Discuss Land And Sea At Convention

Life on land and in the sea are in a sense interdependent. The existence of one stems from the other.

The world has become increasingly aware of the population problem, not only in less developed nations, but in the United States as well.

This has become most apparent in overcrowded cities where traffic, pollution and social pressures are producing concern.

The east coast of the United States—heavily populated and including a highly concentrated industrial complex—borders on one of the most productive continental shelf areas in the world.

The Marine and land areas are interacting to a significant degree—and to the detriment of marine environment, according to scientists.

Both areas—problems of the land and of the sea—will be probed in Boston December 26-31 at the 136th annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

President Nixon has called for the establishment of a Commission on Population Growth and the American Future, thus recognizing the importance of the problems at the highest governmental level.

But before policies can be fully developed, scientists say, it is necessary to understand the goals more completely.

For example, they ask, is there an optimum level of population for the United States? Also, what do we mean by "optimum?"

Traditionally, food has been considered the important limiting factor on a growing population. But there are other factors such as environmental quality or health services.

As to the marine environment, it is open to argument as to whether or not the marine resources are being fully utilized in the overall scheme of things.

Commercial Fishery

At the present time, the waters of the U.S. east coast support an enormous commercial fishery industry and a rapidly growing sport fishery. The sea also serves as a convenient dumping ground for many of man's by-products.

And, recent geological studies suggest the strong likelihood of other mineral resources.

The continental shelf is presently a prime focal point of international attention in the struggle to develop realistic principles for the management and regulation of living resources that are shared by many countries.

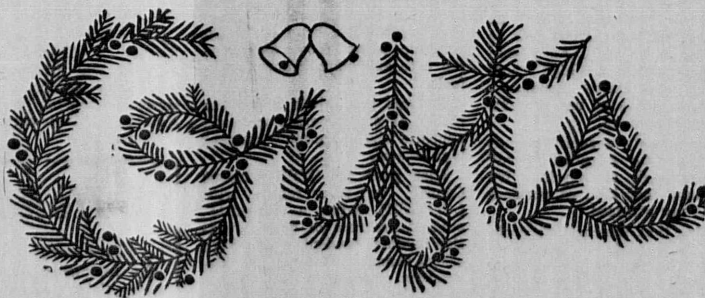

Scientists point out that decisions are being made every day that in one way or the other are restricting the region's potential or affecting its future development.

Man's life on land, but sustained in large measure by the sea, will be among hundreds of topics discussed by scientists from the United States and abroad who will be attending the AAAS six-day convention in the city of its birth.

Maxi-Rugs

We've been experiencing a lot of changes in the world of fashions . . . in clothes especially. Skirts had their up- and downs and we watched with glee (I did anyway) the arrival of the mini skirt and dress. Now, we're watching with apprehension the coming of the maxi coats and the pants suits.

As for men, it's back to double breasted suits and brightly colored, wide ties. My wife has been trying to get me to wear those bright shirts, but I haven't been quite able to accept charruse yet.

Rugs have been undergoing fashion changes too. Twelve years ago, for example, the shag rug found its way into several homes in the West Coast area. It soon became the rage. Gradually, it migrated to the East and only three years ago, it found its way into New England homes.

Anyone who has bought a shag will agree, it's the only thing (outside of Fido) that stands up, rolls over and plays dead and with just the slightest fluffing springs back to its original look.

Put shag down and even your feet will notice the difference with a soft, luxurious pile to cuddle your toes. I can't get my wife to stop running barefoot through the house.

Your eyes will notice the difference too . . . those bright, long-haired colors give luxury and richness to any room, and they vacuum up like new with just a shake or brush.

So, let your house go mod . . . get a shag and enjoy this new, informal, easy-care look. At Koko's, we have them all, long or short (mini or maxi) haired shags, blended colors, soft or vibrant colors . . . literally a whole rainbow to choose from.

Come on in, let us show you why shag will fit in any room in the house . . . you may even want to give it as a gift. What a wonderful surprise from Santa.

Three Churches To Hold On Eve Union Services

The Second Congregational, Crawford Memorial Methodist, and First Baptist Churches announce two Union Christmas Eve Services of Worship as a part of their weekly Wednesday evening services of worship. They cordially invite all who would like to participate to attend either or both of these services.

Both of these Christmas Eve observances will be candlelight services with Christmas music, scripture, prayers, readings, and poetry. Each of the services will be led by the Rev. Broyles, the Rev. Larry Keeter, and the Rev. Everett L. Waters.

The Adult Choir of the First Baptist Church will participate in the early service and the Senior Choir of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will participate in the later service.

The Christmas Eve Candlelight Service at the Baptist Church will begin at 5:30 p.m., Wednesday, December 24, and the Candlelight Service at the Methodist Church will begin at 11 p.m. that same evening. The early service at the Baptist Church will be especially convenient for families with small children.

The symbolism of the Candlelight Service is that of expressing the Light of Life which came to man on the first Christmas, is given to a world darkened in spiritual understanding, and is a sign of hope for man given God's gift of Love. Since the church is the "body of Christ," the contemporary bearer of the "good news" of God's gift of the Light of Life, then the church as the corporate body has the privilege and the responsibility to carry this Light into the world. To symbolize the acceptance of this responsibility, the worshipping congregation will carry the lighted candles from the sanctuary into the street.

These three churches hope you will be present for one or both of these meaningful services and that they will be one of the ways of making Christmas more meaningful this year.

Most highways have maximum speed limits—often temporarily reduced by a slow-moving vehicle. Don't lose your patience, warns the Institute for Safer Living. The only safe speed is the speed of traffic flow. Always move with it! Be especially alert on throughways where driving is faster and smoother.

Fire Safety Considered Near Tree

For a natural tree (fir, spruce, pine), pick a fresh-looking, firm, needleless tree, no bigger than you need for the larger the tree, the greater the fire hazard.

Saw off the trunk at an angle an inch or more above the original cut.

Stand the tree in water until it is brought into the house, and keep it in water until it leaves the house. Check the water level daily; the tree will absorb large quantities while it is indoors.

Support the tree firmly. Keep it well away from sources of heat—radiators, stoves, fireplaces. Don't locate it where, upright or fallen, it might block escape in case of fire. Operating self-propelled toys under or near a tree may lead to an upset tree and fire.

Don't rely on self-applied chemical coatings or solutions to "flame-proof" a natural tree; none is completely effective. Trees commercially treated with UL-listed fire retardant compounds are satisfactory.

Keep the tree in the house for the shortest possible time; removal right after Christmas Day is recommended.

Artificial trees need care in selection and handling, too. Plastic and metalized plastic trees can burn; use the type clearly marked as made of slow burning materials. Those with built-in electrical systems should carry the Underwriters' Laboratories (UL) label. Metal trees are not a fire hazard but may be a shock hazard. Use only indirect lighting with them. If lighting strings are placed on a metal tree, it may become "charged" and dangerous.

Third Grade Studies History Of Winchester

On Friday, December 12, Washington School third graders studied artifacts from old Winchester under the guidance of Mrs. William A. Davis, secretary of the Winchester Historical Society.

Mrs. Davis of 14 Cardinal Street dedicated her program to Wellington L. Caldwell, president of the Winchester Historical Society who died on December 7.

Study of the objects from a collection of the Historical Society was part of a social studies project on the history of Winchester. The visit was arranged through the efforts of teachers Mrs. Doris Osgood and Mrs. Antonia Kulesar. Using the antiques, Mrs. Davis

Traffic Statistics Show 23 Accidents Here

Five additional accidents were recorded in Winchester during November as compared to the same month last year, according to statistics released by Police Safety Officer Roland Roy.

A total of 28 accidents occurred here during November as compared with 23 last year.

Total accidents from January 1 to November 30 this year was 336. For the same period in 1968, there were 362 accidents.

presented an original play depicting scenes typical of early Winchester family life. She showed the children an old-fashioned mouse trap, handmade clothes, dolls and a doll bed.

The embroidered sampler created by a 12-year old girl in the 1800's in Winchester intrigued the girls. Boys showed more interest in the wooden pegs Mrs. Davis explained as the predecessor of the steel nails of today and used in building homes in early town history.

In demonstrating the role of a pioneer Winchester mother, Mrs. Davis explained the use of an old iron which had a compartment for hot coals and a pipe to permit the escape of smoke.

As secretary of the Winchester Historical Society, Mrs. Davis expressed her hope that the society would soon be able to display objects such as these where the public could see and enjoy them as much as the third graders did.

Registration Also Includes Plate Decals

The Registry of Motor Vehicles began heavy volume mailing of registration certificates and plate decals recently. Since then, the Registry has received many calls from motorists who claim they are not receiving the plate decals with the registration certificate.

Investigation by Registry officials reveals that because motorists are unfamiliar with the one by one and one-half inch decals, they are only removing the registration certificate from the envelope and are overlooking the small decals which are also contained in the same envelope.

Registrar McLaughlin cautioned all motorists to thoroughly search the envelope they receive which contains the registration certificate and to remove the plate decals before destroying the envelope. "All vehicles on the highways after midnight, December 31, must have the decals affixed to registration plates," the Registrar said.

Due to the pressure of the end of the year registration work, a delay may be experienced by persons whose decals have been destroyed when they visit Registry offices for a duplicate.

Registrar McLaughlin said, "This will be the last New Year's rush for registration renewals. From now on, all registrations will be on a two-year staggered cycle with a few special exceptions such as municipal plates, MDs, dealers, etc. I am quite sure no one will miss the long waiting lines at Registry offices or changing frozen, rusted number plates in icy weather. It is an old Massachusetts tradition that we can well do without!"

More than two million men, women and children throughout the United States received Thanksgiving and Christmas assistance from The Salvation Army last year.

Has Anyone Seen Banshee?

A small, light grey, Blue Point Siamese cat who is expecting Christmas kittens is among the missing this week, and her owners have expressed concern that she may have unwittingly been locked in someone's garage or cellar.

"Banshee," as she is called, belongs to the L. H. Thomas Jr. family of 4 Walcott Terrace. She has never been known to stray far from home, however, she had disappeared once before in mid-November. According to Mrs. Thomas, she was missing for exactly one week, from Saturday to Saturday, leading the Thomases to believe she might have been locked in a cellar or garage only used on weekends.

This time Banshee disappeared on Saturday, December 6th. Accordingly, the Thomases waited until the following Saturday, hoping that she might return.

The two Thomas children, Lloyd, 11, and Rhys, 9, were awaiting the Christmas kittens, and are concerned about their pet's plight. Anyone who has any information regarding Banshee is asked to call the Thomas family at 729-1011. A reward is offered for her return. (Reader adv.)

St. Mary's CYO Presents Show At Walpole Prison

by John F. Parrell

The Bible contains the quotation "I was in prison and you visited me." A similar situation took place Saturday evening at the Massachusetts Correctional Institution at Walpole when some 70 performers from the Catholic Youth Organization of St. Mary's parish brought their production "Circus-Time Minstrels" there to entertain the men.

It was in connection with "Operation Love" of the archdiocesan CYO and marked the second successive year that the local young people had appeared there.

Attendance at such entertainment is on a strictly volunteer basis and the largest crowd in history was on hand to welcome the Winchester young people who had given the men such a pleasant evening when they appeared last year.

The light song and dance numbers sprinkled with humorous touches kept the audience laughing throughout the evening. The show was designed to keep everybody happy while transcending the usual picture of prison life with its bars, guards and drab surroundings to relieve the loneliness of those who are quartered there.

The audience was most enthusiastic as the local talent kept them roaring with laughter and helped them to forget their problems for a while.

One of the inmates stated "The reason why we respond so to these kids is that we trust them and admire their sincerity and self sacrifice in coming here to give us this fine entertainment."

The minstrel-type performance found the players frequently down in the audience singing, dancing and clowning among the men. A particular feature was the rendition of "Ain't He Sweet" which starred Patty "Bubbles" Belinowicz as she sat on the lap of one of the men.

Table Collapses

During the performance of "Oompa-Pa" one of the tables upon which some of the young people were sitting collapsed but they were back on their feet with undiminished vigor for the ensuing numbers.

It was truly a high point in the pre-Christmas activities of the men. At the conclusion the entire audience gave the CYO group a standing ovation and one of the men told Rev. Bernard Hoy, who has been in charge of the programs for the past two years that the Walpole men would be waiting for next year's edition.

During the intermission there were drawings for useful articles such as candy, cigarettes, tee shirts, gloves, pen and pencil sets, etc. Every man attending was given a selection of candy bars to make the evening enjoyable. When the men got to talking about their football team which plays groups such as Boston Park League eleven and had a great season losing only one game, they were thrilled to hear that the Sachems had gone undefeated.

Late in the evening the Winchester young folks arrived home tired but happy that they had brought fun and enjoyment to those who need it so badly. It was truly a fine example of how "Operation Love" works in its finest moments.

The following made the trip: Pianist Mrs. Barbara Paulson, Organist Mrs. Martha Daschbach, Drummer Kim Zerwekh, our cast: Bob Whitney, Stony Jacobs, Chip Emery, Tim Wilhelm, Kelly Laughlin, Alicia Paulson, Mary Anne Bates, Carol Anderson, Dick Beaton, Gail Campbell, Eileen Brennan, Liz Corsaut, Juliette Cronin, Nancy DeAngelis, Kathi Donovan, Pat Duffy, Diane Doucette, Julie Downes, Marlene Marocco, Tom James, Patty Belinowicz, Kathy Murphy, Ann Kelleher, Elizabeth O'Brien, Jeanne Fay, Martha Gaythwaite, Janet Girard, Sandy Govoni, Ann Langan, Tom Lombardo, Linda Lyons, David Mucci, Paul DeLuca, Betsy Hill, Robin Fahey, Judy Rainha, Kathy Mahoney, Elaine Molea, Betsey McDonough, Theresa McNamara, Doreen McLean, Marion Nowell, Martha Nowell, Anne O'Donnell, Marguerite O'Keefe, Linda Petrillo, Nancy Phillips, John Besjean, Peter Wild, Tony Adams, Bruce Hill, Phil Sampson, Anne Collins, Ann Marie Kivney, Joy Repucci, Susan Rigney, Janice Richardson, Karen Roche, Terry Roche, Anita Mucci, Marilyn Rogers, Dave Scott, Emily Sheehy, Diane Simeone, Nancy Fontneau, Ginny Skerry, Karen Siles, Kathy Lombard, Karen Sylvester, and Martha Waters.

Eight fires with insured losses over $3 million each occurred in the United States in 1968, reports the Insurance Information Institute. The most costly was a $12 million fire involving chemicals in Taft, Louisiana.

"Joy is not happiness so much as gladness; it is the exultation of God's Spirit in man, 'good measure, pressed down, shaken together, and running over.' Joy is the ecstasy of eternity in a soul that has made peace with God and is ready to do His will."

Second Winchester In Massachusetts?

Photographs and Story By William T. Ryerson

MAIN STREET, Winchester (New Hampshire, that is!) is the town's central business area.

THE TOWN HALL in Winchester Center also houses the Public Library.

As a fourth generation Winchesterite this writer shares with many other "old" time families a pride in our town; however, I recently discovered we are not the first Massachusetts town to bear the name "Winchester."

As any resident here on his town's history knows, our town dates back to 1638 when we were a district of Charlestown and goes even farther to 1621 when Edward Wilson and Myles Standish took their first look at this area.

Our area was named Waterfield until 1850, at which time the town was incorporated and named "Winchester" — after Colonel William P. Winchester of Watertown, who gave $3,000 for erection of our Town Hall.

Recently while reading the history of Warwick, Massachusetts, a little town in Franklin County on the New Hampshire border, I discovered that in 1739 there existed on its boundary a Winchester, Massachusetts. Doing a little research, I found that in 1733 the Province of Massachusetts Bay granted an area north and east of Northfield, Massachusetts, which was to be called "Arlington," (another familiar name hereabouts).

In 1739 the inhabitants of Arlington Plantation petitioned the House of Representatives to be incorporated as a town. On June 16, 1739, the town was incorporated and named Winchester. (Province Laws, Vol. 11, page 990)

What happened to the first Winchester, Massachusetts? Prior to 1740, Massachusetts claimed its northern boundary as fixed by the charter given by the King of England in 1692 to be as far north as the present town of Charlestown, New Hampshire, and extending east to the Merrimack River.

New Hampshire claimed its boundary 26 miles south of this, and a dispute lasted 50 years until the decision was referred to the King.

At that time the government of Massachusetts was out of favor with His Majesty, and he showed his displeasure by fixing the boundary more than 40 miles south of the line claimed by Massachusetts and 14 miles farther south than that claimed by New Hampshire.

Thus in 1740, the first Winchester, Massachusetts, became Winchester, New Hampshire. History has a way of repeating itself, for 110 years later the little village of Waterfield, with about the same area in size, became the second town to be named Winchester, Massachusetts.

BOOK REVIEW

Winchester Public Library

FEVERSHAM

by Diane Davidson

An historical novel based on documents of the time, among them Hollinshed's Chronicles. The setting is England during the brief reign of Edward IV. Christopher Marlowe is supposed to have had a hand in the first realistic play of the English stage, Arden of Feversham. Alice Arden murdered her husband, after six unsuccessful attempts, and freely admitted it with no remorse whatsoever.

Her stepfather, Sir Edward North, one of the top legal minds in England, and Sir Thomas Cheyne, Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, set out to find loopholes in the evidence to save Alice. North was genuinely fond of her and Cheyne, who had known her since childhood and was old enough to be her father, was in love with her without quite admitting it to himself. His burning question was why she had committed the crime — for his own satisfaction as well as to obtain her release. Her only answer was that the murder had seemed right at the time. So he interrogated all the witnesses (six of them) privy to the murder who must die with her. These testimonies drew quite opposing pictures of Alice, though all agreed on the facts of the murder. The dislike of Arden was general and bitter. He was penny-pinching and mean, not above dishonesty. But Alice?

Her mother thought she was, and always had been, almost a saint. Her erstwhile nurse (and accomplice), Elizabeth Stafford, had been with her since birth and thought her an actual witch. She evidently used up a great deal of strength beating the child. Master Michael, Alice's real father's servant, on the other hand warned against Elizabeth's testimony, considering her a superstitious slut, deathly afraid of young Alice, who was much given to playing tricks on people. Alice's low-born lover, Morsby, and his sister Cecily seem not to have been very positive characters, though utterly devoted to her and easily swayed in any direction she wanted. Black Will and Loosebagg, professional criminals, contracted to kill Arden, but in the end it was Alice herself who delivered the final blows (no coups de grace indeed!). Against the personal violence of the story is the brutal life of Tudor England, the hideous punishments and appalling living conditions. And all so very well told.

The heartbroken Sir Thomas, finding no genuine loopholes in the trial, invented some quite implausible ones, but finally realized that they would do no good. Even Alice's attempted seduction of him did not succeed in his effecting her escape. He was left mourning, his question unanswered — "Why, Alice, why?"

Blood Bath
Is Reality
In Vietnam

Editor of the Star:

Rumors and hearsay reports concerning plans for future retaliation by revolutionary forces in Vietnam cannot absolve our country of responsibility for the death and destruction which we have inflicted and are still inflicting on Vietnam. According to Senator Kennedy, the Senate Refugee Subcommittee, which he chairs, "recently learned that between the years 1965 and the present there have been more than one million civilian casualties in Vietnam. Of that number, 300,000 have been killed." He added that the majority of these civilian injuries and deaths are due to action by ARVN and U.S. armed forces. (Boston Globe December 3, 1969) I therefore repeat: the United States is not preventing a bloodbath; it is producing one.

The bloodbath produced by the U.S. presence in Vietnam does not result from the defense of the people in the southern part of the country against northerners, but from intervention in a civil war originally waged by southern Vietnamese against dictators maintaining in Saigon by U.S. money and U.S. "advisors." The civil war did not break out until 1957, when Diem and his American backers had made it clear that they had no intention of honoring Article 7 of the Final Declaration of the Geneva Conference of 1954, requiring nationwide elections in 1956. (See Kahn and Lewis, "The United States in Vietnam." It was generally agreed that Ho Chi Minh would have won this election had it been held. (See Eisenhower, "Mandate for Change," 1963).

Sincerely,
Ruth D. Terzaghi

David
And Goliath

Editor of the Star:

There is a growing trend to try to lessen the impact of the My Lai tragedy by pointing out past and possible future Communist atrocities in Vietnam. One could continue this line of argument by counting the untold numbers of Vietnamese killed and imprisoned in concentration camps by Diem with U.S. support. Estimates of future reprisals might be viewed against the present continuing bloodbath of the war.

But the true importance of My Lai lies in its effect upon the American people. As one incident that has emerged through the official silence, it has shown forever that war dehumanizes all who participate, Americans no less than others. Can we, as Americans, face honestly the implications of this knowledge? Do our ends justify our means in Vietnam? Can we "save" a people by slowly, brutally destroying them? Can we preserve freedom by ensuring the continuation of a government under which freedom is not tolerated? Can we rationalize the deteriorating effect of this war on us all by saying "War is Hell"? Can we condone an extension of the war in the name of "honorable withdrawal"?

If our answers are yes, that small land half-way across the world may well prove to be a symbolic David to our Goliath.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Constance W. Rendall

Comments On
"Bloodbath"

Editor of the Star:

Among the most pertinent comments on the Vietnam "bloodbath" controversy is that made by Ambassador Averell Harriman, President Johnson's chief negotiator at Paris. At John Hopkins on November 14, he said:

"I have very little patience with the people who talk about the massacre that may happen at some future date if we withdraw, because there's a massacre going on now." (Quoted in I. F. Stone's Weekly, December 1, 1969)

Sincerely,
Mrs. C. S. Davis

Mystic Valley's
Mental Health

In a psychiatric emergency, as in any other situation of emotional distress, try to encourage the ill person to participate, if possible, in the discussion of his problem and in the decision-making process.

Try to be calm and do not deceive the ill person about what is happening. It may be helpful to call the family physician. If an emergency occurs away from the person's home, contact the family to ascertain their wishes.

As there is no 24 hour emergency psychiatric service in the Mystic Valley area, the ill person should, if possible, be taken to one of the hospitals listed below, where emergency psychiatric services are available 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

If it is not possible, call a doctor. If one is immediately available, proceed as follows: Lexington — call Emergency Physicians Service, 863-8282; Arlington, Burlington, Woburn — call the police for the name of physician on emergency call.

If the family cannot take the person safely to the hospital, call the public ambulance; Burlington Fire Department 272-2212, Lexington Fire Department 862-0270.

Residents of Winchester and Woburn should call the police, who will decide whether to send the public ambulance or use a police cruiser. Private ambulance services also may be used (there are several listed in the classified section of the telephone book under ambulance).

If an ambulance is not available, the police in all five towns will respond to an emergency and will serve as transport agents. It is of paramount importance that a responsible relative accompany the person to the hospital so that he does not feel that he is being "sent away" without anyone knowing where he is.

The relative can also be a help to the doctor at the hospital in formulating an immediate treatment plan.

Hospitals which will see a disturbed person in an acute emergency any time of day or night:

State — Metropolitan State Hospital, 475 Trapelo Road, Waltham, 894-4300

Gaelier Children's Unit, Metropolitan State Hospital, Waltham, 894-4300

Private — Emerson Hospital, Old Road to Nine Acre Corner, Concord, 369-4340

McLean Hospital, 115 Mill Street, Belmont, 484-0700

Valleyhead Hospital, South Street, Carlisle, 369-2600

V.A. — Veterans' Administration Hospital, 200 Springs Road, Bedford, Admission Office, 275-7500

(Eligible veterans are accepted in acute emergency 24 hours a day, seven days a week.)

This is the first of a series of bi-monthly columns to which the citizens can regularly turn for information about mental health problems. The column will be designed to help people find ways to resolve such problems either through their own efforts or by making early use of appropriate community resources.

One or two selected questions will be professionally answered in each column. Please address questions to Area Board, c/o Department of Mental Health, Region III Office, 1 Militia Drive, Lexington, 02173.

Savings Bonds
Now Report
Five Per Cent

John J. Nyhan, Middlesex County chairman for U.S. Savings Bonds, was recently queried about the new five per cent interest rate for Savings Bonds.

"The new higher rate announced by President Nixon makes Savings Bonds a better buy than ever before," Chairman Nyhan states. "It will greatly benefit the members of our communities who have been putting aside dollars regularly—through payroll savings plans or over-the-counter purchases at their banks—savings for a new home, farm improvements, an automobile, college for the children, a dream vacation, or a retirement nest egg."

The five per cent interest rate applies to all outstanding Series E and H Bonds sold on or after June 1, 1969, if held to maturity. All outstanding E and H bonds also benefit from the new five per cent rate, beginning with the first semiannual interest period starting on or after June 1.

According to Mr. Nyhan, "The maturity period for Series E Bonds has been reduced from seven years to five years, 10 months. H Bonds continue to mature in 10 years."

"Freedom Shares — which have been sold in combination with E Bonds since May 1, 1967 — will be removed from sale effective June 30, 1970."

"The higher rate should boost Savings Bonds sales throughout our area," Mr. Nyhan said. "And it will be an added incentive for our young folks — 4-H Clubbers and Future Farmers — many of whom have not yet learned to save the Savings Bonds way."

Social Security Conveniences
Are Offered

Now that the Social Security Administration has over 800 offices throughout the country, it is more convenient than ever to apply for social security benefits.

It is not difficult to find the address of the nearest social security office. Look in the telephone directory under the heading "Social Security Administration" or "U. S. Government." If there is not an office listed in your community, a local postmaster should be able to locate the nearest one.

In cases of illness a representative may be sent to the home or even to a hospital.

Anyone planning to retire should get in touch with his social security office ahead of time so that checks can begin promptly.

Because of poor health, unemployment, or for personal reasons, a person may want to retire before the age of 65. Retirement benefits are payable as early as age 62, but in a reduced amount to take account of the longer period over which payments will be made. If someone is considering the possibility of early retirement, the social security office will provide information to help him make a decision.

If a person decides to go on working, the social security office should be notified during the three months before the 65th birthday—even if there are no retirement plans.

The Cambridge Social Security Office is open daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Wednesday evenings until 8 p.m.

Toy Tinkers
Again Offer
Scholarship

This is the fifth year that young Tinkertoy designers are being given an opportunity to turn their original toy models into a $1,000 scholarship award and an expense-paid trip.

Now, all young people in this immediate vicinity and throughout the United States are eligible to participate in Toy Tinkers' scholarship award program.

Competitors may submit sketches or photographs of original models which they have designed from Tinkertoy, Tinker Zoo, Toy Maker, or any combination of the three toys, before December 31 to qualify for junior engineer certificates of award and then for the scholarship award program. Judging is on the basis of imaginativeness and creativity of design.

As in previous years, each of the 50 state finalists receive a mounted, personally-engraved wall plaque. Now holding the title of Massachusetts state finalist is Albin Higgins of Barre.

The scholarship award is a $1,000 savings bond and an expense paid trip to New York City for the top designer and his or her parents.

With this award goes the title of Toy Tinker of the Year now held by ten-year-old Becky Wright, who received the $1,000 bond from Julie Nixon Eisenhower at the White House.

R. A. Christofferson, president of Toy Tinkers, says, "The scholarship award program, now in its fifth year, is in keeping with our line of creative and fun toys." He adds, "Each year, the amount of enthusiasm and the number of participants in this creative awards program continues to be beyond all expectations."

Sketches or photographs of original designs should be sent to Toy Tinkers, a Quistor company, 807 Greenwood Street, Evanston, Illinois 60204.

Ski Report
To Begin
On WEEI

WEEI Radio will broadcast Boston's most accurate and up-to-the-minute reports on New England skiing conditions on "Bill Hoffman's Ski Report," beginning Monday, December 15, and continuing throughout the ski season.

"Bill Hoffman's Ski Report" will be broadcast on WEEI Monday through Saturday during "AM Report" at 6:55 a.m. and Monday through Friday during "Nighttime News" at 6:30 p.m. Saturday evening, "Bill Hoffman's Ski Report" will be heard at 6:25 p.m.

Bill Hoffman, veteran skier and ski reporter, is a member of the New England Eastern Ski Writers' Association and is thoroughly familiar with the New England ski scene. Bill draws on his vast skiing and reporting experience and his intimate knowledge of New England ski resorts to bring WEEI listeners the factual, reliable, no-nonsense kind of ski reporting they need before they head for the slopes.

Programs

Annual Program

This annual program recognizes those young women who unselfishly contribute to the betterment of their communities, professions, and country. Serving on the program's board of advisors are the national presidents of women's clubs, headed by Mrs. Dexter Otis Arnold, honorary president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Each year over 5,000 young women are nominated as Outstanding Young Women of America by leading women's organizations and college alumnae associations across the country. These young women's complete biographical sketches are featured in the annual compilation, "Outstanding Young Women of America."

From among the young women included in "Outstanding Young Women of America," 50 are selected each year, one from each state, for their state's Outstanding Woman of the Year Award. Katharine Elkus White, former U. S. Ambassador of Denmark, said of the women honored in the 1968 edition, "You should be complimented on your achievements, because you must constantly strive to reach your goals, and along the way you are forced to overcome many obstacles. You have not lost the pioneer spirit, the urge to succeed that forged our country, and made our nation a world leader."

"Outstanding Young Women of America" was conceived by the leaders of the nation's women's clubs. They felt that young women who give their time for community projects should be recognized. The recognition of these outstanding young women can serve to inspire others to give their time to additional civic responsibilities.

Guidelines for selection include unselfish service to others, charitable activities, community service, professional excellence, business advancement, and civic and professional recognition.

Sales Volume
Rises Here

Some indication of the economic growth that has been taking place in Middlesex County in recent years comes from the government's new census of business.

The survey, which concerns itself primarily with retail business development since 1963, when the previous survey was conducted, shows that there was a 26.4 per cent rise in sales locally in the subsequent four-year period.

The progress that was made in this direction exceeded expectation. It was believed that the war in Vietnam, the tensions on the domestic scene, the increase in taxes and the rising cost of living would have caused consumers to cut down appreciably on their spending. Nothing seems to have stopped them, however.

As a result, the sales volume in local retail stores rose $431,333,000 in the four years. Part of this increase was due, of course, to higher prices for merchandise.

Middlesex County's 26.4 per cent rise compared favorably with the rise chalked up in many sections of the nation. In the New England States it was 25.6 percent and in the State of Massachusetts, 23.4 percent.

Related to the local population, the retail sales represented a spending rate of $5,426 per family. This was well above the figure elsewhere in the United States, $5,203 per family.

Nearly every phase of retail business participated in this growth as the consumer, encouraged by steady employment, rising wages, a record backlog of savings and pension and social security protection, gave free rein to his spending.

As a consequence, retail stores sold more and better clothing, finer furniture, more cars, household equipment, electrical appliances and food.

The bulk of this consumer demand was supplied through the 4,451 retail outlets listed in the local area.

The 67,975 men and women employed in these stores and the size of their payrolls kept pace with the increase in business.

The Census Bureau's figures show payrolls rose in the period to $255,938,000 from the former total of $196,110,000 per year.

School Comm.

Also the resignation of David P. Tenney as assistant principal of Lynch Junior High School was accepted with regret. Mr. Tenney will become principal of Broadmeadow Junior High in Quincy. (Recommended for placement on the next agenda was a discussion of the teacher tenure list.

Testimonial

Items of business mentioned by Superintendent Klemmer for the Committee's information included a drive for funds for a testimonial for this year's champion football team. He stressed that this drive is not school sponsored.

Announcement was made of the publication of "Thought," a magazine resulting from the independent study of a Winchester High School student, Mark Frazier. No school funds were expended for its printing. A second work is anticipated on the topic of education.

Mr. Clark informed the Committee of a breaking and entering incident over the weekend at the Vinson-Owen School in which a sound projector, two tape recorders and one tape were listed as missing. He stated that this was the third break this year.

Report was also given by Mr. Clark of the motor vehicle accident which caused extensive damage to a School Department station wagon. Nick Lauro, supervisor of buildings and grounds, complained of back pains after the incident which occurred in the snowy, slippery conditions Sunday night on Johnson Road.

Outstanding

In addition, on Friday morning, the Noonan children will hear and watch a presentation by the Reverend Roger Palmquist, a former assistant to Charles Shultz, creator of "Peanuts." The Reverend will draw cartoons and tell a story about "A Sure Sign of Christmas." The appearance of the cartoonist is sponsored by the Parents Association.

The chorus which meets after school to practice will sing carols for the Parkhurst youngsters on Friday, December 19. Under the direction of elementary music specialist Herman Greene they will perform and then have their classmates join them in singing.

Vinson-Owen School will have a chorus performance also as Herman Greene has an enthusiastic group of carol singers there as well. In addition, all classes have been working on preparation of a creative cardboard Christmas tree.

On Friday morning along with the carol singing there will be judging of the entries in the "Most Creative Tree" contest. The trees have been constructed by the children (with saws, pegs and hammers) of special extra-thick cardboard demonstrated in the cardboard carpentry lessons last year.

Music specialist Miss Jeanne Loudon will direct each grade in Christmas songs in the celebration of Christmas at Washington School on Friday, December 19. Today the Dads' Club will provide ice cream and lollipops for the children.

Wyman School children in grades one to four will offer selections in the Christmas spirit at their performance on Friday, December 19. The Wyman Annex, fifth and sixth graders from Wyman housed at the Lynch Junior High School, will walk to the Noonan School auditorium Friday afternoon for their Christmas singing celebration.

According to Andy, the student-student program takes the form of two question and answer sessions, the first on marijuana and glue, and the second on LSD and other narcotics.

This program was adopted by the Stoneham School System and patterned after the Winchester program, Andy said.

In conclusion Andy said, "It's a shame drug education wasn't started two years ago. We get the same questions now as we did then."

United Fund Winds Up Campaign Here

United Fund chairman James O'Halloran of 20 Mayflower Road announced the substantial completion of this year's United Fund drive.

In announcing that the town had contributed over $30,000, Mr. O'Halloran stressed the Fund's gratitude to the residents and businessmen of the community for their generosity to this year's drive.

The chairman thanked all the campaign workers, committee chairmen, captains, solicitors and others who have worked so hard throughout the campaign.

Mr. O'Halloran pointed out that although the campaign in Winchester is officially over, any resident who still wished to contribute may send a check to him at his home.

In a drive of this size it is possible that some people were missed.

The Christmas Party for the Italian Orphans from the home in Jamaica Plan will be held in the club hall this Saturday afternoon, December 20.

Chairman Bob Fiore and his committee have been working out a program for this party. A bus will pick up the 35 to 40 children and six nuns from the home and will later return them. The committee will serve the children a cooked meal, followed by holiday sweets.

At the end of the entertainment program Santa Claus will present to each child a gift of wearing apparel. The lodge voted to replace the Christmas party for children of members with this project.

Anticipating success, the committee is asking for a small donation from members to help defray expenses. Venerable Joe Paonessa, Bob Fiore, Ralph Cefali, and the stewards at the club will expect your donation with a "Thank You."

The tickets for the New Years Eve Party have been on sale for two weeks and are going fast. Please contact ticket chairman Ralph Cefali at once if tickets are desired. The price of each ticket includes a buffet served by the committee, noise makers and hats, and all liquid refreshments.

Financial Secretary Frank Dattilo and the Board of Trustees remind members that the first payment of semi-annual dues to the lodge is payable at the January meeting, 1970. The Social members are also reminded that their total 1970 dues are owed on January 1, 1970.

Rotarians Host Mr. Harris

Program chairman for the December 11 Rotary luncheon meeting was the Rev. Everett L. Waters of the First Baptist Church. His guest speaker for the day was John R. Harris of 25 Wildwood Street. Mr. Harris made a comparison of the problems that face rural and urban Africa, specifically Kenya, and rural and urban United States.

The urban areas are trying to solve traffic congestion problems, parking, inadequate public transportation, sanitation, housing, water, police protection, etc. Basically these are the same problems in the United States.

His problems though have a higher multiple factor because their population is growing at a faster rate than ours and their tax base is not nearly as broad. They find that the cities are attracting a large migration from the country. Industry can provide the taxes but if the tax money goes into the city the urban areas which are less able to provide tax revenues are left out.

Eighty-five per cent of the people live in rural areas. The government is aware that the only way of keeping people in the rural areas is to provide them with favorable living conditions, schools and a better standard of living.

They have found that legislation that requires people to stay out of the cities if they don't have a job is hard to enforce. The economic advisors are recommending the spread of industry into more of the suburban areas.

Mr. Harris's recent research is presently in the area of whether moving industry into suburban areas is feasible. Kenya has incorporated the suburbs into one large town. This gives better overall planning between each small town and the main hub-town.

A question and answer period followed Mr. Harris's talk. Meeting was adjourned by President Al Hovanessian at 1:30.

Pollution Comm. Discusses Salting Of Streets

Too much salt on Winchester streets and resulting chloride poisoning of the maples, especially evident on the hills where the greatest volume of salt is dumped, was the concern of the WHS Pollution Committee at their meeting at the library, Thursday, December 11. Mark Des Meules presided.

Dean Winfield Knopf of the Harvard Business School, who had with Richard Freeman and Walter Farrell, collected data for a presentation to Town Meeting in 1963, cited facts and figures from their file including a 1964 newspaper clipping describing the accumulation of salts in the soil and the disturbing fact that they do not readily leach out.

It was pointed out that twice as many trees in town are cut down as are replaced — that the budget for cutting trees far exceeded the planting — that salt and sand alone cost the town $71,000 last year.

Clippings from other communities showed usage of a mixture of salt and sand. Special concern was the exclusive use of chloride by the Town of Winchester for its streets and that the town was unique in this respect.

The underlying fear was that like the "Silent Spring," Winchester in a surprisingly brief time, might have treeless streets. Large amounts of salt were dumped on Winchester's streets during the first very light snow — so much that residents went out and swept it off the streets. This amount of salt was deemed unnecessary for so meager a snowfall, by the committee.

It had been hoped that town officials would be present at this meeting to review their opinions but because of short notice they were unable to attend.

Republican Club Holds Program For Christmas

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Livingston was the setting Thursday, December 11, for the meeting of the Women's Republican Club of Winchester.

Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, president, conducted a short business meeting, welcomed several residents from the home for elderly women on Mt. Vernon Street who were invited to share a Christmas program which was opened by Mrs. Ernest Wright reading the nativity story from St. Luke.

Mrs. Eleanor Thistlethwaite then introduced a few members of Los Compañeros Winchester High School Spanish music group.

Julie Foster, who was born in Venezuela, has been a Winchester resident for three years. She is a senior at W.H.S. and plans to go into business administration. Accompanying herself on the Venezuelan guitar, Julie sang a number of Venezuelan songs and carols and told of Christmas customs in Venezuela.

Marc Levinson, a junior at W.H.S., told the group about the two months he lived in Brazil with a host family, his impressions of the country and the Christmas customs.

Paco Martinez, an exchange student from Guatemala whose hosts are Dr. and Mrs. Levinson—Marc's family, will be returning home in January. Paco, with great humor, told of the customs of his country and of his impressions of the United States.

The meeting was concluded with the singing of Christmas carols, accompanied by Mrs. Buckley at the piano.

Dr. Klemer Is Speaker At Church

Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Donald A. Klemer, spoke to young people and adults on Sunday, December 7 at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church.

The topic for the talk by the Superintendent was "The Status of Public Education in Winchester and Plans for the Future." According to Richard G. Kadesch, one of the adults present, "The questions from the audience indicated a lively interest in the remarks of Dr. Klemer."

Y.M.C.A. Building Is Progressing

The New North Suburban Y.M.C.A. building project got underway in late September. John B. Deary, Inc. of West Roxbury is the general contractor for the new facility, located at 137 Lexington Street, Woburn. Edward J. Tedesco Associates of Winchester is the architect.

The new facility, costing over $1,000,000, will serve the communities of Burlington, Lexington, Wilmington, Winchester and Woburn.

The first floor of the new building will contain a 35 by 75 foot swimming pool, a large gymnasium with a 42 by 75 foot basketball court and ample space for several volleyball and badminton courts, weight lifting room, two four-walled handball courts and complete locker facilities for men and women, including a sauna bath.

In addition to the above physical education facilities, there will be a room for the kindergarten class and general office space.

The health club, complete with individual lockers, steam room, sauna bath, nap and ultra violet room, lounge and complete exercise room, will be located on the second floor. There will also be several meeting rooms for various activities on the second floor.

The North Suburban YMCA will be able to provide a wide range of activities for individuals and families in the North Shore area. It is anticipated that this new building will open October 1, 1970.

David A. Hodges of Woburn is the chairman of the local building committee, assisted by Gregory Lynch of Burlington and Lane Wheaton, Paul Wagner, Douglas Brown and Anthony Zarella of Woburn.

Wellesley Club

The Winchester Wellesley Club will hold a Christmas party for high school girls on December 28, from 2 to 4 p.m. The purpose of this annual event is to acquaint girls from Winchester and neighboring communities with the college and to give them the opportunity to receive first hand information about Wellesley from undergraduates.

Anyone interested in attending may call Mrs. Robert Grasty, Winchester acquaintanceship chairman, at 729-8415. Student co-chairman for the party is Miss Elaine Shiang, class of 1972.

Revere Man Is Official State Santa Claus

The Bay State's own official Santa Claus, formally appointed by the previous Governor, played host to motorists entering the Boston Common Underground Garage Tuesday and Wednesday, December 16 and 17 from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

He gave out goodies to youngsters and their parents as they came into the Garage.

Santa, otherwise known as Ray Harney of Revere, has been the official State Santa Claus since 1949 when Governor Paul A. Dever swore him in to the unpaid post.

Mr. Harney, whose automobile plate reads "Santa C," also has another plate citing him as Massachusetts Official State Santa Claus. His season usually begins in mid-November and he keeps busy in his St. Nicholas role through Christmas eve.

Not only is it an unpaid job but it usually costs Mr. Harney several hundred dollars before the holiday season is over.

As official State Santa Claus, Mr. Harney visits hospitals and institutions to bring Yuletide cheer to the sick and underprivileged. He is so enthused about his work that he usually takes his month-long vacation during this period to be able to serve as Santa Claus.

Polaroid Seminar Is Planned At Hospital

Technical representatives of Polaroid Corporation will conduct a seminar at Winchester Hospital on December 30 to demonstrate the numerous medical and research applications of its wide variety of instant photographic systems.

Equipment to be shown at the technical seminar, which will be conducted from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the hospital are the Polaroid MP-3 multi-purpose laboratory and the CU-5 close-up cameras as well as the complete line of Polaroid self-developing Land films.

Attendees will have the opportunity to view a special 20 minute movie on new applications and techniques in instant photography in bio-medicine. The film will be screened at 11, 1 and 3.

Between showings of the movie, attendees are invited to bring in samples to be photographed, and receive on-the-spot, individual instruction in use of the equipment and films.

Pack 524 Holds Buccaneer Night

Buccaneer and pirate costumes were in order when the boys of Pack 524 met together recently. The costumes designed by the cubs themselves showed much imagination.

Richard Goldhammer was chosen king of the buccaneers for his unique contribution.

Den 2, under the direction of Mrs. Doris Dagnese, presented a skit about life in the days of sea-faring pirates. All cub buccaneers were made to "walk the plank" but, happy to relate, none fell into the briny deep.

New Bobcats welcomed into the Pack by Ken Friberg included: Den 5: Michael Gaffio; Den 6: Michael Kolligian, Jeffrey Elzinga, Christopher Patterson, Anders Bjarnagard, Thomas McGinty, Daniel Conlon, Edward O'Connell; Den 7: David Duffy, Curtis Bonnell, Richard Patrick, Bobby Horne, Steven Smith, Steven Wilk.

A silver arrow was presented Philip McGinty while Steven Black received his Bear Badge.

The Webelos have been working industriously these past weeks in order to earn the following awards: the athletes and sportsman awards were given John McGinty, Fred Murray, Jay Bourne, Brian Quinn, Michael Robinson, Pat Porter, Francis Mazzucotelli, Mark Nelson, George Kingsley, Scott Matheson, and Brooks Bonnell. In addition, the engineers award was given John McGinty, while Brian Quinn and George Kingsley won the outdoorsman and Fred Murray the traveler award.

Award Given Area Division

U.S. Naval Reserve Inshore Undersea Warfare Division 1-1 has been awarded the Commandant's Award as the outstanding division of its type in the First Naval District for the fiscal year 1969.

The award was presented at a ceremony at the U.S. Naval Reserve Training Center, Salem on Sunday, December 14. Presenting the award for the Commandant, First Naval District was Captain R. W. Belt, USN, Chief of Staff, Commandant, First Naval District.

Inshore Undersea Warfare Division 1-1 is made up of 12 officers and 38 enlisted men residing in the Greater Boston area. It is directed by Commander Eric Holmquist, USNR-R, of 20 Sheffield Road. This division drills one week-end each month at its Harbor Entrance Control Center on Deer Island in Boston Harbor.

This is the third time in the last five years that this division has been recognized for its outstanding leadership by the Commandant, First Naval District.

Live Evergreens Require Planning

Live evergreen trees in pots or tubs have become very popular for Christmas during the last few years.

They have several advantages over the traditional cut tree, including freshness and landscape use after the holiday. Nearly all Christmas tree distributors and nurseries now offer a variety of live evergreen species for Christmas which are also adapted for use on home landscapes.

The problem is one of early planning for a live tree so that it can be set outdoors late in December. Look over the landscape to see where an evergreen might be needed. Prepare the planting hole in advance, store the soil which has been removed where it will not freeze and cover the hole with boards to eliminate a possible hazard. Select and order the tree early so that it can be dug and planted in a suitable container by the dealer.

Remember that a living tree should be in the home not over five days during the holidays to reduce possible deterioration. Pay close attention to watering and keep it away from radiators, sunny windows, etc. as a cut tree would be. Remember that although living trees are less of a fire hazard than cut ones, they are not fire proof and also should not be treated with fire retardant chemicals!

When the tree is set outside, follow these steps. Firm the loose soil around the root ball after removing this from the container. Water the tree thoroughly to firm the soil around the roots, then mulch over the soil surface with oak leaves, pine needles or similar materials to delay freezing of the ground and reduce water loss. If the tree is planted in an exposed location, shield it from winter sun and wind with a burlap or plastic windscreen.

Plan on a living Christmas tree this year and extend the pleasant memories of this season for many years as this tree lives and grows on the home landscape.

Sp4 Baldwin Graduates From Army School

Sp4 Charles H. Baldwin, 23-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Baldwin of Yale Street, has recently graduated from the US Army Signal Center and School, Fort Monmouth, New Jersey, after intensive training had qualified him as a radio set AN/TRC-90 repairman.

A 1964 graduate of Winchester High School, Sp4 Baldwin later attended Hamilton High School in Clinton, New York. He entered the Army in January 1969 and completed basic training at Fort Gordon, Georgia.

GOP Women Hear Governor

Fifteen Winchester residents heard Governor Sargent speak to the Massachusetts Federation of Republican Women at a dinner meeting held Wednesday, December 10, at the new Marriott Motel. The theme of Gov. Sargent's talk was anti-pollution, conservation and the banning of the chemical D.D.T.

Attending the meeting from Winchester were Mrs. James Blackham, Federation Secretary, Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Thompson, Mrs. Ernest J. Wright, Mrs. George Brantley, Mrs. Fred Schiffmacher, Mrs. Joseph Zrodowski, Mrs. H. P. Elwell, Mrs. Victor Soucek, Mrs. Mercedes Meyer, Mrs. Shepard Pond, Miss Rita Thornton, and Miss Susan Pond.

Wellesley Begins Continuing Studies Program

Wellesley College will inaugurate a continuing education program beginning September, 1970. According to Eleanor R. Webster, professor of chemistry and director of the new program, qualified women beyond college age will be able to attend Wellesley part-time to complete their bachelor of arts degrees.

The program is designed for the woman who has had at least one year of college, whose education was interrupted, and who now wishes to resume undergraduate studies and also for the college graduate interested in taking additional undergraduate courses, perhaps to enter a new career or prepare for graduate studies.

Continuing education students will be non-residential and will attend classes with regular Wellesley students and fulfill the same academic requirements.

Founded in 1875, Wellesley provides a liberal arts education for highly-qualified young women. Like many colleges and universities, Wellesley now recognizes the special needs of adults whose responsibilities to career or family preclude full-time study.

The continuing education program offers them opportunity to take one or two courses at a time instead of the usual four courses carried by Wellesley undergraduates. Those able to maintain a full program of course work, however, may do so.

In explaining the need for the continuing education program, Miss Webster said, "Institutions of higher learning are undergoing social and intellectual ferment and, in many cases, modify traditional educational structures. Continuing education is one of the new directions in which Wellesley already moving. Wellesley seeks the cooperation of the participants in continuing education in the planning and the innovation of other programs in the future."

Wellesley's educational and cultural facilities will be available to those who qualify for the program. The central campus library includes 426,600 volumes and 1,800 periodicals and is supplemented by departmental libraries. The Jewett Arts Center houses the Wellesley College Art Museum, a 350-seat theatre, practice rooms and studios.

Besides teaching greenhouses and a vivarium, biological scientists have a wide assortment of instruments, including an electron microscope and cryostat microtome. For physical scientists there are a 24-inch reflector telescope, a petrographic microscope and various kinds of spectro-photometric and vapor phase chromatographic equipment.

The College maintains a child study center where students of psychology and sociology may observe nursery school children.

The continuing education office is open Monday through Friday in 137 Sage Hall, on the Wellesley campus. Those interested in obtaining more information about the program may write to the director or call the office at (617) 235-0320, extension 377.

WVNA Hears Dr. McDonough

The Winchester Visiting Nursing Association held its December meeting at the Unitarian Church on Friday, December 12.

Mrs. Charles L. Moore, president, called the meeting to order. Annual reports were read by committee chairladies.

Doctor James F. McDonough, president of the staff at Winchester Hospital and noted gynecologist was introduced as guest speaker. He spoke on the need for a regional hospital.

There are several advantages to a regional hospital, stated Dr. McDonough. One of the most important advantages would be the elimination of duplicating expensive diagnostic equipment.

Although the planning board of Winchester Hospital has been studying several possibilities and land sites, Dr. McDonough stated that a regional hospital is beyond the immediate future due mostly to the lack of co-operation of other towns in the area.

Dr. McDonough said, therefore, to meet the immediate needs of Winchester area patients, the planning now is to finish the new wing of Winchester Hospital as soon as possible. This would provide relief from the critical bed shortage now in existence at the hospital.

The Association has formulated plans for their annual meeting, which will be open to the public on January 16, 1970. This will begin their 70th year of service to the people of Winchester.

In keeping with the continuing educational program on current health needs, Dr. Donald McLean has been invited to speak on the adolescent drug problem in Winchester.

Caution Required

Women with maxi-coats should be extra cautious when walking this winter, warns the American Automobile Association.

"Strong winds can wrap the coat around your legs and restrict movement," said Susan M. Barnes, assistant safety director for AAA's Massachusetts Division. "Be especially careful when crossing busy downtown streets, as quick motions are almost impossible and you may not be able to move fast enough to avoid an on-coming car. It's difficult enough to keep your balance on an icy street, but on a windy day with a long, heavy maxi wrapped around you, it's just about impossible."

Triple-A found maxi-wearers had no problems driving an automobile. Coats of the proper length keep your legs warm and your feet free to use the pedals.

"Mini cars and maxi coats can cause some trouble, however," Mrs. Barnes said. "Graceful entrances and exits must be practiced to avoid catching your coat in a car door."

WHS Hockey Season Opens Tonight At Lynn Arena Against Belmont

by John F. Parrell

Coach Ted Kelley's Sachem puck chasers open the Middlesex League campaign this evening at Lynn Arena, Belmont will provide the opposition and faceoff time is scheduled for 5:40. With little time for rest they play Wakefield Saturday afternoon at 3:25 and next Tuesday they wind up their busy pre-Christmas schedule by playing Lexington with a 6:40 starting time.

Finding time and place for hockey practice is a tedious task and requires miles and hours of travel to find suitable facilities. The boys have now been in action for nearly a month and all are eager to get the season started. Those who were members of the football eleven such as Ben Dolan, Joe Campo and Ron Fiorilli still are a bit behind in their conditioning for the ice game but are working hard to catch up with the rest of the squad.

From what has been seen in early workouts this sextet looms as one of the best in recent Winchester history. In addition the presence of an unusually large sophomore contingent gives promise of continuing success. The forward lines are smooth working and the defense, which is studded with footballers, should prove very aggressive.

The first line will be centered by Captain Jay O'Leary with Dave Manly at right wing and either George Evans or Dan Oliver on the left side. The second wave will have Paul Whitney at center with Don Martignetti and Tom Belden working as wings. Dave Frongillo and Steve Troiano will team with Jack Brennan at center as a third forward line.

Joe Campo and Ben Dolan will be one of the defense pairings and another will have Jim Beck and Ed Pierce working together to turn aside the rushes of the opposition. Co-Captain Fred Cammon, who performed so well last year, is back in goal with Dick Barrett as his substitute.

The team went to West Point over the weekend and played an exhibition game with the Army Plebes in the huge rink which is much larger than any of the indoor rinks.

It was great for conditioning and the boys gave a good account of themselves and the experience that they gained should prove very valuable.

The Plebe coaches said that the Sachem ice men had given their charges the hardest workout of the season to date.

Basketball Squad Named By Coach

by John F. Parrell

The members of the varsity and junior varsity squads for the current basketball season have been announced by Coach Vandy French.

The team represents perhaps the best array of size and talent seen on the local court in quite a few years and must be regarded as having a real chance of qualifying for Class B of the Tech Tournament. To do this they must win at least 14 out of their 20 scheduled contests against Middlesex League opposition and the outside games with Everett and Arlington.

Those on the varsity squad are: Capt. Tim Fahey, John Reardon, Bill Wolfe, Chuck Rotundi, Bob Whitney, Peter DeNatale, John Schroeder, Jim Higgins, Bob Bigelow, Tom James, Dana Peterson, Bob Hicks.

Hoopsters Beat Arlington 60-48

by John F. Parrell

The Winchester High basketball team successfully launched its campaign by trouncing Arlington 60-48 in a game played away from home last Friday.

The Sachems played well until they had a commanding lead but at some stages it was quite obvious that it was an opener for both clubs as well as for the officials. Everybody concerned will be better as the season progresses.

Winchester leaped off to a 16-8 first period lead and Arlington was playing catch up all the way. Only in the third period were they able to outscore the local team getting 17 points to 13 for the Sachems. The home team netted 22 foul points and the Winchester boys only two less which more or less clearly shows the type of game.

The Winchester team was always in command and won quite handily. There was a good scoring spread with John Reardon as top scorer with 16 and Captain Tim Fahey was close behind with 14. Bill Wolfe and Bob Bigelow also hit double figures. Lewko with 17 and Benoit with 11 led the home team's scorers. The superiority of the Sachems is best shown by the fact that they recorded 20 foul baskets to only 13 for Arlington.

The summary:

	G	F	Pts.
Bigelow	3	4	10
Wolfe	3	4	10
Reardon	5	6	16
Fahey	6	2	14

Recreation Classes Resume

Recreational basketball, judo, woodworking and metal shop classes will resume this Saturday, December 20, on regular schedule, according to an announcement by Recreation Director Donald Spinney.

WILSON COLLEGE'S two top sailing skippers, Miss Nancy Lowe of Queenstown, Maryland, and Miss Maureen Kivney of 371 Highland Avenue, admire a few of the awards won by the Wilson Yacht Club since 1965. The three trophies above, only a part of the total collection, include the first-place award for a regional series of spring races, a bowl for high-point skipper at a Georgetown University regatta, and the tray for second-place showing at the 1968 national races.

Miss Kivney Aids Wilson Sailors In Racing Wins

A remarkable series of sailing triumphs has left the Wilson College Yacht Club with a pleasant problem—finding adequate display space for the trophies that members have won in intercollegiate competition. Miss Maureen Kivney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Kivney of 371 Highland Avenue, is partly responsible for this problem.

A relatively new organization at Wilson, the Yacht Club was founded in 1965 by Miss Susan Eldredge, then a freshman from East Greenwich, Rhode Island. Since then, club members have collected an impressive array of cups, bowls, and trays.

The trophies have been won despite some rather sizeable handicaps, not the least of which is the fact that the Wilson campus at Chambersburg, Pennsylvania, is about two hours from blue water. Moreover, the students at the four-year college for women do not own a boat and have no place to practice together if they did.

Little bothered by such formidable obstacles, the Wilson sailors joined the Middle Atlantic Association of Women Sailors and competed in every event they could enter. They quickly achieved a series of first- and second-place victories at a variety of regattas, championship meets, and elimination races.

On the strength of their record the Wilson team was one of six to qualify for the first national women's collegiate sailing championship races in Ossining, New York, in 1967. The Wilson team won first place, narrowly edging the Cornell University entry. The Wilson sailors were paced by Miss Lucy Thompson of Harwich Port, who was named top-ranking skipper of the national meet.

The Yacht Club fielded a strong team again in 1967-68. After taking first place in the spring championship races of the Middle Atlantic Association of Women Sailors at Princeton University in 1968, they again qualified for national competition.

The Wilson team was winning handily at the second national contest, held on Rhode Island's Narragansett Bay, when a disqualification in one of the races cost them six points and the regatta. Top honors went to Radcliffe College, and Wilson had to settle for second place.

But Wilson again brought home the award for high-point skipper. It was won by Miss Nance Lowe of Queenstown, Maryland, a member of Wilson's national championship team in the previous year.

In 1968-69, Wilson's sailors continued to dominate the Mid-Atlantic region. Early this spring they swept top places in both the Georgetown Invitational Regatta and the championship races at New York. Then they went to the third national championship races, this time on Boston's Charles River. Radcliffe placed first while Wilson took fourth place.

The Yacht Club's trophy collection now bulges with a variety of awards. The most highly prized ones are the first, second, and fourth places in the national championship races. But the collection includes five first-place and six second-place awards which were won at invitational and regional events.

It is clear that individual skills contributed to Wilson's impressive record. Since 1965 Wilson sailors have been named high-point skippers at two national races and at 14 invitational and regional regattas.

Top skippers in the Yacht Club at present are Miss Lowe, who has received six awards for individual performances including the national award in 1968, and Miss Maureen Kivney, who has been named high-point skipper at two different races.

Miss Lowe, now a senior and majoring in American civilization, is commodore (president) of the Yacht Club. She has been sailing for about 10 years and has her own boat at home.

are used by women sailors in the intercollegiate races. Each boat is handled by two persons, one serving as skipper and one as a crew member.

One of the Yacht Club's major problems is the unpredictable turnover of qualified sailors who enroll at Wilson. "Club membership is irregular," Miss Lowe explains, "because in order to participate a student must already know how to sail. We have no facilities for teaching or training."

"Most of the girls learned to sail at a yacht club, at home, or at camp," she says. "The problem is that they've learned to sail—but not necessarily to race. We were a little worried this year at the nationals because we had never sailed together before. We have often entered competition with people racing for the first time. This is why it is so exciting."

Winning is so exciting, and at least some other schools suffer under the same handicaps. But some teams have an advantage that Wilson lacks. Many competitors come either from coeducational schools or from women's colleges associated with men's schools; they, therefore, have the opportunity to practice with men's sailing equipment.

With all these handicaps, one wonders how the Wilson team manages to win so consistently. Foremost among the factors is the fact that some good and experienced sailors turned up in the student body in recent years. But, in addition to that, the way in which regattas are organized helps to equalize some of the advantages and disadvantages among competing teams.

The club usually competes against four to eight schools in a regatta. The host school provides the boats, so no team has the advantage of familiarity with the equipment.

Twice as many races are held as there are teams represented, so in a complete round robin every

Pee Wee "B's" Overcome Bedford

The Winchester Pee Wee "B's" hockey team had to come from behind to down Bedford 3 to 2 in a league contest Sunday afternoon at the Bedford rink.

After spotting Bedford a one-goal lead in the first period, the "B's" came charging back with a fast-skating third period. The offense was sparked by Tom Romeo, who had two goals.

Romeo's first goal was scored early in the period when he shot for the net from the corner and it was deflected inside. After this tie-breaking goal, Rich Coakley teamed up with Bob Coppins to put away the go-ahead goal.

Coakley took a pass at center ice from Coppins on the left boards and broke in alone, beating the Bedford goalie. Tom Romeo came right back to score what proved to be the winning goal on a play with Jim Beaton. Romeo took a pass in front of the net from Beaton on the right wing and popped it home.

Excellent games were turned in by Kev Julian at defense who continually prevented Bedford from coming out, and Pete Richmond, who centered his line very well, keeping a lot of pressure on Bedford.

Following the game the team elected tri-captains. Congratulations to Jim Beaton, Cliff Falls and Chip Hartnett. These boys are excellent hockey players and will afford the "B's" great leaders.

Next week the "B's" face Arlington at 4 p.m. at Bedford in a crucial game. Arlington leads the league.

Goal — Peter Eleftherakis, Lexington.

St. Mary's CYO Downs Norwood

St. Mary's CYO hockey team took a giant step in its quest for third league title Saturday at McHugh Forum with a stunning 4-2 victory over St. Catherine's Norwood.

St. Catherine's had been through 22 league games without a loss, but they were never in this game as the black and gold clad pucksters from Winchester checked them all over the ice and put 29 shots on goal to only 11 by Norwood.

Richie Jacobs got St. Mary's off on the right foot when he came out of a scramble with the puck and fired a 10-footer past the Norwood goal tender, with Stony Jacobs getting the assist.

Fifteen seconds later, the same line ran what looked like an instant replay, by again jamming the puck into Norwood's net. This time the goal went to Mike Bonish with Richie and Stony Jacobs both getting credit for assists.

A second period goal went to Bob Ward. He was assisted by Doug Ewart, and Bob Herlihy.

Then at 9:10 of the second period Winchester capped its scoring when the production line of Bonish, Jacobs and Jacobs struck again. A blazing 20-footer by Stony Jacobs whistled high into the Norwood cage. Assists on this goal went to Richie Jacobs and Mike Bonish.

Norwood got on the score board with two minutes remaining in the contest, when after several spark-line saves, a screen shot eluded Cliff Falla, finishing up the game in St. Mary's net. A minute later a Norwood drive hit a Winchester defender and deflected past Falla for another tally. But it was too little, too late for last year's CYO champions.

Standouts for St. Mary's were numerous. Matt O'Neil, John Campbell, and Kevin Pierce were superb on defense, while Doug Ewart, Bob Herlihy and Bob Ward also played outstanding hockey.

The rookie lines of Tom Brennan, Charlie Evans, Mark Siegfried, Joe Martignetti, Ed Pierce and Andy Twomey were exceptional when they were used to spell the veterans who played most of the way.

However, the game puck, symbol of number one star, was awarded by captains Herlihy and Campbell to Peter Scopa who showed his very best effort to date in the Winchester nets.

Next Sunday at 8:30 a.m. at McHugh, St. Mary's faces off against Immaculate Conception of Revere.

For the children while traveling. Gizz games are great, selection of Color Bingo, Animal Lotto, Tic-tac-toe, and Word game. Available at the Star office.

Sachems And Raiders Dominate All-Stars

by John F. Parrell

The Middlesex League coaches gathered for dinner last week at Vallee's Steak House, Saugus, for their annual fall meeting. Coach Manny Marshall was presented with the trophy emblematic of the league championship for the second consecutive year.

Players were selected for the offensive and defensive all star berths as outstanding in the Middlesex League. Balloting was restricted to seniors and when all the votes were tallied the majority of the berths were filled either by players from Winchester or Melrose. The selections followed the team standings quite faithfully with third place Wakefield rating next in number of players chosen.

Don Hawley Receives Award At Exeter

Don Hawley of 25 Ledgewood Road has just received the Most Valuable Player Award on the varsity soccer team of the Phillips Exeter Academy.

Don, a three year veteran of varsity competition, played every minute of every game at fullback in spearheading the team's defense. Exeter has one of the toughest secondary school soccer schedules in the country including matches against the Yale, Harvard, New Hampshire, Bowdoin, M.I.T. and Dartmouth freshmen.

The final three games of the season featured two double overtime periods, yet the Exeter defense gave up a total of only two goals in the 4-1 victory over M.I.T., the scoreless tie with Dartmouth, and the culminating 2-1 win over arch-rival Andover.

St. Mary's Plans For College Students

Plans are underway for a "get-together" for the young adults of St. Mary's parish during the Christmas holidays.

The event will be held December 26 in St. Mary's School Hall and will afford college students an opportunity to renew high school acquaintances and see old friends.

Admission is free and refreshments will be served. The party is planned for those 18 to 26.

WHITNEY GAY, defensive end on the Susquehanna University football team, was awarded the "Hatch-et Man" award for the second year in a row. The award goes to the player who tackled opposing quarterbacks most often. Whitney is a junior.

Sachem Drive Moving Ahead

by John F. Parrell

The campaign for funds to provide a suitable testimonial for the undefeated 1969 Winchester football team is making reasonably good progress. Although much more is hoped for when all returns are in, a sizeable sum has already been received.

Any persons or organizations not already contacted should send their donations to Charles Craven, cashier of the Winchester National Bank.

The door-to-door canvass last Sunday was deemed quite satisfactory in view of the fact that the townspeople have so many demands on them at this time of year.

The solicitors received cordial responses at most homes and the generosity of the residents is greatly appreciated. The process of contacting commercial and industrial interests and civic and social clubs is continuing as well as that of picking up loose ends on the street listings.

Chairman Thomas Keating, his committee, and the workers hope that with continuing efforts such as dances, food sales, etc., the testimonial fund will be swelled to a point where a fitting recognition will be possible. Just what form this will take will not be decided until more returns have been received.

It must be pointed out that neither the School Committee, the Winchester High administration nor the Athletic Department are in any way involved in this drive. It is strictly a project of the committee made up of parents, friends, and followers of the football team. They are aware of the fact that this group is at work but they are not in any way concerned with the plans of the committee.

Q

What would your final contract be with the North-South cards?
You might have a one-club bid from West, depending on the bidding system.

Of course with duplicate players conditioned toward the majors, it makes it harder for South to insist on the diamonds and for North to listen when South keeps denying spades.

But when you look at all four hands it's obvious that South can make five diamonds with ease, losing the Ace of Clubs and the Ace of hearts, the three losing hearts being discarded on North's top three spades.

On the other hand North is in serious trouble at four spades, especially if West has bid one club and East leads clubs; West takes three club tricks, and the lead of a fourth club promotes a second spade trick for East-West, plus the ace of hearts—down three.

If you decided on the four-spade bid, however, you had company.
Five of the seven North-Souths playing the hand were in four spades, going down two, three (twice), four, and five. There was just one plus score for North-South
—one five-diamond bid making five.
The other North-South pair were in six diamonds, down one, for the next to top score, being in less trouble than the four-spade bidders: Hard Hand!

There are three primary ways of generating power—nuclear, hydroelectric and fuel combustion.
The environmental effects of each will be probed in Boston at the annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Cub Pack 503 Relives Fantasy

Cub Pack 503 brought to life their favorite folk and fairytale characters recently.

The boys dressed in "storybook fashion," and had fun guessing who each den was depicting.

A medley of songs was sung, and candycanes distributed to the boys.
Three new cubs were welcomed into Pack 503. Receiving their Bobcat Pins were: John Porell, Robbie Porell and Lewis Hodes.

Denners for the month were:
Paul McDavitt, Eddie Quinn, Andy
Bowker, Ray Kenney, Andrew
Grey, David Scanlon, Benjamin
Bloch and Charles Mahoney.

Assistant Denners were: Paul
Precht, Douglas McKrey, Tim
Johnson, Bobby Croston and Lance Bergman.

Receiving their Wolf badges were: Joe McIsaac, Jeffrey Whalen, Paul Precht, David Morris, Tim
Johnson, Michael Eden, David
Croston, Andrew Mahoney, David
Longo, and Campbell Rogers.

Receiving their Bear badges were:
Marshall Cargiano, Ray Kenney,
Stanley Hamlet, Bobby Croston and Robert Astill.

Gold Arrows were won by Paul
McDavitt, Joe McIsaac, Jeffrey
Whalen, Tim Johnson, Stanley
Hamlet, David Croston, Lars Holmquist and Robert Astill. Robert had worked exceptionally hard and also completed the requirements for three Silver Arrows.

Pack 503 also has two new engineers in its Webelos group. They are: John Hogan and George Bowker.

Several members of Pack 503 won awards at the October Pack meeting and were not given public recognition.

These were: Bobcat: David Morris, Douglas McKrey, Stuart
Downs, Andrew Grey, Toby Daley,
John Beattie, Paul Casey, Bradford
West, David McGovern and Tom Visconti.

Denner: Mike Schromm, Jimmy
Aylward, George Casey, Andrew
Mahoney, Richard Painter and Mark Aylward.

Assistant Denner: Bruce Pellier, John Rule, Michael Eden and Robert Erbafina.

Paul McDavitt, Steve Vautrain, Gary Argue, Andy Bowker, and Lars Holmquist.

Bear: John Rule.

Andrew Grey and Gary Argue received a Gold Arrow, and Gary received two silver arrows.

Steven Johnson received his engineer and athlete pins.

Other Webelos who won their athletic awards were: George Bowker,
Richard Champoux, John Hogan,
Peter Lee, Tom Lucy, Michael
Scanlon, Steven Schromm, Tom
Visconti, and David McGovern.

BRING RESULTS

Pollution Is Citizens' Group Campaign Target

Citizens for Participation Politics recently launched a state-wide campaign to end pollution. Many prominent conservation groups and individuals are actively supporting this project.

Sponsors include the Massachusetts Audubon Society, the Massachusetts Association of Conservation Commissioners, the Eastern New England group of the Sierra Club, the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts, the Union of Concerned Scientists, Ecology Action, Boston Environment, Inc., and WBCN radio.

The project also has the personal endorsements of Nobel Prize winner Salvador Luria, State Representative Francis Hatch (Republican-Beverly), State Representative David Harrison (Democrat-Gloucester), Dr. Alexander Leaf of the Harvard Medical School, and Alice Brock of "Alice's Restaurant" fame.

CPP is distributing pollution complaint forms to citizens across the state. The state office will forward these forms to the department of natural resources and public health which are required by law to investigate and to act on all legitimate complaints. Copies of the complaint form are also being sent to the individual's state representative and state senator, as well as to the Governor.

Robert Meyer, spokesman for the group, said, "Response to the needs of our environment are traditionally too little and too late. We believe that overwhelming public support for pollution must be heard in Washington and on Beacon Hill".
The departments of natural resources and public health have both given their encouragement to the project.

In a statement released recently,
Mr. Meyer said, "When the Nashua River coats its banks with half an inch of cardboard every year, when human milk contains more DDT than federal standards allow in cow's milk, when Boston Edison puts out 120 tons of sulfur dioxide every day, the time has come to act".

Citizens for Participation Politics is a community-based political action organization with over 120 groups across the Commonwealth.
It developed out of the Massachusetts McCarthy for President campaign and is active on a wide variety of issues. This project was initiated by the Environmental Problems Committee of CPP. Additional cards and information are being distributed from the CPP state office in Boston.

Civil Relief Act of 1940, as amended;
WINCHESTER SAVINGS BANK, a Massachusetts corporation having an usual place of business in Winchester, in the County of Middlesex, claiming to be the present holder of a mortgage covering the premises of a certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in Winchester, Middlesex County, Massachusetts being Lot A as shown on Plan of Land, Winchester, Mass., dated
Jan. 21, 1959, Frederick A. Ewell, Reg. Land
Surveyor, recorded with Middlesex South
District Registry of Deeds in Book 9316, Page 334, as follows: Northeastly, Easterly and again Northeastly by River Street in four courses as shown on said plan, eighteen and 89/100 (18.89) feet, twenty-nine and 40/100 (29.40) feet, one hundred and 55/100 (100.55) feet, and nine and westerly by land of Nicholas H. and James J. Fitzgerald, as shown on said plan, three hundred seventy-one and 32/100 (371.32) feet.

Containing 25,200 square feet of land
according to said plan given by Raymond J.
Doyle, Jr., Trustee of Matterhorn Cleaning Corporation, dated March 25, 1965, and recorded with Middlesex South District Registry of Deeds, in Book 10781, Page 042, has filed with said Court a bill in equity for authority to foreclose said mortgage in manner following by entry and possession and exercise of power of sale.

If you are entitled to the benefits of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940, as amended, and you object to such foreclosure, you or your attorney should file a written appearance and answer in the office of the Clerk of said Court at Cambridge on or before the twenty-sixth day of January, A.D.
1970, or you may be forever barred from claiming that such foreclosure is invalid under said act.

WITNESS: G. Joseph Tauro, Esquire, Chief Justice of said Court, this sixteenth day of December, A.D. 1969.

Some Benefits Unclaimed, Says Social Security

"It has been over a year and one-half since passage of the last set of amendments of the Social Security Act, but many people have still not applied for benefits to which these amendments entitle them," said John E. Loneragan Jr., district manager of the Social Security Office.

Mr. Loneragan named three

Town & Country
WINCHESTER — BELMONT

Jules Verne, if he were alive today, would hardly be surprised at mankind's arrival on the moon, and he would probably still be the best-qualified man to predict our future. About all we care to suggest for fashion's future is Town & Country's place in the forefront of the unpredictable.

For the past twenty-eight years we've shown every new style change in its infancy. Some were serious, some were tongue-in-cheek, many were stunning, a few pretty damn ugly. We've sold wearing apparel of coal tar, glass, and metal, one year without tops, currently without bottoms, often with no middle.

Regardless of "look" or "content" if it's new it will be shown at Town & Country right here on this planet or some day in our branch shop on the moon.

Hospital Holds Annual Meeting Elects Officers

The 57th annual meeting of Winchester Hospital was held on Tuesday, December 2, at the Winchester Country Club. During the meeting, to which all members of the hospital corporation are invited, reports covering the activities during the prior year were presented by the president, treasurer, administrator and president of the medical staff.

In his remarks, the President, Clinton W. Bennett, commented upon the rapid changes taking place in health care techniques and their effect upon the hospital. He also noted that 97 per cent of the hospital income is from Third Party Payors (Blue Cross, Medicare, etc.).

The Administrator, Reese E. James, spoke about the many functions required in a well organized hospital; however, his main remarks were directed to the extensive efforts at area planning with neighboring hospitals. He noted that discussions had been carried out for the past several years, and although it was still hoped that some agreement could be achieved, the immediate needs at Winchester Hospital would necessitate some building expansion in 1970.

The President of the Medical Staff, James F. McDonough, M.D., reported that the staff had updated its bylaws and that qualified dentists are now voting members, that on-going education for staff members is being carried out in cooperation with Harvard Medical School, and also that the medical staff urgently recommended an increase in the number of hospital beds.

Allen O. Eaton, presented the report of the nominating committee with the following elected to be new members of the Board of Directors: Warren S. Berg, Robert J. Grenzbach, and Mrs. Ralph T. Jope.

Re-elected to serve a second term were: Donato Gattinieri, Richard W. Schmader, John F. Sexton, D. Reid Weedon Jr., and Paul J. Whitney.

Officers elected were: President, Robert B. Kittredge; Vice President, William C. McConnell Jr.; Treasurer, Ralph W. Hatch; and Secretary, Sumner R. Andrews.

In accepting the Presidency, Mr. Kittredge spoke of the services of Mr. Bennett as president, and presented him with a framed resolution in recognition of his years of leadership.

The guest speaker was John Donaher, executive director, UCS Health Planning Council for Greater Boston, Inc., who spoke on the subject, "The Community General Hospital and its 20th Century Responsibilities." Mr. Donaher urged community involvement in health planning, particularly noting that successful planning had to have its origin at the local level.

Fire Precautions May Be Doubled During Holidays

Fire Chief I. Frances Amico advises that fire precautions should be doubled during the holidays. Many of our traditional Christmas customs — trees, colored lights and decorations — add to the fire hazards in the home.

Sometimes a combination of active children and preoccupied parents allows the one moment of carelessness, which is all that fire needs.

Christmas is a time for happiness and no time to be heedless of fire dangers! Don't allow smoking near the tree, decorations and wrappings. Have plenty of large, safe ashtrays around and use them.

Above all, have a fire emergency plan. Figure alternate escape routes out of every room. If fire strikes, clear everybody out of the house, then call the fire department. Fight the fire only if you can do so safely, keeping an exit route open.

A 14-year old boy in a children's institution said that The Salvation Army gift he received at Christmas was the first present he'd had since his parents abandoned him four years previously.

Postmast'r Appeals To Patrons To Clear Walks

With the snow and ice season here, Postmaster Charles R. Hill has issued the following request to all postal patrons.

"Slips and falls account for the vast majority of injuries to postal employees. With this in mind we appeal to all our patrons in the event of snow storms to come, to keep their walks, steps, and approaches to mail boxes clear of ice and snow."

"It could be quite possible we will have another snow storm any day now, and if we do, it would be much appreciated by your letter carrier if you would lessen his chance of injury by keeping walks and steps clear of snow and by keeping icy spots sanded," Mr. Hill said.

More than two million men, women and children throughout the United States received Thanksgiving and Christmas assistance from The Salvation Army last year.

A CHANCE TO HELP

Many elderly and infirm persons, as well as those with small children and limited incomes, need help at Christmas if the holiday is to be a happy occasion in accordance with the American tradition.

To help our less fortunate Winchester friends during the holiday seasons, gifts of money, food and clothing are earnestly solicited.

Gifts may be sent to the Winchester Community Relief Committee.

Miss Van Akeren Is Engaged To Mr. Wilson

Mr. and Mrs. David Van Akeren of Humphrey, Nebraska, announce the engagement of their daughter, Kathy, to Robert Wilson, son of Dr. and Mrs. William Wilson of 8 Oneida Road.

MISS KATHY VAN ACKEREN

Miss Van Akeren was graduated from Mount Marty College, Yankton, South Dakota, and is presently attending the University of Nebraska.

Her fiancé was graduated from Yankton College and is now a dental technician in Winchester. A June 20 wedding is planned at St. Francis Church, Humphrey, Nebraska.

Of Social Interest

Morse - Stiuklas

Miss Jody Ann Stiuklas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Stiuklas of Lima, Ohio, became the bride of Royal Ray Morse III of Newport News, Virginia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Royal R. Morse Jr. of 7 Fairlane Terrace, in a ceremony held in St. Mark's United Church, Lima on Saturday, November 29, at 1:30 p.m.

MRS. ROYAL R. MORSE III

The Rev. Paul H. Bassett presided over the service which was followed by a reception at the Lost Creek Country Club, Lima. The mother of the groom was hostess at a buffet rehearsal dinner at the club held on the preceding evening.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white velvet featuring venise lace at the neck and down the front and back panels. The gown was styled with a sheath skirt and long sleeves fitted to the wrist. Her chapel-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a high tongue edged in matching lace with a blusher face veil. She carried a slender cascade of white snowdrift pom poms with pink sweetheart roses and glacier ivy.

Mrs. James Wilkins of Lima attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a gown of the same style as the bride. Its ruffled velvet featured a ruffle about the neckline and on the long sleeves with a touch of white. A velvet band accented the waist with a bow in the back over a controlled floor-length skirt. A fur pill box hat and a white fur muff complemented her ensemble.

Attired as the matron of honor were the bridesmaids, Mrs. Gregory Smith and Miss Mary Stiuklas, sister of the bride, both of Lima, and Miss Janet Morse of Ashland, Ohio, sister of the bridegroom.

Having the honor of best man was Richard Mullet of Ada, Ohio. Charles Carroll of Athens, Ohio, cousin of the bridegroom; Loyd Schriber of Newport News and Tim Morse of Winchester, brother of the bridegroom, shared the duties of ushers.

Miss Julie Wilkins of Lima, niece of the bride, acted as flower girl.

Mrs. Stiuklas selected a pink crepe dress with gold trim and beads. A matching double maline bow for her head, matching accessories and a purse corsage of dark pink rosebuds completed her outfit. The mother of the bridegroom attended the ceremony in a robin's egg blue silk faille coat dress. A hat of feathered flowers, matching accessories and a shoulder corsage of dark pink rosebuds were part of her ensemble.

The bride was graduated from Lima Senior High School and was employed as a faculty secretary in the college of engineering, Ohio Northern University, Ada.

A graduate of Winchester High School, Mr. Morse received his bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering from Ohio Northern and is presently employed by General Electric Corporation.

Following a wedding trip to the East coast, the couple are residing in Newport News.

Miss Jackson, To Wed Mr. Groninger

Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Hunter Jackson of Evanston, Illinois, formerly of Winchester, announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Rogers, to James Grant Groninger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Groninger of Aurora, Illinois.

MISS ELIZABETH R. JACKSON

Miss Jackson is a graduate of Winchester High School and of Randolph-Macon Woman's College. She is attending Northwestern University graduate school.

Mr. Groninger was graduated from Yale University and Harvard Business School. He is presently directing an economic development program for the Chicago Office of Economic Opportunity.

Miss Kadesch, Mr. Draisin To Marry

Dr. and Mrs. Richard G. Kadesch announced the engagement of their daughter, Kathryn Ann, to Lee Hayes Draisin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur M. Draisin of Newton Lower Falls, at a reception in their home on Saturday, December 13.

MISS KATHRYN A. KADESCH

Miss Kadesch received her bachelor of arts degree in art education from Marietta College (Ohio) in June of 1969. She was a dean's list student while at college. She is a member of Sigma Kappa sorority, Gamma Sigma Sigma national service sorority, Alpha Psi Omega national dramatic honorary fraternity and Epsilon Delta Pi local radio and television honorary.

Miss Kadesch was active in Winchester Summer Theatre and has participated in the Winton Club show. She was director of commercial accounts for the Sanson Institute of Herakley, Boston, and is presently a member of the promotion department of WKBG TV, Boston.

Mr. Draisin is a teaching tennis professional. He will graduate from Springfield College, Massachusetts, in May of 1970. He has played the number one position for the Springfield College tennis team for the past four years and was selected as one of the national Outstanding Collegiate Athletes of the year in 1969. He and his father were ranked 20th in the nation in Father and Son tennis in 1969 and are consistently among the top 10 teams in New England. Mr. Draisin was affiliated with Belmont Country Club during the summer of 1969 as a teaching professional.

Dr. Kadesch is a chemical consultant and a lecturer in chemistry at Emanuel College, Boston.

Mr. Draisin is vice-president and general manager of the Crystal Research Corporation of Cambridge.

A May 31 wedding is planned.

Felder-Dellicker

In a civil ceremony held recently in the Old Palace, Florence, Italy, Miss Judith Pearson Dellicker, daughter of Mrs. Henry A. Dellicker of Sloncham, formerly of 17 Leslie Road, and the late Mr. Dellicker, was married to Terry Quinn Felder of Florence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas T. Felder of Houston, Texas.

MRS. TERRY Q. FELDER

The service was officiated by the Mayor of Florence with a reception following in the Dino Restaurant. Escorted by her brother, Henry A. Dellicker Jr. of Holliston, the bride chose a gown of Italian silk with three-quarter sleeves, a jeweled neckline and ruffles of Alencon lace at the hem and for other trimming. Her chapel-length veil of silk illusion was caught by a cluster of flowers and edged with Alencon lace. The bridal bouquet was formed of white carnations centered with a pink rose.

Witnesses to the ceremony were her brother and Peter Rumbold of Perth, Australia. Also present were the bride's mother and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Henry A. Dellicker Jr.

Her mother wore a champagne Italian knit ensemble with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

A graduate of Winchester High School, Mrs. Felder attended Westbrook Junior College and was a stewardess with United Air Lines.

Mr. Felder was educated in the Houston school system and is presently employed as a musician.

The couple spent their wedding trip in Europe and plan to reside in Houston.

Miss Jones To Marry Mr. Fontneau

Mr. and Mrs. Alan G. Jones of Yonkers, New York, announce the engagement of their daughter, Cynthia, to Carl S. Fontneau, son of Dr. and Mrs. Nelson C. Fontneau, of Tufts University, formerly of Winchester.

MISS CYNTHIA JONES

Miss Jones, a 1968 graduate of Boston University, is presently enrolled in a Ph.D. program in oceanography at the University of Rhode Island.

Mr. Fontneau, a 1964 graduate of Winchester High School, a 1968 graduate of Harvard University, is also a second year graduate student in oceanography at the University of Rhode Island.

A March, 1970, wedding is planned.

Mrs. Good participated in a panel discussion on "Manpower," describing the mental health case aide program at Metropolitan State Hospital which is co-sponsored by the Mystic Valley and Central Middlesex Mental Health Associations. This Case Aide Program has achieved nationwide attention as an example of the successful utilization of volunteer manpower to rehabilitate chronic mental patients.

Every 43 minutes fire claims a life, says the Insurance Information Institute. Of the 12,200 persons who died in fires in 1968, about one-third were children.

The most devastating storm of 1968 occurred on May 15 when 67 different tornadoes swept through Alabama and several midwestern states, causing $36 million insured damage, says the Insurance Information Institute.

The Better Business Bureau of Eastern Massachusetts will now be better able to serve the more than 100,000 persons who request information and help from the BBB each year.

During the dedication of the BBB's new facilities at 150 Tremont Street, Boston recently, Leonard L. Sanders, BBB president, outlined the Bureau's new automatic information retrieval system.

The Mannings
Host Ecumenical House Blessing

Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Manningham, who recently moved from Medford, have hosted a series of house parties at their new home at 4 Russet Lane.

Perhaps the most unusual party was held in late November when an Ecumenical House Blessing took place. The Rev. Robert M. Durkee of Grace Episcopal Church in Medford represented the Episcopal Church, of which Mr. Manningham is a member. Rev. Durkee read the Invocation.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph Lyons of St. Eulalia's Parish pronounced the Benediction. Also participating in the service were Rev. Gerald Goggin, treasurer of the Stigmata Order in Waltham, and Rev. Thomas Savage, pastor of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church of Newbury, New Hampshire.

Guests included all of the Mannings' children, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Manningham and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel V. Manningham, all of Ridgefield, Connecticut; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hamilton (Natalie) of Berkeley Heights, New Jersey; and Mr. and Mrs. James Brown (Alice) of Brighton.

Also present were Professor and Mrs. John F. Gorham of Orono, Maine, niece and nephew of the Mannings; Mrs. Robert F. Durkee; Miss Elizabeth Goggin; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson of Lexington.

Mr. Manningham presented each guest with an engraved gift of jewelry for the occasion.

The Blessing was followed by a champagne luncheon.

Christmas Ideas Are Shown
Home and Garden

Members of the Winchester Home and Garden Club learned ways of creating Christmas decorations at their December 10 meeting.

Mrs. Edythe Ingerman, co-owner of the Christmas Dove shop in Rockport, provided an absorbing afternoon for the club as she demonstrated her varied techniques.

The decorations were assembled from ingredients sold in the Christmas Dove: a variety of wreaths, candelabras, espalier trees and gold bird cages. Many of the decorations contained Mrs. Ingerman's trade mark — a white dove.

The business meeting contained several reports. Mrs. John Chipman gave several suggestions for feeding the birds during the winter. Mrs. Frank Robinson gave a report about the exhibit of crafts at the Reading Rehabilitation Center, and Mrs. Walter L. Dignam showed three of the decorations she had made for the Winchester Home for the Aged.

Mrs. Richard T. DeConto thanked her committee for their assistance in constructing the ornaments for the Federation of Garden Club's Christmas tree at the exhibit in Horticultural Hall.

Correction

Mrs. Richard A. Dunn Sr. of 75 Mystic Valley Parkway served on the committee which prepared the annual Christmas Party for the Matignon Sisters. The party was given by the Matignon Guild at the Matignon High School, Cambridge, on December 14. Mrs. Dunn's address was incorrectly reported in the December 11 edition of the Star.

Mrs. Hackett Named Charmian Of Mothers' March

Mrs. John Hackett of 43 Robin Hood Road has been appointed Mothers' March chairman in Winchester. It has been announced by John Williams, chairman for the 1970 March of Dimes campaign.

The annual doorbell-ringing campaign by women volunteers to raise money for the March of Dimes will take place this year January 25 to February 1.

"We need more volunteers," Mrs. Hackett explained. "The need is urgent if Massachusetts Bay Chapter is to match the goal achieved in other years."

"Since 1958, the March of Dimes has led the way in overcoming an age-old fear of every mother, she said. "During those years, it has established more than 100 Birth Defects Centers that offer help to present victims of birth defects and hope, through research, to unborn generations."

"Through its nationwide public health education programs, the March of Dimes carries on year-round activities designed to inform the nation of the severity of the birth defects problem," Mrs. Hackett added.

All of this needs grass-roots support, however, and that can only come if enough women realize that the fight against birth defects is their fight, too. "Surely, as mothers," Mrs. Hackett said, "each of us can afford the effort of giving up time on one day of the year to ring doorbells in our neighborhoods."

Garden Club Meeting Held

"Christmas in Germany" was described by Mrs. Padmaker Lele at the open house held Monday night for members of the Winchester Estates Garden Club at the home of Mrs. Samuel Warren of 33 Thornberry Road.

Mrs. Lele displayed a gingerbread house which she said was a typical Christmas decoration in Germany and told of various other holiday customs in her former homeland.

The group joined in singing Christmas carols and refreshments were served by Mrs. Lele and Mrs. Warren.

Boston State To Administer Teachers' Exams

Boston State College has been designated as a test center for administering the National Teacher Examinations on Saturday, January 31, 1970, Dr. Edward FitzPatrick, testing administrator, announced recently.

College seniors preparing to teach and teachers applying for positions in school systems which encourage or require applicants to submit their scores on the National Teacher Examinations along with their other credentials are eligible to take the tests.

The designation of Boston State College as a test center for these examinations will give prospective teachers in this area an opportunity to compare their performance on the examinations with the candidates throughout the country who take the tests.

At the one-day session, a candidate may take the common examinations, which include tests in professional education and general education, and one of the 17 teaching area examinations which are designed to evaluate his understanding of the subject matter and methods applicable to the area he may be assigned to teach.

"Bulletins of Information" describing registration procedures and containing registration forms may be obtained in person from Rooms 101A or 109A at Boston State College, 625 Huntington Avenue, or directly from the National Teacher Examinations, Educational Testing Service, Box 911, Princeton, New Jersey 08540.

Young drivers again caused more than their share of the automobile accidents in 1968, according to the Insurance Information Institute. The 20.9 per cent of the nation's motorists who are under age 25, were involved as drivers in 34.6 per cent of all reported accidents and 33.9 per cent of all fatal crashes.

Last-Minute Tax Filers Given Hints

Last-minute income tax filers should double check their returns, since those filed just before the deadline are much more likely to contain errors, William E. Williams, Internal Revenue Service district director for Massachusetts, said recently.

Errors on returns delay processing and any refund that may be due. Missing information accounts for many of the errors, Mr. Williams said. This type of error could be a return without a required signature, Social Security number or W-2 statement.

Taxpayers who use the tax form they receive in the mail can avoid Social Security numbers problems, Mr. Williams said. These forms have pre-addressed labels that show the taxpayer's name, Social Security number and address just as they appear in IRS files.

The label can be lifted off the form, it can be on and placed on another should this be necessary. Mr. Williams advised taxpayers who have someone help them with their return to be sure that their pre-addressed label is on the form they file.

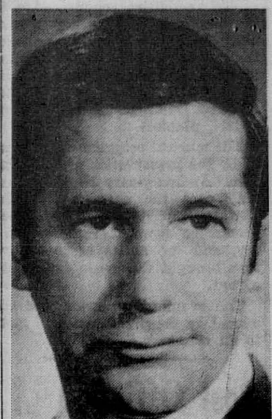

St. Mary's School Plans Program For Christmas

St. Mary's School will present its annual Christmas program on Friday, December 19, at 12:30 p.m. The children from all the grades will provide the entertainment.

Santa Claus will be there also to join in the festivities. Parents and friends are invited. Mrs. David Kline is in charge of the program.

Break the Window of Silence

Have you ever sat behind a window and watched children playing, watched their lips move, but couldn't quite hear what they said? You were, in effect, sitting in the world of hard of hearing. A hearing aid from Sears could "break" this window and let all the sound in.

You don't want to hear the children? Shut off the hearing aid... instant window.

Visit Sears Hearing Aid Department, let them show you how easily you can begin enjoying sounds again.

NOW Holds
Annual Meeting

NOW (Neighbors for an Open Winchester) held its annual membership meeting on December 9 at the home of Robert F. Jasse. Highlights of activities for the year were presented by the officers.

NOW is a non-profit corporation set up to promote better race relations by offering assistance to members of minority groups, particularly Negroes, seeking to live in Winchester. NOW has recently obtained approval of its non-profit status for tax purposes from the Internal Revenue Service and donations are deductible for tax purposes.

NOW is offering assistance in the form of loans or grants to enable minority families to make the necessary down payments on the purchase of property in Winchester. During the past year approximately $7000 was loaned to minority families for this purpose.

NOW looks forward to granting more loans during the coming year and would appreciate knowing of any minority families who may be interested in moving to Winchester.

Directors elected to the board of NOW at the annual meeting are: Mrs. Wallace McDonald, Allan G. Rodgers, Robert Jasse, Frederick Rozelle, and Mrs. Lawrence Globus of Winchester, Richard Banks and Herman Green of Boston and Jehu Smith of Arlington.

Current officers who will serve another year are Edward R. Hadad, chairman; Daniel Hritzay, vice chairman; Dr. Peter W. Neunath, treasurer; and Alan G. Rodgers, secretary.

Magnetic games, color forms, rub-ons, card games, 29c each. Paper dolls for children and adults. At the Winchester Star.

SOI Women
Hold Party

The Winchester Women's Lodge 1592, SOI, held its annual Christmas party following its regular monthly meeting, Monday evening, December 8.

The festivities commenced with the serving of a turkey dinner, after which the members heard the musical talents of three young members of the Winchester Music Group; Douglas DeNatale, violinist, Richard Dahlinger and Ann Gattinieri, pianists.

The musical program was followed by the presentation of a comical skit, "An Imaginary Night in Toyland" by the members of the Christmas party committee. Each committee member represented a toy, and the antics of these live toys brought the house down with a roar.

The evening's program was climaxed by the presentation of gifts to all members.

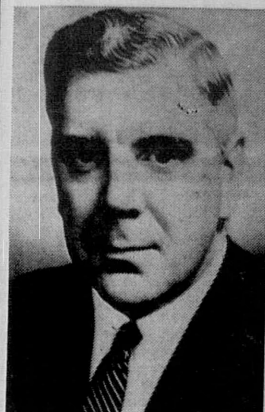

Post Office
Mailing Hours

Postmaster Charles R. Hill has announced the mailing hours for the remaining days during the Christmas period will be as follows: Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays, 8 a.m. to noon.

Accidents, the fourth most frequent cause of death, killed approximately 115,000 persons in the United States in 1968, says the Insurance Information Institute. Only heart disease, cancer, and strokes claimed more lives.

Financial Trends
Will Continue,
Mr. Healey Says

Continuation of tight money and high interest rates were predicted by Joseph P. Healey of Winchester, president of Middlesex Bank, at a mortgage finance seminar held in Boston recently.

JOSEPH P. HEALEY

Sponsored by the Greater Boston Real Estate Board, the affair brought together 400 leaders in the real estate mortgage field for a discussion of the outlook for mortgages in 1970.

In his remarks Mr. Healey said, "Inflation remains our major domestic problem. Despite some signs that the economy is beginning to cool, it is unlikely that the Federal Reserve Board will relax its tight-money policies until there is a slowdown in the rising price level and a dent in the inflationary psychology. 'Hopefully the Administration and the Congress will work out an acceptable compromise in the fiscal area to keep tax reductions and expenditure increases within reasonable limits and avoid threatened federal budget deficits.'"

"We should not expect an easing of short-term money rates at least until next spring. Long-term rates, which are influenced by a worldwide shortage of capital, will remain relatively high well into the future."

Postmaster
States Collections

Postmaster Charles R. Hill has announced that on Christmas Day, Thursday, December 25, and on New Year's Day, January 1, the pickup of mails from collection boxes will be limited to the collection boxes in front of the Post Office and adjacent island, only, at 12:00 noon.

Special Delivery service will be provided on both holidays. "On these holidays certain postal activities are annulled, as has been done on past holidays, so that the maximum number of employees will be able to enjoy these holidays with their families," the Postmaster added.

Regional Vocational School To Cost Town $76,263.28 For 1970 Budget Assessment

The final operating and capital budget for the Northeast Metropolitan Regional Vocational School for 1970 in the amount of $1,092,597.15 has been submitted to the city and town treasurers of the 12 member communities, according to District Treasurer Anthony C. Moschella.

Winchester's share of the 1970 regional school budget amounts to $76,263.28, which includes the cost of operating the school from the anticipated opening date next September, as well as the annual debt retirement for capital outlay.

Reimbursements from the State are made on 50 per cent of the operating budget and 40 per cent of the capital budget, with the federal government reimbursing 10 per cent of the capital budget, also.

Transportation costs in the regional budget are 100 per cent reimbursable by the State.

In addition to this aid, the individual cities and towns can anticipate the second payment of the 15 per cent additional aid under Chapter 779, for which they are eligible merely for participating in the regional school project.

The operating budget for 1970 amounts to $807,517.15, while the capital budget totals $285,080 for the total budget figure of $1,092,597.15. Each of the 12 cities and towns are assessed for a proportionate share of the operating and capital costs on the basis of pupil enrollment from grades nine through 12 for the preceding year.

Assessments

Assessments for the cities and towns for the 1970 Regional School budget are as follows:

Chelsea, $71,074.38 based on a contribution percentage of 6.56.

Malden, $146,845.05 based on a contribution percentage of 13.44.

Melrose, $110,133.79 based on a contribution percentage of 10.08.

Revere, $112,537.51 based on a contribution percentage of 10.30.

Woburn, $124,446.81 based on a contribution percentage of 11.39.

North Reading, $42,392.78 based on a contribution percentage of 3.88.

Reading, $82,272.57 based on a contribution percentage of 7.53.

Saugus, $91,341.12 based on a contribution percentage of 8.36.

Stoneham, $78,557.73 based on a contribution percentage of 7.19.

Wakefield, $95,492.99 based on a contribution percentage of 8.74.

Winchester, $76,263.28 based on a contribution percentage of 6.98.

Winthrop, $60,639.14 based on a contribution percentage of 5.55.

The percentage of contribution is formulated on the student enrollment for grades nine through 12.

First Payment

The first payment of Chapter 779 aid was included in the 1969 Cherry Sheet figures of State revenue to cities and towns, and in most instances completely wiped out the contributions of member communities in the regional school project for the previous five years.

In a few instances, the additional State aid amounted to the total contributions of the communities for the previous three years.

Winchester's 1969 additional reimbursement was $38,308.49, and a similar amount is anticipated in the 1970 Cherry Sheet figures.

According to the terms of the agreement which binds the 12 communities together in the regional vocational school district, the budget must be presented to the member communities in December to allow proportionate shares to be included in the local budgets.

The $5.9 million co-educational regional school, now under construction on a 60-acre site in Wakefield on land formerly part of the MDC's Breakheart Reservation, is about 80 per cent completed. It will open next September, offering 26 vocational and technical courses with a student capacity of 1,200, according to Superintendent-Director Douglas J. Tilley.

The Downings have six children: Edward T. Jr., 20; Mark J., 18; Jeanne A., 14; Steven R., 12; David S., 8; and Darcey E., 5.

The patent number is 3,444,429.

E. T. Downing Is Awarded Tube Patent

Edward T. Downing of 20 Squire Road, a Raytheon Company engineer, is the inventor under a recent patent assigned to the company of an improved internal structure for microwave tubes.

The magnetic air gap of the new structure is less than that for conventional structures and appreciable savings in weight and size of the overall oscillator result. Smaller, lighter oscillators are important in such applications as man-pack radar and certain radar beacons.

With the company 23 years, Mr. Downing is presently manager of product assurance in Raytheon's power tube operation. Previously, he held a series of engineering and management positions including manager of the magnetron engineering department.

Mr. Downing holds a bachelor's degree from Harvard University and a master's degree from Boston University.

He is a member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers and of Sigma Xi, national honorary society for electrical engineering.

He holds seven other patents in the field of microwave tubes. His wife is the former Mona A. Connelly of Portage, Pennsylvania.

The Downings have six children: Edward T. Jr., 20; Mark J., 18; Jeanne A., 14; Steven R., 12; David S., 8; and Darcey E., 5.

The patent number is 3,444,429.

Schools Target Of Two Breaks Over Weekend

Police have investigated entries at two of Winchester's secondary schools over the past weekend.

Known to be missing from the main office of Lynch Junior High School are three typewriters and one photo copier. Nothing has been reported as missing from any area other than the main office at this time.

Officer Kevin P. Mawn responded to the call of Principal Gardner W. Handy on Friday, December 19. Together with head custodian Vernon F. Phinney, they went over the building but were not able to find any sign of forced entry. According to the police report filed, a key may have been used to gain entrance.

On Saturday morning, December 20, Lawrence J. Kean, head custodian at the Senior High School, reported that entry had been gained to the building.

Board Of Selectmen Hears Town Meeting Articles

The Board of Selectmen at its regular meeting Monday night in the Town Hall heard a report prepared by Town Engineer Howard Ambrose on street layouts and possible plans for inclusion of an article in the warrant for the 1970 Annual Town Meeting regarding streets.

Streets being considered by the Board of Selectmen for inclusion in the warrant are Bates, Churchill and Sunset Roads, and River Street. The Board withheld a decision on the status of the streets pending the holding of a public hearing. By law, such hearing must be held at least 30 days prior to the Town Meeting.

No date was set by the Board for the public hearing.

The Board also noted that articles have been submitted by the Highway Department for Chapter 768 funds; by the Board of Health for continuation of the mosquito control program; by the School Department for rental of additional portable classrooms to be used to relieve overcrowding at the high school, for renaming of Marycliff Academy and for a report on the possible purchase of school buses; and by the Finance Committee to appropriate additional funds to reduce the tax levy.

The Board also discussed with its Executive Secretary, Edward Donnelly, a plan to have the Board meet with the committees appointed by the 1969 Annual Town Meeting for progress reports on the committees' work, prior to the time of the Annual Town Meeting.

Waive Appeal

A statement waiving appeal of their exam grades from the four police officers who took the Civil Service exam for police chief was noted.

The men who took the exam, and the order of their grades were, Lt. Edward Bowler, first; Lt. Andrew Crawford, second; Sgt.

Campus Plan Is Approved; Budget Review Continued By School Committee

Announcement was made at the Monday night meeting of the Winchester School Committee of the approval by the State Department of Education of the Town's participation in an open campus plan at the Senior High School.

Four other towns were also given the department's sanction for use of this program, those of Falmouth, East Longmeadow, Brookline and Mattapan. A twin pilot system is being established between Winchester and Falmouth, Superintendent of Schools Dr. Donald A. Klemmer informed.

Activities scheduled to correspond with the students' open class periods include three courses being offered by Winchester churches. A conference room in the Public Library will also be opened for use.

Requesting that those acting in the program "repay the confidence" of the School Committee and the administration, Dr. Klemmer predicted that the "novelty" of being free to leave the school grounds during the school day would probably wear off.

Committee members expressed concern that precautions be taken that signatures on parental permission slips are valid. Care should also be taken, they feel, that the slips be clearly worded so that parents understand that the School Committee is absolved of liability for students participating in the program when they leave school property during the school day.

Vincent E. Larocco, an assistant principal at the Senior High School, informed them that consideration is being given to having a requirement that both parent and student appear at the school for the signing of the permission slip.

Budgets

Conclusion of the discussion of the Athletic Budget was deferred until the final receipts can be prepared. However, William F. Clark, assistant superintendent for administrative services, noted that at this time it did not appear that there would be enough funds in this area to allow the purchase of jackets for the football squad, a request entertained at a previous School Committee meeting.

Reviewing the sums recommended by the administration in the Other Expenses Budget, an increase is to be anticipated. Comparing totals, the amount budgeted for 1969 was $668,930, while the amount requested for 1970 is $791,355. These sums are subject to much revision before their presentation to the Town Meeting in March.

Within the Supplies and Materials portion of this budget, the most substantial increases occur in educational supplies and audiovisual supplies, while books for pupils have declined. Explaining this fluctuation, Mr. Clark stated that the area covering pupils' textbooks basically included only replacements, while educational supplies now encompassed "new adoptions," as well as those things previously budgeted here.

Under Contractual Services, transportation showed an increase due to the corresponding rise in renting busses per day. Repairs for buildings and grounds and printing and stationary are also expected to require more funds.

Evaluation

Due to the impending evaluation of Muraco School, the professional services portion of Contractual Services showed an abrupt rise. Committee member Paul R. Del Rossi, considering the proposed budgeted sum of $15,000, felt that a more realistic figure for this project, as carried out by a professional firm, would be $38,000 to $40,000.

The third area of Contractual Services, current charges, is expected to require a higher percentage of funds because of the use of portable classrooms. The recommendation of the administration is that the three portable classrooms now at Mystic School be transferred to the Senior High School and that two additional ones be leased, also for use at the High School.

Making general budget comments, Superintendent Klemmer said that the Other Expenses Budget reflects overall the maintenance of existing programs, with few new ones being implemented. He also noted that a one per cent rise in the school population, all at the secondary level, is anticipated for the fall of 1970.

Questioning the need to continue the maintenance of all existing projects, Mr. Del Rossi termed this method as "pacifying" school needs. He seemed to express a desire to establish clearer priorities among the educational programs.

Personnel matters were also taken up in other business.

The teaching time of Mrs. Elizabeth T. McDonough at Muraco School has been increased from one-half to three-fifths. While Mrs. McDonough instructs a full morning session, this will free Assistant Principal Lawrence F. Hojo to devote his entire morning to administrative matters and teach in the afternoon.

Dr. Ashton Is Regional Comm. Appointee

Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans announces the appointment of David J. Ashton of 22 Myrtle Street, professor of international business and international curriculum coordinator at the Boston University College of Business Administration, to the New England Council on Export Expansion.

DAVID J. ASHTON

Upon the urging of President Nixon to materially step up the nation's exports, the Cabinet Committee on Export Expansion set an export goal of $50 billion to be achieved by 1973. This compares with exports totaling $34 billion in 1968.

The New England Council on Export Expansion is one of 42 Regional Councils established by Secretary Stans to work in close cooperation with Department of Commerce field officers throughout the country in the development of programs to achieve the ambitious 1973 export goal.

Dr. Ashton also is vice president of the Association for Education in International Business, and serves as vice president and director of the International Center of New England, Inc. And as chairman of its National Trade Policy Committee.

Obituaries

Donald E. Cameron

Donald E. Cameron of England, husband of Mrs. Jennie (Burnham) Cameron, formerly of Winchester, died suddenly on Tuesday, December 16, after a brief illness at his home in Kirby Muxloe. He was 67.

While officiating in the Rotary International Centenary celebration of the landing of the Mayflower in Plymouth, he was stricken seriously ill and hospitalized at Jordan Hospital in Plymouth. During recuperation he visited with family in Winchester, Mr. and Mrs. David Burnham of 23 Indian Hill Road and with Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon B. Burnham of Stoneham and Hillsdale, New York.

Born in Leicester, England, December 15, 1902, he was a graduate of Oxford University. He was employed with Bostik Ltd., Leicester, a chemical firm, of which he was managing director for many years prior to his retirement two years ago.

Very active in Rotary affairs and in his suburban Parish Church in Kirby Muxloe, Mr. Cameron was also Lay Canon of Leicester Cathedral.

Besides his wife and her relations, he leaves two sons, Fergus D. Cameron and Ewen C. Cameron, both in England, and both of whom attended Winchester High School while staying with their mother's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Burnham of Winchester during World War II; a cousin, Thomas Meakin of Marblehead; and seven grandchildren.

Family services were held at Kirby Muxloe Parish Church on Monday, December 22. Interment was on Tuesday, December 23, from Leicester Cathedral.

Harry A. McGrath

Harry A. McGrath of Andover, a resident of Rangeley Ridge until last week, died Tuesday at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, Boston, after a brief illness. He was 72.

A resident of Winchester for 44 years, Mr. McGrath was born in Cambridge, April 22, 1897, and educated in the Cambridge schools. He was the husband of the late Julia (Coakley) McGrath.

Proprietor of the brokerage firm of Rigby, McGrath and Company of Boston, he was a member of the Winchester Country Club, the Algonquin Club, the Charitable Irish Society, the Million Dollar Round Table, the Winchester Lodge of Elks of which he was a Past Exalted Ruler and a Past District Deputy, and the Winchester American Legion Post.

He leaves three daughters, Mrs. Henry B. Harkins (Mary) of Alice, Texas, Mrs. William E. McDonald III (Claire) and Miss Jean A. McGrath, both of Winchester; a sister, Mrs. Ora Mullen of Boston, and 10 grandchildren. He was also the father of the late Harry A. McGrath Jr.

The funeral Mass will be held at St. Mary's Church, Saturday at 10 a.m. Interment will be in Wildwood Cemetery. Lane Funeral Home, 760 Main Street, is in charge of arrangements.

Safety Record Earns Winchester National Award

The Massachusetts Division of the American Automobile Association presented a special National Safety Citation Award to Winchester December 18 for four years without a pedestrian fatality.

Presentation of the national award plaque was made in the police station by Richard W. Hoover, safety director for AAA's Massachusetts Division. Accepting the award for Winchester were Chief of Police Joseph J. Derro, Police Safety Officer Roland J. Roy, and Selectman Edmund A. Williams. "Winchester should be especially proud of its record of no pedestrian deaths from 1965 through 1968," Mr. Hoover said. "AAA congratulates the police and town officials of Winchester who helped the town achieve such an outstanding showing in a national competition with 666 similar communities across the country."

AAA selects pedestrian program winners through a nationally prominent board of judges on the basis of reports submitted by states and their various communities. Triple-A started the program in 1937, and since that time pedestrian deaths have been cut one-third while other traffic fatalities have increased more than two-thirds.

Nature Notes

The fur trade of today has come a long way from the early beaver trappers of history. But the modern day movement to discourage "mildly" from buying furs made from tiger or leopard pelts is the cause for reminiscence.

It wasn't too many years ago that social leaders set the fashion with coats of Alaskan sable or black marten—furs which were in fact made from the pelts of the common striped skunk! The true nature of the fur was generally exposed by a rain storm, however, and was no longer a secret.

The skunk was not the only animal so maligned. The soft and beautiful American sable is actually our native marten—the true sable being nothing more than a larger marten found only in Siberia.

Ermine may be the true ermine or the winter color phase of the long tail weasel or least weasel. All, however, are members of the weasel family.

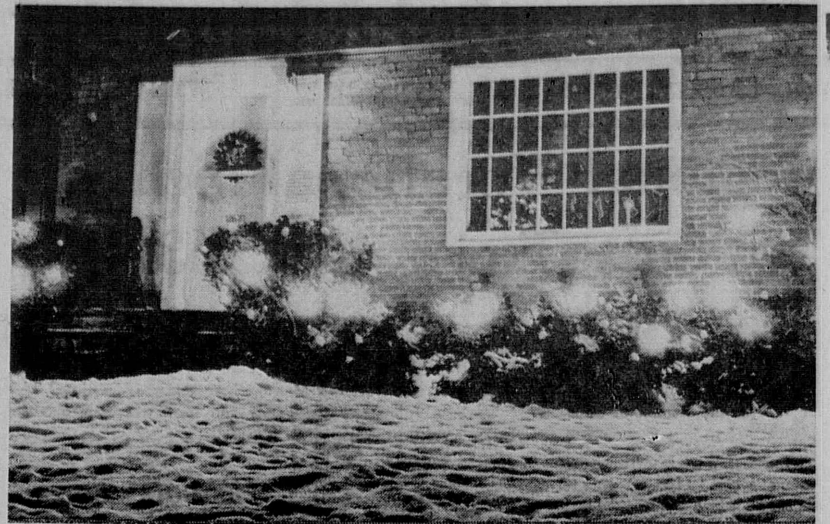

Badger fur was not considered durable enough for use in coats, but was used in the manufacture of shaving brushes while the white-tipped hairs were combined with other furs and peddled under the name of silver fox.

The true silver fox and black fox are in reality a color phase of the common red fox.

Marsh rabbit, marsh hare and Hudson seal are nothing more than counterfeit names for the common muskrat! One can buy mink-dyed muskrat or pelts which have been sheared and dyed and given the name Hudson seal.

In the year 1944, the legislature of Louisiana passed a bill which officially changed the name of the muskrat to the marsh hare, which would seem to make it legal in that state at least. And yet, does a rose by any other name make it a daisy?

ALA Urges Drivers Not To Drink

The Automobile Legal Association has urged America's motorists to "speak out" during the Christmas - New Year's holiday season.

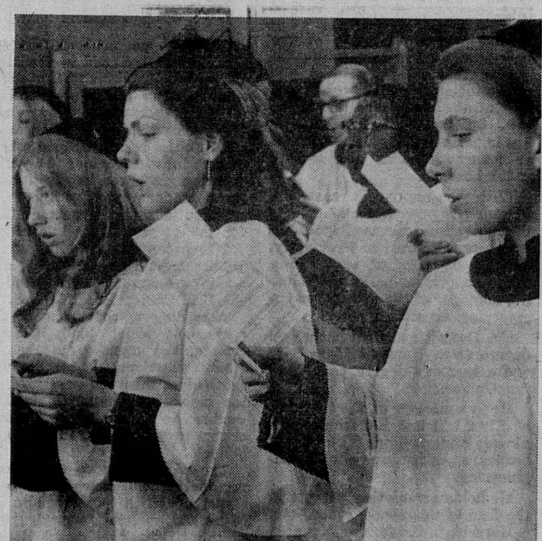

Philip C. Wallwork, ALA safety director, said, "the key words should be, 'No, thanks. I'm driving.'"

Mr. Wallwork noted that various studies indicated that about half of all traffic fatalities involved excessive drinking and the number of highway deaths continues to rise each year.

"With the traditional partying during the holiday season, many drivers are faced with a difficult decision — to drink or not to drink. In far too many cases, the results of the decision will appear in the next day's news accounts of the latest highway deaths," he said.

"The ALA hopes that each motorist will think twice when offered drinks by an overzealous host and that he speaks out and says, 'No, thanks. I'm driving.'"

Hills-Smith

In an 11 a.m. ceremony on Saturday, December 20, in the Church of the Epiphany, Miss Marion Cooper Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanford Smith of New York City, New York, was married to Jeffrey Ross Hills, son of Arthur R. Hills of 24 Cabot Street and the late Mrs. Hills.

Officiating at the service was the Rev. John Bishop. A reception followed at the Sheraton Lexington Motor Inn.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a white silk floor-length surrah trimmed at the neck and hemlines with white jeweled braid. Her chapel-length veil of white illusion tulle fell from a white jeweled Renaissance cap. The bridal bouquet, arranged in a curved spray, was composed of white gardenias and Christmas greens.

Serving as maid of honor and as matron of honor for their sister were Miss Lucinda L. Smith of New York City and Mrs. Peter Wallace of Augusta, Georgia, respectively. Bridesmaid was Miss Lawson Prince of Frametown, New Hampshire.

Their gowns were fashioned with a Christmas pink silk crepe skirt, white satin bodice and draped sash. Christmas holly formed their headpieces, while scarlet-splashed carnations made up the spray bouquet of each.

Having the honor of best man was McEwen Perkins of Essex, Connecticut. Ushers were Gerald H. Hills of Lebanon, New Hampshire, and A. Michael Hills of Winchester, both brothers of the bridegroom.

The bride is a graduate of Wells College, Aurora, New York.

Mr. Hills was graduated from St. Mark's School and Dartmouth College. He is presently a student at the Amos Tuck School of Business Administration in Hanover, New Hampshire.

The couple intend to reside in Plainfield, New Hampshire.

Miss Cannon To Marry Mr. Brooks

Mr. and Mrs. Willard S. Cannon Jr. of 37 Wedgemere Avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy, to Arthur Joseph Brooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Brooks of Belmont.

A March, 1970, wedding is planned.

MISS NANCY CANNON

A graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1966, Miss Cannon was also graduated in 1969 from the Northeastern University School of Nursing.

Her fiancé was graduated from the Belmont Hill School in 1962 and from Rutgers University in 1966. He is a First Lieutenant, U.S. Marine Corps (Retired). Mr. Brooks attended the International Marketing Institute, and the British-American and Multinational Management Programs at Harvard University, 1968 and 1969. He is presently in his first year at Harvard Business School.

The wedding is planned for June 13, 1970.

Mrs. Young Celebrates 100th Year

Mrs. George L. (Lillian G.) Young of 7 Ravine Road joined the ranks of Winchester's century citizens on Tuesday, December 16, when she celebrated her 100th year.

Friends and relatives gathered at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clarence R. Fay of 7 Ravine Road, to acknowledge the occasion. Mrs. Young is an avid Red Sox fan and is interested in current affairs.

Among those present were a daughter, Miss C. Valma Young of Cotuit; her grandson, Gordon R. Fay, and his wife Susan; and her great-grandson, Gordon Bruce of the fourth generation.

Mrs. Young received many beautiful flowers, gifts and cards.

Hill-Wardwell

On Sunday afternoon, December 21, the marriage of Miss Pamela Nickerson Wardwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David S. Wardwell of 39 Lorena Road, and Bruce Watten Hill of Pioneer, Ohio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Hill of Jaffrey, New Hampshire, was held in the Unitarian Church.

MRS. BRUCE W. HILL

The ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Jack Zoerheide with a reception following in the church. The bride was escorted down the aisle by her father wearing a white brushed satin gown with empire waist and a full, attached train. Lace formed the sleeves and trimmed the neckline. Her cathedral-length veil was edged with matching lace. Pink and white roses composed the bridal bouquet.

Maid of honor was Miss Beverly Tarbell of 16 Winslow Road. She chose a fiesta pink velvet gown styled with long sleeves, a mandarin collar and an empire waist. White lace accented the wrists and neckline. She carried a bouquet of pink and white roses, carnations and ivy.

Attired as the maid of honor were the bridesmaids, Miss Barbara Ferguson of Meadville, Pennsylvania; Miss Beth Keebler of Madison, Wisconsin; Miss Jodie Flynn of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; and Miss Ginger Suggs of Annapolis.

Best man was Richard Hill of Jaffrey, brother of the bridegroom. Sharing the duties of ushers were Bruce Hill and Mike Reddy, both of Jaffrey; and Peter Wardwell and Stephen Wardwell, both of Winchester, both brothers of the bride.

In charge of the guest book was Miss Nancy Udyke of Westfield, New Jersey.

Mrs. Wardwell chose a silver brocade ensemble, highlighted with light blue and green, with blue accessories. The mother of the bridegroom wore a dark green velvet long-sleeved dress with a mink hat.

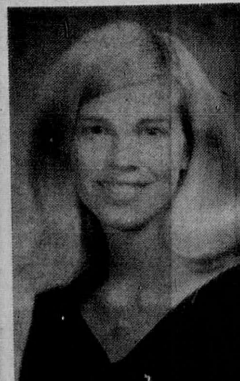

A graduate of Winchester High School, the bride received her degree from Heidelberg College, where she was a member of Delta Sigma Chi sorority.

Mr. Hill, a member of Sigma Tau Nu fraternity, is an instrumental music instructor at Heidelberg College.

The couple will reside in Pioneer.

Miss Scrivens Engaged To Mr. Emery

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace G. Scrivens of Woburn announce the engagement of their daughter, Judith Ann, to Richard Alan Emery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar R. Emery of 23 Canterbury Road.

Mr. Emery is a 1967 graduate of Winchester High School and is a junior at Boston University majoring in psychology. He is also a member of the Air Force ROTC.

A wedding is being planned for July 18, 1970.

McCarthy- Daniels

Miss Geraldine Louise Daniels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Daniels of 8 Taft Drive, became the bride of Gilbert John McCarthy, son of Mrs. John (Lane) McCarthy of Arlington and the late Dr. McCarthy, in St. Eulalia's Church recently.

The Rev. Allan Roche, the bridegroom's uncle, performed the ceremony. The Mass was celebrated by the Rev. Joseph Valenti. A reception followed at Montvale Plaza.

The bride wore an A-line dress of French faille with crystal and pearl beading trimming the bodice, sleeves and skirt. A matching Tiffany crown held her silk illusion veil in place. She carried white roses and stephanotis tipped with purple.

Miss Maureen O'Brien of West Medford was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Teresa Oliver of Waltham; Miss Barbara Donnelly and Miss Kay Donnelly, both of Brockton; Miss Pam Belanger of Avon; and Miss Karen Tobin of Roxbury. The bride's sister, Miss Barbara Daniels, served as flower girl.

Gregory McCarthy of Pennsylvania acted as best man for his brother. Ushers were Thomas Mullins of Cambridge; Joseph D'Ambrósio of Lexington; Rusty Pelham of Pennsylvania; Arthur Daniels of Winchester, brother of the bride; and Hank Baldwin of Arlington. The bride attended Boston State College. Mr. McCarthy is a graduate of Stonehill College.

The couple spent their wedding trip in Montego Bay, Jamaica.

Miss Bandzin, Mr. Crocker To Wed

the holiday season is for giving... ...and living

The holiday season is normally a time for the giving of gifts, for peace and good will. But statistics show that the period from Thanksgiving through New Year's is the most dangerous driving season of the year. Inclement weather accounts for a major part of the accidents that occur, but the lack of caution on the part of drivers is also a contributing factor.

Assure yourself and your family of a happy holiday this year. Give gifts at home—not lives on the highway.

BOOK REVIEW

by Enid G. Houlding

Winchester Public Library

A PROPER JOB

by Brian Aherne

For easy and entertaining Christmas reading, Brian Aherne's autobiography is a winner. His forward on language and spelling appeals in particular to this British-born reviewer. Part is quoted below:

"The Englishman who, like myself, resides in the U.S.A. for a long time, makes an effort to compromise this difficulty and finally comes to feel that he is linguistically suspended halfway across the Atlantic, suspect on both sides. I have therefore not attempted to adopt, in the following narrative, either English or American idiom. The resulting confusion is an indication of the state of my mind, where nationality is concerned. All I can say is that I regard myself as an Anglo-American."

Born in the beautiful countryside of Worcester-shire, the second son of his parents who would have preferred a girl in this instance, he was brought up for his first ten years mostly by his maternal grandmother. His mother was interested in the theatre all her life and pushed Brian towards the stage at an early age. Like many famous actors, he was in one of the West End productions of "Where the Rainbow Ends," a play for children "which Miss Conti produced annually for Sir Charles Hawtreys, the famous actor-manager."

"An unpleasant youth with large ears, too much assurance, and the name of Noel Coward, played William the Pageboy. Noel claims that he can only have been four years older than I, and that he cannot remember me, but I remember him all right. I sent my cherished autograph book in to Owen and Carew, who signed it, but the page was ruined for me by a large and unwanted 'Noel Coward,' scrawled across it. I wish I could find it now."

Mr. Aherne was an actor both on the British stage and in a touring company which went to Australia. He returned to London from that continent via Hawaii, San Francisco and New York.

He tells very simply of his tragic love affair with Claire Eames, who died too young.

There are many anecdotes of famous people in this book — those concerned both in his stage and in his film career. For example — "I can never understand," said Kipling to me, "how it is that my little verse 'If' has become a sort of tract that people hang on the bathroom wall, for actually I wrote it in admiration of the life of George Washington."

In his later life, Mr. Aherne turned to the land and farming after a couple of successful years found that the weather could do unpredictable things to a grape-farmer and in the end was compelled by his monetary losses to sell all but the small adobe house on his property. He now lives in Switzerland with his wife, Eleanor, and makes only infrequent, nostalgic visits to his desert property.

A very pleasant personality emerges from these pages.

Letters to the editor

Objects To Peace Symbol

Editor of the Star:

In a recent issue a reference was made to "the international symbol of peace."

Perhaps a word of clarification on this "symbol of peace" is in order, if you will permit me.

According to "The Book of Signs" by Rudolph Koch, this symbol has been used since the middle ages by those who oppose Christ. It stands for the Broken Cross and is the sign of the anti-Christ. Generally, the wearers of the Broken Cross demonstrate in both word and action that they represent Satan's hand of followers.

Naturally, communists and fellow-travelers promote this sign as widely as they can. As "Masters Of Deceit" they (the communists) don't call it the symbol of the anti-Christ or of Satan. That just might wake up too many people. What do they call it? Why, "The Symbol of Peace," of course! Doesn't that sound wonderful?

And yet have you noticed that its wearers, those bearded pickets for "Peace," seem to have never found peace within themselves? They are restless, self-centered and intolerant of others. They seem to lack any moral foundations or any tangible goals for the future.

"Peace" whines the campus liberal.

"Peace" cries the socialist minister.

"Peace" screams the hippy, the beatnik, the Socialist professor, and the communist organizer. Everywhere the cry of "Peace" is heard. There are "peace" signs made with the hand and "peace" signs made with the pen.

Certainly one of the most frequently used words in the Communist "Daily World" is the word "peace." Communists and their friends use it for deception. Communist "peace" is not what is generally meant. What the Communists and their friends mean by "peace" is the absence of all resistance to their programs. Anti-communists who fight their programs here in America, are, according to them, opposed to "peace."

Briefly, in conclusion, I would hardly think that "the international symbol of peace" is appropriate for this season of "peace on earth, goodwill to men."

Respectfully yours,
Rupert W. Kuglin.

Ed. Note: "The Book of Signs," by Rudolph Koch (First Edition Club of London, 1930) makes no reference to the Broken Cross or Chevron Cross as the sign of the anti-Christ. Professor Koch's illustration of the Broken Cross (page 10) bears no resemblance to the international peace symbol. The Broken Cross appears as an upside-down cross with a horizontal line across the right leg to form a cross. Furthermore, according to the Flag Research Center of Lexington, who quote a dissertation by Arnold Rabbow in 1966: "The 'peace symbol' was created in February 1958 in England by Gerald Holtom for use by the marchers to Aldermaston. At that time it was specifically a symbol for unilateral nuclear disarmament. . . he took the position in which the arms are held when semaphore flags are used to send the letters N (nuclear) D (disarmament) . . ."

Christmas '1969'

Editor of the Star:

On this Christmas Day we see, Hope for Peace, there can be. Service men, here and away, Give special thanks, This Christmas Day. Our fighting men over in Nam, Wish the world were bright and calm. They tremble at the sound of guns, To them a war is not much away. They think of home, miles away. What'll be like, this Christmas Day. Loved ones gathering under the tree, And all alone, he seems to be. Letters arrive, and packages come too, And all the time, he's thinking of you. A little tree so lovely and green, To him it seems like a dream. The one thing missing, so snow so white, Upon the ground, on Christmas night. But in the jungle, there is no snow. Only fighting, where he must go. A future to him, sometimes looks good, You know he'd be home, if he could. It won't be long, till he's home to stay, Where he'll spend many Christmas Days. Until that day, just pray for peace, That this one war, will finally cease. Our country will then be better you'll see, Then homeward bound, our soldiers will be.

Praises Teen Who Contributed

Editor of the Star:

Today December 18, we received in the mail a rather unusual package with a rather wonderful letter. The package contained five pairs of hand knitted mittens of five different sizes and colors. Also there was a knitted scarf and a hand made quilted skirt.

The following letter was enclosed:

"Dear Sister,

"I visited Marycliff Center on the day of Open House and learned of all you do for the poor. I then decided that I too would do something for them at Xmas. I made everything enclosed myself (hardly perfect) and I am sending them to you, trusting that you will distribute them to those in need. I would have liked sending much more but I'm only a teen-ager and my scanty spending money disappears in thin air? Oh well, I wish you and all the Sisters a very Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

"Sincerely,
"A Friend"

It seemed to me that this was the kind of teen age news that should reach the public, at this time of vandalism and violence.

Sincerely,
Sister Winifred Behlen RCE

Thanks Town For Funds

Editor of the Star:

I would like to express my thanks to you for your very commendable editorial of December 11, 1969. The boys and girls who were out collecting Sunday the 14th for our championship football team were warmly welcomed in almost every case. I know a great deal of it was undoubtedly because of the explicitness of your editorial.

The people of Winchester are to be congratulated for their generous reaction. May I express my thanks to them through you and wish them all the season's best.

Sincerely,
Tom Keating, Chairman
Winchester High Football Fund

AMVETS Leader Praises Voters For Support

AMVETS State Commander John H. Harold of Dorchester had high praise recently for the "enlightened electorate of Massachusetts" for the "support they accorded our fighting men in southeast Asia."

Cdr. Harold said Massachusetts has 2.8 million voters but "anti-veteran" elements were unable to obtain even 62,000 valid signatures on an initiative petition designed to eliminate veteran's preference.

"The total elimination of Civil Service and its replacement by a merit system would have eliminated Viet Nam veterans from consideration for state employment," said Mr. Harold. "These people claimed they obtained sufficient signatures but that many were not certified because of invalidations. The fact is, of course, that two other initiative petition groups also failed to file the required number of signatures. A check with many city and town clerks and election registrars indicates very few citizens did, in fact, sign the papers."

"Because of all the protests and unrest, people today are just not signing anything thrust into their hand. Then, too, let us admit the fact that many of the so-called reforms in recent years have been monumental failures. It is to the everlasting credit of the vast majority of the citizens of this great Commonwealth that they absolutely refuse to buy this scheme in spite of prodding by professional do-gooders, certain reform elements and others."

Continuing, Cdr. Harold said the AMVETS believed the "merit system had no merit and would have wrecked havoc among 55,000 hard-working state employees. Our fighting men in Asia and those wearing the uniform in other far off areas can return to Massachusetts knowing that the same employment opportunities will be available to them as were available to other war veterans. This is as it should be!"

James Timberlake Is Appointed Vice President

James T. Timberlake of Westford, son of Mrs. Ralph M. Timberlake of 67 Wildwood Street, has been appointed vice president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, Frank E. Morris, Reserve Bank president announced recently.

Effective January 1, Mr. Timberlake will be directly responsible for the banking and public service activities of the bank, Mr. Morris said.

JAMES T. TIMBERLAKE

A native of Dalton, Mr. Timberlake attended the Belmont public schools and received a bachelor of science degree from the University of Massachusetts. He has done graduate work in economics and finance at the University of Massachusetts, Cornell, and Boston University, and recently completed graduate studies at Rutgers' Stoner Graduate School of Banking.

Formerly an assistant professor on the University of Massachusetts faculty, he directed agricultural relations for a major New England feed manufacturing firm, was associated with the New England Council in developing a regional agricultural marketing program, and served as president of a small manufacturing and wholesale distributing company prior to joining the bank in 1963. He was named assistant vice president in charge of public services in 1969.

Mr. Timberlake is the New England representative on the Federal Reserve System's Committee on Education and Publications, and is a member of the Council for Basic Education. He is the author of several publications dealing with finance, the payments mechanism and economic education, and is currently editor of the bank's agricultural finance newsletter.

Active in both school and municipal affairs in Westford, he was a member of the town's Police-Fire Station Site Committee, and is currently a member of the Police-Fire Station Building Committee. He is a trustee and the treasurer of the New England Agricultural Industry Foundation, and a member of a number of conservation organizations, including the Wilderness Society, the National Wildlife Federation, the Massachusetts Audubon Society, and the Society for the Preservation of New Hampshire Forests.

Rotary News

Rotary President Al Hovanessian found the recent meeting a good opportunity for the presentation of some gifts to the hard-working "trustee" of the Rotary Barn, Sid Elliott, a coffee-maker.

To the Connoisseur of the better merchandise that Rotary picks up, Harry Chelato, went a book on antiques and curios and to the past president, Leo Boodakian, went a small statuette.

After these presentations, the Rotarians were entertained by the Winchester High School French Singing Group, Les Troubadours directed by Eleanor Thistlethwaite, music specialist of the Winchester Public Schools. Their song program included "Dominique," "Mon Vrai Destin," "C'est Mon Coeur," "Aquarius," "Noel Nouvelet," "Marche des Rois," "Un Flambeau Jeannette Isabelle," "Les Anges Dans Nos Campagnes," "Cantique de Noel."

The singers were Helen Bagdoyan, Kathy Murphy, Roberta Bacon, Anne Collins, Sally Jeffrey, Judy Snow, Gail Cresse, Martha Gaythwaite, Cheri Hanes, Steve Boodakian, Wayne Kell, Chase Whitman, Ron Cavallo, Carl Galante, Carl Fisher, David Maybury, Kevin Chandler. The soloists were Chape Whitman, Sally Jeffrey, Steve Boodakian, David Maybury, Gail Cresse, Anne Collins. The musicians were on String Bass, Michael Kennedy and Guitars, David Fidler and Bob Shannon.

This is the third year the Les Troubadours have entertained the Rotarians.

Urgent Blood Need At Peabody Sub-Center

The most recent development, and perhaps the most significant in conjunction with the Red Cross Northeast Sub-Center is the daily processing of blood into platelets at this permanent donor site.

This component has as its main attribute the treatment of hemorrhaging, with special emphasis on the need of surgical and leukemia patients. To many patients it is an essential item to the sustenance of life.

While obtaining the platelet concentrate, three additional components are derived, cryoprecipitate, plasma, packed red cells, all from the same unit of blood, thereby extending the blood supply to meet additional patient needs.

In order to make the platelet concentrate available the pint of blood must be centrifuged and processed within three hours of collection. Maximum lifetime for a unit of platelets is about forty-eight hours. For these reasons units of blood collected at the permanent donor center are the ones to be utilized for this component.

The need is for fifteen units of platelet concentrate to be processed daily at the Northeast Sub-Center in Peabody. In order to do this, and to allow for some deferred donors, there must be a minimum of twenty donors recruited each day. Therefore a recruitment schedule has been set up for each Red Cross Chapter in the region. Tuesday, December 30, is Winchester Day at Peabody, 85 Lowell Street. Your efforts to donate blood on this date will make considerable difference in the available blood supply during this crucial holiday period. Help us help the hospitalized and call Peabody Sub-Center, 531-2280 or your Winchester Chapter, 729-2300 for an appointment.

Party Honors Mrs. J. Derro On Retirement

Mrs. Joseph J. (Concetta F.) Derro of 28 Hinds Road was honored with a retirement party on November 19 by the Winchester Co-operative Bank held at the Winchester Country Club. A 25-year employee of the bank, Mrs. Derro retired as an assistant treasurer.

A graduate of Winchester High School in 1922, she began work that year for the bank as a teller-bookkeeper until 1928. In 1942, she was employed by the Hillside Co-operative Bank, Medford as a bookkeeper until 1950.

In September, 1950, Mrs. Derro returned to the Winchester Co-operative Bank and in November, 1954, was appointed assistant treasurer, the position she held at retirement on November 14 of this year.

Present at the dinner were members of the Board of Directors and past and present members of the bank's staff. Also attending were members of her family, her husband, Joseph J. Derro; her son, Joseph Derro Jr. and his wife of West Newbury; and her daughter, Mrs. Vincent (Madeline) Howard and her husband of Acton.

Included in the enjoyable evening was the receipt of many gifts from friends.

Kenilworth Residences Are Entered

Breaking and enterings were investigated at two Kenilworth Road residences on Wednesday, December 17, by Winchester police after notification of the incident by occupants of one home.

Officer David K. Richardson arrived at 1 p.m. to find the house completely ransacked, according to the report filed at police headquarters. The intruder (s) were apparently scared off by the owners' arrival.

Entrance was gained through the cellar window on the south side of the home. Footprints were found around the building, coming from the next house. At this residence, the kitchen door was found open and again the contents were well strewn about the house. A cellar window on the front side was found open here.

The occupants of the first residence reported nothing missing at this time. Senior identification officer Joseph N. Perritano was called in for fingerprinting.

A neighbor gave a description of a young man, approximately 15 or 16 years of age, seen in the area, who left Kenilworth Road and walked down Euclid Avenue toward Highland Avenue.

Garden Club Meets For Luncheon

Mrs. Deran Hinton entertained members of the Winchester Garden Club and their guests for luncheon at the Winchester Country Club on Thursday, December 18. Punch was served with Mrs. Maurice Freeman as hostess.

Mrs. Philip Wadsworth, president conducted a short business meeting and thanked the members for their generous gifts for the children at the Metropolitan State Hospital School. This is a project which has been undertaken by the club for several years, helping to bring happiness to these children during the Yuletide season.

Mrs. Maxwell McCreery reported on the Garden Club Federation's "Variations on a Christmas Theme" held December 11, 12 and 13 at Horticultural Hall. The combined efforts of the Home and Garden Club and the Winchester Garden Club to decorate a tree with natural material proved a success and won honorable mention.

Mrs. Harold Tombley spoke of the distribution of poinsettia plants to the Veterans' Hospital and urged members to volunteer to help with their projects during the year.

The meeting closed with a program of music by the "Arlington Harmonettes." It was most refreshing to listen to a group of teenage girls rendering their interpretation of many familiar tunes including a Christmas theme.

Newsy Paragraphs

The most devastating storm of 1968 occurred on May 15 when 67 different tornadoes swept through Alabama and several midwestern states, causing $36 million insured damage, says the Insurance Information Institute.

Accidents, the fourth most frequent cause of death, killed approximately 115,000 persons in the United States in 1968, says the Insurance Information Institute. On a heart disease, cancer, and strokes claimed more lives.

School Committee

Art specialist, Miss Carolyn E. Malkowski, formerly a teacher at Wyman, will now be employed for five instead of four days to travel among the elementary schools giving art instruction.

Action on an addition to the stipends for instructors in the adult education courses was deferred.

Unity and Diversity

The Committee agreed to send the statement on unity and diversity in the elementary school program back to the Superintendent for clarification. Terminology and the identification of the specifics behind such broadened words formed the major areas of misunderstanding.

In other business Eugene I. Prior made a report on the progress of the Northeast Metropolitan Regional Vocational Technical School. If the town decides to participate in this school, appropriation of the necessary funds would be the province of the Town Meeting, not the School Committee.

The administrative offices, formerly located at 15 High Street, are in the process of being transferred to the Sanborn House, a building adjacent to Marycliff Academy. The physical transfer should be accomplished before Christmas. The administration offered no date when the move would be completed.

Dr. Ashton

His recent publications include a series of studies on the status of U.S. corporate subsidiaries in Canada and a monograph commissioned by the New England Regional Commission which included the controversial recommendation that the New England states should promote their international economic relations by establishing the nation's first international business data bank.

His earlier research monograph, "The Shaping of Export Origin," was instrumental in initiating U.S. Government data-gathering programs which provided the first solid information about the impact of foreign trade on regions such as New England.

Professor Ashton is chairman of the subcommittee on education of the Massachusetts Governor's Advisory Committee on International Trade, and also serves as consultant to the National Association of Manufacturers, Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, United States-Japan Trade Council, U.S. Naval War College, and the International Executive Service Corps. (Business Peace Corps).

In other business, the Board met with members of the Park Commission to discuss future possible renovations to the Town Hall.

The Board also noted a letter from the Board of Health concerning future disposal of solid waste material. The Board of Selectmen has asked the Superintendent of Streets and the Board of Health to research further the land available for future dumping.

Common victualer licenses were granted to the Baskin-Robbins Ice Cream Store and to the Heap Big Beef restaurant. An appointment for a representative to the Metropolitan Area Planning Council to replace Harrison Chadwick whose term has expired was deferred until a later date.

The Board also noted a letter from the Town Government Study Committee regarding precinct apportionment. The study committee feels that the precincts are poorly apportioned. The Board will study the procedure used previously with respect to regrouping of the precinct lines.

In executive session, the Board met with Firefighter-Mechanic John Farrell to discuss his resignation from the Fire Department.

The Board also continued its discussion of budgets.

Breaks

According to the police report a 36 by 18 inch window in the hot house of the biology classroom at the side of the school building was removed. This was the second time in which this had occurred in the preceding two days.

Officer Kevin P. Mawn investigated. A basketball game had been held at the High School on Friday evening.

Winter Weather Driving Hints Are Provided

The recent snow flurry which deposited a thin, slippery glaze on New England roads recently resulted in a number of skidding accidents. Many drivers had not changed over to snow tires and many were not fully aware of how hazardous the roads were.

Automotive safety researchers in Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies' loss prevention department are well versed in the best methods of avoiding and controlling skids. The company, which sponsors several Skid Control Schools around the country each year, maintains an ongoing program of skid control at its research center in Hopkinton.

As a result of their experience in causes and controls of skidding, Liberty Mutual suggests two lists of reminders to help the average driver.

What to do in a skid:
1. Don't ever jam on the brakes. If you are already in a skid and panic by slamming your foot on the brake, you will only lock up the wheels and create even more trouble for yourself.

2. Do take your foot off the accelerator.

3. Do put the car into neutral (declutch if you drive a standard transmission).

4. Do countersteer (this sometimes confusing word means steer in the direction you want to go. Keep the front end of the car in front of the back end. If the rear starts to slide out to the left — steer left, and vice versa).

5. Do "pump" (also called "stab" or "fan") the brakes. You are trying to regain rolling traction and you can not if the wheels are locked. To stop the vehicle in the shortest distance, pump the brakes in timing with the dipping of the front hood.

Precautions

How To Avoid Trouble:
1. Take special caution on roads which have: leaves, moisture, snow, ice, oil or loose gravel.

2. Be sure to check your car before you get onto the road. Check your battery. Wipe your windshield and back window entirely clear of ice or snow. Check your tires for tread depth and cuts. Let your car warm up before driving off. Test your brakes while still in your driveway.

3. Tires are rated for traction. Snow tires are better than regular tires. Studded tires are better than regular snow tires, but chains are still best. Don't get a false sense of security because you use snow or studded tires, however. Skidding can occur even with the safest tires.

4. When road conditions are poor, decrease your speed and increase your following distance.

5. Be especially careful en route to work in the early morning. Frost, which usually melts in the mid-day sun, can make roads very slick on cold winter mornings.

6. Decelerate before making a turn — not when you get into it. It is harder to maintain rolling traction on a turn than on a straight road and if you have to brake on a slippery turn, you increase the chances of losing control.

7. Use low beams in heavy snowstorms. Falling snow reflects light, so if you use high beams, you will have more difficulty seeing.

8. Pump your brakes any time you have to stop — not just when you are in a skid. Pumping the brakes is the surest way to bring the car to a controlled halt.

Power Skidding

9. Accelerate slowly to avoid a power skid. If you apply too much gas starting, the rear end of the car will fishtail unpredictably and you may lose control.

10. Be more careful than ever when changing lanes on poor road conditions. Everyone needs more room when roads are slick.

11. Tires are much more likely to cut when they are wet than when they are dry. Foreign objects in the road which might not ordinarily cut your tires, may cause a flat when tires and road are wet. If you get a flat tire, pull as far off the road as you can and place a flare or reflector down the road to warn oncoming traffic.

12. When caught in heavy traffic, conserve your battery by turning off the radio. If traffic is at a dead stop and you are in the midst of a group of idle cars, you may wish to turn off your head lights, however, be sure to leave at least parking lights on.

13. When weather or road conditions are bad, don't drive unless you absolutely have to.

Medical Benefits Are Extended For Veterans

Two new medical benefits for service-disabled war veterans have been authorized in legislation approved recently by the President, the VA has announced.

The VA said that war veterans who are totally and permanently disabled from service-connected causes can now receive outpatient care at Veterans Administration hospital clinics for nonservice-connected conditions as well as for their service-connected conditions.

Outpatient care has, in the past, been available only for medical conditions that were service related. The new rule, authorized by Public Law 91-102, dated October 30, 1969, entitles the war veteran in service-connected total disability status to medical care without the need for investigation as to the exact relation of a particular condition and the service-connected disability, the VA explained.

Also approved on October 30 was Public Law 91-101 which removes the six-month time limit on providing care in private nursing homes for veterans who are hospitalized primarily for a service-connected disability. The law does not remove the six-month limit as it applies to nonservice-connected cases.

Care in private nursing homes is authorized at VA expense, only when a veteran needs continuing nursing care after he has received the maximum benefit from hospitalization in a VA hospital. Nursing care can be arranged, in most cases, closer to the veteran's home and it provides a transition period between hospital and home for the veteran, his family and his friends. Nursing home care also frees VA hospital beds for the more critically ill.

30 Retarded Children Guest Of Elks At Fifth Annual Christmas Party

The fifth annual Winchester Elks Christmas party for the retarded children of the Wrentham State School was held at the Elks Home at 375 Cambridge Street when 80 of the children, from the age of 15 to one old timer 80 years old, were guests of the local lodge. The children were furnished a fine turkey dinner, were entertained by professionals and were greeted with the love and affection of Elks members and friends as they have been at every gathering since the first Christmas party held several years ago.

The children arrived in two buses at about 11 last Sunday morning, accompanied by attendants led by director of Volunteer Services at the School, Pat Rossachi, and his loyal assistant, Mrs. Jeanne Achin, who has accompanied groups of retarded children from the school since the local Elks started this program of entertaining the inmates of the Wrentham State School.

After their dinner Eddie the Magician captivated the children with his bag of tricks which, as always, demanded audience participation. Bob Magunson, illustrator for Al Capp, further entertained the guests with his pencil wizardry. A half hour of movie cartoons was another feature the children enjoyed. There was also a dance contest with appropriate prizes for the participants, and the kids showed they are in tune with the times in their dancing.

Co-starring in the feature attraction were Bill Dailey, the Elks' perennial Santa Claus, and the Polaroid color shot of each child with Santa which the children were given as a souvenir of the occasion.

Each child was presented with a tote bag filled with toilet articles as a gift.

Because of the new quarters, the Elks this year were able to entertain about twice the number of children at this Christmas party. Many Elks and their wives helped at the party, but since it is impossible to name them all, credit will be given only to those who had the tough assignment of preparing the huge turkey dinner, namely Mickey Curtin, John Hall and George Delorey.

In addition to the annual Christmas party, the local Elks also conduct a cookout each year with appropriate outdoor festivities at Jim Henchey's Farm in Billerica. These two affairs each year now constitute the Winchester Elks principal charitable endeavor, and is one which, from its inception, has had the wholehearted support of the membership.

Last year the Winchester Lodge of Elks received a special citation from the State of Massachusetts for its work of bringing some joy into the lives of the inmates of the Wrentham State School.

BIRTHS

Roger Swanson Gets Position In New Jersey

Roger A. Swanson of New Jersey, formerly of Winchester, has been named president of Weston Instruments Division, Weston Instruments, Inc., Newark, New Jersey. Mr. John Rhodes, executive vice-president of Schlumberger Limited, parent company, made the announcement recently as part of a general re-organization to strengthen the company's growing activity in the electronics field.

ROGER A. SWANSON

Mr. Swanson replaces Charles M. Kirkland who has accepted the position as director of marketing, electronics and instrumentation, at the Schlumberger Limited headquarters in New York City.

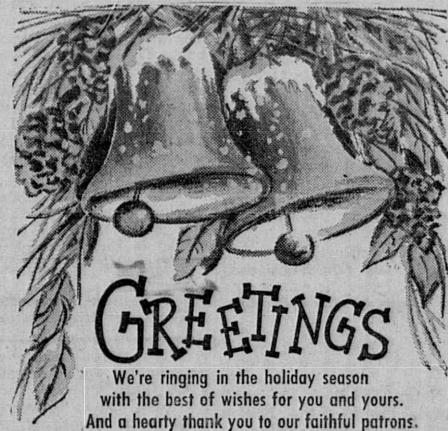

Mr. Swanson has served as director of marketing for Weston Instruments Division since July, 1968. He previously had been marketing manager for Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., Semiconductor Division at Woburn. Prior to that, he held various manufacturing and marketing management positions with the Sylvania organization.

He is a graduate of Harvard University in 1952 with a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering and received his masters degree in 1956 from the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

A native of Winchester and brother of Selectman Ralph M. Swanson of 44 Swan Road, Mr. Swanson and his family now reside in Mountainside, New Jersey.

THESE THREE PROFESSORS at Suffolk University were among 17 of the university's faculty honored recently by the General Alumni Association for more than 20 years of faithful service to the Beacon Hill University. With Miss Dorothy M. McNamara, director of alumni affairs, are, left to right, Dr. Leo Lieberman of 17 North Gateway, chairman of psychological services at Suffolk; Dr. Joseph H. Strain of Concord, dean of the evening and summer school; and John V. Colburn of Somerville, associate professor of English. The veteran professors were presented captain's chairs at a Boston reception.

Winchester Voter

The Town's Board of Assessors consists of three elected members serving overlapping three-year terms. They are supervised by the State Commission on Taxation and are salaried; the chairman of the Board receiving $3,710 and the others $2,862 each.

The function of the Board is to appraise real and personal property throughout the town and to compute the tax rate each year.

In 1966 it was decided to begin a professional town-wide equalization program, to assure that each of the almost 6500 properties in Winchester were appraised by the same fair and impartial standards. The new assessments took effect in 1968 and were viewed by the Board as a major improvement in the Town's fiscal policies. The current tax rate is $43.00 per thousand, based on a 100% evaluation.

Inspection of the voting records over the past decade reveals that election to the Board of Assessors is not usually contested. An exception was in 1968 when two men vied for the one vacancy. As might be expected, the number of votes cast rose dramatically, with a corresponding drop in the number of blanks left on the ballot: 4,337 votes, with 362 blanks, as opposed to roughly 3,000 votes cast and almost 1,000 blanks left in other years. In 1964, too, there was a contest, with similar results.

The Board of Health also consists of three elected members serving overlapping three-year terms. They are unsalaried. The Board of Health has a staff composed of the Director of Public Health, a Senior Clerk, an Inspector of Milk, an Inspector of Slaughtering and a physician.

The duties of the Board are manifold, too varied to be described here; essentially it watches over the sanitary conditions of the town and safeguards the health of the townspeople. In the process it works with the Visiting Nurse Association, the Mystic Valley Mental Health Association, the Aberjona

Watershed Commission and CON-CERN, among others.

At present two physicians and a sanitary engineer serve on the Board. In the past eight years there has never been a contest for election to the Board of Health.

The Water and Sewer Board consists of three commissioners elected to serve overlapping three-year terms. They, too, are unsalaried. They supervise the work of improving and maintaining the water mains, sewer lines and septic tanks as well as the maintenance and policing of North, South, Middle and South Reservoirs.

The department operates four pumping stations, two standpipes, three chemical treatment stations, five regulating valves and three master meters. Personnel includes a Superintendent, an Assistant, a Registrar and other employees. Since 1962 election to the Board has been contested only twice, in both cases three men vying for the one vacancy.

The chairman of each of the above committees is designated a Member at Large of the Town Meeting, under the Acts of 1928, giving him a vote at the meetings. (League of Women Voters)

Gather Tax
Records Now

With the income tax filing season almost here, get a head start on 1969 returns by getting tax records together now.

William E. Williams, district director of Internal Revenue for Massachusetts, said that cancelled checks, receipts, records of contributions, and other financial data will help prepare a more accurate 1969 Federal income tax return.

Anyone as busy as Santa's hectic helpers can err occasionally. But no problem—we'll exchange it easily, willingly, gladly. If it's the wrong size, style or color or you prefer something entirely different, just bring it back. That's our policy before or after Christmas and every day of the year!

Track Team Loses To Lexington 59-27

by John F. Parrell

The Winchester track team met one of the best balanced teams in the Middlesex League Saturday morning and came off second best to the tune of 59-27.

The Lexington speedsters gave Melrose, the all conquering team in schoolboy circles last year, their closest competition and loom right now as probable winners of the league championship.

The Minuteman squad is much smaller in numbers than usual but they make up in ability what they lack in numbers. Winchester managed only three first places with Mike Deshler in the dash, Keith Doty in the 300, and Mike Kelleher in the 600 showing in front.

The summary:
2-Mile — 1, Mabey (L); 2, Lancaster (L); 3, Abell (L). Time—10:11.7.
High Jump — 1, Mazerall (L); 2, Modono (L); 3, Deshler (W). Height—5-7.
Shot Put—1, Phelan (L); 2, Emery (W); 3, Pirani (W). Distance—41-4.

45 High Hurdles — 1, Schragle (L); 2, Hill (W); 3, McLaughlin (L). Time—6:3.
45-Dash — 1, Deshler (W); 2, Mazerall (L); 3, Curro (L). Time—5:3.
300 — 1, Doty (W); 2, Modono (L); 3, Goldstein (L). Time—33.5.
600 — 1, Kelliher (W); 2, Jackman (L); 3, Seaborne (L). Time—1:19.8.
1000 — 1, Clear (L); 2, Allard (W); 3, Jones (L). Time—2:29.6.
1-Mile — 1, Morrill (L); 2, Hartford (L); 3, Arnold (W). Time—4:39.8.
Relay — Lexington (Mazerall, Schragle, Modono, Clear. Time—2:31.8.

Sachem's Meet Wakefield In Hockey

WINCHESTER'S JACK PIERCE and Wakefield's Dan Purrington dig for loose puck in the first period of their hockey game at the Lynn Arena Saturday. (Don Young photo)

Hockey Team Opens League Season With 1-0 Win, 4-3 Loss

by John F. Parrell

Coach Ted Kelley's puck chasers opened the Middlesex League season by beating Belmont 1-0 Thursday and then dropped a heart-breaker to Wakefield on Saturday by a 4-3 margin. Action was fast in both games and the result was in doubt right up to the final second.

The Belmont game was a nip and tuck contest and play was good considering that it was the first official game for both sextets. Co-Captain Fred Cammon in the Sachem cage turned away many dangerous shots. At the other end of the rink the Winchester skaters were also unable to put the puck in the cage even though they were in close only to be denied.

Steve Troiano tallied the goal which won the game for Winchester by tipping in a long shot from Joe Campo.

In justice to the goal keeper it is only fair to point out that because of the angle of the shot and the position of the defenders he did not really see it until the last moment.

Throughout the remainder of the game Winchester could not add to its lead but the defense was very effective in helping to preserve the shutout for Cammon.

The Wakefield game was a hard one for the Sachems to lose since they were in front 3-2 with the final period over half over only to see the lead melt and then fall away in the last minute of action.

Both teams played hard fast hockey and the spectators were on the edge of their chairs from the opening faceoff.

Jim Beck for Winchester and Bob McMenimen for the Warriors registered first period goals to have the teams leave the ice at the end of the first session in a 1-1 stalemate.

The Sachems jumped into a 3-2 lead before the second period ended as Steve Troiano and Dave Manley caged the disc and Keough pumped one in for Wakefield.

Things went along smoothly through the first seven minutes of the final period with the Sachem defenders holding off all Wakefield assaults. But after 7:37 had elapsed, McMenimen poked in his second goal of the game. He will be remembered as the end who showed to such good advantage in the football game a few weeks back.

The Warriors continued to press and as the game went into its last minute Steve Purrington slipped a neat pass to Riley who rammed the deciding marker home. The Winchester crew worked hard but just could not net the equalizer and Wakefield came out on top by 4-3.

Pee Wee "B's" Down Arlington

The Winchester PeeWee B Hockey team defeated Arlington Sunday 2 to 1 to atone for an earlier defeat.

This victory enabled the hustling "B's" to move into first place with Arlington on the strength of a 7 and 1 record over the first eight games.

Jim Beaton surprised the Arlington goalie early with a quick wrist shot in the upper right corner. Jim broke in on the right side and was set up on a great Tom Romeo and Chip Hartnett combination.

Arlington came back shortly thereafter to tie the game at 1 to 1 but improved defensive play by Phil Casey kept Arlington from scoring for the rest of the first period.

The winning goal was scored by Jon Petee late in the second period when he tucked a rebound in the corner. Paul Duffy fired a blast from the right point, to get the assist, and Jon, skating in on right wing, picked it up in front and "put it home."

Cliff Falla played a tremendous game in the net and was a key figure for the "B's." Cliff "closed the door" on Arlington after the first period and saved a penalty situation with an excellent move.

Next Sunday at 4 p.m. the "B's" continue the second round of play versus Stoneham at the Bedford rink.

St. Mary's CYO Hockey In Lead

St. Mary's CYO hockey team continued its undefeated season Sunday at McHugh Forum as it downed a strong Immaculate Conception, Revere, Club by a 3-1 margin.

The game was a hard-fought battle all the way due to the excellence of John Carado in the Revere net. John was peppered by 24 shots and managed to save all but three of them.

At the six-minute mark in the first period Revere had a 1-0 lead when a shot directly from a face-off in the Winchester end eluded Cliff Falla, who was between the pipes for St. Mary's. Falla, who has been backup goalie for St. Mary's, was pressed into service when regular minder Peter Soopa developed trouble with his equipment and was unable to play.

The 11-year-old youngster gave an excellent performance and was eventually awarded the game puck by co-captains Campbell and Herlihy. However, there would have been no game puck to award if it were not for "The Old Lamplighter" Stony Jacobs, who scored all three of St. Mary's goals.

Stony's first was a skimmer that found its way under the Revere goalie as though the puck had eyes. Fifteen seconds later Mike Bonish dug the puck out of the left corner and fired it to Richie Jacobs in front of the Revere net. Richie faked Carado and passed it to his brother, who tapped it into an empty corner.

The third period saw the production line scoring again. This time it was Richie Jacobs to Mike Bonish to Stony Jacobs and again Stony blazed a shot into the Revere net.

Although the Jacobs line got all the points, the rest of the squad all played well. Tom Brennan, in particular, took three excellent turns along with his line mates Charlie Evans and Mark Siegfried.

The whole squad is waiting for these youngsters to get their first goal as they are excellent hockey players and are highly regarded by their older teammates.

Joe Martignetti, Kevin Pronski and Andy Twomey also showed their best hockey to date, but highest praise must go to defensive coach Jim MaNamara's defense corps of George Evans, Bob Ward and Captain John Campbell, Matt O'Neill and the Pierce brothers, Kevin and Ed, who already are slated as regulars for the next two seasons.

The front line of Co-Captain Herlihy, Doug Ewart and Jack Brennan played top-notch hockey and only the heroics of Carado kept this line off the scoreboard.

St. Mary's will defend its league lead when it faces off against Blessed Sacrament, Walpole, at McHugh on Saturday at noon.

Backing up on a highway or major artery is no way to get where you are going, reminds Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies. By taking a little extra time to take the next exit and circle around you have a better chance of arriving at your destination.

Hoop Team Wins Then Drops One

by John F. Parrell

Coach Vandy French's basketball team split even in their first two Middlesex League games to run their record to 2-1. The quintet, which showed good offensive power in its four scrimmages against Chelmsford, Dedham, Natick and Newton South to come out unscathed, seems to have lost its touch.

They rallied from a slow start at Watertown to finally catch the new league members in the last five minutes. The home team jumped off to a fast start by tallying 16 points in the first period to ten for the Sachems. Winchester fought back to pick up three points of the deficit and left the court trailing at the half by 28-25.

Winchester continued to gain slowly and by the end of the third period they had drawn even with Watertown 35-35. The early minutes of the fourth period the Sachems slipped back and they were trailing by three points with five minutes left. However, they rallied and finally found the range to grab a three point lead which they maintained to the final whistle.

The Lexington game was something else again as the rangy Minutemen led by sophomore Ron Lee took command from the opening whistle to build up a 14 point first period margin. This held up to the very end in spite of valiant attempts by the Sachems to trim it down. At one point they did get it down below ten but in spite of shifting defenses and assignments they never could threaten last year's undefeated Middlesex League champions.

Bob Bigelow topped all scorers with 29 points and Lee was high for Lexington with 22. However, the visitors produced a much better balance in scoring and prevailed quite handily throughout.

Hole In One Is Scored By Mike Belida

Michael (Big Mike) Belida of 36 Hemingway Street accomplished the "impossible dream" of every golfer when he scored an ace while playing at Woburn Country Club. It is all the more impressive in that Mike has been playing the links for only a little more than a year and millions have played a lifetime without experiencing the great thrill.

He dropped his tee shot into the cup on the ninth hole which is a 217 yard layout. He is being congratulated by his friends and fellow golfers for his outstanding performance.

Football Team Prepares For Trip To Florida

by John F. Parrell

Chairman Tom Keating of the committee to send the Sachem undefeated football champions to Florida has announced formal plans for the testimonial to the team. It will take the form of a trip to Miami by airplane with takeoff scheduled for 10 p.m. on Sunday night. The group is scheduled to leave the southern resort on the return flight at 10 p.m. on the night of January 2.

Funds for the trip are still somewhat short of the amount required but those in charge still have several commercial and social organizations from which they expect to hear. Cashier Charles Craver of the Winchester National Bank will accept any and all late donations.

Plans call for the team's coaches, Athletic Director Henry Knowlton and Trainer Frank Provizano to be on hand to supervise the boys and as this article is written something more than 25 players have parents' permission to go. The schedules of the winter sports teams seem to prohibit the basketballers and possibly the puck chasers from visiting the southland. Those who do not go will probably be given suitable recognition later.

The team will be quartered at the Biscayne Hotel in South Miami and will be registered there on Monday and Thursday nights. There will be a two day steamship trip to Freeport in the Bahamas in the period which lies between the hotel stays. Whether or not the team reaches the Orange Bowl is still uncertain since all efforts by the committee and various other persons who would like to arrange this as a fitting climax have fallen short as of this moment.

It should be a great thrill for those who are going and is certainly a nice reward for a fine season. The squad members who are not lettermen are expected to receive special awards for their efforts toward the team's success.

Cub Scouts 524 Hold Meeting

For the second month in a row, Den 3 has won the honor den flag. This month their uniforms and deportment brought them the award.

The Cubs all shared in the decoration of the pack Christmas tree. For the past few weeks, the boys have been making ornaments. Each boy brought his ornaments to the stage and placed them upon the tree.

"A Visit From Saint Nicholas," the perennial favorite, took on new dimension as rendered by the boys of Den 7. Placards depicting phrases and scenes from the poem were carried across the stage by each boy as the narrator recited the poem.

Allan Rogers, pack advancement chairman, presented the awards for this month. Thomas Murray and Robert Polley received Bobcat and Bear badges. Steven Black received a gold arrow while Dana Berg walked off with a gold arrow and two silver arrows.

The Webelos showed that they are still working hard for awards as Fred Murray received his outdoorsman; Michael Robinson received his aquanaut, engineer and naturalist pins.

Assistant Cubmaster, Pat Paulini reported that Pack 524 was extremely successful in its sale of safety flares. The boys sold over 760 flares.

Wooden Blocks
Den 3 displayed a collection of hand-made, hand-painted wooden blocks that the boys had made. These blocks were donated to the Winchester Relief Committee so that a needy child may enjoy a set of blocks.

The 12 points of the Scout Law was the theme of the Webelos presentation. Twelve boys recited the 12 points. Each boy presented a poster and explained in his own words that point of the Scout Law.

Cubmaster McGinty announced that the annual father and son Bowling would be held on December 13. He also announced that the next meeting, January 7, would be the Pinewood Derby. The fathers were urged to guide the cubs in their efforts to construct the cars and not actually build the cars.

A new feature will be added this year. There will be a separate race for fathers who cannot resist the urge to build their own racers.

One of the features of the evening was a skit by Den 6 which portrayed Christmas in Scandinavia. Santa's helpers, gingerbread men and reindeer danced around the tree. A surprise hit was the appearance of Asa Bjarnagard, Anders' sister, as Lucia.

An unexpected visit by Santa Claus was the highlight of the evening. The jolly old fellow arrived laden with gifts and candy. Each cub and his brothers and sisters received a present and a candy cane. This was certainly a night to remember for the younger brothers and sisters.

Winchester Youth Hockey

Winchester Youth Hockey began 1969-1970 team play last Sunday morning with the largest enrollment in its short history.

When Director Bill Crowley started this organization six years ago there were 65 boys and four teams playing. This year's enrollment includes over 240 boys and 15 teams in competition.

The Bruins opened the season with a 3-0 shutout win over the Black Hawks. Tom Belden scored unassisted for the Bruins which proved to be all the B's really needed.

Rich Jacobs and Ricky Hines were the other goal scorers for the Bruins with Pete O'Leary and Pete Monson picking up assists on Jacobs' goal while Richie set up on Hines in the third B's score.

In the second game of the morning the Flyers came from a 3-1 deficit to edge out the Blues 4-3. Leading the Flyers' attack were the Spang brothers, Charlie and Steve, as they scored three of the Flyers' four goals.

Andy Joslin got the Blues off to a quick 1-0 lead scoring unassisted at the six-minute mark. Charlie Spang tied it up for the Flyers later in the period with brother Steve and Paul Sullivan getting assists.

The Blues then struck twice within a minute with Dave Fronzillo and Charlie Deroo and the Blues had a quick 3-1 lead.

The Flyers' offense then came alive as they pumped in three goals within a two-minute span as they had the Blues wheeling from their great offensive play. The Flyers' ranger center Pete Richmond converted Tom Carr's pass for the first score to narrow the gap to 3-2.

The Spang Brothers then took over for the Flyers with Steve drilling in the tying and winning goals. Brother Charlie set up Steve for the game-tying goal while Steve scored the winner unassisted.

Jay Lannigan and Jimmy Chase led the Rangers' attack as they thumped the Maple Leafs 6-3. Lannigan had the three-goal "hat trick" for the "Broadway Blues" plus two assists while Chase had two goals and two assists to account for nine scoring points among them. Don Carey was the other lamplighter for the Rangers scoring an unassisted goal.

MAPLE LEAFS
The Maple Leafs had three different scorers as Bob McElhinney, Frank Ryan and Chip Hartnett all found the range. Joe Penta and Allyn Stillman picked up an assist apiece on two of the Leafs' goals.

In the final game of the morning, the Canadians came from a 2-0 deficit to tie the Red Wings 3-3. Steve Neergaard and Pete Corcoran both scored unassisted to give the Wings an early 2-0 lead only to have the "Flying Dutchmen" hammer home the next five goals. Mark Laughlin set up Steve Murphy for the third Red Wings goal and the Habs then pounded home three more for the 3-3 victory.

Kevin O'Neil and Jon Petee each had a pair of goals for the Canucks while Mike Sandford, Mike Beaton and Dave "The Dart" Putnam each had a pair of goals and two assists. Joe DeConto had the other goal for the Canadians along with an assist.

In the small rink the Americans came up with the only win of the morning as they defeated the Royals 6-3. Ron Coppozoli and Mike Scanlon led the attack with two goals apiece.

The Bears and the Clippers put on a great offensive show as they fought to a 5-5 tie. Bill McLean with two goals and Dave Petee, Paul Geannarris and Jim Willing scored for the Bears while Art Johns had two for the Clippers. Wayne Maggio, Charlie Coulter and Bobby Galante had the goals for the Clippers.

The Indians and the Generals played to a 2-2 stalemate in the final game of the morning. Chris Morgan and Paul Nadeau were the lamplighters for the Indians while Jon Minnehan and Jay Saliba scored for the Generals.

Among the coaches this year in the big rink are Jay O'Leary and Ted Cammon, co-captains of this year's Winchester High team. Both Jay and Ted came up through the organization as players and are now doing an outstanding job in the coaching ranks.

Also making his debut in the coaching ranks is Sandy Milley. Sandy, like Jay and Ted, has come through the ranks as a player. Sandy is captain of the Xavier High hockey team and has been a four starter at the school and always one of the leading scorers in the Catholic League.

NEW COACHES

Jimmy Beck and Dave Carter are the two new coaches this year. Jim is a two-year regular with the varsity hockey team while Dave is replacing one of the league's old timers, Bevan O'Callaghan. Bevan, who graduated from Northeastern last year, left two weeks ago for the Army but hopes to be back for the 1970-71 season. All league officials and coaches plus many of the players who profited from his fine coaching wish him the best of luck.

Duplicate Bridge Club

The holiday open house on Wednesday, December 17, celebrated the tenth anniversary year of the Winchester Duplicate Bridge Club. Founded and directed by Blair Hawley, the Club has been fortunate through the years in the many loyal members who have generously contributed to its success and to its reputation for a good friendly game of bridge.

Ruth Hagan, a member whose name appears regularly in the winners' column, displayed a different talent by creating a many-tiered masterpiece of a cake, beautifully decorated and flanked by crystal Candelabras of red candles. Peggy Cade and her helping cooks provided the accompanying nibbles for between-round visiting.

One of Winchester's fine young bridge players, Jim Bradley, directed Section A's eleven tables and the Flyers' North-South playing with Bob Fiske. East-West there were two big games; Madalyn Walworth and Anne Galpin barely edged out Lolly and Dick Smith.

Local Students Are Awarded Caps By Shepard-Gill

Miss Judith A. Errico, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Errico of 5 Tufts Road and Miss Mary Ellen Herzog, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie J. Herzog of 8 Glangarry Road were capped at the exercises of the Shepard-Gill School of Practical Nursing, Boston, on Wednesday, December 17, at the New England Life Hall, Boston.

The students were greeted by the President, Mrs. F. William Marlow, and by Miss Ethel M. Easter, R.N., executive director.

The candlelight service of awarding the cap is the first step in the 15 month course symbolizing the start of nursing care in the career of the student. During the following nine months, members of the class will continue their nursing experience in one of the affiliated hospitals—the Massachusetts General, the New England Baptist, or the Beth Israel Hospital.

in diamonds, hearts or spades, and bid East-West as an excellent sacrifice.

At our table, South chose six hearts after good pre-emptive club bidding up to the six level by East-West. The lead was the club king, as good as anything.

South ruffs the club in the dummy, discarding his diamond seven, and then takes stock. With a hand this wild, probably nothing will break, but here goes anyway.

The heart king is led and then the jack, but East shows out. You may as well get the queen out of the way, so South leads a heart to West's queen, and no matter what West leads back, six hearts makes, for the second round of spades tells you to finesse East for the jack.

On a hand like this it's fascinating to see where eleven tables played it. Three lucky East-Wests were allowed to sacrifice at six clubs, four North-Souths settled for game in diamond, hearts and spades, and four North-Souths carried on to the little slam, again in diamonds, hearts, and spades. What a hand!

Remember, the Club meets on Tuesday, December 30.

Master Charge Is Honored At Ski Areas

New England skiers find it convenient that their Master Charge bank charge card is now honored at hundreds of ski shops around New England featuring ski equipment, accessories, and clothes.

Master Charge, sponsored by the New England Bankcard Association, is honored by many of the popular ski areas. Among them are: Vermont's Mount Mansfield, Haystack, Hogback, and Bolton Valley; New Hampshire's Mount Cranmore, Wildcat, Attitash, Whittier and King Pine, and Maine's Sugarloaf Mountain.

Yoga Classes

Teachers Sing Carols

WINCHESTER PUBLIC SCHOOL TEACHERS go caroling at the Home for the Aged on Mt. Vernon Street. Miss Jeanne Loudon, center, music specialist, and her in-service training class played on Orff instruments, recorders, xylophones, glockenspiels and sang carols on Thursday, December 18. Residents of the Home heard the results of teaching teachers how to play the special instruments so that they may be able to teach their students the techniques. (Lois Carr photo)

Miss Kenney will serve as liaison between the Association, its member banks and advertising agency. She was formerly employed with the Morristown, New Jersey, firm of M. Epstein, Inc.

S.O.I. Gives Christmas Party For Orphans

On Saturday afternoon, December 20, the yellow painted private bus arrived at the Sons of Italy entrance about 1 p.m. with 38 orphan children and seven nuns from their home in Jamaica Plain.

Chairman Bob Fiore, District Deputy Ambrose Cedrone, and a four-piece musical group were on the bus to show them the way and also to help with the Christmas carol singing while rolling along. The committee greeted the children at the door and helped them off with their coats and hats and then helped them to their seats at a horseshoe-shaped group of tables.

Charles Stewart, who is "Chuckles the Clown," had the attention of the children while he did tricks with balloons. The children were treated to hot dogs, hamburgers and milk while "Chuckles the Clown" walked around the table and made each child an animal out of a balloon.

Next in line to entertain was Aron Garfield the Magician, who is a member of the Society of American Magicians. Mr. Garfield had the children mystified with his feats of magic. He had many of the boys and girls help in his magic acts which had even the committee members puzzled!

The children then had ice cream, soda and candy and were singing Christmas carols when in the front entrance walked Santa. He went around the table and greeted each child and then was seated in a chair by the Christmas tree.

As each child's name was announced he or she came up and sat on Santa's lap while Gus Baldacci took a color picture. The pictures were given to each child. The nuns were also seated on the lap of Santa and had their picture taken as a memento of this party.

Santa Claus gave each child a transistor radio and a gift of wearing apparel, such as a sweater, shirt, or blouse. The party came to an end and Santa made his way out the front door to his Apollo rocket and blasted away until next year.

The children were dressed up by the committee and helped onto the bus for the return trip to their home in Jamaica Plain.

Assistants

Many people helped to make it a successful party. The Lodge thanks Chairman Bob Fiore and his committee and the members and non-members who donated money.

A special thanks goes to Dick DeConto, who gave the committee his assistance and arranged the event and who was also on hand to help. The Lodge also thanks its District Deputy, Ambrose Cedrone, Venerable of the Newton Lodge, who made arrangements for the donation of the bus for transporting the children.

The musical group from Newton who donated their time were: John Ratta (and his driver), Tony Marino, Tony Marino Jr., and Lucius Taddio. The Lodge also thanks brother member Jerry Borsino, who portrayed the part of Santa Claus and did a wonderful job at it.

Nat Bianuzzo worked very hard over a hot stove as cook and to him the Lodge also offers thanks. To the Grand Venerable Aldo Cairo special thanks is given and also the ladies of the women's lodge who assisted on this day.

More than two million men, women and children throughout the United States received Thanksgiving and Christmas assistance from The Salvation Army last year.

"Christmas Gifts" At Bloodmobile

Winchester Chapter, American Red Cross, reports 102 persons showed up at St. Mary's Hall on December 17 to give their "extra" Christmas gift—a pint of blood. The steady appearance of donors and the efficiency of the volunteer nurses and workers resulted in a most successful bloodmobile visit.

AT A MEETING held recently in Washington, D.C., to discuss football's new television agreements were pro football commissioner Pete Rozelle, right, and Congressman Torbert H. Macdonald, chairman of the Communications Subcommittee.

Cong. Macdonald
Reviews Airing
Of Football Games

Congressman Torbert H. Macdonald met recently with pro football commissioner Pete Rozelle to discuss matters of concern shared by the professional sport and Congress.

Mr. Macdonald, whose Communications Subcommittee has jurisdiction over the telecasts of all professional sports, called the meeting "informative and very constructive."

The Congressman emphasized Mr. Rozelle's "concern for the fan" as exemplary of the great strides made by pro football in the last decade. "The Commissioner made it clear that he wants as many fans as possible to see as much good football as they want to see," Mr. Macdonald pointed out.

Commissioner Rozelle was in town to brief Mr. Macdonald, a former Harvard football great, on the terms of football's recent agreement with the American Broadcasting Company for the telecast of 13 Monday night games. He told the Communications Subcommittee chairman that he is still negotiating with CBS and NBC about "dividing" the Sunday afternoon games, a package deal worth $40 million for each of the next three years.

Mr. Macdonald and Mr. Rozelle also conferred about plans for the merger of the NFL and AFL which was authorized by Congress several years ago but which does not take effect until next season.

Sylvania Electric Gives Circuits
To Syracuse U.

The semiconductor division of Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., recently presented a supply of TTL digital integrated circuits to Syracuse University. Sylvania is a subsidiary of General Telephone and Electronics Corporation.

The integrated circuits were made available to the school's department of electrical engineering for use in student design and construction projects. Edward P. Stabler, professor of electrical engineering, explained that use of integrated circuits enables the students to obtain realistic design experience with the latest electronic components available.

Syracuse University is conducting several programs which involve the actual building of electronic prototype equipment utilizing integrated circuits and other semiconductor devices.

George B. Newell, manager of manufacturing planning and customer service for Sylvania's integrated circuit operations, made the actual presentation. Mr. Newell is an alumnus of Syracuse University. He received his bachelor's degree from the college of industrial engineering in 1950.

George E. Fogg, area sales engineer, also represented Sylvania at the ceremony. Dr. W. R. LePage, chairman of the electrical engineering department, accepted the integrated circuits for the university. He expressed appreciation to Sylvania for the gift.

Flood Of Calls Are Expected On Holiday

Most of New England Telephone's 10,000 operators will be on duty Christmas Day to help process the huge flood of calls expected on the holiday.

Local telephone manager Robert C. O'Keefe said, "There will be 96 operators working at the switchboards in Arlington on Christmas Eve, and 115 on Christmas Day. This compares with 46 on an average Sunday."

Mr. O'Keefe said last Christmas 3.75 million long distance calls were handled in New England, putting the holiday ahead of Mother's Day in number of calls.

In view of the numbers of people everywhere who will make long distance calls on Christmas Day, Mr. O'Keefe offers a few tips on calling which will help area residents.

The best time to call that day will be between 3 p.m. and 6 p.m. While many long distance calls are made throughout the day, he said, the bulk of these calls are made during the late morning hours and in the evening.

"Therefore," he said, "since fewer calls are being placed from 3 to 6 p.m., a customer's chances of having his call go through promptly and easily are excellent if he places it then."

"Customers also can avoid any heavy Christmas telephone traffic by planning to make their calls at another time during the four-day holiday weekend. Special long distance rates are in effect on Saturday and Sunday as well as on Christmas Day," Mr. O'Keefe said.

Local Y.M.C.A. Offers Variety In 1970 Classes

Beginning the week of January 5, 1970, the Melrose Y.M.C.A. will offer pre-school swimming instruction for boys and girls ages two to six.

All classes will run for eight weeks with each period 45 minutes long. During this time, the children are taught water safety, proper kicking, arm stroke, and how to relax in the water.

The following is a list of time and days of each class:

2 AND 3-YEAR-OLDS
Friday 10 a.m.

4 AND 5-YEAR-OLDS
Monday 1:30 p.m.

Wednesday 1:30 p.m.

Thursday 1:30 p.m.

6-YEAR-OLDS
Saturday 10:15 a.m.

The Melrose Y.M.C.A. will offer a junior and senior lifesaving certification course beginning Friday, January 9, 1970.

Classes will start at 7 p.m. and end at 8:30 p.m. each Friday for eight weeks. This course will be conducted by Charles Patterson, physical director.

Some of the areas covered in this course are the basic strokes, defense tactics, release, water-wrestling, approaches, tows, and resuscitation. Also included in this course will be an introduction to skin diving.

Qualifications for taking lifesaving require a good swimming background, including Y.M.C.A. or Red Cross training.

Any boy or girl age 12 to 14 is eligible for a junior lifesaving certificate, and any individual 15 years or older is eligible for a senior lifesaving certificate.

The classes will be limited to 30 people.

Skin and scuba classes will once again be offered beginning Monday, January 12, 1970.

Anyone 17 years of age or older is eligible to take this course. Classes meet at 8 p.m. until 10:30 every Monday for seven weeks.

The course will be under the instruction of Frank and Don Scall, certified Y.M.C.A. scuba instructors. Classes are coed and registration is limited.

Yoga classes will be offered beginning Tuesday, January 13, 1970. The classes will run for eight weeks from 7:30 p.m. until 9 p.m.

Mrs. Jean Biggar will be the instructor. Mrs. Biggar is a charter member of the Yoga Teachers Association of America, and has studied under some of the more prominent people in Massachusetts.

Yoga is an ancient system of exercise performed slowly in coordination with deep controlled breathing. It is also a way to good health, vitality, and radiance.

Sign up now, as the class is limited.

The Melrose Y.M.C.A. will be starting another eight-week program in karate. The class will meet for eight Wednesdays beginning January 14, 1970. Classes run from 7:30 p.m. until 9 p.m. under the direction of Richard Delling.

Mr. Delling, a former Marine and veteran of Vietnam, has earned the Fourth Karate Black Belt. There is no higher Black Belt in the New England area. Mr. Delling studied Karate for five years in Japan and Okinawa under "Red Belts," who are masters of the world in the school of Eizo Shinobu. In 1964 Mr. Delling won the championship at Cannes. In 1965 he won the far East Championship in Tokyo, Japan. His record stands at 153 wins and no losses.

All persons of high school age and over should register to take this beginners' course in karate.

The Melrose Y.M.C.A. will once again offer golf instructions beginning Monday, January 12, 1970. Classes will run for eight weeks under the supervision of Robert Travers, pro at the Charles River Country Club in Newton.

Mr. Travers has been employed at Newton since 1962 as assistant pro. In 1968, Mr. Travers replaced Phil Peterson, a former instructor here at the Melrose Y.M.C.A.

Mr. Travers is a graduate of the Professional Golfers Association Business School in Clearwater, Florida. He has taught all ages, youngsters as well as adults.

The following scheduling will be in effect January 12, 1970, for all classes:

Monday - 7:30-8:30 p.m.; 8:45-9:45 p.m.

Thursday, January 15, 1970 - 10 a.m.-11 a.m. (baby sitting available), minimum, 10) for this class.

Thursday evening, January 15, 1970 - 7:30-8:30 p.m.; 8:45-9:45 p.m.

Each class will run for eight weeks for anyone high school age and over. Please sign up at the Y.M.C.A. as soon as possible as classes are limited.

For further information please call the Melrose Y.M.C.A. - 665-4360.

Tree Talk

This holiday season, why not do some gardening at the same time as decorating the home with Christmas greens?

Dr. Edward L. Chandler of Bartlett Tree Research Laboratories says that gathering Christmas greens can result in encouraging more compact growth and improving the symmetry of foundation plantings.

"First, arm yourself with a sharp pruning shears, a pair of gloves, and foil to wrap around the ends of sticky branches. Then study the contour of each tree and shrub before you begin cutting. Look for elongated branches or those that rub against one another."

Avoid cutting more than one half of the greenery from any one branch, the Bartlett scientist advises, and always maintain the natural contour of the plant. Don't cut beyond the green needles, or the plant may not fill in with new growth. If the tree hasn't been pruned for some time, take off every third branch.

"It is easiest to prune when the temperature is above 40 degrees," he said. "Always make a sharp cut, preferably at a slant to the leaf, bud, or twig. Snip, don't slash."

Dr. Chandler advises keeping cut branches in a cool place with their stems in water until ready for use. Greenery will stay fresh longer indoors if it is sprinkled occasionally with water or kept moist. A thick layer of dampened peat moss at the cut end, for example, can extend indoor life of cuttings.

"Spruce, pine, hemlock, yew, and arborvitae make excellent greens. Hollies can withstand heavy pruning, and stems of large yews and hemlock can be cut back a foot or more. Again, leave at least one half of the green branches to insure winter survival."

"A long, wayward branch of firethorn makes an ideal piece of Christmas greenery. Often a long 'inside' branch of a conifer will never be missed, and a specimen of juniper with blue berries is also attractive. These cuttings make ideal door swags, wreaths, and centerpieces."

He suggests that andromeda, euonymus, and cotoneaster be pruned with attention to symmetry. "Occasionally step back and walk around the plants to be sure you are not over-pruning."

A few leaves from laurel, rhododendron, azalea, or bayberry add variety to holiday displays, Dr. Chandler said.

Fallacies Shown In Drinking Driver Myths

The Massachusetts Division of the American Automobile Association today debunked some of the seasonal myths about drinking and driving.

Myth: Whiskey will relax you and make you a better driver.

Two Local Men Cited For Retail Hardware Work

Two local residents were recently honored by the Osgood Company of Nashua, New Hampshire, one of New Hampshire's largest and oldest independent hardware retailers.

James N. Jones of 44 Ledyard Road and Joseph M. Stoico of Woburn, proprietor of Winchester Hardware, were cited for their extraordinary service to the Osgood Company and for their assistance, guidance, dedication and genuine interest in its operations.

Mr. Jones and Mr. Stoico were two of three men selected from literally thousands of such people who have been associated with the Osgood concern since its beginning in 1902.

Mr. Jones, retired treasurer and member of the board of directors of the Decatur Hopkins Bigelow Dowse Company of Needham Heights, New England's largest hardware distributor, received his award for his assistance in the design and implementation of the inventory control systems currently used by Osgood's.

Mr. Stoico, sales representative for Decatur Hopkins Bigelow Dowse, was honored for his dedication in serving the Osgood account for over 15 years.

It is believed that this is the first time that a retailer in the hardware industry has so honored individuals representing distributors and manufacturers.

Vinson-Owen Christmas Concert

St. Mary's Conducts Eve Mass

St. Mary's senior choir sang a high Mass on Christmas eve. The Mass, in honor of St. Thomas the Apostle, was dedicated to the memory of Mrs. Jean Cervizzi and was composed by Robert V. Guarante of Winchester.

The choir sang "Lord Have Mercy," "Glory to God in the Highest," "Holy Holy," and "Lamb of God" from the Guarante work and chanted the Introit, Gradual, Offertory, and Communion from Psalm Tone.

The concert before Mass included the following:

"Jesu Bambino," Pietro A. Yon
"Let All Mortal Flesh," traditional French carol.

"Cantique De Noel," Adolphe Adam - soloist: Betsy Spencer.

"Silent Night," Franz Gruber, soloist: Carolyn Franchi.

"Adeste Fidelis," traditional, soloist: Walter Fowler.

"Angels We Have Heard on High" was the Recessional song by the congregation and the choir.

Music for the high Mass was conducted by Thomas Deehan with organ accompanist Mrs. Martha Dasbach. Music in the lower church was conducted by George Dillon accompanied by Mrs. Loretta Cox.

How's Your Hearing?

Take This Simple Quiz

1. Do you frequently ask people to repeat what they have just said?
2. Do others turn down the television set you have adjusted?
3. Do you keep the volume of the telephone turned up to maximum?
4. Do you speak loudly on the telephone?
5. Do you think these questions are none of our business?

SOLUTION:

Two or less yes answers: you have "convenient" hearing and hear only what you want to hear.

Three or more: You probably have a hearing loss. To find out how much, visit Sears Hearing Aid Department for a free hearing test.
